

The President Greet's You!

This is a great year for Stout State College. Yes, it is great in enrollment, in the construction of new facilities, and in the opportunities made possible by the American system of education.

This college year will bring its full share of work and fun, but neither element should be sacrificed at the expense of the other. Every minute spent in study and research will pay tremendous dividends in life, because students at Stout State College are preparing themselves in fields of endeavor which offer unlimited opportunities for professional advancement and service to others.

But the "fun side" of college also has its place—a very important place. Worthwhile, constructive "recreation" actually re-creates body, mind, and spirit as that word implies. Wise indeed is the student who avoids recreation which tears down rather than rebuilds, that so-called fun which returns neither fun nor value for hard earned money spent. Such empty leisure time activity does enrich someone, it is true, but it enriches only the type of operator seeking to take a student's money without giving anything worthwhile in return.

Yes, we are beginning a great year. Let us make it great in aspiration and achievement. And we must be constantly watchful that our every endeavor—whether in work or play—truly provides us with value received.

DAVID BARNARD RECEIVES HIS DOCTORATE

Granted the degree of Doctor of Education by Indiana university has been David P. Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout State college. Dr. Barnard's doctor dissertation, written after an extensive survey of certain facilities of a sampling of Wisconsin Schools of Vocational and Adult Education, is titled, "A Study of the Audio-Visual Administration and Supervisory Functions in Selected Vocational and Adult Schools in Wisconsin."

Dr. Barnard holds office and membership in numerous organizations devoted to the improvement of audio-visual instruction. He is president of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction; a member of the board of directors of the Department of Audio-Visual Instruction of the National Education association; and a member of the University Film Producer's association.

In addition to having served as past local president of the Stout chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Dr. Barnard holds membership in Epsilon Pi Tau, Phi Delta Kappa, the National Education association, and the Wisconsin Education association.

Dr. Barnard earned both his master's and bachelor's degree at Stout. He developed his master's thesis on the topic "A Guide for The Preparation of Resource Units in Graphic Arts." Following experience on the Stout faculty as an assistant instructor in graphic arts, Barnard was ap-

EDUCATION PROGRAM ENROLLS 154 PERSONS

Participating in the annual Stout State college driver education and training program, sponsored from August 1-12, were 154 persons, one of the largest of such undertakings in the nation.

Of this group, 93 were individuals enrolled for college undergraduate or graduate credit as driver training teachers.

To provide on-the-road equipment for the program, 10 dual-control training cars were available. The courses ran for eight hours per day for two weeks and an enrollee could take only the basic or advanced course during the program.

Directing the driver education and offerings was R. F. Krantzsch of the Stout State college faculty. Guest specialists included Dr. Harold O. Carlton, consultant in driver education for AAA's national office; Paul Bernd, AAA consultant of Washington, D.C.; Ben Precourt, safety director for the Wisconsin Division of AAA.

R. C. Salisbury, director of highway safety for the Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department; Orlo Miller, of the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction; and Dean Frey, assistant safety director for Wisconsin's AAA division.

Graduates of the program received from the American Automobile Association a certificate for teaching driver education and training. The Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction also issued a certificate to persons successfully completing the courses for credit and desiring to teach driver education and training in the state.

CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN AT ASSEMBLY

On Wednesday, September 14, seventeen frightened, slightly stiff, but nevertheless, peppy students raised their voices to the student body to try out for cheerleading. During the last week the Co-captains, Fred Hodges and Joyce Fraedrich have been performing the almost impossible task of teaching these people the Stout cheers.

Two returning cheerleaders of last year, Adaline Boche and Joan Wonski, tried out again with this new group: Charlotte Bergmann, Fern Mathey, Bo Brown, Marlowe Zobernski, Liz Butler, Sarah Ness, Albert Kahalekula, Bette Zander, Kathleen Bruegggen, Keith Dame, Judy Wyss, Opal Burton, Jerry Skawan, June Leuer, and Jerry Porter.

Everyone did a good job, in spite of a few sore backs, black and blue knees, and sprained elbows.

The results of the election are as follows: Fred Hodges, Joyce Fraedrich, Charlotte Bergmann, Sarah Ness, Albert Kahalekula, Bette Zander, Keith Dame, and Jerry Porter.

These students will be leading you in your cheers for the coming year under the guidance of the Co-captains, Joyce Fraedrich and Fred Hodges. Let's all get behind them this year and have the loudest and best cheering section ever.

Sample stationery will be on hand to select from.

CONGRATULATIONS!

"Miss 1,000" is the title given to Miss Janice Jenquin, junior coed in the home economics division of Stout State College, when she was the one-thousandth student to register in the record-breaking enrollment of the college this fall. Congratulating her is Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout.

ENROLLMENT AT STOUT EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS

Over 1050 Students Have Registered; New Faculty Members Will Be Added

With 1042 students already enrolled, Stout State college here has the largest student body in its history. A few additional late registrants will further swell the total, according to Frank J. Belisle, college registrar.

Of the students, 589 are men, 453 women. A high ratio of freshmen, totaling 415, is included in the group. Also on campus are 256 sophomores, 189 juniors, 148 seniors, and 34 students earning the master's degree.

Enrollment during the coming years is expected to gradually increase, although the present jump from last year's total in a specialized college such as Stout is regarded as quite unusual. The large number of students will necessitate employment of additional faculty members because many instructors are now carrying a temporary over-load of teaching duties.

The majority of students are residents of Wisconsin, many enrolling from Dunn County in which Stout State college is located. However, students have enrolled from 23 other states and from Canada, Thailand and West Africa.

In evaluating the greatest number of first year women ever to enter Stout, Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at the college, points out:

"We are especially impressed by the enthusiasm and the fine scholastic records of our new students. These factors are always favorable for success in college. In addition, it is nice to see so many students from the area immediately surrounding Stout, but also many, many girls from distant places."

According to Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the college division of industrial education, "The large enrollment of men, especially so many with high academic promise, is welcome in any college."

"It will be of interest to the public to know," Dr. Jarvis continued, "that this year Stout State college opens its long-awaited industrial technology curriculum to train graduates interested in the industrial phases of our economy, but not desirous of becoming industrial education teachers. Our first class is now entering that curriculum."

Stout this year has come under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents of Wisconsin State colleges and is no longer known as The Stout Institute. Stout State college is also offering a number of new scholastic minors in its program.

TACKY CLOTHES TO BE FAD AT SEPT. 17 DANCE

All Stout students, faculty members and their wives are invited to the Delta Kappa Tacky Drag, Saturday evening, September 17, 1955. It will be held in the Stout gym. Dancing will begin immediately after the football game and continue until 12:00 P.M. Music will be furnished by Jack Pingle's orchestra. Wear your oldest, patched, and tackiest clothes. Five dollars will be awarded to the Tackiest couple—also a consolation prize will be awarded. Admission will be 40 cents stag and 75 cents for couples.

MISS NELSON CONDUCTS HOME EC WORKSHOP

Named to conduct a recent workshop in the Central Fox River Valley area was Miss Ellen Nelson, of the home economics education program of Stout State college. The workshop took place September 7-9.

Participating in the in-service training program were 65 teachers of vocational adult education from five schools in Kimberly, Kaukauna, Appleton, Neenah, and Menasha.

Goals of the workshop were discussion of problems which teachers encounter in instructing adult classes and providing these instructors with help in organizing their courses for effective teaching.

Most of the workshop participants possessed little or no training for teaching. They have been selected to take part in the adult program because of their skill and knowledge in trades which adults wish to learn.

NOTICE

A list of student's names and addresses will be posted on the main bulletin boards. Every student please check to see that his name, address, and telephone number are correct. This list will be used for the student directory.

"PAJAMA GAME" IS THEME OF PARTY

All eligible sophomore and transfer students are reminded to attend the fall rushing party, "Pajama Game", on Saturday, September 17, at 9:30 A.M. The Stout gym will be the setting of the gala event. Entertainment is being planned by the Pallas Athene sorority and the Tri Sigma girls have charge of the lunch. The invitations were done by the Hyperion sorority and the Alpha Sigma Alpha's have served as general chairmen.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Now that the first week of school is almost over and welcomes have been extended a sufficient number of times, everyone has settled down to books and the old routine.

But have you considered selecting an extracurricular activity to participate in yet? The Stout campus offers a variety of activities for all students.

If you are interested in sports, there are many opportunities for you. For the men there are football, basket ball, baseball, and golf, as well as intramurals, "S" Club, Synchronized Swimming, Ski Club, and Rifle Club. For the women, W.R.A., which is the women's Recreational Association on campus, is an excellent opportunity to enjoy sports. Other similar organizations for women are Synchronized Swimming, Ski Club, and Rifle Club.

For the social minded, there are fraternities and sororities. The women are eligible to join when they are sophomores, and the men are eligible to join during the second semester of their freshman year.

Besides the journalism minor being offered this year, Stout has two organizations for students interested in journalism. They are the Stoutonia, which is the weekly paper, and the Tower, which is the year book.

There are many church groups affiliated with the various churches here in Menomonie. Y.W.C.A. is a religious organization affiliated with Stout for women of different religious denominations.

Home Ec Club is a professional organization for all women on campus. The Stout Typographical Society is for all men on campus interested in the printing profession.

Music is another important activity on campus. The many different divisions include choir, marching band, concert band, and symphonics.

M.A.P., which is the Manual Arts Players on campus, is an organization for students interested in dramatics. Fall and spring plays are given, and other activities are engaged in.

For the "hams" on campus, there is the Radio Club which meets each Thursday evening in Bowman Hall.

The Arts and Crafts Club is for students interested in hobbies and gives them an understanding of crafts.

Another organization for women is the Dietetic Club, open to dietetics majors.

These organizations on campus are provided for your interest and enjoyment and an education is really not complete without participation in at least one of them. Today—sign up for at least one extracurricular activity to participate in during the coming year.

At the September 9 orientation assembly President Fryklund called to our attention the crowded facilities for seating students in the auditorium.

Although the seating capacity is only about 800, there were over 1,000 people viewing the assembly from every available seat and every conceivable place.

After at least 15 minutes of hunting, placing, and rearranging, the assembly was off to a fine start. This later start was the reason the assembly ran overtime.

In the past, every precious minute of the 10:00 a.m. assembly hour was used to fullest extent and it would seem impossible to go through the year with any of this time wasted.

Well, it is possible to seat students quickly and still have enough time left for the planned program on the remaining assemblies and convos of the year. It seems that this problem, although a minor one, should and could be quickly solved.

Would it be possible for the fraternities to arrange among themselves a plan whereby their members could take turns acting as ushers? In this way empty seats could be filled quickly and easily and less time would be wasted on the part of both faculty and students.

It would be nice if this matter were brought up at the next meeting of each fraternity. A service to Stout such as this should be a service well appreciated by each of us in the "Stout Family."

NOTICE

Remember to attend the Tacky Drag to be held in the small gym after the game tomorrow night. Dancing will be held until 12:00.

SIG TAU SPONSORED SMOKER A SUCCESS

This party started off with a bang! Alfred Hodges, with his jokes, acted as Master of Ceremonies.

There were movies shown in the sportsman's field of boxing and fishing. Then introductory speeches were given by members of the different school organizations and fraternities.

For refreshments pop, cigars, and cigarettes were passed around.

The Stout Snooper

"And here we are." Yes, The Stout State college's students are back on the job and so am I. First, I'll introduce myself to the new freshmen and to the transfer students by saying, "Hello from The Stout Snooper." I'll be snooping among all of you, old and new. You won't be able to see me, yet I'm always snooping with my high-powered telescopic eyes viewing the unpublicized happenings at Stout. (Now don't get me wrong, I'm not a gossip. I will never mention anyone's name.)

As I watched the campus being mobbed last week during the registration for the fall siesta, I wondered just how everyone would get to know everyone else. Some chatted to those next in line, others hung around in the Union, and went to the mixer's, but some just stood in a corner, lost their tongues, or turned away. Now, one of the main things that can bring happiness is friends and so chat to your next door neighbor, go to the Union between classes, attend the mixer's and just gab!

I've always felt that happiness is a peculiar sensation I get when I'm too busy to be miserable! I do keep busy, snooping about the campus and I think you'd be happier too if you would keep busy. So go to everything that you can but only without hurting your studies. Most all of the social events are free, so—"Money isn't everything" (although most people think it's way ahead of whatever is in second place.)

The past week has been busy and the coming weeks will be even busier, so Stout ought to have at least 1030 happy students this year. I've seen fun picnics, upper classmen showing the new girls the scenery, etc. (Men, remember you can tell what kind of time you had at the mixer by the look on your date's face.) (Oh, and say, even some of the freshmen men are like catnip to some of the upper class women! "Aren't they, _____?" Already at the Annex, the girls are talking over their troubles: "The trouble is, he is the kind who will take 'no' for an answer," said one brunette.

Yes, the school year is in full swing: sororities and frats are planning rushing, teachers are handing out assignments, and the dating bureau is busy.

What does the 1955 year of school hold in store for you?

It's up to you to make or break a success at Stout. The teachers, fellow students, advisors, and even the equipment in the buildings are ready, willing and able; are you?

It will be important to apologize; to begin over; to admit error; to be unselfish; to take advice; to be char-

ORGANIZATION NEWS

A rousing treasure hunt will again start off the year for the Women's Recreation Association. All freshmen and transfer girls, as well as past members, are invited to participate in the event. The hunt will be held on September 19 at 7:30 P.M. in the Stout gym. A hearty lunch is being planned by the board to satisfy husky appetites. Let's see all you treasure seekers there.

"Does this look like an orange now?" was just one of many exclamations heard after an orange peeling contest at the first meeting, a breakfast, of the Pallas Athene sorority, which was held at Riverside Park on Saturday morning, September 10. Mary Ann Smith, an alumna, was the winner of the contest.

Gamma Delta began the year by participating in church night on September 9. After registration, a short get acquainted session was held in which Joan Wonoski told of past projects of the organization and officers and advisors were introduced by the president, Jerry Schoenike. Recreation and lunch followed. A brief vesper service provided a fitting climax to an evening of inspiration and enjoyment.

Gamma Delta will meet on September 1 at 5:00 P.M. in the basement of St. Paul's school. This organization is open to all students but is especially intended for Synodical Conference Lutherans.

All YWCA members will spend Saturday, September 24, washing windows and cars, mowing lawns, and doing various other odd jobs in Menomonie. Funds donated for these Hobo Day activities will be used to cover expenses of the Big-Little Sister Tea held September 12 and the Big-Little Sister Reunion planned for late winter.

REV. THOMAS LEE TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

September 21 is the date set for the first convocation which will be held in the Stout auditorium. All students are required to attend this program.

Reverend Thomas Lee, will speak on what has happened in China during the last 35 years. Several faculty members have heard Reverend Lee. He is an excellent speaker and has a message for everyone.

The next convocation will be September 28 and it is also a required program.

OUR OWN BARB BROWN IS THE 1955 "ALICE"

How does it feel to be "Alice in Dairyland," official representative of the whole state of Wisconsin?

"Absolutely wonderful!" is the quick reply of Barbara Brown, 20 year old Stout State College junior, who is the fabulous Alice for this year.

Chosen as the girl with the "most-est" in appearance, personality, poise and speaking ability from among 16 finalists representing Wisconsin's eight contest regions, the new Alice was probably the most surprised person in the crowds which thronged Wausau in June for the Alice in Dairyland pageant.

And who wouldn't be surprised—considering how Barbara had embarked upon the project way back last spring! At that time, she was finishing her third year in home economics at Stout Institute, had a summer job waiting for her at a Hayward resort, and was "going steady" with a Stout senior.

Out of a clear sky the AGA Cooperative creamery in Arcadia asked Barbara to compete as one of 42 Alice candidates in the Arcadia regional contest—and they'd already completed all the necessary arrangements.

"The whole thing was so unexpected and fantastic that I was just going to laugh it off," Barbara recalls, "but my roommate was too thrilled for words. She made me fill out the entry blank, mailed it herself, and even lent me a dress that would be particularly striking."

Fate seemed determined that Barbara Brown was to be the next Alice in Dairyland. She might still have skipped the regional competition except for her sister's high school graduation that week-end, only nine miles from the contest. Her victory in Arcadia was exciting, but she started her summer resort job, even leaving most of her wardrobe at the resort when she took a few days leave to enter the finals.

After Barbara and 15 other finalists had been judged for two days, from early morning until weary evening, she was just too surprised and fatigued to be overcome with emotion at her selection.

"We'd been warned against any delays on the radio coverage of the coronation, so when my name was called I hurried as fast as I could to the microphone. I even surprised myself with a short speech of acceptance. Where it came from, I'll never know."

The new Alice soon began to experience the thrills and responsibilities of a celebrity. Upon her return to Independence, the whole town turned out to honor her and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brown, her dad being superintendent of schools there.

"Maybe I shouldn't feel that the parade was all for me," Barbara laughs. "The other prize exhibit was the town's new fire engine, which they've just been waiting to show off. I noticed that all through the celebration I shared honors with the fire truck."

And how does the pert coed regard the responsibility of representing her entire state throughout the nation, helping promote Wisconsin dairy products, speaking before eminent groups and waving from innumerable convertibles in innumerable parades? "Being Alice in Dairyland is the biggest honor a Wisconsin girl can

DR. BARNARD HELPS PLAN D.A.V.I. MEET

As President of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-visual Instruction, David P. Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout State college, helped plan future activities at a July board of directors meeting of the Department of Audio-visual Instruction of the National Education Association.

Future projects included plans for the national DAVI meeting in Detroit in March, arrangements for the publication of the national association's magazine, and policy decisions regarding the National Field Service Program of the organization.

A general meeting on the certification of audio-visual directors was part of the agenda. The board also undertook the certification of teachers.

achieve. But it's the type of responsibility guaranteeing that anyone who puts much into the job will get much in return. That's going to be my plan of action for the next year."

The new Alice opened her reign by riding in a Sparta parade. She then attended the All-Star baseball game in Milwaukee and helped in a week's promotion of NuWorld cheese. After three weeks at the Wisconsin State Fair, she began her out-of-state appearances in New York, Boston, and cities of the far west.

Even affairs of the heart must wait for two years, while Barbara finishes her reign as Alice and then her final year at Stout. But boyfriend John Rynders of Milwaukee began a two-year military "hitch" that he'll finish about the time Barbara graduates from Stout.

"Then," says Alice in Dairyland, "we'll see."

NEW STUDENTS TOURED CAMPUS VIA TUNNEL

A hole in the ground was considered by some of the new students as one of the most interesting points of their tour through Stout State college campus.

Yes, the tunnel connecting Harvey Hall to Bowman Hall, which houses pipes and wires necessary for the function of the college plant, vied for first place with the print shop as being the most interesting spot on the campus.

The tour, an annual affair for freshman and transfer students, was conducted by upperclassmen on Thursday, September 8. The new students had the opportunity to observe and to ask questions as they visited Harvey Hall, Bowman Hall, the new library, and other buildings on the campus.

SSA SPONSORS FIRST ALL SCHOOL FUNCTION

On Thursday evening, September 8, the student body turned out for an SSA-sponsored picnic and dance at Wakanda Park. This was the first all-school function of the year.

The picnic supper consisted of hot dogs, potato salad, baked beans, ice cream, and soft drinks. A few of the Hawaiian students, with the aid of their ukeleles, led the group in singing. Following this, a dance was held in the area surrounding the concession stand. Despite the cloud of dust, everyone joined in and had a wonderful time. The evening came to an end all too soon for most of the students.

Many thanks to those who worked and planned to make the first all school event of the year such a success.

TWO FACULTY ATTEND CONVENTION

Two members of Stout State College faculty, Dr. Alice J. Kirk and Miss Martha Ruth Amon, had important roles at the American Home Economics Association convention held in Minneapolis June 28-July 1. Leaders in all areas of home economics attended the nation-wide gathering.

"You're using TV!" was the title of the talk which Dr. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at Stout, gave before the elementary, secondary and adult education section of the convention.

In her address, Dean Kirk stressed the enhanced role of listening and watching as they relate to modern communication media, especially television. She also stressed the importance of appreciation and discrimination in the choice of television programs to be viewed, because of the effect of TV upon the family.

Also participating in the sectional program, whose theme was "Potentialities for Service—Through Homemaking," were Mrs. Rex Todd Withers, chief of the homemaking education division of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction; Adelaide Hawley, the Betty Crocker of General Mills on Radio and TV; and Mrs. Anita Dowler Fielder, supervising teacher of homemaking education at Michigan State Normal College.

"Laboratories and Equipment for Applied Art Classes" was the topic discussed by Martha Ruth Amon, chairman of the department of related arts at Stout. Miss Amon addressed the art section of the convention.

Miss Amon based her address upon the recently-designed and renovated Stout State College laboratories and equipment for freshman design, home furnishing, and other courses.

To illustrate the new concepts of equipment and facilities at the college, she showed colored slides and black and white photographs. Miss Amon also provided for the audience charts of classroom areas, showing room locations, dimensions, and other relevant data.

DR. VERNE C. FRYKLUND TAUGHT SEMINAR

Invited to teach a graduate seminar last summer at Pennsylvania State university was Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout State college.

Dr. Fryklund opened the seminar on July 5 and taught for three weeks. President of Pennsylvania State University is Dr. Milton Eisenhower. The university is located in University Place, Pennsylvania.

ELEANOR H. COX LEADS CONFERENCE

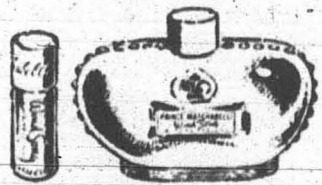

Eleanor H. Cox, associate professor of chemistry at Stout State College, served as a discussion leader at a summer state-wide science conference.

The conference, dedicated to "Keeping Up to Date with the Content and Methods of Teaching Science," was held from June 29 through July 1 on the campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Sponsoring the meeting was the National Science Teachers Association, working in cooperation with the University of Wisconsin summer session.

CONVENTION HELD AT STOUT FOR PRINTERS

Nearly 100 Wisconsin printers and publishers attended a Mechanical Conference for Printers and Publishers which the Wisconsin Press Association presented on the campus of Stout State college at the close of summer session.

Opening the gathering were A. M. Bearded, president of the Wisconsin Press Association; Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout State college; and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of Stout's division of industrial education.

Delegates then heard a talk, "Linotype Adjustments and Repair," by Sterling Hoff of the Twin City Linotype Service, Minneapolis. A noon luncheon followed.

Program highlights of the afternoon included a panel directed by Palmer Sondreal, first vice-president of the Wisconsin Press Association. Panel participants were Lloyd Whydowski, of the Stout faculty, discussing silk screen printing and virko-typing; C. E. Chubb, River Falls "Journal," describing Tasopee; and Abel O. Norbeck, president of the Lewis Roberts Ink Co., Minneapolis, solving printing ink problems.

Following a question and answer session, delegates held a Northwest Group meeting of the association, combined with a supper gathering. Bert Amacher of Medford was elected president of the group for the coming year.

NOTICE

Attention alumni! Homecoming has been set for October 22. The game will be played in the afternoon at 2:30 P.M. against St. Cloud. Start making plans NOW to attend the biggest and best homecoming at Stout State college.

JOHN L. BENDEX RECEIVES POSITION

Five additional appointments to the faculty of Western Michigan college for the fall semester of 1955 are announced by Dr. Paul V. Sangren, president.

Instruction in metal work in the industrial arts department will be handled by John L. Bendix, appointed an assistant professor. His home is at 1725 2nd St., North, St. Cloud, Minn. His mother, Mrs. Olaf B. Bendix, lives at 811 1st Ave., West, Grand Rapids, Minn.

Bendix has degrees from St. Cloud Teachers (1940) The Stout Institute (1949) and the University of Minnesota (1951). He has taught at Zimmerman, Minn., (1940-42) and Marshfield, Wjs. (1949-54). During World War II he served in the Navy, and was released as a lieutenant.

NOTICE

The Stout Metropolitan Detroit Alumni will have a picnic on Sunday, September 18, 1955 at 1:30 P.M. at the Sorenson House in Rouge Park. Mark it on your calendar.

SPORTS CARDS ISSUED BY BUSSINES OFFICE

TO: Faculty, faculty wives, student wives, classified personnel and their wives.

The Athletic Department of the college announces the issuing of a sports ticket to all personnel in the preceding categories who desire to take advantage of such a ticket at a very much reduced price.

Last year a football season ticket (4 home games) was priced at $1.50, or 37 1/2 cents per game. The season basketball ticket was $2.50 (8 home games), or 31 cents per game. Total cost was $4.00.

We now offer a combined ticket for 4 home games of football and 8 home games of basketball for a total price, believe it or not, of only $2.50, or a per game price of less than 21 cents.

Complete schedule cards will be issued with the purchase of each sports ticket. Sports tickets are non-transferable.

General admission for individual games is 85 cents per game.

Sale of sports tickets will start on Monday, September 12, at 9:00 A.M. in the Business Office. The sale will continue until 12:00 noon Saturday, September 17.

The first home football game is with Winona State on Saturday, September 17, at 7:30 P.M.

The Athletic Department has made this price concession to make it possible for all personnel at Stout State college to enjoy our athletic events.

ENROLLMENT AT SESSION TOTALS 410 STUDENTS

Enrollment at Stout's fiftieth summer session totalled 410 students, according to Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college.

In addition, 16 persons attended a professional work conference sponsored by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education for trade and industrial teachers. Enrollment in Stout's basic and advanced driver education courses, from August 1-12, was 77.

Of the students enrolled, 290 were men and 120 were women. Of the men 142 were graduate students. Among the women, 50 sought advanced degrees.

Peeking through a key hole is kinda undignified—but it sure is fun! It may produce eyestrain, but it also produces some very interesting results. Interested? Well, here's what we found:

First of all, we found out that Dean (the Karraker) and Ruth Vance are engaged. Yup, old Dean lost about 20 pounds thinking that over! Large decision, eh Dean? Next on the list of the diamond-bearers is Lois Mallan, who hooked Bob Daehling this summer. Janet Kumbier and Moose (otherwise known as Allene Nicolii) are engaged also.

Say, kids, just for kicks, sometime ask Mike Wingert where he got all his nicknames—and watch him blush!

A few kids around school were married, too. Sorry we didn't get a chance to stop in at the wedding, but usually snoopers aren't too welcome. However, we did find out that the following got hitched sometime this summer: Art Goglin and Harriet Hendrix, Don Zittleman and Ann Ritzinger, Tom Handy and Lenora Ginsbach, Ken Lehman and Audrey Robbins, Darrell Premo and Barbara Rowe, and Wendy Schmaltz and Colleen Ellis. Congrats, kids.

We've been watching with interest the actions of our annual fall Romeo. We aren't mentioning any names—but for a clue, he's a member of the Sig Tau fraternity. Draw your own conclusions! And beware, freshmen! P.S. It seems he's training a sophomore to take his place when he leaves!

A bitty bundle of joy (and dirty diapers) came to live with June and Herb Brodt. He (the baby) was born on August 28, so we'll excuse Herb if he finds it necessary to sleep in class after that 2:00 feeding every night.

At the all-school mixer Saturday night we noticed a tall handsome lad dancing with a beautiful blonde. But after a closer look we discovered they were brother and sister. What is this school coming to? Competition Patty?

We're glad to see some of the old moth-eaten relics of 1952-53 back in school once again. We'd like to give greetings to Niel Hoefner, Fritz Bert, Ray Burkholder, Charlie Weber, Jim Olds, Len Alexander, Len and Sylvia Olund, David Gresch, Jerry Schemansky, Larry Smith, John Hoffmann, Jo Wagner, and any others we might have missed by getting the wrong keyhole. You know, we sometimes goof, too!

Say, speaking of goofs, we saw a prize the other day. See, this gorgeous freshie was making out her program cards—and for variety she made all 5 of them different. Hope she finds the right class!

Seems like Dave Wendt didn't leave us high and dry after all. He left a golden legacy—someone who sleeps in his bed and follows in his footsteps. Guess who!!

ALL-SCHOOL MIXER WELL ATTENDED

Over 800 Stout students and faculty members danced to the music of George Soderberg and his Blackhawk orchestra at the all-school mixer last Saturday night. Old familiar faces were there, and many new faces too.

Couples danced to dreamy waltzes, fox-trots, and responded favorably to the request for polkas and a bunny hop.

STOUT STUDENT HAILED FROM PARAGUAY

This is the tale of a traveler from a tropical land where the hot weather drink is warm orange juice straight from orange-laden trees. After 21 years in that country, this traveler came to believe that orange juice "as is" certainly is the universal hot weather beverage.

At least that is what he thought until he landed in Wisconsin one day last winter to find local residents joyfully gulping frozen orange juice in weather 25 degrees below zero.

He wondered a little that day about these "strange" Americans, but quickly remembered the advice given him by the man who sent him to the United States, Willis Rockwell: "Don't be too surprised at anything Americans do!"

And Oscar Serafini, a Stout State College foreign exchange student from Paraguay, has good reason to think Americans do strange things, for life in his native land is far different from that in the United States. He lives with his family in a small, rural Paraguayan town. With his father, he maintains a small auto repair shop in their home, a set-up which the average American mechanic would regard as no problem whatever.

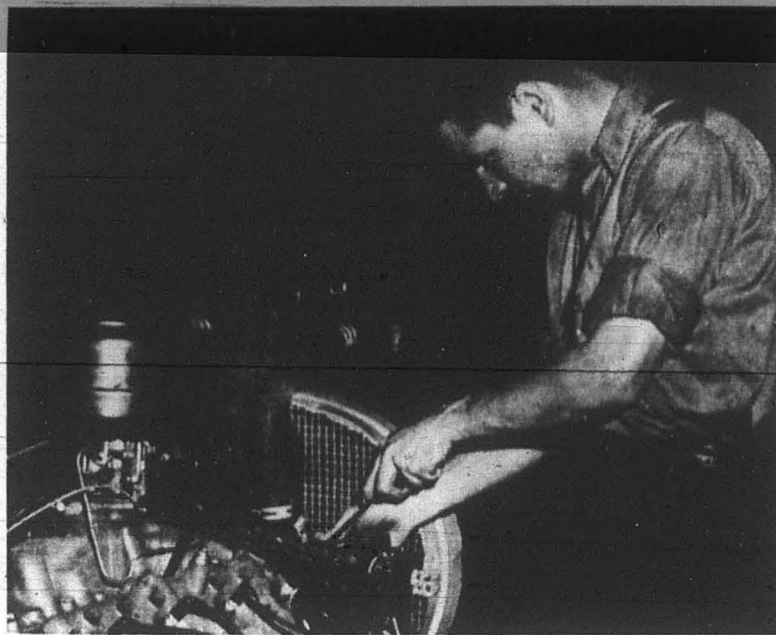

But an auto mechanic in Paraguay has to be a very unusual person—he must know the mechanical anatomy of cars manufactured in four different countries. Paraguayans usually drive cars of either Italian, German, English, or American manufacture. So when a motorist has car trouble, he consults Oscar Serafini, who has to qualify as a doctor of motors in four languages. But for some time Oscar has been anxious to broaden his knowledge through an actual "internship" working in an American auto shop.

Mr. Serafini gained his original international mechanical flavor at the Vocational School in Asunción, capital of Paraguay. It was there he met Willis Rockwell, director of the school and a Stout State College graduate, who urged him to come to the United States to continue his studies. As yet, Serafini speaks very little English, but that slight obstacle hasn't stood in his way. "You know," Serafini says, "I guess I'm what Americans call a 'natural born mechanic'."

Although Oscar is amazed at American tastes in food, Menomonie residents are equally awed by the fabulous Paraguayan meals he describes. Each meal consists of at least four courses, all very elaborately prepared. Because food is fairly inexpensive in Paraguay, one could buy enough oranges, for example, to furnish a week's supply of orange juice for only ten cents. At certain times of the year, Paraguayans are able to buy six chickens for only a dollar.

Serafini says that he likes Americans very much, but he cannot get accustomed to seeing unchaperoned women in public. He likes the idea of young ladies free to do as they please, but such "goings on" are simply unheard of in Paraguay. He is also im-

SOUTH OF THE BORDER - DOWN PARAGUAY WAY

Learning a little Yankee "know how" which he can use in diagnosing the ailments of American cars in far-off Paraguay is Oscar Serafini, foreign student who took much of his training at Stout State College. Being a mechanic in Paraguay is just as difficult as masterminding motors in the United States—and then some, for Paraguayans drive cars made in four different nations.

EXHIBIT SHOWN OF COSTUME MILLINERY

All interested persons in the community were invited to be guests of Stout State college at an exhibit of costume millinery on Thursday afternoon, July 7, in room 230 of Harvey Hall.

On display were a variety of hats ranging from felt hats remade from men's old hats by washing and blocking on pots and pans to "dressy" hats styled and then created from materials popular this season.

The exhibit was under the direction of Mrs. Alyce Vanek of the college faculty. Students in the costume millinery class modeled and discussed all hats which were on display.

pressed by all the social gatherings and functions which Americans attend. Except for spending his spare time "puttering" in his auto shop, attending an occasional picnic, or going to the city for marketing, his life is much more sedate in Paraguay.

Serafini will stay in this country to study for at least a year. Then he will return to Paraguay, much better versed in diagnosing the ailments of American cars and prepared to teach his fellow mechanics his Yankee skills and shop jargon. And, who knows, he may even have them drinking orange juice as nature intended—frozen.

WHO HAS THE BALL?

The Stout football team has been practicing for the past two weeks in preparation for the first game of the season Saturday night. The Blue Devils will play Winona State at Nelson Field. Kick-off time will be 7:30 p.m.

STOUT TO PLAY WINONA ON SATURDAY

Thirteen lettermen return to the lineup as the Stout Blue Devils begin the 1955 football season, Saturday September 17, at Nelson Field. Game time is at 7:30 P.M.

Coach Jack Wink and his team of 53 gridders have trained hard and diligently for their opening game with Winona State Teachers college. In the last three years Stout has been able to tie the score once 6-6 while losing twice to Winona, 19-0 in 1953 and 18-6 in 1954.

Four former Stout gridders, Al Brown, Ron Wilhelm, Skip Wick, and Gale Woelffer, are assisting Coach Wink in getting the men into shape.

Managers of the team are Dick Brehm, Leo Pleva, and Jim Sands.

The returning lettermen are:

Bill Romoser	Senior
Leo Janis	Senior
Bob Noltner	Senior
Don Woelffer	Senior
Dan Polley	Sophomore
Maury Ellis	Junior
Dean Karraker	Sophomore
Lyle Martens	Junior
Ed Zillman	Junior
John Oakeson	Senior
Dick Tepp	Sophomore
Harry Miller	Sophomore
Ron Ebben	Sophomore

Other returning members of the team are:

Eugene Battiste	Junior
Orville Nelson	Senior
William Broadwell	Sophomore
Dick Werblow	Sophomore
Dick Cheke	Sophomore
Basil Holder	Junior
Ernest Oyama	Sophomore
Bill Davis	Junior

In an interview, Coach Wink was not over-optimistic in his overview of the team's chances for the coming season.

"This year's team has greater depth and also greater speed than the teams of the past few years," he said. But he also warned, "This year's team has had much less experience." He said that it will take at least a couple of games to obtain that experience.

Coach Wink said that the team spirit is high and that the men will be doing their best this Saturday night. See you there.

COACH'S CORNER
by Coach Wink

The Stout Blue Devils football team takes the field this Saturday evening at 7:30 P.M. against Winona State college. Since this is the first game for both teams they are of unknown strengths. Winona State is reputed to have one of their strongest teams this year having good depth, weight and speed. They lost the championship to St. Cloud Teachers last year 6 to 0 and were on the two foot line at the end of the game. Stout also is of unknown quality, having lost, through graduation, six starters of last year. However Stout is reputed to have better speed and more depth than in the past but also has less experience. Last years game was won by Winona 18 to 6.

All home games will be held at the time of 7:30 except for the Homecoming game on October 22 which will be at 2:30.

During World War II, Barnard served the Navy Department as the Bureau of Aeronautics resident representative at the Seaman Body Plant of Nash Kelvinator Corp. He is married to a Stout Institute home economics graduate and is the father of three children.

Dr. Barnard is well-known for his many professional articles in graphic arts and audio-visual procedures. He has produced audio-visual film strips and sound motion pictures, his recent film, "Your State Trooper," made for Indiana university, winning national recognition.

A woman was driving along a country road when she saw a couple of repair men climbing up electric light poles. "Look at those fools; they think that I never drove a car before."

He stopped at a small hot-dog stand and ordered coffee. Just to be polite he said, "Looks like rain, doesn't it?" "Well," came the reply, "it tastes like coffee, doesn't it?"

"Ma wants a nickel's worth of asafetide," a small boy told Jim over at Lee's, and when the package was wrapped, he added: "Ma wants you to charge it."

"What's your name?" Jim asked. "Schmerogolski," came the reply.

"Forget it, son, I ain't goin' to write down asafetide and Schmerogolski for no nickle."

NEXT !!

A record breaking number of freshmen are shown registering for their first year at Stout State. The total number of freshmen this year exceeds 450.

DORM NEWS

Once again the dorms, "Eich", "the Annex", and "the Hall" by name, are filled with very active girls, young ladies by choice who are starting their education at the Stout State college.

The first days of these young ladies were busy for they have been making dorm decorations such as drapes, curtains, rugs, and many a ruffle.

One of the highlights of the dorm activities was the dorm party held at the cafe, with food, of course. The night after that the girls held their first dorm meeting and learned much about the true meaning of dormitory life and regulations that can make their stay more enjoyable.

In the next few days the girls in all three dorms will elect officers and a representative to the Stout Student Association. Although this representative will not be able to vote, she will sit in on all the meetings and learn the procedures.

Some vital statistics for the boys that can be used to best advantage are the following:

Eichelberger: thirty-one girls, telephone: 866, and the ever important house mother, Mrs. Goodell.

Tainter Annex: sixty-four girls, telephone: 195, House mother, Mrs. E. J. Adams.

Tainter Hall: twenty-four girls, telephone: 258, House mother, Mrs. Charlotte Sims.

NOTICE

The cafeteria will be open each Sunday from 12:15 P.M. to 1:15 P.M. for all faculty members and students. The rest of the week the cafeteria is reserved for freshmen.

To stop smoking isn't hard—but to stop bragging about it afterwards is. An astronomer reports finding a star which was lost 7,000,000 years ago. It's good to see there are still men with such honesty left.

Pittman: "When I was a child I was told that if I made an ugly face I would keep it."

Gordy: "Well, you can't say you weren't warned."

The reason the average girl would rather have beauty than brains is because the average man can see better than he can think.

STOUT CAMPUS TO BE HOST FOR ANNUAL MEETING ON SEPTEMBER 30 AND OCTOBER 1

Discussing "What Preliminary Planning is Necessary with the Co-operating School Prior to Off-campus Teaching", will be a panel directed by Sister Mary Gerard of Alverno college. Lulu Kellogg, Stevens Point State college, and R. Keith Woods, Platteville State college, will serve as analysts.

Emma L. Wilder, La Crosse State college, will be chairman of a group dealing with "Techniques for Assessing the Potentials of Students for Teaching. Analyst will be the Rev. John Paul, Holy Cross Seminary, La Crosse, with Ruth Hoard, Eau Claire State college, as recorder.

Discussing "Criteria for Determining the Effective Techniques of Supervision" will be the panel of Robert Krueger of River Falls State college. Hildur Westlund of Superior State college will be analyst and Jessie E. Caldwell of Eau Claire State will be recorder.

With L. H. Steele, director of elementary education for Beloit college as chairman, another roundtable topic will be "How Can the Cooperating Teacher Be Made To Feel a Dynamic Part of the Training Program?" Arnold A. Wilde, of Dodge County Teachers college, will serve as analyst.

"Their Possible Implications for Learning Experiences in Teacher Education" will be the panel topic of a group whose chairman will be Carroll E. Rusch, Eau Claire State college. Analyst will be Sister M. Theodine, Viterbo college, with Eugene Laurent, Taylor County Teachers college, as recorder.

Friday evening Miss Rowe and Mr. Pagenkopf will offer their special demonstration of supervisory techniques, including a tape recording of a first grade class taught by a student teacher, personal evaluation of that teaching by supervisor and student teacher, and a panel discussion lead by Mr. Pagenkopf. This demonstration, to be conducted in the college auditorium from 7:30 to 9 P.M. will be of interest to many in the community.

Also of great concern to parents and many others in the community will be the talk on Saturday morning, October 1, at 10:15 in the college auditorium, by Dr. Forest E. Conner, superintendent of St. Paul schools. He will employ his wide experience as schoolman and administrator in discussing the serious contemporary problem of juvenile delinquency and its cure.

Among concluding events of the conference will be an evaluation of the

REVEREND LEE SPEAKS ON CHINA

The facts of living in China were well given to the audience at the first convocation Wednesday by Reverend Thomas Lee. He spoke of the changes that have come about in China and the Communism that prevails in that country.

Reverend Lee told how the Communists rose and challenged the government. They said they were out to destroy religion and today they believe this has been accomplished in China. The speaker went on to tell how the Communists tried to scare him and how they tortured the foreigners.

"Under the new Communist reign", Lee said, "there is a deliberate attempt to break up the family. Four and five year old children are taught to spy on their parents and tell the teacher who in turn tells the government."

Lee concluded by telling how the land is seized and the government takes it over. Yet, 96% of the people are against the communist movement.

STOUT FRESHMAN IS HONEY QUEEN

Dairy Day saw the selection of a new Dairy Day Queen of Dunn County and the presentation of some of Wisconsin's and Minnesota's other visiting queens, one of them, Miss Carol Lehman, Wisconsin Honey Queen, is a Freshman student at Stout college.

Carol won the title through a contest sponsored by a local honey farm, for 4-H members of Waushara County. Contestants were required to bake a cake, two kinds of cookies and a bread, all made with honey. They also submitted a poster stressing uses of honey. After winning county honors over approximately fifty girls, Carol went on to the State Fair where she won the contest, on the basis of a personal interview, over 25 contestants from other sections of the state.

Activity is Carol's byword, and her record is one to be admired. A graduate of Berlin high school, she ranked fourth in her graduating class of 138 and was co-editor of her senior annual. Active in 4-H work for nine years, Carol has been president of the Loyal 4-H Club, delegate to State 4-H

MUSIC GROUPS HAVE 215 TRYOUTS

The Stout State college concert band has increased its membership by 30 people this year as a result of the tryouts held by Dr. Victor Hardt during the first two weeks of school. Out of 215 people who were auditioned for the band and choir, 75 were chosen for the concert band. Last year the band had 45 members.

Because of the lack of uniforms only 59 of the 75 bandmen could be outfitted for the marching band. Fred Hodges will again direct and lead the marching band as drum major. Caryl Teasdale and Marilyn Andre are the majorettes.

The choir also has been enlarged from 64 members of last year to 73 members for 1955. Dorothy Belise is the accompanist and student director for the choir.

The Symphonic band and choir members will be chosen from the concert band and choir members later on this year.

LARRY BRUNO REPORTS ON STUDENT TEACHING

"It's a good experience for all students who plan on being teachers", said Larry Bruno when asked his opinion of the nine week student teacher program.

The present program is headed by Dwight Chinnock, supervisor of student teaching. This year many of the classes in Industrial Education and Driver's Education are being taught by forty-five juniors and seniors.

Larry went on to add that "although student teaching required a lot of preparation, it shows you what teaching is really like, prepares you for your future and gives you experience that is invaluable compared to the work required."

Next year a new program will go into effect requiring all senior men majoring in Industrial Education to teach off campus for a period of six weeks.

SWEETHEART DANCE TO CLIMAX DAD'S DAY

To conclude Dad's Day, October 1, a sweetheart dance will be held honoring the dads and mothers of the football players. George Soderberg will provide the music from 9:00 to 12:00 at the high school gym. All Stout students are welcome at this dance.

This year "Lover II" will be given away to a lucky person at the dance. He is a direct descendant of "Lover I" who was given away last year.

The dance is sponsored by the Tri Sigma sorority and Phi Sig fraternity. Danny Wielgus, Janet Kumbler, and Barbara Ray are the Chairmen.

I CROWN THEE QUEEN

Gloria Walstad, Stout State freshman, is shown being crowned Dunn County Dairy Queen. She was crowned by last year's queen at the Coronation Ball held last Saturday night.

STOUT FRESHMAN DUNN COUNTY DAIRY QUEEN

LYNWOOD HALL WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE

On the afternoon of October 2, Lynwood Hall will hold open house. The students and faculty of Stout State college, as well as any other interested persons, are invited to visit and inspect the rooms. The boys take great pride in the appearance of their dormitory and urge visitors to come to this annual affair.

"PAJAMA GAME" THEME OF RUSHING PARTY

"Pajama Game" was the theme of the intersorority rushing party held Saturday, September 17th. Sophomore girls and sorority members, attired in pajamas, attended the party. The decorations and games followed the theme with figures of candle sticks, scuffs, and pajamas found around the gym.

After playing games they did the dance "Ach Ya". Groups acted out charades of bed time stories, including Sleeping Beauty, Black Sambo, Little Red Riding Hood, Winkin, Blinkin and Nod, and The Little Engine That Could. Black Sambo was picked as the winner.

Following the entertainment the sorority presidents were introduced, who in turn introduced their sorority members and advisors.

Aquattennial and St. Paul Winter Carnival to be Attended by Miss Gloria Walstad

Once more a Stout student's name is added to the list of royalty. It is Miss Gloria Walstad, newly crowned Dunn County Dairy Day Queen.

"Wally", as her friends call her, can easily be recognized by her 5 foot 3 inches, dimpled cheeks, light brown hair, and fun-loving personality.

Everyone of those inches was active while attending Menomonie high school, where she took part in band, choir, the school paper, G.A.A., dramatics, and held class and student council offices. Being homecoming attendant was one of the high-spots in Gloria's senior year. Church activities and city band rounded out her program of activities.

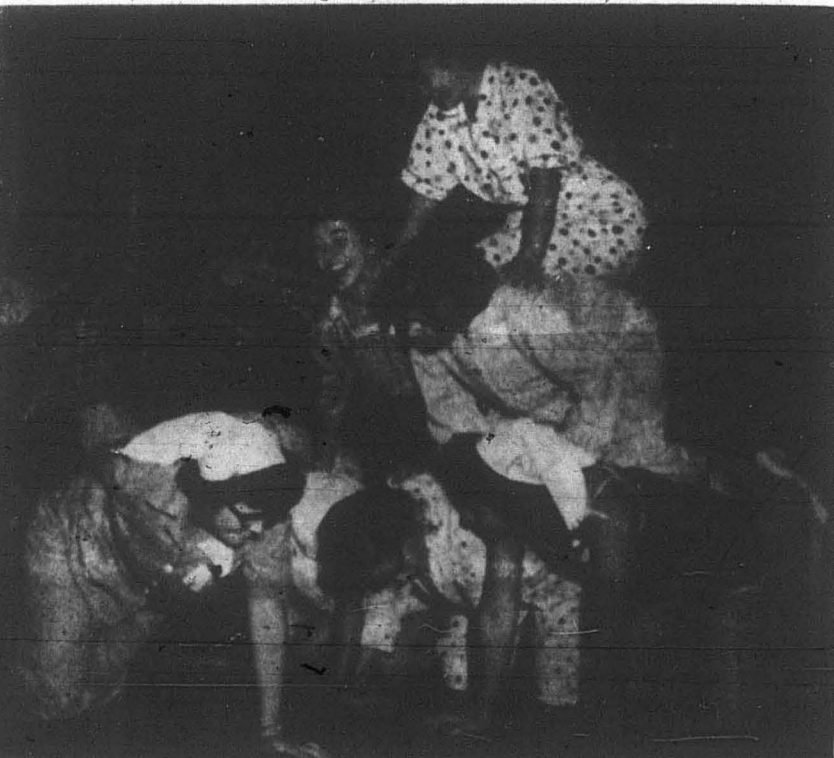

The Symphonic Singers and the Concert Band will claim part of Gloria's spare time here at Stout.

While representing Dunn County, Gloria will attend the Aquattennial, the St. Paul Winter Carnival, and many local functions. Besides going on numerous trips, Gloria received gifts from various Menomonie merchants.

When asked how she felt about being queen and the sparkling year ahead of her she said, "It's wonderful, and any girl would be thrilled. I hope to do a good job of representing Dunn County wherever I go."

Besides all her queenly activities Gloria will enter the course of dietetics here at Stout.

PAJAMA FUN

Acting out the bedtime story, "Black Sambo," are sophomore and sorority girls who attended the intersorority rushing party. The theme of the party was "Pajama Game." Games were played and refreshments were served.

"MR. AND MRS. TACKY"

"Mr. and Mrs. Tacky," more commonly known as Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Premo, were chosen the tackiest couple at the Tacky Drag last Saturday night. The dance was sponsored by the Delta Kappa fraternity. Dancing was held in the Stout gym.

TACKY AWARD WON BY DARREL PREMOS

Barb and Darrel Premo, the winners of the "tackiest" couple award last Saturday night, are one of our married couples attending Stout. Barb is a junior and Darrel is a senior. Miss Barbara Rowe and Mr. Darrel Premo were married last June 11th in West Salem, Wisconsin, and are now living at 1121 7th Street here in Menomonie. They are looking forward to a busy year, as both are active in many of Stout's extra-curricular activities in addition to holding a part-time job. So-congratulations and the best of luck to Barb and Darrel, one of our student Mr. and Mrs. teams!

The Stout Snooper

Hi! Yes, it's greetings from the Stout Snooper!

Well, I've been as busy during the past week snooping as you have been busy with homework. I did notice that the teachers didn't waste any time giving all 1045 of you enough homework to keep you very busy.

I mentioned that I have been busy snooping; for instance, last Sat. eve, I flew to the football field, screwed up my telescope eyes to their greatest power and watched the spectacular opening game of the season from a seat on the 50 yard line. (My seat really was on the yard line; why, I've tackled some of those Winona giants with my powerful eyes. I warned you about their strength.)

Before the game began, I saw the fans—you, the students, teachers, parents, and friends—file into the field and seat yourselves on various benches appearing as a large crowd. By the time of the kick-off, the loop-holes in the seating arrangement were completely filled, and the crowd attending compared very favorably to the first mixer of the year on September 10. (By the way, I would like to compliment the 1955 student body on the terrific attendance at that mixer in the high school gym.)

Tomorrow night is another game, although this game is not at home, let's cheer the team on to another victory in our thoughts, and they will win, overpowering the Superior team.

Now is the time to begin storing up your pep for the biggest football game of the year on October 22; yes, Homecoming! During the next few weeks, the spirit of the Stout State college should zoom upward on the scale of good sportsmanship for and loyalty to your alma mater (and mine too). Attend the games, think about float ideas, write to your alumni friends spreading the news of this gala event. It will be easy for the 1955 Homecoming to become the biggest ever, but let us also try to make this festive occasion the best ever! Remember, I'll be snooping.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

In their oldest work clothes members of the YWCA will spend Saturday, September 24, washing windows and cars, mowing lawns, and doing various other odd jobs in Menomonie. If you need help or you know of someone who needs extra help the YWCA would appreciate knowing it. Please telephone 515-R here at Menomonie before Saturday morning and make an appointment for the time and type of work you would like the girls to help you with.

All members of YWCA are asked to participate in this activity. Please sign up in Harvey Hall and tell the type of work you would best like to do.

Gamma Delta members met for a vesper service, cost supper, business meeting, and recreation, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church and school on Sunday evening, September 18. Plans for the year were discussed and explained to new members.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 2 at 5:00 P.M. in St. Paul's Church. Roll call will be taken by having each member respond with a Bible passage containing the word "mount" or "mountain". All synodical conference Lutherans and their friends are welcome.

Bill Anderson, president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, welcomed the return of eight former members at the first meeting held in Room 9 in the library. Members returning are: Graduates: Larry Smith, Fred Kadja-hara, Dave Bianz, Jerry Sommers, and upperclassmen: Jerry Schemansky, Dave Gresch, Fritz Ebert, and Vern Christensen. Among this group three are past presidents.

The M.A.P. Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega will hold its fall get-together Monday, September 26. All members and understudies should meet at the circle at 5:15, prepared to journey to Point Comfort for a picnic supper. So that we will know how many to prepare for, please sign your name in the M.A.P. notice on the organization bulletin board by 4:00 today. See you then.

Four members of Beta Pi Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority attended the Tri Sigma Day Regional Meet held Saturday, September 17 at Whitewater State Teachers college, Whitewater, Wisconsin. The official delegates from Beta Pi Chapter were Leona Novy, Pat Browe, Pat Seibert and Rosemary Kelly.

These conferences are held every three years to aid college and alumni members of Tri Sigma in performing their duties as sorority members and enabling them to receive the greatest benefit from the sorority's educational and social program. The theme of the panel discussions in which the college and alumnae members participated was "Sigmata United In Leadership".

The members of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity met last Thursday night, September 15 in the clubroom. Since this was the first meeting of the year, Roland Beiswanger, the president, appointed the following men chairmen of their respective committees: Finance Committee, Doug Pagel; Social Committee, Dan Wielgus; Program Committee, Tom Huetson; Alumni Committee, Don Hagen; and Publicity Committee, Bill Peterson. Discussion was held concerning pledging, and Jim Berray was named pledge master. It was decided that the Phi Sigs send a copy of each newsletter and any other important items to alumni in the service.

The Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority held its first work meeting, Thursday, September 15, in the library. Most of the evening the girls spent making preparations for the intersorority rush party held last Saturday, while discussing their summers and singing new sorority songs. Red and white night caps were made for uniform attire at the rush party.

We've been working on the door latch dealers, trying to get bigger key holes. Betcha you've never noticed how very small the general run of key holes are. Anyway, the eyestrain is getting us down, and glasses don't help either because you can't get close enough for a good view. But in spite of all the troubles we have, we've managed to dig up a few juicy items.

Glad to see Lenora and Tom Handy back at school. The wedding took place August 27. Speaking of weddings, Lois Jessen and Lee were married September 10. Also, Hank Rokusek and Mary Ann Smith were married September 17. Enough of the wedding bells - - -

Seems like the blazing bar and the Union are full of puzzling people. Getting cannibals and missionaries across the water and making 5 squares out of 7 have been taking more of the students' brain power than that trivial stuff called homework. For masters at the game see Larry Smith and Bud Klevin--by the way, Bud is also terrific at using the slide rule. Appointments for homework consultation can be made any time during the 7 hours a day he resides at the Union.

Bermudas are practical! Just ask Doug Dorner. When he tore his pants below the knee, he cut them off and made Bermudas. If anyone else is in the same predicament, ask Doug for his pattern. We also noticed Vern Christianson sporting a cute pair of Alpine pants. Which machine did you get caught in, Vern?

Speaking of Doug, he has another quaint costume -- all red and white polka dots. Or is it polka-dotty-checkey? Anyway you couldn't miss Stout's favorite clown in the Dairy Day Parade!

Our congrats to the royalty of Dairy Day. Gloria Walstad, freshman, was the Queen, and other Stout candidates were Judy Wyss, Opal Burton, and Carol Pinkepank.

Betty Havlik is Dairy Queen of Vernon County, and will reign over the County Fair. Congratulations, Betty!

At Saturday night's game we saw the picture of the ideal papa--football center, Leo Janis. Here he was with dirty jersey, mud streaked face, and his football letter nearly torn off--gently picking up two little boys to keep them out of the players' way! At the same game we overheard Bill Romoser shout joyfully, "Oh, Daddy-o, Daddy-o! Can't you just taste that steak dinner!" The steaks were well deserved, too. It was a swell game, boys!

Seems like students are getting rougher than ever. Mel Podolski, teaching in Schofield has an ENORMOUS cast on his foot. But that doesn't keep him from coming up every weekend to see Ann, does it?

Also heard Mike Kazmarski had a little car trouble. What's the matter--did the nut behind the steering wheel get too tight?

Say, is there an extra room at 721 Wilson Ave? We heard the view is quite good--especially when looking west!

Ray Johnson, photographer, had the most envied assignment of all taking pictures at the Inter-sorority Rushing Party, "The Pajama Game", last Saturday. However, at first he didn't seem to relish the idea--what's the trouble Ray, shy? Hmmm-mmm.

We saw Gordy Maves and Mickey Schellin chasing "rabbits" in front of the Union the other night. No, they haven't bugs in their heads, and we certainly hope the fur doesn't fly when we key-holders report this bit of fun!

Thus ends our weekly review of fun and folly. If you have any interesting bits of news you'd like to see printed, please write them on an unsigned slip of paper addressed to "Through the Key Hole", and leave them in the Stoutonia office. Thanks!

P.S. The more dirt the merrier!

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Mrs. Robert Sanders, formerly Pat Wangen, 1955 Stout graduate, was married in August and is now teaching in Richmond, Missouri, at the Richmond High School. Her husband is in service in Missouri. Her address is: Richmond, Missouri, %Dr. Gay apartments.

August E. Bell, Owen, Wisconsin, B.S. 1954, has accepted a new position at the Consolidated School of Owen. With the coming year, his job will be to introduce industrial arts into the school system. This year the curriculum will include drafting and general wood working.

Recently, Melvin L. Betterley, in the Engineering Drawing division of the State University of Iowa, was promoted from associate professor to the position of professor. He received his B.S. from Stout in 1932, and his M.A. from the University of Minnesota in 1939. He has been on the faculty of SUI since 1952.

Lloyd Wallace Vandenberg is on the staff of the Eastern Washington State college, Cheney, Washington. His address is 824 6th Street, Cheney, Washington. He received his B.S. and M.S. from The Stout Institute.

Supervisor of civilian and military instructors in engineering mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, is Richard S. McKinney, B.S. 1947. John Finney, B.S. 1940, is also a supervisor at the same air force base. Richard S. McKinney's wife is the former Marion Voight, B.S. 1945. They live at 4316 Cunningham, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Doug R. Sherman, M.S. 1951, returned recently from a 30,000 mile trip to Indonesia where he visited more than 125 schools and institutions in Bangkok of Thailand and Indonesia. He was a member of a four man team assigned to study Indonesian and Bangkok institutions with the purpose of filing recommendations as to how they might better use help provided them by other countries. The group was headed by Dr. William E. Stirtown, Wayne university vice president for service and development. Also on the team was Dr. W.W. Burr, dean emeritus of the college of agriculture, University of Nebraska.

Sherman, after receiving his master's degree was instructor at the Alpena (Michigan) Community college until 1953. Then he went to Wayne university. This fall he became an assistant professor in the department of industrial arts at the University of Alabama.

John E. Kuula, B.S. 1950, and Elmer E. Clausen, M.S. 1949, attended the Epsilon Pi Tau, Alpha Tau Chapter's initiation and banquet on August 4, 1955, at Western Washington college of Education, Bellingham, Washington. At the meeting, Mr. Kuula became an apprentice. Mr. Clausen, 3607 N. E. McNeel Road, Vancouver, Washington.

Qualified as a carrier pilot after six landings aboard the light aircraft carrier USS Saiuan in the Gulf of Mexico was Naval Aviation Cadet David D. Beyl, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Beyl of Clear Lake, Wis. The landings completed the gunnery and carrier qualification phases of his flight training. He attended The Stout Institute before entering the Naval Aviation Cadet Program.

DR. MICHEELS RECEIVES NSPA AWARD

Special recognition has been accorded a Stout alumnus, Dr. William J. Micheels, professor and chairman of the department of industrial education of the University of Minnesota. Honoring Dr. Micheels was the National Standard Parts Association. He has been consultant and adviser to the Association's vocational program for the automotive service industry. The Association has already received the Silver Anvil award in the trade association category from the American Public Relations Association for that vocational program.

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB HOLDS HONOR DINNER

"Education and Industrial Development" was the title of an address by Clarence L. Greiber, director of Wisconsin vocational and adult education, which highlighted the annual Stout State College Graduate Men's club recognition dinner held during summer session.

Toastmaster of the event was M. M. Price, dean of men at Stout. Other speakers included Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the division of industrial education at the college, and Ray A. Wigen, director of graduate studies.

The following men, receiving their master of science degree at the close of summer session were recognized:

Bernard Ahlin, Eveleth, Minn.; William Amthor, Indianapolis, Ind.; John Bicanich, Sheboygan; Laverne Burns, St. Louis Park, Minn.; Armin Gerhardt, Appleton; Rodney Hanson, Woodville; Parnik Hazarian, Muscatine, Ia.; Dale Isley, Alpena, Mich.; Denis Kigin, Fairbault, Minn.; James Lund, Duluth, Minn.; Wallace Maurer, Philipsburg, Penn.; Warren Maurer, Philipsburg, Penn.; Reuben Schwantes, Medford; Don Straw, Canby, Minn.; Amos Sharps, Lumberport, West Virg.; Charles Thomas, Menomonie; Rinaldo Bonacci, Ashland; Arthur Carlson, Milwaukee; Irving Johnson, West Bend; Thorwald Magnuson, Marinette; John Plenke, Madison; John Poellinger, La Crosse; William Roerig, Appleton; Norbert Schell, Hartford; Edward Treise, Oshkosh; and Fred Wentorf, Racine.

Newly-elected officers of the Graduate Men's club were announced and include Curtis Gehling, president; Lavern Nauss, vice-president; Alun Thomas, secretary; and Jack Sampson, treasurer.

Entertainment specialties were provided by Howard Heigl, Leroy Zwick, Darlene Gloege, Alice Weltzin, and Glenyce Harmston. Accompanist was Miss Evelyn Knospe of the Menomonie public schools music department.

Arrangements for the event were handled by Denis Kigin, James Lund, Howard Heigl, Lavern Nauss, and Alun Thomas.

STOUT ALUMNI OBTAIN ADVANCED DEGREES

A number of graduates of Stout State College have received advanced academic degrees according to notice received from graduate schools.

Two alumni have recently been granted the Ph.D. degree by Ohio State university. They are Donald G. Lux, an assistant professor of education at the University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill., and Dwight W. Nichols, head of the department at San Francisco State college, California, both of whom hold a bachelor's degree and master's degree from Stout.

Robert M. Grunsted and Robert G. Simon, holders of the bachelor's degree from Stout State college, have been granted master of arts degrees by the University of Minnesota.

President of the Wisconsin unit of the Association for Student Teaching is Dwight D. Chinnock, Stout State college. Other officers include Dr. John Goldgruber, Madison; Victor Pagenkopf, Platteville; M. Arline Albright, Marquette university; and Charles Hornback, Eau Claire. Stout college personnel arranging the Menomonie conference include, in addition to President Chinnock, Ann Noble, head of the department of home economics education; Ellen Nelson, associate professor of home economics; and Margaret Harper, assistant professor of home economics and home economics education.

FOUR STUDENTS ATTEND AHEA CONVENTION

Four regular session students were among the many representatives of Stout State college at the 46th annual meeting and exhibit of the American Home Economics Association which was held June 28 thru July 1 in Minneapolis.

Dickie Nelson, Doris Hutchinson, Mary Buol, and Nathalie Wick joined Stout summer session students, instructors and alumni in representing Stout State college on college club day June 30th.

The theme for the 1955 convention was "Home Economics--its Potential for Greater Service." Three general sessions were held in which experts in the fields of Home Economics spoke on the topics: "Greater Service in the Profession"; "Greater Service to the Community"; and "Greater Service to the Individual".

All the sessions were concerned with the part Home Economics plays in the industrial, homemaking, and professional fields.

A FUMBLE!

Hands reach for the ball as Stout fumbles in the end-zone. Holder quickly recovered and scored the first touchdown of the season against Winona State. Stout beat Winona by a score of 13-0.

STOUT STOPS WARRIORS BY 13-0 SCORE

Last Saturday night the Blue Devils of Coach Jack Wink met and defeated the Winona Warriors at Nelson Field. As the final gun sounded, the Blue Devils emerged with a 13-0 win over the Warriors.

The Blue Devils seemed to have no trouble in splitting the Warrior line. The execution of plays of the Blue Devils was far superior to that of the Warriors. Marve Hanson, Leo Janis and Rufus Ihde were the big guns in the Blue Devils ground game with Bill Romoser directing the play from the quarterback spot.

The Warriors worked up only one serious threat while the Blue Devils drove into scoring territory several times.

Holder Recovers Touchdown Fumble

The game opened with Dick Cheke kicking off for the Blue Devils. On the Warriors' first play they fumbled and John Oakeson recovered. After three plays by the Blue Devils, Rufus Ihde carried the ball into the end zone only to fumble. Holder came in for the recovery and a Blue Devil touchdown. The extra point was missed.

Once again the Blue Devils kicked off this time to Cook of the Warriors, who returned it to the Warriors' 30. After a series of plays, the Warriors fumbled once again and Zillman of the Blue Devils recovered. Swinging once again into motion, the Devils headed for paydirt. After a series of plays, the Blue Devils lost the ball on downs. Taking over, the Warriors pushed to the Devils' 49 yard line, only to be stopped by the Devils' defense. The attack of both teams bogged down. With an exchange of punts, the first quarter came to an end, with Winona in possession of the ball.

Romoser intercepted a pass on his own two yard line as the second quarter opened. The Blue Devils began a 90-yard march from their own two to the Warriors' eight. Ground gainers of the drive were Hanson, Janis, Ihde and Romoser. The longest gain of 42 yards was by Romoser. Being back against the wall, the Warriors put up a strong defense and stopped the Blue Devils. Winona, taking over on its own 15, moved the ball to the 37.

SUPERIOR GAME TO BE PLAYED TONIGHT

Tonight the Stout-Blue Devils will fight it out with Superior. Kick-off time will be 7:30 at the new City Stadium in Superior.

Stout will be looking for their second straight win and the first conference win tonight. The Blue Devils stopped Winona last Saturday 13-0. On the other hand Superior lost its first two non-conference games at the hands of Duluth 7-0 and St. Cloud 27-0. Superior will also be out for revenge on the game they lost last season to Stout 27-0.

After the fine performance the Blue Devils turned in against Winona the game tonight should be a hard-fought one.

The probable starting line-up for tonight's game will be:

where a series of pass plays and ground plays, failed to gain a first down, and forced the Warriors to punt. The Blue Devils controlled the ball for the remaining part of the first half, but were unable to score.

Warrior Threat Stopped

The Warrior's kicked off as the third quarter got under way. The Blue Devils, after bringing the ball up to their 48 yard line were penalized for illegal use of hands, putting them back on their own 33. The next play was one of the outstanding plays of the game, and showed clear thinking on the part of the Blue Devils quarterback. With 17 yards to go for first down, Hanson quicked from his own 30 yard line to the Winona 10, catching the Warriors completely in the dark.

Starting from their 10 yardline, the Warriors started on what was to be their only serious threat of the game. Running most of the way the Warriors advanced to the Blue Devil 24, but were unable to continue, and lost the ball on downs. The Blue Devils took over just as the quarter came to a close.

Opening the 4th quarter the Blue Devils carried the ball from their own 24 to the Warriors' 20. On the next play, a pass from Hanson to Holder, Dick Larson of Winona intercepted on his own 8. Unable to gain ground the Warriors were forced to kick. Taking over on the Warrior 39 the Devils advanced to the Warriors 17. Penalized for illegal use of hands forced the Blue Devils back to the Warrior 37. From the 37 Ihde carried to the 20. Then Janis went to the 17. Once again Ihde Ihde carried the ball and pushed to the 5. On the next play Stout fumbled, but recovered on the 2. Janis lunged to the 1/2 yard line. On the following play Janis scored. Cheke kicked the extra point.

DAD'S DAY HAS BEEN SET FOR OCTOBER 1

When the Stout Blue Devils play host to La Crosse at Nelson Field on Oct. 1st for their second home game of the season, Stout State college will be all out to play host to the fathers of the members of the football team.

In addition to the game, the day will be filled with various activities in honor of "Dad", including a banquet at noon and a dance in the evening.

Dad's Day, which has become an annual affair for the past nine years, is sponsored by the S Club.

STOUT WELL REPRESENTED AT CONVENTION

Were you one of the fortunate home economics students who attended the 1955 Stout state college summer session and thus received an extra dividend of professional experience as well as entertainment?

Well, letters of appreciation and approval are still being received by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics at Stout, praising the foresight and arrangements which made it possible for every home economics student in summer session to attend the thrilling National Home Economics Association meeting, held in Minneapolis at the end of June.

The group attending felt the whole event something very special, even to the detail that they traveled in air conditioned busses when the temperature outside was 105. To Mrs. Alyce Vanek of the Stout faculty should go the credit not only for the cool transportation but also for efficient management of the entire venture.

First stop for the two chartered buses was the Minneapolis auditorium where the visitors registered and enjoyed a quick look-see at attractive and educational exhibits. Then, without a lost moment, Stout's delegation assembled in the Italian Room of Hotel Radisson where, under the charming chairmanship of Stout alumna, Mrs. Helen Diamond Wischer, a most-delightful luncheon was enjoyed.

Once again Stout gained public recognition, for among 26 alumnae luncheons and dinners during the N.H.E.A. meeting, only the University of Minnesota, as host university, had a larger delegation than did Stout.

Among the alumnae were Lillian Otto, who recently retired as supervisor of home economics for West Allis schools and Mrs. Zella Johnson Hiltz, whose daughter, Mrs. Barbara Hiltz Fritz, also attended.

Each luncheon guest received a desk pad created by the Stout print shop, presented as a reminder that July 1 would mark the birth of Stout state college. And, of course, several short talks were then in order.

Mrs. Wischer greeted the alumnae with a warm Minneapolis welcome. Dean Kirk then revealed "What the Name 'Stout State College' Will Mean to All of Us." Mrs. Alyce Vanek substituted for national alumni secretary, Dr. Bob Rudiger, in extending greetings of President Fryklund and the alumni association and a beguiling invitation to attend Stout's homecoming, October 21-23.

Following afternoon attendance at N.H.E.A. sessions, Stout's travelers

DR. GAUBARD WAS ASSEMBLY SPEAKER

The lyceum on September 28 featured Dr. Mark A. Gaubard, Dr. Gaubard, a member of the faculty at the University of Minnesota gave his lecture titled "Ancient Science and Ancient Superstitions".

Dr. Gaubard has spent much of his own time and money on erecting various machines and inventions of ancient times such as the water clock and water calendar, in order to illustrate his speech.

As the author of fourteen technical papers and three books, Dr. Gaubard is indeed qualified for his position as a lecturer. He had traveled abroad doing research under the Rockefeller Fund and achieved various awards previous to his undertaking the job of assistant professor in general studies at the University of Minnesota.

STOUT IS HOST TO WISCONSIN UNIT OF A.S.T.

With over 100 college teachers, co-operating master teachers and supervisors of student teachers in campus or off-campus schools, the seventh annual conference of the Wisconsin Unit of the Association for Student Teaching will be held on the campus of Stout state college today and tomorrow.

Invited to attend any or all of the conference sessions are all educators in the area, parents and PTA members interested in various conference topics.

Two highlights of the gathering will include an address by Dr. Forrest E. Conner, superintendent of schools of St. Paul, Minnesota, "The School the Teacher's Role in Combatting Juvenile Delinquency." Also to be demonstrated will be supervisory techniques as shown by Mary Rowe, supervising teacher of Eau Claire state college, and Victor Pagenkopf, Platteville state college.

Following registration, campus tours and organizational gatherings this morning, conference delegates will gather at 12:15 at Peace Lutheran church for luncheon. Following a welcome by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college, Dr. Lester Enfans of Eau Claire state college will describe "Education in Paraguay."

Following the luncheon, a number of roundtables will be held. Dr. Conner will speak Saturday morning in the college auditorium at 10:15. Miss Rowe will conduct her panel this evening in the auditorium.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS OF STAFF ANNOUNCED

Five appointments to the staff of Stout state college have been announced by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, college president. Two other teachers have returned after leaves of absence.

Named registrar and placement director has been Frank J. Belisle, taking the place of Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien who retired. Mr. Belisle holds a master's degree from the University of Minnesota and a bachelor's degree from River Falls state college.

Before coming to Stout, Belisle was for 13 years instructor of biology at Menomonie high school. He also held administrative posts in the schools of Nelson, Augusta, and Woodville, Wisconsin.

New director of library for Stout state college is Phyllis D. Bentley. Miss Bentley received her Master of Science degree from the Columbia University School of Library Science. Earlier she earned a bachelor of arts degree at the University of Wisconsin, with special work in the Library School of the University.

Last year Miss Bentley was assistant librarian in the new Stout library, and is now taking the place of Miss Lillian Froggatt who has retired. Prior to coming to Stout, Miss Bentley held positions in the libraries of Beloit college and Mankato state teachers college. She served by invitation as guest librarian at St. Cloud state teachers college and also gained experience in the Free Public Library of Burlington, Iowa.

Elizabeth Anne Williams has been appointed to the position of assistant librarian at Stout. She earned her Master's degree in library science from the University of Michigan and was granted her undergraduate degree by the State University of New York teachers college, Geneseo, N.Y.

Miss Williams has had library experience at the State University of New York teachers college, Oswego, N.Y., where she was junior librarian. At the University of Michigan she held a scholarship and fellowship in Library Service.

College nurse at Stout state college is Mrs. Ora Chase, a graduate of the Luther Hospital School of Nursing. She has had extensive and varied nursing experience. Mrs. Charlotte Sims, holder of a bachelor of arts degree from Lawrence college, is now director of dormitories. Mrs. Sims was former preceptress of Eichelberger Hall, a Stout residence hall for women.

Returning to the Stout faculty after leaves of absence are Dr. Charles Parmer, assistant professor of social science, and Norman Ziemann, chairman of the college speech department.

Dr. Parmer, together with his wife, spent a year of extensive study and travel in Europe. Mr. Ziemann is completing his doctor of philosophy in speech at Northwestern university.

DECORATING FOR THE DANCE

Ambitious Phi Sigma and Tri Sigma members are shown during a work-meeting last Saturday morning preparing for the Sweetheart Dance. The annual affair will be held tomorrow night in the Menomonie high school gym. Dancing will start after the La Crosse-Stout game.

DAD'S DAY WEEK END ACTIVITIES PLANNED

LOVER II TO BE GIVEN AWAY SATURDAY NITE

It's the "Sweetheart Dance" tomorrow night in the gym. The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity are joining their brains, brawn, and beauty to present for all the students and faculty of Stout state, a dance for the twosomes and the lonesomes to give them a chance to get together on this sweet heart business.

The lights are going way down low to the music of George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws, while scenes of Mickey and Minnie, Daisy and Little Abner, Sluggo and Nancy, and all of your favorite comic strip romances will certainly make this dance one of those "Moments to Remember."

The price is just 40¢ a piece with a "special" on couples - 75¢! The lights start dimming at 9:00 P.M. and you'll have plenty of time to find your sweetheart before 12:00 P.M. Let's see "you all" over at the big new high school gym right after the Dad's Day game - that's this Saturday evening, October 1.

DICK KADOTANI DESIGNED NEW STOUT SEAL

On July 1 of the past year, The Stout Institute acquired a new name. Because of the new name, The Stout Institute seal became obsolete. The need for a new seal became apparent.

Dick Kadotani undertook the assignment. During the summer Dick redesigned the seal to incorporate the new name, Stout state college. He used the center discs from the old seal and designed a new outer disc.

The seal had originally been made by Dean Emeritus, Clyde A. Bowman. Dean Bowman was the dean on the Stout campus prior to his retirement in 1952.

LYNWOOD HALL WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Open house for all members of the student body, faculty members, friends, and parents will be held at Lynwood Hall Sunday afternoon, October 2.

The doors will be open from 2:00 P.M. to 4:30 P.M. Refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon for the guests.

NOTICE

Manual Arts Players will hold their fall tryouts for the play, GRAMERCY GHOST, Tuesday, October 4, and Wednesday, October 5 at 7:30 in the auditorium. All students interested in dramatic work or behind scenes work such as make-up, costumes, and properties, are requested to attend.

Banquet, Tea, Dance, And Game Are The Main Events Scheduled

Dad's big day is coming soon! The fathers of Stout's football team will be invited to spend October 1 honoring their sons, as the sons clash La Crosse in one of the major games of the season. The day will include a banquet, picture taking, and tours of the Industrial Arts department, while the mothers will be entertained at a tea and by tours of the Home Economics building. A dance sponsored by Phi Sigma and Tri Sigma will climax the evening.

BANQUET

George Soderberg will be the master of ceremonies for the banquet. The guest speaker will be Mr. Terill, principal of Menomonie high school. The Reverend A. H. Henry of Trinity Methodist Church will lead the group in prayer. President Fryklund and Dean Jarvis will also be principal speakers at the banquet.

The menu is as follows:

Salad, roast beef, mashed potatoes, rolls and butter, string beans or buttered peas, pumpkin or cherry pie with ice cream.

Bob Noltner, president of the "S" club, will welcome the fathers, and will take charge of all the activities during the day. Following the banquet there will be tours of the industrial arts buildings and the library.

TEA

Mothers of the players will also be entertained by the "S" club. At 1:30 they will have their pictures taken, and at 3:00 will be guests of the Panhellenic Council at a tea.

Orchids for the mothers are being flown in from Hawaii for the occasion. Ann Shemick, as president of the Panhellenic Council, will reside as hostess for the tea. The mothers will also be given a tour of the home economics building.

GAME

The most important part of the day will be the game against La Crosse, which will begin at 7:30. The fathers will sit on benches behind the players, each father wearing the same number as his son will wear during the game.

The captains for the game will be Leo Janis and Lyle Martens.

The line up is as follows:

Dick Cheke	LE
Lyle Martens	LT
John Oakeson	LG
Dick Tepp	C
Ed Zillman	RG or RT
Ed Stori	RG
Dean Karracker	RT
Duane Hathaway	RT
Basil Holder	RE
Maury Ellis	RE

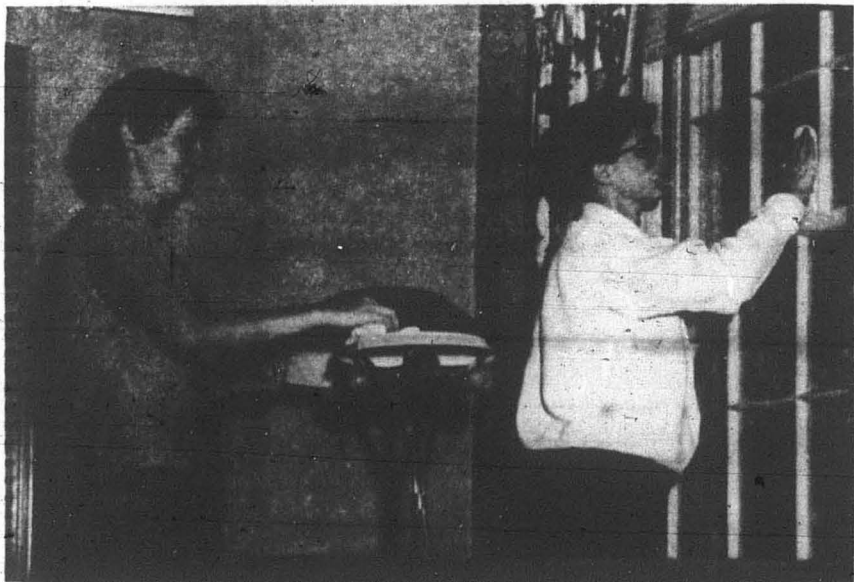

The backs for the game will be:

Marv Hansen	LH
Rufus Ihde	RH
Leo Janis	FB
Bill Romoser	QB
George Riberion	LH

During the half Mr. Swanson will introduce the dads to the audience. All the fathers will stand in the field with

BUSY Y.W.C.A. GIRLS

Virginia Vick and Barb Austin are busy making funds for the Y.W.C.A. treasury. Last Saturday the Y.W.C.A. members did various jobs for interested Menomonie residents.

HOBO DAY SPONSORED BY YWCA

Hobo Day, an annual fall event, sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., was held Saturday, September 24. The 20 members of the organization set aside this day to do various odd jobs for faculty members and townspeople. Posters and special notices for faculty members brought phone calls requesting services. The money earned by the members was used to pay the expenses for the "Big and Little Sister Tea" sponsored earlier this fall by the Y.W.C.A. Last year the worthwhile goal for the project was earning money for the World University Service fund.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

A great educator once said that life was like a game, and people were the players in that game.

This statement can be applied to good sportsmanship. Good sportsmanship is a game that has to be played. There are winners and losers.

Now that football season is under way, one of the phases of good sportsmanship becomes evident. This is also a time when schools will be able to judge the sportsmanship of the opposing team and school.

Surprisingly, displays of poor sportsmanship stem from ignorance. It is a good idea for spectators to know the rules of the game before they attend the game.

This week end, the Stout eleven will be up against a win-seeking La Crosse team. La Crosse has a lot of determination after receiving a serious set-back last week end. Whoever wins the game will deserve to win.

During this game, spectators and players, cheer and play like good sports. After all, the important thing is—it's not the final score that counts; it's how well you cheered and played.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of those colds.

Yes, fall is here and winter is on the way—AND the common cold is in the air. If you haven't got one, then no doubt one of your friends has and/or you will have one tomorrow. Look around if you think this is a joke. Hear all the sneezes and sniffles.

It seems we take the average cold all too lightly. After time this "simple cold" turns into pneumonia or at least a genuine run-down condition and the promise of a "vacation with homework."

Can we as college students, afford to take a chance such as this? It is doubtful that any of you enjoy staying home in bed with all the school work (and extracurricular activities) going on day after day here on the Stout campus.

Our life here is made agreeable and enjoyable through education, recreation, and relaxation with GOOD health as its foundation.

In the first, place, do your utmost to prevent catching a cold by dressing according to the weather, getting plenty of rest, and, above all, by eating a balanced diet.

When you feel you are "catching one," go to the school nurse who is located in her office on the second floor in Harvey Hall. She is here for your benefit.

If you are one of those unlucky persons running around with boxes of hankies and bottles of nose drops, I can give you little help or condolence, but I do have a little worthwhile advice that others would appreciate your remembering. Use your cold manners! In other words, don't cough or sneeze without covering your mouth, and don't talk directly into people's faces. Even if you don't give a hang how rotten you feel, you might well remember that there are others who might wish to avoid such unpleasantness. Don't leave your hankies lying around either, and wash your hands often. Try to go slow on the cough drops too, as they discourage a good diet.

Now that you have all these suggestions, with the hope that you use them, may I be the first to wish you a Happy Coldless School Year.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

Members of Wesley Student Foundation after supper on Sunday evening, September 25, enjoyed a skit led by Bill Romoser on Camp Poinsett in South Dakota. Lillian Smith, Georgia Christner, Glenyce Harmston and Mrs. Ralph Allen, an advisor, attended the camp last summer.

Foreign students attending Stout will give talks and show pictures pertaining to their native country on Sunday evening, October 2, at 5:30. Everyone is invited to come and bring a friend.

Representing Beta Phi chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha at its national convention this summer was Judy Goehring, a junior from Menomonie. Scene of this triannual meeting was Hotel Buena Vista, Biloxi, Mississippi, on July 5-9.

Highlighting the convention was an address by Dr. Ethel J. Alpersela, professor of anthropology at the University of New York, an Alpha Sigma Alpha alumna.

Judy was a member of a panel which presented much of the material to the group. She also served as discussion leader during a group of buzz sessions.

Vesper service, colored slides, business meeting, and cost supper are on schedule for the Gamma Delta meeting on October 2, 1955 at 5:00 P.M. Members will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

We've been listening all week long—and somehow all we heard about was CARS. No, not Cadillacs—just plain ordinary cars.

Unless you'd call a little gem like Ed Zillman's a car. Oh, well, at least it runs, which is something you can't say about John Oakeson's. You'd better get it fixed, John—this warm weather isn't going to last forever!

Carol Shafland just bought a jewel. At least, that's what she thinks. But we got some inside information on it. Guess it burns more oil than Texaco can produce. And it only cost $50.00. Real bargain, huh?

Jim "Olie" Nelson really got himself in a jam. He's been riding for a long time without a muffler—and they finally caught him. We heard he hasn't paid his ticket yet. But, really there's no need—he got another ticket just the other nite for parking. Where? Well, just ask him. Anyway, he might as well just make one trip to the local hoosegow.

And speaking of cars—we saw a brand new one floating around town. Belongs to ———. Going steady is O.K. until the freshmen girls come, and then the mercury really starts to soar. Keep up the work and you'll set a new record—maybe it'll even set a higher mark than the "Typewriter Song".

To change the subject—we heard something about Nat Wick receiving a cute pair of black sheers—all full of sequins and butterflies. Now we know Mike had nothing to do with it—or did he? Sometimes our keyholes get a little clogged.

A bit of advance information. We hear there's going to be a big birthday party coming up—or is it going down? It's going to be celebrated pretty soon, isn't it, Jan?

On the way back from Superior we heard some boys were stopped for speeding. Guess crime doesn't pay, does it, Jerry?

Also wonder how Mrs. Car-wreck likes her new name. Bill Muzer, too. Strange things come over a loudspeaker, don't they?

Well, so long for this week. See you soon. Don't forget to leave any interesting news items in the STOUTONIA office marked THRU THE KEYHOLE.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

Tuesday night a pool splash party was sponsored for all interested swimmers. President, Marge Schuette, started the program off by explaining how synchronized swimming works. Stunt demonstrations were given and a diving exhibition was given by Jerry Howard. Then everyone got into the act by diving and swimming.

Next Tuesday night at 7:30 the first meeting will be held. Plans for the spring program will be made.

Slide pictures of trips to Mexico and Florida were shown by Barbara Rushing and Zoe Goetzinger to members of the Pallas Athene sorority after their regular meeting on September 22. Plans are being made by the sorority for a nature hike and weiner roast, Friday evening, September 30.

DORM NEWS

The organization of Lynwood Hall began with the election of officers and an S.S.A. representative. Those chosen out of this year's freshmen were president, Ken Dickie; vice-president, Jerry Stauffacher; secretary, Keith Dame; treasurer, Elroy Wicklund; and S.S.A. representative, Dick Dyer.

Carl Spinti, Bob Olstrom, Bill Romoser, and Matt Brejcha are advisors to the boys' dormitory.

The main business for the boys is the Lynwood Hall Open House scheduled for October 2. At this time students and faculty are invited to inspect and visit the rooms. Plans are now underway for the open house, one of the features of Dad's Day.

REGIONAL WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION HELD AT EAU CLAIRE

A number of Menomonie people took an active part in the recent Regional White House Conference on Education, held at Eau Claire state college. The Eau Claire report will be sent to Madison to be correlated into a twelve-region summary. That summary will then be Wisconsin's contribution to the White House Conference in Washington, D.C.

Among the consultants at the regional gathering was Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout. Dr. Fryklund took part in the deliberations dealing with "How Can Education be Financed in an Equitable Manner and at a Level of Support Which Will Insure The Greatest Development of Our Human Resources?" James Solberg, Menomonie attorney, was chairman of a similar roundtable group.

Planning and summarizing the work of conference division II was Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at Stout state college. This division dealt with curricular improvement and sought answers to the problem, "What Educational Programs Are Needed to Enable Every Person in Wisconsin to Teach the Highest Level of Human Living of Which He Is Capable?"

Leading roundtable discussions on that topic were Dr. Eric Oetting, head of the psychology department at Stout; William Terrill, principal of Menomonie high school; and Dr. Guy Salyer, associate professor of psychology and education at Stout.

Mrs. Philip Ruehl, wife of a Stout faculty member, served as recorder for one of the curricular groups. Frank J. Belisle, Stout registrar, also represented the college.

Other recorders included Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics at Stout; F. E. Laugh, principal of the Dunn County School of Agriculture; and Mrs. Myron Harbour, wife of a Stout faculty member.

Presiding at the general conference was William D. McIntyre, chairman of the Board of Regents of state colleges and co-chairman of the 12 county region for the White House Conference. He was assisted by Roderick McPhee, director of the Mid-West White House Conference, and Dr. Lester M. Emans, who organized the meeting for Eau Claire state college.

STATISTICS ON ENROLLMENT REVEALED

With a record of over 1050 students, Stout's class rooms and halls are filled as they never have been before. On September 14th, 1954, 770 students were enrolled. Exactly one year later the number increased by nearly 300.

The freshmen boys really have quite a representation. There are close to 3 1/2 times as many of them as senior boys, 2 times the number of junior boys, 93 more than sophomore boys and 61 more than the girls of their own class. They number 238, with 80 of them vets.

There are 415 freshmen, 256 sophomores, 190 juniors, 149 seniors, and 34 graduate students. What a lot of action should come from those freshmen.

Girls, this is of particular interest; the boys outnumber you by 134.

Fifty-two girls and 132 boys are from out of state. Eighty-one freshmen, 46 sophomores, 27 juniors, 15 seniors, and 15 graduate students are not residents of Wisconsin.

With such an increase in population let's hope there is an equal increase in school spirit and student participation.

S.T.S. ORGANIZES GROUP FOR COMING YEAR

Presses started to roll Wednesday night, September 21st, as the Stout Typographical Society brought to a close their first school-wide sale of personalized stationery. The orders completed will be listed on the bulletin board.

The printing of personalized stationery is just one of the many projects that the S.T.S. undertakes throughout the year to help finance the annual spring tour and other functions of the society.

Robert Treise, president of the organization, states that although the order table in Harvey Hall will not be a permanent setup, any persons or organizations on the campus may place their printing orders with William Allen, estimator for the organization.

Although Wednesday night meetings are set aside for production work, members of the society plan their free time during the week for extra production jobs. Two of the most recent jobs printed by S.T.S. were the student athletic privilege cards and the football programs.

The work meeting was preceded by a short business meeting during which the members discussed the calendar for the year. Edward Pahl was appointed by the president to head a committee in charge of displays and programs for National Printing Week which is being held late in January. Other members of the committee are John Posewitz, Leonard Clark, Charles Weber, and John Schellin.

Treasurer William Allen explained to the members about the purchasing of materials, passing on the information he received at the all-school meeting of organization treasurers.

DORM NEWS

The freshmen boys at Lynwood Hall are anticipating building the largest bonfire possible for homecoming and are soliciting wood, cardboard, paper, and other material for this purpose.

This was only one of the items discussed and acted upon at their dorm meeting Monday night, September 19. Officers for the year were also elected. They are: Pres., Kenneth Dickie; Vice-pres., Jerry Stauffacher; Sec., Keith Dame; Treas., Elroy Wicklund; S.S.A. Rep., Richard Dyer.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

Attention swimmers: Elene Sweet and her school of "fish" hope that all of you other "fish" had a good time at the "Pool Splash" held Tuesday.

Stout state college has a fine large swimming pool, equipped with a diving board, for the students enjoyment and relaxation. It is your privilege and opportunity to make use of it. All are to watch for an announcement of the first meeting.

A change in meeting nights and schedules was voted upon by 13 members of Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity at the first meeting of the season, Monday, September 19.

To enable more members to attend the business meetings and programs, the meeting night was changed to Tuesday evenings. In the past, meeting on Monday conflicted with National Guard and Arts and Crafts schedules.

A reduced program schedule was approved with the stipulation that special business meetings might be called if necessary.

Henry Moerschel was elected assistant secretary-treasurer to aid secretary-treasurer Orville Nelson during the football season. Robert Erickson is president of the organization.

Sheila Morris is the newly elected vice president of the Women's Recreation Association. Plans were discussed for the sale of college pets, and it was announced that volleyball will be the first WRA sport. Rosemary Kaus, sports manager, asked that all interested girls check the bulletin board in Harvey Hall for further information.

Arrangements are being made for the formal WRA initiation, Rita Pauls serving as general chairman. One other activity of importance at this time is the sale of hot dogs at the home football games. All fans are asked to deposit wrappers and waste paper in waste containers, rather than scattering this debris all over the field.

Alpha Phi Omega, scouting fraternity of Stout state college, has started out the year by conducting a tour of the town for freshman and transfer students. APO has been conducting this tour since 1949; this year over 400 participated.

The students were divided into groups and guided to the various places of interest in Menomonie, including: the court house, post office, library, city hall, police station, bus terminal, and the railroad station. The tour ended at Riverside park where the groups enjoyed doughnuts and coffee. Joyce Fraedrick led the students in songs and cheers.

Alpha Phi Omega is interested in promoting scouting activities and service for the school and community.

GOVERNING BOARD HAS MEETING SEPT. 13

At the Governing Board meeting of September 13, the following items were discussed:

1. Insurance will be offered to Stout students. Information as to the cost of the plan and the amount of coverage can be obtained in the Stout Student Association office.

2. The Freshman bonfire for Homecoming was discussed, and a plan was presented to President Fryklund. The plan, requiring his approval, was set up with the following provisions:

The fire would be built the Friday before homecoming, and would be supervised by a group of 12 students consisting of Student Governing Board members and a group selected by them.

3. Homecoming floats and decorated homes would receive the same amount of money for first, second, and third places as has been awarded in previous years.

DORM NEWS

One of the main events in the girl's dorms was the election of officers which was held on Monday, September 19. These officers will lead all the activities in the dormitories this year, and the S.S.A. representatives will sit in on all the Stout Student Association meetings to give their word on affairs.

Officers at the Annex are: Pres., Ruth Stratman; Vice-pres., Barbara Williams; Sec., Mary Lou Schleis; Treas., Joan Goedeke; S.S.A. Rep., Rita Dahlke.

Those elected in Eichelberger were: Pres., Janet Burton; Vice-pres., Sara Ness; Sec., Barbara Lydick; Treas., Mary Ann Parkel; S.S.A. Rep., Jane Thompson.

Officers of the Hall are: Pres., Lillian Holst; Vice-pres., Gwen Urbanz; Sec., Janet O'Grady; Treas., Carol Frank; S.S.A. Rep., Eleanor Genal.

Watch this article for new bits of information about the dorm life.

FRED HODGES DIRECTS DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

Fred Hodges organized the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps for Menomonie and led the group in the Dairy Day Parade. Also a member of the Stout state college band, he had to do a quick switch of uniforms to march in both organizations.

The Menomonie Drum and Bugle Corps was organized by Fred early in August. After only 6 practices, led by Fred, they marched in Saturday's parade. His original affiliation with the Racine YMCA Kilties led to his interest in this type of marching and drill work, and to his excellence as a drum major.

Alfred Hodges, commonly known as Fred, is 26 years old and a last semester senior.

OFF CAMPUS TEACHING TO BEGIN

Thirty-three senior girls will begin off campus teaching October 17. Cadet teaching centers, supervised by Stout graduates, are selected to give senior students the best possible training.

DR. ALICE KIRK SERVES AS CONSULTANT

Serving for a week last summer as a consultant to the Home Economics Education of the U.S. office of Education was Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at Stout state college.

Dr. Kirk recently attended the conference in Washington, D.C. She was one of two persons selected from Wisconsin to participate in the deliberations.

The U.S. Office of Education, in cooperation with the American Home Economics Association, brought together experienced home economists having recent experiences in building programs, architects and other types of specialists.

Conference participants then pooled their experiences and suggestions to develop materials for the use of college and university home economics administrators and their staff members in planning space and equipment for new buildings or for departments engaged in remodeling.

Among the topics considered were such matters as home economics building needs as affected by modern trends in teaching and research, flexibility in the use of space, relationship of body measurements to dimensions of equipment, differences in planning facilities for teaching and for research, and many others.

Conference speakers discussed such topics as "Forward-Looking Developments in Housing for the American Family," "Socio-Psychological Factors in Building Arrangements," and "Coordination of Colors, Fabrics, Furnishings, and Constructional Materials to Serve Instructional Purposes Throughout a Building."

Over 50 specialists attended the work conference. The results of their deliberations will be published by the U.S. Office of Education.

Clyde W. Schwellenbach, B.S. 1949, is teaching shop at Weyerhaeuser, Wisconsin. He has two children, Joli May, 3 and Barry Dion, 1. His address is Box 116, Weyerhaeuser, Wisconsin.

Joyce DeVries Berthlein of 3818 Wright Ave., Racine, Wisconsin, is teaching clothing at McKinley Jr. High. Next year she plans to teach at one of the high schools in El Paso, Texas. Her husband, Carl, is stationed at Ft. Bliss, Texas. His address is Pvt. Carl F. Berthlein, U.S. 55489284, Svc. Btry., 246th F.A. Missile Bn., Ft. Bliss, Texas. Mrs. Berthlein graduated in 1954, the same year in which Carl received his M.A.

Donald W. Thiel, B.S. 1953, is instructor at Ohio state university and is also working toward his Ph.D. in Industrial Arts with minors in personal management, higher education, and trade and industrial education. He has two children, Sherry Jo, 5 and Dawn Kim, 3. His address is 3284 Riverside Dr., Columbus-2, Ohio.

Don Lux is assistant professor of Industrial Education at the University of Illinois.

Phyllis Miller of 5111 Arrowhead Road, Duluth 11, Minnesota, has been a full time homemaker since the birth of an heir two years ago. She graduated in 1949 and was a home economics instructor at the University of Minnesota for a semester in 1952.

Gerald Solie, B.S. 1950, is an occupational therapist supervisor at Wood Veterans Hospital in Milwaukee. He has a son, David, 22 months old. His wife, the former Marilyn Erickson, attended Stout for three years. Their address is 9425 W. St. Paul, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

DR. FRYKLUND CHOSEN DEDICATION SPEAKER

Named as dedication speaker of the new Vocational Arts building of Nebraska state teachers college at Kearney, Nebraska, is Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college.

Dr. Fryklund will give the main address, "Only Free People Can Be Educated," at the dedication program on Friday, September 30. President of the Kearney college is Dr. Herbert L. Cushing.

The new Vocational Arts building, in the planning stage for over 15 years, will house the departments of home economics, industrial arts and commerce. Heading the vocational arts division is Otto C. Olsen.

Dedication of the new building will be part of the Golden Jubilee Anniversary of the college. On the campus at Kearney are enrolled more than 1100 students.

DR. JOHN JARVIS SERVES STOUT AT CONERENCE

Representing Stout State College at the Wisconsin White House Conference on Education, held in Madison in June, was Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the division of industrial education at Stout.

During the two-day session, over 400 representative Wisconsin citizens assembled in Madison to develop educational recommendations as part of Wisconsin's report to the White House Conference on November 28 to December 2. These recommendations grew out of a study of many months of committee work and discussion of four main problem areas.

Dr. Frederick Haberman of the University of Wisconsin speech department opened the session by describing how "Education Goes to School." Rod McPhee, regional director of the White House Conference, organized delegates into work sessions.

The evening of June 27, Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody College for Teachers, spoke on "Business and Education: Rivals or Partners?"

Tuesday morning the work sessions continued. That afternoon, delegates heard talks by Governor Walter Kohler, Clint Pace, director of the White

DORM ERECTION PROGRESSING SATISFACTORY

"Everything's going just fine" is the estimate of Arlan Johnson, construction superintendent, regarding progress being made on the new residence hall for girls being erected by Stout state college.

According to Mr. Johnson, the entire second floor slab is almost complete and half the third floor has now been formed.

Brick work has been finished up to the second floor on the west side of the structure. According to Superintendent Johnson, structural steel for the roof of the cafeteria within the residence hall has also been erected.

Goal of the Johnson Construction Co. is to enclose the structure by mid-November, thus permitting maximum work to be carried on all during the winter.

The new $700,000 building will, when complete, house 134 coeds. The building will also contain dining facilities overlooking Lake Monomin as well as a tea room, lounges and snack kitchens.

According to the meager historical data available on Tainter Hall, the old dorm, named for its donor, may be nearly 100 years old. It has served the college for nearly half a century. Tainter Annex was constructed on the basis of what had been the Tainter carriage house.

Both old dormitories, of wood construction, will eventually be razed when the modern residence hall is open for occupancy.

House Conference, and G. E. Watson, state superintendent of public instruction.

During the conference, preliminary plans went forward on the regional meetings to be held in ten Wisconsin cities during September. Problems to get major attention will center around the school program, teacher supply, school buildings and school finance.

CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN AT ASSEMBLY

Bette Zander attended Brillion high school in Brillion, Wisconsin, where she was cheerleader for four years. Her pet peeve is people who spell her name Betty rather than Bette. She hasn't yet found time for a pastime. As for availability—no, not right now. Bette expects to see all of us at the games, and she wants to yell as loud as possible to show our appreciation to the team.

Sarah Ness, better known as Sally, attended Byron high school in Byron, Minnesota, where she was cheerleader for six years. Her favorite pastime is participating in after-hour gag sessions, and her pet peeve is the alarm clock. What does she expect from the students at a game? Heavy voices, school spirit, and real enthusiasm.

Another Minnesotan, Keith Dame, attended Hopkins high school in Hopkins, a suburb of Minneapolis. Available? Sure! His pet peeve is girls who think they're too good for him. His favorite pastimes include girls, swimming, skating, and water-skiing. Keith would like to see a little MORE enthusiasm from the students in the games to come.

Charlotte Bergmann comes from Brookfield, Wisconsin, which is about eleven miles outside of Milwaukee. She was cheerleader for the B team in Wauwatosa high school. Available anytime. Her pet peeve is boys who don't shave, and her favorite pastime is studying psychology for Doctor Salyer. She expects spirit, and lots of it, from the student body.

Jerry Porter, from Chicago, attended New Prier high school in Winnetka, Illinois. As for availability, he's ready, willing, and able. His pet peeve is guys who go home every weekend, and his favorite hobby is hot rods. What does Jerry expect from us? To show our school spirit by cheering.

Albert Kahalekula (Just call him Al) comes from Wailuku, Maui, Territory of Hawaii, where he attended the Kamehameha Boys School. He is very available. He enjoys dancing and Tri Sigmas held a ceremonial business meeting on Thursday in Room 11 of the library on Sept. 22. The business at hand included plans for the Dad's Day Sweetheart Dance which is sponsored by Tri Sigma sorority and Phi Sigma fraternity each year.

Plans were made to make and raffle Lover II at the dance. Kisses will be sold in Harvey Hall from noon on September 28 until September 30 for a nickel a chance. Lover is an adorable, little brown dog with floppy pink ears.

Other business included plans for our sorority rush party and a favorable report from the delegates who attended Tri Sigma Regional Day at Whitewater.

Pledging plans were the major items of discussions at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon, Thursday, September 22, in the clubroom. Plans are under way for a homecoming dinner. After the various committee reports were heard, there was a discussion on fund-raising. Returning alumni, Jim Oids and Neil Hoeffner, were welcomed back. Welcome was also extended to Jim Gosh, a Phi Sig from Stevens Point, who is now teaching at "Aggie" high school.

Many Phi Sigs and Tri Sigs turned out for a work meeting in the club room. Posters and other advertising materials were made ready for the Dad's Day Dance.

Plans for this year's program were discussed by members of the Hyperian sorority at their last meeting. Arrangements for the rushing party were also completed.

The Hys are increasing their vocabulary with a new game called "You're a Word Finder". If you notice that they are using a new interesting word quite often, you'll know it's part of the game.

were then guests of Pillsbury Mills at a gala supper highlighted by enticing displays of foreign foods.

In spite of the full day of pleasure and excitement already enjoyed by the Stout travelers, the group closed their Twin Cities visit by attending the St. Paul Pop Concert, a most enjoyable occasion fitted smoothly into the day's schedule by another well known Stout alumna, Henrietta Quilling.

A tired but happy group clambered into their cool busses for the journey back to Menomonie and Stout state college, pleased with the pleasures of the journey and with ideas galore for improving their home economics departments.

AVIS AND RHEA MODEL BLUE RIBBON DRESSES

This coming November, two Stout girls may have the chance to attend the National Club Congress in Chicago. They are Avis Mertes, a senior, and Rhea Van Vleet, a sophomore.

To achieve this right, both girls entered their county dress revue where they took firsts and then the state fair dress revue where they also received blue ribbons on their entries. Avis's ribbon winner was a dress she designed and draped in Applied Dress Design last year. Her two-piece dress is made from a pink and white heavy novelty cotton.

Rhea's entry was a summer best-dressed made from pink and white checked gingham.

Avis and Rhea, who were selected as the outstanding girls in their counties, Dunn and Trempealeau respectively, attended the Wisconsin State 4-H Club Week at the University of Wisconsin. For that week Rhea was elected editor of the club week newspaper, "Campus Clover".

Besides being active in 4-H, entering fairs, being in style revues, and being junior leaders in their clubs, both girls are active here at Stout.

Avis belongs to the Tri Sigma sorority, Home Economics club, L.S.A., W.R.A., and is a member of Job's Daughters.

Rhea is a member of the Home Economics council, M.A.P., and works on the Stoutonia staff.

rites held for FORMER STOUT ALUMNUS

Mrs. Roy Phelan, died at her home in Milwaukee September 27, 1955.

Mrs. Phelan, formerly Marjorie Funk, was a resident of Menomonie, Wisconsin. She graduated from the Menomonie high school in 1927 and from Stout with the class of 1930 with a degree in home economics. For several years she was an instructor in home economics in Minnesota and Wisconsin, until her marriage to Roy Phelan in 1938.

Mrs. Phelan is survived by her husband, three daughters and her mother, Mrs. B. M. Funk. She was the daughter of B. J. Funk, business manager at Stout until his retirement in 1949. Services were held in Menomonie on Friday, September 30, 1955.

THREE BOOKS GIVEN TO YWCA AT MEETING

Miss McCalmont, Professor Emerita of Stout, gave the Y.W.C.A. three new books. Last spring everyone was talking about the show, A Man Called Peter. The other books are entitled, Mr. Jones, Meet The Master and Prayers of Peter Marshall. Two of the books are written by Kathryn Marshall. These publications will be placed on a shelf in the library for public use.

COACH'S CORNER

Last Friday evening, Stout traveled to Superior to play the Superior Yellowjackets. The final score was a 6 to 6 tie, with Janis scoring from the 1 yd. line after 3 minutes of play in the 1st quarter. Superior scored from the 3 yard line after blocking and recovering a punt on the Stout 9 yard line. The score came with 5 minutes remaining. The try for extra point hit the uprights and bounced, in Stout's favor, back in the playing field. Most of the action during the game took place in mid-field and defensive play was the high-light for both teams.

This Saturday La Crosse is our opponent in our annual Dad's Day Game. La Crosse lost their first conference game in 6 years last week to River Falls 21 to 13. This promises to make La Crosse, always an excellent team, that much rougher, but Stout hopes to improve also. It promises to be a good game with La Crosse having a bevy of backs that can go all the way at any time and Stout hopes to get its passing attack rolling to compensate its running attack.

At the game, the mothers will sit in special section provided for them near the 50 yard line.

DANCE

Lover II will be raffled off at the dance which will be co-sponsored by the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity and the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. Lover II is a stuffed dog, made to commemorate this, the Sweetheart Dance for fathers and their wives. The dance will be held in the high school gymnasium immediately following the game. Music for the dance will be provided by George Soderburg and his Royal Blackhaws. Admission is 40¢ single, and 75¢ a couple. Degradations will feature cartoon characters; the favorite sweethearts of the funny papers.

Dad's Day is the major activity sponsored by the Stout "S" Club. Officers of the organization are: President, Bob Nolte; Vice-president, Skip Wick; Secretary, Bill Romoser; Treasurer, John Oakeson; and Sergeant at Arms, Dean Karracker.

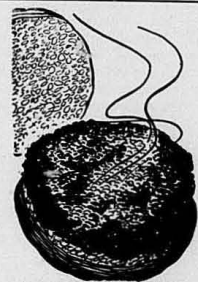

DEFENSIVE GAME BRINGS 6-6 DEADLOCK

Two strong defensive teams, costly penalties, and a break apiece, highlighted the 6 to 6 tie between the Stout Blue Devils and Superior Yellow Jacks last Friday night at Superior.

Superior gave Stout their break early in the first quarter when they fumbled on their own 24 yard line. Janis carried the ball for the touchdown. The extra point was blocked.

Superior's break came in the second half after the Blue Devils found themselves back on their own 8 yard line due to heavy penalties. On the fourth down the Blue Devils chose to kick. Ihe's kick was blocked and recovered by Superior. Superior scored easily from the 8 yard line.

The first half was evidence of good defensive play by Stout, as Superior advanced no further than their own 30 yard line in that period.

BLUEDEVILS TO SEEK WIN OVER LA CROSSE WARRIORS

Tomorrow night our Stout Blue-devils take on La Crosse at Nelson Field. The game will begin at 7:30 P.M.

La Crosse will be looking for its first conference win after bowing to River Falls, 21-13. Stout will also be after their first conference win after fighting a 6-6 deadlock with Superior.

La Crosse being the leading team for the last five seasons has jumped off to a poor start with an over all record of one loss and one tie. Stout has gotten off to a fine start with an over all record of one victory and one tie.

Each team will be out to avenge last season's 20-20 tie. Tomorrow's game should prove to be one of the best games of the season.

The starting lineup for La Crosse will probably be the same lineup they used in the two previous games.

Stout has played two games this season. Most of the players will see action tomorrow night, especially since Saturday is Dad's Day.

Bill Romoser, a junior quarterback from Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, will probably be in the starting lineup. Bill weighs 150 pounds, is five feet, nine inches tall, and has seen much action in the first two games this year.

Another probable starting lineup man who will see plenty of action tomorrow night is guard John Oakeson.

Coming from Marinette, Wisconsin, John is a senior, weighs 190 pounds,

JEAN DESTINE, WORLD RENOWNED DANCER FROM HAITI, TO BE FEATURED ON FIRST LYCEUM

The face seen around the world is that of Jean Leon Destine. The Re-used the striking figure of Destine in a dramatic pose from his "Revolt of the Slaves" dance, as the motif for their giant posters and colorful brochures. He will appear here at the first lyceum which will be held Wednesday, October 12.

Destine, who is handsome and athletic has probably done more than any individual in exploring and exploiting the native folkways of his people. Upper class, conventionally-educated and city-dwelling, Destine was drawn inland to the rural and superstition-fraught areas of his country as a sympathetic explorer and interpreter of his people.

Unaccepted at first by the peasants, he eventually won their trust and was initiated into their Voodoo cult and thus was entrusted with the secret philosophy of this primitive faith. Tutored by a Voodoo priest, Destine absorbed the pulsating music and dance of the ritual. On his return to Port-au-Prince he again found himself unacceptable; this time to his own class.

Through persistence and the dynamism of his performances, he raised the forbidden and despised music and dance of Haiti to respect. Today, in

LYNWOOD HOSTS

Ken Dickie, seated, and Jerry Porter, standing, are entertaining Deanna Grzybowski, one of the many guests who attended Lynwood dormitory open house Sunday afternoon. Open house is an annual event sponsored by the freshman men on campus.

LYNWOOD HAS OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

Lynwood Hall held its annual open house on Sunday, October 2, with approximately 200 guests registering. The dormitory was open to the students and general public from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. and visitors were escorted by Lynwood Hall boys on a tour of the building. Following the tour, guests were served tea in the recreation room which was decorated with an autumn theme. Accordion music was furnished by Wendell Carlson and Bob Olstrom.

Visitors to the dorm found the rooms in "apple pie" order with attractive bulletin boards and amusing name cards on the doors. Occupants of the rooms were attired in white shirts and ties and very eager to meet visitors and answer questions. Believe it or not, there was also some evidence of studying.

The success of such an undertaking was attributed to many hours of planning and preparation. The boys were members of such committees as food, decorations, clean-up, kitchen, ushering, etc. The open house was under the direction of the counselors and Dr. Guy Salyer.

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED IN HARVEY MEMORIAL

Fifteen mothers were present at the annual Dad's Day Tea held at the Harvey Memorial on Saturday afternoon, October 1. The mothers, as well as the sorority girls acting as hostesses, received name tags and orchid corsages flown in from Hawaii for the event.

Mrs. Salyer was in charge of the tea service. Russia tea, doughnuts, coffee, cake, nuts, and mints were also served.

Preceding the tea the mothers were conducted through the library and Harvey Hall. Among others present were Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Price.

NOTICE

Campaigning for Homecoming Queen may begin after 5:00 p.m. on Friday, October 7, 1955.

NOTICE

The Stout Typographical Society will hold their Wednesday night meeting one-half hour earlier on October 12, 1955.

The business meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. The meeting was scheduled early to enable members to attend the lyceum at 8 p.m.

The main points of business to be discussed will be: STS spring field trip, National Printing Week, and scheduling of pledge week.

HOME EC CLUB HOLDS MEETING. STUDENTS SPEAK

At the Home Economics club's first regular meeting of the year September 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium, President Doris Hutchinson announced that the council had elected Betty Fraley, the new president-elect to take Lois Jensen's place. She also reminded everyone of the state home economics club convention which will be held October 14-15 at Mt. Mary college in Milwaukee. Ardis Carr explained Province to those attending. Doris then turned the meeting over to Mary Buol, the program chairman, who introduced four Stout girls who spoke on their "Summer Highlights".

Ellen Steinhoff worked as a waitress at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton, Illinois. She appeared in the colonial waitress costume of the Wagon Wheel and related many interesting incidents which occurred this past summer. The Wagon Wheel began as a hamburger shop and is today one of the 10 best restaurants in the United States.

Jeanne Madaus had a variety of jobs last summer, working at the Honey Bear Farm outside of Lake Geneva. The farm is owned by the Stevens Candy people and has a restaurant, dress shop, candy shop, and many other tourist attractions. Jeanne mentioned that she cracked and separated each morning between 200-400 eggs by hand for lemon chiffon pies.

Barbara Ray was a 4-H club agent in Ashland County for the summer months. Barb related many interesting experiences happening during her stay. She also captured the hearts of the people of Ashland County. Just ask her about her little kitten!!

There was also a TV personality by the name of Janet Seppala, who enjoyed her summer! Janet gave demonstrations over station KDL in Duluth, Minnesota.

HOMECOMING QUEEN CANDIDATES

Chosen as queen candidates for the 1955 Stout Homecoming are Edie Shaw, sponsored by Hyperian sorority; Ginny Ehlers, sponsored by FOB fraternity; Joan Morneau, sponsored by Tri Sigma sorority; and Jane Gargulak, sponsored by Delta Kappa fraternity. Voting will take place Wednesday morning during assembly.

ROSE DANCE, NOV. 12 TO BE IN HIGH SCHOOL

Due to this year's large enrollment at Stout, the first all-school formal, The Rose of Sigma Tau, will be held in the high school gymnasium on Saturday, November 12th. Also, this year the price has been reduced from $1.75 to $1.50 per couple. This reduction in price has been taken in order that more students can attend.

HOUSING UNITS ELECT MAYORS

Colonialism has taken another setback as the slow methodical processes of a democratic way of life push forward to bring freedom and representation to the peoples of the world.

The Declaration of Independence in 1776 and even the de-colonization program carried on by the United Nations today seems very remote from the Stout state college campus. Now, some 180 years after the 13 colonies received their freedom, Stout has felt the effects of the drive for individual freedom and representation.

The married families of Fair Oaks and Stout Court have been allowed one representative each, to attend Student Governing Board meetings. These representatives will be the mayors of their respective groups, directing the governing organization of the student communities.

To date Fair Oaks has elected Jim Rowsan as their Mayor, and Charles Somers has been chosen for the Stout Court position.

To assist the mayor, one man from each row of houses was elected to a council.

The Fair Oaks Councilmen and their addresses are as follows: Jim Rowsan, 802 17th St.; Bill Labine, 814 17th St.; Gene Bocek, 913 Fair Oaks Road; Clinton Byrnes, 804 Fair Oaks Road; and Bill Osier, 907 18th St.

Thirty-two families from Fair Oaks and representatives from Stout Court met with Dean Price and Gordon Maves, president of the Student Governing Board on Tuesday, September 20th in the library to set up the organization of the two student communities.

RUTH PARMER WRITES FOR REA NEWS

Ruth M. H. Parmer, whom many of you remember as student and faculty member during the years 1950 through 1954, has begun a series of articles on child development and family relations in Wisconsin REA news.

Mrs. Parmer, in addition to holding degrees from the Pennsylvania state university, has done advanced work in child psychiatry, child psychology, social psychology and sociology at the universities of Bonn, Gottingen, and Munster. Her doctoral studies have included such topics as Theology and Sociology of the Family, Seminar in Child Psychiatry, Sleep and Dream, Therapy, and so weiter.

TOWER DUMMY A MONTH AHEAD IN PROGRESS

The 1955-56 Tower staff is fully organized and production is underway. Carl Smith, the production manager planned the layout during the summer. On September 20th editor Dorothy Dieter, assistant editor Nat Wick production manager Carl Smith, business manager Robert Triese, and advisors Dr. Barnard and Dr. Adams traveled to Minneapolis to see the engraver about the yearbook layout.

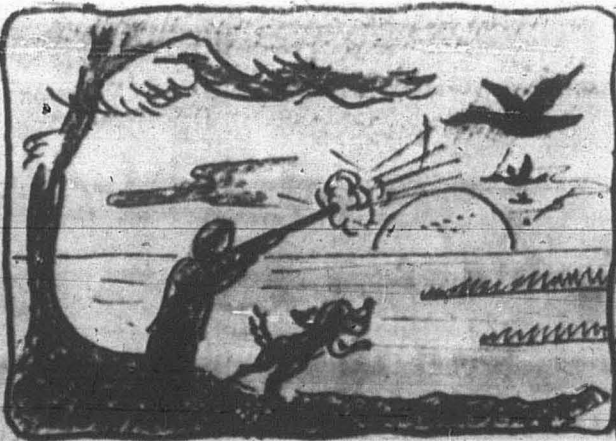

Pictures are now being taken and writing assignments will soon be given.

LAKE CRUISE ENJOYED BY STUDENT GROUP

The melodic strains of "Cruising Down the River" rose gently from the surface of Tainter Lake last Sunday as Stout's L.S.A. enjoyed an afternoon house-boat cruise.

In addition to the twenty-eight enthusiastic Lutheran students, Dr. and Mrs. Iverson, Mr. Arthur Roepke, and Mr. Harold Popp participated in the three hour ride on Leo Williams' quaint paddle wheeler.

Songs were sung, scenic spots identified, and delicious, hot Bar-B-Qs served during L.S.A.'s first social meeting.

HOTEL MARION

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Congratulations, President Fryklund

Yes, on Wednesday, October 5, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of our college, was honored at an informal gathering recognizing his ten years as top administrator of Stout. At such a milestone in the career of a man and an educational institution, the Stoutonia wants to do its part by summarizing at least some of the advancements and improvements by which our college has benefitted under Dr. Fryklund's administration.

Perhaps it would be most feasible to discuss those benefits as they pertain to individuals, to professional educational endeavor, and to the physical plant. Without attempting to touch on every improvement—even some of major consequence—it is possible to describe the following advances among many which have taken place.

For members of the faculty, frequent salary raises have been achieved during the past ten years, and one of the first college salary schedules in the State of Wisconsin put into operation. President Fryklund was recently successful in obtaining permission to increase faculty in number from 60 to 66. Every attempt is being made, available funds permitting, to employ the instructional staff to meet our increased enrollment.

In president Fryklund's decade at Stout, faculty members have been encouraged to undertake further graduate study, research, and authorship. The results are vividly evident in the increase of doctorates from seven per cent of faculty members ten years ago to the present 34 per cent, still maintaining the high requirement of practical experience on the part of faculty members. The number of widely-used textbooks and well-accepted professional articles, all bearing the imprint of Stout authorship, attests to the success of research and authorship.

Students of Stout state college have benefitted, too, from a greatly-expanded, coordinated system of Student Personnel Services. Well-maintained, low-cost housing for married veterans and non-veterans has made possible a college education for couples who could never have survived the high cost of living in "university towns." In the years since World War II, Stout can claim one of the highest student family-to-apartment ratios of any educational institution in the nation.

The curricula of Stout state college have undergone thorough study and revision in the past ten years. Since 1946, students in regular session can participate fully in the Graduate Studies program, an opportunity formerly reserved for summer enrollees. This year our long-awaited major in industrial technology has been begun. The assessing and revising of Stout's technical, academic, and professional education offerings is an unceasing process.

Most frequently, perhaps, a college president's accomplishments are evaluated on the basis of new buildings and of remodeling projects completed, although personnel services and curricular offerings are the basic college essentials and therefore were discussed first in this editorial.

During the ten years of president Fryklund's administration, Stout state college has enjoyed extensive construction and renovation. June, 1954, saw the dedication of a $650,000 library. Next September, according to present plans, 134 coeds will occupy our new $700,000 residence hall for women, complete with dining room, cafeteria, tea room, and other wonderful facilities.

Each year of the past decade has seen continuous progress in the modernizing and re-equipping of laboratories, shops, and classrooms. The "change-over" from DC current to AC was—in terms of cost, convenience, and necessity for further modernization—the equivalent of constructing a new building.

The student union, removal of dangerous streets intersecting the campus, landscaping of the campus area, cooperative arrangements which provide better facilities for intercollegiate athletic competition—all are now accepted as accomplished facts, but their achievement required planning, patience, and the courage to "go ahead."

Yes, the past ten years have been busy ones for the administration, faculty, and students of Stout state college. In that decade and under the leadership of president Fryklund, our college has gone forward in every area of endeavor. The largest enrollment in Stout's history finds available an increased faculty, improved personnel services, an on-going curriculum, and more buildings and equipment than ever before.

The growth of Stout state college and the constant effort to provide the personnel and equipment to meet that growth are worthy of the highest commendation. To Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, our president, we offer congratulations on ten years' work well done and a sincere wish to him for similar success in the years to come.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

Thanoo-Swaengsuedi, Thailand; Albert Kahalekula, Hawaii; and Micheal Ochuba, Negeria, Africa, were guest speakers Sunday night, October 2, 1955, at the regular meeting of the Wesley Student Foundation. Their speeches contained many interesting facts about their home country.

A hayride is planned for the regular meeting of Wesley on Sunday, October 9, 1955, starting at 5:30 p.m., with the supper. Following the hayride refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited to come and bring a friend.

"Autumn Leaves" will be the theme of the 1955 formal initiation party of the Women's Recreational Association. The event will be held in the Stout gym at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, October 10. Rita Pauls is serving as general chairman.

All girls who plan to participate in WRA sports during the coming season will be expected to attend the party.

The Hyperians held their annual Rushing Party Saturday, October 1, at 9 a.m. in Harvey Memorial. Their party was centered around a "Circus" theme. Pop corn, pop, potato chips, ice cream—the usual things you would find at a circus—were served. Circus "fortune tellers and side shows" provided atmosphere. Circus games were enjoyed by all.

Hiking will be an addition to the program for Gamma Deltans when they meet at the lakeshore home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Siefert on Sunday, October 23. Transportation will be provided from St. Paul's Church or Tairter Annex at 2:30 p.m. Since this is the weekend of homecoming, roll-call will be answered by giving a Bible passage containing the word home.

A cool, crisp autumn day did not discourage the members of the Dietetic Club. A number of the members enjoyed a picnic at Riverside on Saturday noon, September 24. This steak fry is an annual event which is looked forward to each year.

FRESHMEN MEET TO DISCUSS HOMECOMING

Homecoming plans were the order of business discussed at the second meeting of the freshmen class. The class meeting was held recently in the auditorium.

Gordon Maves spoke to the group on the rules that must be followed if the traditional Stout bonfire is to be continued. The bonfire will be built in one day starting at 6:00 a.m. The freshmen boys and class advisors will be excused from class all day Friday, October 21, to collect firewood. Receipts will be given for all items collected so there will be no complaints as to stolen property. The bonfire is to burn only during the program and there must be a cleanup committee. A plea was made for trucks to haul firewood.

large measure due to Destine, Haiti is proud of its indigenous folkways.

Destine's program fuses the two cultural traditions of Haiti, the African and the French. The numbers range from the stirring "Revolt of the Slaves" and the voodoo "Witch Doctor Dance" to the gay, light-hearted "Creole Mazurka" and "Congo Tropical." Stately, beautifully-costumed Old French court dances and throbbing pulsating primitive ritual dances are both represented in his diversified program.

DORM NEWS

Occupants of Eichelberger spent a "healthy" weekend playing football with neighborhood boys in the grade school sand lot. It was reported that the game to play off a tie, ended in a tie, and another is scheduled for next week-end. If football weather continues, you may be sure the girls will give these fellows plenty of competition.

A collection for a CARE package to be sent out during the holidays has been started at the Annex. This week also marked the goldfish anniversary which was celebrated by a supper of graham cracker pie, cookies, rolls, cheese, baloney, and milk. Lately room 17 has been the source of free food and entertainment. Drop in sometime and you'll see what I mean.

A fire drill in the cold of the night interrupted the monotony of dorm life a bit this week. Walking down cold iron stairs in bare feet was a little taxing on some of us.

The girls wish to thank the sororities and fraternities for the serenading. We hope to see you come back sometime.

All the dorms have aching muscles because of Miss Antrim and although most of them complain of sagging muscles and tendons we think most of them will bless the Dean in the end.

Boys, remember that you can't talk to that favorite girl, or any other as far as that goes, during quiet hours (7:30 to 10:00) so you might as well wait, unless you want to talk to the proctor.

DR. ROBERTS SPOKE TO SCF ON ATOMIC ENERGY

Point Comfort was the scene of the first meeting of the S.C.F. (Stout Christian Fellowship). Over thirty students heard Dr. James A. Roberts, Professor of Physics at Northwestern University discuss "Atomic Parables". Dr. Roberts has had much experience in the atomic field as he had worked as an atomic research scientist on the Los Alamos project in New Mexico and in the Aragonne National Laboratory. He also worked on the practical lighting of an Idaho City with atomic energy. An informal discussion was held after Dr. Roberts' inspiring message.

The S.C.F. is an inter-denominational Christian organization and co-operates with the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and International Organization which promotes Christian fellowship on college campuses.

A very busy weekend was spent by two certain occupants of Lynwood. Following the Superior game, Dick Sather and Dick Dyer decided to go to Decorah to visit two young "misses" who are presently enrolled in Luther. The two roving buddies returned Sunday night, reporting that an enjoyable time was had by all.

Besides a general guest book for guests at Lynwood Hall Open House,

CAROL HAHN WINS RANGE IN CONTEST

"How many of us have wondered what it would be like to enter a contest and actually win a prize?" Just such thoughts were going through the mind of Carol Hahn, junior coed from Oshkosh, as she participated in the Young Modern's Cooking Contest this summer. The event was sponsored by the TV show "What's New in the Kitchen" on Channel 4. The contest ran for ten weeks and was open to all men and women between the ages of sixteen and twenty years. Each week during this period a different party theme was presented, and all contestants were asked to arrange a luncheon or tea centered around the given theme. This included planning the menu, table decorations, setting, and recipes.

Carol entered the contest rather doubtfully, and yet by the end of the week she received a Sunbeam Electric Mixette as fourth prize winner. This urged her on to try the next week's contest, of which she was the first prize winner, and recipient of a Sunbeam Electric Mixmaster. Carol then appeared on the TV show and saw her prize winning tea arranged before the TV audience. Her menu included hors d'oeuvres, miniature jelly rolls, toasted coconut bars, salted mixed nuts, bonbons, hot spiced tea, and coffee. Recipes for any of these items can be gotten from Carol.

This was not Carol's last TV appearance, however. Her tea party was selected as the grand prize winner over the ten week period, and she received as a final award a Caloric Deluxe Gas Range with an Electric Rattisserie. It just goes to prove what can be gained if we put our Stout training to a little practical use.

a few of the boys had special books in their rooms for feminine visitors to sign. Besides the usual name and address, the girls were asked their telephone numbers and hours they were available. It is rumored that both boys and girls are anticipating results.

STOUT BLUEDEVILS TO PLAY EAU CLAIRE BUGOLDS IN THIRD CONFERENCE GAME

Tomorrow the Stout Bluedevils travel to Eau Claire for their third conference game. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Stout will be trying to recover from their 46-6 defeat at the hands of powerful LaCrosse's team and also for their first conference win. Eau Claire will be trying for their fourth straight conference win after defeating River Falls 20-14.

Eau Claire has come up with a powerful team this year and are out to defend their first place position. Stout

HIGH SCHOOL COLORS

NOT TO BE WORN

Every year at this time many high school letter sweaters are seen on the Stout campus. The "S" club, composed of Bluedevil major monogram winners, suggests that all high school letter sweaters not be worn. The sweaters, however, are permissible provided that all numerals and monograms are taken off. We realize that all of you enjoy wearing your high school colors, but it is felt that high school days are over and that college life has started. So from now on let's try to remember to comply with the wishes of the "S" club and the student body by leaving the lettered sweaters at home. Thanks a lot.

DADS HONORED BY "S" CLUB ON SATURDAY

The ninth annual Dad's Day was a busy day for many "S" Club members and their parents or sponsors.

A banquet, given for the dads, started out the day's round of activities. Featured speaker was Dr. Forrest E. Conner, superintendent of St. Paul schools, who proved to be both interesting and humorous. Other speakers included R. A. Iverson, J. A. Jarvis, and "S" Club president, Bob Noltner, who welcomed all the dads. No football banquet would be complete without the football captains, and the coaches' views, which were provided by Leo Janis, Lyle Marten, and Jack Wink. Entertainment was provided by LeRoy Zwick. George Soderberg, who acted as Master of Ceremonies, brought the banquet to a close as he led the group in singing the Alma Mater.

The fathers then had their pictures taken and were conducted on a tour of the Industrial Arts building and the library. However, the mothers were not forgotten on this Dad's Day. After having their pictures taken, the moms were presented with miniature orchid corsages flown directly from Hawaii. A tour of the home economics building was followed by a tea, the Panhellenic Council being hosts.

The highlight of the day's activities was the game between Stout and LaCrosse. The dads, wearing their sons' numbers, sat on benches behind their sons. At half-time each father or sponsor was introduced to the audience. Some fathers came long distances to attend this game.

With George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks setting the tempo for the Sweetheart Dance, the day's activities drew to a close. Muriel Erickson was the lucky girl to win a lover-lover hug, a stuffed dog, which was given away by the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, sponsors of the dance.

Leo Janis will probably be on the starting lineup. A senior from Hales Corners has shown expert ball handling thus far in the season. Leo, who plays fullback, is six feet tall, and weighs 190 pounds.

An outstanding player from Wausau, Wisconsin, Ed Zillman will also probably be on the starting lineup for tomorrow night's game. Ed is a junior and plays guard on the Bluedevil team. He is five feet, eleven inches in height, and weighs 190 pounds.

Another probable starting lineup man is Dick Cheke, a sophomore from Cudahy, Wisconsin. Dick, who plays end for the Bluedevils, is six feet in height and weighs 170 pounds.

IHDE ON THE MARCH

Being tackled by two LaCrosse players, Rufus Ihde tries to break away and continue down the field during the Stout-LaCrosse game last Saturday night. Ihde is a five foot, 11 inch freshman back from Neenab.

LA CROSSE DEFEATS BLUEDEVILS

LaCrosse chalked up its first state college conference victory Saturday night, defeating the Devils 46-6, as half back Willie Berzinski scored three touchdowns for the Indians.

The Indians were in complete control of the game, with Stout getting its lone tally in the final chapter.

Frank Granger's 43 yard pass to Bud Kollath opened the Indians scoring of three touchdowns in the first period. Berzinski followed with a 14 yard jaunt for his first tally; Granger and Kollath again teamed on a 35 yard aerial to give the Indians a 20-0 lead.

Opening the second half of the game and on the first play from scrimmage, Berzinski scooted 56 yards off tackle and moments later dashed down the field another 60 yards. Jerry Tuska added both conversions.

Mike Skemp plunged four yards for another Indian touchdown, after a 61 yard sustained drive. Tom Larkin passed to Bryan Taughter for 29 yards, giving the Indians another touchdown.

Two pass plays from Malchow to Ihde made good for 34 yards; however 20 yards of ground was chewed up in the Devils march, and Rufus Ihde plunged the final yard for the score.

Stout state played host to LaCrosse state last Saturday evening and were dealt a 46 to 6 thumping. LaCrosse, led by Berzinski and others along with a highly successful passing attack scored the first time they had the ball and were in complete control throughout the game.

This week Saturday, Stout travels to Eau Claire to meet the undefeated Blue Golds, leader of the conference race. Hard work, team spirit, and team play will be stressed during the daily practices and Stout will be a decidedly improved ball club in their next outing. This contest between neighboring schools is always highly contested and promises to be just that.

LAST OF SORORITY RUSHING PARTIES SUNDAY; INTERESTING THEMES USED BY ALL

Rushing parties for 1955 closed Sunday with that of the Pallas Athene sorority, "Through the Looking Glass" provided the theme for this annual affair. Over thirty sophomores filled the magically decorated Harvey Memorial to be entertained by The Mad Hatter, Marilee Cate, and Alice in Wonderland Jane Gargulak. Red bows and white aprons with P.A. embroidered pockets made the guests feel welcome.

"Sigma Symphony" was the theme planned by the Tri Sigmas sorority for their annual rushing party Saturday. Musical decorations featuring blue surrounded their sophomore guests. Angel food cake and ginger ale were served.

The rushing party of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority was presented

Sunday, October 2, with "Coronation Capers" for its theme. The Harvey Memorial was decorated in a royal manner. Thirty guests received crowns bearing their names and silver demitase spoons bearing the insignia ASA. Members of the sorority were costumed befitting the theme as pages and ladies in waiting.

The Hyperians opened the rushing season this year with a circus. Fortune tellers, balloons, and sideshows surrounded the guests who entered the "Big Top" through the door of the Harvey Memorial last Saturday, October 1. Refreshments in keeping with the circus theme, popcorn, ice cream, and pop were served.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Shown watching Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college, cut an anniversary cake are Miss Mary McCalmont, emeritus member of the Stout department of chemistry, and Dr. Guy Salzer, president of the Stout unit of the association of Wisconsin State College Faculties. The occasion was a tea honoring Dr. Fryklund's ten years as president of the college.

PRES. FRYKLUND HONORED AT TEN-YEAR TEA

An informal tea honoring Dr. Verne C. Fryklund's ten years as president of Stout state college was held recently in Harvey Memorial. Light refreshments, congratulations and pleasant reminiscences were highlights of the gathering.

Presented to Dr. Fryklund were a beautifully decorated cake in Stout motif and a monogrammed, personalized stamp dispenser, the latter a gift from members of the office staff.

Also present were a number of emeritus members of the faculty, recalling with President Fryklund the early days of his appointment as top administrator of the college.

The many guests present were served from an attractively-decorated candle-lit tea table. The guest of honor was also photographed with a number of those present.

Sponsoring the afternoon gathering was the Stout unit of the Association of Wisconsin State College Faculties.

INDONESIAN INFLUENCE PREVALES AT DINNER

Indonesian hospitality reigned at the Home Management House Monday evening, September 26. Miss Soekantina, a student from Indonesia, supervised and assisted in preparation and service of her native dishes. Mie gado was the tasty appetizer which consisted of noodles, beef, cabbage, celery, carrots, and onions, seasoned by the expert hand of Miss Soekantina. Sote hambing or baked chicken seasoned in the Indonesian style with soya sauce and sauted onions and accompanied by rice was the main course. Cjado gado, the unique and interesting salad of cooked carrots, green beans, marinated cabbage, cucumbers, and tomato wedges was complimented by a dressing made with roasted peanuts.

Miss Soekantina, a native of Indonesia is a student in Stout state college for the present semester. The afterdinner conversation resulted in an informative comparison of political, social and economic similarities of Indonesia and the United States.

ORIGINAL VERSE FROM STUDENTS WANTED FOR "THIRTEENTH ANNUAL ANTHOLOGY OF POETRY"

All college students are cordially invited to submit original verse to be considered for possible publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

This is the Thirteenth Annual College Competition. The recognition will reflect definite credit on the author, as well as your school. Over a hundred thousand manuscripts have been submitted to the National Poetry Association in the past ten years. Of these, about 4,500 have been accepted for publication.

Rules are simple-as follows: Manuscripts must be typed or written in ink on one side of a sheet. Students home address, name of college and college address must appear on each manuscript. Students may submit as many manuscripts as they desire. Theme and form may be in accordance with the wish of the student contributor. In order to give as many students as possible an opportunity for recognition and because of space limitations, shorter efforts are preferred.

Closing date for submission of manuscripts is November 5. Send manuscripts to: National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, California.

The editors would like to encourage participation in this contest as well as in the "Poet Tree." The latter will be a new column in the Stoutonia, publishing poems written by students.

Admission will be 40¢ for lonesomes and 75¢ for twosomes. Don't forget -- the big event will be October 15, in the Stout gym for the FOB Duffy's Tavern Dance.

DR. N. O. ADAMS RECEIVES DEGREE

Recently granted a Doctorate of Philosophy by the University of Wisconsin has been Norman O. W. Adams, assistant professor of English at Stout state college. Dr. Adams is in his second year on the Stout faculty.

Dr. Adams earned his Bachelor of college in Ashland, Virginia. There he Arts from the Randolph Macon was accepted into Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society. Following his graduation from Randolph-Macon, he served one year as alumni secretary of that college.

In 1941, Dr. Adams entered the U.S. Navy. He served during the North African invasion and later commanded a medium-sized tanker in the Pacific.

On the basis of Dr. Adams' experience as a member of the first U.S. convoy to reach Russia in World War II, "Reader's Digest" printed an article, "Convoy to Murmansk," of which he was co-author.

Upon his discharge as navy lieutenant at the close of the war, Dr. Adams joined the Delta Steamship Lines as traffic representative. He later earned a Master of Arts in English from Northwestern university and then became affiliated with the English department of a Virginia college.

While working toward his Ph.D. in English at the University of Wisconsin, he was a teaching assistant for one year in the English department there. Dr. Adams' doctoral dissertation is titled "Byron and the Early Victorians: A Study of His Poetic Influence, 1824-1855."

FAREWELL, GLORIA

Shown saying farewell to Dunn county's dairy queen, Gloria Walstad, who will represent Wisconsin in the American Legion convention at Miami, Fla., until October 13 are the coeds of Stout state college, at which Miss Walstad is also a student. Being "left behind" are (L-R) Charlotte Bergmann, Milwaukee; Cynthia Sutter, Owen; and Marjorie Newman, Kenosha.

STOUT TO BE REPRESENTED AT CONVENTION

Playing prominent parts in the meetings of the Northwestern Teachers Association convention, being held in Eau Claire this weekend, are a number of faculty members of Stout state college.

From the division of home economics at Stout, Miss Martha Ruth Apom, chairman of related arts, will head the roundtable devoted to art. Speaking at the home economics roundtable will be Miss Ella Jane Meiller, head of Stout's department of food and nutrition. She will discuss "New Trends in Nutrition."

From the industrial education division, three men will serve as roundtable chairman. Ray Cornwell, instructor in printing, will head a panel on audio-visual aids. Speaking to that group will be David Barnard, director of Stout's audio-visual center and president of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-visual Instruction of the NEA. His topic will be "Getting an A-V Program Going in My Small School."

With E. W. Seifert, assistant professor in the Stout drafting department as chairman, the industrial arts roundtable of the N.W.T.A. will hear a panel describing new developments and teaching aids for the shop teacher. Robert Swanson, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout, will demonstrate "Three Dimensional Forming of Plastics."

Chairman of the roundtable dealing with driver education will be R. F. Kranzsch, head of the safety and driver education programs at Stout. Topic of the panel for Mr. Kranzsch's roundtable will be "Safety Education."

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB ELECTS PRESIDENT

Jerry Loushin has been elected president of the Graduate Men's Club for the first semester of this year. The election of officers is held each semester.

There are approximately 30 members in the club this semester. The only requirement for membership is that you be a male graduate student. No dues are collected.

Tentative plans for the club's calendar call for both professional speakers and social events, but no dates have been set.

INFORMATION ON GRADUATES ON DISPLAY

How many graduate students are enrolled at Stout?

How many get their master's degree?

From what colleges and universities do they come?

These questions and many similar ones are answered by looking at the graduate display in the library showcase.

Not only are different charts placed in the library showcases but also examples of Class A and Class B theses written by those working for their master's degree.

Different months are allotted to each instructor to show some phase or accomplishment of his class. The graduate students have it this month—what will be the next display?

ENGRAVING EXPERTS CHECK 1956 TOWER

Since the dummy was laid out during the summer, the Tower is a month ahead in progress this year for the first time. When the dummy was completed, it was taken to the Bureau of Engraving in Minneapolis to be checked by an expert. He approved it, saying that the dummy looked very good and that the layout was excellent.

The organization pictures have been taken and the senior pictures are under way.

Staff writers will begin writing their stories within the next week.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Get on the band wagon! Haul out the hammer and nails! Organize your committees! The 1955 Stout state college homecoming is only one week away!

The queen has been chosen after three days of hectic vote getting.

Plans are already being made by the sophomore class for decorating the town. The freshmen have been busy, too, getting the bonfire organized. This year the freshmen promise the "biggest and best" bonfire of all time. The junior class has been making plans for decorating the gym for the dance and the auditorium for the coronation. The seniors are making plans for decorating the Harvey. They are also in charge of the alumni booth and the punch for the dance.

This year the homecoming game will be played Saturday afternoon preceded by the annual parade. A dance will be held in the Menomonie high school gym in the evening.

Fraternities and sororities are planning teas, dinners, and breakfasts for the returning alumni.

These are only a few of the many activities on the homecoming calendar. Homecoming week will find everyone busy with many and varied activities.

Peeping through keyholes is practically an occupation for us, and so is passing on any information we pick up. If you just happen to glance through a keyhole and hear or see something exciting, just let us know and we'll do the broadcasting for you. Our address is "Thru the Keyhole," and drop it off in the Stoutonia office. We've had a few interesting contributions, and we want to thank our sources of information.

Our congratulations to Jane Gargulak for getting Harry Krysiak to part with his treasured frat pin. It's a woman's world, huh, Harry?

We thought flying saucers had come to Menomonie, when we saw a flying obstacle land in Bill Bachmeyer's arms, at the close of a recent game. But after we saw that it was just Jan, we breathed much easier. Are you too lazy to walk down from the top of the bleachers, or are you one of those Home Management students trying to save steps, Jan?

We saw a certain Stout grad, now teaching at the University of Wisconsin, chasing Dean Price at one of the games. After students graduate, the fear of the Dean of Men must be forgotten.

Wonder how Whitey Wingert really got that cut on his finger. We heard the fantastic rumor that he got it when trying to kill a pesky fly with a folding chair. Hmmm-mmm-mm.

Guess some of the Sig Taus really had a surprise the other night when they prepared to take a bath. It seems as if Dick Rokus and Bill Anderson were training their duck decoys in the bathtub. Now we've heard everything!

Will wonders never cease! We've been peeking through the keyhole at every angle watching a certain senior girl who has been noted for her brief flirtations. Seems unbelievable, but guess she's really changed. Rumor has it that a guy in Grosse Pointe, Michigan, has brought about this miracle. No offence meant, Carol.

Ever heard the song, "Ninety-nine bottles of Coke on the Wall"? Well, we heard a new version, something like "Twenty-three Pitchers of

The Stout Snooper

Hi! This week's column is dedicated to the freshmen, but in case you upper classmen enjoy reading, you can review it, too.

During my snooping in the first 4 weeks of school, I've noticed that some of you 400 plus freshmen are getting off to a start on the wrong foot in your college career. I heard only a few on campus say:

I like exams, I think they're fun; I never cram; And I don't flunk one---

I'm the teacher!

It is not too late to change your habits and use better ways of studying that will help you during the remaining semester and in the coming years at Stout. After all, those first exams are creeping closer; aren't they?

I realize that I have advocated lots of fun in college, but whether you admit it or not, studying is the most important part of college life and so I've reminisced over my school days, remembering the times when I, too, crammed.

First of all, in "all" studying, devise a schedule to budget your study time and stick to it! Write your plans down; the Wisconsin calendars really get a work out; at least the majority of the upperclassmen girls carry on the Floor." Who? No name, but may the best bunch win!!

Couples that seem to be catching on:

Pete Waggoner and Patty Harbour
Liz Butler and Bill Erpenbach
Nan Merriman and Carl Spinti
Nat Wick and Mike Kazmarski
Know any more? Let us hear from you!!

Merlin Schendel, so we heard, is planning a November wedding. The lucky girl is from Rochester, Minnesota. Best wishes and happiness to you both!

them. You realize that if you sleep 33.3% of the week, study or attended classes 33.3% of the seven days, you'll still have 33.4% of those 168 to have recreation and dates?

It is wise to study in a quiet, comfortable place (not in the union where I've seen so many Stout students reading, etc.)! Then concentrate; find some sort of interest in every subject. Forget your day dream of the rumored teacher's vacation or of your prospective date tomorrow night.

Review often. When reviewing for a specific exam, first find out what sort of an exam the instructor plans to give; then review notes, examine book indexes and contents and even get together with friends to have a discussion with the type of test in mind.

When you are taking the exam, glance at the whole test; plan time on each part and start with the easiest questions. Follow directions. When you have completed the test, re-read for errors, then hand it in.

Yes, you the Stout student, are one in a 100 who has climbed so far as getting a college education. Thus, now is the time when you must study. And so good luck in your studies and in your first exams!

P.S. Because the above lecture was a bit "heavy," here's some other advice (talking to students whose minds are already made up):

1. Be friendly to all upperclassmen and other "greenies," but don't feel hurt if they forget your name.

2. During noisy hours in the dorms, always rush to the ringing phone; it may be Willie or Sue!

3. Omit trips to places "you shouldn't be," so that in a few years, doctors won't say, "You've too much alcohol in your blood stream."

4. Yes, have lots of fun, but remember to hesitate about certain "funs". The preliminaries may be more entertaining than the main event.

And since I am the Stout Snooper, I'll tell you a secret. All of you freshmen (and upperclassmen) will continue to have a happy and successful year at the Stout state college. Remember, I'll be snooping.

P.S.S. College: An institution which sometimes lowers entrance requirements—with an end in view—not to mention a few promising tackles and backs.

ALUMNI PLANS COMPLETED FOR HOMECOMING

The homecoming committee of the Alumni Association is developing plans for a number of activities for homecoming weekend. Registration will begin Friday afternoon in the main corridor of Harvey Hall. All alumni are asked to register, as the register is bound each year and filed for future reference.

The annual business meeting of the association will be held again at homecoming time, to allow more of the members to participate. The meeting is scheduled at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, October 22. After the traditional afternoon game an informal coffee hour will be held in the Student Union for all alumni and faculty. Tours of the campus will also be scheduled during this period for those interested.

Plan to attend the homecoming activities here the weekend of October 21, 22, and 23

"SPOT FINISHER" VISITS CLASSES AT STOUT

Making a special visit recently to the finishing classes of Stout state college was Paul Karcher, nationally-known "spot finisher" of Modern Furniture Service in Lincoln, Nebraska. After 30 years devoted to the art of restoring the beauty of furniture and other articles whose finish has been damaged, Karcher has become a recognized expert in this little understood endeavor.

Karcher, accompanied by his wife who is also a skilled finisher, lectured before the classes of George Soderberg, associate professor of industrial education at Stout and the man responsible for the Karcher's visit.

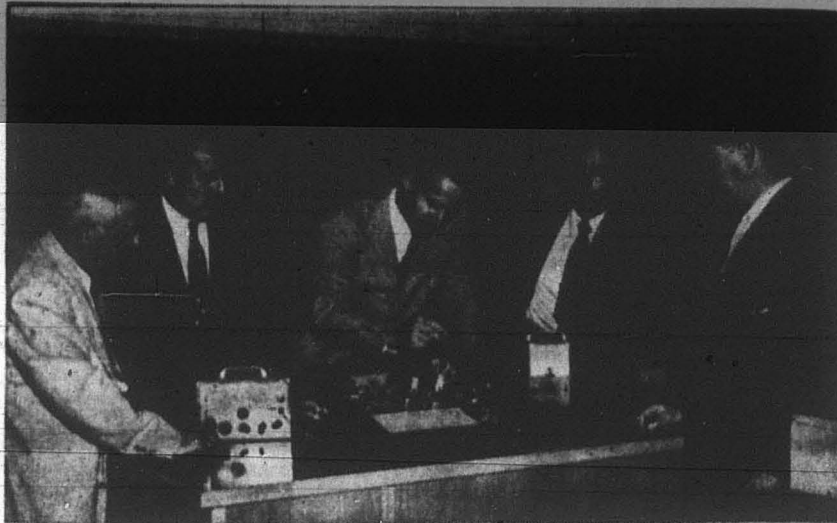

Prior to their arrival, a number of the 58 class members had obtained various articles whose finish had been damaged. After pointing out the daily necessity of spot finishing because of the knocks to which furniture is subject, Karcher gave vivid proof of his ability to obliterate all signs of cigarette burns, renew white enamel finishes on household appliances, and repair damaged bronze by a process known as "Frenching."

In all his demonstrations, Karcher was able to blend the renewed material with the original surface. He also proved that leaving tell-tale evidences of such repairs could be eliminated.

According to Mr. Soderberg, "My 58 students, and I as their teacher, are grateful to Mr. Karcher and his wife for increasing our knowledge and interest in specialized techniques of spot finishing. The success achieved by Mr. Karcher in his demonstrations, based upon 30 years of proved application, is sufficient evidence that this material should be made a part application, is sufficient evidence that finishing."

Mr. Soderberg admits, however, that he still faces two problems in achieving his goal. He must narrow the almost limitless field of spot finishing into a unit of workable proportions and he must, some time in the future, convince Mr. and Mrs. Karcher to return to the campus for further demonstrations.

PREPARING FOR THE CONFERENCE

Completing demonstration for the annual Industrial Arts conference which Stout state college will sponsor on its campus Friday, October 21, are the following participants (l-r) Ray Kranzusch, leatherwork; Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education; Philip Ruehl, electronics; George Soderberg, general finishing; and Dr. Herbert Anderson, general conference chairman. Industrial arts teachers from several states will attend.

STOUT WILL BE HOST TO I.A. CONFERENCE

With industrial arts teachers from several states in attendance, Stout state college will hold its annual Industrial Arts Workshop on the campus all day Friday, October 21. The workshop this year has been scheduled as part of Stout's homecoming October 21-23.

Purpose of the gathering is to provide instructors of industrial arts an opportunity to view and perform the latest processes in varied areas of industry. A number of exhibitors will display new materials and tools in the industrial arts field.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. Herbert Anderson, head of the woodworking department of Stout state college, programs have been planned in five areas of industrial arts. Each group will provide demonstrations and encourage audience participation.

In the field of leatherwork, conference participants will hear from Ray Kranzusch, associate professor of industrial education at Stout, and E. H.

Jentzen, representative of the Sax Bros. organization.

Heading the panel on general finishing will be George Soderberg, Stout state college faculty member and nationally-known author in the field of finishing. Philip Ruehl, head of Stout's offerings in electricity, radio and television, will discuss latest achievements in electronics.

From the school system of Austin, Minnesota, Lovern Nauss, will demonstrate recent developments in metal tooling. Dr. John A. Jarvis will explain new theories in shop management.

A GREAT PLAY

Rufus Ihde is trying to break loose from the grip of an Eau Claire player during the Stout-Eau Claire game last Saturday. The Blue Devils took a heart-breaking defeat from the Bluegolds, the score being 26-19.

STOUT TO PLAY RIVER FALLS ON SATURDAY

This Saturday, River Falls will invade Menomonie to take on the Stout Blue Devils. Kick-off time will be 7:30 p.m.

Stout will be looking forward to breaking River Falls' three wins and no defeats conference record Saturday night. River Falls stretched their record to three wins last week by beating Oshkosh 7-6. Stout suffered some bad breaks and bowed to Eau Claire 26-19. The Blue Devils will be trying hard for their first conference victory of the season from a tough River Falls team.

COACH'S CORNER

by Jack Wink

The Stout Blue Devils bounced back last Saturday evening against league leading Eau Claire and although bowing 26 to 19 played their best game of the season. Inexperience showed up especially in the first five minutes allowing Eau Claire to take a 14 to 0 lead. From that point on Stout dominated play and almost pulled the upset of the year. Stout is a young team and with added experience should prove tougher as the season progresses.

This Saturday Stout plays host to River Falls state, upstate of La Crosse a few weeks ago. This has always been a tough football game between the two schools and this year tack made the score 26-19, Stout rolled to Eau Claire's two-yard line, only to be stopped by a determined team.

With less than five minutes to go, Stout started what might have been the game tying drive. Manuel Ribero broke into the clear from the Blue Devils 48 yard line and raced to the 18 before Wayne Osness hauled him down. Two plays later Ribero dashed to the two. But the whole Bluegold line stopped three running plays without gain and Bob Hessler tackled fullback Leo Janis on the four after a flat pass was completed from Woelffer. From there Jack Blahaz, Bluegold quarterback ran out the clock.

Glen Blumhardt, freshman halfback from Mondovi, scored three touchdowns on a 33 yard scamper the first play from scrimmage, a 25 yard intercepted pass return and a short plunge and fullback Bob Hessler scored the other on a seven yard jaunt around end.

halfback, tallied three times including Rufus Ihde, Stout's sensational halfback tallied three times including in the third quarter. Ihde speared a 23 yard pass from Woelffer for Stout's final score and scored on a short slant in the second quarter.

The game as a whole was the best played and the most exciting this season.

Prof: "And who made the first cotton gin?"
Coed: "Heavens! Are they making it from that, too?"

A Bluedevil joyfully claps his hands after a touchdown by one of the Stout eleven. This was one of the three touchdowns by Rufus Ihde.

DORM NEWS

One of the main means of excitement for the dorms recently was the arrival of several groups of serenaders. The Pallas Athene sorority came to welcome the girls with songs both in the pop vein and their own P.A. song, too. The Phi Sig-Tri Sig group, came with song and joke to tell the girls of the Sweetheart Dance and lastly, but surely not least the "boys from Lynwood" came complete with accordion to sing and play in honor of their open house.

It was a busy week for all the girls and a noisy one too—for many found new ways to study while others found new ways to get demerits! What about it girls? I wonder if there will be any "Campused Queens" this year?

Something new was added to the way of dorm life in the form of a fire drill. It was given on Thursday night and after much planning by the house-mother and a lot of giggling by the girls it was carried out with much safety. One girl's comment was that the fire ladder didn't even squeak! I wonder if that was a hint to the boys?

A dorm meeting was called and it was voted that a box be put out to collect money for a Christmas Care package. Also dues were announced and a party will be planned for the dorm girls and their escorts. Boys, now is your chance to get with it!

Lynwood Hall residents are still recovering from their "open house." It seems a few girls set the alarm clocks back—and the boys woke up at 3:00 a.m. on Monday morning! At least they had no excuse for being late for school!

On the "sick list" we find James Kratzke, Clintonville, who has hay fever, and it is reported that John Moore is "soaking up sun" at the hospital, while recovering from a chest operation. We hope to see these boys back in good shape soon!

Girl's visiting Lynwood were amazed by the large recreation room in the basement. The boys report, however, that most of the stag parties are held in one room and any extra food is always welcome.

There was a bit of excitement last week when a broken water pipe flooded a couple of the rooms. Result: wet slippers!

Homecoming Begins Today

A "TENTH" HOMECOMING WELCOME . . .

This year's Homecoming has special significance for a number of persons, especially to alumni of the Class of 1945 and to me, for we are celebrating a ten year anniversary of our association with Stout State College. To members of that class, 1945 marked their commencement upon a variety of successful careers. I recall 1945 with pleasure as the year in which I became the third president of this college.

It has been a privilege and an honor to serve Stout's alumni, students, and faculty for the past ten years, because Stout is a college of which I am very proud. I am also especially pleased with our Homecoming activities this year, for they combine professional endeavor with Homecoming pleasure.

Yes, in conjunction with such traditional entertainment as the Homecoming bonfire, organizational reunions and gala parade, Stout State College is today holding its Second Annual Industrial Arts Workshop, with a fine group of industrial educators in attendance.

Annually we have tried to make Homecoming more and more rewarding to our alumni, and this year's combined program of information and relaxation, planned and organized by excellent committees, is something in which we can all take pride.

In previous Homecoming messages, I have always encouraged our alumni to visit the new library, inspect laboratories being renovated, or notice other new improvements. Of course, this year we won't discourage you from a peek at our $700,000 residence hall for women, which is well under way on the edge of Lake Menominee.

But, most of all, we recommend to you the educational and recreational aspects of this Homecoming. A splendid program has been developed for today's conference. Many pleasant activities are planned for your enjoyment. Let's make this a real "ten year" Homecoming.

FRATS INITIATE NEW MEMBERS WITH TRADITIONAL "HELL WEEK" COSTUMES AND ACTIVITIES

"Hell Week" is here again, with the pledging of new members by the four campus fraternities. The "scum" can be identified by their clothing and decorations, and the various "services" they offer their prospective frat brothers during the coming week.

The new members, or "scum", will receive their costumes and instructions tonight, and will wear them from the time they get up until 10:00 p.m. every day until next Thursday, when formal initiation will take place.

The oldest fraternity on the campus, Phi Omega Beta, was officially organized in 1929. It is the only local frat on campus at the present time. This group, better known as the FOB's, carried on its original pledging costume of black derby, tee shirt, black bow tie, and white gloves.

Phi Sigma Epsilon was organized shortly after the FOB's, in 1929, took the name of Kappa Phi Sigma, and carried it until 1952, when they joined the national fraternity, Phi Sigma Epsilon. The Phi Sigs continued the pledging costume of old KFS; the traditional straw hat, cane, and string bow tie.

The red fez and sash men are scheduled for initiation into the DK's next Thursday. The Delta Kappa fraternity was formed in 1945 as the local Sigma fraternity. They joined the national in 1951 and took their present name. The majority of the frosh class know the DK's only through the exclamation, "Hey, we got cahfee!!" at the home football games. This is one of the various contributions the campus frats make to a good school spirit.

The newest fraternity on campus is Sigma Tau Gamma, organized as Phalanx in 1947, the fraternity joined the national Sigma Tau Gamma in 1948.

The Sig Tau's pledge in blue and white helmets and shields with gold swords.

PARADE TO BE MEMORABLE OCCASION

Stout has gone all out this year to make the Homecoming parade really one of those "Moments to Remember." The parade will begin at one o'clock Saturday, October 22.

Floats made by different organizations and of course Ginns' the homecoming queen, will be in the parade. Bands from surrounding communities will be there, as well as Stout's band.

Elk Mound, Colfax, and Boyceville will have their bands represented as well as both the junior and senior bands of Menomonie high school. Each visiting band will receive ten dollars and each band member will get a free ticket to the homecoming game.

A brand new feature this year will be a reviewing stand. It will be located in front of the post office. From this vantage point representatives of Stout and Menomonie business men will judge the floats. The floats will be rated according to: the most keeping, with the theme, the most humorous, and the most beautiful. A fifteen dollar prize will be awarded to the winning float in each category.

The parade route will begin at 7th St. From there it will go down Main St. to Crescent, then it will go along Broadway, back to Main St. to Fourth St. and then to the field. During half time of the game the queen and the winning floats will be presented.

SHARON KRAHN AUTHOR OF THEME

"Blue Devil, King of the Wild Pioneer," made its author, Sharon Krahn five dollars richer when it was selected at student assembly as the 1955 Stout Homecoming theme.

Sharon's theme received the final vote of approval from the entire student body at a student assembly on October 5th, when it topped the five other themes to be voted upon. Previous to this the officers of the Stout Student Association had selected these six themes from over 250. Many themes were unsuitable because it would be hard to use them in decorations for floats, dorms, and the homecoming dance.

The homecoming theme is a key part of many activities for this weekend and Miss Krahn will receive five dollars cash from the SSA treasury as a reward for her effort.

BOB LEIGHTON TO PLAY AT GALA EVENT

Bob Leighton's band will provide the music for Stout's Homecoming dance to be held at the high school gym on Saturday evening. The band, which is composed chiefly of saxophones, is famous for its melodious harmony. Dancing hours will be from 8:30 to 12:30. All students and alumni are invited to attend. The dance is sponsored by the SSA and there is no charge for admission.

Crowning Ginny Ehlers 1955 Homecoming queen is Mary Paciotti, 1954 queen. Watching the ceremony are the attendants, Edie Shaw and Joni Morneau, and the football princess, Jane Gargulak.

HOMECOMING PRESENTS BUSY WEEK END

Crowning, Parade, Bonfire, And Dancing Among the Many Activities Listed

Stout State College Homecoming - 1955 is here!

Freshman boys began collecting and building the 36th annual bonfire this morning at 6:00. The boys met in the Circle at 6:00 where they were picked up by 12 trucks and taken to the fair grounds where shifts were assigned. Twelve upperclassmen, Bill Erpenbach, Gordon Maves, Reiny Mehsner, Jiggs Kuboyama, Ray Pearson, Ken Wittig, Bob Veiths, LeRoy Zwick, Bill Bachmeyer, John Smith, Jim Daines, and Homer Frase served as advisors. One advisor was assigned to each truck with four or five of the freshmen. This year, in order to provide protection for all parties concerned, receipts are being given to all donors. The advisors are taking care of the receipts. Freshmen girls have been making coffee and taking doughnuts out to the fellows at the fair grounds.

From 1:00 to 5:00 today the alumni will register in the corridor at Harvey Hall. Decorations seen this week in the hall were put up by Cay Yentz and her committee—John Smith, Jane Gargulak, Hila Jeffrey, and Edith Iwen.

Coronation of Queen Ginny Ehlers will take place in the auditorium tonight at 8:00. The ceremony will begin with a procession including the queen, last year's queen Mary Paciotti, the court of honor consisting of Jane Gargulak, Joni Morneau, and Edie Shaw. The crown bearers will be Mark Melrose and Bonnie Chudacoff. After the presentation of the queen and her court, and the crowning ceremony, the football that will be used in the Homecoming game will be presented to the captain of the football team. A vocal solo will be given by Carol Hahn, after which all students will join in the Alma Mater and the recessional.

Ginny was elected Queen of 1955 Homecoming by the student body on October 12. When the results were finally announced she was found by this reporter in the Union and asked for a statement. Speechless, all she could say at first was "I never did this before." Then she stated, "Thanks to the F.O.B.'s and all the kids who helped make this possible." Long live Queen Ginny!

The Homecoming theme, "Blue Devil, King of the Wild Pioneers" was entered by Sharon Krahn, a freshman.

At 8:30 tonight, the Queen and her court will lead a torchlight parade to the fair grounds where the bonfire will be lit. After a snake dance back to the gym, Ed Clary and his Blue Notes will provide the music for a Homecoming Eve Hop. Refreshments will include apple cider and doughnuts.

Saturday morning fraternity and sorority breakfasts will be held for alumni as follows:

7:00 Delta Kappa breakfast
8:00 Sig Tau breakfast at Jeatrans
8:00 FOB breakfast at the Marion Hotel
9:00 Hyperian breakfast at Peace Lutheran church
9:30 Alpha Sigma Alpha breakfast at Grace Episcopal church
11:00 Tri Sigma Homecoming Luncheon at the Congregational church

Registration of alumni will start again at 8:30 and an alumni business meeting will be held at 10:00 in the Harvey Memorial. Officers of the Stout Alumni association are National President, Ralph Betterly; Executive Secretary, Dr. E. Robert Rudiger; First Vice-pres., Dr. Wm. J. Micheels; Second Vice-pres., Hazel Nelson; Northeast Regional Vice-pres., Dr. Harold Silbins; Southeast Regional Vice-pres., Charles Hardiner; Midwest Regional Vice-pres., Betty Smith Wheeler; West Coast Regional Vice-pres., Ted Pierson.

At 1:00 the Homecoming Parade will start from 7th and Main, proceeding north on 7th to Crescent, west on Crescent to Broadway, south on Broadway to Main, east on Main to 4th and south on 4th to Nelson Field. Decorations along the parade route and at Nelson Field were done by the sophomore class under the chairmanship of Barb Johnson (city decorations) and Jean Baumgartner and Jim Jonen (field decorations).

The game between the Stout Blue Devils and the Platteville Pioneers will start at 2:30 p.m. Half-time activities will include formations by the Stout Band, presentation of the queen and her court and the presentation of the winning floats. Floats will be judged in three categories—most beautiful, most humorous, and most in keeping with the theme. Winning houses will also be announced at half-time.

Informal alumni coffee hours will be held in the student union from 4:30 to 6:00 Saturday. At 6:00 the Phi Sig fraternity will hold an alumni dinner at the Colonial Pines.

The Homecoming Dance will be held in the high school gym from 8:45 to 12:45. Music will be provided by Bob Leighton and his orchestra. The junior class, under the chairmanship of Helen Miller has charge of the decorations for the dance. The theme will be "The Devils Den." Other members of the committee are Nat Wick, Kay Kennedy, Maury Ellis, and Ray Pearson.

On Sunday, October 23, open house will be held at the girls dormitories from 3:00 to 4:30, with a tea at Eichelberger Hall. Officers of the dorms and of the freshman girls living off campus will serve at the tea.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

If you were to look about the campus at Stout State college, you would witness many people hurrying about with one thought uppermost in their minds, "Blue-devil, King of the Wild Pioneer." This is not surprising, for that is the Homecoming theme chosen by the student body.

If you were to look closer, you would feel the air of excitement about the campus as students eagerly anticipate the queen coronation tonight, the big parade and football game between Stout and Platteville tomorrow afternoon, and the dance tomorrow evening. Students are also looking forward to the breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners for the returning alumni.

If you were to attend all of these events, you would cheer the classes, clubs, sororities, fraternities, and many individuals who have worked so many long hours to make this, Stout's 1955 Homecoming, a success.

Again, congratulations, Queen Ginny. May this week end last forever in your college book of memories.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

On October 10, the Dietetic Club held a supper meeting for its members. Plans were made to begin baking cakes for the annual fruit cake sale.

The members felt that many of the students were not aware of the opportunities in the dietetic field or of the dietetics courses offered here at Stout, so plans were made to answer some of the questions that the sophomore nutrition students might have concerning the subject. This was accomplished by a panel discussion on dietetics as a career in the sophomore nutrition classes on Wednesday and Friday, October 19 and 21.

Homecoming is a time of renewing old friendships and making new ones. A perfect place for all Alpha Sigma Alpha and SMA members to do this is the homecoming breakfast Saturday morning at 9:30 at the Grace Episcopal church.

Preparations for the breakfast along with building the float and house decorations have been keeping the girls busy.

Country fresh air and activity will be provided at the next meeting of Gamma Delta on Sunday evening, October 23, at the lakeshore home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Seifert. Guests are welcome.

Transportation will be provided from St. Paul's Lutheran church and Taintor Annex at 2:30 p.m.

Roll call will be answered with a Bible passage containing the word "home," since this is the week end of homecoming.

The Hyps are holding a homecoming breakfast at the Peace Lutheran church Saturday morning at 9 a.m. The members are expecting to greet many alumni as well as the off-campus practice teachers who probably have many experiences to relate.

Keeping them busy now is their float entry, candy sale, and other homecoming activities.

Harvey Memorial will be the setting for Tri Sigma's annual Halloween tea. The affair will be held from 3:00 to 5:00 on Wednesday, October 26. All students are invited to attend, and school clothes are very acceptable dress for both men and women students.

The members of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity under the direction of Roland Beiswanger, met Tuesday evening in the library. Discussion was held concerning pledging which is to begin Thursday, October 20. Plans were made for the sale of Stout state pennants. Sales plans were made for Wednesday and Thursday, the 13th and 14th. Pennants will again be on sale during the homecoming parade and the game.

The first of Sigma Tau Gamma's many social events of the school year will be held this coming Saturday, October 22. The annual homecoming breakfast will attract about sixty members, including about thirty alumni. Breakfast will be served at Jeatran's Supper Club, starting at 8:00 a.m.

As in years past, the Sig Taus anticipate a large number of alumni to return for the breakfast and other homecoming events.

They're "gunning" for you!

Yes, Davy Crockett and his boys will be looking for you this homecoming, and they've got you right in their sights.

Stout's rifle club is waiting in the halls of Harvey, just "aiming" to sell you some decals.

If Davy isn't there to sell you your decals, you might run into John "Dead eye" Ong or Wayne "Lighttrigger" Lightner, a couple of newcomers that are crowding Davy for sharpshooter honors. John and Wayne have been hitting bullseyes right and left in turkey and duck shoots around Dunn County the past few Sundays. They've even rented a locker to store their delicious prizes.

DUFFY'S TAVERN WELL PATRONIZED SATURDAY

What! No, sarsaparilla?

No, it was strictly a "hard likker" bar at Duffy's Tavern (Stout gym), the other night as the swinging doors swung open wide to invite the post-game crowd in for a nightcap and to dance to the music of Guy Woodford and his six piece orchestra.

The "likker" fare included Schnapps, gin, scotch, and vodka, plus many other tantalizing concoctions, all tasting suspiciously of apple cider.

The breweries were well represented with their advertisements, decorating the walls of the tavern along with many cartoons.

Bar tenders were members of F.O.B. fraternity, the owners and proprietors of "Duffy's Tavern".

The Stout Snooper

Homecoming is tomorrow, October 22! After snooping around the campus, listening to all of the gossip sessions in the Union, and hanging around the building of the many floats, I'm happy to predict that the Stout 1955 homecoming will be the biggest and probably the best since I began my snooping!

This morning I bummed a ride out to the fairgrounds with some freshmen. There I witnessed trucks coming in with loads of wood, broken objects, and brush; fellows yelling and laughing as they threw the "stuff off" and trucks buzzing out of the grounds headed for more "isolated" wood piles to secure more timber to make the pile still higher! I wondered if the fellows took heed of the "gentle hint" in the form of a news-clipping on a bulletin board and refrained from accidentally on-purpose borrowing some innocent person's wood pile or — Did you?

Once over in the Union during the past week, I overheard, "I've wanted to ask you to go to the homecoming dance for days—" And I've had the answer ready for weeks!" Yes, the girls are willing to go to the gala event, so ask one of them for a date!

The whispers, happy smiles, and excited laughter, I saw and heard as I snooped in the locker rooms and in the Union proved to me that all four girls in the Homecoming Royalty are very happy. And tonight three of these girls will begin their festive duties assisting the 1955 homecoming queen as she reigns over this year's homecoming.

Oh say, I even heard that some visiting alumni even plan to stay at former rooming houses. I hope that many alumni are coming home to Stout, their alma mater.

In fact, just about everything about this festive occasion is fun, the building and working on floats, wondering which one will win, neglecting studies, watching or participating in the parade, cheering for the winning team, and gliding across the floor at the dance, are exciting to all, old or new students, alumni, and faculty.

Come on Stouters, make the 1955 Homecoming a "bang up" occasion!

Mr. Soderberg: "That new saw out there isn't worth two cents. It wouldn't even cut butter."

Skip: "Oh yes, it would, Mr. Soderberg. I sawed a whole brick in two with it this morning."

THE KEYHOLE

Our congrats to our lovely Homecoming Queen, Ginny Ehlers, and her court, Football Princess, Jane Gargulak; and attendants, Edith Shaw and Joan Morneau.

The organizations went all out for their queen candidates this year. Sunday night, everybody headed for the dorm to catch up on weekend gossip and as everyone came down Broadway, they could hear a terrific racket; when getting to the dorms, they discovered that some of the cheerleaders were leading cheers for Janie.

Monday night, a bunch of girls who were walking along, followed the Hyps and man oh man, those Hyps sure had mighty pleasing voices. No wonder the gals followed them! Tuesday night, those brawny D.K.'s, bearing Janie on their shoulders, ran us right down; however, we recovered in time to laugh at the antics of the F.O.B.'s when they and the Alpha Sigs serenaded the dorms with Ginny. Saw black for awhile though! The Tri Sigs were all dressed up in heels and the works when they came around to introduce Joni. She eniff looked purty!

Diamonds are again in the news; our first congratulations go to Pat Sullivan and Gino Casucci ('54). The second new diamond belongs to Carol Frank, a freshman, whose fiancé is attending Platteville.

Congratulations to Vicky Kirk and Bill Dahling—once again we see the glitter of diamonds—why not? After all, they're a woman's best friend, aren't they?

President Gordy Maves presided over not one, but two Governing Board meetings this last week. Seems he was head of some investigation committee to find out about the sale of beefburgers, or something!!

Jan turned 21 in grand style. Party, party, party—and a dual celebration to top it all!!

Bill Beisert is new plegmaster of the FOB's. He ought to be good—he had the most black marks of any of last year's pledges. Maybe he'll know how the pledges feel.

Found an extra "Dinosaur" skeleton lying around. What's the matter Vern? Just can't keep track of those little items, can you?

There's been a gay time around the old school this week, with sorority and fraternity pledging. If you want any errands run, just find someone sporting a pin or placard!

Well, as Bugs Bunny would say—"That's all, Folks!"

STUDENTS FROM VARIOUS LANDS STUDY AND PLAY AT STOUT. FIND IT FRIENDLY AND GENEROUS

This year as in previous ones, Stout college is host to visitors from many lands. Thailand, Nigeria, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, and Pakistan are among the countries represented this year.

Pedro Almaciano, from Vigan, Ilocos Sur, Philippines, has studied at the Philippine School of Arts and Trades in Manila and the Colegio de la Inmaculada Concepcion in Vigan, Ilocos Sur. When asked what his impressions of Stout were so far he replied, "Reading from the prospectus of the college, I have come to know that this college had started training teachers for vocational, industrial, and home economics education since 1893. This goes to show that it has engaged in this field of education for the last 62 years. With this length of time, I come to conclude that this institution has established its prestige in the field of training able men and women, physically and mentally to become vocational, industrial and home economics teachers who have gone and who will go to the field bravely preaching the "dignity of labor" which made the United States what it is today. I further conclude that it is the best school in the U.S. for this kind of training because Dr. R. H. Greenebaum, our program officer in the Office of Education, Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare had chosen this school for us to specialize in machine woodworking, although, originally, I was supposed to go to the Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, New York. This change was made because he thought finally that I can get the most benefit out of my training in this institution.

Speaking of the school in general, I wish to give my general impression that everybody is very accomodating and helpful. I find myself at home with this kind of atmosphere."

Mr. Almaciano was picked by the Philippine Government to represent the country and to participate in the technical Cooperation Program. This program is sponsored by the United States Government.

When asked what he did in his spare time he said, "I just want to spend my leisure time while I am at Stout playing ping-pong, although I do not play very well, and also, I like to play tennis."

A previous student of Adamson university, Mr. Victor E. Blacer from Manila, states that Stout "is excellent." Mr. Blacer came to Stout through the FOA-Philcusa Aid Type A. He plans to enter audio-visual work and spends his spare time on the campus with his hobbies, woodturning and photography. He is a senior student.

Marcelino Galaraga, principal of a trade school in the Philippines, has attended the Philippine School of Arts and Trades, General Institute of Technology, La Unione Christian college, and Burgos college.

Mr. Galaraga states that, "The school authorities have been very helpful in pointing out the courses which we would take especially in line with our line of specialization. They have unselfishly connected us to various community activities to enrich our experiences in our trade. People are very sympathetic, generous, cordial, friendly, and accomodating."

Also a ping-pong and tennis enthusiast, Mr. Galaraga likes to fish and hunt.

Mr. Teofilo A. Sison, Manila, states that Stout is "a fine college which offers industrial and vocational opportunities for young men and women. The Stout state college is a well-known institution in our country. No wonder that our vocational educators speak highly of this institution especially in the field of trade and industrial training. Most of our vocational administrators who are now holding important jobs in our Bureau of Public Schools took courses in this college a few years ago. The administration, members of the faculty and the student body are very accomodating."

Mr. Sison's hobbies include playing the violin, swimming, horseback riding and ping pong. He would like to take part in the college band, school social organizations, and Boy Scouting. He would also like to get better acquainted with some American families and students.

CLUB NEWS

The pledging committee of Phi Sigma Epsilon is now hard at work making final preparations for hell week. Because Tower pictures were being taken on Thursday, the Phi Sigs held their regular meeting on Tuesday, October 4, in the clubroom. Most of the business concerned pledging, and the various committees are all busy getting ready for the "big week."

Plans are in order for a Homecoming Dinner to be held before the homecoming dance, at the Colonial Pines. All Phi Sigs and alumni are invited to attend, and, if possible, to contact Don Hagen in advance.

Thursday night the Phi Sigs had 100 per cent representation for their Tower picture, and Saturday they went to Eau Claire en-masse for the football game.

Here's a tip! Be on the lookout for something new and interesting about the time homecoming arrives. The Phi Sigs have a surprise in store for all Stout students that might be well worth waiting for.

"Life in Madagascar" was the theme of the talk given by Martin Braaten at the L.S.A. meeting on Sunday, October 9, at Peace Lutheran.

Mr. Braaten, son of missionary parents, talked on the customs of the people, their religious rites and marriage laws. Most of the people are still very crude and primitive. He said there is much work for the missionaries to do in Madagascar. Mr. Braaten is planning to become a missionary and teacher to do work in Africa.

On October 22 at Our Saviors, the L.S.A. is holding an alumni coffee hour after the Homecoming Game.

Stout's Ski Club is now in progress and holds forth for a year a fine season of rollicking activities.

The skiers have started their very busy year with the election of officers which include: Herb Riebee, Pres; Herb Pringle, Vice pres; Barbara Premo, Sec.; Lenora Handy, Treas.; Mary Tickler, Stoutonia reporter; and Jim Garring, Parliamentarian.

Deepwood, the ski area, has some added attractions which include a new run. In order that the area is in shape the skiers and "snow-bunnies" will help on week ends in exchange for tow tickets (when the snow flies and the pockets are empty).

If you are interested in skiing attend the next meeting and meet all your fellow worshippers of snow and broken bones.

Any Christian or anyone wishing to learn about Christianity is invited to attend Stout Christian Fellowship. You need not belong to a church or a denomination.

Weekly meeting time is every Tuesday evening from seven until eight in Room 10, in the library basement. It is a time of fellowship, study, and discussion. If you are at all interested please come.

The Hyperian sorority held their annual fall rushing party under the "Big Top" (Harvey lounge) recently. The room was decorated as a circus complete with side shows and a fortune teller.

The party came to a close with a typical circus lunch of pop, peanuts, and ice cream cones.

The Stout Snooper

As you all know, convocation is "really" packed this year; why, there is not even one bare seat on the first floor or in the balcony left for me. Lately I've been watching the convos from my private perch on the ceiling. While up there, I got to wondering just why, how, and when the beautiful painting of the lake received its place of honor here at Stout.

And so I snooped. The snooping led me from one dead end to another, but finally I got ahead. This lead took me through the tunnel to the basement of Bowman Hall where I met the possessor of this knowledge.

First, I asked about the paintings in the auditorium, Harvey Hall, and the library. The one of Lake Menomin is painted on the ceiling in the auditorium; it is a scene painted as if standing high on 7th street looking north-west over the lake. When the artist, Cal Peters, painted this picture, the workmen first built a large scaffold filling the entire auditorium (other painters were redecorating it) using 520, 2x8-20's! The artist then stood either on the scaffold or on balancing step-ladders and painted the picture using an original miniature sketch as a guide. I wish I would have been a Snooper then.

Then I flew to the main entrance in Harvey Hall and perched myself on one of the pillars and studied the "Industry, Skill, and Honor" mural. The following is the artist's own explanation. "Young men and women come from all parts of the country to gain knowledge of the industrial and domestic arts, and to their choice of vocation strive for skill and honors which are held forth by the central figure. About her are arranged the products of industry and science. Below the mural is the inscription, 'For the promotion of industry, skill, and honor.' Yes, this explanation was kept all of these years.

After carefully inspecting and appreciating each figure in this mural, I flew down to the library. There I viewed the painting, Perrault's Trading Post, which is hanging on the east wall in the reading room. The artist's explanation of this scene is, "In the spring of 1785 Jean Baptiste Parrault, a French Canadian trader, was made a member of the British General Co. of Lake Superior and the south. He was sent up the Red Cedar River to trade with the Indians. At the mouth of Wilson Creek, he built a post and remained there until the spring of 1788.

The scene shows two company men guarding against any possible trickery from the newly arrived Indians, who eventually are bringing in their seasons' catch of fur. To the left can be seen the tepees of some visiting In-

PLAY CAST HAS BEEN SELECTED

It all began last Wednesday and Thursday night in the Stout auditorium! Here was the scene of many dramatic enthusiasts gathering for tryouts in the new M.A.P. play "Gramercy Ghost."

Those who were selected for actors and actresses are the following: Actors: Eddie Birch, Gene Ender, Brian Kirby, Clarence Fehlhaber, Douglas Dorner, and Don Pritchard. Actresses: Ruth O'Brien, Barbara Bender, Fran Karacker, Audrey Adams, Bette Zander, Carol Smith, Judy Goehring, and Ellen Steinhoff.

Stout's congratulations go with you, along with all those long hours of practice.

dians; a squaw is preparing a meal over a fire."

A 4th painting that is a Stout possession is in storage, but plans are now being completed which will bring this picture into public view. It is the picture of French trappers on the Red Cedar.

All of the frames were specially constructed here at Stout.

Now for the outcome of my snooping about the artist. I previously mentioned that his name was "Cal" Peters. He and his family came to Menomonie "around" 1936 being associated with the WPA. He had been working at a construction project in Medford, but asked to come to Menomonie to paint. His studio was in Room 29 in the basement of Harvey Hall and all the frames were made in the Stout shop. He painted many pictures while here. The pictures at Stout are the outcomes of his interpretations of studying local history.

The artist was small, easy-going, and everyone's friend, but most of all, he was a "true" artist. Here in Menomonie, he also did some WPA painting for Madison and an ocean scene which was hung in Washington D.C. After leaving the WPA and Menomonie, he traveled to Prairie du Chien working in the city's museums. His present position is not known, but it is probable that he is still in California where he was last heard of as a very successful artist.

And so now, whenever I attend convo, if I can't see the program from my perch, I can at least view and appreciate the painting done by Cal Peters. I hope you will think of him too; at least whenever viewing the "old" Menomonie scenes.

WONDERFUL SUMMER ENJOYED BY DAIRY QUEEN BETTY HAVLIK FROM VERNON COUNTY

Vernon County Dairy Day on June 18 will long be remembered by Betty Havlik, sophomore from Hillsboro, who was crowned Dairy Queen of Vernon County on this occasion. Betty was given her official title by the Dairy Promotion committee of her county.

Dairy Day was just the beginning of a summer filled with activities for Betty who can never seem to find enough of them. In July, she attended the County 4-H picnic and served as official hostess for 90 guests who were on their way to the Black Hills. This trip was arranged by the county extension service in their own state of North Carolina.

Attending the 50th Anniversary of Chaseburg Cooperative Creamery and three days of State Fair were scheduled for Betty in August. Betty helped in the Dairy Building with Stout's contribution to the line of "Alice's," Barb Brown. State Fair was not a new activity for Betty who attended it as state secretary of Future Homemakers of America in 1952 and as state president of that organization one year later.

Betty was crowned a second time in September as Queen of the Hillsboro Labor Day celebration. She rode on the Carnation company float which received a first as the most beautiful float in the parade. La Crosse's dedication of the Mary F. Sawyer auditorium later in the month found her participating in another parade.

A free trip to National Dairy Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa, was one of the prizes Betty was unable to accept, although she "hopes to go sometime because of the interesting experience it would be." She proudly displays many other gifts including an Elgin watch and a necklace and ear-ring set.

Helping at the Dairy Promotion stand giving ice cream bars to grade school children, awarding ribbons in dairy cattle judging, and being interviewed on radio station WKLT, Sparta, Tomah, were activities at the county fair on September 23-25.

Although Betty's reign isn't over until next June when she crowns the new queen, she considers "the past months very worthwhile." She says, "I was very happy and surprised to be chosen as Vernon county's representative in the promotion of dairy products. This has been a very enjoyable experience and I've learned how essential dairy products are to people of all ages."

Many organizations here at Stout have claimed a part of Betty's time. She is a member of Symphonie Singers, Newman Club, Home Ec. Club, and Stoutonia staff. Last year she was heroine in the spring play, "A Fate Worse Than Death."

INTERESTING, WORTHWHILE CLUB FOR MEN

Arts and Crafts is the club which gives men students on campus an appreciation of developing interesting hobbies—worthwhile and/or pastime hobbies. This usually includes crafts that can be done in the shop, for example: plastics, leatherwork, and woodwork. The club furnishes the supplies and these are paid for by the members.

This club is composed of about thirty-five members at present, with Mr. Krantzsch as club advisor. Anyone interested is urged to contact a member as new candidates for membership will be elected soon.

Arts and Crafts is now selling a homecoming button as a souvenir from Stout state. These buttons are in sale in the corridor of Harvey Hall. Have you bought one yet??

RIFLE CLUB PLANS 22 POSTAL MATCHES

Plans for 22 postal rifle matches this year have been made by the Stout state rifle club. Selling new decals and placing "The American Rifleman" in the library have been other projects this year.

Postal rifle matches will start on October 24, with one or two taking place each week until the middle of March. These matches will be with all the leading colleges of the United States including Ohio state, Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota, Iowa state, Coe college, and Superior State teachers college. Last year, only six matches were held.

The new decal will be the college seal, four inches in diameter on a blue background with white letters. Plans are being made for having them on sale by October 17 in Harvey Hall. Old decals of The Stout Institute will also be available.

The magazine "The American Rifleman" has been placed in the library for all students to read. It not only has news on shooting and hunting, but also has information on the safe use of firearms, a program for hunter safety and legislative information.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

Steaming hot barbeques in home-made buns and movies of Europe, highlighted the meeting of the Canterbury club at the home of Vera Dale, Sunday, October 9th.

The Canterbury club, Episcopal student group, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dale at Oak Lawn Farms for their third meeting of the school year. Members of the church helped serve the meal.

Mike Manogian pointed out spots of interest on his travels of Europe as he showed 8 mm colored movies of France, Belgium, and Switzerland. Mike was stationed in Paris with the Army. Committees were appointed and a tentative date was set for a joint meeting with the Eau Claire Canterbury club. Cynthia Sutter, president of the Stout organization is handling negotiations with the Eau Claire group to arrive at an agreeable date.

The tentative date and meeting place is November 7th at the church basement.

A hayride high-lighted the evening for all members and friends of the Wesley club on Sunday evening, October 9.

Immediately after dinner about fifty young people piled aboard the three straw-covered wagons. After about an hour's journey the wagons turned homeward. Hot cocoa and cookies were served to the group on their return.

Committee chairmen for the coming year of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity were assigned last Thursday in Room 9 at the library. Chairmen and their respective committees are as follows: Activities, Herb Brodt and Vern Christianson; Alumni, Darrel Premo; Education, Culture, and Scholarship, Ed Griffith; Pledging, Jim Warnecke; Printing, Jim Kogler; Newsletter, Henry Moerschel; Social, Bill Erpenbach; Finance, Carl Spinti; Decorations, John Rosewitz.

Interesting discussions on the topics of "Christianity Versus Communism" and "Life on Madagascara" were the highlights of L.S.A. meetings on October second and ninth. Mr. Harold Popp and Martin Mrazten conducted these discussions which emphasized L.S.A.'s responsibilities toward foreign missions. Committees serving the coat suppers were led by Mary Kay and Lois Onarud.

Plans for the future consist of an Alumni Coffee Hour at Our Saviors after the homecoming game and color slides of France, Salzburg and Switzerland at the October 23rd meeting.

DISCUSSED AT BOARD MEETING

At the recent Governing Board meeting the following was discussed:
1. A recommendation was passed that the Tower staff schedule its pictures earlier than usual, so senior students who will begin their off-campus teaching, will be able to be in the organization pictures.

2. Members on the Talent Show committee continue their work, and set up a show for this spring.

3. A franchise was granted to the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity at the last meeting, stating that this fraternity could sell the Stout state college seal to be used on clothing. At this meeting, the franchise was changed to read that the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity could sell other garments, such as jackets, sweatshirts, and T-shirts, with the Stout state seal or inscription on them. The franchise was granted. As with all other franchises, it was granted on a yearly basis, subject to amendment or revision.

4. The Stout state college seal was re-drawn by Dick Kadatoni, and the Governing Board voted to pay him for his services.

The Open Governing Board meeting held on the stage October 5, brought forth a number of new ideas, among them:

1. A bus was scheduled to take students to the Eau Claire game. A poster was put up, and interested persons were asked to sign it.

2. Organization schedules are now on the radiators in Harvey Hall. All students are encouraged to take one.

3. Since the auditorium is too small for the students at school, the following suggestions were made and recommended to the committee working on that problem:

a. have two assembly programs, at different hours.

b. set up a closed TV circuit.

c. conduct assemblies in the high school gymnasium.

d. exempt juniors and seniors.

e. alternate required convocations between the freshman and sophomore classes and the junior and senior classes.

4. The difficulties of allowing students to draw out library books on Friday afternoon was brought up, and referred to the library committee.

5. Stuffing mailboxes with too much literature was also mentioned, and it was decided that there could be no limit set on what type of literature was to be allowed in mailboxes.

6. Co-operative houses, and sorority and fraternity houses were mentioned, and it was decided to set up a committee to investigate the possibility of having these houses on campus. It was also mentioned that there should be available to students a written statement of campus policies concerning such houses.

7. A committee was set up to improve the looks of the ride and riders wanted bulletin board.

NOTE OF CORRECTION

The following note was received from Clyde A. Bowman. We print it with pleasure. Editor.

"This morning I received my September 30th Stoutonia. In the article on the front page relative to the designing of the new Stout seal by Dick Kadatoni I note that I am credited with the designing of the old seal. I think you had better run a correction on this next issue. When I was a student in Stout in 1905 Bill Spaulding made the drawing for the old seal and if I remember correctly he designed it. I think Bill Spaulding is still on the staff of the San Jose state college, San Jose, California."

SENIORS LEARN F.H.A. ACTIVITIES

The senior Education Methods class recently heard a panel discussion on the Future Homemakers of America. Four past state officers of the F.H.A. spoke to the group on creed, motto, purposes colors, and goals of the organization. Since senior women will soon be practicing teaching, one of their duties will be advising local F.H.A. chapters in the high schools. In this capacity they will be planning programs and advising girls with demonstrations, banquets, style reviews, degree work, and the carrying out of the state and national goals. Jo Wagner, Jermaine Folkman, Barbara Nuttleman, and Joan Schaffner outlined a probable F.H.A. program of work and explained the advisors' duties in the chapter. The senior girls will soon be working with the homemaking instructors in the various high schools, guiding the activities of the future homemakers.

FALL CONCERT TO BE GIVEN NOVEMBER 2

Choir, concert band, solos and ensembles, and Symphonie Singers will be featured at the annual fall concert on Wednesday, November 2 at 8 p.m. The concert band numbers 75 with 110 in Symphonies.

NOTICE

Pictures for the Tower will be taken Tuesday, October 25th in the Stout auditorium, beginning at 8:00 with office secretaries; at 8:10 janitors will have their pictures taken. Synchronized Swimming picture will be taken at 8:15. Class pictures will begin with freshmen at 8:20, sophomores at 9:15, and juniors at 10:10. Class pictures will be taken alphabetically as much as possible. If your name begins with the beginning letters of the alphabet, be at the auditorium when first scheduled.

WELCOME TO ALL ALUMNI

Hello Alumni and Welcome Home! Not only do we welcome those who have come back physically, but also those who are far away and cannot be here but are with us in thought. Yes, welcome home to all alumni.

Stout state college is your home. The name may have been changed but the happiness and friendly activity which you experienced here still remain unchanged.

In planning our 1955 Homecoming we have kept you in mind. We are trying to recreate the scene as you last saw it when you were on campus, 15, 20, even 30 years ago. This scene is to take place in four familiar acts, the bonfire, the parade, the game, and the dance interspersed with numerous curtain calls of pleasant memories, old acquaintances, and just a jolly good time for everyone. Yes, our Homecoming is planned for you, but we are awaiting it just as anxiously as you, for we welcome you back as joyously as you are happy to be here.

We look proudly to you, the alumni, for you have already trod the professional paths which are ever coming closer to our fingertips. We honor you, we are proud of you, and we bid you welcome.

Joe: "I got up at dawn today to see the sun rise."

Moe: "Well, you couldn't have picked a better time."

"Yes, so I heard. Is he going to give it a home?"

"Sure, as soon as she sobers up."

Because Margaret has recently accepted a position in Springfield, Missouri, a successor is being appointed and will be announced at our first meeting. Your support in most welcome in boosting our local membership, so make arrangements now to attend the first business-social meeting next month. Here are the details:

Date and time: November 19 at 7 p.m.

Place: Harding's Colonial Room, 21 S. Wabash

Reservations: Contact the chapter secretary before November 10 for further information.

Rewards: An evening of relaxation with colored slides of last summer's picnic.

We hope you will be able to attend the dinner and meet many former Stouters.

PEP ASSEMBLY HELD WEDNESDAY MORNING

Wednesday's pep assembly went the way of all pep assemblies as far as the accumulation of a lot of noises (cheers) were concerned, but the unexpected return of the Destine troop to perform another of their thrilling dance programs topped the bill as the greatest attraction.

Basil Holder and Steve Butz, who seem to show great interest in the art of dancing, were responsible for bringing Destine back to Stout.

Fred Hodges led the cheering and Gordon Maves, SSA president gave a rundown on the coming weekend events. The presidents of each class told about the duties that their classes had in the preparations for homecoming.

Fred introduced Jack Wink, as "the best dressed coach in the league." Coach Wink gave a pre-game rundown on the team and the chances of winning.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB ACTIVE ON CAMPUS

Arts and Crafts is the club which gives men students on campus an appreciation of developing interesting hobbies—worthwhile and/or pastime hobbies. This usually includes crafts that can be done in the shop, for example, plastics, leatherwork, and woodwork. The club furnishes the supplies and these are paid for by the members.

This club is composed of about thirty-five members at present, with Mr. Kraus as club adviser. Anyone interested is urged to contact a member as new candidates for membership will be elected soon.

Arts and Crafts is now selling a Homecoming button as a souvenir from Stout state. These buttons are on sale in the corridor of Harvey Hall. Have you bought one yet?

STOUT PLAYS PLATTEVILLE SATURDAY

Tomorrow afternoon Stout takes on Platteville in their annual homecoming football game. The game time is 2:30 p.m. at Nelson Field.

Last weekend Platteville trounced Oshkosh 44-14 in a run-away game. River Falls beat Stout 27-12 last week end to deprive Stout of their first conference win. Although Stout has not made an impressive record this season they have tried hard and will be trying hard tomorrow for their first victory. Tomorrow, being Homecoming, the team will be out to make a perfect Homecoming with a victory over Platteville.

COACH'S COLUMN

by Coach Wink

Saturday evening, Stout played host to River Falls and was beaten by a fair football team, with an excellent mental attitude, 27 to 12.

This week Saturday, we celebrate our annual Homecoming game against always dangerous Platteville state. Platteville, thus far, has a two win, two loss conference record, losing both games by one point. Their season record is three wins and two losses. Last year's game found Platteville winning 19 to 14, and indications point towards the same kind of a thriller this year.

DR. FLEMING TO SPEAK TO GRADUATE MEN

The Graduate Men's club extends an invitation to all faculty members and seniors to hear Dr. Fleming speak on "Publication of Articles." The lecture will be held Wednesday, October 26, at 7 p.m. in the audio-visual room in the library.

Many good-looking girls don't know the score. By the time they know the score, they're no longer good-looking.

COACH WINK AND HIS ASSISTANTS

STUDENT CONCEPTS OF HOMECOMING VARY

Student anticipations of Homecoming differ widely ranging from "beating Platteville" to "expecting a baby."

In response to "What does homecoming mean to you?" students' answers showed consistency only on football and returning alumni.

Other interesting ideas of homecoming were:

Senior—"Freshmen borrowing any flammable objects."

Sig Tau—"Taffy apples."

Veteran—"Taksan Saki."

Cheerleader—"Time when everybody should have a real ball."

"The climax of the spirit of the football season."

"A good time for off campus practice teachers to come back if they only could."

"A time for grads to renew ties with the alma mater and old friends."

Please don't ask me what I'm doing tonight; first tell me what you have in mind.

OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD AT EICH- ANNEX AND HALL

As a traditional part of all homecoming events, open house will again be held in the girls' dormitories from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon, October 23. A coffee hour at Eichberger Hall is being planned by the girls under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Sims.

LYCEUM FEATURED JEAN LEON DESTINE, HAITIAN DRUMMERS, AND CREOLE DANCERS

Stout auditorium became a vivid corner of Haiti for a few hours recently when Jean Leon Destine and his group presented the first lyceum. He was accompanied by two vibrant Haitian drummers and two lovely creole dancers.

Possibly the most spectacular dance was that of the "Witch Doctor," a voodoo dance in which the voodoo priest called upon the gods to give him the power to restore health to his patient.

Another exciting dance was the "Slave Dance." As one listened to the rhythmic beat of native drums, one's imagination went back to the day when Africans were forcibly torn from their homeland and became slaves in a new land. The dance began with an invocation to the gods in which the slave told of his sorrow.

Lighting played an important role in the "Spider Dance." Several shadows of Destine were seen on the stage at a time and the shadows gave the dance an eerie effect. Other dances included the flirtatious, "Congo Tropical," Martique, a creole dance marked by French influence and eighteenth century costumes and "Initiation of the Hounsai," which showed a novice being initiated into the voodoo cult.

Basil Holder and an unidentified River Falls player collide as they attempt to catch a pass during the Stout - River Falls game last Saturday evening. River Falls defeated the Stout Blue Devils.

DEVILS LOSE TO RIVER FALLS BY SCORE OF 27-12

Saturday night River Falls downed the Blue Devils 27-12. The game held excitement for the small number of spectators that were on hand.

Through the first half the game was played on an even keel, with the half ending at 12-12.

In the second half the River Falls team over ran the Devils scoring two more touchdowns, and a 4th quarter touch-back. Rufus Ihde and Manue Ribiero scored for the Devils and Steffen led the scoring for River Falls.

Ted: "I saw something last night I'll never get over."

Ned: "What was it?"

Ted: "The moon."

STUDENT LETTER

Dear Students,
I compliment you, the student body and organizations, on the very successful Homecoming Queen campaign. There was a good choice of queen candidates this year, and that may be why the campaign was so good.
I would like to remind the students of the rules on campaigns. There is a list of rules available from the SSA office that all students are welcome to get. Last year for the SSA campaign the rules were followed very well, but already this fall some of the rules were violated. One in particular was the use of masking tape. If the rules are not followed, we the student body, may lose the privilege of having any campaign at all. To all people backing their candidate it may be a good idea not to throw confetti or other slips of paper in the auditorium. It is next to impossible to sweep up the bits from around the seats. Some people even defaced some campaign posters this year. If defacing ever gets started it will ruin the whole spirit of campaigning. The next time any of us put up a candidate for any office let us all remember the rules and have fun campaigning but not lose the privilege.

The Stout Snooper

The last two weeks were something new and special to about 60 Stout students; yes, pledging weeks have now passed. By now all have been initiated and at regular members.

Preceding the initiation the sororities sponsored rushing parties with clever themes. The four frats had rushing parties, too, but I have noticed that these "jolly" parties vary in many ways from the girls' social gatherings!

After the rushing parties, the girls had a silence period which was not 100% observed; then the interested girls signed for sorority preferences. As the invitations arrived in the mail, or were delivered, I saw many smiling faces, proud and beaming!

Then came pledge week. For the girls, polishing shoes, decorating Homecoming floats, carrying books, and opening doors for members were some of their pledging tasks. The fellows had hikes "back" to Menomonie, guarding of the doors of Harvey, cheerleading at the Homecoming football game, "sirs and scums," feeding dolls bottles during classes, etc.

The climax of this pledging was formal initiation. I have snooped into the future and have discovered new friendships, co-operative campaigning and serenading, "fun" parties, eventful meetings and many other wonderful moments for the new members.

But during my snooping in the past two weeks, my telescope eyes came to rest upon another figure on the Stout campus, the girl or fellow "who didn't make it."

Well, "kids," cheer up, don't give sympathy to yourself. It'll just be wasted; instead grin and bear it, but try again next semester or next year. Don't find fault; find a remedy! Anybody can complain. Enter cheerfully into other Stout activities, go to all of the mixers, volunteer for committees, visit your friends, and study just as hard.

As the Stout Snooper, I know it won't pay to be too sad or disappointed because ALL Stout students are everyone else's pal. Membership in a fraternity or sorority does not limit your friendship!

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Students, the beginning of the end is here! Yes, today marks the end of your first quarter of school for the year 1955-56. Are you glad, or do you have regrets?

In the past nine weeks, we have had a chance to become well acquainted with a new group of subjects, teachers, and classmates. If our time was well spent, neither our grades nor our friendships and activities should be suffering. A balance like this should and must be achieved in order to make a happy and successful college career. Perhaps we need to look back on these past few weeks to our gains and losses to do some re-evaluating.

Have we given our teachers a fair chance to instruct us and have we respected their authority and knowledge? Have we missed a chance to develop our social etiquette and ideals by not taking part in any school organization, activity or function at all? And last, but not least, have any of our studies suffered, as a result of letting extracurricular functions interfere with our scholastic work?

We can't say our past mistakes are "water under the bridge," but we can chalk them up as a learning experience. Learning from mistakes is an important part of our education.

Many Stout students have found their good start for the year. All that can be said to them is keep up the good work!

Let's look over our present status as a student, evaluate it, and improve it, if possible. For some, this next nine weeks might be the end of a good beginning but there's no reason why it shouldn't be the end of a bad beginning, if the case is such, and the beginning of a really good end.

How about it? Are you with me?

I SHALL NOT PASS

Psychology is my weakness
I shall not pass.
It maketh me to stay home nights
And he shall anoint my head.
It leadeth me into the room
For Dr. Salyer's sake.
Yea, tho I walk through the Corridor from his class
I shall not be happy.
His theories and hypotheses.
They torment me.
He shall prepare a place for Me in the corner,
And he shall anoint my head
With a dunce cap.
My head, it is empty.
Surely D's and F's shall Follow me all the days of my life
And I shall dwell in
Dr. Salyer's class forever.

Last Sunday's Gamma Delta picnic at the lakeshore home of Mr. and Mrs. Siefert was postponed to October 30. Members will meet at Tainter Annex or St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 2:30 p.m. Transportation will be provided.

A Homecoming Record

Faces are the base for the 1955 Homecoming bonfire at the fairgrounds after the coronation Friday evening. The bonfire, which is a freshman project, was started at 6:00 a.m. Friday, and proved to be one of the "biggest" bonfires.

The 1955 Stout state college homecoming came successfully to a close Sunday afternoon when the last event of the weekend, open house at the girls' dormitories, was held.

Events started two weeks ago when Ginny Ehlers was chosen by the students at assembly as Homecoming queen. Jane Gargulak was chosen Football princess, and the two attendants were Joni Morneau and Edie Shaw.

A pep assembly was held last Wednesday to get the students into a Homecoming spirit. Throughout the week organizations sold decals, buttons, pennants, mums, and balloons.

On Friday evening, the queen's coronation took place in the auditorium. Queen Ginny was crowned by Mary Paciotti, 1954 Homecoming queen. Jane Gargulak presented Leo Janis, the football team representative, with the football which was used in the homecoming game.

After the alma mater was sung, everyone joined in the torchlight parade, which was headed by band representatives and pledges, and marched to the fairgrounds. The bonfire was lit, cheers were led, the queen and her court were presented, several former SSA presidents were introduced, and the band played several marches.

A snake-dance led by the cheerleaders, returned the students to the gym. Cider and doughnuts were served, and Ed Clary's Bluenotes provided the dancing music. Many alumni and former students were at the mixer.

Saturday morning many organizations put the last minute touches on floats in preparation for the parade that was held Saturday afternoon preceding the game. The Stout band led the parade which included many floats and visiting bands.

The Stout-Platteville game was held at 2:30 p.m. at Nelson Field. Stout was closely defeated by a score of 13 to 12.

At halftime the winning floats were announced. The Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority won in the most beautiful division, the junior class won in keeping with the theme, and the FOB fraternity won the prize for most humorous.

Bob Leighton's orchestra furnished a musical atmosphere in "Devil's Den" the 1955 Homecoming dance. Queen Ginny and her court were again presented and the grand march took place.

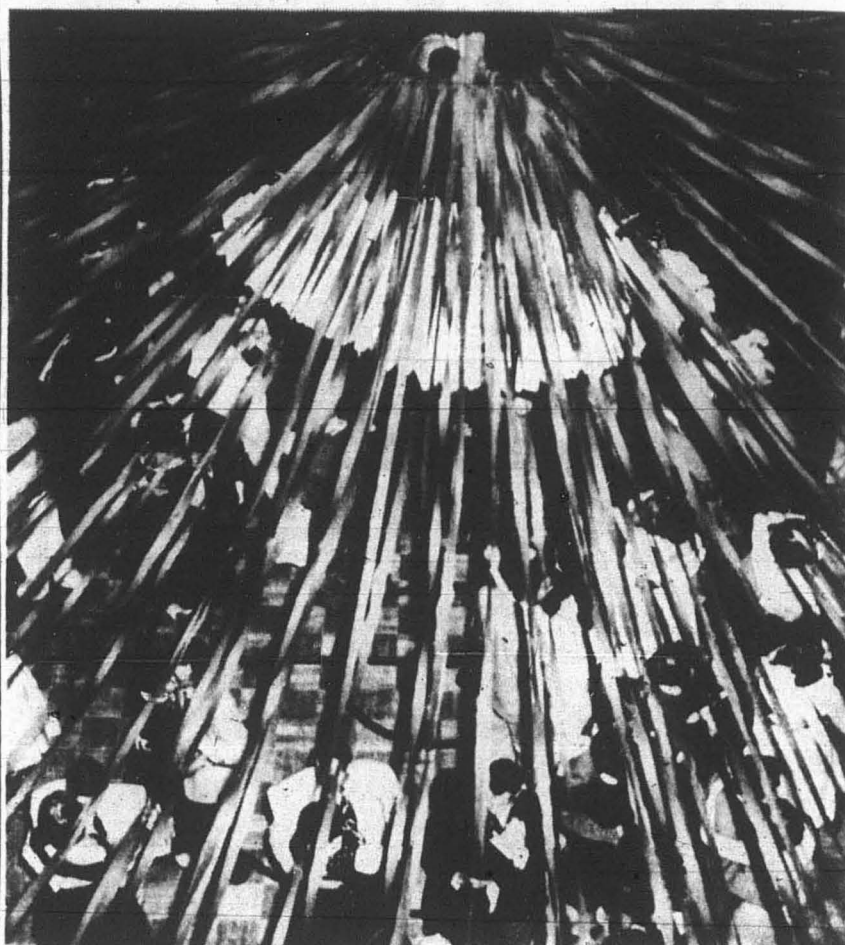

Open House at the girl's dorms was held Sunday afternoon. Tea was served at Eichelberger Hall for all the guests.

PLEDGES SERVE, GUESTS ENJOY QUEEN'S TEA

A successful sidelight of this year's homecoming was the Queen's Tea given October 26 in honor of Queen Ginny Ehlers, and her attendants, Edie Shaw and Joan Morneau, and Jane Gargulak, football princess.

The many students and faculty attending this tea, were greeted at the door by these lovely ladies. The fellows are especially to be congratulated on their fine showing at this tea.

Punch and brownies were served to all by the new pledges of all the sororities.

Bob Leighton's orchestra furnished the Homecoming dance music for many Stout and alumni dancers. Red crepe paper streamers forming a false ceiling provided part of the decoration for the dance that was held in the high school gym from 8:30 to 12:30.

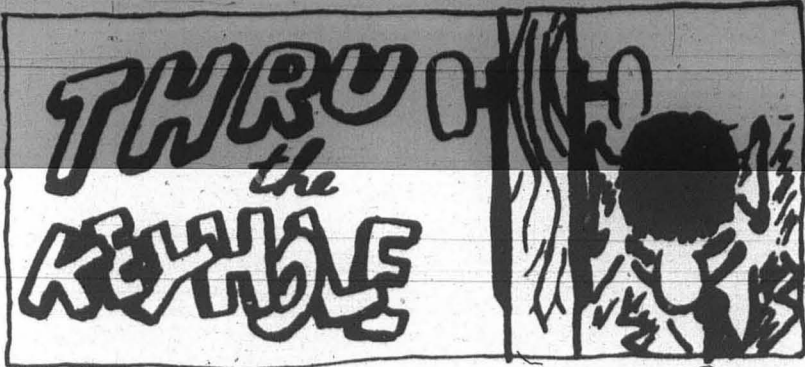

"I crown thee 1955 Homecoming queen of Stout state college." Mary Paciotti, 1954 queen, crowned Ginny Ehlers as queen during the coronation ceremonies last Friday evening.

The Sig Tau Float featured a burning tree with a stuffed dummy on top representing Platteville. This was one of the many floats in the parade.

Queen Ginny Ehlers, her court and attendants are shown here on the stage in the Stout auditorium prior to the torchlight parade to the fair grounds, where the bonfire was lit.

We keyholers really had a hard job this week. If the rest of you had a little sleep as we did, you'd know why we fell asleep looking through those little crevices in the doors. Well, we'll have a whole year to recuperate before the next Homecoming. It's rather considerate of the administration to place the dates so far apart!

Leo Janis looked more and more like the ideal papa at the coronation on Friday, helping the children off and on the stage. He did a terrific job at the game Saturday, as did the other players, and we saw quite a few battle scars to prove they played their hardest and best.

The freshmen did an outstanding job, building the bonfire in just one day. Also thought the trimmings were quite "unusual" to say the least about the mostest.

Noticed lots of familiar faces in lots of familiar haunts. Oh, and lest we forget, "Welcome back, Zilch!" How many of you know who Zilch is? Ask one of the DK's - he's their best friend. Rather hard to find at times but he's just as real as Harvey.

What were all you upper classmen doing around 6:00 Saturday morning? We saw you at all the lumber yards in town, all trying your best to win the float contest. Couldn't you have picked a better hour to work? We were so tired from spying the night before that we hardly woke up in time to watch you. It's a good thing coffee's cheap. Too bad you didn't pass around toothpicks to help our eyes stay open.

Information to coming SSA presidents! You can always be sure of one past president to speak at the bonfire. Yep, Warren will be there!

We heard all the sorority and fraternity homecoming get-togethers went well. There were more alumni back this year than ever before, so the places were jammed. Wish more of you could have come - heard this was the best Homecoming Stout ever had.

Pennants, mums, balloons, and buttons have disappeared for another year. Homecoming was great, but now let's catch up on our sleep. Ho-hum, this bed never felt better. Wish we didn't have to catch up on our studying too, though.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

This past week closed upon a most satisfying homecoming campaign for Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Besides participation in the queen campaign, float and house decorations, and alumni welcome, A.S.A. this year sold real mums, an idea which "caught on" very well with students, faculty, and alumni alike.

At the annual alumni breakfast held Saturday morning the group was very happy to have with them Mrs. Edna Schanoff, one of the founders of S.M.A., which in 1952 became Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Mrs. Schanoff told how S.M.A. originated, how its name was picked and for what the letters stand as well as something about its early days.

Pallas Athene homecoming dinner was held at the Anchor Cafe on Saturday, October 22, 6:30 p.m. The thirteen new pledges were introduced, and they sang the songs they had written. The following alumnae attended the dinner: Dorothy Gargulak, Joan Fritz, Delores Saucy, Diane Klemme Christiansen, Barbara Clemons, Virginia Lathrop, Ann Switzenberg, Jan Benedict Fritz, Carole Tickler, Avis Wall-esverd, Mary Detlor, Mary Lou Brown, Doris Beyer, Iris Ruf, Lucille Gran-rose, Gerry Benaiz, and Mary Ann Rokurek.

Uncle Toby: "Engaged to five girls at once! How do you explain such shameless conduct?"

Nephew: "I don't know. Cupid must have shot me with a machine gun."

ALUMNI ATTEND PHI SIG PRE-DANCE DINNER

More than 20 alumni were present at the pre-dance dinner held at the Colonial Pines by Phi Sigma Epsilon last Saturday, October 22. In addition to a wonderful meal, the Phi Sigs were entertained by their pledges, Bill Broadwell, Loren Johnson, Tom Kukar, Ray Pearson, and John Schellin. One of the high points of the evening was the singing of "The Preacher and the Bear" by alumnus Ralph Betterley. All older Stout students and alumni no doubt remember Ralph and this song.

The Phi Sigs were glad to see Jim Berray at this dinner. Jim is in the hospital at Woodruff recovering from an accident which befell him two weeks ago. Jim expects to be back at Stout very shortly.

Following a short business meeting on Thursday, October 20, the Phi Sigs issued straw hats, canes, and pledge pins to their pledges. The Phi Sigs were happy to see these pledges at the front of the torchlight parade Friday night. After enjoying a day of rest Sunday, the pledges held a little scavenger hunt Monday, October 24, and the following night they "enjoyed" a short hike.

DORM NEWS

After "slaving away" all week at school the freshman girls really go "all out on weekends. Bicycle riding is good exercise and supplements the workout given in body building class. Six "out-door type" girls went for a hike to Wakanda Park last Saturday. Many of the girls also plan picnics and "hunting excursions" for the weekend.

Among the homecoming queen candidate posters in the dorm is one saying, "She's engaged, she's lovely, she uses Lux." The lucky girl in this makeshift advertisement is Joan Schaffner, Fountain City, who since last Friday, is sporting a diamond and an extra special smile. Congratulations, Joanie!

Michael Ochuba was selected to conduct the prayer service and Sam Buch-alain, Helen H. Russell, and Peggy Douglas were chosen to plan entertainment for the joint meeting.

On Friday, the alarms rang early at Lynwood. Yes, that was the day the fellows rose at 5:15 to begin work on the Homecoming Bonfire. The boys worked all day hauling "junk" for the fire, but still seemed to have lots of pep left for Friday night's activities. (The few who decided to sleep Friday morning, changed their minds—we hear a few fellows woke the whole dorm.)

There were girls at Lynwood for the first time since open house. This past weekend, they were waiting for their guys to get ready for the homecoming events.

We heard the recreation room was used for a "musical get-together" recently. It seems it got a little too noisy with the various instruments and boisterous voices, so the future "musicians" were referred to the club room above the union for further practices.

A dorm meeting was held Monday evening. Among the things discussed was the possibility of a Halloween party.

Lynwood Hall is having a Halloween party on Friday, October 28, 8:00 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Lynwood Hall. All freshmen girls are invited.

The Congo Club is having a Halloween party on Sunday evening, October 30, at 5:30 p.m.

Goblin treats and witches brew will be served and spooky games played in a Halloween atmosphere.

Come and bring your friends. Plans will be made for delegates to attend the State Conference of Wisconsin United Student Fellowship which will be held in Platteville on November 11, 12, and 13.

Newman Club will have a hayride Sunday night. All members are invited to bring a friend and enjoy an evening of fun. A small fee of 50 cents per person will be charged. This includes a delicious lunch to be served after the hayride.

A PO INITIATES NEW SERVICE TO STUDENTS

Stout's Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, has initiated a new service to the student body. This service fits in perfectly with the fraternity's four fold program of service.

Alpha Phi Omega renders service in these four major fields:

1. Service to the school and student body.
2. Service to youth and community.
3. Service to the members of the fraternity.
4. Service to the nation as participating citizens.

This new service consists of ushering at all required student convocations. It was started at the first student required convocation this semester. Future plans call for the service to continue throughout the school year.

APO members can be easily recognized by their yellow and blue bands prominently displayed on their left arms. The members of the fraternity will sincerely appreciate the student body's cooperation in making this new service a success.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION GIVES VACATION

A large share of the Stout Student body was homeward bound recently. Teacher's Convention gave the students an extra long weekend and most of them took advantage of the vacation; tucked a note on the overflowing bulletin board, packed their suitcase, and headed for home.

A check at the dorms disclosed the following figures: Eichelberger, one remaining student; Tainter Hall, empty; Tainter Annex, three; and Lynwood Hall, about twenty.

The results were quite evident around campus. A peek into the library Friday morning, revealed only half a dozen lonely students.

The game that Saturday evening seemed quite well attended; the ones who were in town were cheering. The absence of the band and several cheerleaders was quite noticeable though. Following the game was the annual Duffy's Tavern. Poor Duffy didn't do an exceptionally thriving business but what he did have was well satisfied.

That one extra day was well appreciated by the entire Stout population.

DEAN KIRK SERVES AS GROUP CONSULTANT

Serving as a consultant for a discussion session of the 43rd National Safety Congress and Exposition has been Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at Stout state college. The discussion session, which was part of the School and College portion of the Safety Congress, was devoted to "Safety in the Practical Arts Shops and Laboratories."

Also attending the open discussion meeting in which Dr. Kirk represented the area of home economics education were representatives of agricultural education, industrial education, trade and industrial education, safety education supervision, home demonstration, state extension, and the American Society of Safety Engineers.

Over 15,000 delegates participated in the 43rd National Safety Congress and Exposition. All sessions were held in Chicago. Cooperating in the presentation of the discussion dealing with safety in shops and laboratories was the American Vocational Association.

John says that you can live for 20¢ a day in the desert areas of Mexico if you are handy with a gun.

Last years trip concentrated mostly in Southwest U.S. where the group visited Indian ruins, a volcano crater, a ghost mining town, National Parks, the Grand Canyon, the Petrified Forest, and the Painted Desert.

The wanderlust bug has got John again, so this Christmas he's setting out for another 5,000 mile jaunt south of the border.

This time he's planning to spend more time in Mexico, visiting that country's landmarks of history. John also hopes to find time for hunting and deep sea fishing while there.

Anyone interested in spending their Christmas vacation in a new and different way might contact John Ong. John's making plans already, so contact him before December if you are interested.

OTT MEMBERS ELECT OFFICERS AND ORGANIZE

As this is the first year that freshmen women have lived out in town, the need was felt by both Dean Antrim and Mrs. Sims for an organization to better acquaint these girls with college life and others.

At their first meeting, officers were elected for the coming year:

President - Melva Halvorsen
Vice-president - Dora Aramori
Secretary - Carol Lehman
Treasurer - Iris Friedman

A second meeting was held to plan social events for the year and to pick a name. It was decided that the organization shall be known as the OTT and dues would be fifty cents per semester. Membership is open to all freshmen and transfer women living in houses in town. Meetings will be posted on the bulletin board near the business office.

STOUT FASHIONS

"Gee, I wish I had a pair of bermudas," says a male voice.

The words are always the same but the tone is usually one of scorn. Whether the male species likes it or not, bermudas have invaded the Stout campus.

Plain bermudas are teamed up with argyle knee socks in red and grey, blue and white, or an all out red, yellow, and black. Then there is the other variety of plaid ones with plain white, yellow, or red knee socks. Black is the color worn by the girls who just aren't the Betty Grable type.

The freshmen introduced them, feeling that they were the very thing in "collegiate" wear. The upperclassmen expressed surprise at first, but quickly recovered and brought out theirs, which, up to now, they had felt were not quite the thing to wear.

The older town's people shake their heads and murmur, "Now in my day—" Cars stop while occupants lean out and say, "Well, of all things—kind of cute though." Frantic freshmen write home, "Dear Mom, send me another pair of bermudas, just ev-er-y-one is wearing them."

The winter months will soon drive them out, for bare knees weren't made for snow drifts. But, before then maybe a male voice will say, "Gee, I wish I had a pair of bermudas!" and really mean it.

DR. NITZ RECEIVES PATENT FOR EASEL

Possessor of U. S. Patent No. 2,718,812 is Dr. O. W. Nitz, chairman of the department of chemistry at Stout state college here. The patent covers construction of a photographic enlargement easel.

Dr. Nitz's device permits focusing and aligning of an image upon a screen in such a manner that sensitized photographic paper can be inserted quickly and easily. It has been the inventor's experience that his easel is especially advantageous when an operator is seeking to make a number of photo prints from a single negative. Dr. Nitz's invention makes possible very rapid printing.

"It says right here in the annual report of the Kill'em By Car association that one man in the city is knocked down every five minutes by an automobile."

Bored Listener: "Gets a little monotonous, doesn't it."

MISS CARRISON WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Representing Stout state college at a conference of College Teachers of Foods and Nutrition in the Central region of the nation is Miss Clara Carrison, assistant professor of home economics at Stout.

The conference, the first of its kind, will be held in Chicago from October 28-29. Attendance is limited to one representative of each central region college granting a degree in home economics.

Goal of the conference is a discussion of problems which now face college teachers of food and nutrition. The program was planned by a committee of teachers from representative institutions in consultation with the Home Economics Education branch of the U.S. Office of Education.

The conference will consist of general sessions and also group discussions.

COACH WINK INTRODUCED TO STUDENTS

Many of the students in the Industrial Arts section never come in contact with the faculty members of the Home Economics section of our college and vice versa. We would like you to know all the faculty members, so here is a column introducing them to you.

Our first faculty member probably is known by everyone on campus. Stout state college's football coach is Jack Wink, a man with a lot of football playing experience backing up his coaching. His quarter-backing on the University of Michigan and University of Wisconsin teams helped them win many games. One of his long touch-down runs made a record that was broken only last year, and when a senior at the University of Wisconsin in 1947, he was elected captain of the football team.

The Wink family has four members: Coach Wink, his wife Virginia, and their two little daughters, Debbie, age two and a half, and Wendy whom you may remember as crown bearer at one of the past homecoming celebrations, age four and a half.

Coach Wink has been building Stout football teams for five seasons now. In addition, he teaches classes in physical education, personal health, and football theory, and is the director of intramural sports. He is just as busy at the close of the football season as he is at its height.

With only two more games left, we wish him and the team the best of luck in finishing the season.

STOUT REPRESENTED AT TEACHER MEET

Representing Stout state college at a recent state-wide Teacher Education meeting held at Madison was Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at Stout.

Sponsoring the gathering was the State of Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. In attendance were delegates from the 28 colleges in Wisconsin.

Topics discussed by the delegates included conversion of liberal arts and reciprocity of educational requirements between states.

Also under discussion were the status of two year courses in state colleges, proper use of certain administrative data forms, and programs of teacher recruitment.

Conference participants also learned of plans by the University of Wisconsin to develop one year graduate programs for liberal arts graduates to enable them to meet requirements for teaching positions in Wisconsin.

SSQ TEST TO BE GIVEN NOVEMBER 17

Stout state college has again been named as a center at which the Selective Service Qualification test will be given on Thursday, November 17. In charge of the testing for Stout is Dr. E. R. Oetting, chairman of the psychology and education department of the college.

Applicants, to be eligible for the test, must be Selective Service Registrants who intend to request deferment as a student, must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time undergraduate or graduate course, and must not have previously taken the test.

Those wishing to be tested should obtain an information bulletin, application card, ticket of admission and mailing envelope from any selective service local board. That material and all information is also available from Dr. Oetting in Room 123, Harvey Hall, Stout state college.

It is imperative that all applicants for the November 17 test be postmarked no later than midnight, Tuesday, November 1.

GREATEST OF ALL

I go through each day with one thought in mind, a thought which helps me choose the right in this of God's design. When problems rise and seem to stay, I think my thought and then I say, "Life holds so many things of wonder and of wealth, it gives to me my happiness and to me my health, but most of all, it gives to me the greatest of them all, It gives to me my darling, my life, my love, my all."

DAVID G. BARRY PRESENTS LECTURE

Colorful slides of mountain climbing, wild animals, and flowers were shown as David G. Barry presented "High Trailing in the Big Bend Wilderness" at the convocation Wednesday.

Barry, who is an instructor at Eau Claire state college, took the pictures while he was on the mountain trip several years ago. Eight students from the college also participated in the hike and were seen throughout the showing of slides. As the pictures were in color one got an idea of the beauty of mountain climbing.

The next convocation will be held on November 9 when "Filmorama Adventure" will be shown.

STUDENT LIKES JOB

"Polly" Scholler thoroughly enjoyed her fulltime summer job as caretaker and supervisor of Sheboygan's Random Lake Park and beach. Her job offered plenty of sunshine, fresh air, and an opportunity to work with people of all ages.

One important aspect of Polly's weekly routine was to make all purchases for the refreshment stand. Many of her daily duties tied in closely with her studies in home economics and industrial management.

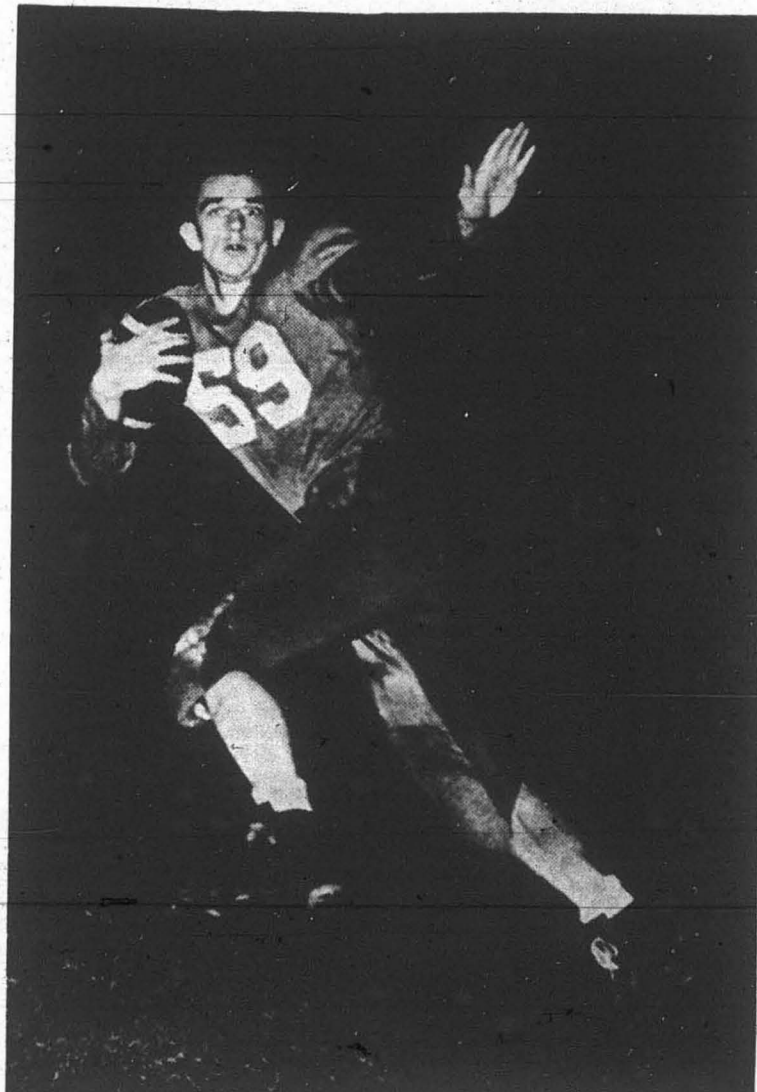

TWO FACULTY RECOGNIZED BY AUTHOR

Two men of the administration of Stout state college have received acknowledgement of editorial assistance from Dr. Hilaris G. Nudas, author of a new publication, "The Meaning and Significance of Vocational Education." This material will be widely used in schools of the Philippine Islands.

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, received from Dr. Nudas a personally autographed copy of the first edition of the report. The author, in his publication, expresses his personal gratitude to Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at Stout state college. Dean Jarvis reviewed Dr. Nudas' manuscript.

"The Meaning and Significance of Vocational Education," is one of the Nudas Vocational Education series. In the words of its author, "This report is an attempt to vivify the meaning of vocational education for Filipino students."

Dr. Nudas has long been prominent in the vocational education program of the Philippine Islands, both at the secondary and college level. He had also had an important part in cooperative educational endeavors between the Philippine Islands, the United States, and Europe.

Rufus Ihde, freshman back from Neenah, is one of Stout's outstanding players this season.

Leading the torchlight parade to the fairgrounds are the Phi Sig and F.O.B. fraternities. The parade started at Harvey Hall and continued down Wilson avenue.

The Alpha Sigma Alpha Float won the award as most beautiful in the 1955 Homecoming parade. Representing their sorority on the float were Mary Paciotti, Marie Strodhoff, and Jo Babcock.

Football princess Jane Gargulak presents the football to Leo Janis, the football team representative. The ball was used in the Stout-Platteville game.

S.S.A. President Gordie Maves is seen here reaching for some good old fashioned cider at the refreshment stand in the Stout gym following the coronation and bonfire last Friday evening.

Queen Ginny Ebley and Football Princess Jane Gargulak are shown riding in the torchlight parade which led to the fair grounds. The queen and her court were again presented during the bonfire.

Being tackled by two Platteville players is Bill Romoser. The Stout Blue-devils lost a close game to Platteville Pioneers by a score of 13-12.

GIRLS' DORMS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Not till next year again will the Annex, Eichelberger, or the Hall achieve that tip top condition that every housemother dreams about. For this last Sunday, October 24, from 3:00 to 4:30 the girl's dorms had open house.

Though everyone agreed it took a lot of planning and plain old-fashioned "housework", it was also loads of fun. Each dorm divided the girls up into committees for working at the tea, which was held at Eichelberger and also as guides and hostesses in each individual dormitory.

The boys from Lynwood made a check for dust and came up with some pretty dusty fingers - but then who dusts inside the light fixture? The girls from the dorms also toured each others dorms. Comments were heard on the large rooms at the Annex and the beautiful spiral staircase at Eichelberger. One dreamer was heard to remark how nice it would be if the Annex could be moved on top of Eich's recreation room - a perfect set-up.

Every door had the girls names up on it with either a decoration about Homecoming or a clever slogan. Some girls even went as far as providing candy for the guests.

At around 5:00 the excitement died down. Shoes were seen scattered on the floor, coats flung over chairs, and Soap flakes, irons and clothes lines were put back on the shelf; open house was over for another year.

"We'll Cover the Pioneers" was the slogan of the junior float. This float won first prize in the parade, in the most in keeping with the theme division. The float was an authentic version of the covered wagons used in pioneer days.

U.S. NAVY RECRUITING TEAM TO VISIT STOUT

Lieutenant (Junior Grade) R. S. Dodge, Procurement officer of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Minneapolis, Minnesota, announced today that a navy officer procurement team will soon visit the campus of Stout state college.

The purpose of the visit will be to discuss the requirements and qualifications for officer programs with interested college students and specifically to acquaint college seniors with the navy's newest officer program, the aviation officer candidate school.

The new aviation officer candidate school at Pensacola, Florida, is similar to the officer candidate school at Newport, Rhode Island, in that selected applicants undergo 16 weeks of intensive training and are then commissioned an officer in the United States naval reserve. Upon successful completion of basic indoctrination, the newly appointed officer is assigned to flight training while drawing full pay and allowances of a commissioned officer. The active duty time involved is essentially the same for both programs, approximately 40 months.

For the convenience of those students desiring to apply, the team will administer the officer qualification test and the flight aptitude test during their visit.

For students desiring information before the arrival of the navy officer procurement team, information or applications may be obtained by contacting the Office of Naval Officer Procurement Federal Office Building Washington and Second Aves. South Minneapolis 1, Minnesota Reaching for a pass during the Stout-Platteville game are Jerry Stauffacher, freshman end from Monroe, and two unidentified Platteville players. Stout lost a very close Homecoming game to Platteville state by a score of 13-12.

STOUT BOWS TO PLATTEVILLE BY 13-12 SCORE

Saturday, the Blue Devils narrowly missed their first conference win, by bowing to the Platteville Pioneers, 13-12.

Coach Jack Wink's gridders who were seeking their first conference win in five starts fought back from a 7-0 and 13-6 deficits, but failed on the crucial extra points.

The Pioneers scored their first touchdown in the first period after taking a short punt on the Devils 39. Halfback, Gene Mason pitched two consecutive aeriels to cover the yardages with halfback, Bob Blazer scoring on a 13 yard pass play. Bill Collein booted what later turned out to be the winning point. Stout's first tally came with a 66 yard drive in three plays. The first play, Dick Cheke went for 10 yards, then Ihde for 34 yards to the Platteville 22, and once more Ihde carried from the 22 for a touchdown. Leo Janis missed the extra point.

The visitors drove 65 yards and their winning margin in the third period in five plays with Mason and Harr doing most of the carrying. Dale Maquartt plunged over from the five. The conversion was missed.

The most outstanding play was a pass from Ron Ebben to Bill Romoser, in which Romoser lugged the ball from the pioneer 45 to Stout's final touchdown. The play covered 65 yards. Another conversion try missed its mark and the Blue Devils suffered their fourth loss.

In the first half, both teams kept to the ground, but in the second half, Stout took to the air and in 14 attempts, there were five completions.

Dick Tepp and John Oakeson were standouts defensively for the Devils.

Score by quarters:

Platteville	0	7	6	0	13

PHY ED SPORTS ARE ENJOYED BY GIRLS

Swimming can prove to be quite a puzzle when you can't swim a stroke and are placed in the intermediate swimming class.

One girl was told to get out in ten feet of water and do the crawl.

"But I can't," she protested.

"Of course, you can," encouraged the instructor.

She couldn't.

"Try another stroke," the instructor urged.

"I don't know any others."

"Who put you in this class?"

"You did. You asked me if I could float and I said yes and you said, 'Well, we wouldn't bother with the fundamentals' and put me in this class."

That's all right Jan, keep your chin up, above the water that is. 1-2-3, 1-2-3.

The abdominal series and hips are points worked on now in Miss Antrim's body building class. Some girls have a particular trouble in striving for that "Rockette" figure. One day they were told to stand up from a cross-legged sitting position without using their hands. Despite much urging and straining at muscles, two girls just couldn't get up. Miss Antrim took pity and class was dismissed for the day.

The other day the same exercise was called and the same two girls got up with apparent ease. Have they been practicing or did I see one girl being helped up by a friend, how about it, Betty?

Hockey class is rejoicing. One day class was held in the union and the next day the instructor forgot her keys, so class was dismissed. How the girls did miss the trek to the hockey field!!

W.R.A. SPORT HAS LARGE TURNOUT

COACH'S CORNER by Coach Wink

Saturday afternoon in the annual homecoming game, Stout bowed to Platteville, 13 to 12, in a game as close as the score indicated. This finishes the conference season for Stout, and Saturday night finds them traveling to St. Cloud state to meet the champions of the Minnesota State College Conference. St. Cloud is undefeated in conference play, losing only their first game of the season and winning the rest by very comfortable margins. The only mutual opponent met was Winona State. Stout beat Winona 13 to 0 while St. Cloud defeated Winona 35 to 0. Records don't mean too much in this game.

"GRAMERCY GHOST" SCRIPT ABOUT GIRL WHO INHERITS GHOST FROM LANDLADY

Inheriting property is very common, but have you ever heard of anyone inheriting a ghost? Nancy Willard has this unfortunate experience in the latest Manual Arts Players production, "GRAMERCY GHOST."

Nancy Willard (Audrey Adams), the leading lady in "Gramercy Ghost," is an attractive young girl who works for a publisher and is engaged to Parker Burnett (Clarence Felhaber). She leads a very quiet and comfortable life until Miss Bullock, the landlady, dies and leaves Nancy a ghost named Nathaniel Coombes (Gene Ender). Nathaniel was a handsome young Revolutionary War soldier who was ambushed and killed in 1776. Because of his failure to deliver a message to George Washington, Nathaniel is unable to enter heaven; but instead is doomed to an earth bound existence as a ghost in the neighborhood of Nancy's apartment.

Charles Stewart (Douglas Dorner), a young newspaper man, visits Nancy to seek data on the late Miss Bullock. Upon this mission he too becomes involved in Nancy's social life, causing severe problems for the two young men interested in her.

The play comes to a grand climax when Charley learns how to exercise the ghost and win Nancy from Parker. Nathaniel, the ghost, is actually the one who ultimately enables Nancy to choose the right husband; thus gaining his admittance to heaven.

Humor, confusion, and excitement are accomplished throughout the play by the supporting cast. They add to make "Gramercy Ghost" an outstanding production. Members of the supporting cast are: Margaret Collins (Carol Smith), Officer Morrison (Francis Karacker), Irv (Brian Kirby), Rocky (Eddie Birch), Ambulance Driver (Don Pritchard), Assistant Driver (Barbara Bender), and Nathaniel's Sweetheart (Bette Zander).

An evening of excitement, suspense, and laughter awaits the audience of this unusual play. Bring your family and friends to enjoy the fast moving three act comedy "Gramercy Ghost," the latest Manual Arts production, at the Stout state college auditorium, Thursday, November 17; Friday, November 18; and Saturday, November 19; 8:15 p.m.

Students of Stout state college will be admitted upon the presentation of their SSA card. Tickets for the public may be purchased in the corridor of Harvey Hall from Monday, November 14 through Friday, November 18, or at the auditorium before each evening's performance.

STOUT FACULTY ATTEND W.E.A. CONVENTION

Educators of Stout state college are taking an active part this week-end in the convention of the Wisconsin Education association, being held from Thursday through Saturday in Milwaukee.

From the division of Home Economics, Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division, and Hazel Van Ness, associate professor of clothing and textiles, will participate in deliberations of the Council of the Wisconsin Home Economics association.

Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at Stout, will be the principal speaker for the sectional meeting devoted to industrial arts. Dr. Jarvis will discuss, "Industrial Arts and Industrial Methods."

Taking an active part in the audio-visual portion of the convention will be Dr. David Barnard, head of Stout's audio-visual center. He will speak to a luncheon meeting of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction on "Plans for WDAVI." Later he will preside at the business meeting of the group.

Dr. Barnard will also preside at the sectional meeting for audio-visual personnel. That meeting will be devoted to the use of audio-visual materials in the teaching of reading.

Philip Ruehl, assistant professor in electronics and electricity at Stout, will be chairman of the sectional group dealing with electricity in industrial arts. Topic of this section will be "Resource Units for General Electricity in Secondary schools."

Chairman of the graphic arts sectional on printing in the program of industrial arts will be Raymond Cornwell. He is an instructor of industrial

SERVICE FRAT OFFERS LAMINATED CASES

For the third consecutive year Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, will offer Stout students the opportunity to have their pictures, membership cards, Social Security cards, drivers licenses etc. laminated in transparent plastic. Cards will be returned in 24 hours during the week of November 7-11.

This protective coating of plastic will last a lifetime of hard use. The Armed Forces have proven their durability and laminate all important papers and cards of servicemen. Samples of laminated cards will be displayed at the APO table, located in Harvey Hall.

A charge of 35¢ a card or three cards for $1.00 will be made. Leave your cards with the APO clerk, pick them up the next day perfectly preserved.

Receiving a corsage from Doris Hutchinson, president of Home Economics club, is Barbara Brown. Barbara, the 1955 Alice in Dairyland, returned to Stout Monday and spoke during a convocation held in her honor.

Convocation Held in Honor Of Miss Barbara Brown From Independence

Alice in Dairyland—really Miss Barbara Brown of Independence, Wisconsin—returned in triumph to Stout state college Monday.

Actually a senior coed in the division of home economics at Stout, Alice in Dairyland has taken a year's leave of absence from the college. Monday students and faculty members of her college turned out to show their appreciation for her efforts in publicizing Wisconsin.

Highlight of her day on the campus was a convocation at which Barbara was principal speaker. She was escorted to the stage by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college, who was also the official greeter.

In her half-hour address, Barbara described the many thrills and tribulations of being the fabulous Alice. She gave special attention to telling her younger listeners the many things she has learned while being a celebrity and the attributes which college training at Stout have given her for her unique and arduous year's task.

At the conclusion of her talk, Miss Brown graciously introduced Carol Lehman, Wisconsin "Honey Queen", who this week-end was selected "National Honey Queen of the United States. Carol is a graduate of Berlin high school.

On the stage to honor Alice in Dairyland and also to greet the newly-chosen Honey Queen were officers of the college student association and various college administrators.

Master of ceremonies was Gordon Maves, president of the Stout student association. Presenting a corsage to the returning Alice was Doris Hutchinson, president of the Home Economics club of which Miss Brown is a member.

the guidance of the firm's president, George Perkins. The idea was created soon after this firm completed a Filmorama lens film for Bell and Howell, the world's largest manufacturer of motion picture making equipment.

As pioneers in this exciting dimension of 16 mm. film, Neilly Film productions initiated a development that brings a far-reaching change to the lecture film rostrum, as well as to the world's film industry itself.

George Perkins, well-known traveler will appear with this unique show in person, as its narrator. At 23, Perkins received his first experience in the travel adventure field under the tutelage of the dean of world travelers, Burton Holmes.

Although a study of 1,100 proposals shows the automobile to be the most popular spot for popping the question, a study of traffic statistics shows it's also a successful device for committing suicide.

Have you ever suddenly realized on a Sunday afternoon that you needed a library book for a Monday morning class? Or, have you ever attempted to study for an exam on a Sunday afternoon and found that your roommate did not have the same idea?

All of us at some time during our college days here at Stout have found these two statements to be true. Since most Stout students do a great share of their studying on Sundays, there should be library facilities available to them.

Many students have expressed a desire for the library to be open for several hours on Sunday afternoons. This would give students a chance to do some quiet studying.

This is not something new. Many other state colleges in Wisconsin have their libraries open each Sunday. Couldn't a system be worked out at Stout so students could study at the library on Sundays?

CLUB NEWS

This year the Rifle Club is starting a handicap system which is being tried so that every member will have an equal chance of winning the team match. The handicap used will be the individuals average score subtracted from 300. This will not be used in post matches.

Two postal matches were held this week with the University of Nevada and Northeastern university. Scores for the opponents are not known, but Stout totaled 1266, a little low. It is felt that the club would have a good chance of winning with a score in the 1300's.

Lounging chairs and the soft plush rug in the Memorial room of the library made a cozy atmosphere for Tri Sigma pledges and actives as they attended Charm School. Andy Jost led the discussion and Rita Pauls helped conduct a short Harmony Hour. Doughnuts and Halloween candies were served at the close of the meeting.

This past Sunday night was a busy one for the members of Wesley. After a worship service and supper, everyone started out on a scavenger hunt. But this hunt proved different than most scavenger hunts, for instead of taking the clothes back to their owners after the race was done, everything was salvaged. Now they are going to pack and ship these clothes to the Oneida Indian tribe of northern Wisconsin. Doesn't this sound worthwhile and lots of fun too?

Synchronized Swimmers had their pictures taken for Tower, Tuesday, October 25. Jerry Howard was elected new vice president. The theme of the spring water show is "Trip Around the World." Plans are being made to attend a water show at LaCrosse this semester.

The Congregational Church, festively decorated in the Halloween theme, was the scene of the Congo Club's Halloween meeting Sunday, October 30 at 5:30.

A tasty supper was served and spooky games were played in a Halloween atmosphere.

Plans were made for delegates to attend the State Conference of Wisconsin United Student Fellowship, which will be held at Platteville on November 11, 12 and 13.

Mrs. Nels Iverson will be the speaker at the next meeting on November 6 to relate to the group the details of her foster family.

The annual "pink tea" will be held Thursday, November 10, in the tea room in honor of the pledges of Hyperian, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Pallas Athene sororities and their advisors.

Hostesses for the annual event are the pledges of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority who this year are: Noel Brown, Mary Brackett, Billie Bracker, Glenyce Harmston, Pat Sullivan, Jo Scheevel, Marion Lohr, Rhea Van Vleet, Jo Sommar, Eleanor Weltzen, Pat Drummond, Shirley Johnson, Adaline Boche, Lois Mallan, Carol Becker, and Pat Sylvester.

A group of L.S.A. members traveled to the Reformation Convention in Minneapolis, last Sunday evening, October 30. The main attraction was Dr. Hans Lilje, from Hanover, Germany, who is the president of the Lutheran World Federation.

Dr. Lilje presented his sermon to over 10,000 people who had crowded into the Minneapolis Civic Auditorium to hear him. A 600 voice choir provided the music.

This was the third assembly of the Lutheran World Federation. The first assembly was held in Lund, Sweden, in 1947; and the second was held in Hanover, Germany, in 1952. Minneapolis was selected as the site for the third assembly because of its central location in a vast Lutheran population.

Members and pledges of Pallas Athene sorority enjoyed a swimming party last evening at the Stout pool. Many water games were played.

After seeing the painters busy at work in several of the third floor Harvey Hall offices and other painters working on the white trimming of the gymnasium, suddenly I was curious about the progress and/or the details of the new dorm.

So I flew over to "the banks of Lake Menomin" where my telescope eyes met a scene of many wheelbarrows, piles of lumber, tool boxes opened and ready for use, activity everywhere, and progress in the building.

My wings came in handy for I had to fly over puddles of water, cement blocks, lumber, and a large hole in the ground before I located the construction manager. The hole proved to have been dug for an "electric man-hole" housing the electric controls for the dormitory. It will be 5 x 5 x 8!

Six "power buggies" were active on the lot; the workers were using these power wheel barrows to haul bricks and cement up the construction ramps. Other men were busy pounding, or even driving trucks in and out of the former driveway to the two old dorms, the Annex and the Hall.

The new finished building will be about 40 feet high, 225 feet long, and 80 feet wide. And although just form lumber is used in this dormitory, one ton of nails, over 25,000 bricks, 8,000 bags of cement, 60 ton of re-enforcing steel, 40 ton of structural steel, and 20 ton of steel joist are included in the inventory of supplies!!

Thirty workers, carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, steam fitters, plumbers, etc., make up the construction crew. Some live in Menomonie while others commute each day to work on this project.

The dorm's outside should be finished by the end of November according to the manager's prediction. And the whole building project is expected to be completed by June 1 of 1956.

Next fall, 132 lucky girls will be the very first to live in the new dorm. In October of 1956, I predict that most all of Stout's students will visit the new dorm for the annual open-house.

I know I'll be very curious before I see the completed interior of this fine addition to the buildings of the Stout state campus.

Lynwood Hall residents sponsored a Halloween party on Friday, October 28 for the freshmen girls. A large crowd danced in the recreation room in the basement and enjoyed refreshments and entertainment. Musical variety was furnished by Don Gibbons and his famous drum, Bob Olstrum with his accordion, Bill Martin with the mandolin, and Albert with his "uke."

Some of the guests were Dean Price, Dr. Salyer, Dr. Iverson, and Dr. Adams. The first Lynwood party was considered a success.

Monday evening found some Lynwooders Halloweening.

Under the spider web and into the Halloween tea, sponsored by the Tri Sigma sorority, was a common destination for many students and faculty members last Wednesday afternoon.

Harvey Memorial was fittingly decorated with many Halloween symbols. Masks, black cats, and mobiles provided a background for the candle lit serving table on which there was placed a large pumpkin and colored Indian corn for the centerpiece.

Spiced tea, assorted nuts, candy, and doughnuts were enjoyed by all who attended this year's Halloween Tea.

ALUMNI CHOOSE NEW NAME FOR GROUP

Official action was taken at the last business meeting on October 22, 1955, to change the name of our association from THE NATIONAL STOUT INSTITUTE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION to STOUT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION. It was felt by the members present that this name would be more inclusive for former Stout Institute graduates and also the new Stout state college graduates.

DETROIT ALUMNI PLAN ACTIVITIES, ELECT OFFICERS

Detroit Alumnae of Stout state college gathered on May 21 at the country home of Miriam Bennett Refe in Drayton Plains for a potluck luncheon. Co-hostesses were Alma Dupuis Zych, Francis Mulry Brandvold, Dorothy Quilling Broadwell, and Lillian Falkenrath Gavic. Following the luncheon and exploration of the grounds, a business meeting was held, with election of new officers its chief purpose. Those elected for the coming season were:

President—Emma Nazgowitz Maden
Vice President—Edith Gorton Goodwin
Secretary—Elaine Thomas Charlick
Treasurer—Helen Bitschenauer Warren

Advisor—Lillian Falkenrath Gavic
Alumni Reporter—Marion Arntson
On October 8 a luncheon was held at the Women's City Club of Detroit, with Edla Johnson Houck, Borghild Eng Dahlgren, and Edith Goodwin as hostesses.

ROLL INCREASES, ALUMNI OBTAIN MEMBERSHIPS

The life membership roll of Stout's Alumni has swelled considerably this year. Fifteen individuals have begun to purchase memberships on the installment plan. Three new memberships have been paid in full.

In families where both husband and wife are Stout graduates a joint membership may be taken. This costs the same as an individual one. Thirty dollars paid at once or in six, five dollar installments buys either type of life membership. So far this year, there have been two joint memberships started on the latter plan and one paid in full.

Why don't you join the ever-swelling list of loyal alumni supporters? Remember that you can't lose. If, for any reason, you should decide you could not continue the payments on your membership, the amount already paid in will be used to cover annual memberships at the rate of two dollars a year until the amount paid in has been used.

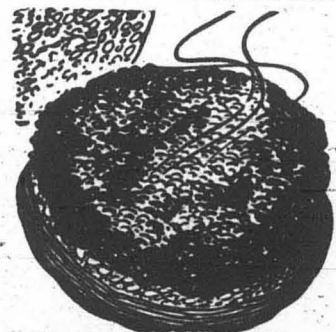

The knowledge that money coming in through these memberships goes into our alumni scholarship fund should be an added inducement for alumni to become life members. Each year these scholarships are awarded to worthy high school graduates to help them come to Stout to prepare for the same career you are pursuing.

Ellen Nelson, Chairman
Life Membership Committee

STOUT '55 HOMECOMING ONE OF LARGEST HELD

The 1955 Homecoming was one of the largest homecomings that Stout has known. More than 300 alumni attended activities during the weekend. Graduates represented classes from years 1916 to 1955.

The greatest distance traveled was by David Tank, from Los Angeles, California.

STOUT LOSES TO ST. CLOUD BY 37-7 SCORE

Saturday October 29, Saint Cloud met and defeated the Blue Devils. Saint Cloud scored five touchdowns and one field goal. The Devils had only one tally.

The first half was a close 12-7 in favor of Saint Cloud. In the second half the breaks all went to Saint Cloud. St. Cloud scored three touchdowns and one field goal. The Devils were unable to score.

The score of 36-7 is deceiving for the game was one of the best the Devils played this season.

COACH'S CORNER by Coach Wink

Saturday evening on a snow swept field, Stout lost to the champions of the Minnesota State Colleges, St. Cloud Teachers, 36 to 7. The final score was definitely not an indication of the game and although St. Cloud deserved the win, the teams were about one touchdown apart. Halftime score was 12 to 7 and both St. Cloud TDs were undeserved. In all, St. Cloud scored five TDs and one field goal and four of the TDs were undeserved. A blocked punt, 60 yard intercepted pass to the two yard line, a recovered fumble on our 12 yard line and a fourth down penalty giving them a first down on the one yard line led to the four TDs. Stout played one of its best games of the year and with a few breaks in their favor might have sprung a big upset.

Chemistry Teacher: "Say, what's that odor?"

Student: Fresh air—somebody opened a window."

DORM NEWS

Snow was here, if only for a short while, and most of the girls at the dorms took full advantage of it. Some of the girls stayed out to snowball the couples at the door, while others went for midnight hikes down along the lake.

Birthday's have again been celebrated at the dorms and that always means food and noise. The foods served are as follows: apple slices, pop corn, olives, and cheerios.

Now the demerits are gone and the girls can start a new quarter of mischief. Maybe the house-mother can become resigned to noise and antics. It's said that the Annex takes all honors for noise before, after, and during quiet hours.

Did anyone say cats? All the girls in phys. class can give you vivid descriptions of their specimens and of the joys of surgery. Ask them sometime, it might prove interesting!

HOME EC CLUB INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

Initiation for the new members of the Home Economics club was held Monday, October 31 at 7:30 p.m. The program was opened with a business meeting over which the president, Doris Hutchinson presided. At this time, the new members were instructed in the objectives of the club. They were told of the activities sponsored by the club and asked to participate in one of them. These are: The Christmas Tea, December 14; the Green Tea, March 14; The Style Show, March 20, and the Senior Farewell, May 27. Most of the new members were very enthusiastic about either the Style Show or the Green Tea. The latter will be sponsored and put on entirely by the freshmen members.

Following two very interesting reports of the AHEA Convention by Nathalie Wick and Faye Nelson, the new members, each holding a lighted candle were instructed about the significance of the emblem of the Home Economics club. As is traditional, the officers then pinned a flower on each of the new members. Refreshments were served and every member whether newly initiated or an older member went home feeling very happy and self-satisfied because she was a member of such a progressing professional organization.

PLEDGING COMPLETED FOR PHI SIGMA FRAT

A week of pledging for five Phi Sig pledges was climaxed at informal initiation last Thursday night, October 27. Scavenger hunts, hikes, helping with the bonfire, feeding dolls milk in class, finding "turtle" eggs, and putting out fires were only a few of the activities that kept the pledges going. One thing the Phi Sigs are sure of is that these five men will be able to salute correctly, thanks to a noon-hour lesson by Ray Pearson in the union one day. "Scum" Pearson and the other four pledges, Bill Broadwell, Loren Johnson, Tom Kukar, and "Mickey" Schellin, will be formally initiated at a banquet in the near future.

This hell week was unique in the fact that the Phi Sigs had three pledge masters. First named was Jim Berray, who was unable to take the part due to an accident at home. Each day the pledges composed a letter telling Jim of all the "fun" they were having. These letters were mailed to Jim in the hospital at Woodruff, and helped to keep him informed as to what was going on.

When it became apparent that a new pledgemaster was needed, Skip Lemke was appointed. However, Skip soon found that he couldn't handle all those rowdy pledges by himself, so Doug Pagel was also named to the office.

The pledges and all of the members of Phi Sigma Epsilon wish to thank everyone who came to the mixer on Wednesday night, October 26. This crowd did much to make the pledges' skit a success.

education and printing at Stout state college.

Meeting in conjunction with the WEA convention will be certain groups of the Association of Wisconsin State College Faculties.

Representing Stout as delegates will be Dr. Guy Salyer, president of the Stout unit; Miss Ann Noble, head of the home economics education department at the college; Dr. Barnard; and Ray Cornwell.

Dr. Salyer will hold a special meeting with J. J. McLaughlin of River Falls state college and Parker Clark of Eau Claire state college to select a speaker of national reputation to address the joint meeting of units from all 11 state colleges meeting in Eau Claire in the spring.

RUSSIAN-SOVIET SPECIALISTS TO APPEAR AT WEDNESDAY'S CONVOCATION

Gay Humphrey and Ted Curran, both graduates of the Russian Institute of Columbia university, who returned last fall from a six thousand mile tour of the Soviet Union, have been booked for a personal appearance at the Stout auditorium on November 16, at 10:00.

The Russian Institute, a school for the training of a limited number of well-qualified Americans for scholarly and professional careers as Russian-Soviet specialists has been dubbed a school for spies by the Communist press. Because of their training there, both Mr. Curran and Miss Humphrey had a fluent command of the Russian language before their trip and were particularly well prepared to bring back a penetrating analysis of Soviet society. Their facility with the language enabled them to tour without guides and interpreters, thus traveling more freely than any other visitors to U.S.S.R. in recent years.

Mr. Curran and Miss Humphrey are both New Yorkers, educated at Haverford and Mount Holyoke colleges respectively, where they were honor students. Gay is presently doing advanced work for her Ph. D. at Columbia, and Ted is concluding graduate work in the history department while working for the Watson Laboratories, a subsidiary of International Business Machines.

The uncensored movies of the U.S.S.R. are supplemented by absorbing tales of individuals in the movies-how they live, what they think about, their view of the United States, and so on. Intelligent and charming, Ted Curran and Gay Humphrey will present a new and authentic report of what thirty-five years of the Soviet system has done to the peoples of the U.S.S.R.

S.T.S. PLEDGE INCREASES DIFFICULTY OF TEST

Woe be you pledges! The usually grueling two to three hour initiation test which the pledges of Stout Typographical Society are put to, increased in difficulty and harassment last Wednesday evening due to the slip of the tongue by one of the new pledges. The sad story began like this:

Wednesday at 11 a.m. Mr. Whydowski, advisor to S.T.S. was deeply engrossed in explaining the Munsell theory of color to his printing class.

There was a knock on the door and a young printer with the telltale apprentice hat on stuck his head into the room. "Mr. Whydowski, do you have the keys to the morgue?" he asked.

"Where's Mr. Cornwell," asked the instructor, "can't you get the key from him?" (Mr. Cornwell was within feet of the morgue room while Mr.

ACTIVITIES OF STOUT IN MAGAZINE

Activities of Stout state college are well represented in the November issue of "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education" magazine, national publication for industrial and vocational educators.

Acknowledged by the magazine is the appointment last summer of Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, to teach a summer graduate seminar at Pennsylvania state university.

"Industrial Arts and Vocational Education" also took note of the granting of a doctor's degree to David Barnard, head of the audio-visual center at Stout state college. Dr. Barnard earned his degree at Indiana university.

MR. SWANSON WRITES ARTICLE ON PLASTICS

Author of two professional articles dealing with the use of plastics in the industrial arts program is Mr. Robert Swanson, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout state college.

The articles, titled "Plastics-Three Dimensional Forming" and "Design in Plastics-A Desk Lamp" appear in the November issue of "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education," a national professional publication for industrial and vocational educators.

Mr. Swanson's two articles are the first in a series which that publication

S.T.S. INITIATES FOUR MEMBERS, ADVANCES FOUR

Four tired, stumbling, forgetful, half blind, ragged-looking "ink pigs" were reluctantly allowed to join the ranks of the Stout Typographical Society, after passing the final requirements for their entrance into the organization during the informal initiation Wednesday night.

Anton Kotyza, Donald Anderson, Herb Pringle, and James Traxel ended their week of servitude as candidates, with hot coffee and doughnuts and handshakes of welcome from the old members.

S.T.S. is a professional fraternity whose aims are to promote the advancement of printing. All candidates for membership must be majors in the field of printing.

Four regular members of the fraternity also were run thru the mill in their quest for advancement to higher degrees in the organization.

Ronald Huebner, was awarded the degree of Master Printer, while James Kogler, Leonard Clark, and William Allen were advanced to the degree of Journeyman.

Two of the requirements for further advancement in the fraternity are a graphic arts project in which the individual has completed all phases of the work from design to binding, and to write a paper outlining all the work and process that he accomplished to achieve the finished project.

The 1955 Sigma Tau Gamma Rose Queen is June Morgan Brodt. June was chosen by the fraternity and will be escorted by Herb Brodt.

"ROSE OF SIG TAU" IS JUNE BRODT

PRESIDENT FRYKLUND AT I.A. CONFERENCE

Two administrators of Stout state college, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the division of industrial education, will have active roles in this weekend's meetings of the Industrial Arts conference in Chicago.

Dr. Fryklund's first duties will be as chairman of the Industrial Arts Teacher Education Committee on Accreditation. This committee is a part of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

President Fryklund will then serve as general chairman of the conference and is a life chairman of that group. He will also head a group dealing with "Subject Matter Areas Essential in the Preparation of Industrial Arts Teachers" and of a similar conference to discuss the question, "Should Supervision of Industrial Arts at the State Level Be Combined with Supervision of Trade and Industrial Education?"

Among Dr. Fryklund's other duties will be the conducting of the general business session for the conference.

Dr. Jarvis, participating in a group devoted to "Isolating Crucial Areas in Which Research Is Needed" will describe "Criteria for Judging Research."

Formerly the Mississippi Valley Industrial Arts conference, the Industrial Arts conference has been an active organization for nearly half a century.

Dr. Fryklund, since 1941, has been permanent chairman of the group. He succeeded William T. Bawden, well-known as a former assistant U. S. Commissioner of Education, editor of "Industrial Education" magazine, and former head of the industrial education department at State teachers college, Pittsburg, Kansas.

Membership in the Industrial Arts Conference is limited to industrial educators in the Mississippi Valley. New

Queen and Court To Reign In "Rosie" Atmosphere At 1955 Rose Formal, Nov. 12

June Morgan Brodt will reign as this year's "Rose of Sigma Tau," at the seventh annual all-school Rose Dance, on Saturday night, November 12.

June, whose hometown is in Eau Claire, now lives in Menomonie with her husband, Herb Brodt, a Stout junior, and her small son. While attending Stout, June was active in the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and was a candidate for the ice-carnival queen.

June's attractive court will consist of Rita Jackson, Colleen Ceminsky, Marilee Cate, and Donna Neerhof.

Rita, a junior from Independence, Wisconsin, will have as her escort Reiny Meinscher. A member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, she is a former cheerleader, and a member of Tower, L.S.A., Home Ec. club, and W.R.A.

Escorted by Fred Hodges will be Colleen Ceminsky, of Montgomery, Minnesota. A 1955 Stout graduate, Colleen is now teaching junior high clothing in Racine, Wisconsin. She also is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, and was last year's president. While at Stout she was an active member of Arts and Crafts, Newman club, Home Ec. club, and is past editor of the Stoutonia.

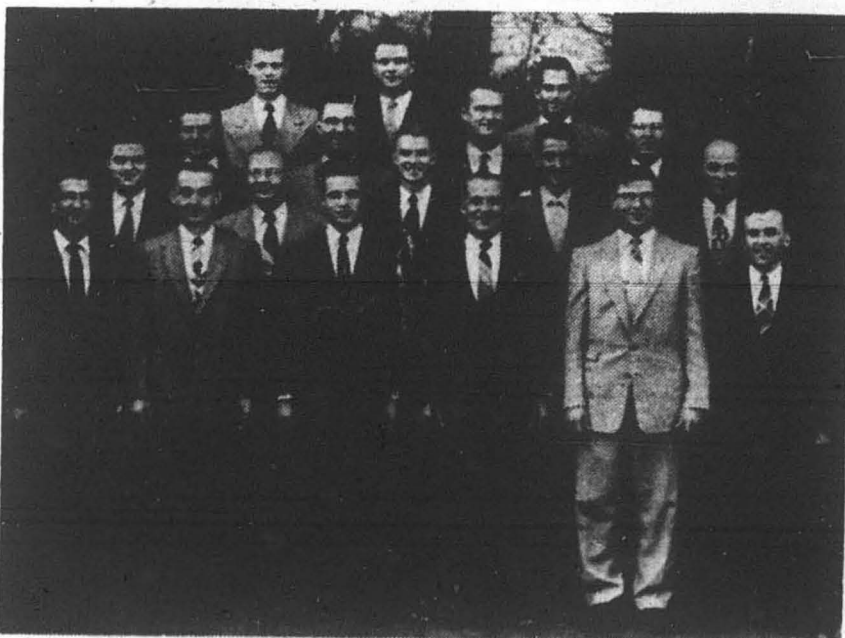

Marilee Cate, also a junior, is from Auroraville, Wisconsin. A member of Pallas Athene, Stoutonia, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Symphonic Singers, Wesley, and Home Ec. club, Marilee will be escorted by Hank Moerschel.

Jerry Sommers will escort Donna Neerhof, a senior, from Cedar Grove, Wisconsin. Donna is a member of Synchronized Swimmers, and Home Ec. club.

This year's semi-formal dance will be held in the high school gym because of the increased enrollment. White crepe paper walls with sprayed on roses and a clever ceiling are only part of the planned decorations.

Setting the tempo for this "rosie" atmosphere will be George Soderberg

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

What is perhaps the best course offered at Stout is not to be found listed in the bulletin. Were it listed, however, it might be called Self-Improvement 1-1. It's a four-year course that meets every day of the year.

All of this figurative language really boils down to say that college days present a special time when one may set himself to the purpose of discovering his potential as an individual.

Taking an elective in a relatively unfamiliar field may result in the realization of innate abilities. Hidden talents in the lines of music, art, drama, or other creative fields may be discovered during college days.

Personality development can result from taking part in extracurricular activities. The competition of keen minds reveals creative genius and sometimes unsuspected leadership abilities.

One cannot discover his potential if he does not dare to be an individual. The pressures of society would want us to be stereotype, using the same slang, wearing what the magazines suggest, and doing just what Betty and Joe College do.

Conformity, to a degree is a must; we wouldn't try to disprove that. But great are the rewards of that one who dares to be different and in doing so discovers and uncovers hidden personality, genius, and talent.

CLUB NEWS

Nine girls became Hyperian members at their formal initiation on Thursday evening, October 28. Janice Eddy, Beth Van Gordon, Kathy Van Dorn, Betty Lein, Kay Hawkins, Carol Hatch, Bernice Grunwald, Rose Mary Klaus, and Cindy Sutter are the new members.

Formal initiation also ended Little Peanut Week for the Hyperians, with the girls finding out who their good fairies had been all week. Shucks it sure was fun!

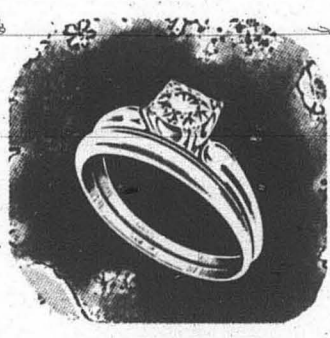

"Travels" will be the theme of the Congo club meeting on Sunday, November 13, 1955 at the Congregational church. Miss Carrison and Miss Jeter will tell interesting highlights of their journeys to Europe and Mexico respectively. Anyone interested in traveling or just sitting at home and hearing about it will enjoy this meeting. A most supper will be served prior to the program.

Also this weekend is the state United Student Fellowship convention in Platteville. There is still room for one interested student.

Last week end a group of YWCA members traveled to Camp Idubapi in Loretto, Minnesota. A three day conference, November 4, 5, and 6, was held at the camp located 20 miles from Minneapolis.

The three days were filled with discussion groups, worship services, panels, and many forms of recreation. Main speaker for the conference was Dr. Huntley Dupre, the dean of Macalester college.

YWCA and YMCA representatives came from eleven different colleges. Stout was very well represented this year.

Formal initiation was discussed at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon on Thursday, November 3, in the club room. Welcome was extended to Dick Bilse, visiting alumnus, and discussion was held concerning the jackets which the Phi Sigs are selling.

The River Room in Durand was selected for the formal initiation banquet with chicken and T-bone steak on the menu. The date was set for Thursday evening, November 6.

Just before the meeting many Phi Sigs were present in the basement of the library to inspect jewelry samples and order them if they wished. The stuffed animals for dinner dance favors attracted special interest.

The L.S.A. met Sunday night for an evening of fellowship and fun. This next weekend may be a big one for someone from this group, for this meeting is scheduled at Gustavus Adolphus college in St. Peter, Minnesota. So far plans for a representative are indefinite.

The possibilities of a joint get-together with the L.S.A.'s from Eau Claire and River Falls were talked over. It was decided to try to hold it in Stout. The aim is to get a bigger turn out this year.

Highlight of the evening was a talk by an instructor from the Lutheran Seminary in St. Paul.

Gamma Delta met for a vesper service, cost supper, and business meeting at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday evening, October 30. The next meeting will be at 6:00 p.m. on November 13.

"You should be ashamed of yourself," reprimanded the father.

"Why, when George Washington was your age he was hard at work as a surveyor, earning good money."

"Sure," replied the youth in a swift counter-attack, "and when he was

The Stout Snooper

Hi! After the business and dizziness of the end of the nine weeks, or mid-term, you can't blame me for making a mistake, after all none of us are human. Yes, even I, the Snooper, am still dizzy from that last week, but I may be wrong, but I'm not far from it.

I first heard this "crazy talk" from a Stout fellow, named Bun. Yes, Bun is a skid-talker. Although skid-talking is not exactly foolery, I think the beginning of another "nine weeks," loyal skid-talkers are wondering what this new language is: well, it's more than the slip of the tongue; it's the slip of the whole mind, especially the Stout student's. In effect, it produces one idea on top of another, producing sort of a double exposure—and my friend and your fellow student, Bun, is a master of this new "art."

Two weeks ago, I heard him say to a friendly frat rival, "I hope it goes over with a crash." And back a few more weeks, after a sneak preview of a homecoming float, Bun came over to the union and commented, "It's a great float; don't miss it if you can."

Yes, that's the insidious thing about skid-talk—you're never quite sure you've heard it. Skid language is like a time bomb; it ticks away quietly in a few minutes later, your mind explodes with the abrupt realization that something about the remark you heard was a trifle askew.

Commenting about the Stout Halloween pranks, he said, "If George Washington were alive today, he'd turn over in his grave."

Perhaps you would like to learn how to skid-talk. The simplest way consists of mixing words. For example: "Too many cooks in the soup;" "From time immoral;" "It was so dark you couldn't see your face in front of you."

And when you've conquered this, you can turn an entire sentence inside out effectively so the listeners can't possibly set it straight again. Like Bun said, "Don tells me something one morning and out the other." And Bun's comment about the married vets at Fair Oaks and the Courts was, "Two can live as cheaply as one, but it costs them twice as much."

Bun described Lake Menomin as a lake coming up to the shore.

I also caught Bun having "fun?" in a "certain place" saying, "I want some hot-water juice and a lemon." After he swallowed this "potent" drink, he hollered, "For your information let me ask you a question."

Skid-talking is easy to learn, so try it; at least attempt it. I, the Snooper, have concluded that Bun is a natural skid-zophrenic. Yes, he's a split personality, all in one!

The Weather Bird is a hardy individual who thrives on winter weather, refuses to fly south for the winter, and takes great pride in the reliability of his week end weather forecast.

(I take everything he says with a grain of salt, as you would probably be wise to do.) However, today he delivered the following profound statement.

"Tell those birds down at Stout that they better wear warm clothes again this weekend, because it's going to be chilly; about 35 to 40 degrees during the day, with colder nights and more snow flurries." He wouldn't put himself out on a limb, but I think he's worried about another November 11 blizzard.

EICH RESIDENTS HAVE REUNION AT JEATRAN'S

A reunion of the residents of Eichelberger Hall, during the years of 1947-1948, was held at Jeatran's Supper Club at 6:30 p.m., on Saturday, October 22, 1955. Twelve girls out of 28 were present. Each girl told about her family and introduced her husband.

Prizes were given to the couple travelling the farthest--Mr. and Mrs. William Baer, Beloit, Wisconsin; girl who married the tallest man--Mrs. Bob Grunstad, Minneapolis, Minnesota; girl who married the shortest man--Mrs. Bill Baer, Beloit; and the couple with the most children--Mr. and Mrs. Lefty Lee, Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin. A letter from Mrs. June Miller Golmer, the housemother at Eichelberger, in 1947-1948, was read.

There was a total of 28 children among the twelve girls attending the dinner. The girls who attended are as follows: Mrs. J. L. Barrette (Alice Mott), 2031 Second Street North, Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin; Mrs. Robert Grunsted (Virginia Johnson), 5633 Nevada Ave. N., Minneapolis 27, Minn.; Mrs. Lefty Lee (Marilyn Kelly), 651 Irvine Street, Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin; Mrs. Hubert Fisher (Lois Forehand), 221 W. 3rd Street, Menomonie, Wisconsin; Mrs. Richard Hencley (Murielle Honkes), 1903 Woodland Ave., Eau Claire, Wisconsin; Mrs. Kenneth Mattison (Delaney Johnson), Clear Lake, Wisconsin; Mrs. Allen Muhasky (Lorraine Swift), Rt. 3, Whitewater, Wisconsin; Mrs. Paul Partridge (Pat Gardiner), 2319 N. E. 1955 PLACEMENT OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS GRADS

One of Stout's outstanding home-coming events was the reunion of those who had enrolled together at the college in 1941. Here for the get-together were Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Adams, nee Joan Quilling, Merrill; Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey, nee Audrey And-reassen, Red Wing, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hanson, nee Audrey Keith, Franklin Park, Ill.; Luella Seymer Hovie, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kleist, nee Neva Harmeling, Des Moines, Ia.; Lenore Landry, Madison; Jean Daniels Melchert and Alice Finger Wolk, Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. John Milbrath, nee Flossie Lindow, River Falls; Carol Milnes Poindexter, Kansas City, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ristow, Green Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wendt, nee Eleanor Kop-ischkie, Stoughton; Eileen Algiers Litka, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. James Quilling, nee Jimmie Hoeth, and Jean Kysilko Andre, Menomonie.

Highlight of the get-together was a 6:30 dinner Saturday evening at the Hotel Marion which was also attended by 20 faculty members. The class had when in school, some now retired.

Mrs. Poindexter who flew here for the occasion received the prize for coming the farthest. Mrs. Litka and Mrs. Andre tied for having the largest family, each having four. The prize was given to Mrs. Litka as Mrs. Andre had received the prize for being married the longest.

Jim Bailey reported on those unable to be present and then the group told what his neighbor on his right had been doing which rounded out a delightful evening.

A total of 140 letters to those who started out together at Stout in 1941 were sent out. Graduating in 1945 were 68 with only three men graduating because of the war calling many into service.

and his well-known Royal Blackhaws. Dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. and continue until 12:30 a.m. As in the past, hours will be extended to 1:00 a.m. for those attending.

Coronation of the Queen will take place during intermission. Mr. Robert Swanson, advisor of the Sigma Tau fraternity, will have the honor of crowning the Queen.

June with her escort, Herb Brodt, will lead the traditional Grand March. Bill Erpenbach, chairman of the dance; John Posewitz in charge of decorations; Fred Hodges, publicity, and Jim Kogler, tickets and program head, along with all the other fraternity members, are all working to make this 1955 "Rose Dance" the best.

With a lovely setting, a pretty queen and court, and reduced prices, this dance sounds very inviting. So, fellows, ask that gal now!

NEWMAN CLUB ENJOYS DELICIOUS BREAKFAST

The Newman Club held a meeting Sunday morning after the 9:30 Mass. After a delicious breakfast of tomato juice, scrambled eggs, bacon, toast, and cocoa, the chairman of each committee gave a report.

Delegates were chosen to attend a Newman club convention which is to be held this weekend on the University of Minnesota campus. The members who will attend are Chuck Weber, Larry Bruno, Betty Havlik, and President Bob Tenesson. Another group of members will also attend.

The Tuesday night lecture and discussion programs will now be given on Sunday evenings. This change in time will enable more members to attend. Approximately sixty members attended this meeting. The next breakfast will be November 20.

The little diamond sparkled beautifully as the newly-engaged girl held out her hand to show her ring to an old schoolmate.

DORM NEWS

No doubt, you've heard something about a Mexico trip. Well, rumor has it that Ken Dickie is planning a trip to New Mexico. How about that Ken, going during Christmas vacation?

Leo Janis and Dick Cheke stayed with Bill Romoser in Ashland over the weekend. Bill is in the St. Joseph's Hospital following an injury in the football game.

All residents of the dorm have to proctor at sometime or other, and one of the fellows had a hard time staying awake. We hear he solved the problem by drinking a gallon of coffee. That was a hard weekend, huh?

STOUT CLIMAXES FOOTBALL SEASON BY DEFEATING STRONG NORTHLAND TEAM 27-19

The Stout Blue Devils defeated Northland Saturday night. The game was exciting and showed an experienced Stout team. The final score was 27-19.

Although the game was won, it left the Stout team with tragedy. Stout's outstanding quarterback, Bill Romoser, received a back injury and was hospitalized at Ashland. It was thought that Bill had broken his back, but examination showed that he had a muscle injury. The latest report is that he is doing very well and is expected to return to Menomonee soon.

Congratulations are in order to the team for a fine football season. The Blue Devils team was a young and inexperienced team at the beginning of the season, but at the close of the season, the team showed definite signs of a winning team next year.

Congratulations to Coach Jack Wink and his assistants for the fine season.

Outstanding on the field for Stout this season were: Leo Janis, full back; Bob Noltner, half back; Don Woelffer, quarter back; John Oakeson, guard; Dick Tepp, center; Ron Ebben, half; Dick Cheke, half; Basil Holder, end; Rufus Ihde, half; Tom Malchow, quarter back; and George Riberio, half.

This season Stout won two games, tied one, and lost five. The scores were as follows:

Stout 13	Winona 0
Stout 6	Superior 6
Stout 6	LaCrosse 46
Stout 19	Eau Claire 29
Stout 12	River Falls 27
Stout 12	Platteville 13
Stout 7	St. Cloud 37
Stout 27	Northland 19

The football season has come to an end, but it seems that next season will prove to be victorious for the Stout Blue Devils.

STOUT HOLDS MEETING WITH EAU CLAIRE

Eight members of Eau Claire state teachers college club met with Stout's Canterbury club last Sunday evening at the Episcopal church in Menomonee.

Following the service, the two groups were guests of the parish guild at a barbecue supper.

To break the ice, "human bingo" was played, the bingo cards first being filled out with names of people present. The filling of the cards enabled each person from Stout to talk personally with each member from the other college.

Eau Claire members making the icy trip were: Phyllis Gow, Mary Muenich, Carol Warner, Gretchen Sutter, Jerry Smith, Jim Warner, John Curtis, and Dean Brandt, advisor for the Eau Claire organization.

Plans were discussed for future joint meetings between Stout and Eau Claire.

STUDENTS VISIT EUROPE VIA FILMORAMA

You were there in Filmorama! Wednesday the Stout students traveled to Europe via plane. In full color, clear vivid pictures were shown of many countries.

Those who attended the morning program saw one film and many returned in the evening to see both of George Barnard's films. Beautiful pictures of life and scenery were shown. The water ways in Italy impressed the students as did the Parthenon which stood several thousand years. Everything from gambling places to cathedrals were viewed.

The assembly - lyceum committee wishes to thank all those who aided in helping prepare Filmorama and making it such a big success here at Stout.

The model seemed unaffected by the artist's kiss, but she was impressed by his statement that she was the first model he had ever kissed.

"Really?" she asked, "and how many models did you have before me?"

"Six, he replied, "a tree, an apple, an orange, and three vases filled with flowers."

"CAMPUS CUTIES" ARE PERFECT GIFT

"Campus Cuties" are the main attraction in Harvey Hall these days. Alpha Sigma Alpha is now taking orders for these novelty gloves that are just right for yourselves or for a new twist in Christmas gifts. Made by members of A.S.A. the gloves come in any color or style. Students are invited to design their own and Alpha Sigs will make them up in any color wished. Be sure and get yours ordered now, to get them for those Christmas gifts that have been "stumping" you.

DORM NEWS

Tomorrow night is the Rose Dance, and the three dorms are filled with ruffles and net. It seems there is an unusual number of girls going. Is it that the girls are more insistent, or the boys are less resistant? We've been wondering!

A new quarter is in progress, and along this line is a new course in physical education for the girls, which includes a new set of groans from body building, more wet hair and form fitting tank suits for swimming and then the usual gym suits for those in badminton and archery. Good luck girls and more power to you!

Looks like the snow is here to stay and so the cold walk to and from the dorms. Any rides from the gallant male population of Stout state college for the demure maidens would surely be appreciated. Don't forget the coming dorm parties. It helps to stay in good with the girls and can you think of a better gismo?

Also along the snow line all the girls are polishing skis and oiling their skates to be used in the wonderful, bountiful winter months that will follow.

There is a lot of short-sheeting in the Annex the past few nights. Even the counselor got the delights of the venture. It seems that it backfired though. Say what, girls?

Packages from home and letters with money, are on high priority these days. Also the home town news is good reading even to those who would never read it at home.

The painter gallery of Jan Beckman is visited often on the 3rd floor of the Annex. Some of the girls want to take lessons, but most of her talent won't wear off.

Author of an article, "A Picturesque Night Lamp," is Donald G. Hiller, recent Stout graduate now teaching in Franklin Park, Illinois. Hiller was a member of the Stout course in the writing of feature articles.

Two other articles, both dealing with the use of plastics in the school industrial arts shop, are the work of Robert Swanson, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout state college.

Whydolski's class was on the second floor.)

The pledge stood for a while with a blank look on his face and then said, "Well, Mr. Cornwell is lecturing, and I didn't want to bother him."

"What the devil do you think I am doing?" exploded Mr. Wydolski.

Need we say more about initiations and such things?

W.R.A. MEMBERS GO TO STATE CONVENTION

Stout's W.R.A. will be represented at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Athletic Federation for College Women to be held in Madison on the University campus, November 19. Sheila Morris, vice-president of our local WRA, will serve as the official delegate and Carol Lehman is to be the unofficial delegate.

All members are reminded of the important business meeting to be held on Monday evening, November 14, at 7:00 p.m. The constitution and point system are major items to be discussed.

For an evening of thrilling volleyball competition, all Stout students are asked to witness the Championship playoff game, to be played on Monday, November 27 in the Stout gym.

FRESHMAN MIXER A SUCCESS

On Friday night, November 4, the Stout gym was unusually decorated with green paper beanie's dotting the walls. Each beanie bore the name of one of the enthusiastic freshmen who had helped to make the freshman party successful.

Recorded music was furnished, and refreshments of soda and potato chips were served. The dance was under the direction of the class officers: Dave Springer, Don Weghorn, Charlotte Bergmann, and Marlynn Andre.

The freshman class would like to thank the faculty members who attended and Radio Station WMNE for helping to make the 1955 freshman mixer a success.

MUSIC GROUPS PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS

With the successful presentation of a fall concert behind them, the musical organizations are now centering their attention on musical numbers for the annual Christmas concert to be given Wednesday, December 14.

In addition to the regular evening performance, a special convocation will be given Wednesday at 10:00 for the student body.

DR. SMITS SPEAKS TO LUTHERAN GROUP

Despite icy sidewalks and a nasty winter wind, forty L.S.A. members gathered at Peace Lutheran church for one of the most inspirational meetings this year.

Dr. Edmund Smits, professor of philosophy at Luther Theological Seminary gave an enlightening talk on "Man's Search for God." Hymns led by Harland Giese, devotions by Ray Burkhalter and a candlelight supper by Lucille Anderson's committee rounded out the meeting.

In his one hour address, the Latvian doctor pointed to three main factors in organized religion's answer to mankind's search for God. OBEDIENCE to one God (Jew, Moslem, Christian); CONTEMPLATION (Hindu, Confucian, Ancient Greek); SELF - IMPROVEMENT (Ancient Greek) are methods which claim to reveal the meaning and value of life.

The broadness of Dr. Smits lecture experience and his personal answer to included anecdotes from his teaching the "Pursuit of Happiness." Regarding our teacher preparation, the professor said, "You have chosen a great task - to be teachers. Competent teaching and guidance must have religion as a basis."

will print during the year. All processes to be described in the articles have been developed in the general shop department of Stout state college.

In his first article, "Plastics—Three Dimensional Forming," the author describes the progress which has made sheet plastics feasible as materials for shop projects. Mr. Swanson then clarifies the two-dimensional and three-dimensional forming of such plastics.

Mr. Swanson, in his second article, discusses the importance of design to any shop project and then offers directions for making an attractive lamp having a metal base and plastic shade.

"GRAMERCY GHOST" OPENED TO A FULL HOUSE LAST NIGHT

"Gramercy Ghost" opened last night to a full house. From the reaction of the audience and all comments heard, the play seems to have been a big success and enjoyed by all. If you did not see the play last night be sure to see it either tonight or tomorrow night, November 18 and 19 at 8:15 p.m. Tickets may be purchased on the evenings of each performance at the Stout state college auditorium. Stout state students will be admitted upon the presentation of their S.S.A. cards. The play, "Gramercy Ghost," is built around the subject of inheritance. Now this may sound rather common, but have you ever heard of inheriting a ghost? The leading lady, Nancy Willard, (Audrey Adams) has this astonishing experience. It seems that Nancy lived a quiet and comfortable life until her landlady died at 103 and willed her the ghost of Nathaniel Coombes, (Gene Ender) a young and handsome Revolutionary War soldier. Nathaniel was ambushed and killed in 1776 and because of his failure to deliver a message to George Washington, Nathaniel can not get into heaven. He is thus doomed to an earth bound existence as a ghost in Nancy's apartment. Incidentally, Nancy and the audience are the only ones who can see the ghost.

Complications set in as three young men become interested in Nancy. They are Parker Baurnett (Clarence Felhaker) to whom she is engaged, Charles Stewart (Douglas Dornier) a young newspaper man, and Nathaniel the ghost.

Others involved in this gay comedy are Margaret Collins (Carol Smith), Officer Morrison (Frances Karacker), Irv (Brian Kirby), Rocky (Eddie Birch), Ambulance Driver (Don Pritchard), Assistant Driver (Barbara Bender) and Nathaniel's Sweetheart (Bette Zander).

After all the confusion and excitement, the play ends on a very happy note. Charley wins Nancy from Parker and Nathaniel, the ghost, gains admittance to heaven, for he is the one who enables Nancy to choose the right husband.

An evening of laughter, excitement and fun are sure to be yours if you attend "Gramercy Ghost." Bring your family and friends and enjoy this fast moving three act comedy.

John J. Kirby is to be complimented on the excellent job of directing. Compliments also go to Norman C. Ziemann, Technical director, Herb Pringle, set designer, and to all the M.A.P. members who helped make "Gramercy Ghost" a success.

JUNE BRODT CROWNED ROSE QUEEN AT DANCE

The attractively decorated high school gym was the scene of the seventh annual all school Rose Dance held last Saturday evening. Blue roses on white crepe paper walls, blue and white streamers sprinkled with paper roses and the queen's throne created a festive atmosphere for the many dancing couples.

June Brodt was crowned Rose Queen before the large group that attended the dance. Her court consisted of Rita Jackson, Colleen Ceminsky, Marilee Cate, and Donna Neerhof.

The evening came to an end much too soon for most couples. Music was furnished by George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks. Dancing was held from 8:30 to 11:30.

DREAM TRIP TO THE TROPIC ISLES IS REAL

Yes, it is really true; a few weeks ago, it was just a rumor. Now for about $350 you can take an Easter Holiday to the Caribbean Islands.

How delightful it sounds. Just think, a whole week for relaxation on some beautiful island, time for studying and observing the natives in their own land; which all means days packed full of excitement and adventure.

Doesn't this sound like fun! But there's only room for about 30 students. So if you are interested, why not see Mrs. Vanek or go to Dean Kirk's office soon.

Where will you spend your Easter vacation? Will it be on some "Tropical Isle?"

MISS KILLIAN SPEAKS TO A.A.U.W. MEMBERS ON FOREIGN COOKERY AND HOLIDAY FOODS

Speaking to 175 members and guests of the La Crosse chapter of the American Association of University Women, Miss Mary Killian, associate professor of home economics at Stout State college, recently discussed with them "Foreign Cookery and Holiday Foods."

Before explaining the characteristics of the foods of various nations, many habits and techniques of eating which seem strange to persons visiting other lands were described by Miss Killian.

Among such eating habits that are often described as "Strange," Miss Killian spoke of the eating of rice with chop-sticks and the Russian delight in drinking tea from a glass and then straining that tea through a lump of sugar which the gourmet holds between his teeth.

Americans, Miss Killian points out, are equally astounding to foreigners who strive to eat corn on the cob when this delicacy drips with melted butter or try to eat "foot-long" hot dogs, which have no equal on the foreign scene. Turning to foods characteristic of various nations, the speaker discussed French artistry in sauces and soups, Italian superiority in food pastes, German preference for "substantial fare" and English delight in such unadorned dishes as roast beef and Yorkshire pudding.

Miss Killian then devoted the remainder of her address to holiday delicacies. She described an 1862 Thanksgiving meal featuring 50 choices of food. The culinary philosophy of that day, the speaker pointed out, was "to cover every inch of the table with a dish."

New values in entertaining, nutrition, food preparation and food selection have greatly simplified even America's holiday repasts, Miss Killian told her audience.

In conclusion, the speaker described the preparation of a simple Christmas coffee hour for family friends and also provided recipes and ideas for other holiday entertaining.

NATIONAL PRINTING WEEK JANUARY 15-21

Printing Education Week sponsored by the Stout Typographical Society is scheduled for the week of January 15-21. Planned to coincide with National Printing Week and to honor Benjamin Franklin, the patron St. of printers, the S.T.S. is anticipating a successful event.

One day, Wednesday, January 18, is set aside especially for open house. Everyone is more than welcome, the S.T.S. is even willing to pay you to come. Although open house has been held in past years, it was not held last year. The S.T.S. is looking forward to at least an attendance of 1,000 because of the increased enrollment.

Among the points of interest to be included in the tour of the print shop will be several displays such as as displays of progressive wall-paper and printing rolls. The S.T.S. is contacting other companies for graphic art displays, some of which will be exhibited at the library. Besides all of these interesting displays and such, souvenirs will be given to all present and coffee and doughnuts served.

GIVE A FRUIT CAKE FOR CHRISTMAS

For that special Homemade touch give fruit cake for gifts. The Dietetic Fruit Cake sale will begin November 21 so you'll be able to take them home when you go for Thanksgiving thus leaving extra room in your suitcase when Christmas Vacation begins.

The cakes make a special gift for a special friend. They are attractively wrapped in saran wrap for special protection. They are then gayly decorated with bright red ribbons with a touch of spruce or pine.

For those of you who wish to wait, the cakes will be on sale in Harvey Hall from December 5 to December 10. The cost is $1 for a pound cake.

Large production is the word for the preparation of the fruit cakes which you see on sale in Harvey Hall. They are made in assembly line fashion by the members of the Dietetic Club. All dry ingredients are weighed out on Friday, mixing begins at 6:30 Saturday morning, and 150 delicious cakes are out of the ovens, rich brown in color with a spicy aroma tempting you by 10:00.

U.S.S.R. MOVIES PRESENTED BY STUDENTS

The uncensored movies of the U.S.S.R. were shown by Gay Humphrey at the Wednesday convocation. Accompanied by Ted Curnon, also an American student and graduate of Columbia University, Miss Humphrey gave a penetrating analysis of Soviet Society as it is today.

The unusual motion pictures, which have been shown on C.B.S. television several times this year, were supplemented by absorbing tales of individuals in the movies-how they live, what they think about, and their view of the United States. Through the film the audience became aware of the poor conditions which exist in Russia.

Distributing dairy products is Betty Havlik, 1955 Vernon County Dairy Queen. Betty, a sophomore at Stout state college, was chosen this summer and has represented her county in several dairy industry functions.

THREE SSC FACULTY TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Taking a prominent part in the annual American Vocational Association convention, to be held in Atlantic City from December 5-9, will be three educators of Stout state college.

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, will participate on a panel devoted to "Merits and Methods of Providing Occupational Experiences as Part of Industrial Teacher Preparation."

Dean of Stout's division of industrial education, Dr. John A. Jarvis will have three responsibilities at the convention. He is a member of the important Policy and Planning committee of the Industrial Arts Division.

Dean Jarvis will then appear before the Industrial Arts division business session to discuss "Student Membership in the American Vocational Association."

Later Dr. Jarvis will act as chairman of a roundtable devoted to a discussion of "Tomorrow's Teachers."

Dr. Robert Rudiger, assistant professor of education at Stout State college and executive secretary of the National Stout Alumni association, will be in charge of the Stout alumni reunion breakfast in Atlantic City.

The reunion breakfast will be held this year at the Senator hotel on Wednesday, December 7, at 7:30 a.m.

ART CLASSES LEARNING VARIETY OF METHODS

How is your house? Did you have trouble getting your door in? This talk has been going on in Miss William's Fundamental Design class. The girls are learning how to draw rooms by perspective. They found out what a difference a straight or curved line will make. They have now started making mobiles.

Miss Amon's Fundamental Design Class recently worked with textile painting and created designs. Some of the students stenciled designs on place mats, ties, scarves, and aprons. The students are now printing posters.

The craft class has been working with copper jewelry and enameling. Articles made are earrings, bracelets, and cuff links. Weaving is the next item for craft class.

Home Furnishing Class is planning the floor plans for Miss Amon's office. The class is giving suggestions for color schemes, furniture, and flooring.

NOTICE

For convenience of both students and faculty the 11:00 classes on Wednesday, November 23 will be conducted at 10:00.

Since there is no convocation scheduled for this Wednesday before vacation, the 11:00 classes have been pushed up to that hour. Hats off to the Deans for one more hour of vacation time!

NOTICE

The "400" will stop for Thanksgiving Vacation Wednesday noon, November 23 at the junction at 1:30 p.m. and will stop for the return on Sunday evening, November 27.

The buses will pick up students at the east door of the Home Economics building at two different times. The first trip will be at 12:30 and the second trip at 1:00. The bus will also stop in front of Tainter Annex.

STUDENTS SHOULD BUY THEIR TICKETS AT THE CITY DEPOT AHEAD OF TIME.

PLANS MADE FOR COMING BALL

The intersorority ball planning gets underway this year with the selection of its theme "Noel Moderne." This annual affair is scheduled for Saturday evening, December 3.

A modern Christmas in a semi-romantic setting will be depicted with silver and blue modernistic decorations creating the dream like atmosphere.

Committee duties have been assigned to each of the sororities as follows: General chairman, Hyperion sorority; in charge of punch, advisory programs, corsages, and transportation; decorations, Tri Sigma sorority; miscellaneous, Alpha Sigma Alpha; invitations, programs, and the orchestra; clean-up, Pallas Athene sorority.

STUDENT MEMO: NO-CUT RULES AFFECT YOU

For the benefit of new students and forgetful old ones, the days preceding and following Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations are "no-cut" days.

Thanksgiving vacation begins at noon on Wednesday, November 23. Accordingly the "no-cut" regulation applies from 8 a.m. to noon on Wednesday and all day the following Monday.

The same regulation applies to the Christmas vacation which begins on Friday, December 16. All classes will be attended from 8 a.m. to Friday noon and also on the day that classes resume which is Tuesday, January 3. Failure to attend classes without excuse during this "no-cut" period will result in a negative grade point for each class cut.

Keep this regulation in mind to secure pre-vacation assignments and also to protect those vital grade points which come in so handy about graduation time.

WEATHERBIRD SAYS:

The Weather Bird is a hardy individual who thrives on winter weather, refuses to fly south for the winter, and takes great pride in the reliability of his week end weather forecast.

(I take everything he says with a grain of salt, as you would probably be wise to do.)

The weatherbird told me this morning he may be forced to change his way of life if we continue to have weather like this past week's, but he seemed to think this weekend would be fairly good flying weather.

He came by the house Wednesday on snow shoes, muttering something about low pressure areas going berserk, and sporting a generally bad disposition.

"We'll have snow on the ground tomorrow and Sunday, winds and continued cool temperature," he said today.

As an afterthought he added, "If you birds want to keep your tail feathers intact, stay out of the woods tomorrow. There'll be a lot of lead flying." (Deer hunting starts Saturday.)

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Soon Thanksgiving vacation will be here. Many of us will be traveling home to enjoy the traditional turkey dinner and all the trimmings. Although some of us will go by bus, the majority of students will go by car.

Often in our rush to get home, we abandon many safety rules and take risky chances on the road. Consequently, the accident toll for our age group continues to climb.

During any holiday, many people will be on the road; this is a time when we should be especially careful. With our physical qualities of better eyesight, hearing, and endurance, we should be setting examples for others to follow instead of speeding to reach our destination.

Avoid the rush home and back by allowing a little extra time, if possible. It's better to be late and get there in one piece than not get there at all. As a rider, you can help too by not distracting the driver.

Remember, put safety first, and then you'll enjoy a happy, accident free Thanksgiving.

CLUB NEWS

It has been a busy week for members of Aloha Sigma Alpha who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brodt last evening.

Sunday the sorority attended the Congregational Church as a group. Alpha Sigma Alpha's Founders' Day was November 15, when the members had dinner at the Harbour Inn following ceremonies in Harvey Memorial.

Because of the redecorating of the tea room, the pink tea has been postponed until Monday, November 21.

Wesley will hold a basket social on Sunday, November 20, at 5:30 p.m. The girls are asked to bring food for two, for herself and for the lucky fellow who buys her basket. Fellows, we have limited the price of the basket to $5.00. Everyone is welcome to come.

The annual Pallas Athene Thanksgiving dinner was held Thursday November 17, at 5:45 p. m. Following the dinner, members and pledges attended the play.

The week of pledging duties for the thirteen pledges began after the dinner meeting.

Sunday evening, the L.S.A. held their weekly meeting at Our Saviors church. A lively panel discussion on the Thanksgiving theme was carried on with everyone participating. Afterwards, they had devotions and supper. The business meeting was held, but no new business was brought up.

Gamma Delta met for a vesper service, cost supper, business meeting, and a special showing of the movie, "Dr. Martin Luther" on Sunday evening, November 13, at 6:00 p.m. Plans were made for future meetings including a Christmas party on December 11.

The next meeting is at 5:00 p.m. in the school basement on November 20. Roll call will be answered with a Bible passage containing the word "feast." The first of a series of discussions is being planned.

The Home Economics club would like to use your rosette irons and krum passage containing the word "feast". mas sale. Could you bring some back with you after Thanksgiving? Leave your name in the Home Economics club mailbox if you have irons we could use.

Plans for the trip to the Intercollegiate Rifle Sectional Championship matches on March 17, 1956 were made at a recent meeting of the Rifle Club. The match will probably be fired at Madison.

The club lost its third match of the year to the University of Vermont by a score of 1869 to 1678.

No meeting is being planned for the week of Thanksgiving vacation.

DORM NEWS

Happy Birthday was sung to Betty and Ruth Ann in the annex on Sunday night. The occasion caused a feast with three cakes and pints of community ice cream (furnish your own spoon).

Now that the Rose Dance is over all the girls are slowly getting the stars out of their eyes, and the sparkle glitter out of their hair. As the dates slowly found their ways to the front porch at 12:59 1/2, they realized how wonderful the evening was and all felt glad that the Sig Taus had a Rose of Sigma Tau. There were mixed emotions on Sunday as the girls sat together to talk over the Rose formal. Some were exalted while others were pretty tired. It was a big evening of dancing and eating and pictures and all.

The Stout Snooper

Re-entering Stout students of 1955 were my center of snooping interests this week. My duties led me to the Registrar's Office where I looked in the files to discover just who are or how many re-entering 1955 male students are on campus.

The total number is 34 and out of this number, 29 are veterans! In the veteran group there are four returning seniors, ten juniors, seven sophomores, and five freshmen.

These young men, now veterans, first entered Stout as early as 1948 and as late as 1952. Richard Pederson, junior, and Paul Reyord, sophomore, first entered Stout in 1948. Lester Fritz, junior, and Vern Christensen, junior, were freshmen in 1949.

Leonard Alexander, freshman; Richard Kresse, junior; Leonard Olud, sophomore; Homer Peloquin, freshman; Orville Torgerson, junior; and Herbert Yoshida, junior; are the six that began their Stout career in 1952.

I, the Snooper, think that an interesting feature of this group is that all, except three of these young men, hail from Wisconsin hometowns, varying from Watertown to Green Lake.

DELEGATION ATTENDS CONVENTION

Revolution and its far-reaching effects was the topic discussed at the YM and YWCA district fall conference last weekend, November 4-6. Students from nine colleges met at Camp Ihduhapi, Loretto, Minnesota with Dr. Huntley Dupre, Dean of Macalester college and world traveler as main speaker.

Dr. Dupre said that, "A revolution doesn't have to be associated with violence but may change, rather than destroy." He pointed out three things for which mankind is searching: livelihood, knowledge, and liberty. "These three quests must be satisfied," he continued. The speaker concluded that "Christians are a minority, but they can be a creative minority if they understand what is happening and act accordingly."

Two foreign students and a student who had traveled abroad last summer were on a panel to give their observations of the revolution from personal experience. These students later participated in discussion groups to give further help.

Six YWCA members from Stout who attended were Miss Harper, advisor; Kay Hawkins, district representative; Barb Austin, president; Jermaine Folkman, treasurer; Jane Olia; and Barb Pike. These girls were in charge of recreation during the two day conference.

Colleges present in addition to Stout were Austin Junior college, Carleton, Hamline, Macalester, University of Minnesota, Duluth branch of the university, Northland, and River Falls.

But the three who hail from outside of Wisconsin are Thomas Tsuji from Hilo, Hawaii; Glen Voelz, Maywood, Illinois; and Herbert Yoshida, Wailuku, Maui (an Hawaiian island).

Hats off to these young men and to all of the other 1955 returning students (both men and women) and to those who have re-entered in previous years! I hope I am speaking for the entire student body when I say, "We are glad to see you back!"

'Bye for now; remember, I'm snooping.

JOHN ONG PURSUES BLASTING HOBBY

A student here on campus has quite a unique sideline. For several years, John Ong has been interested in dynamiting and has become quite experienced in the field as a licensed dynamiter.

John became interested in blasting while he was attending the University of Wisconsin in 1950. During a geology field trip, he found a charge that hadn't gone off and experimented with it. Soon after, he did practice work near Blue Mounds doing exploratory work for a resort owner.

Later John became a carpenter apprentice and during slack work he did blasting jobs, some for people that dynamite companies had sent to him. He traveled with a Du Pont salesman and watched several big jobs.

Most of his dynamiting was done in the vicinity of Madison. There he worked on city projects, basement excavations, and quarry jobs on a subcontractor level.

Recently, he has been asked to teach a course in blasting at the University extension service at Merrill.

John is here on an A. F. of T. scholarship. His home is in Madison. If you ever need any blasting done, Ong's Blasting Place is the place to go.

ments are cordially invited to apply at the same time for a Danforth Fellowship.

If a man receives the Danforth Appointment, together with a Rhodes Scholarship, Fulbright Scholarship, or Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, he becomes a Danforth Fellow without stipend, until these other relationships are completed.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Minniewan in Michigan next September.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including faith and commitment within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by February 15, 1956. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with R. G. Iverson, our Liaison Officer.

PLATTEVILLE WAS SITE OF U.S.F. CONFERENCE

"Encounter on the Campus", the USF State conference was held at Platteville on November 11, 12, and 13. Stout students attending were Ed Clary, Helen Russell, and Carol Hatch. Helen Russell was elected Study chairman for the state wide organization. Ten schools from throughout the state were represented at this conference.

INTER-RELIGIOUS TO FEATURE DR. AGNEW, NOV. 21

Dr. Dwight L. Agnew, head of the social department, will be the discussion leader at the meeting of the Inter-Religious Council on next Monday, November 21, at 5:30 p.m., in the Trinity Methodist Church basement. The discussion topic will be, "Religion in the Social Studies."

A discussion period has been added to the agenda of each Inter-Religious Council meeting this year in order to challenge students interest and growth in religion as a part of higher education. This discussion dealt with the facts of religion rather than with doctrine.

Future meetings will include the discussion of Religion and Literature by Miss Gertrude Callahan, Religion and the Natural Sciences by Dr. Otto Nitz, moral and ethical problems of college students by selected members, and of the successful procedures used by various religious organizations by the President of these organizations.

As these topics are of general interest to many students and faculty members, all those who wish to come are invited. Those who wish to attend should place a note in the mailbox of the President of the Inter-Religious Council, Joan Morneau, at least one day in advance of the meeting so that supper arrangements can be made. It will be assumed that members of the Inter-Religious Council will attend unless they notify Joan to the contrary.

SWIMMERS PREPARING FOR MARCH PROGRAM

The Stout Synchronized Swimmers are again preparing for a spring show to be presented March 20, 21, and 22. The theme of this year's show will be "Trip Around the World." Right now the group is working on stunts and basic routines and will soon be working out the routines for the show.

The officers heading this year's group are: President, Margaret Schutte; Vice-president, Jerry Howard; Secretary and Publicity chairman, Marilyn Randall; Treasurer, Jim Jones; Historian, Jean Baumgartner. Mrs. Vanek is working with the group as their advisor.

"The Shop You'll Like"

A man stretched out in the street apparently being ignored by passers-by, was spied by a woman who had just had her fifth lesson in a first-aid course. Whipping off her coat she began to give the man artificial respiration.

He looked up at her and said, "Lady, would you mind letting me put the wire down the manhole?"

EVER-POPULAR 'DEER'

Deer season reigns throughout the year, enjoying top priority at certain times such as spring and early fall and then being shoved into the background during either the very cold or very hot portions of the year.

Late fall when the leaves have left their trees, and a white blanket of snow is on the ground, the male pulse again throbs in the search, this time not in the search for deer, but in the search for deer.

The four legged variety of deer have a much stranger effect on the male population of Stout state college during the hunting season than do the two legged kind of deer that holds no definite open season, but are fair game throughout the four seasons.

The aggressiveness with which the male pursues the four-legged deer vastly overshadows the pursuit of the more fragile two legged variety.

The use of a shotgun or rifle in searching for the two legged deer would not only alienate the deer but also in the case of a successful hunt, render the deer rather useless and at the least a little perturbed.

However, the spirit with which the men go out to the fields to hunt their deer would no doubt bring great success if used while in their quest for a deer of the other variety.

The wild eyed, quick triggered, hunter of the woods simmers down to a jibbering worthless shell of a man when he stalks his prey on the campus. His heart is in his mouth and possibly his foot too. He's mooney eyed and hang-dog looking, and stumbles miserably when approaching for the kill. In many instances it becomes necessary for the hunter to become the hunter.

NEWMAN CLUB SENDS LARGE DELEGATION

Stout state college had the second largest delegation attending the Region Two Newman Club convention which was held last weekend in Minneapolis. Seventeen Catholic students from Stout participated in the event.

The students went to Minneapolis Friday night via cars and bus. They stayed at fraternity and sorority homes. In the evening they registered and later went on a hayride. This was followed by a mixer at the Dude Ranch.

Saturday was devoted to panel discussions by various groups of college students. The theme of the convention was "Lend Me Your Hands." In the evening all members attended a banquet. Afterwards they had a dance. Sunday morning the event was closed by a Communion breakfast at the Corpus Christi church in Minneapolis.

Newman Club will have a regular communion breakfast this Sunday, November 20.

STOUT CATS NO LONGER CHASE RATS

Once there were thirty-five cats, Who long ago used to chase rats; But some scientist found them, Killed and embalmed them, And now you should see those cats.

In phys class "Unit Seven" introduced the Felis domesticus of better known as the ordinary house cat.

With layers of hand lotion on and wrapped up in smocks, aprons, and men's shirts, operation dissection began.

In single file, the girls paraded in with their cat boards upon which rested a very large and a very dead cat. The cat's paws stuck straight in the air, its mouth hung wide open and its fur stuck to its back like a wet wool blanket.

Gently these cats were laid on the and table. With wary hands the girls proceeded to give them a manicure and a brushing; a show cat couldn't have got better treatment.

Then to skin them. Operation two.

"You do it."

"No, you do it."

"I just can't touch it. its so-so-squishy."

The instructor comes up. "I think I'll use this cat for demonstration purposes; so you-girls don't have to skin it."

A sigh of relief. However, the rest of the girls weren't so lucky. Many groans and squalors were heard as the skin was gently and daintily pried from the cat's back. After the first thrust with the knife, they found that it wasn't too bad, and they were surprised when they were told to put the cats away.

"Put the skin back on, just like a coat, tie it together with string and put it into a bag."

Hands were washed, layers of hand lotion put on and aprons, smocks and shirts put away till the next day.

After class, in the hall the girls could be heard telling of their gruesome experiences to their friends.

"You should see those cats. Six and a half feet long and fur - tons of it. But I can hardly wait till tomorrow, we're going to dissect muscles." With a happy smile, they leave their friends who stand in awe, dreading the time when they would come to Unit Seven, Operation Dissection.

DELTA KAPPAS PLEDGE TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

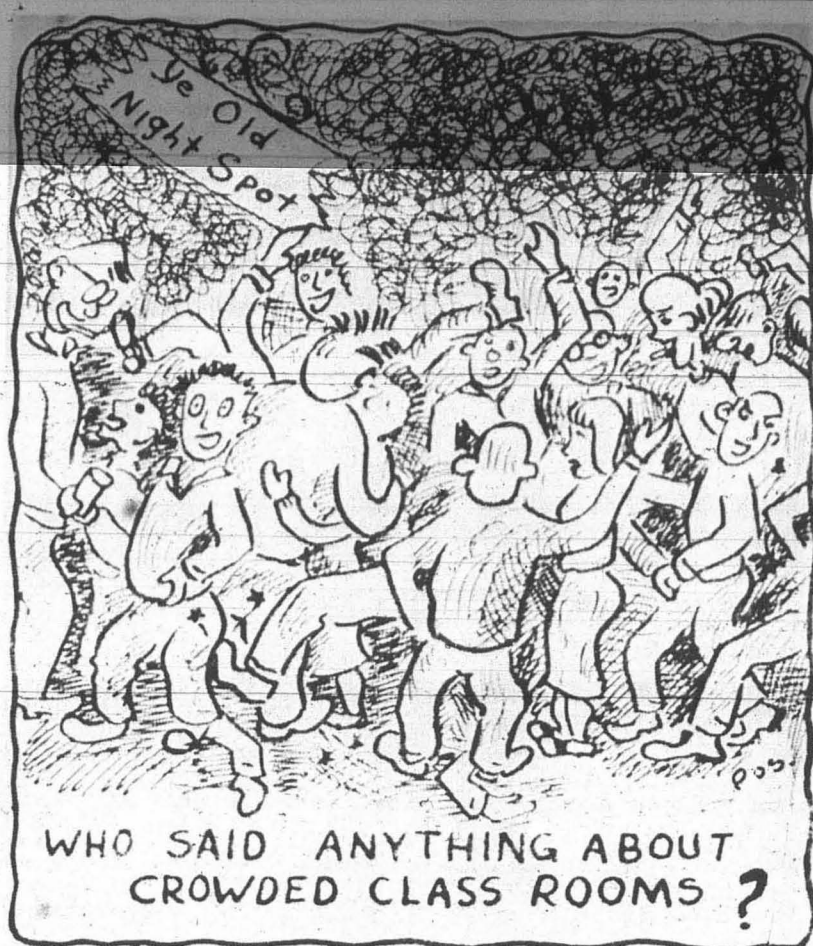

On Thursday, October 27th, an even dozen pledges accompanied the members of Sigma Chapter of the Delta Kappa fraternity to the Hide-a-Way which was the site of their formal initiation.

A family style chicken dinner preceded the ceremony.

The pledges are as follows: Len Alexander, Bill Bettisworth, Romy Gill, Bill Glavin, Les Hansen, Rich Hosford, Dan Messmer, Bob Miller, Bob Peterson, Bob Temple, James Vogtsberger, and Ed Zillman.

As the evening progressed, the group retired to an informal atmosphere characterized by good-fellowship. Dancing of a sort wound-up the gala evening. Partners were chosen from the large list of female admirers who, using bird-dog techniques, usually manage to attend. Hurray for the Sigma Auxillary!

Experience is what you have left after you've completely forgotten the girl's name.

SYMPHONIC CONCERT WILL BE DECEMBER 14

Plans are now under way for the Christmas concert to be presented December 14th by Stout's concert band, choir, and the combined symphonic group. The concert will be held in the Stout auditorium. A large variety of Christmas carols will be presented at convocation for the students, and at 8:00 p. m. for the public and any students wishing to hear the complete concert.

PHI SIGS INITIATE SIX. SELL S.S.C. JACKETS

Six new members were formally initiated into Omega chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon last Thursday night, November 10, at the River Room in Durand. Following a banquet of steak and chicken, the Phi Sigs welcomed the following men into the fraternity: John Schellin, Ray Pearson, Noel Lehner, Tom Kukar, Loren Johnson, and Bill Broadwell.

The long awaited Stout state ski jackets are now available in Harvey Hall. These jackets come in blue and oyster, and they are the only jackets available with the Stout state emblem on them. They make swell Christmas gifts too, so be sure to get yours soon!

"NOEL MODERNE" CHOSEN THEME OF PANHELLENIC BALL TO BE HELD SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9

The very modern misses from Stout's four sororities have chosen Stout's four sororities have chosen year's Panhellenic Ball. The newest modern colors of the year, silver and blue, will be seen in the decorations of balls and modern shapes.

The chairmen of the committees in charge of the various duties are: General chairmen, Alpha Sigma Alpha; General arrangements, Hyperians; Clean-up, Pallas Athene; and Decorations, Sigma Sigma Sigma. The members heading their sororities committee are all representatives from their respective sorority serving on the Panhellenic Council.

Shirley Bournoville, a Sigma Sigma member, who is heading the decoration committee, has four committees working under her. These committees will work on decorations for the walls, ceiling, hall, and bandstand. The walls and ceiling will be adorned with balls and modern shapes in blue and silver. The bandstand will be decorated as a Christmas card. A large Christmas tree will stand in the hall of the building in which the dance is held.

Viola Wicken from the Hyperian sorority is in charge of general arrangements. Her committee is working on the programs, punch, and transportation for the advisors, and faculty members. Sorority members who are engaged to fellows too far from school to attend the dance are pouring punch for the occasion.

The Pallas Athene sorority which is in charge of clean-up is headed by Della Medin.

The sorority acting as General chairmen for the Noel Moderne is Alpha Sigma Alpha and Ann Shemick heads this committee. This committee is in charge of the programs, invitations, and music.

The results of this work will be seen this Saturday evening when approximately 250 faculty members, sorority members and their guests will gather in the silver and blue land of Noel Moderne. George King and his band will set the stage further with their modern music. And so the Christmas season is again off to a, this time sophisticated, Merry Christmas.

TOWER GETS FIRST CLASS HONOR RATING

A First Class Honor Rating Award was given to the 1955 Tower. This award was made possible by the Associated Collegiate Press of the University of Minnesota.

Points taken into consideration were the layout, yearbook design, picture coverage, editorial content, and captions.

The staff of the 1955 Tower should be congratulated on the wonderful work they did on the Tower.

SAFE DRIVING THEME FOR CONTEST

Safe driving is the theme of the eighth annual college newspaper contest sponsored by the Lumberman's Mutual Casualty company. Cash prizes totaling $2100 are being given to students and college newspaper winners in the United States and Canada.

Features, editorials, cartoons, and photographs published in the Stoutonia between November 14 and December 17 are eligible. The editors will properly enter these articles in the contest. Complete information may be found in the Stoutonia office.

AUDIO-VIS PROGRAM PLANNED FOR APRIL

"Financing AudioVisual Programs" will be the theme of the Fourth Annual Audio-Visual Conference to be held next spring at Stout state college. David P. Barnard, general chairman, has indicated that instructors from within a one-hundred mile radius of Menomonie will meet here on April 10.

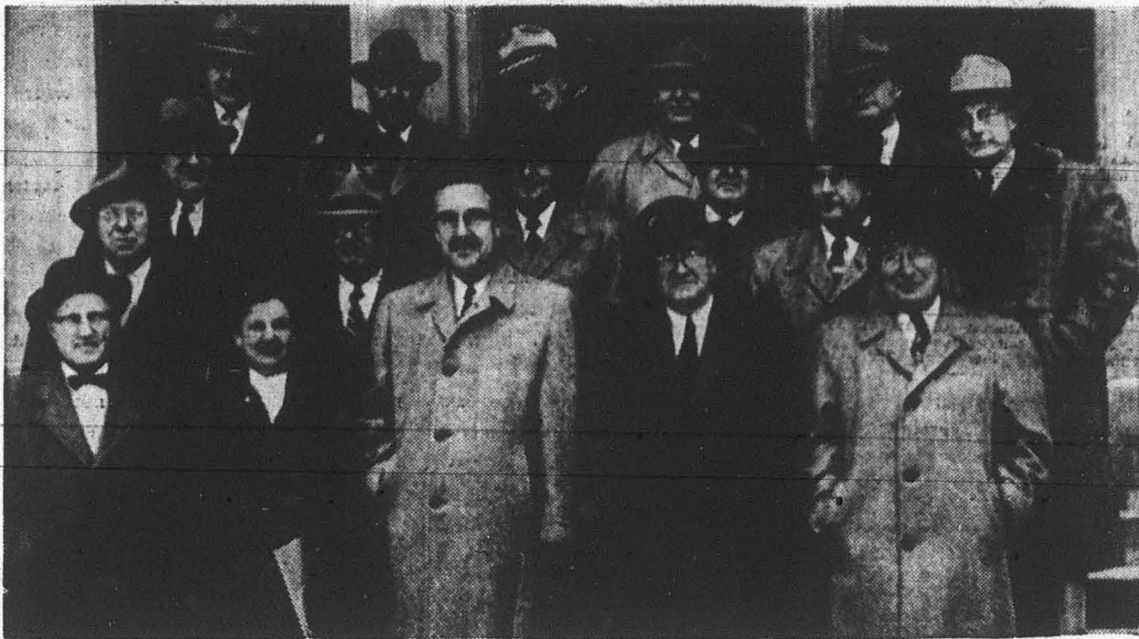

Highlighting the all-day program will be an address given by Lawrence C. Larson, director of the Audio-Visual Center at Indiana university and vice-president of the Department of Audio-Visual Instruction of the National Education Association.

The conference will consist of a general session, four sectional sessions dealing with audio-visual finance on local levels, and a summary session.

"BLUE NOTES" PLAY FOR SOPHOMORE MIXER

In spite of the cold wind and driving snow, many students braved the weather to dance to the rhythmic strains of Ed Clary's Blue Notes, on Wednesday, November 16.

The group was entertained during intermission by Basil Holder and Steve Butz who sang and played their "ukes". The mixer was sponsored by the sophomore class and was certainly a success in all ways.

Shown above are regents and presidents of the Wisconsin state colleges who met Friday, November 18, on the campus of Stout state college.

Front row: Regent Barney B. Barstow, Superior; Regent Mrs. Avery Sherry, Milwaukee; Regent Harold K. Geyer, Platteville; Regent William D. McIntyre, Eau Claire, president of the board; Secretary and Director Eugene R. McPhee;

Second row: President Chester O. Newlun, Platteville; Platteville;

COLD WAVE MORE SNOW

The Weatherbird has given up hope of any more Indian Summer weather this year. Thursday's comparably mild weather found him putting the storm door on his house and sharpening his speed skates.

It looks like he is going to make the best of a long winter.

"The Canucks are sending down another cold front!" he squawked this morning, "which means this weekend is going to be cold and snowy; with the temperatures between 5 to 15 above during the days, and around zero at night."

"It's supposed to blow in tonight or in the morning," he added.

FRESHMAN CLASS TO SPONSOR FORMAL

On November 21, the freshman class meeting was called to order by President, Dave Springer. The main topic of discussion was a proposed freshman formal on January 28. Ballots were passed out and the class voted to have the formal with George Soderberg's orchestra. Class members also chose the committee that they would like to work on. General plans are under the direction of the class officers and committee chairmen.

SSA TO SPONSOR CHRISTMAS DANCE

Plans are in full swing for the SSA sponsored Christmas Dance. With music by the Royal Blackhaws and preparation by each of the four classes, this annual dance will be held next Friday evening at 8:00 in the Stout gym.

Each year the SSA, along with committees from the four classes sponsors the all-school Christmas Dance. There is no admission charge and the dress is informal.

The classes are putting forth their talents with the freshmen, doing the advertising, the sophomores decorating, the juniors planning refreshments and the seniors providing some entertainment at intermission.

As in years past, this party will conclude with the romantic Moonlight Dance.

LA CROSSE HOST TO AUDIO-VIS MEETING

Teaching rural electric cooperative instructors who are responsible for on-the-job training and safety programs will be Dr. David Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout state college.

Dr. Barnard will offer three presentations in La Crosse on December 8-10. Attending will be rural cooperative instructors from seven states.

The presentation, being sponsored by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, will be held at the REA Cooperative in La Crosse.

Included in Dr. Barnard's instructions will be information concerning operation and maintenance of audio-visual equipment, selection and utilization of audio-visual materials and techniques of audio-visual production.

NOTICE

The annual Pallas Athene Christmas sale begins on December 8 at 8 a.m. Earrings and Christmas corsages that will make wonderful gifts will be sold this year by the sorority.

BOARD OF REGENTS MEETS AT STOUT

Some 28 very busy people from the state of Wisconsin who make up the State College Board of Regents and 11 college presidents, spent part of Thursday and all of Friday meeting in the Stout library to study, discuss, and attempt to solve the many college educational problems.

The main problem on the agenda—the one on which most of the time was spent—was that of housing; more specifically, men's dorms and college unions. Housing of students is a serious problem in many state college towns, with two of the college presidents pointing out that the local residents just can't absorb any more.

Result of the discussion was the authorization by the regents for a two package request: $5 million for student housing, and $3½ million request for student union facilities.

MISS HELLMAN SHOWS SWEDISH RUG MAKING

The art of making hand knotted all wool rugs, was demonstrated to one of Miss Amon's Home Furnishing classes by Miss Katherine Hellman, a sophomore here at Stout last year. Miss Hellman was originally from Sweden and is now living at Crystal Lake, Illinois.

Materials for this rug, including a hand woven base of linen threads, the pattern on cross section paper, the exact amount of wool yarn for each color needed for that particular pattern, and the equipment for forming the knots and tufts of the rug, were brought directly from Sweden and given to her for a gift.

She bought all these materials for making the rug up to the Home Furnishing class and demonstrated the procedure to the class on the rug she is now in the process of making. Katherine also brought along another rug that her mother had made, to show the finished product.

The designs on these rugs are beautiful and original, and the finished rug has a superb texture. Because of the uniqueness in making the rug, and the high quality durable fibers that go into it, the finished product is quite expensive.

Miss Hellman has taken a deep interest in this craft, and she plans to make more of these rugs. On the rugs to follow, she plans to draw her own design, so they will be even more original.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The spinster who educated herself right out of the marriage market is an American stereotype. She is, so they say, admittedly intelligent but lacking in the feminine niceties and soft sweet charms of her uneducated, but married, sister.

She is both fact and fiction!

Historically she may be a fact. At a time when mostly men went to war, to boxing matches, and to college, a woman's place was in the home. Those few who escaped to attend college were often not interested in matrimony or were considered ineligible by parents who gave them "another chance." A college degree seemed to hurt a girl's chances for marriage as it improved her chances for a professional career. One out of three remained single.

Today, 12,000 young women in Wisconsin who are enrolled in classes at the state colleges and the university are proving the fiction of the stereotype. Some are already married, many are engaged or going steady, and most of the others have met or will soon meet their mates on campus. Those who "miss" in college and enter teaching are far from doomed. Matrimony is one of the occupational hazards for young women in the teaching profession and three years is about the unmarried average.

The college-educated girl stays married today longer, and more often, than the non-college girl. She has children at a remarkable rising rate and she manages to participate in church, school, and community affairs to an extent that amazes her mother and grandmother.

It might be well to modernize the stereotype. Mrs. Coed 1955, fact and fiction, could be an attractive housewife holding her baby under one arm and reading a child psychology book as she loads diapers into her automatic washing machine.

She is intelligent, competent, charming, and feminine. Ask the man who married one.

CLUB NEWS

L.S.A. members met at Peace Lutheran Church on Sunday evening, November 21. Ray Burkhalter explained stewardship Sunday and its application to the L.S.A.'ers, followed by discussion of a joint meeting with the L.S.A. members of Eau Claire. The meeting was closed with the serving of a delicious supper.

Recent Alpha Sigma Alpha meetings have turned into Santa's workshop as the girls busily worked on "Campus Cuties" to be ready for Christmas delivery. With a variety of colors and patterns as wide as their imaginations the mass production of these novelty gloves is well under way. Orders taken in the hall are being filled, and the A. S. A.'s are making some "extras" for those who didn't get their orders in. They will be on sale in Harvey Hall soon, and the price is only $1.00.

Following their usual Sunday night supper, the members of Congo Club plus their guests saw the movie "Penny Miracle". This movie was based on explaining the use of multi-purpose food made from soybeans for the underprivileged at the low cost of only a few cents per serving. To make it seem more real, part of the lunch was partially composed of multi-purpose food; these were the cookies and meat loaf. At the close of the movie, a collection was taken to be contributed to the fund for producing this food.

Many Stout students satisfied their November 30. Homemade candies of sweet tooth at the YWCA Candy Sale, all varieties were on sale by the YWCA members.

TWELVE S.S.C. STUDENTS ATTEND WESLEY MEET

Twelve Stout students from Wesley attended the Fall Conference of the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement over the week-end of November 18-20.

The round of activities was started by a supper for all. The Reverend Jameson Jones spoke to the more than 150 students present. Following, every one took part in the recreation.

Saturday, buzz groups and workshops were the main event. The day of activity was closed by a delicious banquet.

Each student was a guest in a residents home. There they were served breakfast two mornings.

After Sunday church service, the group was bid farewell and all departed for their homes.

Almost everyone agreed it was a week-end well spent.

DOROTHY HILTON SPOKE TO HOME EC CLUB

The Home Economics club held its regular meeting November 28th at 7:30 P. M. in the auditorium of the Tainter Memorial Library.

After a short business meeting, Mary Buol, chairman, introduced the guest speaker for the evening. Dorothy Hilton, a Stout graduate, spoke to the club and showed slides of her experiences as an IFYE exchange student to England and Wales. Miss Hilton told many interesting experiences about the farm life, county fairs and her excitement over seeing Queen Elizabeth.

FIVE INITIATED INTO SIG TAU FRATERNITY

Five new members were formally initiated into the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity on November 10. The new members are: Richard Vogtsberger, Robert Dalhke, Gary Penn, Gerald Howard, and Marshall Wake. After formal initiation a banquet was held at Jeatran's supper club with turkey and all the trimmings being served.

After the big feed a short and unprepared skit was presented by the new members which drew a few snickers and laughs.

STOUT COED AT INTERNATIONAL EXHIBIT

The sewing accomplishments of a Stout State college senior, Miss Barbara Ray, are this week receiving widespread attention as an exhibit at the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

Miss Ray, from Poplar, was chosen a 4-H representative at the show because of her accomplishments in sewing. Long a 4-H achiever in Douglas county, Miss Ray was recommended by the State of Wisconsin to the 4-H National Foundation.

At the Livestock Exposition, a life-size photo-portrait of Barbara will be shown beside a sewing machine. From the machine, ribbons will direct attention to her work in sewing for her family, helping 4-H members, participating in 4-H achievement day, and in addition, a manikin will model a straw cloth dress which Miss Ray constructed. Goal of the booth, which is the work of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin, is informing the public about a variety of 4-H projects.

Miss Ray was chosen in 1952 as the National 4-H Clothing champion. In the division of home economics at Stout state college, she is further developing her talent and skills.

DEAN JARVIS APPOINTED TO COMMITTEE

Named to a newly-developed committee to expedite coordination between the American Vocational Association and the U. S. Navy has been Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the division of industrial education at Stout State college.

The group will hold its initial conference during the national convention of the American Vocational Association at Atlantic City, December 5-9. Homer Rose, assistant head and senior training specialist of the standards and curriculum branch, training division, of the Department of the Navy will be committee chairman. Rose is also a Stout graduate.

Among the goals of the new committee is exploring ways and means of cooperation between the AVA and the Navy in providing information to vocational teachers and developing training programs of greatest value to young men with future service in the Navy or other branch of the armed forces.

Dr. Jarvis, a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy Reserve, is a veteran of nearly four years naval duty in World War II.

STOUT ALUMI PLAN REUNION BREAKFAST

Again, as in the past, a Stout alumni reunion will be held in conjunction with the American Vocational Association Convention.

This year it will be a breakfast meeting at the Senator Hotel beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday morning, December 7.

If you plan to attend this convention be sure to reserve this time to join your STOUT-hearted former classmates at the annual Stout Alumni Reunion.

Tickets will be on sale at the ticket booth during registration and may also be obtained by contacting Bob Rudiger at the convention before Tuesday noon.

Announcement to the voters of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, consisting of Dunn, Buffalo, Pierce, and St. Croix Counties.

After due consideration, and being desirous of continuing to serve the public, I have decided to become a candidate for the important judicial office of Circuit Judge for the Eighth Judicial Circuit to be voted for in the Spring Elections in 1956, the primary March 6, 1956, and the final on April 3, 1956.

My qualifications for this position are as follows:

- (1) Admitted to the practice of law in 1940;
- (2) Continuous practice of law except for period spent in the Armed Forces during World War II;
- (3) Member of the American Bar Association, Wisconsin Bar Association, St. Croix-Pierce County Bar Association;
- (4) Pierce County Veterans' Service Officer for a period of eight years;
- (5) Judge advocate of the American Legion, Department of Wisconsin.

Your support is solicited and will be greatly appreciated.

E.P.T. TO HOLD A SPECIAL INITIATION

A special initiation will be held on December 6th at 6:00 p.m. for two new members of Epsilon Pi Tau, reports Robert Erickson, president of the organization.

Eugene Beck, senior, and Mathias Brechja, graduate student were unable to attend the regular initiation ceremony, held earlier in the fall.

Following the initiation this year's new members will receive their keys and cards, and a regular business meeting will be held.

Erickson stated that three main topics to be discussed will be Christmas party date, Ford Awards program, and Industrial Arts teachers card index project.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

All Stout students and faculty members will be given an opportunity to start their Christmas shopping early. The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority is announcing their annual Christmas sale to begin Monday, December 5. The Christmas display will be in Harvey Hall throughout the entire week. Stuffed animals, aprons, dolls, cossages, and many other hand-made items await your inspection.

An annual tradition of the Hyperian sorority is the making of stuffed toys for the children at the Northern Colony in Chippewa Falls.

Hyperian was the Greek goddess of social service and this project is part of the sororities yearly activities.

The girls are now busy at work creating monkeys, bears, octupuses, and many other animals for the enjoyment of the youngsters this Christmas.

NOTICE

The Home Economics Club is holding their annual Christmas cookie sale. Christmas cookies will be sold in front of Harvey Memorial on Thursday and Friday, December 8 and 9.

RIFLE CLUB PROMOTES HUNTING SAFETY

This last week, the Rifle Club shot a postal match with the University of Wisconsin which it lost by the score of 1396 to 1280. For the Stout team, John Ong won the team match. This is the second team match that John has won this year, out of three matches fired. John has also won one individual match. The high average for the three matches goes to Glenn Voelz with 269.66 points.

The Rifle club has posted over 25 hunter safety posters in town and around Dunn county this last week to help promote safety during deer season. Last year, 20% of the hunting accidents were fatal, of which 31% were self-inflicted. 2% of the accidents last year were caused by clubbing the game with the weapon.

SKI CLUB PLANS FOR WINTER EVENTS

Stout's Ski Club is very active this season and is planning their winter program of events which will soon get under way. Now that the snow has been flying the group will soon assemble at Deepwood for some fun and frolic on the slopes and to meet with other skiing clubs in the area.

Why don't you come, if you are interested, to one of the meetings and meet your fellow skiers. I am sure they would be glad to see you. The meetings are bi-monthly on Tuesday evening in the Library (Room 10).

DORM NEWS

Now that "Turkey Day" is over all the girls can go back to the body building and swimming with renewed vigor and vitality. It's hard to believe that those skirts in Clothing Construction fit so well before they went home.

I bet the telephone operators head just spun when the girls got back to the dorms. All the boys just had to call to see if their girls were still alive and well after the big feast.

Remember Cousin Fuzzy? Well, one of the girls in the Annex has quite a crush on him! Hey what and she is going with a gentle sort of guy! Better watch it there!

ATTENTION BOYS! Now is the time to ask that certain girl to the S.S.A. Dance on Dec. 9. That is always a real swell affair and the girls will dress up real pretty for you if you take them! How about it? Please?

Some of the counselors sure get a lot of mail and males! It makes some of the underclass women sort of sad and forlorn but we hope every 'Lassie' has her day and theirs can't be far off!

"Sixteen Ton" seems to be the theme of the coal trucks around the dorms and we can easily see where it takes that much coal to keep the dorms warm. The custodians sure do a nice job and they are to be congratulated. Three cheers for them all!!!

NOTICE

The dorm party for the Tainter Annex has been canceled due to the ball game that night. It will be held at a later date.

STOUT COEDS ATTEND W.A.F.C.W. CONVENTION

Attending the recent WAFWCW convention held in Madison were Sheila Morris, sophomore and Carolyn Greinke, freshman, representatives of Stout's WRA.

Sheila and Carolyn left Menomonie on the bus Friday morning, November 18. That evening they registered and attended a banquet in Memorial Union. Speaker at the banquet was Miss Anne Ross, a member of the University of Wisconsin physical education faculty. Her subject was "Inside South Africa". She was well qualified to speak on the subject, having taught in Africa.

Friday night, the girls stayed in Liz Waters dormitory. Saturday morning, they attended discussion groups and a business meeting.

"ALICE" SHOOTS A LARGE BUCK

The modern Davy Crockett is certainly prettier than that semi-legendary hunter of frontier America.

Yes, even Alice in Dairyland is now a successful "big game" hunter. Wisconsin's glamorous representative, Miss Barbara Brown of Independence, shot a large buck deer near Waumandee in Buffalo county.

But even with a modern 12 gauge shot gun, today's sportswoman isn't as hardy as Davy Crockett and his old frontiersman's rifle. Miss Brown suffered a painfully bruised shoulder from the shotgun blast but readily admits, "It was well worth the discomfort."

CAPTAIN KID STUFF

(OR...JOHN'S MISTAKE)

John was growing up. (He shaved. He drove a car. He wanted to impress girls.)
But John was impatient. He wanted to be more grown-up. He wanted a grown-up reputation.
In short, he wanted to make a name for himself.
That's natural. Most young men his age feel the same way.
But John made a mistake. He expressed his impatience and his ambition behind the wheel of a car.

He became another "highway cowboy."
He purposely drove fast... didn't use chains on snow or ice... skidded... took chances... raced on crowded streets.
He thought this would make him seem more grown-up. But the gang could see through his antics. They gave him a name all right—"Captain Kid Stuff."
They were smart enough to know that Careless Driving is Kid Stuff.

THE SIX RULES OF WINTER DRIVING

1. ACCEPT YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to do all in your power to drive without accident. Don't blame the weatherman for an accident.
2. GET THE "FEEL" OF THE ROAD.
Try brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic. Find out just how slippery the road is and adjust your speed to road and weather conditions.
3. KEEP THE WINDSHIELD CLEAR of snow, ice, fog and frost. Be sure headlights and defrosters are in top condition and windshield wipers don't streak.
4. USE TIRE CHAINS AND GOOD TIRES.
Don't rely on worn smooth tires. Use tire

- chains on snow and ice. They cut stopping distances about half, give 4 to 7 times more starting and climbing traction ability.
But even with the help of chains, slower than normal speeds are a "must" on snow and ice.
5. PUMP YOUR BRAKES to slow down or stop. Jamming them on can lock the wheels and throw you into a dangerous skid. A little skidding can carry you a long way.
 6. FOLLOW AT A SAFE DISTANCE.
Keep well back of the vehicle ahead—give yourself room to stop. Remember, without tire chains, it takes 3 to 12 times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry concrete.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT STOUT

On Thursday, January 12, a guidance conference will be held in the Stout auditorium. At 9:45, Professor John Rothney will give the keynote address. From 11:00 to 12:50, a series of six sectional meetings will be scheduled. Another set of six sectional meetings will be held from 1:30 to 3:00 and from 3:00 to 3:45. Following the sectional meetings, there will be another general session in the auditorium. At that time, five guidance workers will question Dr. Rothney on any guidance topics which are of interest to them. This session will have as its theme: "Putting the Keynote on the Spot".

Some of the topics for the sectional meetings and the leaders who will present are those that follow. Dr. Carl H. Waller, who is director of Child Study and service for the Madison public schools, will lead a sectional meeting on "The Schools and Juvenile Delinquency". Mr. Max J. Hays and Eugene H. Kruet of the Wisconsin State Employment Service will lead an afternoon meeting on the topic, "The Coming Crisis of Professional Manpower." Mr. Richard Whinfield, state supervisor of occupational information and guidance, will lead a sectional meeting on "Counseling Students Who Are Interested in Technical Education of Less than College Level."

Other sectional meetings will be conducted on such topics as reading, improvement programs, vocational rehabilitation and crippled children's service, ways of obtaining teacher participation and counseling programs, health and guidance, the role of the administrator in providing guidance services, group guidance techniques, and counseling information for college bound students.

NEW EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED

A civil service examination has been announced for Dietetic Intern for filling internships paying $2,000 a year in Veterans Administration hospitals in Los Angeles, California; Bronx, N. Y.; Hines, Illinois; Memphis, Tennessee; and Houston, Texas.

To qualify for these internships, applicants must have received a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and have completed courses of study in appropriate fields. No written test is required. Interns will be given a 12-month training course after which they will be eligible for promotion to a Dietetic position with the Veterans Administration, which pays from $3,670 to $4,525 a year.

Applications will be accepted through March 1, 1956 for the classes of interns beginning on July 1 or September 15, 1956. Applications must be filed with the Board of Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

SPANISH CLASS IS OFFERED TO STUDENTS

Como esta usted? —How are you? Some students of Stout are learning to converse in another language, namely Spanish.

Eight students and residents of Menomonie are meeting each Tuesday evening from seven to nine at the high school. Martin Braaten, a senior at Stout, is teaching the class. The class will last two semesters.

Continued Cold
Mostly Fair

The weatherbird didn't do much skating this week. "Too much snow," he said, "but it's fine skiing weather." "And that's the bird's word for today; continued cold, mostly fair skies, with scattered snow flurries this weekend."

WIDE RANGE OF MUSIC PRESENTED BY QUARTET

The Lions quartet brought a delightful program of music to the Stout students Wednesday morning. The auditorium was filled to capacity when the Lions appeared on the stage.

Their repertoire was unusually rich and it contained many kinds of music, from opera and classical to comedy. All were sung with equal ease. After the first selection the audience became intensely interested and were enraptured by the four beautiful solo voices that blended perfectly into magnificent choral effects.

Every member of the quartet, including the accompanist, was a soloist in his own right. Each of them displayed his solo ability in addition to the wide range of quartet presentations.

The Lions answered three separate curtain calls with additional songs but the audience still remained in their seats. They finally managed to close the concert by bowing their way out.

This is the second time the group has appeared at Stout. In 1953 they presented another concert at a lyceum. Let's hope they will come back again in 1957 and give us another concert.

NOTICE

Remember the annual Christmas Tea sponsored by the Home Economics Club December 14, 3:30 to 5:30 in the Harvey Memorial.

CONCERTS PLANNED FOR DECEMBER 14

With over 150 students of Stout state college taking part, the music department of the college will offer its annual Christmas concert in Stout's auditorium at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, December 14.

Featuring traditional Christmas selections and popular numbers, all musical organizations at Stout will participate. Making its first public appearance will be a newly-formed flute quartet. A brass ensemble and girls' ensemble will also offer special numbers.

Included in the ninety minute program will be the Nutcracker Suite, "excerpts from the Nutcracker Suite," sacred Christmas anthems by the college choir, and a finale of beloved Christmas carols by the Stout Symphonic Singers, nationally-known musical organization of the college.

The Stout Christmas program will also be presented at 10:00 a.m. on Wednesday, December 14, for students and faculty of the college. As with all other convocation programs admission is free to all Stout students and faculty members. SSA cards will not be needed.

PROGRAM

BAND

Storm King, March; Overture to the Messiah; Toytown, USA; Nutcracker Suite; and The Crusaders.

CHOIR

Two Bach Chorales, Christmas Night; Christmas Night; As Lately We Watched; Lullaby on Christmas Eve; Rise Up All Men; Round de Glory Manger; Christmas Roundelay; Carol of the Bells.

ENSEMBLES

Flute Quartet ("Pizzicato Quartet")
Brass Ensemble ("The Holy Boy")
Girls Ensemble ("Waltz of the Flowers")

SYMPHONIC SINGERS

Sleigh Ride; White Christmas; Jingle Bells; Winter Wonderland; and A Medley of Christmas Carols.

STOUT RIFLE CLUB MEMBERS TAG DEER

During deer season three members of the rifle club got their deer. Mr. Klatt got his 180 pound buck with one shot at 125 yards. Bill McNaughton got a good size 12 point buck with a shotgun somewhere under a 100 yards. We have been told that Homer Frase shot at his deer so much that he ran out of shells three times. Last reported the deer had eight bullet holes in it but they are still counting.

On January 1, 1956, the rifle team is traveling to Superior for a shoulder to shoulder match with Superior's AFOTC team. This will be the first shoulder to shoulder rifle match of the year. So far this year the team has won zero and lost four.

NOON - CHRISTMAS VACATION BEGINS

"400" TO STOP FOR YOU. BUS SERVICE AVAILABLE

For student convenience the "400" will stop at the Menomonie Junction on Friday, December 16.

The southbound train will leave from the junction at 1:33 p.m. and will stop again at the junction from the south on January 2 at 8:25 p.m.

Bus service to and from train connections will be provided. The bus will pick up students at 12:30 and 1:00 p.m. from the east door of Harvey Hall and will stop on both trips at Tainter Annex. This service will also be provided on January 2 after vacation.

Students are requested to buy their tickets at the city depot which is located west on Main Street, below the hill, rather than at the Junction.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR LIBRARY BOOKS

In a recent announcement from the Stout state college library, dates for library books used over Christmas vacation were released.

The announcement stated that reserve books may be taken any time Friday morning, December 16. They will be due at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday, January 3.

All other library books taken out before vacation will be due Wednesday, January 4.

S.S.C. STUDENTS NAMED TO 1955-56 WHO'S WHO

Sixteen Students from Stout State College Received This Honor

Sixteen outstanding students from Stout state college have been accepted for recognition in the 1955-56 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They were chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership and cooperation in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship, and promise of future usefulness. Eligibility in this organization is limited to juniors, seniors, and graduate students.

As a result of the nominations made by the campus committee, the following students were accepted: Martin Braaten, Mary Buol, Ardis Carr, Judy Day, Dorothy Dieter, Mary Jane Gargulak, Edward Griffith, Helen Harry, Doris Hutchinson, Shirley Lundeen, Gordon Maves, Barbara Ray, Carol Schilstra, John Smith, Marie Strodthoff, and Robert Tennesen.

The first publication of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges came into print for the school year 1934-35. It was designed to give deserving college students recognition devoid of dues or other costs to them. This publication is in no way connected with Who's Who in America.

Each student who becomes a member receives without cost: a certificate of recognition awarded by the organization, recognition in the annual publication, and benefits from the student placement service if he so desires.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges renders even a greater though less conspicuous service. It serves as: a goal to inspire greater effort in those who may not otherwise perform to the best of their ability, a reminder that time must be used intelligently to bring the best results from one's college experience, a means of compensation for outstanding effort and achievement, a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

Approximately eight thousand students are annually recognized from some six hundred and fifty colleges and universities in the forty eight states, the District of Columbia, and Alaska. It is with great pride that Stout state college contributes her sixteen entries to this elite organization.

Although a study of 1,100 proposals shows the automobile to be the most popular spot for popping the question, a study of traffic statistics shows it's also a successful device for committing suicide.

The Stout Snooper

Safe Driving Day, December 1, brought about a decrease in driving accidents. But did you, the Stout driver, help to make it a safer day? Were you a good neighbor on the streets and highways surrounding Menomonie?

During my snooping I noticed that some of Stout's licensed drivers were not being good neighbors; they were helping to increase driving accidents! For instance, the fellows (and girls) that park on 2nd and 3rd Street on the hill on the library block did not park so that their front wheels were pointing toward the sidewalk. If brakes had failed, their cars would have crashed into the cars ahead of them or the cars would have merrily rolled down the street endangering oncoming traffic!

Failing to come to a complete halt at a stop sign is another fault that I've noticed among the Stout student drivers. And even though stop signs are absent at some corners, many of you do not even look or pause before crossing an intersection. I have often heard or seen screeching brakes, trails of rubber tires, and the arguing of drivers at corners such as 5th and 10th Ave. and 2nd and 10th Ave. Stop or at least proceed with caution at blind corners!

Left turns should be signaled. Then the turn should be made in an arc passing to the left of the center of the street immediately to the right of the centerline. Never cut the corner driving in the oncoming traffic lane! Did you remember this act?

A good driver makes U-turns sparingly and with extreme caution, not in the middle of a busy down-town street in Menomonie! Yes, I saw you! Of course, you are aware that the greatest percentage of accidents are caused by young people like you between the ages of 18 and 24. Over 300,000 persons died and 10 million were injured as results of automobile accidents during the last decade. When reading newspapers, I often saw startling headlines such as GIRL DIED OF INJURIES; TEEN-AGER FINED; U-TURN CAUSED CRASH; SPEED EQUALS DEATH!

PALLAS ATHENE HAS FORMAL INITIATION

Pledges of Pallas Athene sorority gave their traditional Sardine party for P.A. actives on Tuesday, November 29, at Dr. Marshall's apartment. Ann Janda, Ann Robbe, Lois Onsrud, Ann Kofoed, Lenora Handy, Karen Lee, Helen Froehlich, Alice Yamamoto, Pat Christianson, Julie Muenich, Fern Mathey, Betty Havlik, and Muriel Erickson were formally initiated into Pallas Athene sorority on Thursday, December 1, at Mrs. George LaPointe's home. Following the initiation the dorms were serenaded. Committee heads for formal initiation were as follows: general chairman, Connie Chellman; Food, Betty Fraley; decorations and flowers, Kay Kennedy.

Were you responsible for any of these accidents?

Soon many Stout drivers will again take to the roads and drive toward their homes and as many other students will ride with them, it is more important than ever to observe safe driving. When driving home many drive as fast as the car will allow. (I know; I ride too!) Yes, speed too fast for conditions is the violation most frequently reported. For instance in a heavy snow storm, 35 miles an hour may be deemed excessive and dangerous. Observe special restrictions of school zones, approaching railroad crossings, a curve or hill, and when passing pedestrians. You will still arrive home in time for a long vacation!

On icy, snowy, or muddy pavement, the good driver remembers that his braking efficiency is greatly reduced and he lowers his speed in recognition of the added danger that traveling involves.

Traveling at 40 mph, 44 feet are traveled before putting on the brakes. In addition, 82 feet are required before a complete stop. A total of 328 ft. are needed to stop after seeing danger when traveling 70 mph; 77 ft. to apply brakes, and 251 ft. to brake!!

President Eisenhower proclaimed Dec. 1 as Safe Driving Day. But it is your duty as a Stout student, a young

'THIS OLE' CAR'

This ole car once knew its children. This ole car once knew its wife, This ole car once spun out mileage For a merry family life...

But this family's trips are over, Picked a dang'rous spot to pass-- Then they saw an angel peekin' Through the broken windshield glass. Ain't gonna need this car no longer, Ain't gonna need this car no more-- Had no time to fix the brakes up, Had no time to fix the door, Had no time to fix the steerin' Or to drive with more restraint-- Ain't gonna need this car no longer, They've been taken to meet the Saint.

driver, and as an American citizen to observe every day as a safe driving day!

Practice Safe Driving Day by watching for these potentially dangerous driver actions:

1. Excessive speed, especially at night, in bad weather, or in heavy traffic.
2. Passing several cars at once, or on hills, curves, and intersections where there is not a clear view ahead.
3. Following too closely.
4. Weaving and sudden lane changing.
5. Sudden stops.
6. Turning from the wrong lane.
7. Passing on the right, except on multi-lane highways where it is permitted.
8. Speeding through traffic lights on the yellow.
9. Jackrabbit starts at stop lights and other childish competition with other drivers.
10. Failure to observe stop signs, especially making rolling stops at intersections.

By observing these rules and remembering to be a good neighbor on the highways, Stout drivers, you, will observe Safe Driving Day every day. Remember, I'll be snooping!

Modern husband comes home from work and asks, "Hiya, honey, what's thawing?"

SAFETY SAM WATCHES YOU AND WONDERS

Safety Sam is watching you. Watching, wondering, and marveling that you're still alive.

The time you turned the corner with your car and didn't bother putting on your directional lights. The time you went down a winding country road at 90 miles an hour for the thrill of it. The time you just decided not to stop for the stop sign and two cars missed you by a hair's breadth. The time you just decided you could get the twelfth person into the car when there was only room for six. The time you wanted to get home for school vacation in a hurry so you made the three hundred mile trip in three hours instead of five.

He has sat there now for three days just wondering how long you can tempt fate.

He has provided pamphlets on safety, given programs on radio and TV, had safe driving courses in school, written numerous articles in newspapers and magazines -- yet you pay him no heed. You still back out of the driveway without looking to see if anyone is behind you. You still drive the car when you know you have faulty brakes.

You say "But look, nothing ever happened! Heck, I'm such a good driver--"

But maybe you had better watch, wonder, and marvel along with Safety Sam. For one day Lady Luck won't be riding on your right hand and then -- Safety Sam need no longer wonder.

He: "If a very ugly man tried to kiss you, would you scream?"
She: "Try it and see."

DORM NEWS

Tainter Hall has been calling itself the forgotten dormitory so this week they will lead the list and will be given special notice. The telephone number is 258 and there are 27 very cute and dateable girls residing within. They would like visitors—all kinds—to come and view their Christmas decorations, and visit for a while. The girls have set up committees to take care of all the work and so it should be real pretty to look at!

Girls at the Hall and Eich will exchange gifts after they go over to the Annex to participate in some Christmas singing and skits. All three dorms will have a party at their own house after the songfest and this will be the last activity of the 1955 season.

The Annex, in place of giving gifts, will have a collection for CARE packages to be sent to the needy refugees. This idea was brought up at the last dorm meeting and was unanimously accepted by the group.

Our congratulations go to Jean Skar on the receiving of her diamond. It sure is pretty—she got it from her sailor-boy. So that was why she has been going home lately!

Some of the girls are in the infirmary. We wish them the best of health real soon. At least, some of the boys can get over to visit them.

Tonight is the S.S.A. Christmas Dance, and all the girls are ready to go. You can still ask her if you haven't already. Get on the ball there and stop being a square!

Bye for now, we'll see you again next week!

M.A.P.'S MEET IN LIBRARY. DISCUSS POINT SYSTEM

An M. A. P. meeting was held Monday night, November 28, in the library. New officers were elected to fill vacancies. Those elected were: Irene Novinski, Wardrobe Mistress; Ellen Steinhoff, Historian; and Doug Dörner, Equipment manager.

The point system for the last play was discussed. The meeting was adjourned and the group worked to put the costume room in order.

Observed: A leaded-in automobile with the gas filler in the trunk, to which the gas attendant said, "Where do I check the oil, in the glove compartment?"

PHI SIGS MEET, MAKE PLANS FOR ACTIVITIES

Plans for caroling were discussed at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon held in the club room on Thursday, December 1. Jacket sales and a get-together with Eau Claire's Phi Sigs were also considered.

The program and social committees were assigned the task of making arrangements for the caroling, which includes sending invitations to the sororities. The date set for the caroling is December 15. It was also voted that Omega Chapter should send Christmas singing and skits. All dorms will have sororities and other fraternities on campus.

Members were asked to sign a new schedule for selling jackets during the noon hour. Jim Berray volunteered to make notices and place them in the mailboxes. Several other ideas were proposed but no action was taken at this time.

The program committee was designated to select suitable calendar dates for a meeting with the Phi Sigs from Eau Claire and for a skating party to be held at Mr. Siefert's cottage after Christmas.

Gene Ender and Doug Dörner were recognized for the splendid job they did in the MAP fall play.

The Phi Sigs also enjoyed themselves Wednesday night, November 30, when they serenaded Jane Gargulak, who was recently pinned by Harry Krysiak.

STUDENTS' ORIGINAL PROJECTS DISPLAYED

Would you like to see some works of art? Come, travel with me up to the second floor of Harvey Hall. As you step off the elevator, turn to your left and follow me down the long quiet hall.

That's right, it does seem like a little art gallery; with all the drawings hung neatly on both walls. The designs almost seem to say, "I'm the only one like me."

There's the display case for the crafts. See the cute twin clowns, original placemats, and the flashy red glazed dishes.

Next time, why not take a peek through the second floor halls when you take that elevator ride?

Advice to speakers: The mind cannot absorb more than the seat can stand.

YOU CAN HELP PREVENT MANY ACCIDENTS IN YOUR HOME

"Accident" that word always brings thoughts of mishaps as those that take place in cars, trucks, trains or airplanes. Very few people stop to realize that this word includes more than just this type of accident. Every day accidents occur in the place we may think is the safest on earth. Yes, our own homes, in which we spend the greatest share of our time, are the means of many accidents. Some may be minor or even foolish mishaps, but then again, others may be fatal.

One of the most common type of household accident is the case of the loose stair tread. It does not take much and Junior, Sis, Mother or Dad may have taken a bad fall just through a few tacks that have been neglected. On this same stairs children's toys, especially roller skates, can be very dangerous and result in more bad falls on the part of the family.

Attics, basements, and garages are all excellent storage places, but not for greasy rags, and old papers which may start fires. Always be careful to keep these places free of such dangerous materials.

Missing or burned out light bulbs that should have lighted stairways, closets, halls, and other dark corners can also prove to be hazardous. Steps may be missed or articles fallen over just because the passage was not well lighted.

The kitchen in many homes is the source of various household accidents. The greatest cause of accidents in the kitchen is the stove. For children it is especially dangerous because they do not realize what can happen. Hot grease or boiling water can be tipped over children very easily if handles are not kept out of their reach. Adults, too, can burn themselves seriously if they are not careful when working

ARTS AND CRAFTS DISPLAY VARIED

You really should see Room 219 in Harvey Hall. It certainly looks like Santa's workshop. Enter the room with your eyes open because there are mobiles hanging in the doorway and from the lights. Don't miss the light, airy angel made by K. Brueggen; the modern mobiles hanging in the doorway which was made by D. Gustafson; the free moving fish mobile made by M. Parkel; and the triangles in sequence forming an abstract Christmas tree made by M. Webb. Don't miss the show case in the hall—especially the "Birds in Flight" by B. Dietzman.

The next unit is three dimensional, the student selecting any crafts problem such as block printing, silk screen, stenciling, wood carving, and sculpture of wood, wire, and paper.

If you think Room 219 is congested now—just wait until Christmas, they will need traffic signals.

with hot food on the stove. Electrical appliances in the kitchen, such as toasters, electric mixers, and irons, should also be treated with care and understanding while in use. Always be sure the appliance is disconnected when the article is not in use.

Such supplies as matches, medicines and poisons should be kept on high shelves away from small children. These too prove to be dangerous and sometimes fatal.

Household accidents include more than just accidents inside the home. Many accidents occur in the yards of homes. Lawn-mowers, especially now with power lawn-mowers being so prevalent, are the cause of many serious and horrible accidents. Hands, fingers, or even legs may be cut off if care is not taken while using such equipment. Every spring and fall those screen and storm windows have to be changed, but be sure that ladder is safe before using it or a bad fall may occur. Rakes, lumber, or other miscellaneous equipment should not be left lying around the yard for some poor unsuspecting person to fall over.

These are just some of the accidents that can happen in and about the home. Since we do spend the greatest share of our time at home, we should always be on the lookout for the causes of these accidents. By eliminating the causes we can prevent future accidents. Follow this practice if you want your home to be a safe place in which to live.

OFFICE PLANS MADE BY MISS AMON'S CLASS

The latest class project in Miss Amon's home furnishings class is drawing up plans to redecorate and furnish the office in that room. The members of the class have divided up into groups of four, and have drawn up a completely new floor plan and furnished the room with beautiful furniture.

Part of the project also includes designating, on the plan, the price, and the manufacturer of each piece of furniture used in the plan. Each group of girls have painted a floor plan of the office so they can see what the room will look like in color.

As Miss Amon sighs at all the beautiful plans for her office, she hopes that in the near future, actual redecorating will begin in her office and she can put these plans to good use that the girls have worked so hard developing.

MY FRIEND

I would like you to meet a friend of mine, a friend beyond compare. He's not rich nor does he claim a bit of his deserving fame.

He always comes when I'm in need, and always wants to do his deed.

The special thing about my friend, is he never lies nor pretends to be anything but my loyal friend.

He's always faithful, kind, and true, whether I am happy or I am blue.

In his own special way, he brightens up his life each day.

True, I have many friends, a few of each kind, the fool, the sceptic, the liar, the hog, but none can equal my friend, my dog.

DEEPWOOD OFFICIALLY OPEN FOR SEASON

Deepwood was officially opened on Sunday, December 4, and with the occasion came three cars of Stout Ski Club members. After the trail was broken the group enjoyed a day of fresh air and of course the invigorating sport of skiing.

The Chalet at Deepwood is always a place of activities during the ski season. In the "Ski Shop" there are skis, poles, and boots to rent along with the usual equipment to round out the skiers supplies. The "snack bar" is never closed to short orders, coffee, cocoa, milk and pop along with candy bars, gum and cigarettes. The Chalet itself is constructed so the skiers can see out onto the hill thru a glass wall while resting or preparing to ski themselves.

The area has five main trails with access to the tow and one practice slope to get in condition. All the slopes are in good condition and the Hammers announce that the area will be opened on Saturday and Sunday and the snow reports will be announced on WMNE.

Come out and visit the Deepwood Ski Area. It is a nice drive and you can become very interested in skiing if you give yourself a chance.

STOUT CHEWED BY BULLDOGS IN 89-65 LOSS

Substitute guard Dick Veech set a point-a-minute pace in the second half to lead the Bulldogs to a 89-65 victory over Stout state in a preconference tuneup before approximately 1,000 fans at the Bulldog game last Saturday night.

In the last 12 minutes of play Dick Veech of the Bulldogs dumped in as many points, most of them on fast breaks aided by neatly executed passes from his teammates. Veech scored a total of 15 points. He was one of the four Bulldogs to hit in the double figures. Fifteen Bulldogs saw action and 12 of them contributed points.

Stout cashed in on 16 free throws to hold the Bulldogs to a 45-34 half-time margin, but the Blue Devils scoring faded when the Bulldogs settled down in the second half.

Stout lived up to its name when the Bulldogs threatened to make a game of complete bout midway in the first half. The Stout-hearted Blue Devils surged back to pull within three points 28-25, eight minutes before intermission.

CLUB NEWS

The Newman Club will have its annual Christmas party Sunday evening, December 11, at the St. Joseph's School. The festivities will begin with a supper at five o'clock.

Following the supper the entertainment committee has scheduled a sleigh ride. At 8:00 there will be dancing and exchanging of gifts.

Members are urged to attend and bring a guest with them. Come and enjoy an evening of fun.

A display of toys made by the Hyperian sorority is now in the show case outside the student personnel office. The toys will be given as Christmas gifts to the children at the Northern Colony in Chippewa Falls. This is an annual project of the Hyperian sorority.

The Hyps serenaded the girls dorms on Wednesday night. Christmas carols filled the air as the Hyps wished the girls a happy holiday.

Joining fraternities and sororities was the topic of discussion at a Gamma Delta meeting on Sunday evening, December 4. A vesper service was also enjoyed.

On December 11 at 5:45 P. M. the Christmas party will be held at the home of Jan Schneck, 112 Second Street. The word for roll call is give. Fifty cent gifts appropriate for both men and women will be exchanged. The group will go caroling after the party.

In less than 120 seconds, however, Monson, Keiski, and Intiker had propelled the Bulldogs to a 36-26 margin and the difference never dipped below 10 points after that spurt.

Ron Woodliff, 6 foot 6 inch Stout center, gave the Bulldogs moments of trouble in the second half with a wicked hook shot that netted 11 points, but by then the chance for upset was too distant.

Jim Bolm, sub pivot, topped the Blue Devils with 16 points.

Two old maids were discussing men, oddly enough, and one said to the other: "What would you rather have in a man, health, wealth, or appearance?"

Said the other: "Appearance, and he'd better make it soon!"

Dopey: What time does a Chinaman go to the dentist?

Dopey: I don't know, when?

Dopey: Tooth Hurty.

Sunday evening, December 11, is the date set for the Congo-U.S.F. Christmas Party. The group will meet at Miss Amon's home at 816 Fifth St. for supper and an informal gathering. Following this, caroling is on the agenda with stops at the hospital and the homes of some of the church members.

Saturday morning from 8:30 to 11:30 the members will put up the creche scene outside the church and plan the program for the coming semester.

Everyone is welcome to come to both of these meetings.

On November 13 the Congo club enjoyed hearing two faculty members as their speakers. Miss Van Ness told about her exciting travels through Mexico. Samples of hand-woven fabrics, jewelry, and baskets fascinated her audience. Miss Carrison then told about her study trip through Europe, centering her talk around Switzerland.

On November 20 the groups had as their guests the high school youth group. Supper was served at 5:30 followed by the movie "Penny Miracle."

ATTENTION

Last chance to buy your fruit cakes so take advantage of the Dietetic Club sale now. These cakes make perfect Christmas gifts with their green pine and red ribbon trimming. They are also nice for that unexpected holiday company and for snacks in your room.

Each year as a social service project, Tri Sigma gives food, clothing, presents and Christmas decorations to a needy family in Menomonie. Plans and arrangements for this year's project were discussed in the chapter ceremonial business meeting Thursday evening.

Final plans were also made for the "Punch Party" held before the Panhellenic Ball "Noel Moderne". Holiday punch, evergreens, Christmas balls, and candles decorated 1009 9th Street to carry out the traditional Christmas theme. Those attending included Miss Williams, Tri Sigma's faculty sponsor, members, pledges, friends, and dates of the sorority.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS BRING MEMORIES

People were coming out of church just as the snowflakes began to fall like a gray mist. While the moon reflected the snow and "Winter Wonderland" isn't enough to describe it.

"We always go to candlelight service at our church. It's really beautiful on Christmas eve."

The choir singing "Silent Night" is a close harmony. With the church lights dimmed low giving an air of absolute serenity and good will.

There is something about the singing of songs by the choir on Christmas which makes me feel all happy inside."

The lights of the Christmas tree reflecting out of the window making the home a warm cozy place in the cold winter season.

The tree goes up on Christmas eve when all the little kids are in bed. You should see their eyes when they see it the next morning."

Gathering around the piano, the folks singing with mixed ability the old Christmas favorites.

"Even Dad will bring in his rumbling bass on the chorus of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."

Mistletoe hanging right over the doorway so when people enter

"I didn't even know I was standing under the mistletoe."

Hearing on the radio the ever favorite Dickens Christmas Carol or watching Almah and the Night Visitors over T.V.

It isn't the expensive presents or the fake commercialism that makes Christmas. Rather it is those things which are recalled. This is what there is to look forward to when Christmas vacation begins.

CHICAGOLAND ALUMNI HOLD MEETING

The Chicagoland Stout Alumni Chapter held a business and social meeting at Harding's Colonial Room, 21 South Wabash, on November 19.

Following a delicious dinner, officers and members were individually introduced to the group. Then President John Rowe conducted a short business meeting, with the group taking official action to change the name of their chapter from the Chicagoland Stout Institute Alumni chapter to the Chicagoland Stout Alumni Chapter. Suggestions were discussed regarding the development of an accurate, up-to-date mailing list. Possibilities of offering a scholarship were also discussed. Tentative plans were made regarding the next planned outing for the group.

Following the business meeting Wallace Buffmeier showed colored slides of previous chapter outings. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

STUDENTS HONORED AT CHRISTMAS DANCE

Something new was added to the annual Christmas party this year. During the intermission of the SSA sponsored dance, the senior class presented gifts to an outstanding boy and girl in each class.

The purpose of this gesture was to honor a few of those people who have done a lot of work for the student body but who haven't been given the lime-light for their efforts.

As senior class president, Robert Tennison presented the awards to Marilyn Webb and Dave Springer, freshmen; Betty Hawk and Jim Jones sophomores; Gloria McNeight and Ken Wittig, the juniors; and Irene Novinski and Bob Nolmer, from the senior class.

It being impossible to give awards to everyone, special mention was given to all others who have put forth their efforts in forming a better student body.

Continued Cold
Partly Cloudy

The weatherbird came winging in from a renaissance. Flight last night and said he thought the weekend weather would be good for travelers.

He was up in Sankatchewan on Wednesday, helping his cousins uncover their homes.

"Compared to that blizzard," he said, "this Wisconsin weather is summer stuff!"

The bird was confident about his weekend forecast for continued cold temperatures, fair to partly cloudy, with scattered snow flurries possibly by Sunday night.

He said, "It's a little early to say anything about the Christmas weekend, but it looks like the snow will be plentiful. Tell everyone to drive carefully, have fun, and wish them a Merry Christmas."

CHRISTMAS TEA IS SPONSORED BY CLUB

The Christmas season was once again celebrated as many students attended the annual Christmas Tea sponsored by the Home Economics Club, Wednesday, December 14, from 3:30 to 5:30 in the Harvey Memorial.

The entire consisted of Scandinavian cookies, cranberry punch, coffee, mints, and mixed nuts.

Green linden needles, pine wreaths with gold pine cones adorned the doors of Harvey Memorial. This same color combination was used on the table as pine bows and pine cones made the lovely centerpiece. The radiators were adorned with decorations supplied by the Fundamentals of Design classes. Christmas carolers visited the tea every 15 minutes to spread the glad tidings of this joyous season. The carolers were Julie Muenich, Zoe Goetzinger, Gloria Walstad, Joan Wendorf, Carol Hahn, Mary Brackett, Carmen Krings, and Ann Kofod.

The chairmen for the tea are as follows: General chairman, Carol Gerner; decorations and table arrangement, Cynthia Sutter; music, Carmen Krings; hostesses, pourers, and replenishers, Audrey Lehman; clean-up, Sally Lange; publicity, Diane Darcy; food, Hila Jeffery; equipment, Joan Mountford. The committees are to be complimented on their fine job of helping make the tea a success.

THAILAND DOES NOT HAVE CHRISTMAS

Stoutian readers will be disappointed because we have no Christmas. I have no doubt that this might surprise many of you. We are dominantly Buddhists.

We have, nevertheless, some sort of celebration too during this time of the year. It is a new year, of course. Our national new year is the same as yours but we celebrate a lunar new year in April also. The lunar new year has a different name, "Songkran". The name, literally means water pouring season, applied to a high light activity during the celebration. The new year in January, which is observed in the capital as well as big cities, is different.

In the afternoon of December 31 we have sports such as soccer, track, and games of kicking a cane ball back and forth through the air among players standing in a circle, boxing, track, tag, and so on. At night in the fair grounds of each town, we have free out door shows, classical dramas, folk dances, fire works, native duels and so on. These vary from town to town. At midnight the temples are singing, and the priests pray and bless a happy new year to people. Messages from our Majesty the King and a prime-minister are broadcasted. We sing a Thai version of "Auld Lang Syne". Then we go about greeting our relatives, friends, and colleagues. In the morning there is a religious rite. We send cards, too. Some give their loved ones presents. Some make new resolutions. Very rarely is one not able to go to work because of a long holiday or too much celebration. Everybody, however, is happy.

INTERSORORITY BALL ENJOYED BY STUDENTS

Huge Christmas ornaments and tinsel hung from the ceiling of the Stout gymnasium, while pink and white angels guarded everyone at the Intersorority Ball, held Saturday, December 3, at 9:00.

Dancing to the tunes of the George King orchestra were the 125 couples who attended the dance. All the girls were members of either the Alpha Sigma Alpha, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Hyperion or Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Punch was served throughout the evening by members of the various sororities. Chapters for the evening were Miss Clara Garrison, Mrs. Guy Salyer, Miss Anne Marshall, Miss Jean Milby, Miss Mary Kilian, and Miss Mary Katherine Williams. Guests were Mr. Verne C. Pryklund, Miss Alice J. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Iversen, Miss Kathryn Antrim, and Mr. and Mrs. Marie M. Price.

URGE STUDENTS TO GIVE BLOOD TO RED CROSS

Dunn County Red Cross Chapter announced that the bloodmobile unit will be in Menomonie on January 5 and 6, 1956. The unit will be set up in the library basement of Tainter Memorial Library. The date and time are as follows: Thursday, January 5, 1:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.; and Friday, January 6, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Recommendations from the unit include that the donor should not eat for four hours before the donation of blood. Students who are between the ages of 18 and 21 must have written permission of a parent.

Stout students are urged again to contribute blood as they splendidly have done in previous years.

PHILIPPINE CHRISTMAS

by Pedro A. Almajano

CHRISTMAS! Yes, I would say, the happiest day of the year all over Christian Nations-the day when every Christian celebrates the birth of our Creator and Savior, Jesus Christ; the days of plenty; the days of give and take; and the days of Happiness.

Christmas in the Philippines is celebrated in this manner:

IN CHURCHES:

For nine consecutive days before the birth of Christ, mass is said in the morning at about three o'clock at dawn. This mass is called "Misa Aguinaldo." The ninth mass is said at midnight on the eve of Jesus Christ's birth, December 25. This is known as the "Misa de Noche." During this mass one will observe the birth of Christ as depicted in the most sanctified altar.

During these nine consecutive days when mass is said to celebrate and honor the coming of Jesus Christ in the hearts of the people, hundreds of the people throng to church to join the celebration of the coming of our Creator and Savior. Even those living in the outskirts of the town sacrifice to walk even two miles away from the church only because of their interests to hear the hundreds of people celebrate and honor the birth of our Great Creator.

IN SCHOOLS:

One day before Christmas vacation, usually in the afternoon, Christmas programs are rendered in all schools. This program brings into the hearts of the school children the spirit of Christmas. On the stage is a well decorated Christmas tree where gifts are hung in connection with this occasion. School children as well as teachers give gifts to their friends and acquaintances. These Christmas presents are hung on the tree and are distributed at the latter part of the program.

Even the financially hard-up pupils try their best to give something to their friends only because they do believe that it is during this season that to give is the most pleasant thing to do. Gifts range from the cheapest to the most expensive—often depending upon the financial abilities of the individuals.

BEARD GROWING STARTS FOR WINTER CANIVAL

Have you ever tried to grow a beard? Whether you have or not, here is your chance to grow one for a good purpose.

The annual Winter Carnival is scheduled for February 18, 1956 at which time beards will be judged and prizes awarded to the winners. You may enter one of three classes depending on your talents. Prizes will be awarded to the persons with the longest beard, the best looking, and the most unique.

The contest opens this Friday, so get that fuzz started over Christmas. And by the way, you'll be surprised the way the fair sex goes for that little "something different!"

MILWAUKEE AREA GRADS PLAN PARTY

The local Stout Alumni Chapter of Milwaukee has a Christmas party planned for all former Stout Grads and their spouses, including present Stout students from that area who are home on vacation.

The reunion will be held at the Bohemian Hall, 1878 North 12th Street, Milwaukee; on the evening of December 28. Refreshments, music, and lunch will be furnished. Admission charge will be $2.00 per person.

Here's your chance to renew former acquaintances and to reminisce over old times. Plan now to attend.

YWCA HELD CHRISTMAS PARTY ON SATURDAY

On Saturday, December 10, at 3:30 p.m. the "Y" girls gathered at Miss McCallum's home for their traditional Christmas party. The religious part of the program was lead by Barbara Ray with Kay Hawkins accompanying the Christmas songs. After the program, gifts were exchanged and a delicious lunch was enjoyed. The girls returned to their homes full of the true Christmas spirit and already making plans for the spring activities.

PARTY HELD SUNDAY FOR THREE GROUPS

This last Sunday night, December 3, the L.S.A. joined forces with Congo (U.S.F.) and Wesley fellowships in a night of food and fun. The Methodist church was the scene for this lively gathering. First came the food. Then there were the games and the devotional meeting. Let us see, I seem to be forgetting something. I have it—the Christmas season just doesn't seem complete without those old traditional Christmas songs. The singing of these ever famous Christmas carols brought to a close another perfect day.

LIBRARY HOLDS COFFEE FOR STUDENT HELP

Library student assistants enjoyed all the good cheer and the beautiful decorations at the Christmas coffee given annually by the library staff. The coffee was held on Friday afternoon, December 9, in the library staff lounge.

U. OF MISSOURI ISSUES BOOK BY SSC PROFESSOR

Recently issued by the University of Missouri has been the bulletin, "A Follow-up of Engineering Dropout, University of Missouri, 1947-1952," by Dr. Theodore E. Wiehe, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout state college.

The publication, which is a summary report of Wiehe's doctoral dissertation, was reproduced by the department of industrial education in the college of education at the University of Missouri, in cooperation with the Missouri State Department of Education.

The summary reports a follow-up of over 400 youth who entered the engineering college at the University of Missouri between 1947-1952, only to drop out before graduation.

The preface of Dr. Wiehe's summary states that over 50 per cent of the enrollees in engineering and technical institutions fail to graduate. Because of this tremendous loss of students, Wiehe's study is felt to be of special interest to deans and teachers of such colleges, as well as to high school principals, counselors, and other teachers.

Thus copies of the doctoral summary will be sent to principals and counselors of all high schools in Missouri. Libraries and other interested agencies will also receive copies.

At Stout state college, Dr. Wiehe instructs in the areas of machine shop, patternmaking and project development.

ACTIVITIES SPONSORED BY PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Samples of Christmas cards which will be sent to other fraternities and sororities were examined at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon held last Thursday, December 8, in the club room. Various penalties were meted out to latecomers, and final plans were drawn up for caroling night. Immediately following the regular meeting, all of the committees met to conclude the year's business.

Last night the Phi Sigs had a wonderful time serenading the dorms and the hospital along with the sororities. Many Phi Sigs from the Eau Claire chapter came to Menomonie early to join in the singing. After the basketball game many of the carolers enjoyed hot chocolate and doughnuts in the clubroom. The Phi Sigs wish to thank Ken Wittig and his committee for the sweet refreshments.

All of the Phi Sigs were glad to see the Blue Devil in the high school gym which was put up by the latest group of pledges. Good job, pledges!

The members of Omega chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon would like to wish their advisors, their alumni, and all Stout students a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. They hope you are pleased with the jackets that many of you received as Christmas "presents."

INOR HOLSTRUM TO PRESENT PROGRAM

January 11 is the date of the first convocation after Christmas vacation. Inor Holstrum, tenor will present a musical program at this time. His repertoire includes a large variety of favorite songs, both classical and popular.

THE TRUE MEANING OF CHRISTMAS

Another year is drawing to its close and the Christmas holidays are just around the corner. What a period for Stout students to look forward to! It's an opportunity to be with the family, to meet old friends, and to shout greetings of good will and cheer. This extension may be good in itself but may cover the true meaning of Christmas.

Christmas Eve, to many young children, is the reward for having been good those long weeks of waiting. "Santa" has finally brought the gifts which were the subjects of many letters. The importance of Santa diminishes with added years, but all too often, Christmas is still a time for gay parties and numerous gifts. The greatest gifts of all times are overshadowed with other things.

The true meaning of Christmas is much more meaningful and all enveloping. A never to be forgotten occasion is the Christmas Eve church service when beautiful carols and hymns are sung and the old, old story is heard from the lips of little children. To leave this and enter a white misty world with new fallen snow covering every tree and house top gives one a feeling of serenity and safety. Gathering around the tree and singing carols, opening gifts from family and friends, and reading the story of the first Christmas as it is found in Luke completes a memorable Christmas Eve and are the foundation for an enriching Christmas season.

Christmas is a time of merriment and song, of voices filling the air with music. The Intimacy Hall was the kick-off for the Christmas season here at Stout. After that rounds of parties and gala affairs have been held. All of the fraternities and sororities have held parties and serenaded the dorms.

The Sig Tau fraternity "killed two birds with one stone" last Thursday by serenading the dorms and also serenading a newly married couple—Dorothy Dieter and Dave Gresh. Congratulations, kids!

Our Rogues of the campus who vowed he would NEVER part with his first pin gave it away Saturday night to Jo Scholtz. Romance, by the way, is Mickey Schellin. Again, congratulations, kids.

Some of the marriages during last vacation included Martin Schenck, who married a girl from home, and Jim Hole who was married in Escanaba.

After the Thanksgiving vacation, when most of the students got back to Menomonee, some made a mad dash to see his or her heart throb. As we looked through one keyhole, we saw Jim Kofler suffering from a slight case of frost bitten ears—seems he spent some time out on a cold porch saying good night to Patti.

Some of the local yokels have been getting the Christmas spirit early. I happened to be at one of the local night spots doing some observing when I saw Bill Middleton sitting on Carol Lee Kecher's lap. Or was it Vice versa? I really couldn't tell because the spark was so thick. Anyhow that's the short and long of it.

The head of work that most of the grade have must have been in a state of mind at the time. We saw Jerry Eubank one evening make the mistake of entering the women's restroom. He was a first-time doer for the night and was an unattractive female extra-ordinary.

The Stout Snooper

Yes, students, vacation is here and Christmas, the most important feast in the Christian year is only one week from Sunday!

Christmas is celebrated on the 25th of December, but the exact date of Christ's birth is not really known. Days in every month have been used as "the day," but in the 4th century, the Bishop of Jerusalem decided that January 6 was incorrect and so he asked that December 25 become the correct date. And so Christ's birthday was and is celebrated on December 25.

During vacation (and at the annual Christmas dance) mistletoe will probably play a "prominent part" in your social fun! Yes, in the U.S. any youth has the privilege of kissing the girl "unwittingly" or "sittingly" standing under it! In the 15th and 16th century at Oxfordshire, the maid servant asked the man of the house for ivy to decorate the interior. If he failed to gather the ivy, she stole a pair of breeches and nailed them to the front gate and he was not allowed the privilege of mistletoe! So beware, men!

The tradition of using mistletoe is traced back to the Druids who regarded it with reverence in celebration of the winter solstice. The Druid priests robed in white, cut it with golden sickles and burned it in honor of their god. Then the sprigs were passed to their people as a symbol of future hope and peace. If enemies met under mistletoe, they dropped their arms and embraced. The custom of kissing under the mistletoe probably originated from this act.

During the past weeks, it has been common to hear certain campus groups caroling. These songs are old since the first hymn was written in the 4th century; in Germany a song was written in the 10th century; and in France and England, carols were written in the 13th century. (The word carol originates from two Latin words: cantare meaning to sing; and carola; meaning joy.) Caroling is an old English custom which started at Christmas "wails." It was introduced early in America and is still popular today.

Christmas cards were first given in England in 1846. In 1864, the giving of greeting cards became popular, so it is about the youngest of all Christmas traditions. In the 1870's cards were introduced in the U.S. by Dr. Clement Moore's 1822 poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas" brought reindeer and sleigh bells into the Christmas scene.

Countries have many unusual Christmas beliefs, or customs. For instance in Poland, it is believed that on Christmas night, the heavens open and the scene of Jacob's ladder is recreated. In Austria, people put candles in the windows to guide the Christ child. The Scandinavian countries have an old custom of putting all the family's shoes in a row—meaning peace, and harmony for the next year.

A Russian custom consists of a big masquerade parade with everyone dressed as animals.

And in Peru, it's common for the gaily dressed people to play merry pranks; sleep at midnight, attend a solemn mass.

At home in America, Santa Claus parades, children making "angels" in the freshly-fallen snow, hanging the tree, trimming stockings and caroling are all traditions and part of the American Christmas.

I, the Snooper, wish everyone of you a Merry Christmas!

P.S. I'll be back to snoop in 1956.

NURSERY SCHOOL ENABLES WOMEN STUDENTS TO STUDY CHILD GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

You have probably noticed the double doors at the end of Harvey Hall's third floor, but have you wondered what goes on behind those doors?

Beyond the double doors is the classroom called the nursery school. Its pupils are fifteen girls and boys from the ages of three to four and a half years.

But what is a nursery school doing in a home economic girls' program? Girls who major in home economics are future homemakers, and teachers of homemakers, so the study of how to work with young children will benefit them, as well as the people they teach. In these courses the girls learn about the development of children and how to guide them to become well-rounded, wholesome personalities.

The class consists of two courses: one, personality, growth, and development of the child, which the girls take in their junior year, and two, guidance principles and practices with the preschool child, which they take when they are seniors.

But what do the girls do? In the junior year, they learn about the personality growth and development of children through the observation of one child from behind a one way vision screen in an observation booth. In their senior year, they get first hand contacts with the child in the nursery school, learning how to help them in their routine and play situations, in which the children must adjust to adults and each other.

Because of the increased space from a recent remodeling of the nursery school, the girls have an easier job in helping the children and in observing them. The former two classrooms became one large room with the observation booth forming a U shape. The room is painted in harmonizing greens with linoleum tile on the floor. This color was chosen to suggest the outdoors.

In place of the former heavy and space-consuming cots, they now have light aluminum stacking cots, thus leaving more space for play. There are also bathroom facilities in the room. Until now the children had to walk down three-fourths of the hall to a bathroom.

Most of the students who take nursery school feel that although they learn much about young children, they learn equally as much about themselves and why they act as they do.

Doesn't this course sound interesting?

The Stout Snooper

Snooping around the campus this week, I heard and saw signs of Christmas—some students humming "White Christmas," conversations with discussions about presents to give or get, girls in "the Harvey" making out greeting card lists, men planning "big zuzen zuppsos" equipped with smoke signals in the frosty mornings.

After noticing these usual signs of the festive season, my snooping ears and eyes have taken toll of the changes in the Christmas season today. Santa Claus now comes in a helicopter, cards have "cute" designs, radios sing out with "Buy her this," "peroxidized" angels appear in costume, a search for "new" Christmas stores is conducted, and people, even you, the Stout student, just forget to go to church during the Advent season.

Yes, today's Christmas is becoming modernized (commercialized). Why, some stores began to decorate or display Christmas items two or three weeks before Thanksgiving. And it was recently estimated that Americans will spend $15, 250, 000,000 in December, an increase of 3.5 per cent over last year's spree!

Now only 1955 years after the birth of Christ, when the wonderful season honoring the birthday of the Christ-child nears, I hear students saying, "The traffic is terrible," others singing "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer," or "I just don't know what he needs."

I wonder where the old carols are or why the students don't know what "he needs." Well, perhaps friends don't need a material thing, but what about giving them a token of love and friendship and putting the "real" meaning of Christmas back into practice in this modern day. Give your friends understanding, a hug (energy gone to waist), consideration, a prayer, a smile, or a helping hand. These gifts do not cost money and remember, tax time is nearing and your father's dollar practically becomes a dime when taxes are eliminated. Oh, sure, I realize that you can't buy these things in a store, but these things are what your friends really need.

"I wish there were some new way to say 'Merry Christmas.' Twice today I overheard that remark. And each time I said reverently to myself: 'Thank God, there isn't.'"

The spirit of Christmas is as simple as the heart of a child. It needs no new slogan and no special sales effort. No advertising agent can lend new glamour to its ancient magic.

It is as elemental as the sun and the wind and the rain, as the stars that glowed on Galilee one holy night and now shed their same steady light on an older and perhaps a wiser world, mas out of your hearts! Hold onto the old traditions, save that crooked star that goes on top of your family tree, send a kind thought with each "Christmas" card, do a kind deed each day, sing "Silent Night" and the other "old" carols, bake cookies, review the story of Christ's birth by rereading it from the Bible, and go to church each Sunday morning.

Christmas is still Christmas.

Let us not forget the real meaning of Christmas.

It is a season of prayer for the whole world... for peace on earth and good will toward all men.

STOPPE CAFE

THE CHRISTMAS PEARL

Two years ago, in the Christmas issue of the Stoutonia, there appeared the story of my life: the story of a little orphan girl from Holland who came to America after the death of her family. I told you of the events which marked Christmas ten years ago, of my father's death, and most of all, his benediction upon me. Yes, a decade has passed since that all happened, but I remember it as clearly as if it were yesterday. But I don't want to dwell on this. Instead I wanted to thank you people of Menomonee and Stout who made my Christmas so much happier, in fact, who made my Christmas a Christmas. I want to thank you for your selfishness and kindness to a girl who needed it so very much. And now I want to give you something. This is a story, the story my father used to tell us on Christmas Eve when we were still in Holland. This is what he used to say.

"It happened twenty years ago, in a small village along the North Sea. The town was poor, as are so many of the fishing villages. The men went to sea, and the women stayed home.

Reka was only 24 then, with three children and a small home. Christmas was the time of year she dreaded most, for it meant the added expense of presents, which strained their tiny income past the breaking point. But the children loved Christmas, for it was the time of year filled with gaiety and excitement.

One night, quite unexpectedly, Reka heard a knock on the door. Opening it she found Dirk, her husband, dirty and tired from a week's fishing. But somehow, it was the same Dirk. Something about this new man glowed, and was radiant, filling the house with a curious air of excitement.

Naturally Reka questioned Dirk, until he said, "Wait my dear, for you know the time of giving is near. On Christmas you shall find my secret." And later that night there was a new package under the tree. Oh, it was small, and clumsily wrapped, but somehow it stood out. It was, like Dirk, filled with suspense and excitement.

Reka worried about it, pondered over it, and grew more and more excited as the days passed, until the day before Christmas she could stand it no longer. She opened the package.

Inside there was a string of pearls. Beautiful, round, white pearls, resting on folds of royal blue velvet. The first jewelry she had ever owned. A smile spread across her face, and she thought how grand she would look in them, and how the women of the village would stare at her as she wore them on Christmas morning. She stood straight, admiring her beauty, proud of her pearls. And when the baby came with a cut on his finger, she didn't hear him. She saw only her pearls.

She closed the box, and then put it back in place, vowing not to mention to her husband that she had opened the package.

That night, after Dirk had gone to bed, she tiptoed downstairs for another look at the pearls. When she got there the box was gone. Where was it? And she started a frantic search of every conceivable hiding place in the house.

Hours later, as the sun was coming up, she gave up the search. The pearls were gone. They were not there to be found. And she went to bed and cried her heart out. Her pearls! Gone!

And when the morning finally broke, the sky with its Christmas gold, Reka drifted off in a fitful sleep. Dirk, watching her, felt his heart break with the secret he carried, the secret of the missing pearls.

You see, the pearls had been found, and on them was a message that said, "To the finder of the pearls: Guard well these jewels, and give them to the kindest person in the world, for only then will they be safe. Greed and jealousy will destroy them, because like people they grew from a tiny seed, striving for perfection. They are pure, white, round, and whole. To give them foolishly will destroy them forever."

Then Dirk knew. He knew that his wife, the loveliest girl in the village, the perfect mother, had a streak of greed. He knew that when he saw the open box under the tree. He knew that her thoughts, as she caressed the beads, held no love for either himself or the children, but only loved the pearls. She had been more anxious to receive than to give, and that was why the pearls had disappeared to someone who deserved them.

How well I remember this story. How I used to hate it when I was young, because it had no climax, because it sounded so unreal. But now today, as I become more and more mature, I see the full meaning of this tale.

And now I know why father told it so often. He realized that love was the basic component of life and personality. He knew that seeds of greed and jealousy stifled the flower of love, and if we are to grow round and perfect we must guard against them.

I remember how, after this story, he would reach for the Bible, and read the passage connected with the birth of Christ. And then, as always, he would look at us children while he read the last verse of Luke 2. "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

Now I know, now I can see, what my father did for us. Now I see why it's better to love than to hate, why I laugh instead of cry although there is much I have lost, why I try to grow in wisdom instead of knowledge.

Yes, once again it's Christmas. We can either grow like the flower of love, or, like Reka, lose everything in our greed and selfishness. I know several families that grew in love two years ago. They were willing to give up their hearts and homes for the holidays. And through their generosity they grew, too, in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

S.S.C. STUDENT TEACHERS BENEFIT FROM TEACHING DUTIES, ENJOY EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Several girls are back from their six weeks of student teaching from October 7 to November 23. With their return they bring many memories, humorous and otherwise, and new experiences.

Let's see what a few of the returning coeds have to say about their experiences as teachers.

"It's good to be back," said Joan Anderson and Dorothy Belale, two of the girls who were at Medford. Both agree it was a worth-while experience and they profited from it. "The kids were very co-operative, we had modern facilities, and barring the fact that Medford is Fern Hatley's home town, it's a pretty good place," said the two. P.S. If you need any fancy cookies, consult Joan. It seems like cookie racks are replacing cookie sheets!!

From Medford we hear from Glenwood City and find out about Carol Schilstra and Nancy Brackett. They were the guests of three teas given by the home economics students. Between the two of them they taught 9-12 grade. Besides all their teaching duties, it's rumored they got to brush-up on their Spanish. Adios!!

Marjorie Newman and Shirley Lundeen were the first student teachers that Barron has ever had. Marjorie had the 9 and 10 grades and Shirley had the 11 and 12. They also taught an adult class in sewing and helped with the F.H.A. Marjorie's first class was not in the home economics department. She substituted for the biology teacher. Extra curricular activities included chopping down a Christmas tree at 11:30 to be used in an open house display.

"Teaching is a lot different than I expected," said Joan Stegman who taught at West Salem with Sarah Nash. Like so many other girls, they found teaching to be a 24 hour job. They also conducted an adult tailoring class. Joan's advice to a teacher is "Be prepared for everything."

Lillian Smith who taught at Neilsen, was the only one to have a boy's home economics class. Fourteen fellows can really give a girl a lot of trouble, especially when they try to bake cakes. Green devils foods were found to taste all right if eaten with the eyes closed. With her six weeks of teaching behind her, Lillian has found "more fun to be on the other side of the fence."

Barbara Ness and Mary Buol had many activities to keep them busy in falshin. They conducted the 9-12 grade home economics classes and also had a mixed group in personal development. A study hall with 40 boys can really be a long hour. They were given into many school activities and ten baby-sat.

Lois Martos and JoAnn Chamberlain taught in Colfax. Besides their regular duties, they also had charge of P.H.A., an adult class, and make-up and usherette for the Junior Class lay. Avis found that having access to a car really helps.

Most of the girls will agree that six weeks of teaching is a valuable experience and that teaching is rewarding in itself.

English teacher: "What do you call a man who drives a car?"

Student: "Depends on how close he comes to me."

AMERICAN CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS ARE ORIGINAL

Foreign customs at Christmas provide interesting features; material; little do we dwell on the numerous American customs we're seeking a Yule topic. Perhaps you have never stopped to note how many truly American customs we have in the United States have originated.

Our decorations are so typically American—almost before the Thanksgiving turkey has been devoured stores and streets don a new winter outfit, full of glitter, Holly wreaths, and the merry tinkling of bells. Streets lighted at night make each village a metropolis, while store windows torment every child's dream.

We find ourselves remembering the things we did other years; a holly wreath with its red candle lights our window each night to lead weary travelers to warmth as it did in the days of Mary and Joseph. Christmas carols gain more appreciation each year and new ones are added to almost unlimited lists. Handel's Messiah is performed with new inspiration and the concerts we rehearse for, the caroling parties we enjoy, and the pageants we attend are all American customs we seldom consider calling such.

The church plays a major role in most American homes at Christmas. Families busy themselves with work for charitable causes, gifts for the needy and handicapped. Christmas greetings flooding post offices the world over are exchanged by millions of Americans each year. Santa, in his jolly red suit, takes every child on his knee and questions, "What would you like, Sonny?" This is America! When the Eve of Christmas arrives there is the evergreen to be decorated with gaily colored tinsel, the stockings to be hung at the fireplace and the bedtime stories to be told each year.

Longing hearts are filled with nostalgic memories at Christmas. To be home for this holiday, a theme so often used by poets and song writers, can be only truly expressed by someone who has failed to get a pass or spent Christmas overseas.

We have the giving of gifts, bringing to mind the spirit of Christ's giving. The gaily wrapped packages are seldom as much joy to receive as they are to give, and each year we outdo ourselves with our generosity.

Yes, these are American customs; they are American by origin or by the heritage giving each one of us the right to make them so.

POETREE

Christmas is best described in the eyes of a child on Christmas morn, when he comes down the stairs and over to the tree, so amazed, so bewildered, yet so happily he stands before his Christmas tree.

His eyes so bright, they seem to say thanks Mommy, thanks Daddy, thanks God, thanks for this my Christmas Day.

He opens his presents and I see all the joy and gladness in the world come out of a little boy beside his Christmas tree.

Then I realize life is not so bad, yes life has been good to me; I realize all of this, when I see, my child beside his Christmas tree.

ORIGIN OF THE CHRISTMAS TREE

The Christmas tree, especially to the younger folks, is above all else the bright jewel in the home at the happy season. In its modest form, with its dazzling lights, shining fruits and glistening fillets, it was slow in coming. Everything else, except Christmas cards, which made their first appearance in England about the middle of the nineteenth century, had long been associated with the festival. The gay, picturesque emblem, now as familiar, belongs to past-Reformation time; but its widespread popularity was only attained during the last hundred years. It was the slow growth of many generations; and when touch upon touch brought it to its present glory of perfection the protracted story of the Christmas decorations was at last brilliantly crowned.

The origin of the Christmas tree is of considerable interest, especially in these days when it is the custom to trace everything back to its real or imaginary beginning. The Arabian regarded their date-palm as a "tree to hang things on." At an annual festival it was adorned as divine and handsomely decorated "with fine clothes and women's ornaments." In India artificial trees often constructed of the costliest materials, even of gems and gold, are carried about at marriage ceremonies and at many festivals such as the annual festival of vernal equinox.

The Christmas tree, however, as we have it is almost entirely the creation of these days when it is the custom to trace everything back to its real or imaginary beginning. The Arabian regarded their date-palm as a "tree to hang things on." At an annual festival it was adorned as divine and handsomely decorated "with fine clothes and women's ornaments." In India artificial trees often constructed of the costliest materials, even of gems and gold, are carried about at marriage ceremonies and at many festivals such as the annual festival of vernal equinox.

The transition from the trees of material bloom to those artificially decorated was made in Germany. It, supposedly, was Martin Luther who took a walk one Christmas eve and became entranced with the wonder and beauty of the night. On his return home he set up for his children a tree illuminated with candles to represent the glorious heaven he had seen before.

And so each year, more and bigger developments have taken place in the Christmas tree. In quieter moments its real significance may be hinted; for it is a symbol of Christ, as the Tree of Life who offers freely to all His gifts of light and life and wisdom.

DORM NEWS

Today we leave for our Christmas sojourn and now is the time to get that extra bit of junk in your suitcase (s), get the suitcase(s) in the car, say the last farewells, get your Stoughton and settle down for a nice though, of the past week. This week is quite like no other on the Stout campus for many a reason. With Christmas comes the deluge of parties and extra activities that never seem to be around when class work is lighter. It is a week to be remembered in the life of any freshman who lives in a dormitory.

Ever since the trees were trimmed in the dorms, life has not been the same; the girls have been in an awful state of frenzies! Patty Jo, Sandy, and "Pete" decided to cool off and the best way they could think of was to go outside in their swim suits. Girls, have you taken your enrollment in the Polar Bear Club yet? I think at the rate they are going they could have a life time membership. (By the way, pictures will soon be on sale at the Annex for two-bits. A worthwhile project to say the least.)

Sunday "Herman, the Red German" descended upon the Annex, accompanied by Christmas cookies. Also a Mother and two girls accompanied the cookies and all were very welcome.

The stockings were hung by the chimney with care in the hopes of nothing that attained a nice decorative effect. But, so those girls from the second floor of the Annex have a variety of sizes and colors!

Did anyone see their desk drawer? Seems there are quite a few switched and missing. I wonder who could have done it?

"Eich" is all decorated out in the festive season and just to add to the show they have those nice big windows to put the tree in. Really reminds you of an old fashioned Christmas. But just add a bit of contrast they have some very nice modern mobiles hanging around.

The "Annex" had a special pride of Christmas for although there were no presents under the tree for them there are packages sent to the needy in foreign lands through the CARE food and clothing service.

A LETTER TO SANTA

I went out to Pete's one night. Somebody snitched on me. I didn't pass my econ. test. Somebody snitched on me. I can't cook and I can't sew. I keep spending Daddy's dough. President says that I must go. Somebody snitched on me.

I'm getting something for Christmas. Mommy and Daddy are mad. I'm getting something for Christmas. Jeepers am I ever glad.

My old car just wouldn't start. Somebody snitched on me. I was late for class one day. Somebody snitched on me.

I'm getting something for Christmas. Mommy and Daddy are mad. I'm getting something for Christmas. Jeepers am I ever glad.

I'm getting something for Christmas. Mommy and Daddy are mad. I'm getting something for Christmas. Jeepers am I ever glad.

I went out with Sam one night. Somebody snitched on me. I got pinned so its all right. Somebody snitched on me.

I'm so happy I can sing. Wonder when I'll get a ring. Oh, dear Santa can't you bring. Somebody snitched on me.

I'm getting something for Christmas. Mommy and Daddy are mad. I'm getting something for Christmas. Jeepers am I ever glad.

Because they would like to enjoy and share the spirit of Christmas, the average class families give simple articles like handkerchiefs, underwear, perfume, shirts, toilet soap and the like. Thus they believe they have done an act which is Christian in nature. For the well-to-do families they give more precious things such as a set of silverware, a living room set, costly watches, rings and ear rings and the like. Happy are those who receive these things but happier still are those who give them. In other words, "To Give is More Holy and Pleasant Than To Receive."

IN THE HOMES:
Homes during this season are decorated and prepared to welcome the coming of Jesus. Christmas trees are also provided in most homes. Lanterns are hung on the windows with candle lights inside them to light his way. On the eve of December 25, people prepare candies such as "biblecakes", "sin-uman", "tinupig" and other kinds, native in nature, which are given to young boys and girls who go from house to house singing carols. December 25 is their day to go out to sing for gifts.

Every time you graduate from the school of experience, someone thinks up a new course.

STOUT BEATS NORTHLAND 77-68, RUNS OVER WINONA 66-64. BOULDER SCORE 34

On the night of the Blue Devils' victory at Northland, the team from Winona, Minn., after losing four straight games, the mighty Stout Devils ran over the Northland team last Saturday night, December 10.

Jim Boim was the master of the home Saturday night. He totaled 31 points for the Blue Devil team.

At the end of the first half things didn't look too bright for the Devils as it ended with Northland leading 40-38. In the second half the Devils moved out of the underdog bracket to out tally the Northland team and finish up as victor.

DORM NEWS

The boys are looking forward to Christmas vacation with fewer restrictions on hours, noise, etc. The dorm will be closed and foreign students are spending Christmas at friends' homes. The dorm has been decorated in the spirit of the holiday by some of the "poorer behaved" boys. No party is being planned as the winter sports of skating and skiing occupy much of the boys' time. One of the residents of Lynwood, Keith Dame, is recovering from a skiing accident. The six stitches over his one eye look worse than they feel, he says. Dick Johnson is also recuperating from a bad cold.

Residents of Lynwood wish everyone a very happy vacation and a Merry Christmas.

The Devils played hard ball Thursday night to beat Winona 66-64. The game was the closest played this season. The team traveled to Winona and returned with a second straight victory.

Jim Boim repeated his outstanding performance of last Saturday by totaling 24 points in the game Thursday night. Jim has a total of 92 points for five games and an average of 18.4 points a game.

At the end of the first half Stout and Winona 32 to 26. In the second half the Warriors scored 38 points to Stout's 34. The Warriors made a play bid in the second half but were unable to rally their much desired points which they needed to win.

Stout and Eau Claire played a good game last night in the Minnesota high school event. It's up to you to determine the score.

INDONESIAN CHRISTMAS

St. Nicholas is not a Christian and I do not celebrate Christmas myself. I can only explain what I know about Christmas in my country.

Indonesia has 80 million people and about 5% are Christians. As Indonesia was under Dutch rule for several hundred years before 1942 the Dutch influenced some of the Indonesian habits. The Dutch and German missions brought the Christian religion to Indonesia and that is why the Indonesian Christians celebrate religious festivals in the Dutch manner, adopted to their own country.

December is a month of two big celebrations—December 5 is the birthday of St. Nicholas and December 25 is Christmas.

Though December 5 has no connection with Christmas, there are some similar things like the idea of Santa Claus. St. Nicholas was a bishop in Spain some hundreds of years ago and he was well-known as a good friend of the poor, especially the children.

ten to whom he gave presents. I this memory the people give presents to the children on his birthday. St. Nicholas is portrayed as a bishop with a long beard, and a staff in his hand, riding on a white horse over the roofs of the houses. He is accompanied by his black servant, a Moor named "Black Pieter." The story is told that gifts are brought via the chimneys. The small children put the wood shoe "blomph" under their chimneys filled with hay for the horse. As the houses in my country have no chimneys (we don't heat our houses because it is warm the whole year) and we don't wear "blomph", the children in Indonesia put their shoes filled with grass in front of their beds. In the night St. Nicholas and Black Pieter will come and fill the shoe with presents. Black Pieter has a sweep and a bag and it is said that naughty children are put in the bag. This St. Nicholas celebration seems to be the same idea as Santa Claus who brings presents to children in his sleigh.

After December 5 comes the Christmas atmosphere, especially in the cities where there are foreign firms and stores. We see everywhere the Christmas mood. The stores are decorated with Christmas decorations. Many people are busy shopping. As Indonesia is a tropical country, it is not a white Christmas, but a Christmas celebrated under the tropical warmth. To imitate the snow people they use a kind of pine tree with long needles. These trees are called "T. Jemara." The decorations are almost the same as here. They also use angel hair, stars, and bells. Most of them still prefer the candles in place of electric lights. As Santa Claus is not known in Indonesia, the gifts are put under the Christmas tree. On December 25, Christmas is celebrated everywhere, in the churches, clubs, and hotels. Still Christmas is a family festival. The Christmas dinner depends on what nationality the people are. Indonesian Christians eat their festive Indonesian dinner as do the Europeans with the European meal. But every family must have punch and snowballs (a kind of round doughnut with raisins in it). That is traditional.

Since this is the first time I shall see this holiday celebrated in America, I am anxious to observe your customs.

IT WAS THE NIGHT BEFORE VACATION
Tis the night before vacation and out on the town are the stout state seniors, pouring their down. The seniors and sophomores and freshmen are there. All of them drowning their worries and care. The "blue" glows with its usual blaze. With most of its occupants deep in a haze. The blue of the smoke matched the blue of the night and Whitey was there as high as a kite. When over next door there arose such a clatter that we sprang from our stools to see what was the matter. We tore to the cellar as fast as we could and on our way saw Art not feeling so good. The empty vessels all left behind. Brought only one thought to our foggy little minds the memory of a contest so recently staged when the POB's barely outdrank the DK's. With a little old ref so lively and quick. We knew in a moment it must be judge Zwick more rapid than eagles the pink elephants came. He whistled and shouted and called them by name. "Now Jerry, now Ronnie, Now Zaney and Bobby, On Billie, on Stevie, on George, and Tommy." To the top of the bar to the top of the wall. Now drink the drink it up, drink it up all. The DK's had Karaoke for, for cheerleader, 100. Encouraging them all to guzzle their brew. As this contest raged, another began. With the Phi Sigs trying to drink all they can. And then we heard Mux proposing a toast. "To the memory of Züch, who we love the most." As I finished my toast, and was turning around I saw the sororities come down with a bound. The black and the orchid flowed down like a dream. And Mae das, ed to Bob with an admonishing scream. Speaking of Bob's, we saw one not too stable. And Dorie chased him from under the table. His eyes how they twinkled, his feelings how merry. His cheeks like four roses, his nose like a cherry. And then singing started and to all our surprise, "Stully" composed a song for our bloodshot eyes, "The song? It didn't go over so hot. But anyway, by then we were all pretty shot. The clock by then was approaching one, and Alice was collecting empties by the ton. So we put on our coats and picked up our books. And focused our eyes for a last lingering look. We are now in merrymaking on our homeward way, And this is all we've got to say:

VACATION IS HERE

"Hurrah," Stout state students shout, Christmas vacation is near without doubt.

December sixteenth to January third are the designated days.

When Stout students will be free from the schoolwork maze.

Colorful decorations, carols, and holiday cheer,

Proclaim that Christmas is soon to be here

With its parties, food, fun, and presents too.

This Christmas is sure to be the best they ever knew.

Stout will soon be left vacant and quiet

For a rest from students unceasing riots.

Teachers, too, will offer thanks,

For a vacation from students and petty pranks.

As students leave Stout Friday noon,

Their thoughts will turn to home where they will be soon.

Ah yes, the long awaited vacation is almost here:

Be sure to have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Senior: "My girlfriend has exquisite tastes and a flair for doing the right thing. Last night when I took her to a dance she wore a dress to match my eyes."

Freshman: "Where in the world did she get a blood-shot-colored dress?"

As we celebrate that famous birth we are wishing for you the blessings of a Joyous Christmas season and a very successful and prosperous New Year.

"WINTER WONDERLAND" CHOSEN AS THEME FOR FRESHMAN FORMAL ON JANUARY 28

January 28 is the date; 8:00 to 12:00 P.M. is the time; the high school gym is the place. Will you be there?

This event is the annual Freshman Formal. The theme this year is "Winter Wonderland." Although the dance is sponsored by the freshman class, the entire school is invited to attend. Admission is free.

The advertising committee is already started, making posters and getting radio time lined up. The committee is headed by Eddie Birch (you saw him in Gramercy Ghost) and its members are Eddie Genal, Mary Ticker, Alice Weltgin, Shirley Oas, Carol Lehman, William Bird, Carol Warner, Beverly Ritzlaff, Marion Bast, Audrey Schroeder, Beverly Madson, Beverly Komperud, John Eder, Ann Moore, Dean Gray, Barbara Nuttleman, Bobette Mulock, Opal Burton, and Deanne Kelnhofer.

The decoration planning committee is under the direction of Ken Dickie

CLEANLINESS

Tolerate no uncleanness in body, clothes, or habitation.

COOPERATIVE HOUSING CONFERENCE

The North American Student Cooperative League held its Tenth National Conference the 29th and 30th of December in Chicago. Ray Pearson and Ralph Stevens represented Stout at the conference which is the governing body for approximately 350 cooperative housing groups on campuses from coast to coast.

The need for adequate student housing at Stout has become acute. The governing board has appointed a committee to look into the problem and the possible solution of cooperative housing. Not only is housing of this nature cheaper but it teaches students of all colors, races, and creeds to get along better.

The first week in February, Bill Stevens, president of the Rochdale Co-op at the University of Madison, will be on campus to talk to those people who are interested in the movement.

MODERATION

Avoid extremes. Forbear resenting injuries so much as you think they deserve.

FOLK TALE "HANSEL AND GRETEL" COMES TO LIFE IN PLAY PRODUCTION CLASS

Pupils of Menomonie grade schools have been seeing the fairytale "Hansel and Gretel" come to life in a one-act adaptation of that favorite story by students in the Play Production class of Stout state college.

Working under the direction of N.C. Ziemann, chairman of the speech department of the college, Stout students are becoming familiar with all phases of a play, from script to completed production. Emphasis of the Play Production course is not the development of acting ability, but an opportunity to gain insight into the many phases of dramatics.

On the basis of their training, students are prepared to stage such activities as style shows, skits, pageants, and plays. The course is divided into two main sections. The first portion is concerned with the directing of a play and emphasizes the task of the director. Such directorial techniques as selecting, analyzing, casting, and rehearsing the play are stressed. The second emphasis is on stage-craft problems and delves into designing a set, building and painting the scenery, lighting the set, and providing make-up, costumes, properties, and sound effects. Publicity is also a requirement.

In past years different types of plays have been presented by the members of Play Production classes. This year the group chose a children's play to be given for the grade school children of the Menomonie schools.

After the reading of several plays, the class chose to develop a script for "Hansel and Gretel." To their own version of that fairy story they added songs and dances. Jean Robey, a coed from Clayton, helped write the script

(the president of Lynwood Hall). The committee consists of Marilyn Webb, Jim Kratzke, Marlowe Zoberski, Alice Marshall, Jerry Porter, and Jan O'Grady. The colors for the dance will be blue, white and silver. The center of attraction will be the queen's throne; the queen will be elected from among the freshman girls. Details of the election will be announced later.

The clean-up committee, headed by Don Weghorn (vice-president of the frosh class), consists of Jim Daniels, Doug Gilbertson, Ellen Bruce, Carol Frank, Bruce Pence, Gary Hodge, Al Fennell, Ralph Niffenegger, Judy Johnson, Mary Hitesman, and Donna Ender.

Make it a date for the 28th and enjoy the most elaborate formal of the year.

HYP GOOD LUCK DANCE AFTER GAME FRIDAY

Good Luck Dance—Friday the 13th. Are you superstitious? Whether you are or not you'll surely enjoy the all school Good Luck Dance after the basketball game Friday night. The dance will be in the Stout gym and there will be orchestra music. The Hyperians are sponsoring this dance to prove that Friday the 13th is lucky.

CANTERBURY CLUB SETS 200 BOOKS AS GOAL

"Two-hundred books by the end of January" is the goal set by Cynthia Sutter in the school wide quest for technical and non-technical literature to establish the first American style free library in Nigeria.

Cynthia is president of the Canterbury Club, the Episcopal church group that is sponsoring the drive. The library, to be set up by Michael Ochuba, special student at Stout, will be non-denominational and will be the first library in Nigeria opened to the people of his community. The libraries existing in Nigeria at the present, reports Mike, are either sponsored by religious missions or are part of school systems. These libraries serve only members of that particular school or mission.

The half-way mark has been reached, even before the full force of the

PRINTERS TO COMMEMORATE BEN FRANKLIN

It is January 17, 1706, the birthday of Ben Franklin, and You are there. What kind of a day is it? A cold day, filled with promise. Everything is much the same now as it was on that day; only, You are there.

This coming week, January 21, we call Printing Education Week in commemoration of the great American printer, scientist and statesman; Ben Franklin. Born in Boston, he began life working in his father's business.

Several years later he apprenticed to his half brother, James, as a printer. This was the meager beginning of a great man.

After repeated quarreling with his brother, Ben struck out in the business world on his own. He became owner of the Pennsylvania Gazette, which still exists today under the title of The Saturday Evening Post. An inventive type of person, also, Ben did much to further knowledge in the field of electricity. Most famed, probably, was his experiment of flying a kite in a electrical storm proving that lightning and electricity were both a flow of electrons; therefore, synonymous.

Not only a printer and scientist, Ben was also a statesman. On March 20, 1775, he was elected to the Second Continental Congress, and from this time on was one of the leaders in the colonial struggle for independence.

Yes indeed, Franklin was indeed a great man, and so it is only fitting and appropriate that we set aside a week to commemorate his birthday. Let's all join in and make Printing Education Week a big event at Stout.

Where sense is wanting, everything is wanting.

Carol Lehman Begins Reign At Beekeepers Convention In Biloxi, Mississippi

CONVOCATION TO FEATURE LECTURER

An outstanding authority on the Balkans, Dragos Kostich, will discuss, "Russia's European Satellites," on January 25 at 10 o'clock in the morning for convocation. In his discussion he will illustrate the expectations for change in the slave labor countries as seen by a native Yugoslav, of Serbian family.

Kostich is veteran of the Yugoslav Air Force and later Mihajlovic partisans. He was deported to the Salonikt concentration camps from which he escaped in August, 1943. He refused to join the Greek communists and was sent to Italy where he worked in Yugoslav Welfare organizing aid to refugees until 1946.

During the same period, and until leaving for this country in 1952 he was co-editor of the Voice of America labor broadcasts to the central European satellites. In 1952 he also served as correspondent in charge of the West European affairs at the Paris Bureau of Radio Free Europe and permanent correspondent at NATO headquarters, in Paris.

In 1952 Kostich entered the United States as a political emigre and has been self employed here since. He lectures for the foreign policy association, and does research for the Mid-European Studies Center.

With his many continuing Balkan Labor activities, the lecturer maintains a great many contacts behind the Iron Curtain in Southeast Europe. This together with his thorough understanding of the nationality background and the history of the slavico-croatian-serbian groups make this a complete study of the area under consideration.

PRESIDENT AND WIFE RETURN TO MENOMONIE

Now at home are President and Mrs. Vease C. Fryklund, who were married in Los Angeles on December 19.

Mrs. Fryklund, the former Mrs. Laurel Minor Colton, had the opportunity of meeting the faculty, and wives or husbands of faculty members, at a lovely party presented by them in her honor Saturday evening at Hotel Marion. The group also gave a beautiful gift to the Fryklunds.

NOTICE

Anyone interested in attending the 10th Student United Nations Conference at Madison, Wisconsin, March 23-25, 1956, see Dr. Agnew to sign up and for information.

If you're tempted to describe any college coed as "sweet," you really owe that compliment to Carol Ann Lehman, freshman coed in home economics at Stout state college, Menomonie. Why? Because Carol Ann is now America's Honey Queen.

As such, 18 year old Carol Ann will reign over the National Beekeeper's Convention, to be attended by bee enthusiasts from all over the nation at Biloxi, Mississippi, January 19-26. There the attractive brunette will be inaugurated in an official coronation ceremony, be guest of honor at the convention banquet and will enjoy all the perogatives with which Americans invest honorary royalty.

But does Carol Ann raise bees? Does she spend the hot summer days separating bees from their hard-earned honey? The answer to both questions is "No." Then how did Carol Ann become America's Honey Queen?

Simple—by combining her home economics ability with enough personal charm to become one of the best promoters of honey which that oft-overlooked industry has yet developed. Wisconsin in 1952 produced nearly 16,000,000 pounds of honey, one of the state's major products.

Carol Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lehman of Berlin, began her ascension into the honey hierarchy last summer after a distinguished career of cooking and food projects for a Waushara County 4-H club. Because her 4-H leaders were also beekeepers, they encouraged her to enter her honey-baking delicacies at the Waushara County fair.

However, there was one "catch." Carol Ann worked eight hours a day as a telephone operator and six more as a night car-hop for a rootbeer stand. On the evening before the Waushara County fair competition, Carol Ann's mother, as usual, picked up her daughter after the midnight shift at the rootbeer stand, inquiring also if the honey delicacies were ready for the next day's contest.

"I almost fainted," Carol Ann recalls with a grin: "Here I'd promised everyone that I would demonstrate the value of honey in cooking and I didn't have one entry ready."

Not one to quit so easily, she labored until 4 a.m. baking a honey cake, honey bread, and two batches of honey cookies. She also created a poster describing honey's nutritional elements kept awake by her younger sister, who feared that the Lehman house would be burned down if the sleepy cook stopped for a catnap.

Haggard but happy, Carol Ann was next day named Waushara County's Queen of Honey. The Waushara Bee-

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The rapid increase in salaries for beginning teachers in Wisconsin is a ray of light in the otherwise educational gloom of teacher shortages.

The 1955 salaries are from $280.00 to $500.00 higher than they were just four years ago. The average salary for women who began teaching in 1952 was $2,845.00, and for men $3,082.00. The largest salary increase has been in city elementary school systems and the smallest increase has come in rural school salaries.

There were 1,706 teaching graduates from the ten Wisconsin state colleges last year (not including Platteville Institute). Ninety-two per cent are teaching, the 241 graduates who are not teaching entered the armed forces (68), married (49), entered a different occupation (49), went on to graduate school (43), or failed to teach for a variety of other reasons (32). No graduate missed getting a job because of an oversupply of teachers in his field.

Salaries will continue to rise as Wisconsin schools bid for the services of qualified young teaching graduates. If the present rate of increase continues, today's high school senior may expect a maximum salary of $4,000.00 for his first year of teaching after four years of college.

The future teacher in 1960 will have a wide selection of positions where he is needed in grade schools and in every high school subject. If he wishes to prepare for college teaching he may be assured of a need for him in higher education institutions.

The same gloomy problem of teacher shortages which faces Wisconsin citizens provides a bright future for the qualified high school student who chooses a teaching career.

The Stout Snooper

Hi! Well, are you all rested up after the two weeks of fun-filled vacation? I couldn't resist snooping, and I saw you busily unwrapping presents, going to parties, visiting with parents and friends --- always on the go! In fact, so busy with important things that there would not have been any time for the studying in those purposely forgotten books!

And then New Year's Eve. Ah, yes about 99.44% of you went to a party or in some way celebrated. (Er, I won't mention all ways of your celebrating since some of you really made a "mess" of yourselves, and still should be ashamed!)

At one party, I heard an annoyed girl say to date: "Let's go somewhere where we can each be alone." When the clocks began to strike midnight, I heard an ear-shattering uproar of everything---from tin whistles to just plain yelling. But it is also traditional on the stroke of midnight to give your date a special kiss and when one escort didn't kiss his Stout date, she complainingly said, "I don't know if he's a perfect gentleman or just not interested in me." In Edinburgh, any girl who was caught out on the street, even if she had an escort, might be kissed by any youth.

Yes, good-nature---even if not always sober nature---prevailed.

A prevalent U.S. custom is sitting up to see the Old Year out and the New Year in. Some churches hold services until midnight.

And then New Year's Day arrived and all Stout students were completely exhausted or had "hangovers of some type," but spent the day visiting and eating.

But now for some background: During my snooping, I discovered that the Egyptians used to say September 21 and the Greeks held that June 21 was the beginning of the new year. New Year's Day was fixed without any reference to the sun. The month's name,

SIG TAUS TO SPONSOR SMOKER FOR ALL MEN

A free showing of three sport films will highlight this year's edition of Sigma Tau Gamma's annual "Men's Smoker."

Wednesday, January 25th, is the date for Sig Tau to go all out in inviting all men at Stout to come to the coddage gymnasium, see free movies, smoke cigars and cigarettes and eat popcorn like small boys at the local movie theater.

Jerry Schemansky, boy printer and teller of tall tales, will be master of ceremonies and has in store many short and true stories; all men are urged to watch the bulletin boards for posters giving further details.

January, comes from the Latin word, Janurius, which in turn is derived from the name of a Roman god, Janus. Janus was two-faced (one backward and one forward).

An old custom was to exchange expensive gifts. The ladies received gloves or pins (which were expensive in those days), thus the expressions--glove or pin money.

Of special interest to you men is a song that the Scottish young men used to sing on New Year's Day:

I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year,
A pocketful of money and a cellar full of beer,
And a good fat pig to serve you all the year,
Ladies and gentlemen sitting by the fire,
Pity us poor boys out in the mire.

The passing around and drinking of the wassail cup went out of fashion before Queen Elizabeth's time; the individual cup succeeded. (It was cleaner.) The day has never lost its convivial aspect!

Some present day U.S. customs are the White House open house on New Year's Day and of course, the big football game played in the Rose Bowl. The first Rose Bowl game was held in 1902.

During the rest of this new year 1956, I, the Stout Snooper, wish you lots of luck in your semester exams, or fun up at the union and in date-life, etc. "Happy New Year!"

FIFTH ANNUAL GUIDANCE CONFERENCE HELD AT STOUT; OVER 400 SPECIALISTS ATTEND

Over 400 specialists in the field of guidance took part in Stout state college's fifth annual guidance conference, held on the campus all day Thursday, January 12. Cooperating with Stout in the meeting were the Wisconsin State Department of Public Instruction and the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

In attendance from Wisconsin, as well as from Minnesota and Illinois, were guidance clinics, public health officers, youth organization leaders, rehabilitation personnel, and teachers and administrators from all school levels.

Keynote for the conference was Dr. John Rothney, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, and well-known guidance specialist and author. Dr. Rothney discussed "Practical Implications of Research in Guidance."

Following registration, participants were greeted by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college; Max J. Hayes, president of the Wisconsin Personnel and Guidance Association; and Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at Stout and general chairman of the conference.

Persons in attendance then chose among thirteen sectional meetings held during the day. Discussing "The Scope of State Agencies' Services for Total Rehabilitation" was John Kubiak, chief of the Wisconsin Rehabilitation Division, and Frank Powell, assistant superintendent of the Madison Bureau for Handicapped Children. George Heinemann, principal of Plum City high school, presided.

With Lyle Mackie, Boyceville principal, presiding, another section estimated "The Coming Crisis in Professional Manpower." Leading the discussion was Eugene Kreul and Max Hays of the Wisconsin State Employment Service.

"The Role of the Administrator in Providing Guidance Services" was described by R. W. Bardwell, director of Madison Vocational School; William Terrill, Menomonie principal; and Daryl K. Lien, Amery principal. Presiding was Gordon H. Heuer, principal at Weyerhaeuser.

Under the chairmanship of Elsie Schorta, Pierce county superintendent of schools, "An Exchange of Information and Ideas Between High School and College Counselors About College Admission and Retention Practices," was summarized by David Barnes, principal of Eau Claire Senior high school; Dr. Mildred Miller, dean of students at River Falls state college; Stella Pedersen, director of student personnel services at Eau Claire state college; Earl Ruedy, guidance director at Neillsville; Stan Schuerman, guidance director at Medford; and Dr. Iverson, Stout state college.

Evangeline Malchow, guidance director of La Crosse Central high school and Henry Schwandt, of La Crosse Logan high school, spoke to a section interested in "Teacher-Counselor Co-operative Enterprises." With A. T. Nelson, principal at Grantsburg, presiding, John Armstrong of the California Test Bureau offered "Cautions in the Administration, Interpretation, and Use of Tests."

The actual case of a twelve year old seventh grade truant analyzed, diagnosed and treated at the Eau Claire County Guidance Clinic was the topic of a section in which participated Walter Conner, psychiatric social worker; Elizabeth Kundert, M. D., child psychiatrist; and Audrey Schmitz, psychologist, all of Eau Claire. Presiding was Clarence W. Ziegel, principal at New Richmond.

With Rex Graber, M. D., Chippewa Falls district health officer as speaker, "Health Counseling in Schools as Seen by a Public Health Physician" discussed in a section headed by Earl Molland, principal of Chippewa Falls Senior High School.

"Group Guidance Areas and Techniques" was the topic of Clifford Swenby, guidance director of Wausau, and Everett Lee, superintendent; H. Lee Huenink, guidance director; and Garth Spees, teacher, all of Viroqua. Russell Gettinger, guidance director at River Falls, presided.

With R. W. Whinfield, state superintendent of guidance, as principal speaker, a section dealt with "Counseling Students for Technical Education of Less Than College Level." Heading this section was Melvin Chada, district supervisor for the Rehabilitation Division at Eau Claire.

Russell Mosely, supervisor for the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, spoke on "Guidance Aspects of Unit Teaching in Social Studies and the Language Arts." Don Miles, Mondovi guidance director, was the presiding officer.

"A Reading Improvement Program for High Schools" was the topic of Dr. Virgil Henry of Science Research Associates. Melvin S. Werwick, principal of Tony, presided.

Under the chairmanship of P. A. Piddington, Ellsworth principal, Dr. Carl H. Waller, director of child study and service for the Madison public schools, described the role of "The Schools and Juvenile Delinquency."

All conference participants then gathered at a final general session, with Dr. Guy Salyer, of the psychology and education department of Stout state college, as presiding officer. Asking questions of Dr. Rothney, conference keynoter, were the following persons:

CAROL LEHMAN . . .

keeper's Association next entered her at the Wisconsin State Fair. There she won out over 25 other contestants, presented Governor Kohler with a honey cake, and made quite a hit on television.

With the Wisconsin honey title sewed up, Miss Lehman got what she calls her "big break". Because of the poise she had exhibited in her previous television appearance, she was invited to bake honey cake, bread and cookies on a Milwaukee television show. The 18 year old girl offered a very pleasant hour of cooking chatter blended smoothly with demonstrations of the versatility of honey in the kitchen. Carol Ann was so carried away during the program that she offered her recipes to every listener sending in a postcard—figuring on about 25 answers which she could answer in her spare time.

"But when Mother called from home telling me that the first mail had brought 472 requests," Carol Ann recalls, "I knew that, for the first time, I had over-estimated my ability to take care of everything alone. Eventually the National Beekeepers' Association had to finish filling the 13,000 requests."

When word of this accomplishment reached national officers of the honey association, Carol Ann was flown to Tacoma, Washington, to be interviewed for the national queenship. In order to return to her classes at Stout, she left with the decision still pending. Since that time she has received 1) notification of her victory, 2) her official crown, and 3) 30 pounds of honey a month for promotional distribution.

Still to arrive are such minor items as an itinerary of convention activities and a complete convention wardrobe. But, as always, Carol Ann is still trying to take care of everything:

"I want to demonstrate my sewing skills, so I'm constructing my own coronation gown here at Stout. Geri Skarvan is doing the designing. It's going to be velveteen and satin, ornamented with imitation honey bees made out of ranch mink, no less!"

Why honey bees? "Why not," asks Carol Ann. "Without those honey bees I'd never be going South this winter."

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL SCORES SHOW SEASON IS IN FULL SWING

Sig Tau 30 - DKs 15

Bill Erpenbach, the rebel sensation, led his mates to a resounding 30-15 victory over the DK II, who had considerable trouble finding the hoop—a few even had a hard time finding the gym!

Erp 10 for the Sig Tau's - Gill 6 to lead the DK II's.

Globetrotters 33 - Tigers 18
The Globetrotters trounced the Tigers 33-18. The game featured even scoring with no one hitting the double figures, in fact no one hitting!

Ron Ebben and "Lanky" Longshore ran up five points a piece to lead an even balanced attack.

Leison was the high scorer in the thriller, ramming in ten points for the game.

Phi Sigs 48 - Dribblers 25

The Phi Sigs creamed the Dribblers 48-25 behind a smooth operating Hoepner, who registered 18 points on the score pad. Helped ably by OIDS (?) who hit for 14. The rest of the scoring was divided evenly between everyone but Dorner, who didn't show much.

R. Nelson pushed up 18 markers for a losing cause.

Cuts 29 - A.H.B.'s 24

The Cuts amputated the A.H.B.'s (a new musical fraternity on campus) to the tune of 29-24. D. Johnson an immigrant from Minnesota led his mates with 10 points.

Cliff (drop over sometime) Aderhodt copped the evenings honor with 12. "Nifty" Wildes hooped 2 (don't get cookie kid—your hitting).

DK 24 - FOB II 18

The DKs were pressed all the way to squeeze by a fighting FOB II aggregation, 24-18. Goglin led the winners with 6 points. Marvelous board play by "Sweaty" John Oakeson and Gene Battist highlighted the evening.

The FOB II are fast developing into what could be a winner. They are a young team, and with Al Brown and Milan Lowlich coming through these kids might go all the way.

"Booger" Bob is as hard a driver as this reporter's eyes (all four) have seen.

Dick Rowe, who is always tough, didn't see action as Lowlich had to use his tennies. If difficulties like this can be ironed out - look out opposition!

Globetrotters 43 - Dribblers 28

Vern Wills failed to score, but his mates backed him as the Globetrotters trounced the Dribblers 43-28. The Thorp Thunderbird, "Rapid" Ron Ebben, hooked in 27 points - Birch swished 6 for the game.

FOB 44 - DK II 25

Coach LeRoy Zwick turned his tigers loose in the upper gym, and they ate up the DK II's 44-25. Zane Zander ran up 13 counters, followed by Holders 11. "Jim Dandy" Sands and "Hare" Proctor added 8 a piece.

Alexander had 9 for the DK II. That hard driving, ball hawking Bill Daehling was hitting from all angles and registered 2 free throws in a brilliant performance.

Registration for the second semester of the year 1955-56 will take place January 23 and 24, Monday and Tuesday respectively.

Juniors and sophomores will register Monday afternoon, and seniors, graduates, and new transfers Monday forenoon.

All re-entering, continuing, and new freshmen will report Tuesday.

Doors will be open for registration from 8:00-11:30 a.m. and 1:00-4:00 p.m. on both days.

Students will pick up classification cards outside of the lounge in Harvey Hall. Registration directions will soon be posted in all halls.

STUDENTS ATTEND CONFERENCE

During the week of December 27 through January 1, three Stout students: Dorothy Belisle, Joan Manes, and David Springer, attended a conference sponsored by the National Council of Churches. This conference was held on the Ohio campus at Athens, Ohio. The theme of the Ecumenical Student Conference on the Christian World Mission was "Revolution and Reconciliation." At this conference, missionaries from different countries told about their work at many sectional meetings. Three thousand five hundred students attended the conference, and there were one thousand three hundred students from eighty foreign countries.

This conference was sponsored by the National Council of Churches. There were many students and missionaries representing all of the churches which cooperate in this movement.

ITALIAN VOCATIONAL TRAINING STUDY GROUP VISIT STOUT, OBSERVE AND STUDY CURRICULUM

Visiting Stout state college this week have been members of an Italian vocational training study group, whose members are drawn from top levels of Italian vocational education. These persons include officials of the Italian Ministry of Education and Labor as well as directors of important vocational training schools.

During their first day at Stout this group was welcomed by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college, who described for them the organization of Stout, the visitors then embarked upon several days observation of the technical shops and academic classrooms of the college, plus conferences with instructors.

Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at Stout, described in detail the objectives and curriculum of Stout. The visitors then embarked upon several days observation of the technical shops and academic classrooms of the college, plus conferences with instructors.

Following their visit to America, participants will disseminate their experiences through newspaper and magazine articles and through interviews, forums, discussions, bulletins, and lectures. The study group will also file a final report to be issued by the Italian government.

While in America, the study group is enjoying such diverse experiences as observation of the functions of the U.S. Office of Education, American Vocational association, technical, vocational and comprehensive high schools and colleges preparing teachers for industrial arts and vocational training.

Traveling with the study group are two interpreters, who employ a small transmitter with individual outlets for instantaneous interpreting of explanations given the visitors. Escort of the Italians is Charles W. McIntosh, program officer of the technical training section of the division of international education in the U.S. Office of Education.

Leading Italian educators comprising the study group include Carlo Cavalli, central inspector for supervision of technical building design; Francesco Franceschini, teacher of philosophy and member of parliament; Giuseppe Leone, director of the Agricultural Institute; Constante Livrea, director of the Provincial Labor office;

Francesco Masi, principal of the Professional Institute; Valimino A. Nucci, division chief of the Ministry of Labor and Social Security; Antonio Queres, principal of the Institute of Technical Instruction; Domenico Zucaro, vice-general manager of technical education; and Goffredo Porzio, director of the Labor Office, Ministry of Labor and Social Security.

MOVIES WILL BE SHOWN AT CONVOCAION

Two movies, "Nature's Half Acre" and "A World is Born" will be shown at the Feb. 8 convocation. These are two exceptionally interesting films.

"Nature's Half Acre" shows the plant, animal, and insect life likely to be found in any garden, field, or woodland. It contains some of the finest time lapse photography which help to picture the constant struggle for existence.

An early sequence from Walt Disney's "Fantasia" is the other film, "A World is Born." This picture shows the beginning of the world starting at the period of the dinosaurs. It is animated and all drawings are by the artists of Walt Disney. "Light of Spring" is the background music.

TALK ON EUROPE TO BE GIVEN TO GROUP

"Travel to Europe the Easy Way" will be the theme of an informal talk by Dick Griffiths, a Beloit college pre-seminary student on Sunday, February 5 at the Congregational church. Dick traveled throughout southern and central Europe last summer, visiting famous landmarks and points of interest such as Rome, the Vatican, Venice, Naples, and Vienna. He also worked two weeks in a German work camp helping refugees from behind the Iron Curtain build their own homes.

A cost supper of $4.00 will be served at 5:00 followed by Dick's talk and a worship service of music and prayer. Everyone is welcome to hear this interesting account of Europe.

MOSTLY FAIR
WARMER TEMPS

The weatherbird told me this morning that things are going to warm up a bit over the weekend, with a possibility of snow flurries following the warmup.

"According to my friend, the groundhog, we won't have too many more weeks of this cold stuff," said the bird, "and that suits me."

"I guess everyone but the ice fishermen agrees with him. With the big contest a week away, they don't want the ice to break up."

"This warming trend won't bother the ice, though," assured the weatherbird. "Temps shouldn't go above the freezing point."

CARD PARTY IS SPONSORED BY ARTS & CRAFTS

For the last few weeks the members of the arts and crafts club have been hacking and sanding away making prizes for their annual card party. Chances are pretty good that you can win one, too; there will be a high and low prize for each table, plus a door prize. There will also be music and a few lunch served, so for a full evening of entertainment, we'll see you Saturday night at eight. Oh, by the way, it costs 35 cents, and we furnish the cards.

ACTORS' HOLIDAY WAS A SUCCESSFUL LYCEUM

The delightful antics of Jerry and Sammy, in a "A Pound On Demand" provided many laughs for the audience who attended the lyceum last Friday evening. In the Actors' Holiday, another one act plays were presented by the crew of five who came directly from Broadway.

"Oh, how mad I am today!" "When I'm mad, I'm really mad!" These were some of the lines from "The Boor" which the actors said. A limo, a landowner who was trying to get his money from Madame Popova, a widow. Each character took his part well and the acting was, in the words of a M.A.P. member, "Terrific."

"The Stronger," the shortest of the plays, took place in a ladies restaurant. It was two ladies, Madame X and Madame Y. As Madame Y spoke one could see a development in the two characters brought about inevitably by the forces which worked upon them. This play had a startling impact because the author used a unique theatrical device which made Madame Y's progression inevitable.

"Aria Da Capo," a fairy tale for adults, proved to be a very unusual play. The director took part in the play as he was on the stage and used his script book. The actors made the audience use their imagination and by doing so they created an unusual effect.

MIXER SCHEDULED FOR SADIE HAWKINS WEEK

Hear ye! Hear ye! The Newman club at Stout is sponsoring an all school mixer on Wednesday, February 8, from 8:00 to 10:00. The Bluesnotes will provide the music and admission will be ten cents.

Since the dance will be held during Sadie Hawkins Week, this will be an excellent chance for you lassies to acquire that favorite guy to the mixer.

STOUTPATCH GALS ARE OUT FOR GAME

With eyes a sparklin and pigtailed flying

Stoutpatch gals are out for game.

Gone are the hopeless days of sigh-

in. All a girl has to know is the fella's name.

Set a trap baited with moonlight;

Feed'em a line wit' sweet talk as lure. If this approach don't seem quite right,

A half-nelson will get that guy fer sure.

Alpha Sigma Alpha set the date and hopes it's a week most pleasant. Remember yo men got to co-operate.

Fer this is Sadie Hawkins season.

PROCLAMATION

Hear ye, hear ye, all guys and gals of Stoutpatch. The Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority of this here campus hereby gives forth with the following official proclamation:

Know all Stoutpatch men what ain't married by these presents, Whereas there be inside our campus limits, a passel of gals what ain't married but craves something awful to be so, and Whereas there be in Stoutpatch plenty of men what could marry these gals but acts ornery and won't, and

Whereas we deems matrimony's joys and being sure of eating regular the birthright of our fair Stoutpatch womanhood, We hereby proclaims and decrees, that February 6 through February 13 is SADIE HAWKINS WEEK.

To them as are new to our campus there are a few rules to follow:

1. All gals should go courtin' and if a guy is ketched he's gotta co-operate.
2. The gals has gotta go after the guys, but the males have to fetch the gals home.
3. Females has gotta open the doors, walk on the gutter side of the sidewalk, help the guy on with his coat, and do all other male courtesies.
4. Gals have gotta keep the men happy and amused.
5. Remember, gals, the little things count also. Compliments such as — "My, yore hair looks purty."
6. Pay for all entertainment, which includes chewin' terbacker and Kickapoo Joy Juice.

ASA TO SELL CORSAGES FOR COMING EVENT

Sadie Hawkins week is coming up, gals, so don't forget to show your fellow all the cutties' he's been doin' you this year. All formal dances require a corsage, and to solve your problems the Alpha Sigs will take orders in Harvey Hall startin' Wednesday, February 8. Made of life-savers, pipe cleaners, and dollies these beauties are available for only 15c each. Buy one for him and one for yourself. You can al-o get yo marriage license and rings—at the dance.

JANUARY GRADS ACCEPT NEW POSITIONS

The above information was given by Frank J. Belisle, Placement Chairman, Stout state college.

ASA SPONSORS ANNUAL SADIE HAWKINS WEEK

This article is to give notice to all Stout's Dogpatch men which ain't married yet, to "take to the hills" cause the ASA's have proclaimed that from February 5th to February 11th will be Stout's official Sadie Hawkins week. Seem as how there be inside this college a passel of gals who ain't married yet but crave something awful to be advisin' you men to get out your runnin' shoes, cause thar ain't no whar safe anymore, union will be filled with gals achin' to get the unketched ones of yo pore unexpectin' males.

The ASA's are not only providin' you with a chance to take out the men you've been dyin' to "hook" all year, but also providin' you men with a chance to be asked, instead of all the time don't the askin'! Any gals who don't go along a courtin' at least one L'il Abner durin' this hyar week will be vilitin' all the laws of Dogpatch Chapter, and will be considered one nozzble skunk. To help you gals keep the men happy, the ASA's are sponsoring a Candy Sale on Monday so ya' can get him just plumb full of candy. Wednesday is the day of all-school tea in Harvey Memorial from 3:30 to 5:30, so fetch him in thar; cause you knows that the way to a man's heart is thru his stomach. Friday is big event of the whole week—the Sadie Hawkins Dance, so dig out your wallets gals, fetch yore man a corsage, and jump into your best Daisy Mae outfit, 'cause thar's goin' to be some mighty nice prizes for the best dressed Dogpatch girl, boy, and couple. And yo gals can't forget your braids, cause the 1956 Pigtail Princess will be crowned.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Do college students lack ambition?

Some of the more deeply thinking population have become concerned over the lack of ambition among the younger generation—real ambition, that is.

What these thinkers don't realize is that graduation from college for most young men nowadays is not like graduating from college at all—it's more like getting drafted.

Where is the room for that burning ambition with two years of military service staring you in the face? What can you plan for in a day when nothing is certain except uncertainty? What the heck, let's have a ball.

But there is no need to be disturbed. Once the military is behind these same college men will walk out into life more mature and with a healthier attitude. When they are situated in the work they studied for, the ambition will become apparent. And if they love their work, the ambition won't be financial, but a desire to learn, to do, to know.

REGULAR MEET HELD BY PALLAS ATHENE

President Jane Gargulak, presided at the regular meeting of the Pallas Athene sorority on January 26th. New members received their pins and sweatshirts. Panhellenic rushing party plans were discussed. Plans were made for the Sno-brawl Dance. The dance will be held in the small gym after the basketball game on February 18th.

After the meeting, Miss Ellen Nelson, who has been ill, was serenaded.

Several P.A. alumnae have visited the campus recently: Delores Saucy, Reedsburg; Carole Tickler, Kaukauna; Iris Ruf, Plymouth; and Virginia Lathrop, Viroqua.

NEWMAN CLUB HELD BREAKFAST RECENTLY

The Newman Club breakfast was held recently. The menu consisted of juice, cereal, milk, and rolls. President Bob Tennesen gave a brief report of the Province Officer's Meeting that he attended. The new officers were elected as follows:

President - Leo Pleva
Vice President - Betty Havlik
Secretary - Sue Harycki
Treasurer - John Theis

These officers will assume their duties at the next meeting, which will be February 5.

DORM NEWS

Now that January has come to a close it is time to renew that set of New Year's resolutions that the girls of the dorms made on returning after the holidays.

1. To be in bed nightly at the hour of 10:30 p.m. so the house mother and counselors can get their sleep also.

2. To do all assignments immediately (or as soon after as feasible).

3. To take laundry out of the laundry room quickly instead of digging for it in the scrapbook a month later.

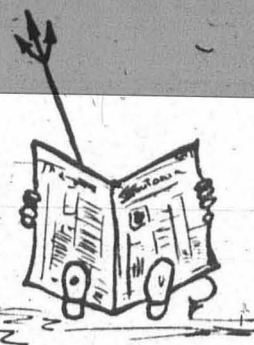

4. To make beds and straighten rooms in the morning so the house mother will not need to acquire any unnecessary grey hair.

5. To take care of the text books so the librarian need not spend her nights rebinding them.

LSA is planning a swimming party for Sunday afternoon. Swimming will start at 2:30 in the Stout pool and will continue until 4:00. Lunch will be served in the clubrooms above the Stout union.

Gamma Delta will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday evening, February 26, at 5:00 p.m. The program includes a vesper service and cost supper followed by a business meeting.

The Stout Snooper

"Well, what you don't find around Stout," I exclaimed as I pulled open the lost and found drawer; "Gee, but I'm glad I decided to snoop here for my money supply is lessening and I do need some new items in my wardrobe." Yes, there are gloves, scarfs, boots, caps, jewelry, etc. all in the lost and found department located in the President's outer office. Items numbered 53 as a total!

The first category to be reported about in my snooping is glasses; yes, eye glasses! Some students must be at least partially blind or else had a good excuse for not studying for there are four pair, dark frames, blonde, neutral, and sun glasses. The first three pair appeared without all baggage since they were minus cases. However, the sun glasses were enclosed in a brown case. A shiny red case was also in the drawer, labeled with Dr. Mechberg, Wautoma, but alas, the glasses were missing. I, the Snooper, can't quite understand how members of the campus can lose glasses and then not even come to the lost and found to at least look for them. Oh, well, perhaps they wanted an excuse to get a new pair. (And I will admit that one pair is cracked right where one "usually" looks through.)

Because of the winter season, the lost and found drawer was stocked with a plentiful supply of gloves and mittens. One black glove, pair of white pair of blue mittens, pair of leather gloves (man), 1 brown leather glove (woman), 1 pair of brown mittens, 1 new black pair of mittens with gay flower designs, 1 black knit glove with flower design, a striped black and white mitten—total 14 gloves and mittens!

A masculine dark-colored pipe complete with at least a two day supply of tobacco in the kit is one of the most unusual lost and found items! Couldn't resist the temptation and so I lit the pipe and had a smoke, or rather a choke. Wow, but that tobacco certainly is strong or else I just didn't know how to puff!

Other unusual items are 2 pair of white socks. I measured each and I think one must belong to a coed and the other to an athlete. The last pair certainly is awfully long!

Head-coverings are next in the categories and again, what a variety! For the women, there is 1 textile painted flower designed silk scarf, 1 beautiful new-looking long brown plaid wool scarf, and 1 white with red and green stitching. For the men, there is a 7 1/8 gray trimmed with wool fleece cap, 1 blue knit cap, and 1 brown cap with fancy stitching.

And evidently some Stout students are even minus their class notes or books! One freshman's psychology note book; the first day of September Heredity notes; A Writer's Manual and Workbook; blue with inserts of the Reader's Digest; Machine and Tool Blue Book; and also a freshman's assignment book (from 1st semester) made up the "stuff" along the book line.

Perhaps the variety of pens and pencils in the drawer—also belong to the owners of these books. There are four eversharps, purple, maroon, blue, and turquoise; 2 black pens, 1 gold and 1 silver capped; and a box enclosing just a pen cap. Also in the drawer is a red pencil case enclosing "millions" of pencils, erasers, etc. Then too, some male on campus is minus a slide rule which is in a grayish green case.

The last category to be reported is jewelry. Some junior girl (or a fellow) is minus a 1953 class ring! A pearl

What one fish said to the other fish after two days on the desert: - "Long time - no sea!"

RED'S RED, THE ELEVATOR CAME TO A HALT

Her hair is red,
A flaming head,
Her face now crimson, too.
With nare a care,
Scorned the long stair,
And to the "lift" she flew.
Pressed one for down,
Then just stood round,
Buttons were but so few.
But opened the doors,
Between two floors,
Then screamed, "Oh what to do!"
One hour did pass,
Fears growing fast,
The lift was stuck, she knew.
No one could hear,
No one to cheer,
The daily classes through.
Help came at last,
After "hours" past,
Ed with the "how to do"
Scrambled controls,
Shaken young souls,
Both soon running like new.
But warn to all,
Get on the ball,
"DON'T PUSH"
Til you know what to do!

Through some mechanical phenomena unknown even to the manufacturers of the elevator in Harvey Hall, the blasted thing pulls tricks on the unwary.

Miss Unwary of the fall of "55" was Miss Irene Novinsky, fiery red-haired senior from Montfort, Wisconsin.

It could happen to you even though your hair isn't red, is the report from college "maintenance men." It seems that the "lift" isn't the least bit prejudiced about who it picks on or when it does so.

You may be rushing to meet your one and only, or blithely waltzing your way to a dreary class then BOOM, you're betwixt and between, floors; that is.

When the elevator sticks between floors for you—you can do three things: faint, wish your "friend" were there, or push the alarm button and sit-down and wait.

earring, a gold earring, and a gold bracelet designed as a belt, and a Rose's ankle bracelet are also in the drawer. Two pins, 1 YOBS set with 8 seed pearls and a beautiful red stone, and a 4-H pin, complete this section. Oh, yes, there are also a REESE key and 2 locket or diary keys.

Yes, the lost and found department is really a place of variety. These unclaimed articles must belong to someone. Who? Well, your guess is as good as mine, but I hope that this snooping report has reached at least one owner. See you next week, for I will be snooping.

P.S. Oh, I forgot. There is also 1 pair of red rubber rain boots and 2 1/2 pair of winter boots in a closet near the office.

"Hey," cried Satan to a new arrival, "You act as if you own the place."
"I do," was the answer. "My wife gave it to me before I came."

FRESHMAN COED CHOSEN STATE HOMEMAKER OF TOMORROW, PAT SOLDNER IS 1955 WINNER

"Homemaker of Tomorrow" for the State of Wisconsin is Patricia Soldner, now a freshman coed at Stout state college.

Miss Soldner, valedictorian of her Waterloo, Wisconsin, Community high school, won out over contestants from most other schools in Wisconsin in a contest sponsored by General Mills to discover in each state the high school girl with the greatest potential for becoming a successful homemaker.

As her award, Patricia holds a $1500 college scholarship and enjoyed a trip to Washington, D.C., with her home economics teacher, Miss Virginia Hoppe, also a Stout graduate. Superintendent of the schools in which Pat won her award is Lloyd S. Quality.

With her imposing scholarship grant, Miss Soldner has enrolled in the home economics division at Stout. Here she is preparing to become a teacher of home economics.

Patricia's scholastic standing as valedictorian of her high school graduating class no doubt influenced her choice as "Homemaker of Tomorrow," as did her contest essay and examination achievement. But her role as a student leader didn't hurt one bit either.

"Well, I was a member of our high school band, chorus, glee club, student council, Girl's Athletic association and Future Homemakers of America," Pat will modestly admit. In addition, she was active in her church choir and taught Sunday School.

Miss Soldner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Soldner, a farm family living in Reeseville, about 30 miles from Madison. She also has two younger sisters.

For her scholastic and community achievements, Pat was awarded an Elks Constitution scholarship and a Wisconsin legislative scholarship to accompany her $1500 Homemaker's award.

Although only a first semester freshman at Stout state college, Patricia Soldner is showing that her high school accomplishments were but an indication of things to come at the college level. In addition to doing very well in a stiff home economics course, she is a member of Stout's nationally-known Symphonic Singers, the Home Economics club, the college yearbook staff and Gamma Delta religious society.

And how does Pat like college after her many high school accomplishments?

"I've found Stout state college every bit as friendly as Wisconsin state colleges are reputed to be," she states emphatically. "And for excellent preparation in later life, my present educational program just can't be topped."

Because of the significance of her award, Miss Soldner reports regularly on her academic progress to the National Association of Secondary School Principals. "And thus far," says Pat happily, "those reports have been good."

tendance were directors and teachers from technical schools, home builders and union representatives.

Clark is a nationally-known author in the construction field and has long been a leading exponent of the modular technique for efficiency and economy in construction, a technique steadily growing in popularity among builders.

Modular control, when used as a coordinating medium between the design, shop and field operations of construction, enables contractors to construct custom-built homes with greater accuracy and efficiency.

To demonstrate the modular technique, work stations were set up in the carpentry shop of Stout state college. Students of the college, using a modular jig table, demonstrated the assembling of a wall section and roof truss.

NEWSPAPER MOUSE INKY-DINKY

Inky-Dinky is a little bright-eyed mouse who lives in a hole in the corner of the school print shop. Not many people know that Inky helps to put out the newspaper every week.

One Tuesday when I was sitting in an empty classroom, the little mouse came in and whispered to me, "Do you want to see how they put out the STOUTONIA? Follow me!"

So I took my books and followed. We went to another classroom to a meeting of reporters. All assignments were written on the blackboard so that any items of interest missed could be added. I was put to writing out individual assignment sheets. Inky-Dinky (who was in my blouse pocket) poked me and squeaked — "Tell 'em about the Ohio Convention." I did.

Attendance was recorded on a swindle! sheet. "Remember, all stories are due Monday, except Convo's on Wednesday, and editorials on Friday," reminded the editor.

Next Inky directed me to the STOUTONIA office where he showed me a wire basket "building." "Rough drafts go on the fourth floor and typed copy on the third," instructed my small friend. "After each article has been copyread, it is put on the second floor. The editor takes the articles, writes the number or size of head on each article and puts them on the first floor. From here the articles are taken to the print shop where the heads are written on small green slips of paper," piped Inky as he ran across the typewriter.

Then old "Bright-Eyes" hopped up on my books and said, "Bye now - see you Thursday night in the print shop." Then off he scampered.

Thursday night Inky-Dinky took me to the linotype room where Judy Day was setting type. "Now each little line of type is called a slug. All the slugs for one column together are called a galley," directed the small printer. "If you'll just come here a minute, you can pull a proof."

"First, ya' gotta' run this inked roller over the type. Then place a long sheet of paper — they're right under the shelf, right there — and put it on the type." Inky-Dinky then instructed me to roll-heave-I had a galley proof! Just then a group of students came in and groaned, "Gee, more proof to read."

Inky giggled and told me, "Proof-readers' symbols are tough!" As we left, Judy was correcting the errors in the galley of type. (Heads were set by Ann Janda on a different machine.)

"Now all the galleys of one page are put together in this large frame called a chase. Then the printers come to tighten them up by locking the quoins — those wedge-shaped metal pieces on the sides. You gotta' be careful too," cautioned Inky, "cause once I got the tip of my tail caught in between the chase and the riglets (those wood strips which prevent the quoins from shifting.)"

The next stop was in a classroom back of the print shop. In here Inky-Dinky showed me how the galley proofs were cut up and pasted on a large sheet of paper to form a dummy newspaper. "Every Thursday morning the editor does this," said my beady-eyed friend. "Usually number 3 heads are used at the tops of pages and smaller heads are placed nearer the bottom."

As I already had seen the Fairchild process of making pictures at our local newspaper in Fairmont and because there was no Fairchild machine at Stout, Inky didn't bother to explain that procedure except to say that "Skip put them on and locked them in the form."

Because there was such a crowd in the print shop — besides it was late — Inky just told me about the "shuttle-action" press. "By the way, this old fongel-pincher gets inked every week," he remarked. "You know, it always amuses me how the fellows talk about 'putting the paper to bed,'" laughed my fury-friend.

STOUT LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW SET OF BOOKS

Selected by the American Library Association to receive a set of "Great Books of the Western World" has been the library of Stout state college. Applications were originally sent to 30,000 libraries before the 1600 final choices were named.

Editor of "Great Books of the Western World" is Robert Maynard Hutchins, noted educator. Mortimer J. Adler is associate editor and editor of the Syntopicon, a compilation of essays by Dr. Adler and an "idea index" of 102 fundamental great ideas and their subordinate topics.

The set contains 54 volumes encompassing 443 works by 74 great authors. Spanning Western thought from Homer and the Bible to the Twentieth Century, the set contains 32,000 pages of 25 million words. Editorial preparation, conducted by 100 scholars, required eight years and $2,000,000.

Contained in "Great Books of the Western World" are the entire works of 21 of the 74 authors represented.

DR. RUDIGER ATTENDS ALUMNI BREAKFAST

A highlight of the American Vocational Convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey, was the Stout Alumni reunion breakfast, Bob Rudiger, Executive Secretary, greeted the group and extended greetings from the campus. Each member present then introduced themselves and their guests to the group. Next a series of colored slides were shown covering scenes of the campus and of memorable spots around Menomonee. Following this, Dean Jarvis explained the change of name of The Stout Institute and what it means to former graduates and present students.

An open discussion then followed, with alumni reminiscing over old times and renewing former acquaintances. Forty-one graduates were present from eleven states and represented classes from 1911 to 1953.

DEAN JARVIS SPEAKS TO MINNETONKA CLUB

Speaking to the dinner meeting of the Minnetonka Industrial Arts club, meeting at Richfield high school in Richfield, Minnesota, on January 26, was Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at Stout state college.

Dean Jarvis took as his topic "Industrial Arts and Industrial Methods." Prior to Dr. Jarvis' address, the industrial educators in attendance observed latest industrial arts techniques in the fields of woodworking, metal welding, electricity, offset printing and drawing.

Commenting on the Do-It-Yourself craze, they make this observation: "What we are looking for now is a book entitled, 'How to Get Other People to Do It.'"

And this one: "Some people are even tempered only because they are in a bad mood all the time."

If you are looking for a helping hand, you will find none better than the one at the end of your arm.

DEAN KIRK WRITES ARTICLE FOR J.H.E.

"You're Using TV," a professional article by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at Stout state college, is one of the lead features in the December issue of the "Journal of Home Economics," national publication for home economists.

In her discussion, Dean Kirk first describes the attention which the American Home Economics association is devoting to the potentialities of television as a medium of education, as well as of entertainment. She points out that teachers have a responsibility for helping pupils develop an appreciation for worthwhile TV programs, thus crowding poorer programs off television channels.

Dean Kirk stresses the fact that, because few people watch television for the primary purpose of becoming educated, any educational TV package must be attractively presented. Consequently, Dr. Kirk points out, teachers must learn to direct television shows, learn to participate in them, and thus understand the problems and resources of studio television presentations.

Toward the close of her article, the author offers a number of practical tips which stress the importance of "showing" an activity, rather than "talking" it. She also challenges home economists to help popularize their field through necessary and worthy promotion directed at pupils, their parents and the public in general. "And television," Dr. Kirk concludes, "is an excellent medium with which to achieve those worthwhile objectives."

PROFESSIONAL ARTICLE WRITTEN BY TEACHER

Author of a professional article, "Home is Where the Art Is," is Miss Martha Ruth Amon, chairman of the department of related art at Stout state college. The feature appears in a recent issue of the "American Vocational Journal," national publication of vocational education.

In her discussion, Miss Amon stresses the value of art in improving family life, especially the contributions which arts and crafts activities can make to every member of the family circle. The family, Miss Amon points out, soon discovers in art a relaxing, congenial bond to unite the home.

Because many persons are hesitant to undertake original art projects, Miss Amon suggests that each novice receive a basis from which to launch constructive activities and also the encouragement to be creative in approach. Emphasis is needed too, the author states, in the development of individuality, resourcefulness, and the ability to think for oneself.

Other necessities described in Miss Amon's feature are a background in general art principles, knowledge of

GEORGE BURTON FORMER DEAN, DIED RECENTLY

A former dean of the industrial education division of Stout state college, George F. Buxton, died recently at St. Elizabeth hospital in Lafayette, Indiana. He was 77 years of age and had been retired as a vocational teacher at Purdue university since June, 1948.

Professor Buxton was dean of industrial education at Stout state college from 1908 to 1918, when he joined the faculty of the University of Indiana. C. A. Bowman succeeded Buxton as dean.

After five years as a vocational teacher in factory training at Indiana, Professor Buxton joined the Purdue faculty in 1923. He continued in the vocational field at Purdue, first under the joint supervision of the division of education and engineering extension and later with the division of technical extension.

Through this work he was familiar with practically every industrial plant in Indiana. Long recognized as an authority in foreman training, Professor Buxton devoted his time after retirement to writing and to organizational work in that field.

Mrs. Buxton died several years ago and since that time Mr. Buxton had continued his residence in West Lafayette. Survivors include a daughter, Miss Frances Buxton, DeLand, Florida, a teacher at Rollins college; a son E. B. Buxton, San Gabriel, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. C. E. Boynton, Portland, Me.

Notice of Professor Buxton's death was forwarded to the Stoutonia through President Verne C. Fryklund by Frank J. Woerdehoff, assistant professor of industrial education at Purdue and often a member of the summer session staff of Stout state college.

the techniques for handling materials to be used, specific devices for starting a plan or design, and courage to experiment. A workplace at home and consultation facilities at school are deemed necessary by the author.

In conclusion, Miss Amon stresses the value of art as a center around which family activities develop. Such homes are not mere points-of-departure, but are places where parents and children enjoy doing things together in a pattern of creative living.

STOUT HAS ITS SHARE OF BEAUTIFUL QUEENS

Every gal at Stout is a queen - well, not quite! But, it seems this year Stout really has its share of queens. Many of these girls have already been made familiar to you through this paper, but let's reacquaint ourselves to their titles.

Familiar to many people through out the state of Wisconsin is Stout's own Barb Brown of Independence, Wisconsin, who holds the title of "Alice in Dairyland." Barbara, who is on leave of absence, will return next year for her senior year.

Alice Yamamoto, a sophomore from Kealahou, Hawaii, was crowned Queen of the Winter Carnival in 1955. She is holder of this title until a new queen is crowned this winter.

Not so familiar to many freshmen is last year's crowned prom queen, "Bobby" Haskins, who was escorted by Ed Griffith. Bobby is a senior hailing from Augusta, Wisconsin.

Carol Lehman, Wisconsin "Honey Queen," recently had the honor of being selected "National Honey Queen of the United States." Carol is a graduate of Berlin high school.

A local gal, Gloria Walstad, is Dunn County Dairy Day Queen. She received this title shortly after the start of her freshman year.

Betty Havlik is also a Dairy Queen. She is a Dairy Queen of Vernon County and also Queen of Hillsboro Labor Day celebration. This year Betty is a sophomore.

"Miss Advance" was the title conferred upon Joan Manes, a sophomore from Martin County, Minnesota. Joan won her title through sewing in 4-H.

Ginny Ehlers, Homecoming Queen, is one of the newer queens on campus. Ginny, a senior from Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, reigned over this year's Homecoming activities.

The newest title to be conferred upon any girl by a Stout organization was awarded by the Sig Tau's to June Lorgan Brodt. She and her husband reigned over the "Rose of Sig Tau" formal.

The annual Alpha Sigma Alpha Valentine Tea will be held Wednesday, February 8, in the Harvey Memorial from 3:30 to 5:30. All faculty members, their families, and students are invited to attend. It is Sadie Hawkins Week so gals bring your fellows with you.

LETTER FROM COED

Dear Mom and Dad,

I'm now a semester grad—don't mind, I didn't think it could happen either. Don't let anyone kid you; college isn't any snap.

Remember when I had so much trouble with my first batch of muffins. Now I can whip up an angel food cake without batting an eyelash—well, not quite. I may not be the world's best cook but if something goes wrong with my product I'll know what caused it.

The first time I saw the cat; I told you about physiology—remember? Now when I look at a piece of meat, I think, "Let's see, the origin is the cervical vertebrae and the insertion is the humerus"—doesn't that sound positively collegiate?

I still have an occasional twinge from body building. I guess I never will have that Rockette figure, and after eating all those Christmas cookies that you sent there's some doubt if I'll have any figure at all by the end of the year.

You know about all the fun I've had outside of school for I've written in quite a lot of detail about that. This letter I thought should just be about school for that is what the money is going for—though sometimes I think you doubt it.

It was all so strange at first, but now I feel like an old hand at college life. I've even learned all the abbreviated names: phys, psych, fund des, pro.

I'll try to write once a week from now on—but you know how that is.

Well, only three and a half years to go—cheer up.

A Semester Coed,
Your daughter

P.S. There've been so many things to buy lately, if you would just enclose a small check in your next letter—say $5.

Up jumped the type louse, in a heck of a haste, to set four lines to fill this space.

PHI SIGS HOLD MEET, DISCUSS COMING EVENTS

Winter Carnival Queen candidates, the forthcoming skating party, and a proposed change in the officer set-up were some of the items discussed at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon last Thursday night, January 26, in the club room. The financial report was read, and the possibility of getting together more often with the Eau Claire chapter was discussed with the members from Eau Claire who attended the meeting. There was also some discussion on the Grudge Game.

The members decided to back the Tri Sigma candidate for Winter Carnival Queen. A vote was taken on six Tri Sigma girls and the results were turned over to the sorority.

It was decided to hold the skating party at Mr. Siefert's cottage on Sunday, February 5, at 2 p.m.

It was suggested that with the forthcoming election of officers the job of the secretary-treasurer be broken into two parts. Jim Gosh, of the Stevens Point chapter, settled some members' doubt as to whether this would conflict with national fraternity policy by saying that his chapter had had two officers for many years and that the national office seemed to approve of this policy.

The financial committee is to be praised for the splendid job it did on the financial report. The report was unanimously approved; the members are pleased with the financial progress the chapter has realized this year.

After the meeting the members got together to serenade Don Hagen and his recently-pinned sweetheart. Don has just left Stout to help out Uncle Sam for a few years.

ARVID KAMM, A BOY WITH AN ACCORDIAN

Many have heard the lilting, rhythmic accordion music of Arvid Kamm, yet few know much about the musical background of this guy.

Though only a freshman here at Stout, he has made quite a name for himself with his music.

He has only taken lessons for four years and in this short time has organized a German Band which played at the Wisconsin State Fair and also at the State 4-H meetings in Green Bay and Madison. This talented group won first prize in the 4-H state music contest.

His band consists of five people, boys and girls, from the age of 10 to 15 years old. They have been asked to play at the Green Bay T-V station and have also played on the well-known T-V program, "Wide, Wide World."

When asked what kind of music he likes and plays, he said, "We play all types of music." For many people this would prove difficult but the boys from Lynwood and the girls from the dorms who have heard his music can verify that though the accordion is mostly associated with polkas; jazz and classical are played with equal ease by Arvid.

Next time you hear the rattle of accordion ivories you'll know that the talent of Arvid Kamm is at work.

Then there is the Scotchman, who, when asked to give something to the Old Ladies' Home, responded, "Sure, you can have my mother-in-law."

"Should I take Junior to the zoo tomorrow?" asked the mother.

"Heck, no," replied the father. "If the zoo wants him, let 'em come and get him."

There are two things needed in these days; first, for the rich men to find out how poor men live; and second, for poor men to know how rich men work.

Pictured above are the four members of the Chanticleer quartet, who will be featured at a lyceum on Monday, February 6, in the Stout auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The Chanticleers' vocalizations will consist of varied numbers to please the Stout audience.

An instructor was teaching a class an intensified course. Realizing that the boys were beginning to tire under the strain of constant study, he decided to ease the situation with a rather pointless question.

"If a chair has four legs, is painted white, and rolls on casters, how old am I?"

The surprised students sat dumbfounded. Then the most backward member of the class supplied the answer, "44."

It was the instructor's turn to be amazed. "That's correct," he said, "but how did you know?"

The student supplied the second answer, "My brother is 22 and he's only half nuts."

I'd like to be satisfied enough to be happy, but dissatisfied enough to improve.

The old fashioned girl who used to say, "Ask father," now says, "give it more gas, Joe; the old man is gaining on us."

Sgt.: "Did you shave this morning?"
Rookie: "Yes, sir."
Sgt.: "Well, next time stand closer to the razor."

Some girls are afraid of mice; other girls have ugly legs.

They will act like their parents in spite of every effort to teach them good manners.

There is only one way to handle a woman. The trouble is, nobody knows what it is.

A successful businessman on visit to his alma mater during Homecoming dropped in on his economics professor. Recalling that he used to have trouble with economics exams, he asked to see some of the current papers. Noting them casually, he observed,

"These are the same old questions." "Yes," agreed the professor, "We never change the questions."

"But," said the visitor, "Don't you know the students will pass the questions from class to class?"

"Certainly," was the bland reply, "But in economics we always change the answers."

Don't keep telling her that you are unworthy of her—she knows it.

STOUT LOSES TO RIVER FALLS CAGERS, 97-81

River Falls had too many guns as they shot down Stout 97-81 last week-end.

Stout's inability to sink free throws and a hot streak by Steffen at the end of the second period spelled doom.

Jim Bolm turned in the defensive gem of the season holding the River Falls high scoring center Herum to 6 points.

Howard again paved the way with 20 points, Jim Bolm followed for Stout with 19.

Freethrows: Stout made 23 of 40 attempts, River Falls made 33 of 45 attempts.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

Gale Woelffer left our campus to migrate eastward. He accepted a position with the Marathon Paper Company. The "old dad" brought 'em to their feet many a time down at Nelson Field — good luck to a great guy!

Scores last weekend: La Crosse 85, Eau Claire 83. Big Reg Hanson led all scorers with 27 points. Don Petty took over the conference scoring leadership with 140 points on the books as he collected 24 points that night.

Center Tom Kneusel pumped in 44 as he helped Milwaukee to a 90-78 victory over Oshkosh.

The Stevens Point-Platteville game was postponed.

This week Eau Claire beat River Falls by a score of 92 to 65.

La Crosse jumped over Superior by a score of 104 to 92. This kicked Superior out of a first place tie with Eau Claire and La Crosse.

This week Platteville ran over Milwaukee 92 to 74.

INTRAMURAL GAMES SCORES REVEALED

GLOBETROTTERS 61- FORB II 16

The FOB II pushed the Globetrotters all the way before finally being subdued by a score of 61-16. Ron Ebbesen and Dick Cheke led the pack with 14 points apiece.

The FOB II were in there pitching, but Leroy Zwick seemed to be the only competent scorer, having 8 points.

TROJANS 38-SIG TAU 32

Dick Weber snapped in 10 markers to pace his team to a 38-32 victory over the Sig Tau aggregation. The Sig Tau "men" were possibly sweating out finals and the likes as they could not muster a potent attack.

John Posovitz had 12 buckets in the defeat with his sweeping hook paying off. Erp must have been thinking of a June wedding as he totaled 4 points.

FLUNKIES 28-DK's 24

Molsen and Metting tallied 8 points each as the team handed the DK's a 28-24 defeat. Stahlhof swished 8 points for the DK's but received little help. It should be brought into focus that the DK's were hindered to quite an extent by the 10 foot baskets.

FOB 40-Sig TAU's 23

The FOB's humbled the Sig Taus 40 to 23 in the upper gym. Don Woelffer had a leave of absence from Jones' Drugs and his presence plus three gallons of gall bitter syrup gave the boys a tremendous lift.

Featured was Vern Christensen for the Sig Taus who was somewhat hampered by an old Navy wound. (He slipped off a tour bus in London.) John Posovitz had 6 points.

THE OLDMEN 31-TIGERS 23

Brecha with 7 and Statz and Loushin with 6 a piece helped the Lakers drop the Tigers 31-23. Experience pay-

FOB II'S DEFEAT DRIBBLERS WITH 31-28 SCORE

History was made Tuesday as the FOB II's attacked the field house record and cruised a game but outmaneuvered the Dribblers outfit 31-28.

Milan Lohlich filled the nets with 9 points and Leroy Zwick contributed 6 in the runaway.

Nelson managed to worm his way for 18 points, but for the most part the FOB defense was impenetrable.

TSSU was a demon on the boards. A result of his many hours of practice in the back yard with a pineapple and grass skirt paid off.

"They came—they saw—they quit!" may never again be jibed in the face of this quintet. This group proved their undaunted courage and will to win when they faced terrific odds Tuesday night.

BASKETBALL SCORING TOTALS

Following are the season scoring totals as composed by our varsity and compiled by Jack Longshore.

	Gms.	Pts.	Avg.
Bolm	13	228	17.5

ed dividends in the victory for the old timers, although hampered by new rules, such as the elimination of the center jump after every basket. Abbott on the comeback tallied one free toss.

CUTS 36-FORB 35

Holder flubbed and threw the ball game out the window with a bad pass in the last 15 seconds of the game as the Cuts placed themselves in a good position for the league title with a score of 36 to 35.

Harold Procter turned in a startling performance and 14 points for the FOB's. Ruppenthal paced the Amputees with 12 points.

MORON JOKES

Little moron's wife sent him down town after a bucket of ice. He came back with a pail of water. "I got this for half price because it was melted."

Little moron took two slices of bread and went down and sat on the street corner waiting for the traffic jam. A big truck came along and gave him a jar.

Why did the little moron go to the lumber yard?—To look for his draft board.

Then there was the little moron who broke his leg when he threw his cigarette butt down the manhole and tried to step on it.

And the one who took his nose apart to see what made it run.

Two little morons went hunting. The first one shot at a duck, and when it fell at his feet he felt bad that the little duck had died when he shot it. The other said, "Oh, don't feel so bad. The fall would have killed it anyway."

The little moron got up in the middle of the night to answer the telephone. "Is this one-one-one-one?" says the voice. "No, this is eleven eleven."

"You're sure it isn't one-one-one-one?" "No, this is eleven eleven." "Well, wrong number." "Sorry to have gotten you up in the middle of the night."

"That's all right, mister. I had to get up to answer the telephone anyway."

Why did the little moron lock his head in the icebox? Because he wanted cold pop.

Can you tell me why the little moron took some hay to bed with him? Because he wanted to feed his nightmare.

A little moron went to a show. The usher asked him, "Would you like to sit down front?" The little moron answered, "I'm sorry, sir, but I don't bend that way."

Did you hear about the little moron who stayed up all night to study for his blood test?

And the little moron who took some sugar and cream with him to the movie because he heard there was going to be a serial?

How about the little moron who took off his knee cap to see if there was any beer in the joint?

Have you heard about the little moron who was so bashful that he had to go into another room to change his mind?

Did you hear about the little moron who cut off his arms because someone gave him a sleeveless sweater for his birthday?

WAYNE STAFF IS HEADED BY STOUT ALUMNUS

Responsible for the maintenance of 74 buildings on the Wayne university campus in Detroit, and for the work of 307 persons on the university maintenance staff, is Alfred Lamb, a Stout state college graduate of 1924, who is director of the division of buildings and grounds at that rapidly-expanding university.

When Lamb joined the Wayne staff in 1938, the university possessed only its old main building, a church, five residential structures and three buildings on the Wayne Medical center campus. His only "staff" was one secretary and to fill in his "spare time," Mr. Lamb taught engineering drawing.

Today Alfred Lamb has his own divisional headquarters from which he directs maintenance, operations and alterations on Wayne's two enlarging campuses. Three special aides help him plan and evaluate the efforts of the many hundreds of specialists working in the university division of buildings and grounds.

THIRD PLACE TAKEN AT GOPHER RIFLE MATCH

On Saturday, January 23, the Rifle club traveled to the fourth annual Gopher Rifle Match Shoot at the University of Minnesota Rifle Range. Firing started at 8:30 a. m. with 54 entries from three states to five in the seven matches.

After six hours of firing the final results showed Stout team came in third place in their class.

The next trip the team will take is to Sparta, Wisconsin, on Sunday, February 12 for another gaffery rifle match.

STOUT MAY GET A NEW UNION FOR STUDENTS; PLANS HAVE BEEN DRAWN UP TENTATIVELY

A new student union? Does that sound like a dream? The Board of Regents of the Wisconsin state colleges has applied to the Federal Government for funds, which, if granted, will be used to build student dormitories and unions for the 11 state colleges.

Because of the urgent need for extended facilities a list of specifications for Stout's proposed student union was drawn up over the 1955 holidays by President Fryklund, Dr. Iverson, Dean Price, and Mr. Schoepf to enable the construction to proceed immediately, upon receipt of the Federal Funds.

The proposed building would resemble a union already constructed for the Milwaukee state college and would cost an estimated $400,000.00. Its provisions for recreation would include one large lounge on the main floor for relaxation between classes, a television room which might double for a small lounge as well, a reading room for leisure time reading, an art craft workshop and a faculty lounge equipped with a snack bar.

Appreciation of literature and art will be stressed in the cultural arts area, a medium-sized room equipped with a phonograph and records.

Social affairs would be held in a ball room large enough to hold 200 couples while all student dances would be held in the gymnasium.

If a satisfactory plan could be developed, a room would be provided for each of the campus social organizations.

Several game rooms in which bowling alleys with four lanes, billiard, table tennis, and sedentary equipment are installed would fulfill the Stout state college student's recreational needs.

The food services proposed for the union will probably be expanded to include a small cafeteria to accommodate the rapidly increasing number of students. A snack bar on the first floor which opens out to a small patio for summer use in the speculative provisions would contain room for 100 students.

An office and conference room for the union manager, check room, information room, alumni office, conference room for the student governing board cooperative store room, Stoutonia office, and Tower office are other possible inclusions in this list of possible provisions.

Because of the sum the proposed building would cost it was suggested that the students pay a small union fee in addition to other fees or start fund raising campaigns. To determine the students opinions the sub-committee of the student welfare division of the Student Governing Board under the chairmanship of Dean Price will be enlarged.

A site for the dream of Stout state college administrators, faculty, and students has not been selected.

TONIGHT'S THE TIME TO SNAG THEM, GALS!

Snag 'em tonight, gals. Yup, not only is it Leap Year, but never again will you have such a wonderful chance to get the guy that belongs to you. Here's how to do it. The formula's simple. Bring him to the Sadie Hawkins Dance tonight, fill him full of Kickapoo Joy Juice, and march him to the marriage license bureau, which will be right handy.

And there you are! A man, and fun, all for the small price of 2¢ per inch of his waist. What more could a girl ask for than that? So take advantage of the sitcherachun, and bring the love of your dreams. He can't refuse either, 'cause that's agin' the rules of this here courtin' period. And if he hesitates, tell him so!

SNOW BRAWL WILL END 1956 WINTER CARNIVAL

As the climax - and the end of the 1956 Winter Carnival, the Pallas Athene sorority will again sponsor the annual Snow Brawl.

Gay scarves, skis, skates, and other winter sports equipment will tie together the activities of the carnival and leave the memories with us.

The carnival queen will be presented at intermission with her king, the winner of the beard growing contest.

Chairman of the Snow Brawl, Kay Kennedy, has been working with her committee, Ann Kofoed, Doris Hutchinson, Ardis Carr, Alice Yamamoto, and Betty Fraley, to make this one of the best Snow Brawls ever given.

Chaperones for the occasion are Miss Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Ziemann; and Miss Anne Marshall.

Why not drop in after the game Saturday night and join the fun.

Come one, come all to a glorious vacation in the land of romance and intrigue. Cruises on the blue ocean, dancing under the tropical moon; all can be yours for a wonderful week during Easter vacation.

Now it is the time to stop dreaming. For only $350.00 this trip can be yours. You can fly to the dream of the Bahamas, the lovely town of Nassau, where an educating and delightful tour of this island awaits you. From there you can cruise to Havana, Cuba, the pearl of the Caribbean, where you will spend a day at the University of Cuba. And you can spend days in Florida, basking in the sunlight, seeing the lovely spots that make this state so popular.

And although it sounds like a dream, it really is within your means. Last year 30 people went on the tour, all of them saying it was more than worth the price paid, all of them testifying that the education gained was better than they could have gotten from any book. So stop your dreaming of these romantic isles. Stout is keeping pace with the changing world by offering this wonderful opportunity to its students. Take advantage of this opportunity to learn about other lands and other people. Because as the world changes, we Stout students must change too, and no chance to learn could be more effective than the one now being offered.

So start your planning. Sign for the trip with Dean Kirk, deposit your $50.00, and from that moment on your trip is assured.

Completing a display now being shown at the Province VII Home Economics club convention in Chicago from February 9-12 is Ardis Carr, Stout state college home economics senior from Barron. Miss Carr is presiding over the four-state gathering.

ARDIS CARR PRESIDES AT PROVINCE CONVENTION

Direction of Home Ec. Club Activities Will Be Her Job At The Annual Convention

"I can see why Mr. Eisenhower isn't sure he'll run again for the presidency. He's responsible for 48 states and I've got only four. But being president of even a four-state organization involves enough headaches.

So says Ardis Carr, petite brunette coed of Stout state college, who will direct the activity of Home Economics club chapters of Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin at an annual convention in Chicago, February 9-12. Ardis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carr, of Barron, is a senior in home economics education at Stout state college.

She has already completed such "minor" convention details as planning the program, selecting and contacting a speaker, making accommodations, selecting group discussion topics, and arranging for a final evaluation of the meeting.

"Anyone who claims that today's young people have too much free time on their hands should try my schedule this semester," says Ardis with spirit. In addition to carrying 17 college credits, the pretty coed is a member of a social and a national honorary sorority; Alpha Psi Omega, a national dramatic organization; the college newspaper staff; and a church group.

The Home Economics club of Stout state college will submit as its contribution to the meeting a display of comparisons of breakfasts eaten by the peoples of many foreign countries. Foreign cookbooks and cooking utensils will also be a part of the exhibit.

Province VII of the American Home Economics Association College Clubs is made up of student delegates and advisers of clubs in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Annually they meet in Chicago, where they spend three days touring points of interest, listening to speakers, and taking part in discussion groups.

The group will tour such places as the Merchandise Mart, Underwriters' Laboratories, and the Art Institute of Chicago. They will hear such speakers as Mary Detlor, a former Stout state college student who was an I.F.Y.E. ambassador to Denmark, and Miss Soekantiah, principal of home economics teacher training in Indonesia.

Theme of the meeting is "Kindle the Betty Lamp to Illuminate the World." A "betty" lamp, by the way, is a lamp symbolizing the power of home economics. Convention participants are seeking to broaden the scope of home economics through increased understanding of the problems of foreign peoples and methods by which home economists can help to provide a solution.

Displays will include comparisons of nutritional standards of various countries, comparisons of various religions, and methods of food preparation and preservation.

"Mr. Eisenhower can do whatever he likes about the next election," sighs the 21 year old coed, "but this one term of office will be plenty for me."

ALL TYPES OF BEARDS SEEN ON CAMPUS

Is it a shrub? A brush? Nails? Spikes? It's a beard!

Shades of the wild frontier has descended on S.C.C., or should it be called the 2 Bar C; for the lone cowboy had nothing over the bearded industrial art students. The Winter Carnival beard growing contest has given rise to such growths that one wonders if it is a boy or the "Missing Link."

There are red ones, black, brown, and blonde ones. They range from the face cover-up to the elongated side burns. Each beard has its own individuality. The "Let's whoop it up beard," which is usually black and runs into the eyebrows. The "Parley Vous," which is pointed and has the added attraction of a handlebar moustache. Then finally, there is the "Why the heck doesn't it grow beard?" which explains itself--or does it?

Some beards have grown in such queer directions that their owners had to shave them off for fear that they might begin to look like they came from "Up in them, thar Hills!" One innocent girl asked, "Was it hard to grow?" "Are you kidding?" was the reply.

There is only one trouble it is rumored -- they itch, or is it scratch? Well, that all depends on who commented; the owner, or his girlfriend.

CHANTICLEERS PROVIDE MUSICAL PROGRAM

"The Chanticleers" provided a delightful program of wonderful music at the Monday night lyceum. Their repertoire included many classical and semi-classical selections.

Perhaps one of the "most well received numbers was a "Pinafore" Fantasy. In this piece each member displayed some of his ability to characterize. Their antics drew laughter from the audience throughout the song. Mr. Martindale, the youngest singer, used many facial expressions while singing so as to let one know the mood of his various selections. For an encore he chose "Ole Man River."

"For You Alone" was Mr. Wright's encore to a song from an opera. Mr. Keast chose "Homeing" and Mr. Diard the tallest of the group, sang "Home On the Range."

The courting problems of the Johnson boys as heard in the song, "The Johnson Boys" tickled the audience as did "Sit Down, You're Rockin' the Boat". Kurt Weill's "September Song" was well received.

The volume the group is aptly capable of was heard in this number.

The quartet displayed excellent timing and rhythm. They had good contact with the audience and used fine stage manners. Their ability to "really live" a piece was shown in most of their numbers, especially in the humorous ones.

TOWER STAFF WORKING TO MEET DEADLINE

March 1st is the deadline for the first one third of this year's Tower. The typists are busy preparing copy and the first section will be sent to the printers on March 1st.

Three fourths of the pictures have already been sent in for engraving.

Dorothy Dieter, Tower editor, reports that the stories are being turned in promptly and very well done.

YWCA BIG AND LITTLE SISTER TEA A SUCCESS

The annual Big-Little Sister Tea, sponsored by the YWCA, was held from 7 to 9 p. m., Tuesday, February 7 at the Harvey Memorial Lounge. A countless number of girls attended and made the occasion very successful.

Colorful and elaborate fifty-year old valentines decorated the lounge while the girls enjoyed hot chocolate, cookies, and the companionship of their "sisters."

The reunion is always held second semester and is more informal than the original Big-Little Sister Tea in the fall, which acquaints the girls with one another. This tea, under the chairmanship of Jeanne Crichton, was the finale of the Big-Little Sister program for another year.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Sadie Hawkin's week is almost over! Girls, have you been making the most of the opportunities it presents?
Sadie Hawkin's week isn't just a chance to ask out some boy you've had your "eye on" for a long time. It's a chance to meet a lot of people and become better acquainted with Stout and its social life—steps toward a goal of being happier with and gaining more from life at Stout state college. Perhaps asking a boy for a date is beyond the range of your actions. There are many more activities on which to spend your time. Stout has more than twenty-five organizations with different requirements, interests, and goals. In this number, there must be at least one that interests you. Students do not gain maximum benefits of advanced education without membership in one or more of these organized groups. Don't cheat yourself by passing an investment in more effective living for the future.

If your argument against participation in extracurricular activities is lack of time, it might be interesting to know that most people do not work up to their inherited capacity. Time is wasted or put to poor use. Some people make the mistake of limiting their range of interests by doing too much of the same thing too much of the time, with the ultimate result being a narrow minded, uninteresting individual.

Probably the reason for nonmembership in your case is not knowing the members of the organizations in which you're interested. This presents a bigger challenge, it's true, but once you've conquered your fears and become an active member, many new friends will be yours. Most people welcome the chance to meet somebody new.

Maybe your inactivity as far as clubs are concerned is due to a lack of knowledge of what they are and do. The Student handbook for the college gives some of this information; reports on current activities are found in this newspaper; pictures of members and events are in the Tower. With a little effort, you can get all the beforehand information you'll need.

Second semester has just begun and most, if not all, of the organizations are welcoming new members. Get out your writing arm and sign that membership card on the dotted line!

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA INITIATES TWO. PLANS SPRING ACTIVITIES

Two initiation ceremonies were held on Sunday, February 5th in the Harvey Memorial. Those initiated by the Tri Sigma Sorority were: Jermaine Folkman and Mary Williams, faculty sponsor of Beta Pi chapter. Following initiation, punch and cookies were served to all the members and the initiates.

Discussion at our song meeting included plans for a trip, for the rush party, and the election of our carnival queen candidate. Althea Schroeder was chosen to be our candidate for the Winter-Carnival queen. The final plans for the rush party were explained to the sorority. Suggestions for a trip to Minneapolis included art centers, dinner, and "Cinerama Holiday."

SWIMMING PARTY GIVEN BY SIG TAU'S

The splashing party started at 7:30 p.m. on February 3rd, as the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity held a swimming party in the Stout pool. It was a very wet and fun provoking occasion for all. The swimmers finally adjourned at 9:00 p.m. and refreshments were served at 9:30 p.m. A short discussion followed as to how the next three hours should be spent. At 10:00 p.m. the party was dismissed for places unknown.

Each member of the fraternity was allowed one male guest and two female guests. There were between fifty and sixty people there and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves immensely.

Bill Erpenbach was in charge of the party. Joe Jajtner handled the musical end, Dave Gresch took good care to see that everyone got their ice cream and cake, and Carl Spinti and Marge Schuette were the life guards.

A hearty thank you is extended to all these people and the many others not mentioned for their excellent help. This was the fifth active party or dance for the Sigma Tau Gamma this year, two of the outstanding ones being the Rose Dance and the Men's Smoker.

M.A.P. HOLDS MEETING. BUSINESS DISCUSSED

A M.A.P. meeting was held January 23, 1956, in Room 122 Harvey Hall. Plans for a field trip for the group were discussed. Committees were appointed to look into the coming events in the surrounding area including the twin cities and the state colleges.

Further discussion of an amendment to lower the grade point requirement for membership from 1.3 to 1. A vote was taken and the amendment was defeated.

A committee was appointed to look into the prospects of changing the name of the organization. The meeting was adjourned.

The Stout Snooper

Tonight is Sadie Hawkin's Week's biggest event, the dance. During my snooping this week, I have seen some Stout girls opening doors at the movie theatre, buying the tickets; and/or paying for the hamburgers. Yes, you, of Stout have complied to the rules of TWIRP (The Woman Is Requested To Pay) season! And TWIRP season Day is only one day away.

Since Valentine's Day is on this coming Tuesday, I am reminded of an old Roman custom, called the feast of Lupercal. Part of this feast consisted of every young man putting his name into a box. Then each young woman drew and the man having the name drawn became the young woman's escort for the entire coming year! Perhaps this system would be of some use on the Stout campus, huh?

The origin of this lover's day is now known, but there are 2 theories accepted. One is that word galatin (lover of the women) is similar to the word Valentine.

The other theory originated in the Middle Ages. It was found that the birds began to mate on February 14. Chaucer said: For this was Seynt Valentine's Day; When every foul cometh to choose his mate."

But these two theories do not explain just why the lover's day received the name of St. Valentine because Saint Valentine wrote no love songs; instead he was a bishop and for believing in the Christian faith, he was beheaded. I think he would be surprised to learn that his name is always thought of in connection with young lovers.

Years ago it became a custom to send a paper valentine to some special girl or boy friend and it was (and still is) common for the man to stick to the girl fallen for him rather than the one he has fallen for!

The first printed valentine depicted a young couple; the girl dressed in a scarlet gown, blue-green shawl, and

PHI SIGMA EPSILON ELECTS 1956 OFFICERS

Election of new officers was the main order of business at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon held last Thursday, February 2, in the club room. The new officers are Frank Marose, President; Ray Pearson, Vice-president; Harlan Giese, Treasurer; Stan Suk, Secretary; Neil Hoepfner, Sergeant-at-arms; and Loren Johnson, Historian.

Saturday night many Phi Sigs attended the basketball game at Eau Claire and were welcomed by the members of Phi Beta chapter at a little get-together afterwards. There were also some members from Kappa chapter in Stevens Point present.

Sunday afternoon the Phi Sigs and their dates enjoyed themselves immensely as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Siefert at the latter's cottage on Tainter Lake. Tobagganning and just loafing around the house, in addition to a delicious meal prepared by Mrs. Siefert and her "accomplices" were enjoyed by all.

the young man dressed in lavender trousers, a yellow waist-coat, blue surcoat, and green cravat. Wow, those modern color combinations! Now there is a great assortment of Valentines sold. Why, I even found one for my 5th cousin.

Say, did you know that only about 1/2 of elopements are happy and secret marriages have been a poorer record. I once asked a middle-aged graduate student, "How come you never married, women don't bite you." "No," he retorted, "But they sure can gnaw."

But in spite of these few gloomy prophecies, most marriages are happy, probably happier than statistics show. And if you have a college education, chances are that you'll have a happy and successful marriage. So on Valentine's Day, pick a Valentine and make use of February 14! I'll be snooping.

IMPROVEMENTS CAN BE MADE WITH HELP

This column aims to bring to the attention of faculty and students conditions about and inside the school which could be improved, and to praise organizations or movements which deserve it.

The subject of school loyalty is always one which can be harped upon, and we shall start our campaign by tuning in on this subject.

It has been observed lately that many students and certain faculty are dissatisfied with Stout state college. One student we heard saying, "The worst mistake a second semester freshman can make is to come back". However, it is readily seen that those who do the most complaining do the least work when improvement projects are being taken up. Governing Board meetings are attended only by students assigned as representatives; many complain that the same people get parts in M.A.P. productions, while it is only these people that show up for tryouts; everyone wants a new union but who is willing to work on the committee; one hundred forty students signed up to hear the co-operative housing issue discussed, while not one-fourth of that number showed up.

Improvements at Stout can and will be made, but only with your help in who can carry the plans into existence. Therefore, if you have any problems or criticisms of our school, drop them in the wire basket in the Stoutonia office. Remember, it's up to you!

L.S.A. TO HAVE JOINT MEETING ON SUNDAY

An influx of students from our neighboring colleges at Eau Claire and River Falls will attend a "Joint Fellowship Meeting" sponsored by the Stout Lutheran Student Association on February twelfth. In addition to fun, food and fellowship, the gathering will feature a message on "The Uniqueness of the Christian Student" delivered by Dr. Philip Anderson, a Land O'Lakes Regional Advisor.

The program will begin at 3:30 with a discussion group of officers and interested members concerning the activities and programs of the various L.S.A. chapters. A recreation period will start at 4:30 with supper served at 5:30 by the Ladies Aid of Peace Lutheran Church.

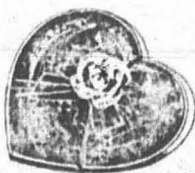

PHI U TO CELEBRATE FOUNDER'S DAY FEB. 17

Phi Upsilon Omicron, a National Honorary Fraternity is celebrating their Founder's Day February 10. This organization was founded on the University of Minnesota campus in 1909. Tau, the local chapter, was installed on the Stout campus April 29, 1933.

Phi Upsilon Omicron's founder's day is celebrated by the members wearing yellow roses and the group attending an evening banquet. However this year the local chapter is postponing the banquet and the flowers until February 17, when the district councilor, Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, will be on campus.

VALENTINE CUSTOMS HAVE VARIED

St. Valentine's Day is one of our best known holidays. Its beginning only slightly resembles the holiday as we celebrate it today.

The Romans, in ancient days, held a large feast every February which they called "Lupercalia." When first founded Rome was surrounded by wilderness and wolves (four-legged wolves). When the country about the city had been cleared and the wolf situation was no longer serious, the Romans declared a holiday, "Lupercalia," lupus was a Latin word meaning "a wolf." (Anybody know how ol' Lupus Niffenegar has been doing lately?) One of the amusements of "Lupercalia" was the placing of young woman's names in a box. Each young man drew a name from the box and accepted that girl as his lady love. (Sounds great, doesn't it Dick Dyer?)

The Christian priests kept the heathen feast, but called it St. Valentine's Day because a certain Bishop Valen-

CHINESE SUPPER TO BE SPONSORED BY CONGO

Tuesday, February 14 will be the date of the annual Congo Club Chinese Supper. The event will take place at the Congregational Church from 5 to 7.

The menu will consist of chop suey, rice, Chinese noodles, a variety of jello salads, hot rolls and butter, coffee, and white cake with cherry sauce.

Chinese lanterns will decorate the room and the beverage and dessert will be served by waitresses in coolie hats and pigtales.

Prices are $.75 for adults, $.60 for students and $.40 for children. Let's see you all there.

time's birthday occurred about that time. Very little is actually known of St. Valentine except that he lived in Rome about 300 A.D. and was a Bishop.

The Christians also changed the nature of the celebration by putting names of saints and martyrs into the box to be drawn out. Each person who drew a "valentine" was to imitate the holy life of that person throughout the next year. The custom changed again and again. Later names of living persons were used instead of dead saints, and gradually, the practice of sending out messages of kind remembrance on that day was practiced.

Today Valentines are made of all sizes, shapes, colors, and sentiments, and are exchanged between friends and sweethearts.

The big day, February 14, is on Tuesday this leap year of 1956. Don't any of you guys or gals with the hope of catching his or her eye forget to stop at the corner drugstore and pick out a valentine. That goes for all you "steadies", too, who think your "one and only" will just take it for granted. She will be expecting it.

BLUEGOLDS DOWN BLUE DEVILS AT EAU CLAIRE

First Half Was Close With Sorenson Leading Stout Try With 16 Markers

Stout played their best defensive game of the season throughout the first half. Rog Hanson 6' 9" center was the only player on the Eau Claire squad that could do any consistent scoring the first half. Jim Bolm did his best but just didn't have the height to combat the 6' taller Hanson. The largest margin that Eau Claire held during the first half was 7 points which came with two minutes left to play. Score at the half time was 32-26.

At the start of the second half Stout just couldn't seem to make a basket no matter how they tried, and on the other hand, the Eau Claire squad couldn't miss. During the first five minutes of the second half Stout just couldn't seem to make a basket no matter how they tried, and, on the other hand, the Eau Claire squad couldn't miss. During the first five minutes of the second half Eau Claire scored 12 points before Stout scored 1. In the whole second half the Bluedevils could only hit 6 baskets in 25 tries, about 24%, Eau Claire at the same time was sinking 62% of their shots. Stout shot 33% for the game while Eau Claire shot 55%.

Brian Howard high scorer for the last two games did not see action, because of a bad leg. Bob Sorenson who just became eligible at semesters was high point man with 16, Dick Nielsen was next high with 8.

There are two home games left; Feb. 18, Superior, and Feb. 27, River Falls. With the team Stout had on the floor the first half, both games should be close contests, so let's see the 1000 students that Stout has enrolled at the game and show some real school spirit.

POOL TABLE IN UNION RECOVERED WITH FELT

It finally happened. One of the pool tables at the Union has a new felt on it. Graduate students, Paul Axelsson and Lloyd Pickering finished the work on the table last Saturday night. It looks like a fine job fellows. The other felt was torn so badly that it was almost impossible to play a decent game on it. Now all the pool enthusiasts can match their skill on the new felt.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING TO START SOON

The intramural bowling league will start here shortly as was announced by Jack Wink, director of campus intramurals. There are five teams entered this year. These teams will play a double round robin and the winner will be determined by the highest number of total points. A total of four points is possible per match. One point per game and one point per total for three games are the way points are earned. The teams are as follows:

House of Waterbury, Studs, F.O.B.'s, Phi Sigs I and Phi Sigs II.

There are not many rules to be followed in the league except for the following ninety-nine thousand and one. A team will consist of seven members. The cost of a match will be twenty cents a line. (For those of you who don't know what a line means, it is made up of ten frames or ten turns at heaving the heavy ball down the alley or gutter!) The team that forfeits two nights is automatically out. ABC scoring rules will apply. Pin setters are supplied by the school.

The official match dates will be published as soon as they are released. The recent build up of bowling as a national pastime has revived interest in the sport. Students are urged to come out and watch the pins fly. The games are held on the Stout alleys during week nights. Stout has many excellent, oh well, bowlers and they will put on an unusual show to say the least.

Last year the FOB fraternity won the championship. They were led by their returning captain, Leroy "Gutterball" Zwick! In a recent statement he was overheard to promise that the FOB's would repeat this performance. On with the action, please.

DISNEY'S PRODUCTIONS ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

Two of Walt Disney's films were shown at the convocation Wednesday. Both pictures, unusual in their own sense, provided an hour of enjoyable entertainment.

"A World Is Born" showed how an artist interprets the beginning of the world. The predominate colors used were red and blue. Music accompanied this movie.

"Natures Half Acre" was a movie which showed birds, insects, bees, and flowers in their natural surroundings. The film was in technicolor. The music which accompanied this picture was synchronized with the movements of the birds and the insects. Some of their antics amused the audience while others drew gasps of amazement.

BLUE BARRON AND HIS CREW CUTS TO BE FEATURED AT APRIL LYCEUM AND DANCE

Blue Barron, stylist of the "Music of Yesterday and Today" will bring his orchestra for a lyceum program to the Stout state college on April 12. He is bringing the "Crew Cuts" with him. After the program he will play for a two hour dance which will be held in the high school gym.

Blue began his musical career playing in various college outfits while attending Ohio university. The hysterical tendency of most bands to blare and blast their way through melodies grated on Barron's nerves and he formulated then and there his policy of respect for the "listener's" eardrums. This theory helped him to the pinnacle he now occupies as one of the country's leading bandleaders.

After graduation, Blue started his own theatrical booking business in Cleveland and carried on there until the urge to get back into the band world sent him on the search for talent to organize his own orchestra. He exercised meticulous care in his selection of outstanding musicians, keeping in mind his theory of combining swing with sweet music. Once the nucleus of his band was formed, Blue Barron worked tirelessly whipping together a musical library. Knowing the value of showmanship, he emphasized this to such a degree that his band won public attention soon.

The public was not the only one to sit and listen to Barron's music. Soon after the band's appearance, Blue received calls from the enthusiastic owner of Edison and Lincoln Hotels in New York city. Alert to the drawing power of the outfit, the management offered Blue a long-term contract. Blue and his band were thus started in the big time of the orchestra world. "Music of Yesterday and Today" swept the country and Barron started on his appearance in leading theatres, ballrooms, and hotels. His music, far from being confined to the dance floor audience has been featured on numerous radio broadcasts including the Coca-Cola Spotlight Show and the War Manpower Commission's Sunday Serenade.

Blue recently returned from a stint with the U.S. Army, declaring with the certainty of first-hand knowledge that the public still demands melody. It need hardly be mentioned that his band is right at the top of their list. Barron's making certain of keeping it there with continued mellow sweet mixtures of nostalgia and swing.

PHI U DONATES BOOKS TO THE STOUT LIBRARY

Among new volumes at the Stout library are a group of books recently donated by Phi Upsilon Omicron. The books were first purchased with the intentions of starting a library at the home management house, but because they found that those in the house had so little time to read them, Phi U has donated them to the library.

The list includes, Something of Myself, Twentieth Century Short Stories, Home Grown, Practical English and Effective Speech, Flower Arrangements, How To Improve Your Conversation, and The Outward Room.

WINTER CARNIVAL TEA HELD IN MEMORIAL

The Winter Carnival Tea was held in Harvey Memorial on Wednesday, February 15 from 3:30 to 5:30. All winter carnival queen candidates acted as hostesses.

Betty Havlik, general chairman, worked with the following chairmen: Ellen Steinhoff, food committee; Shirley Bourneville, decoration committee; Mary Smith, publicity committee; and Carmen Krings, music committee.

The weatherbird passed my house this morning, carrying what looked like a month's supply of groceries.

"What's the use?" he muttered, "Just when the weather gets warm enough so I can get in some flying time, along comes some more lousy weather."

"So, I asked him what we could expect for the weekend, and he replied;

"By tonight the mercury should be below zero, by tomorrow morning it should be right around 10 below, and it will stay there through Sunday. I heard there was supposed to be some snow coming from the West Coast," he added, "but I don't give a hoot. I'm going back to my shack and stay there until spring."

I don't know what he is kicking about. After all, it was his idea to stay up north and suffer with the rest of us.

CO-OP MEETING NOT SUPPORTED BY STUDENTS

Remember the paper that was on the bulletin board in January stating "anyone interested in starting a co-op housing project here at Stout, please sign below?" The results showed that over 120 students were interested in starting such a project.

The president of Rochdale's Men's co-op, Mr. Bill Stevens, was guest speaker at the meeting held February 2 at 5 p.m. in the auditorium. Mr. Stevens came all this way in hopes that Stout students would be interested enough to put the co-op into practice. Who did Mr. Stevens have for an audience? Not the eager 120 students who signed up, but about 15 girls some SSA members and members of the faculty. What kind of cooperation do you call that?

Perhaps some of you aren't aware of the benefits a housing project of this sort could mean to us as students. Besides the fact that co-op housing would save us lots of money in room rent, we would receive benefits of learning to govern and living with other culture groups. Several students would live together in one house with students as house officers. All the work in the house would be done by the students themselves. They could make their own rules and enforce them in line with college regulations. Although everyone is primarily interested in co-operation, actually the big thing is how much money is saved.

The foundation for the project has been laid; the rest is up to you students. If ever we are going to have co-op housing at Stout, it's up to you students to do something about it, and do it as soon as possible. Other colleges around us—Eau Claire, River Falls, LaCrosse, etc. have co-op housing and it works out simply fine. We should have the same at Stout.

Let's all get behind, Ralph Stevens, a freshman transfer student, and get this co-op housing into practice. Ralph can't do the job alone; he needs the student body to back him. So if you're interested in really making this a reality contact Ralph and he'll do everything he can to put it across.

NOTICE

If you wish to participate in the Winter Carnival events tonight, sign up across the hall from the mailboxes. If this is impossible, report to the warming house at Stout Court tonight for registration. This is necessary if you are to receive points, for the activities, toward prizes!

A.P.O. INITIATES NINE MEMBERS RECENTLY

At a recent meeting Stout's Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity, initiated nine new members at formal ceremonies held in the chapter's meeting room in the student union. Following the initiation ceremonies a delicious supper was served at the Harbor Inn. The evening was enjoyed by both new and old members of the organization.

The following faculty advisors were present for the formal ceremonies and dinner, Dean Price, Guy Salyer, Dwight Chinnock, and K.T. Olsen. Scouting advisor Phil Johnson was also present. The names of the new members are as follows: Gerald Clough, LaVerne Christenson, Ray Weitner, Dave Clafflin, James Betzold, Larry Nelson, Rodney Kjell, Eric Sunstrum, and Norman Valiska.

SNOW CARNIVAL FINALE IS PA SNOW BRAWL

As a finale to the Winter Carnival festivities on February 18th, a Snow Brawl will be held in the Stout gym, following the game. The Pallas Athene sorority is sponsoring this annual event.

The 1956 Snow Carnival queen will be presented with her king at intermission time. Her king will be the winner of the beard growing contest.

Stout students will be dancing in an atmosphere of winter wonderland, with snow flakes in the air, skis, skates and other winter sports setting the scene with the dancers as so many skaters on a rink.

Chaperones for this climax of the Winter Carnival will be Miss Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Ziemann and Miss Anne Marshall.

This is an excellent opportunity for every student to attend the Snow Brawl after the game.

NEW PLEDGES FILLING SORORITY MEMBERSHIP

Last week the four sororities of Stout state college chose pledges to fill the openings in their membership.

The sororities have accepted the following girls as pledges: Pallas Athene, Sue Harycki and Marian Jankila; Hyperians: Barbara Pike, Virgene Achenbock, Ellen Paetche, Carolyn Griener, Mary Jane Dunkleberger, Sharon Fink, Carol Roycraft, Shirley Budde, and Margaret Braun; Sigma Sigma Sigma: Marvene Nelson, Joan Wonoski, Jean Baumgartner, Ruth Thomas, and Mary Ann Cerny; Alpha Sigma Alpha: Toni Schmidt, Carol Buck, Barbara Hartig, and Polly Scholler.

NOTICE

Dr. Smith will present the convocation program February 22. He is sponsored by the Inter-Religious Council. The program is planned to be unusual in its kind.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR M.A.P. PLAY, "MY THREE ANGELS" TO BE PRESENTED SOON

The Manual Arts Players of Stout are again preparing their annual spring play. This year's selection is "My Three Angels". The movie "We're No Angels" is more familiar by name to the public, and playing the part that Humphrey Bogart made will be Fran Karracker. Fran was seen in "A Fate Worse Than Death," "Claudia," and "Grammercy Ghosts" and is a member of the Stout chapter of Alpha Psi Omega. The other two convicts are equally familiar to the Stout stage. Playing the part of Jules is Gene Ender, seen in "Grammercy Ghost" as Nathaniel the congenial ghost.

Aldo Ray was seen in the movie as Alfred, and Doug Dorner's performance should be equally as good. Doug has been an active member of M.A.P. and has appeared in "A Fate Worse Than Death," "Claudia," and "Grammercy Ghost."

Judy Goehring, remembered for her performance in "A Fate Worse Than Death" and "Years Ago," will be seen in the role of Marie Louise Ducatel, who falls in love with a handsome Navy Lieutenant played by Ed Birch. Ed was Rocky in "Grammercy Ghost." A freshman, he hails from Holcombe, Wisconsin.

Henri Trochard and his nephew, Paul, are in real life Don O'Brien and Fritz Ebert. Don was seen in "Years Ago," "Mr. Bagley," "Claudia," and "A Fate Worse Than Death," and he is a member of Alpha Psi Omega. Fritz, an active member of the backstage crew, can be remembered for his role in "Admirable Crichton."

Do you remember the lady and the bottle of chartreuse? Mme. Parole will be played by Ellen Steinhoff, not a newcomer to the Stout stage.

Tickets for the performance to be held on March 8, 9, and 10 will go on sale in Harvey Hall on March 5.

QUEEN TO OPEN FESTIVITIES AT STOUT COURT

The crowning of the Winter Carnival Queen by Alice Yamamoto, 1955 Winter Carnival Queen, will open the 1956 Stout state college Winter Carnival at 7:15 p.m. in the Stout Auditorium.

After a program and the crowning, Stout students will adjourn to the Stout court skating rink that is located across from the dormitories. Contests will be held, and everyone is urged to participate.

The schedule is as follows:

8:00 Free-for-all Ice Skate Races
8:15 Tug of War (between girls)
8:45 Intermission - Skit by Doug Dorner
9:00 Couples Race
9:15 Sled Race
9:30 Hockey Game
10:00 Adjourn to Stout Gym for Coffee and Doughnuts
Carving judging will take place at 1:00 p.m. Following that, more contests will take place at the Fairgrounds.
1:30 Cross Country Ski Race

Total points achieved by participation in the events will be eligible for the drawing of a grand prize.

RACIAL GROUP PLANS TO LIVE AND WORK HERE

Three women representing racial groups which compose most of the world's population will visit Menomone as a team working toward permanent peace among all nations.

Menomone is one of two official places in the United States where the World Understanding Team will be contacting community and civic organizations. A town in Oregon will also be host to this group.

This team of Christian women has been brought to the United States to live and work for one year. The following women leaders will be in Menomone from February 21-26:

Mrs. Kiyo Tanaka, teacher and Y.W.C.A. worker from Nagoya, Japan; Miss Violetta Cavellero, director of Religious Education in Crandon Institute, Montevideo, Uruguay; Miss Eva Shipstone, director of the Psychology department, Isabella Thoburn College, Lucknow, India; together with the co-ordinators, Miss Louise Robinson, former Executive for China and Malaysia and Mrs. Clifford Bender, New York, official observer for the United Nations.

February 22-23 will be largely taken up by a West Wisconsin Conference and district officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service and leaders of the Methodist church from Wisconsin and Minnesota will come to Menomone for study and to acquire new resources of world understanding.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

A short time ago small cards were placed on the edges of the ash trays in the Union, asking that all participants of the Union facilities co-operate in keeping their Union reasonably neat and clean.

But alas, some outsider (and it must have been an outsider) chose to add insult to injury by burning an ugly brown hole through the face of one of the little cards. His friend, definitely another one of those outsiders, heaped even more abuse upon the already injured card by removing some of its substance, leaving a jagged and wilted looking edge, almost ruining the face of the frail defenseless little card.

Of course, you and I know, as college students, that one of our own people would not be responsible for such rude and unthinking acts. If it were true that one of us had willingly defaced this small plea, we would soon consider that person unfit to enjoy the facilities of the Union and would mentally consider that person an outsider.

CLUB NEWS

The Dietetic Club held an initiation for the new members in Harvey Memorial at 7:00 p.m., Monday, February 13.

The new members entering the club are Marlene Krause, Mary Resek, Ann Koford, Barbara Hartig, Neva Halphill, Rita Pauls, Mary Jane Grotte, Jeanne Lemkul, Jermaine Folkman, Bonnie Bauman, Maryellen Pfeiffer, Ann Janda, Eleanor Weltzin, and Jeanne Madaus.

The Synchronized Swimmers held their regular business meeting in the Stout pool last Tuesday night. The main order of business was a decision on whether or not the annual water show would be held. It was decided that it would be impossible to produce a full evening performance. In its place, it was decided to present an intermission feature during an SSA mixer. Committees were appointed to do research on the possibility.

Fallas Athene members had fun at a skating party last Thursday night. After skating the group met for lunch.

Tuesday, the members wore red roses, the sorority's flower, in observance of Founder's Day, February 14, 1934. The twenty-second Founder's Day dinner with members and alumnae in attendance was held at 915 Sixth Street. Marion Kindsch was committee chairman.

All plans for the Snow Brawl have been completed by Kay Kennedy's committee. George Soderberg's Royal Blackhawks will play for the dance February 18 after the basketball game. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Zieman, Miss Ann Noble and Miss Anne Marshall will be chaperones for the dance.

The Tri Sigma sorority enjoyed a trip to Minneapolis on Saturday, February 11. Morning activities included shopping and a visit to the Walker Art Center to see the exhibit of "Expressionism" which included the work of many artists. The French Room at Charlie's provided the atmosphere for a very lovely luncheon. "Cinerama Holiday" was the main attraction for the rest of the day.

Thursday, February 9, Sigma Sigma Sigma held a ceremonial business meeting and welcomed new members. Various committees were appointed and the chairman announced: General chairman for Winter Carnival-Diane Bournoville, chairman for ice cream, Mary Smith, chairman for tug-of-war, Darlene Griswold, and general chairman for S-Club carnival, Rita Horkin.

Members of Gamma Delta and their guests will be entertained at a hayride party Sunday evening. The group will meet at the school at 6:30. Lunch will be served after the hayride by the pastor.

Each member is encouraged to bring a guest. Please remember to sign the lunch list or contact the president, Jerry Schoenike at 885M.

Four girls became pledges of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority Monday night at a ceremony in Harvey Memorial. The pledges are: Barbara Hartig, Carol Buck, Tony Schmidt, and Polly Scholler. Sunday the sorority attended church at Our Savior's Lutheran Church.

Sadie Hawkins week was a huge success, and now the attention of the girls is being put on the activities of the Winter Carnival and the F.O.B. stunt night.

The Stout Snooper

The Winter Carnival brings a big week and for all of Stout and it'll certainly be fun; won't it?

An organization on campus is having a big week end too. Yes, the Phi Upsilon Omicron, the national honorary fraternity is celebrating Founder's Day. So I thought it would be of special interest for all of you to know that a Phi U chapter has been on the Stout campus for 23 years!

The first chapter originated on the neighboring campus of the University of Minnesota February 10, 1909. Now there are 40 active chapters throughout the United States.

Phi U membership is based primarily on leadership qualities and true professional zeal for the home economics profession. But, the women must also be in the scholastic upper two-fifths of their class in order to qualify for membership.

Stout's local chapter, Tau, has five advisors and all are members of Phi Upsilon Omicron. They are: Miss Gladys Trullinger, Dean Kirk, Miss Joan Mitty, Mrs. Dorothy Dale, and Mrs. Lloyd Whydoutski.

Professional projects take up the majority of the girl's Phi U working time. Some are a textile box which is available to teachers and students to use in teaching textiles, a scholarship for a freshman girl, a panel and other information presented to all freshmen women to stimulate their interest in Phi U, a work project of cooperating with the alumnae chapter in making new initiation robes, and bulletin boards to inform Stout about Phi U.

The members of this organization take turns in putting up the attractive bulletin boards. I've always noticed that they seem so original. It must be that each one takes pride in developing on original idea to present to Stout.

Here's a salute from the Stout Snooper to the Tau chapter of Phi U!

NEW YWCA VEEP RUTH THOMAS

Recently elected vice-president of YWCA was Ruth Thomas, Kenosha, Wisconsin. As vice-president, she is now general chairman of the Mother-Daughter Banquet, to be held Saturday, April 21.

Carol Lehman and Marvel Klecker will represent Stout's YWCA as delegates to the Social Action Day, Saturday, February 23 at the University of Minnesota. The question to be discussed at this meeting is the problem of the St. Paul and Minneapolis Indians.

Attention! Daughters at Stout. Now is this time to be making plans to invite your mother, aunt or close friend to the Mother and Daughter Banquet April 21 at 5:30 p.m. at the Peace Lutheran church.

Ruth Thomas, general chairman has chosen the following chairmen for the following committees: Kay Hawkins, decorations; Jermaine Folkman, tickets; Virginia Vile, publicity; Barbara Pike, menu; and Joan Wonoski, program.

Workshop meetings have started so members can start making posters, planning the program and making the decorations.

HOME EC CLUB SEES SLIDES ON PUERTO RICO

The Home Economics club held its regular meeting, January 30, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 411.

Jermaine Folkman introduced Mr. Hamerly, the guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Hamerly took the audience on a very interesting trip to Puerto Rico as he showed slides which were taken during the college trip last spring.

It was announced that Jermaine Folkman, Betty Fraley, and Marion Kindsch will represent the Home Economics club at the Province meeting which will be held in Chicago February 8 through the 11. Ardis Carr, who is president of Province this year, and Miss Noble, an advisor of the group, will also attend.

Nat Wick presented a sales talk on a new type dishcloth for a money making project for the club. The idea was accepted by the club and a committee formed.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

The following information appeared in an article of the Arkansas Gazette on October 23, 1965, and was sent to the alumni office by Dr. Stephen Sheehan, former Social Science professor at Stout and now at the University of Arkansas:

After graduating from Stout in December, 1913, Earl F. Quigley went to Little Rock, Arkansas, to teach manual arts. For the past 43 years he has been a coach of athletics and educational administrator for eight and one-half months each year. As a coach he was a Prussian-type disciplinarian whose tenure ended in 1946 after 32 all-conquering years as a coach of four sports, at one time or another, for Little Rock (now Central) high school. His composite coaching record encompasses 961 inter-school events, of which his teams won 760, lost 190, and tied 11.

When attending Stout, he was playing quarterback on the Arkansas mid-season team. As a player-coach he replaced a Dartmouth All-American who had been a terrific player but "didn't know what he did or why he did it."

At 64, Quigley has accumulated a lifetime's worth of achievements in three different vocations because of his dedication to one true vocation—work.

Mrs. Nathan Grimm, formerly Lois Strahm, B.S. 1941, is a homemaker with two girls, ages 2 and 8, in Morrill, Kansas. Last spring her family received the State (Kansas) award in Balanced Farming and Family Living Program.

Mrs. A. E. Dittrenner, B.S. 1948, is a homemaker with two boys in Balsam Lake, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Howard Roen (nee Doris Gehring), B.S. 1944, is a homemaker with one daughter, and one son, ages 7 and 4 respectively. Her address is 639 West Elk, Freeport, Ill.

Mrs. Willis Bogenhagen (nee Mary Jean Swanson), B.S. 1951, is a busy homemaker with two small children. Her address is 134 Garfield Avenue, Clintonville, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Gary Gore (nee Ellen Russell), B.S. 1954, is teaching in Galeville, Wisconsin.

Bernice Barth, B.S. 1944, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Northern Illinois Chapter of International Stewards and Caterers. After her graduation from Stout, she was Director of the Food Service for the Chicago Chapter of the American Red Cross for five years. On November 3, 1964, the Chicago Administration of Civil Defense conducted a mass feeding demonstration in four different locations in and out of the city to present to the general public a knowledge of what could be done under total or near total disaster. Miss Barth was selected as one of the four deputies responsible for the activities of one of the four units. The unit prepared enough food for 10,000 people on equipment built from scrap material that would be located at the scene of a disaster.

At the present she is in charge of the food service at the University Club of Evanston in Evanston, Illinois. She thinks that serving the family dinners on Thursday nights is one of the interesting duties of this job. An American menu and a menu typical of the country being presented by a film and the Consultant General of the country on that particular Thursday night are served. She enjoys the research involved in locating menus, recipes and the actual food for these foreign dinners.

At Ironwood, Michigan, Elmer Miller is in his forty-eight year as Head of the Industrial Arts department. Mr. Miller graduated from Stout in 1904. He received a one-year diploma. He has served the Ironwood community ever since. Each year he returns to Menominee as he has a number of relatives here. Mrs. Beulah C. Howison, assistant librarian, is a relative of Mr. Miller.

Mrs. M. H. Dallman (nee Maxine Pence), B.S. January, 1949, is a homemaker with two children. Her address is 511 Bryant Street, Caterville, Illinois.

Mrs. Adeline Schofer Richter, B.S. 1948, is a homemaker with three children. They recently moved to 103 Fremont Street, Watertown, Wisconsin.

Ardis Manderscheid, B.S. 1953, is the Oneida County Home Agent. Her address is 330 Dahl Street, Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Elvin W. Olson, formerly Anderholm, B.S. 1941, is a full-time homemaker with three children at 614 7th Avenue N. E., Grand Rapids, Minnesota. She also works with the Campfire Girls and Cub Scouts.

REGIONAL L.S.A. CHAPTERS HOLD JOINT MEETING

"An active stewardship of time and abilities dedicated to the church is an important attribute of Christian college students," said Dr. Philip Anderson, advisor to the Land-O-Lakes Region of Lutheran Student Association. Dr. Anderson's address highlighted the February 12th Fellowship Meeting of Eau Claire, River Falls and our local L.S.A. chapters. The speaker also emphasized the imperative role of the Christian student as a helper, giving, considerate, prayerful support to fellow students in need.

Della Medin's registration committee welcomed seventy-eight students and faculty to Peace Lutheran Church where, following get-acquainted games led by Elaine's Betty Jacobson, a nourishing meal was served by the Sisters of Bethany. Attractive valentine center pieces by Loretta Sletten and Lillian Holst added a festive touch to the menu of family style hot dishes, "carrot-jello salad and chocolate covered white cake."

Elmer's talented Marlene Krause and Joyce Frederick led a group of songs including "If You Want to be a Badger," "The Instruments," and "Beautiful Savior." Current events in our region were reviewed by Dennis Ruhnke, Land-O-Lakes Regional Stewardship Secretary.

Elmer's gathering adjourned to their various homes following a devotional service by River Falls and the concluding Friendship Circle.

EEK, THE ICY TRAPS

EEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE - This is the scream of some unsuspecting victim as he or she falls prey to the icy traps. These traps are set strategically around school. They are located wherever there is a corner to turn or a hill. Subtle places covered with snow are for the person thinking he or she could avoid this icy peril.

As you look out of the library window you see the victims either sliding down on their backs or walking with such care that you'll think they were 90 instead of 19 or 20.

The icy peril need not be around this school. It could readily be defeated by some able bodied persons sprinkling sand, salt, or at a thaw making with the pick and shovel. If enough people get together and eliminated this danger it would be only a matter of minutes before one could walk with ordinary shoes rather than feel it necessary to bring ice skates.

The icy peril isn't choices when it comes to picking out victims. So unless you care to be frozen on your back rather than your feet, and wish to avoid broken or bruised bones—Eek! For gosh sakes hurry up!

A disreputable character in court has just admitted being drunk. "Did you have to drink the whole bottle at one sitting?" demanded his honor.

"Couldn't help it, Judge," answered the inebriate; "I lost the cork."

STUDENTS TO OBSERVE A DAY OF PRAYER

The Universal Day of Prayer for Students is observed by students all over the world on the third Sunday of February. Stout students of the various church organizations will join for an afternoon program 4:00 p.m. February 19, at the Congregational Church.

The Y.W.C.A. is co-ordinator. The various committees are: recreation, L.S.A.; lunch, Congo; program, Wesley; and publicity, Inter-varsity club. All students are invited to come. Miss McCalmont, Professor Emerita of Chemistry will be the main speaker. The afternoon's program is worship, main speaker, lunch, and recreation.

DORM NEWS

A meeting was held recently. The agenda for the meeting was the dorm banquet on March 3, and a cigarette machine to be put in the basement. Philip Steven's engagement to Ruth Anneddy of Pontiac, Michigan, has been announced.

Students from Wisconsin, Michigan, Pakistan, and the Philippines, are the new resident occupants. Leonia Marang is from the Philippines, and has just studied at Pennsylvania State University. He is the head of the Department of Teachers Education at a Vocational School in his country, and is now on Sabbatical leave.

Skaidh Farhad Ali hails from Pakistan. He is a special student sent by his government, and is with the Woodwork Section of the Forest Research Laboratory of Pakistan. He had his B.S.C. degree in Science and Engineering from the Calcutta university in India.

John Westberg and Bill Kindschegg, are transfer students from the University of Wisconsin. Jay Brown is an exchange student from Oshkosh Teachers college. The newcomers are David Zakrzewski, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Alvin Stiles, Detroit, Michigan; Rolind Lundin, Rhinelander, Wisconsin; Bill Brown, Menominee, Michigan; Bob Sorenson, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Ted Nick, Tomahawk, Wisconsin; and Dick Neilsen, Menominee, Michigan. Stout extends their welcome to all the new students.

There have been Psychology classes going on in Lynwood Hall. It is an exclusive meeting for all Psychology enthusiasts. You'll be surprised how many of them turn out. Dr. Salyer is pretty happy about this, and I hope everyone is happy when they take the exam.

"Waiter, what's this green stuff in my cottage cheese?"
"Probably made from a vine-covered cottage, sir."

SPRING RUSHING PARTY WAS A SUCCESS

The spring rush-party sponsored by the Interfraternity Council was held recently in the Stout Gym. The theme of the party was "Hit Parade of 1966" and the sorority girls, freshmen, and transfer students dressed in various costumes depicting song titles.

The party started with a mixer in which the freshmen and the transfer students became acquainted with the sorority girls. Games of guessing song titles were played and prizes awarded to the group with the most points.

The sorority advisors were the judges for the grand march and prizes were awarded to the following groups: Margaret Braun dressed as "John Brown's Body," and Carol Buck dressed as "The Lonesome Peacock," most in keeping with the theme; Pat Warinski and Jo Babcock dressed as "You're Either Too Young or Too Old" most humorous; and Rosemary Klaus dressed as "Robinnhood," most beautiful.

Ann Shemick, president of the Interfraternity Council extended a welcome to the freshmen and transfer students, then each sorority president introduced the members and they sang their sorority song.

After the activities everyone adjourned to the union where the food committee had prepared a lunch consisting of cocoa and krispies.

Monday noon the transfer students signed their sorority preferences.

SOPHS WILL SPONSOR LEAP YEAR DANCE

On February 29 (Wednesday) the sophomore class will sponsor an all-school mixer. Music will be supplied by the Blue Notes. A slight admission will be charged, 15-20¢ per couple.

Doug Dornier is in charge of entertainment and so we will be entertained during intermission. Refreshments will be served.

F.O.B.'S CHALLENGE PHI SIGS TO GAME

F.O.B.'s Offer Some Regulations To Keep The Score Even

It is with hopeful expectation we brothers of the F.O.B. issue a challenge to the Phi Sigs (whick-phoo) scum to defend the honor of their (whick-phoo) frat in a basketball grudge game.

It is evident a regulation game would be unfair, so we are interested in suggestions that would keep the score even. Some have already been advanced:

1. F.O.B.'s play 3 quarters blind-folded and one quarter walking on their hands shooting only left-hand hooks. 2. Phi (whick-phoo) Sigs being allowed to use a funnel on their basket at the diameter of said funnel not to be less than 14 feet.

3. F.O.B. play with out the services of Booger "buckets" Foster.

4. Use officials who are active (whick) Phi Sigs (phoo) members and pay them to throw the game.

5. Phi (wh) Sigs (ick-phoo) again "load up."

If you accept and show up for the contest—this year the custodian of the gym has asked you fellas to wipe off your feet at the door.

"S" CLUB PLANS CARNIVAL FOR S.S.C. CAMPUS

The S Club Carnival is an annual affair at Stout, you might call it the Penny Arcade of the college. It is sponsored by the S-Club, who leases booths in the gym for use by the other organizations on the campus; each organization keeps the proceeds from its booth. To give you an idea of what kind of booths that will be there here are a few: shooting gallery, sling shot alley, kissing booths, fishing ponds, and many more. For a dollars worth of fun for a penny, save Saturday the 25th of February for the S-Club Carnival.

FOB'S CONTEMPLATING S.S.C. JUNIOR OLYMPICS

The Olympic games will be held in Sidney, Australia this summer. It is very possible the Russian "amateur" athletes will be dominant - it is imperative that Uncle Sam sends the cream of the crop, if he is to successfully defend his mythical championship.

With this in mind the F.O.B. fraternity is contemplating a Stout Junior Olympics in the spring. In an attempt to bolster the American cause.

The dashes and weights will be supplemented with somersaults for distance, pie eating contests and balloon blowing contests for the ladies.

If your frat or sorority would be interested in entering such an endeavor, place a note in Bill Bachmeyer's mailbox by next Friday.

"We must care enough to send the very best."

STOUT SKI CLUB SHOWS SIGNS OF BEING ACTIVE

The Stout Ski club met to discuss trips to Telmark and other ski hills of interest. It was decided that every week end, weather permitting, the group would travel to some hill to ski.

Bo Brown was elected treasurer of the club to fill the vacancy left by Lenora Handy who is no longer an active member.

The members talked about a way to increase enrollment and it was suggested that movies of skiing and skiing techniques be shown at all the meetings.

Pictures of some of the Ski Club members were taken on the hills of Deepwood Saturday. The Stoutonia photographer came to Deepwood and they went through their paces and also some group shots of the top of the Snow Bowl, the hill overlooking the chalet.

RIFLE CLUB COMPETES IN MATCH AT SPARTA

The Stout Rifle Club traveled to Sparta, Wisconsin, Sunday, February 12th to compete in the Sparta 8th Annual Gallery Match. Four matches were fired during the day with 54 entries from 4 states of which 10% were women. Firing started at 9:30 sharp and ended at 7:30 that evening with approximately 4370 shots fired.

Competition during the day's firing was so keen that a score of 199 out of a possible 200 points, such as shot by John Ong, would place the individual in 11th place. The club members did not place in the day's shooting.

YWCA HOLDS MEETING TO ARRANGE EVENTS

At the YWCA meeting on Wednesday evening at 5:00, Jeanne Chritton reported that there were between 260 and 300 freshmen and big sisters at the Big-Little Sister Reunion.

The YWCA voted to send two delegates to the "Social Action Day", February 25, on the University of Minnesota campus. The social project for the year is helping the Indians of Minnesota. Marvel Klecker and Carol Lehman were selected to attend this meeting.

Next Sunday, February 19, is Universal Day of Prayer. LSA is in charge of recreation, Wesley in charge of Program, and Congo will prepare the food. The Inter-varsity and YWCA are publicizing the event. All students are invited to take part in this afternoon program at the Congregational Church at 4:00. Miss McCalmont, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry of Stout, will be the main speaker of Universal Day of Prayer.

Ruth Thomas, newly elected vice-president and chairman of the Mother-Daughter Banquet, set the banquet date for April 21. The chairman of the various committees are: arrangements, Barbara Pike; tickets, Jermaine Folkman; program, Joan Wonoski; decorations, Kay Hawkins; and publicity, Virginia Vick.

INTRAMURAL GAMES PLAYED

The Globetrotters lost a heart breaker to the Lakers 43-42. It was non-conference hassel but the Globetrotters still appear shooting for the league crown.

Coach Pollack cashed in on 13 of 16 gift tosses and 2 field goals for 17 points to pilot his mates.

Willie "the whip" Romoser (who is contractin' a jump to Northwestern and the big ten ball) minted 14 in a loosing cause.

An impartial survey of independent research laboratories proves conclusively that Abbott is in there trying.

FOB II 22 TIGERS 28 The FOB II's found a breather in the Tigers as they were defeated 28 to 22. Milan '400' Lolich wrestled in 10 big marks. Polley chipped in 7 points.

The final outcome was never in doubt as the FOB II substituted freely and toyed with several new offensive patterns. At various instances the game promised to be a runaway but some how the tigers managed to stay in there.

That score again FOB II 22 and Tigers 28. (As a Post-Script) "Booger" Bob Foster readied himself for his pending match with "dirty" Dick Tepp. He was ejected from the game after a brilliant flying career.

FOB Clinch Playoff Birth

A peptalk by LeRoy "golden-throat" Zwick laced the F.O.B.'s to a brilliant second half and resulted in the 53-30 defeat of the Blue Boozers, before a packed field house Monday night.

At the half leading by only 4 points the F.O.B.'s fast break started to click with Jim Sands and Red McGovern driving like crazy. Steve Butz counted 15 in his best game to date and marked himself as the man to be considered with during the pending tournament.

LYCEUM WILL FEATURE TRAVELING PEACE PANEL

A panel representing four nations and three races will present a program entitled, "Bridges and Barriers to Peace," at the convocation on Wednesday, February 22, at 10:00 a.m. in the Stout Auditorium. This team is spending one year traveling throughout the United States in the interests of world understanding. It is brought to Menomonie through the efforts of Mrs. Archie R. Henry.

Holder added 14, McGovern 12, and Sands had 8 points.

The Boozers seemed to tire under the pressure and couldn't hit a ball in the back with a banjo that last half.

Phi Sigs Warm up for Grudge Game The Phi Sigs were trounced by the Flunkies 46-39. James Moliter washed the nets with 16 points in the 2nd half and had 10 in the evening's performance. Dick Bacus helped with 10 aimers. Olds whistled up a tune of 20 but couldn't get any help. Hoepfner wasn't himself although he dunked in 11.

DK II 28 Blue Boozers 35 Gill 10 and that's about it for the D.K.'s as the Blue Boozers kept title gun as he shot in 12 counters.

Gilbertson added 8 and Pudge Ed Stori 6 in the miss match. Bill Daehling burned up 4 points on the big hopes alive 35-28. Dyer was the big score clock but his corkin leg seemed to hinder.

MACHINE SHOP SUGGESTION AWARDS PROGRAM AT STOUT ESTABLISHED FOR STUDENTS

"Motivation towards constructive thinking" is the main purpose behind the Student Suggestion program being carried out in all machine shop courses at Stout state college this year, states Dr. Wiehe, head of the department.

The program is based upon employee suggestion systems now being used in many industrial firms throughout the country. Any employee, or in this case, any student currently enrolled in a course in machine shop at Stout, has the opportunity to hand in practical suggestions for the betterment of the machine shop.

"The suggestion must be definite plans or proposals which will benefit the Stout machine shop or the students," Dr. Wiehe states. He said that suggestions not relevant to the school shop and those concerning routine maintenance will not be considered.

The best suggestion offered in the school year will be awarded a prize. The award will be given towards the end of the year after each proposal has been evaluated by Dr. Jarvis, Dr. Wiehe, and Mr. Halfin, the awards committee.

The first award to be offered in the program is a portable electric drill, donated by the Satterlee Co., Minneapolis, Minnesota. Dr. Wiehe plans to add more awards as the program gets under way.

Dr. Wiehe has had forms printed on which the students are to submit their ideas. Students will be required to explain their idea and also to show how it differs from the old way and how their new idea can increase the efficiency of the machine shop.

Dr. Wiehe states that suggestions acceptable for consideration are divided into six main groups;

1. Conserving time, energy, or material.
2. Improvements on tools, jigs, fixtures, and equipment.
3. Storage and handling improvements.
4. Elimination of safety hazards.
5. Better utilization of machinery and tools.
6. Improvements on operation sheets, blueprints, and operational sequence.

General Motors suggestion plan and North American Employee suggestion system which Dr. Wiehe states, "have proven very successful," have provided a pattern for Dr. Wiehe's program. He says that such plans have become quite common in industry in an attempt to bring out "originality" in the employees.

Pictured above are members of the Hyperion sorority as they work on their entry for the snow carving contest. "Winter's Crown" received first place in the category of most beautiful.

RESERVE FLIGHT TO BE STARTED HERE SHORTLY

Any Air Force Reservist who is presently assigned to the NARS, USAF, is urged to contact William L. Tiefenthaler, 823 South Broadway, Menomonie, Wisconsin. (Telephone: 1361W).

The 9712th Air Reserve Squadron, located at Eau Claire, Wisconsin is planning to organize a Reserve Flight in Menomonie in the very near future.

The establishment of a reserve flight in the Menomonie area would enable the reservists of this area to attend meetings and thereby maintain reserve status. It would also enable reservists to keep abreast of the changes in the Reserve Program, and to make known to the reservist the promotional and retirement benefits offered.

Also, any airmen who have had previous service in the United States Air Force are encouraged to take advantage of this program by enlisting now. If after a reserve flight is organized in Menomonie, necessary quotas are met, it will also be possible to start a Specialized Training Course for non-commissioned officers on a pay status in this city.

MRS. PARMER GAVE TALK TO SIG TAUS

An interesting talk presented by Mrs. C. Harrison Parmer highlighted the weekly meeting of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, held in the Audio-Visual room in the library.

Another Alpha Kappa alumna, brother Warren Barberg, national vice president of Sigma Tau Gamma, has recently returned from a tour of the southern chapters in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Arkansas.

FRATERNITY MEMBERS JUDGE DERBY CONTEST

On Saturday, February 11, 1956, Stout's Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity furnished judges to the local scout patrols and patrols from Eau Claire, Wis., who participated in the annual Klondike Derby, held at the local fairgrounds. The derby provided the scouts with a chance to test out their knowledge of first aid, compass and distance estimation, tent pitching, signalling and map symbol identification.

M.A.P. HAS INITIATION FOR SIX NEW MEMBERS

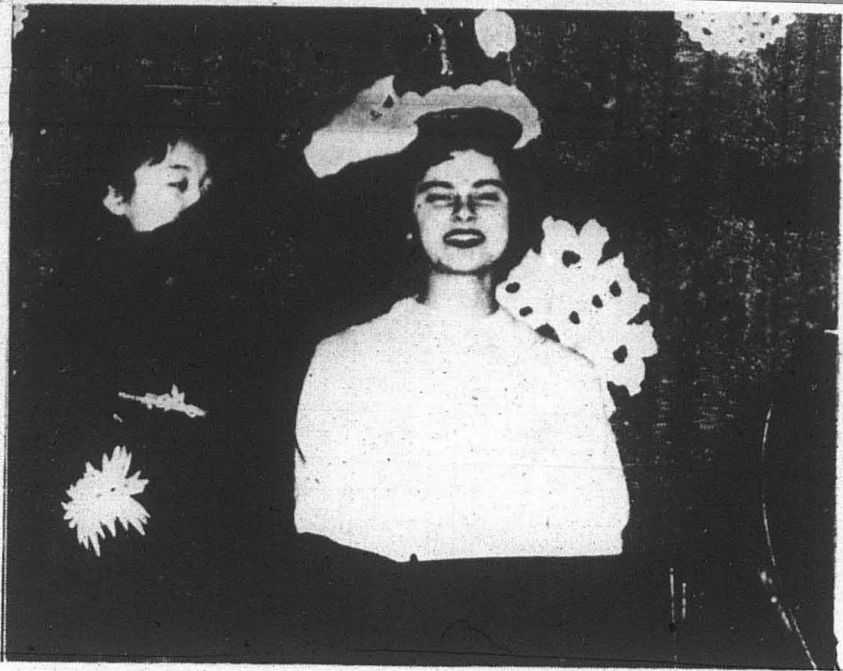

Six new members were formally initiated into the Manual Arts Players chapter of Alpha Psi Omega on Monday night, February 13 at 7:00 p.m. Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatics fraternity organized to promote dramatic activities throughout the United States. Those initiated were: Audrey Adams, Clarence Fehhaber, Ruth Ziegler, Mary Katherine Kennedy, Betty Fraley, and Carolee Kaecker. These six people have earned the privilege and responsibilities of membership in this organization by earning 100 points through dramatics participation and maintaining a scholastic average of 1.5.

Following the initiation ceremony, a short meeting was held at which the group decided to take a trip to the cities to see a professional play. Further plans for the trip are yet to be made.

"Whose beard is longest?" "This one looks well groomed." Barbers of Menomonie Saturday night had a difficult time judging Stout students' beards as part of the Winter Carnival events. Students pictured above are, left to right, La Verge Rogers, Harlan Giese, Glenn Voelz, and Jerry Howard.

Suspense-filled moments preceded the scene pictured above. "Who is to be queen?" was the question in all minds. Here we see Alice Yamamoto, 1955 Winter Carnival Queen, crowning the 1956 queen, Ann Janda. The coronation ceremony was the beginning of the week end festivities. Queen Ann reigned over all campus events on Friday evening and Saturday.

ASSEMBLY WEDNESDAY FEATURED SPEAKERS

A panel representing four nations and three races presented a program entitled, "Bridges and Barriers to Peace," at the convocation Wednesday. The team is spending one year traveling throughout the United States in the interests of world understanding.

Three women, Miss Eva Shipstone, Mrs. Kiya Tanaka, and Miss Violetta Cavellero, appeared on the panel. They attempt to teach Americans how to live in closer proximity to the rest of the world.

This Saturday evening, February 25, they will speak and discuss with church youth groups at the Methodist Church. Everyone is welcome to attend. The supper will begin at 5:00.

TEAM ON WORLD UNDERSTANDING WILL BE HERE

Social science teachers from throughout northwestern Wisconsin will gather on the campus of Stout state college this afternoon, Friday, between 1:30 and 5 p.m. for a conference jointly sponsored by Stout and Menomonie high school.

Two roundtable discussions and an address by Eva Shipstone, noted educator from India, are scheduled. Miss Shipstone will discuss problems of contact between Eastern and Western culture. The public, faculty, and students are invited to attend all sessions free of charge.

With Graham Hawkes of Menomonie high school as chairman, one roundtable will be devoted to various aspects of racial prejudice. Dr. John Schneider of Eau Claire state college will discuss the topic, "Is There Any Merit in the Argument of the Southern White Person Regarding Segregation?"

Oliver Guest, River Falls state college student, will also ask the same roundtable if "Prejudice Can Be Significantly Reduced Through Teaching in Social Science Classes?" Members of that group will also discuss proper approaches to the deeply prejudiced student.

Dr. Walker Wyman of River Falls state college will direct a roundtable devoted to "Motivation in Social Science Classes." John Hoar of Barron high school will ask, "Is the Use of Community Projects an Effective Means of Motivation?"

For the same group, Dr. David Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout state college, will discuss "Effectiveness of Audio-Visual Aids in Motivation." Robert Melrose, of Menomonie high school, will conclude the roundtable with the question, "How Can the History Teacher Best Motivate His Students to Recognize the Need for the Study of History?"

In charge of arrangements for the annual conference of social science teachers are Dr. Dwight Agnew and M.M. Price of Stout state college, and Graham Hawkes, Wallace Johnson, Robert Melrose, and Edwin Smith, all of Menomonie high school.

ANN JANDA WAS WINTER FETE QUEEN

Have you noticed any new faces around school lately? Those faces may not be new, they probably just emerged from beneath a beard that was grown for the Winter Carnival. The lucky fellow who won the contest and was crowned king was Bob Mall. His beard was judged to be the longest.

The king was crowned during the intermission of the Snow Brawl by Carnival Queen, Ann Janda. Ann received her crown Friday evening from last year's queen, Alice Yamamoto. The coronation took place at eight o'clock in the auditorium, beginning the week-end festivities.

Queen Ann reigned over the events during the following days of festivities. After the coronation the scene of the carnival moved to the Stout Court Rink where the scheduled events took place. After a furious tug-of-war, the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority won the event. Between contests Doug Dorner presented skits that were enjoyed by the whole group. At the end of the evening, the Carnival adjourned to the Stout Gym for coffee, doughnuts, and a dance.

Saturday morning everyone was up bright and early working on their various ice-carvings. The Rifle Club depicted a scene often seen on Lake Menomonie, that of ice fishing. APO remembered its patriotic duty by giving the carnival an American flag, "For God and Country." Pallas Athene gave an "Egyptian Sphinx." The winners of the most beautiful carving, the Hyperion's gave a Winter's Crown for the occasion. Alpha Sigma Alpha displayed their "ASA Treasures" and won first as the most original. "Casper," was the little fellow introduced to the campus by Sigma Sigma Sigma. The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity gave their "Seal of Approval" to the occasion.

Winners of the beard growing contest were announced during intermission of the game. There also the winners of the ski sweaters were announced. Nat Wick and Loren Johnson won with the most points in the contest.

As the climax and finale to the carnival, the Snow Brawl was held, sponsored by Pallas Athene, ending a week end of fun and excitement.

LEAP YEAR DANCE GIVEN BY SOPHOMORES

Members of the sophomore class are completing plans for an all-school mixer to be held Wednesday, February 29th in the small gym.

The Blue Notes will provide music for this gay leap year event, and Doug Dorner will provide entertainment during intermission.

NOTICE

The deadline for SSA candidate petition blanks to be in the SSA office is Friday, March 2, at 5:00 p.m. Voting will take place on March 15. Campaign rules will be the same as those set up last year. Rules for the campaign will be published in next week's paper.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

George Washington's birthday was celebrated this week and the time honored quote, "I cannot tell a lie, I did it with my own little hatchet," is oft repeated as honor is paid to the father of our country. As Americans, do we uphold this basic principle, honesty, to the fullest?

How many times have we said, "I'll do it," when workers were being recruited for some committee, and then have forgotten all about it, have done it haphazardly, or have completed it late? Our word is our bond. Once given, only an emergency should prevent us from carrying out our agreement to the last detail.

Our honesty can extend over and beyond fulfilling a spoken agreement. Let's ask ourselves whether we always do our own part—in school work, in organizations, in living with family and friends. Are we "slackers" who "let Joe do it," or are we overambitious and push some timid soul in the background? Let's be honest with ourselves and realize our own duties and obligations to our associates.

And whatever we do, let's not lose our faith in the integrity of mankind. As children we were ready to accept kindnesses and favors at their face value. We didn't try to figure out what personal advantage our benefactor was trying to achieve from them. Our actions were simple. If we liked someone, we acted as if we did, and if we intensely disliked someone, we reacted accordingly. Let's not lose this childlike quality in the hustle and bustle of getting on in this world, or if we have already lost it, let's regain this precious possession—our honor and our faith in the honor of mankind.

P.A.'S HOLD FOUNDER'S DAY OBSERVANCE

Pallas Athene's twenty-second birthday was observed on February 14, 1956. Members wore a red rose, the sorority's flower, to school on Founder's Day. Members, pledges, and alumnae attended the Founders' Day dinner which was planned, prepared and served by Marion Kindschy's committee. The sorority's two new pledges are Marion Jankila and Sue Harycki. Maryann Rokusek, Patricia Traxler, and a former advisor, Mrs. George La Pointe, attended the dinner and the program.

Following the dinner the dormitories were serenaded by the group.

TAINTER ANNEX GIVES PARTY SATURDAY

The girls of Tainter Annex will be hostesses at the dorm party on Saturday evening, February 25. Most of the girls have invited guests and Lynwood Hall residents have also been asked to attend. The party will be from eight to twelve and entertainment and refreshments will be provided.

The following committees have been set up:

Decorations -- Jan Beckman, Joan Braunworth, Rita Casey, Mary Schleis and Diane Davis.

Food -- Annette Hanson, Sylvia Felland and Pat Soldner.

Entertainment -- Jo Wendorf and Corrine Livingstone.

Invitations -- Betty Dehring.

The guests will be Lynwood Hall and the girls' special guests.

CLUB NEWS

Three Alpha Sigma Alpha members spent last weekend at Stevens Point to visit the new chapter of A.S.A. Those who went were Gloria McNeight, Jo Babcock, and Patte Warsinske. The work and fun that went into the Winter Carnival activities ended up with the A.S.A.'s being the new tug of war champs, and the sorority also won first prize for the most original ice carving with their "Treasures of ASA." We are also very proud of Nat Wick who won the sweater for activity participation. Plans are being finished for the "S" Club Carnival and FOB Stunt Night.

Thursday, February 16, four girls were formally pledged to Sigma Sigma Sigma. Those four girls were Jean Baumgartner, Mary Ann Cerny, Marvene Nelson, and Joan Wonoski.

After the pledging ceremony a business meeting was held and included final plans for participation in the winter carnival, the S club carnival, and Stunt Night. Following the meeting, everyone went to the union for a coffee hour to congratulate the new pledges.

The dietetic club initiation was held in Harvey Memorial at 7:00 p.m. February 13. The secretary, Ann Shemick read the history of the club, which originated in 1949. Barbara Rushing, the president, then had the members form a circle and the new members individually repeated the club oath. Candellight made the atmosphere.

The new members are: Mary Jane Grotte, Marlene Krause, Mary Rezek, Ann Kofoed, Barbara Hartwig, Neva Halphide, Rita Pauls, Jermaine Folkman, Maryellen Pfeiffer, Ann Janda, Eleanor Weltzin, and Jeanne Madaus.

A.P.O. . . .

Plans for the Winter Carnival included entering the Snow Carving Contest and the erection of an entrance way to the Stout Court for the Winter Carnival Queen's arrival. A report by the treasurer showed that A.P.O. members had collected a total of $58.91 at the recently conducted March of Dimes Drive.

The Stout Snooper

Hi! Perhaps you aren't in a patriotic mood, but you should feel a sort of "American" feeling and especially during the "birthday month" of February when the births of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington are celebrated.

The first formal celebration in honor of Lincoln's birthday was held in 1866 near the Capitol in Washington, D. C. Most of Washington and all of the government officials attended, hearing a memorial speech while the flags were at half mast.

Perhaps way way back in your "mind" is a memory of a Lincoln Day program in grade school. You probably sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" (which was written by a woman), a pal read Walt Whitman's "O Captain! My Captain!" and parts of the Gettysburg Address, and a usual conclusion for this grade school program was the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

"As you know, Lincoln was born on a farm, worked in a store, etc., but did you know that Lincoln only attended school a total of one year? Or did you know that he suffered 32 defeats before finally being elected to the Presidency by the electoral college?"

Abe Lincoln was a great man. He avoided liquor and profanity and although very sociable, he also avoided girls. But he fell in love with Mary Todd and married her after a romance filled with emotional disturbances. Of special interest to you women is the novel, Love is Eternal.

Someone once described Lincoln as being "splendid, but imposing." Yes, the 6 feet 4 inches of Lincoln, his face and dress, are not easily forgotten. In his face he had deep hollows, heavy shadows, craggy brows, tousled hair, drooping eyelids, melancholy eyes, and a large nose and chin; his dress consisted of a battered stove-pipe hat stuffed with paper, and an ill-fitting coat with trousers too short.

In the February 14, 1956, issue of Life, there is a series of pictures of Abe Lincoln. Men, won't you please look at the pictures? They'll prove to you once and for all that it is not necessary to be handsome in order to become a great man.

Yes, a man born in the most humble walks of life rose to be one of the country's greatest men! When he died, his Secretary of State said, "Now he belongs to the ages." But Lincoln's birthday is observed as a legal holiday in most of the United States. Even if February 12 is past, won't you remember him now? He remembered you, the future, many years ago.

And now for George Washington. The custom of celebrating his birthday was of slow growth. The first observance outside of his family was his Valley Forge troops serenading him in the winter of 1778.

In 1932 President Hoover proclaimed a celebration in honor of Washington from February 22 to Thanksgiving Day. Twelve memorial stamps, each with a portrait, were printed and the birthday was celebrated in forty foreign countries.

Today it is celebrated as a legal holiday in every state in the union, the District of Columbia, and the territories.

Washington had from seven to eight years of formal schooling. When he was 21, he carried out a dangerous journey, full of hardships, as well as one of honor and glory.

Six years later he was married to the widow, Martha, and settled down to the life of a gentleman-farmer on his farm, at Mount Vernon. He loved the widow's children as his own and was heartbroken when they departed from life on earth.

I'm proud to be a citizen (yes, even the Snooper) in this land where boys can become great men of the nation.

Won't you be proud too? Remember, I'll be snooping.

GAMMA DELTA MEETS FOR HAYRIDE AND FUN

About 30 members and guests met at St. Paul's Church for the Gamma Delta hayride party on Sunday evening. After the hayride, entertainment was provided by the members and a delicious supper was served by the pastor.

The next meeting will be held at 5 o'clock, Sunday, March 4. The election of officers will be held.

MILLINERY LAB REDECORATION NEARS COMPLETION; MRS. VANEK SEES DREAM COME TRUE

The latest in redecorated rooms here at Stout is the Millinery and Clothing Selection room on second floor. This room has many exciting features to talk about! For instance, the first item of interest you notice as you step in the door is the trapezoidal tables which can be made into clever arrangements. Next, there is the little 2 step stage covered with beautiful gray carpeting, used for modeling in clothing selection classes.

The drapes are of particular interest, for they are audio-visual black out curtains with a rubber backing. The color is a medium shade of green which harmonizes nicely with the light green colored walls. The room is equipped with four spotlights, two of which are portable.

"The room will soon be complete," says Mrs. Vanek with a sigh. She and Miss Van Ness have worked very hard to make this dream lab come true at Stout. When the new radiators and built in sink cabinet arrive, things will be complete. Mrs. Vanek plans to add two or three more trapezoidal tables.

If you haven't seen this room yet, you'd better get on up to second floor because you're really missing something. Just ask any of the girls who have class in that room.

FOUNDER'S DAY HELD BY PHI U LAST FRIDAY

The Phi Upsilon Omicron Chapter of the Stout state college underwent national inspection last week-end when their district counselor, Mrs. Eleanor Loomis arrived Friday evening. A full week-end of activities was planned, getting off to a start Friday evening with the initiation of new members at 6:00 p.m. The eleven new members initiated were: Ann Janda, Helen Froehlich, Ann Kofoed, Marion Kindshy, Cynthia Sutter, Jo Ann Marquardt, Dorothy Ann Neis, Alice Yamamoto, Betty Havlik, Jermaine Folkman, and Della Medin.

A banquet was served at Our Savior's Lutheran Church after the initiation services on Friday. Local alumni, Mrs. Loomis, members and initiates celebrated Founders Day which was postponed from February 10 for the occasion. Yellow roses bedecked the guests dark dresses while new members were distinguished by white ribbons.

On Saturday, February 18, Mrs. Loomis held conferences with the Tau Chapter officers: Joyce Fraedrich, President; Helen Harry, Vice President; Judy Day, Treasurer; Barbara Ray, Corresponding Secretary; Dorothy Belisle, Recording Secretary; Lynda Proct, Librarian; Irene Novinski, Chaplain; Jane Gargulak, Marshall; Mary Buol, Historian; Vi Wicken, Editor.

The group attended church together Sunday morning, followed by a dinner in the tea room for Mrs. Loomis, members and local alumni. The weekend of activities closed Sunday afternoon with a business meeting and final remarks from Mrs. Loomis, the district counselor.

DR. BARNARD TO HAVE ROLE IN CONVENTION

As president of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, affiliated with the National Education Association Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, Dr. David Barnard of Stout state college will have an active role in the national convention of the NEA department at Detroit on March 13-15. Dr. Barnard is head of Stout's audio-visual center.

At the convention, Dr. Barnard has been asked to act as consultant for the professional progress seminar, "Strengthening State Audio-Visual Programs." As president of the Wisconsin A-V department, he will also represent the state on the board of directors of DAVI, meeting in Detroit on March 11.

DORM NEWS

Flowers, flowers everywhere and it was the girls in the Annex who received them on this Valentine's Day. It was a surprise to the dorm when the greenhouse delivered the flowers to the lucky misses but even more of a surprise to the girls. Nice going, if you know how to do it and we will all be willing to take lessons.

The campaigning was surely a lot of fun and with both the dorms having candidates it was a time for music making. We have to admit that the chance to get out in the brisk night air to do the honors of our candidates was fun.

Along the line of campaigning, who were the girls who came to school attired in snow flakes? Her... whipped up quite a breeze!

And then, who was the most popular boy during the Sadie Hawkins festivities? Well, it was the shy guy that got taken to the show by seven of the Annex girls. Nothing like sharing the wealth a little.

Boy, now's your big chance again. The Annex is having a big house party on the 25th and if you are nice to "her" she might ask you to go. It's bound to be fun and all the girls are planning the shin-dig already so you better get on the stick.

HOUSING DISPLAYS ATTRACT ATTENTION

On display in the fundamentals of design laboratories are several models and plans for houses. These were made by the girls in the housing class taught by Miss Williams. The girls made plans and perspectives; those who wished to made models to scale of their plans.

Several of these models and their plans have been, are, and will be on display in the arts department. Among those shown were plans by Rita Nelson, Mary Rich, Mae Rammer, and Jan Seppela. Miss Seppela made three or four mechanical and free-hand sketches. Next week Jo Babcock and Jo Daniels, who designed the most expensive house will display their plans.

These girls spent time not only in learning how to express their ideas, but they also learned how to plan their houses. They also learned where and how to buy a lot; they were instructed on the legal and financial aspects of buying a lot and about the different materials suitable for the lot and the community. They were acquainted with the styles and types of homes and learned how to plan the outside of the house to go with the floor plan. They were told where to find materials such as bathroom and kitchen fixtures.

After planning and making the model of her home one student remarked "Now all I have to do is marry a millionaire so I can have it built!"

GEORGE SODERBERG TO SPEAK AT CONVENTION

Principal speaker for the industrial arts section of the annual convention of the Central Wisconsin Teachers association meeting March 2 at Wausau, will be George Soderberg, associate professor of industrial education at Stout state college.

Soderberg will provide "Finishing Hints" for the sectional group. Author of a leading textbook on fishing, he has also developed filmstrips on that area for Popular Science Publishing Co. and was a collaborator with Forest Products Laboratory in the summer of 1953. In addition, Professor Soderberg has published numerous articles on finishing and has appeared in a number of lecture demonstrations at various professional conventions.

Several officers of the Central state Industrial Arts organization are Stout graduates. Garth Wilcox, president, earned his bachelor of science at the college in 1951. Secretary of the organization, Warren Thomas, holds both a bachelor's and a master's degree from Stout.

Say, good thing the Tainter Hall will be leaving us soon for the ceiling fell thru on Judy and Lilian the other night. It seems the radiator was the main cause of the disturbance and caused quite a confusion.

Who had parties? The word should rather be who didn't have parties this past week. With Valentines, and birthdays and the Mardi Gras the girls did it up round. But then, Lent is here and the girls will eat no more.

PRES. FRYKLUND APPOINTS NEW FACULTY

Appointment of three new faculty members at Stout state college has been announced by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout.

Instructor in woodworking is Edwin W. Dyas, holder of a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska and a master's degree from the University of Minnesota. Dyas was teacher of industrial arts and principal in the high school at Cambridge, Nebraska, and coming to Stout instructed in mathematics, woodworking, and drafting in the schools of Omaha, Nebraska.

Harold H. Haflin, instructor in machine shop, earned his bachelor's degree with highest honors at Fairmont state college, Fairmont, West Virginia. He completed his master's degree at Stout state college. Before joining the Stout faculty, Haflin gained industrial experience in Youngstown, Ohio, and taught in Hubbard, Ohio, and on the faculty of Fairmont state college.

Marvin M. Kufahl, formerly a resident of Eau Claire, is an instructor in sheet metal. A graduate of Stout, Kufahl has been an assistant instructor in sheet metal at the college during the first semester.

NURSERY SCHOOL HAS FOUR NEW MEMBERS

Four new little personalities have been darting about the nursery school, acquainting themselves with the other little three-year-olds and their fascinating environment.

As these nursery schoolers witnessed the graduation of four of their playmates last month, they also welcomed the arrival of Mike Sanna, son of Mr. & Mrs. Charles Sanna; Deborah Talen, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Talen; Steven Josephson, son of Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Josephson; and Linda Gay Bowlus, daughter of the Warren C. Bowluses.

The youngsters are now enjoying the use of many new toys and play equipment which keeps all fifteen of them well occupied from the time of their arrival at nine till their parents return for them at noon.

S.S.C. INSTRUCTOR, RAYMOND CORNWELL, GIVEN DANFORTH GRANT TO STUDY FOR DOCTORATE

Awarded a Danforth Teacher Study Grant to encourage him to complete his doctorate of philosophy during 1956-57 has been Raymond L. Cornwell instructor of industrial education at Stout state college. Cornwell will begin his full-time doctoral study at the University of Minnesota in September.

From over 400 persons nominated by U.S. colleges and universities as applicants for Danforth Teacher Study Grants, Cornwell was one of 62 selected. He will receive his faculty salary for an academic year, plus tuition and official fees at the university of his choice.

Aim of the grants is to make it possible for qualified doctoral candidates to complete that degree. Toward that end the Danforth Foundation assures a year of uninterrupted, non-teaching graduate study.

Prior to beginning his doctoral program, Cornwell will participate in this summer's Danforth Teacher Conference. Upon completion of his Ph. D., he will file with Foundation headquarters at St. Louis, Missouri, an official academic transcript and a report of his graduate work.

In order to be selected for the Teacher Study Grant, Cornwell was first nominated for eligibility by a faculty committee of Stout state college. He then submitted recommendations from teaching colleagues, students and members of his doctoral committee. After being called to Chicago for a personal interview, he was awarded the Teacher Study Grant.

The interdenominational grants are awarded annually to a limited number of nominees, regardless of race or color, on the basis of academic ability, personal qualifications promising success in teaching, and religious maturity.

Nationally-known educators constituting the Danforth selection committee include:

Dr. Dorothy Brooks, Cornell university; Dr. E. C. Colwell, Emory university; Dr. Albert Dent, Dillard university; Dr. John Emens, Ball state teachers college; Dr. L. D. Haskew, University of Texas; Dr. Philip Phenix, Columbia university; Dr. Huston Smith, Washington university; and Dr. Charles Turck, Macalester college.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cornwell reside at 1221 Second Street. They have three children, Lynette, Robert, and John.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW TALK BY MR. ZIEMANN

At a recent meeting of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority Mr. Norman Ziemann of the Stout speech department was guest speaker. The group met in Room 29 of Harvey Hall where Mr. Ziemann presented a film strip on parliamentary procedure. As the film strip progressed Mr. Ziemann stopped it to further explain various procedures and to answer questions of the girls. Following Mr. Ziemann's presentation a meeting was held at which the practices of parliamentary law were followed, and the group voted to establish a permanent office of parliamentarian in the sorority. Marion Lohr was appointed by the president, Ginny Ehlers, to act in this position until the annual election of officers.

CARL ZENISEK NEW DELTA KAPPA PRESIDENT

At a regular scheduled meeting held recently the Delta Kappa fraternity held their annual elections. The officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Carl Zenisek; Vice-president, Robert Miller; Recording Secretary, Coit Jones; Treasurer, Robert Behr; Corresponding Secretary, Richard Roberts; Historian, Dan Messmer; Chaplain, Wayne Stahlkopf; Publicity Man, Len Clark, and Sgt.-at-Arms James Votzberger.

Plans were discussed for the spring convention to be held at Milwaukee, Wisconsin in April, and a copy of the new by-laws to be adopted at the convention was partly read and discussed. Delta Kappa will send two delegates to the convention at Milwaukee.

STUDENTS CAN TAKE SELECTIVE SERVICE TESTS

College students interested in taking the Selective Service College Qualification Test have until midnight Monday, March 5, 1956, to submit application, it was announced today by E. R. Oetting, test supervisor. The test center in this area is the Stout state college.

The purpose of the testing program is to provide evidence for the local Selective Service boards so they may consider student deferments for military registrants.

To be eligible to apply for the test, scheduled to be given April 19 to college students in 875 test centers throughout the United States, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, a student must intend to request deferment as a student, be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, and must not have previously taken the test.

The test was developed by Science Research Associates of Chicago, one of the nation's leading publishers of educational testing, reading-improvement, and guidance materials.

Students interested in taking the test to qualify for possible deferment in order to continue their college education are urged to have their completed application postmarked no later than midnight, March 5. Applications dated after March 5 will not be accepted.

For additional information, applications, and addresses of test centers, students should consult any Selective Service board.

MILLINERY CLASSES TO VISIT SUPPLY HOUSE

Mrs. Vanek and the millinery classes are now looking forward to and planning a trip. They will leave by bus on Saturday morning, February 25, for Minneapolis where they will visit Hubert's Millinery Supply House. They may also visit Dayton's.

This excursion will offer a very worthwhile experience because it will give the students an opportunity to see and select "first hand" from the supply house.

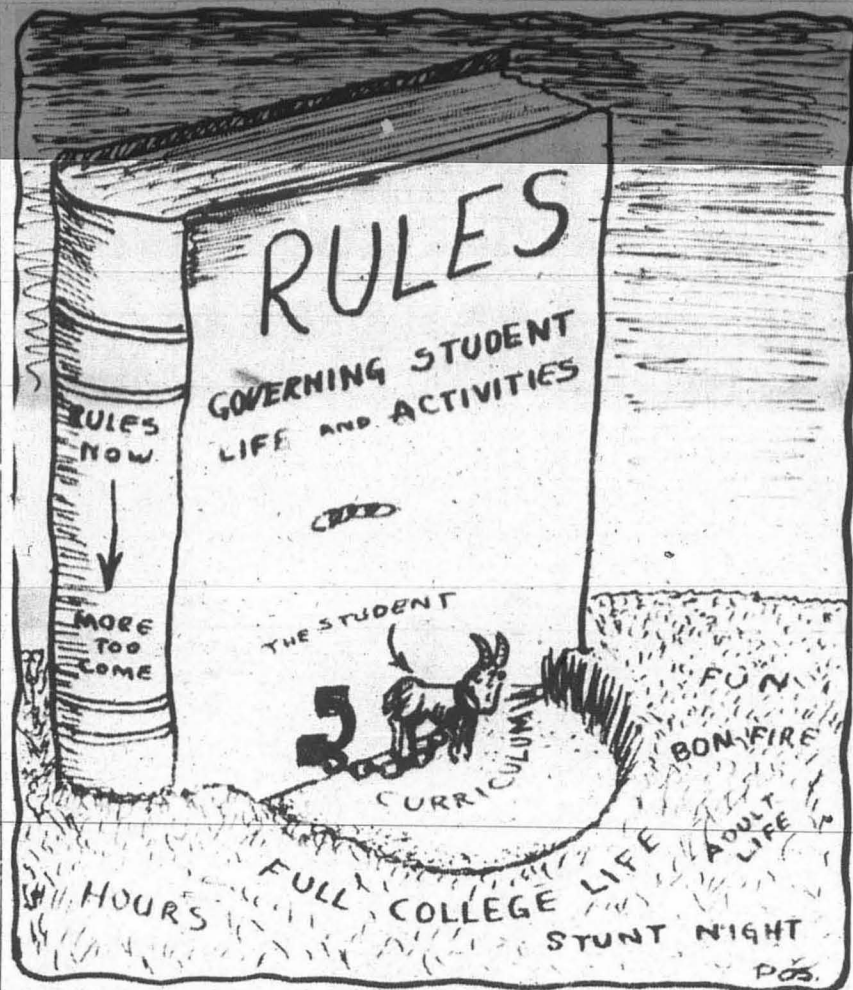

STAGE CREW FOR "MY THREE ANGELS" BUSY

The stage crew for the Stout Manual Arts Players spring production gets underway as the group erects the setting for Albert Husson's "My Three Angels."

All action in the play takes place in the living room of the Ducotel family which is located back of a general store in French Guiana. The climate is extremely hot and humid. The room bespeaks the tropics, though filled with obviously imported furniture. An arch in the center of the back wall, hung with curtains, opens into a corridor which heads into the shop. A bell rings when someone enters the shop and is heard in the living room. The room is filled with unopened boxes and baskets.

A door downstage opens and "My three angels" enter dressed in tropical shirts bearing their prison numerals. They sport wide brimmed straw hats to shade them from the sun. In follows Felix, a man in his late fifties, who dresses more for Paris than his humid habitat. Other members of the male side of the cast are costumed in contemporary attire. Mms. Parole and Emilie wear cotton street dresses while Marie Louise, the female lead appears in several feminine decollete summer frocks.

My Three Angels will be presented by The Stout Manual Arts Players under the direction of John J. Kirby. With stage settings by Norman C. Ziemann, in the Stout auditorium March 8, 9, and 10.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Examination of the names of winners of the recent "Industrial Arts Awards," national craftsman contest of the Ford Motor Co., shows that at least 25 Stout State College graduates, now industrial arts teachers, have instructed winners in the various categories of the competition.

Included among these graduates are John Roang (B.S. 1939), La Mesa, California; Richard Herzing (B.S. 1950), Redwood City, California; Stanely G. Hagen (B.S. 1939), Richmond, California; Conrad Mayer (B.S. 1947) Stratford, Conn.; M. L. McIntyre, (M. S. 1953), Cicero, Ill.

Carl S. Gassen (B.S. 1940), Evanston, Ill.; William Amthor (B.S. 1950, M.S. 1955), Indianapolis, Ind. Ira Madden (B.S. 1927), Detroit, Mich.; Edward Kurtz (Dip. 1923), Detroit, Mich.; Bert Sperstad (B.S. 1951), Detroit, Mich.; Harold Enders (Dip. 1923, B.S. 1954), Gladstone, Mich.

Walter Parsek (B.S. 1952), Menominee, Mich.; Lawerance Schaudé (B.S. 1939), Muskegon Heights, Mich.; Norman Carlson (B.S. 1942), Glendive, Mont.; Wilbert Hein, Silver City, New Mexico; Walter E. Bandlow (B.S. 1948), East Cleveland, Ohio; Bruce Thompson (B.S. 1949, M.S. 1953), Salem, Oregon; Robert Douglass (B.S. 1940), Algoma, Wis.; N.J. Milinovich, (B.S. 1939, M.S. 1953), Cudahy, Wis.; Warren Eiseth (B.S. 1950), Gillett, Wis.

Dean Cornwell (B.S. 1952), Milwaukee, Wis.; Richard Maliszewski (B.S. 1949), Oshkosh, Wis.; Israel Bensman (B.S. 1940), Sheboygan, Wis.; Donald Pangborn (B.S. 1948), Sheboygan; Z.A. Prust (B.S. 1948), Sheboygan, Wis.; and Toshio Hagiwara (B.S. 1947), Honolulu, Hawaii.

Although Wisconsin in mid-winter may seem an illogical time to talk about golf and golf courses, on January 1, the Menomonee Country Club became the possession of Mr. and Mrs. William Amthor. They have purchased the club from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryan.

"Dorothy and Bill" Amthor, as they are better known, have spent the last five years in Indianapolis. Bill earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Stout state college in 1950 and his master's in 1955. He also is well remembered as an outstanding college athlete.

Bill has been teaching general shop, leather and plastic crafts at Schortridge High School in Indianapolis, the third largest high school in Indiana.

During each of his five years on the faculty of that school, his students have won cash awards in the Ford Motor Co. "Industrial Arts Awards." This year alone, twelve of Bill's students won such awards totaling $480, one being a Divisional Design Award of $50.

The Amthors, entirely by their own spare-time work, have built a three-bedroom, stone veneer ranch-type home. Bill is, at present, commercial exhibits chairman of the Indiana Industrial Education association. He is also a charter member of Zeta Field Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, national honorary organization in industrial education.

JAMES KNUTSON IS N.S.A. RADIO OPERATOR

Accepted as a radio operator for the National Security Agency in Washington, D.C., has been James Knutson, son of Mrs. Robert Knoble, 1412 Fifth Street. James has attended Stout state college.

Upon reporting for duty to the National Security Agency personnel branch on February 23, he will enter a processing procedure and then be assigned to the N.S.A. School orientation course.

Mr. Knutson is married to the former Pauline Fournier of Fitchburg, Mass. The Knutsons plan to spend several days at Fitchburg en route to Arlington, Va.

DK'S CHALLENGE ASA TO BASKETBALL GAME

Big doings in the high school gym—the Delta Kappas have challenged the Alpha Sigma Alpha's to a rip-snortin' basketball game. Better than Sadie Hawkins week; bigger than the Olympics—yup, this is IT!!! And for only $25 you too can see it, at 8:00 on February 28. There will be two quarters following the girls' rules, and two quarters with boys' rules. Tickets can be bought from any member of the Delta Kappa fraternity, the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, or at the door the night of the game.

The Alpha Sig's will be anchored by such stalwarts as:

Mae "Hand'em-to-me" Rammer
Carol "Highpockets" Schilstra
Pat "Bulldog" Drummond

FACTS ABOUT MEMBERS OF STOUT STATE COLLEGE VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Coach Ray Johnson's varsity basketball team carries twelve men on its roster. Since all one sees on the basketball program is the rather impersonal game, number, position, class, and hometown, here are several facts about each Bluedevil of a more personal nature than one finds on the program.

Bob Sorenson just became eligible for varsity competition here at Stout, since he started at mid-semester (after first quarter) as a freshman. The 6 foot one inch 155 pound freshman is one of Johnson's starting forwards. Sorenson was Milwaukee's leading scorer as a senior at Riverside high school. He averaged 20.3 points per game and was named to Milwaukee's all-city team.

Dick Nielson, one of Johnson's starting forwards is a freshman at Stout. Nielson, who weighs 190 pounds and stands six feet four inches, hails from Menominee, Michigan. The 18 year old

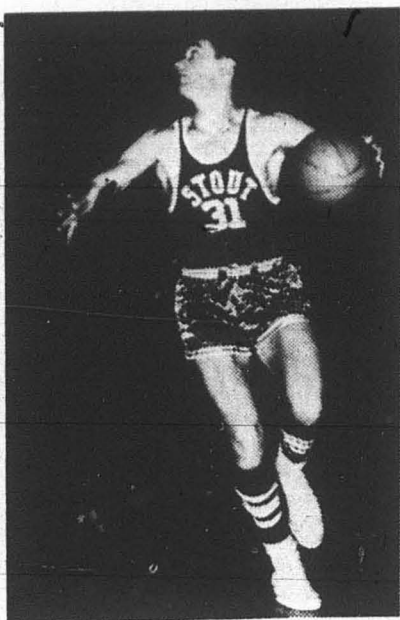

DICK NIELSON

Bluedevil is a good rebounder and ball handler.

Jim Bolm is one of Coach Johnson's returning lettermen. The six foot three inch 185 pound center is the Escanaba, Michigan representative on the squad. Bolm was also Stout's starting center last year. This 20 year old player was top scorer on his team in high school. He was named to All U.P.'s second team. He led his high school team into the regional tournament averaging 23 points a game.

Terry Meyers, one of the smallest men on the squad (dimensions: 5 feet

JANN PETERSON

10 inches tall and 155 pounds) is a freshman from Austin, Minnesota. Terry is one of the starting guards. Last year his high school team was runner-up in the state tournament. His good ball handling and play making accounts for his being named to Minn-

PHI SIGS ACCEPT FOB'S "CHALLENGE"

The Phi Sigs have, of course, accepted the F.O.B.'s (ugh) challenge to compete in the grudge game. However, they feel that the regulations suggested by the F. (ugh) O.B.'s would not all be completely fair to either the F. O. (ugh) B.'s or to themselves. They would like to suggest the following revisions to the rules set forth by the

1. The Phi Sigs see no advantage F.O.B.'s (ugh): in having the F. (ugh) O. (ugh) B.'s play blindfolded, because they play only slightly better than when they are bleeding to death by keeping their eyes open.

2. To make the opening tip-off completely fair, the Phi Sigs suggest that the F. (ugh) O. (ugh) B. (ugh)s use "Booger Buckets" Foster against Rog (Shorty) Hanson. The Phi Sigs do not want to run away with the game, so Hanson would be replaced by "Dribbling Dan" Wielgus at the first time out.

3. The Phi Sigs would consent to using the 14-foot funnel, but since they have no sheet-metal majors except "Galvanized Stomach" Hoepfner and Loren "Index Finger" Johnson, they would appreciate it if the F.(ugh) O. (ugh)B.s (ugh) would have "Tinplate" Zander, "Spot-welder" Woelffer, and some of the other sheet-metal kids in their (ugh) frat(?) whip out said funnel before the third quarter is over.

4. The Phi Sigs will be glad to provide the officials for the game, for they realize that they will need no more than five (if that many!) of their men to clobber the F.(ugh-ugh) O. (ugh-ugh) B.s actually do not use practice game.

It is rumored that the Phi Sigs will drop "Basketballbelly" Beiswanger from the scorecard if the F.(ugh) O. (ugh-ugh) B.'s actually do not use their "star" as they have threatened. Since the Winners always buy the Upper-10 afterwards, the Phi Sigs like to know where the F.(ugh) O.(ugh) B. (ugh-ugh) B. (ugh-ugh) s would like them to set it up, so arrangements can be made in advance.

F.O.B.'S OUTSCORE PHI SIG MAPLE LIEFS

The F.O.B. Black Hawks out-scored the Phi Sig Maple Liefs Saturday night before 10,000 rabid hockey fans at the Stout courts.

Dolu J. Loushin registered his first shutout of the young season as his mates cashed in 3 blue chips at the far end of the rink.

Leo "Slipping and Sliding" Janis and Jim "Heavy Stick" Olds were no match for the speed and deftness of such stalwarts as "Bullet Bill" Bachmeyer and Roy "Silver Skates" Van Dreser.

The Phi Sigs were magnificent in center ice but couldn't come through in the clutch.

Scoring came at 6:47, 7:51 and 14:20 of the first period.

Bantam Jim Sands flashed the stick work that makes him famous, scoring on a beautiful 20 footer.

Holder pushed in the other two after they were set up by Jim Bolm and Harry Procter.

Bill "Ben Hogan" Broadwell worked out a few wrinkles and was in there swinging.

esota's all-state team in his senior year.

Jann Peterson is well known around these parts, having played his high school basketball at Menominee high school. Jann is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 187 pounds. He is also a returning letterman from last year's squad. Jann has been a regular at the guard position this year. In his senior year in high school, he helped his team to the sectional tournament before they were defeated in an overtime. Jann has an excellent jump shot and rebounds well. He is married and has one child.

SUPERIOR ROLLS OVER STOUT BLUEDEVILS 90-79

Stout Wins First Half 47 - 42

But Loses In The Second Half By Eleven Points

Coach Ray Johnson's Stout state Bluedevils failed to come through in the "Jinx Quarter" last Saturday night, and were again beaten by Superior's Yellowjackets. The final score was 90-79. The Stout bucketeers could only muster nine points the entire third quarter as Superior came on smoothly to overcome Stout's five point half time lead.

Stout began the game with Peterson and Meyers at the guard posts, Sorenson and Howard holding the forward wall, and Bolm in the pivot spot. The Bluedevils started very slowly but began to pick up momentum as the half progressed. After approximately eight minutes had been consumed a time out was called with Stout leading 21-20. The Bluedevils came out from this point in the game and displayed some really smooth work. This brought them a nifty eleven point spread over Superior. After that Stout cooled off and the half ended with the score 47-42 against the Yellowjackets.

Peterson's rebounding and Bolm's shooting the first half were almost inspirational and Meyer's came through with some splendid passing and ball handling from time to time. The Bluedevils looked unbeatable. That is, until they started throwing the ball away. These bad passes really hurt Stout as they were eagerly converted into points for Superior.

During the half time prizes were awarded for the winter carnival activities. Perhaps a good thing that was

FOB'S ARE INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The FOB's copped the intramural championship with a 54 - 39 victory over the Globetrotters Tuesday evening. The Trotters couldn't formulate that potent attack which breezed them to the lower division title.

The FOB's didn't generate the fast-break which has helped them all year however, they weren't to be denied the coveted crown.

A mammoth crowd cheered the home towners. A record was set at the turnstiles as 3 women, 2 dogs, and a chipmunk were crushed by the throng at the gates.

Scoring was evenly divided on both ends of the score pad: The Trotters left out of this was a thank you to Harlan Giese and Henry Moerschel who handled the activities on Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Congratulations men, your work and effort was much appreciated by all.

Stout began the "Jinx Quarter" with the same starting five. After that, it took only three minutes for Superior to regain the lead, which they never relinquished. The Bluedevils could just not seem to hit the broad side of a barn during the next eight minutes and by that time the Yellowjackets' lead had become invincible. Why Stout has so much trouble getting started in the third quarter is hard to understand but they will have to lick that problem for themselves. If Stout had won every game that they had lead in at the half time, their record might be a very respectable one indeed.

Helm, Woodliff, and Dailey all did an excellent job of supporting the Stout cause. Peterson was good on the backboards the whole game but needed help. Bolm had 20 points the first half and only seven the second. This hurt. Sorenson, Howard, and Meyers all pitched in with the markers, but not enough of them.

Bolm was high man for the game with 27, 15 of these coming on free throws. Sorenson with 12 and Helm and Peterson with 10 each rounded out the nucleus of Stout's scoring punch. Larsen and Evans had 26 and 20 respectively for Superior. Larsen is the third highest scorer in the conference. Stout made 25 out of 36 free throws and had 24 personal fouls while Superior made 22 of 38 free throws and had 22 personal fouls.

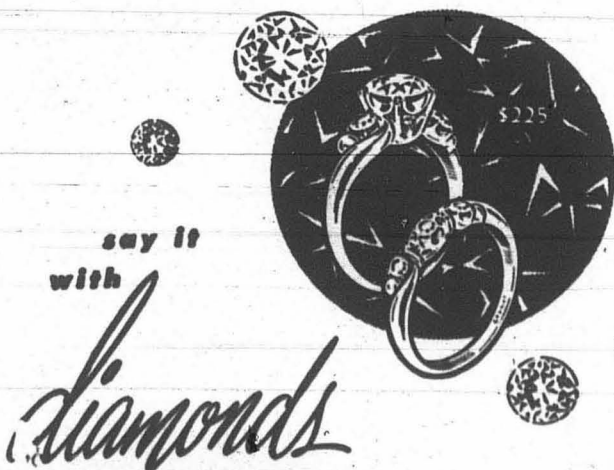

were paced by Ebben and Ponshak each with 9 points followed by Cheke's 7. Butz and McGovern paced the winners with 16 and 10 points respectively.

Coach Wink is now drawing up the tournament slate, which promises to be a hair raiser. (Not to be confused with a mother rabbit!)

The FOB's wish to express their thanks to the fellows who made this championship possible. Most notably the Trotters, Torgins and Cuts.

There are two things needed in these days; first, for rich men to find out how poor men live; and second, for poor men to know how rich men work.

"MY THREE ANGELS" WILL BE MANUAL ARTS PLAYERS' SPRING PRODUCTION, MARCH 8, 9, AND 10

With the temperature at a normal of 25 to 30 degrees at this time of the year, a play with a tropical setting provides not only a pleasant change, but also a problem in costuming. The Manual Arts Players' next production, "My Three Angels", is a play with such a problem. Staged on a tropical island at the turn of the century, it was necessary for the male cast to be fitted with white suits. Finding a white suit in Menomonie at any time of the year can almost prove to be impossible.

The convicts, played by Doug Dornier, Fran Karricker, and Gene Ender, need no costuming to great detail, as French convict uniforms seem to be a part of their own wardrobes.

Bustles and bows were unpacked in attics around town, and the Stout prop room came up with complete wardrobes for Carol Smith, Judy Goehring, and Ellen Steinhoff.

The set, the store of Mr. Ducatel, went up on the stage Saturday. Bamboo supports, made by the stage crew, and a thatched roof are some of the novelties for the setting of this delightful comedy.

The stage crew, under the direction of Mr. Norman C. Ziemer, Mike Brennan, and Herb Pringle, has been working for weeks to finish the set for the opening performance on March 8. The play will be given on the 9th and 10th also in the Stout Auditorium. Tickets will go on sale for the general public on March 5th, in Harvey Hall. Stout students may secure their tickets by presenting their S.S.A. card. Tickets will also be sold at the door on the nights of presentation.

Be sure to set aside these dates and enjoy another M. A. P. production.

MAURICE GUPTIL ELECTED E.P.T. PRESIDENT

Maurice Guptil, junior from Genoa City was elected president of Theta chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau and Maurice Ellis, junior from Madison, was elected vice president at a meeting held last Tuesday evening in the library.

Robert Erickson, president during the past year was congratulated by the advisor, Dean Jarvis, on a job well done. The new president will assume office at the next meeting, while the election of a secretary-treasurer will be postponed until the acceptance of new members later this semester.

Erickson's last official business preceding the election was the introduction and discussion of attendance regulations for the organization. E.P.T. has not had formal attendance requirements in the past.

Discussion resulted in the acceptance of a plan allowing only one excused absence per semester and requiring all student members to submit a letter of excuse prior to the meeting time at which they are to be absent. The letters will be voted on by the members for acceptance or rejection. For each unexcused absence in excess of the one allowed, a fine of fifty cents will be paid. Failure to pay fine by the following meeting will cause the student to be dropped from membership. The plan will not go into effect until the beginning of the fall term.

Other action taken by the organization was the setting of a tentative date for the annual field trip and the choice of destination. A primary date was set for the 13th of April and an alternate date for the 27th of April. The field trip committee was instructed to begin negotiations with Wold Ramsey high school in St. Paul as the places to be visited on the trip.

WEATHERBIRD
Partly Cloudy
Continued Mild

The weatherbird followed the March lamb in with this morning's prediction for more spring weather for the week-end.

He forecasts continued mild temperatures, of from 35 to 45 degrees in the northern part of the state and up to the mid-fifties in the southern portions.

"You can expect scattered clouds through Saturday," said the bird, "and cloudy skies on Sunday, with scattered showers or snow flurries by Sunday night."

When accused of advancing the calendar, he replied, "Don't kid yourself. There are still 29 days of unpredictable March weather ahead, and you know what a good old fashioned March 20th blizzard is like."

WORKSHOP HELD HERE; DR. HOWE PRESENT

Dr. Kenneth E. Howe, director of the National College of Education at Evanston, Illinois, was present on the Stout campus for a co-ordinators visitation on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 28 and 29. Stout state college faculty members had an opportunity to participate actively.

The program for the workshop was set up on the basis of Dr. Howe's background experience. It included interviews, seminars, and faculty meetings on student teaching, fifth year program, etc. Two of the topics were "School and the Community Concept" and "International Understanding and World Affairs as Related to Higher Education."

The day and a half meeting was the result of a month-long workshop at the University of Minnesota last year. The latter is held each summer for the purpose of discussing and finding solutions for problems concerning teacher education. Dr. Iverson attended this meeting last year, and Dean Price and Dr. Salyer have attended it in the past.

Twenty-three colleges from various states participated this year which is the fifth time for Stout. The workshop is sponsored by the committee on the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and the institutions for teacher education of University of Minnesota.

SIG TAUS TO SPONSOR FREE MIXER

"The Wearing of the Green" will be the theme of a mixer to be sponsored by the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. Jerry Schemansky, boy printer on campus, and Bill Erpenbach will be disc jockies with a selection of top records. The free mixer will be held in the Stout gym on Tuesday evening, March 13 from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

It is hoped that everyone will wear something green to commemorate St. Patrick's Day. Come one, come all to partake of the FREE dancing and refreshments.

Eleven new members were recently initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics honor fraternity. They are: (first row) Helen Froehlich, Ann Kofoed, Ann Janda, Cynthia Sutter, Jermaine Folkman, Dorothy Ann Neis, Alice Yamamoto; (second row) Marion Kindschy, Della Medin, Jo Marquart, and Betty Havlik.

REGULATIONS SET UP FOR SSA CAMPAIGNING

Following are suggestions and regulations for election campaigning. Your cooperation in carrying them out will be appreciated.

1. Deadline for petitions is March 2, at 5:00 p.m.
2. Campaigning of all sorts may begin at any time after 12:00 p.m. Saturday, March 3.
3. The size of the signs and posters may be no larger than 22 inches by 28 inches. If posters are placed on bulletin boards, they must be in regulation size, 11 inches by 14 inches.
4. Signs may not be taped to the walls or woodwork in any of the buildings on campus.
5. Staples, nails, glue, tacks, or any other fasteners which mar the walls or woodwork may not be used.
6. Campaign signs may not be placed on the glass of any of the buildings of the Stout campus, (windows and doors)
7. The poster may be placed on the floor in the buildings. Tripods, stands, and your own constructed frames are to be used to hold up the poster.
8. Posters may be outside if not too messy.
9. Remember, neatness everywhere.
10. All campaign signs must be removed by 5:30 p.m. Thursday, March 15. It is the responsibility of the candidate to see that his or her signs are removed.
11. All candidates will appear in the student assembly on Wednesday, March 14. Each will give a three to five minute speech. Campaigning at this assembly is encouraged. Handbills, signs, bands, cheers, etc. all help to create interest.

OFF-CAMPUS TEACHING ASSIGNMENTS

Off-campus assignments for the girls have been issued for the period from March 5 through April 17. The following cities will be centers for the cadet teaching program:

Stratford -- Faye Nelson, and Pat Nelson.
Nielsville -- Irene Novinski, and Jo Babcock.
Marshfield -- Carol Gerner, and Carlene Polivka.
Mosinee -- Helen Harry, and Vera Dale.
West Salem -- Mae Rammer, and Dorothy Ann Neis.
Mondovi -- Ruth Vance, and Roberta Haskins.
Baldwin -- Mary Adams, and Donna Neerhof.
Colfax -- Pat Ryan, and Darlene Pyatt.
Glenwood City -- Marie Strodthoff.
Elmwood -- Viola Wicken, and Ginny Ehlers.
Eau Claire -- Carol Young, and Janice Hornickel.
St. Croix -- Joan Mountford, and Vicky Grimm.
Fredric -- Merna Goodell, and Mary Kay.
Barron -- Edythe Schmidt, and Beth Van Gorden.

PHI U HOLDS INITIATION FOR ELEVEN PLEDGES

Eleven new pledges were initiated into the woman's honorary fraternity, Phi Upsilon Omicron. These girls all possessed the necessary qualifications of academic and extra-curricular activity participation.

Those initiated were Jermaine Folkman, Helen Froehlich, Della Medin, Betty Havlik, Alice Yamamoto, Cynthia Sutter, Marion Kindschy, JoAnn Marquart, Dorothy Ann Neis, Ann Janda, and Ann Kofoed.

All of these girls besides maintaining a high scholastic standing, participate in many organizations and hold offices.

FOB'S SPONSOR STUNT NIGHT

The biggest and best stunt night in the history of Stout will be staged Saturday, March 17, at 8:00 in the Stout Auditorium. Sponsored by the Phi Omega Beta fraternity, this year's Stunt Night promises you an evening of fun and frolic with Master of Ceremonies, Basil Holder, presiding.

Evaluation of acts will follow a new pattern this year. Points will be awarded for staging, audience acceptance, subject, composition, organization, and delivery. This way of judging will be easier, and more impartial. Prizes will be awarded to the winning acts, and are: First place, $15.00; Second place, $10.00; Third place, $5.00.

Proceeds of Stunt Night will go to set up a scholarship, which will be awarded a freshman boy who shows athletic and scholastic possibilities. The committee for setting up Stunt Night and running the show include as principals, Thomas Handy, Neil Miller, and Basil Holder. Tickets are 35¢ a piece, and can be purchased from any F.O.B. member, or at the booth in Harvey Hall beginning March 8.

Anyone wanting to meet the various members of the Phi Omega Beta fraternity, are urged to attend another F.O.B. event that same week, the Milk Bar, to be held in Harvey Memorial on Wednesday, March 14.

FIRST COPY DEADLINE OF TOWER MARCH 1

The first copy deadline for the Tower was March 1st. At that time, one third of the total copy was due—this includes the sections about the faculty and the classes.

Members of the Tower staff traveled with the copy to New Richmond to see the printer about the copy.

GREEN TEA GIVEN BY FRESHMAN GIRLS

On March 14 the freshman girls of the Home Ec. club will sponsor the Green Tea for all students and faculty. The decorations and food will follow the St. Patrick's Day theme. Peggy Douglas, general chairman, will oversee the following committee chairmen: Publicity-Donna Enders, Decorations-Mary Tickler, Food-Louise Grant, and Clean-up-Mary Ellen Markgren.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Three weeks ago you ran an article on how to have improvements made at Stout. I agree the students can do a lot, but in most cases it's like hitting a brick wall.

This year we have a large enrollment and for next year it looks even bigger than this year. That's fine; it's nice to have a big enrollment and get more money from the State to build new buildings. But even if new buildings were started next week it would be several years before they would be ready. Planning for the future is a must, but what about now? Can't the enrollment be kept down until the facilities are ready?

Have you had a class in Bowman Hall in room 22? This isn't the only room, but a good example. On one morning of the week three classes in a row average over seventy students. After ten minutes of the first class the room is hot and stuffy. If a window is opened the few people by it freeze and the rest feel no change.

I would venture a guess that more colds are caused by sitting in those stuffy rooms than if the students were to run from building to building without their coats on. Not only is it bad hygiene but tell me how one instructor can teach seventy students anything? Why it almost takes all period to take roll.

If someone were to ask me about coming to Stout I would send them elsewhere so he wouldn't have to fight fifty other students just to get a seat in a classroom.

CLUB NEWS

The LSA hayride, which was scheduled for Sunday night, did not take place. Instead, a lively volleyball game got underway. Others played table tennis.

A regular picnic style lunch was served, hot dogs, potato chips, cake, and hot chocolate. There were songs and a worship service later.

The Stout Snooper

Did you realize that Leap Year is two months gone? Have you, the women of Stout, taken advantage of your privileges this year? Well, I haven't seen too many signs of the Leap Year feminine actions, so I thought that perhaps a review of the history might encourage the coeds to go after the men in the remaining ten months of 1956.

The origin of the English name Leap Year is hard to trace because of the many theories. One theory is that Old Father Time took an extraordinary one-day leap instead of passing over the grounds of earth. A second theory is that it really isn't a leap year at all because it has 366 days whereas if the year had leaped, there would have been 364 days, one day less in the leaping year.

But the regular day is considered a legal day and the additional day, legally not so in the third theory. Thus, it was leaped over!

St. Patrick is given credit to the origin of the gallant privilege being extended to the fairer half. After driving the frogs from boats and snakes out of grass, he met St. Bridget who sadly informed him that they were barred the privilege of popping the question.

And knowing St. Patrick, he promised that one year in seven the girls could ask. But St. Bridget exclaimed, "Arrah! Patrick, jewel, I daurn't go back to the gurls wid such a proposal. Mik it wan year in foue."

To which St. Patrick replied, "Biddy, squeeze me that way again and I'll give you leap year, the longest one of the lot." And therefore, Bridget, much encouraged, popped the question to St. Patrick. But as he had taken the vow of celibacy patched up the difficulty with a kiss and a silk gown.

"And ever since," concludes the legend (not found in Butler's Lives of Saints or in any other reputable work), "if a man refuses a leap year proposal he must pay the penalty of a silk gown and a kiss."

As far as Leap Year History is concerned, a law was first passed in Scotland in 1228. "For ilk yeare known as lepe yeare, ilk mayden ladye of bothe highe and low estate shall hae liberte to bespoe ye man she likes, albeit he refused to take hit to be his lawful wyfe, he shall be fined!!" Yes, that's right, men, you can be fined if you refuse a Stout coed's proposal.

A few years later similar laws in France received the approval of the king. And before Columbus sailed, similar laws were granted to maidens of Genoa and Florence.

But there are no traces of statistics as to the number of spinsters or maidens that took advantage of the laws or the men that paid the fines.

I've spied many a student reading "marriage" books on campus this year. Did any of you ever read Love, Courtship, and Matrimony, London, 1606? In it is the following: "Albeit it nowe become a part of the common lass in regard to social relations of life that as often as every leap yeare doth return, the layes have a privilege of continueth of making love, either by words or looks. And moreover, no man will be entitled to benefit of clergy who doth in any way treat the proposal with slightness or contempt."

Yes, this is the woman's year to take the lead. So, go ahead, don't be bashful!

But remember the American proverbs concerning leaping such as "If you take a leap in the dark you usually land in a pit," or you must step back to make a better leap.

LETTER TO EDITOR...

Reading through the Student Handbook the other day, I came across (on page 15) Section 3 of Article IV of the Constitution of the Stout Student Association entitled "The Court". According to this section, the S.S.A. Court is able to try any case presented by a student, administrative officer of the college, or the Governing Board.

Therefore, the fate of students about to be suspended rests on a jury of nine which shall "consist of three students from the Board to be elected at a Board meeting, three faculty members from the Committee on Student Welfare, and three members from the student body elected by the board prior to each trial", instead of on the shoulders of one or two men.

"A two-thirds majority of the total membership of the jury would include six students. The judge is to be a Governing Board member exclusive of S.S.A. officers, and the term of office shall be for one year beginning at the end of the academic year." Who is the present judge?

All court sessions are to be kept on file by the court clerk, who is appointed to a term of one year. Does Stout have a Court Clerk? Does Stout have a Court?

Have there ever been any such trials? How many students have been suspended this year after a hush-hush meeting with certain administrative officers of the college?

Today at 5:00 is the deadline for petitions for S.S.A. offices. How many petitions are there for the office of judge? How many students and members of the Governing Board knew that such a person existed? If you have any information on this subject won't you let us in on the secret.

LA CROSSE WINS THEIR LAST HOME GAME BY DEAFEATING
STOUT BY SCORE OF 87 TO 77

The LaCrosse State Indians made their home final a successful one as they edged out Stout 87-77. Actually the game wasn't destined to be much, since the Indians still figure heavily in the championship against the second division Northerns. The Indians had four four year lettermen bowing out, two of them being Olson and Kengels, among the best, who were against these youngsters in the blue and white. LaCrosse always turns out to back their teams. Although the outcome had been tabulated, enough hometowners deserted their TV's to make quite a noise.

There were Stouters in the seats also; although few in number they were loud in their noise and had ample opportunity to raise the roof as these upstarts had somewhere along the line failed to read the press clippings of these fast breaking Phy. Eds.

Information can be imparted. However, if the writer was present at the first general convocation of this school year, he may recall a talk given on this very subject.

The information concerning the student court is no secret. The court is organized to hear any cases of students who declare an injustice by the administration. This is an appellate court. We hear only cases which are appealed to us. If the student does not appeal, we do not interfere.

As for students who are dismissed from the campus during the school year, each has the right to appeal and he is so informed. You may then wonder why these students did not take their cases to the court. When a student is asked to leave by the "hush-hush" administration, he receives no "black mark" on his record, he is considered a drop-out. If he appeals his case, is heard and wins, he may continue. But if he loses, he necessarily becomes a "suspended" student and it appears on his record.

The students who left this year were given a choice to leave of their own free will or risk being expelled. The administration did not choose to pass judgment on them and the students did not choose to take their cases to court.

Your information for setting up a student court is correct as stated in the constitution. We have no standing judge or court for the simple reason that we have no cases. The Governing board has more important business than that of setting up and maintaining non-functioning courts. However, if you have a case for us, we will have a court for you, and in short order.

Gordon R. Maves
President, SSA

It was interesting to wonder about the campus poet with such a burning interest in the basketball fortunes hereabouts, interesting to wonder if he had journeyed the one hundred odd miles to see another shackling; more fuel for the fire.

The reason behind the crusade eludes me. Our kids in the white and blue suits have nothing to fret about. They have given every team a good run, until a bad pass of defensive lapp hurts them at a crucial time but these shortcomings are due in a large measure to inexperience.

Nine members of the LaCrosse varsity have played service ball besides at least two years in college.

If this gang of ours can stick it out a couple more seasons, we'll all be going to Kansas City.

Bolm and Peterson are as scrappy a pair as you'll see about. What they give away in height, they make up for in good position. Sorenson is a terrific shot. He's a threat from anywhere. Meyer is about as cool a first year man as there is in the conference. He never wastes a step but seems to be right where you want him.

Two years after Hanson and Bolinger leave Eau Claire and Olson and Bartolutti leave LaCrosse; Meyer, Sorenson, Helm, and Howard will still be underclassmen! And winning trophies I'll wager!

We had a 6-0 lead on before LaCrosse could yell time out. They gathered their wits and after assuming the lead, never relinquished it. We plagued them, drawing within a bucket or two on several occasions. The score at half time was 44-40. Then that lapse! Four quick buckets after the third quarter got under way and then even terms for the duration of the contest.

PROM THEME CONTEST OPENED WEDNESDAY

All students are urged to place theme suggestions for the junior prom in a suggestion box that is placed in front of Harvey Memorial Lounge on the first floor of Harvey Hall.

In addition to the theme, a description of decorations should be given. Each person should put his name on his suggestion. The winner will receive a couple's ticket to the prom. Deadline for themes is March 14.

DETROIT ALUMNAE MET
NOVEMBER, JANUARY

Detroit Alumnae of Stout state college met on Saturday, November 12 at the home of Orvetta Braker Motzau, (B.S. 1936). Assisting hostesses were Miriam TeBeest Erickson, (B.S. 1948), and Beulan Todd, (B.S. 1930).

Everyone present received a new directory listing sixty-eight Stout women in the Detroit area. All other members received their copies by mail. The booklets are attractively printed in Stout blue and white --- the work of John Brandvold, B.S. 1932.

After enjoying a delicious dessert, the time was spent in the favored entertainment --- just talk --- centered around last summer's vacation activities. These ranged from long trips to shorter excursions to interesting places nearby, the always enjoyable visits back to the "old home town," and the ever present "do-it-yourself" projects. The next get-together was on January 14.

SKETCHES OF STOUT COLLEGE CAGERS PROVE VARIED AND INTERESTING TO STUDENTS

Here are some more insight notes on Stout first string cagers.

Herbert Helm is an 18-year old freshman forward from Winneconne, Wisconsin. He weighs 167 pounds and measures 6 feet 2 inches in height.

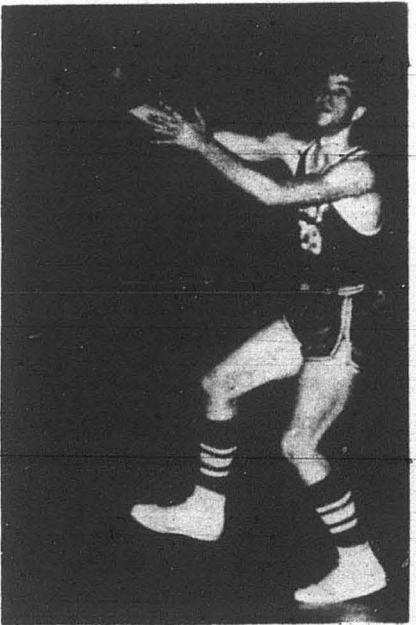

HERBERT HELM

Helm was leading scorer for his high school team, averaging 16 points a game. He was also co-captain of his high school team and played a major role in leading his high school team through the district tournament in 1955.

Jerry Stauffacher, a 6 foot 5 inch 195 pounder, is another freshman on the team. Jerry is a center from Monroe, Wisconsin. In his last two years in high school, he helped his high school team into the state tournaments. He is a consistent, hard driving player.

Jim Dailey, the only senior on the team, is a hard driving guard from

Omro, Wisconsin. He is 5 foot 10 inches tall and weighs 154 pounds. This is Jim's fourth year on Coach Johnson's bucket ball team. When Jim was a junior in high school, he made honorable mention in the Big 7 Conference. As a senior in high school, he was named to the all conference team and led his high school in scoring, averaging 9.25 points per game. He also led his team into the regional tournament. It might be interesting to note that Helm and Dailey played against each other in high school.

Dick Johnson is a sophomore from Menomonie, Wisconsin. Dick is the smallest man on the squad (dimensions: 5 feet 7 inches tall and weight

DICK JOHNSON

135 pounds.) Dick was a teammate of Jan Peterson in high school when their team went to the sectional tournament. Dick is the only player on the team that shoots a two-handed set shot.

STOUT'S W.R.A. SCORES A HIT AT SPORTS DAY

Stout's Women's Recreation Association really made a name for itself as the girls tied for first place in a Sports Day held recently at LaCrosse state college. Although Stout was the only school represented that did not offer a physical education minor, they successfully overwhelmed Luther College 17-1 in aerial dart, edged Eau Claire 17-18 in a close volleyball game, and also defeated Milwaukee state 34-25 in the same sport.

SCHEDULE FOR SPRING TRAINING IS RELEASED

The groundhog may have seen his shadow on February second, and gone back in his hole, but that hasn't sent Stout State's baseball team under cover for another six weeks. The schedule for the 1956 season was released by Coach Jack Wink last week, and here it is:

April 21	Stephens Point
DH	There
April 24	Eau Claire
S	There
April 28	St. Cloud
DH	Here
May 2	River Falls
S	There
May 5	Mankato
DH	There
May 9	Winona
DH	Here
May 12	LaCrosse
DH	There
May 16	River Falls
S	Here
May 18	Eau Claire
S	Here

S means single game

DH means a double header

The tentative opening day of practice is scheduled for March 19, and the final announcement for this will be posted on the athletic bulletin board. The pitchers and catchers will probably work out one week previous to the start of the infielders and outfielders.

Stout is fortunate to have eight returning lettermen and seven freshmen numeral winners, a total of fifteen veteran players. The prospects are bright for baseball this year, although the Bluedevils may be weak on the mound after losing two or possibly three pitchers from last year's squad.

Returning lettermen are: Jerry "Ironman" Bauman, pitcher, Bill "Cud" Romoser and Eugene "Hooker" Batist, catchers, Bill "Ersk" Bachmeyer, Dick "War Story" Cheke, and Mike "Stars and Stripes" Manogain, infielders, Vern "Swish" Wills and Fred "Honey Cut" Ponschok, outfielders.

Returning freshmen numeral winners are: Brandon "Cowboy" Smith, catcher, John "Sober" Blythe, Jim "Dandy" Sand, Bill "The Bat Menace" Erpenbach, Ron "Scooter" Ebben, infielders, Harry "The Arm" Miller, and Francis "Slugger" Pauls, outfielders. There are seven of the eight regular starters back at their respective positions. Starters include Romoser, Bachmeyer, Sand, Cheke, Miller, Wills, and Ponschok.

Last year the Bluedevils won four and lost ten. It should be pointed out that the squad was a young one and the games were almost all close ones. The future is bright, as has been pointed out, so with a lot of work and support Stout should have a successful season.

So students, it is up to you as well as the team as to how your baseball season goes. Baseball games at Stout are free and the weather is usually fine, so let's see a full house at each contest.

STOUT STATE LOSES TO RIVER FALLS 73-69

Thrill Packed Game Was

The Last One of The 1955-56 Basketball Season

The River Falls Falcons sneaked by the Bluedevils from Stout state on February 27th by the score of 73 to 69. It was a thrill packed game that found both teams playing as though the game decided a national championship, even though the contest did not figure in the conference race. It was the last game of the season for both squads.

The Stout backers really turned out for the game and cheered loud and clear. It marked the last appearance of Joyce Fraedrich as a Stout cheerleader. Joyce is a senior and graduates in June.

Stout lost the services of Jim Dailey with this game. Jim is a senior and graduates in June also. Of him, some of Jim's teammates were heard to comment:

"Jim was an inspiration to the team. When he was in there, the team really seemed relaxed and cool."

It was too bad that Jim didn't see action in his last game here. Jim played all four years at Stout and he will be truly missed next season. Congratulations, Jim!

Stout blasted off with Peterson and Meyer at the guard positions, Sorenson and Howard at forwards, and Bolm in the center. The Bluedevils seemed to have things pretty well under control as the action got under way but they weren't consistent enough with their baskets. Proof of this was the half-time score of 35 to 34, in favor of Stout. Passes again hurt Stout as they threw away potential points. However, the Bluedevils did turn in some splendid ball handling. River Falls seemed to have Stout pretty well pegged, because they kept the Bluedevils under control. Whenever Stout began to roll, River Falls would play control ball until they made their two points. That was smart ball.

The Bluedevils began the second half with the same starting five. Stout overcame their third quarter "jinx" this time matched the Falcons, basket for basket. The score was tied with six minutes to go and the crowd was tense, as the Bluedevils seemed to be on the very verge of victory.

Stout came on from this point and took over the lead, only to lose it again—forever. The Bluedevils came within two points with 12 seconds to go when the ball was batted out of bounds. Jim Bolm, Stout captain, called time out and referee Leahy granted this with eight seconds to go. This would imply that Stout was in possession of the ball because of the rule that states that only the team with the ball may call time out. However, when the time was over, River Falls was given possession of the ball. A terrific uproar followed this and opinions were widely varied. The game ended 73 to 69 for the Falcons of River Falls.

For Stout, Bolm and Peterson turned in a good game again. The surprise was Meyers. Terry came through with 14 points and excellent rebounding. Helm was the excellent reservist. Bolm led the Stout's attack with 16 points. Peterson and Sorenson both hit 10 markers. Howard with 9 rounded out the Bluedevil scoring. Herum, Zimmerman, and Carter, with 28, 15, and 14, respectively, topped River Falls point making parade. Herum is the top scorer in the conference.

Stout made but 13 of 21 free throw attempts while River Falls made 21 of 30 free throws. Stout had 18 personal fouls while River Falls committed 13 personal infractions.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

Joan Wonoski has been chosen by the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority to represent the chapter at the national convention in Estes Park, Colorado, in June. Coming events for the sorority are: March 7-8, Visitation by National representative, Mrs. C. A. Cesner; March 10, Officers candidate school; March 17, Installation of new officers.

"Lion" will be the word used in the scripture text roll call at the Gamma Delta meeting at 5:00 p.m. Sunday at St. Paul's church. Election of officers, spring conventions, a low-cost supper, and entertainment filled the evening.

BULLETIN FOR SESSION TO BE OUT IN APRIL

The fifty-first annual Summer Session bulletin is now in preparation according to Dean Jarvis. It is to be in the mail by April 1.

The 1956 Summer Session will run from June 25 to August 3 with several new features this year.

Beginning June 18 through the 23, (the week prior to the general opening) Stout state college and the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education are sponsoring a one-week workshop for teachers, guidance personnel, home demonstration agents, advanced students, and parents. The workshop, "Family Relationships and Mental Health," will be under the direction of Dr. Paul Popenoe, Director of the American Institute of Family Relations, and Mr. Roy E. Dickerson, Executive Secretary of the Cincinnati Social Hygiene Society.

Another feature of the '56 Summer Session, which will be open to qualified teachers to the capacity of the classes, is Driver Education, Basic and Advanced Courses. It will run from August 6 through 17.

"Project Development," another feature, will be taught by the nationally-known educator in project development and design, Dr. Robert A. Tinkham, assistant professor of Industrial Education at the University of Illinois.

Besides these additional courses, a complete program of Home Economics Education and Industrial Education courses will be taught, plus professional and academic courses.

S.T.S. PLANS SPRING TOUR TO TWIN CITIES

The Stout Typographical Society last Wednesday night approved tentative plans for the itinerary of the spring tour. Ray Burkhalter, chairman of the field trip committee, was told to go ahead with making arrangements with the companies and schools to be visited.

S.T.S. president Robert Treise opened the meeting with a correction of the motion that was passed the previous meeting on mandatory attendance. The regulation was changed to read that mandatory meetings would be held on the second and last Wednesdays of each month rather than on the second and fourth.

Following the business meeting, newly appointed program chairman, Tony Kotzka, introduced a film titled "The Origin of Type," which covered the evolution of modern day type faces.

Some of the proposed companies to be visited on the tour to the Twin Cities are: The Bureau of Engraving, Consolidated Printing Inks, Brown and Bigelow, Perfection Type, Bingham Rollers, A. J. Dahl Bookbinding, and Process Display Co.

"The companies listed have been chosen to give the organization a well rounded tour," states chairman Burkhalter. The list covers largely the production of materials and machinery used in the printing trade. Last year the tour consisted mainly of the paper mills and printing plants, giving still another side of the industrial picture.

A possible highlight of the tour is the Brown and Bigelow Gravure plant, as tours of recent years have not covered that phase of the industry.

Pictured above are members of the Manual Arts Players as they rehearse for their current production. MY THREE ANGELS is playing tonight and Saturday to conclude another season.

"MY THREE ANGELS" IS GIVEN THIS WEEK END

Cast Consists of Stout Students, Curtain Is At 8:00 p.m.

The Stout Manual Arts Players will present Alfred Huson's "My Three Angels" for a three night run starting Thursday, March 8. French Guiana and a tropical store create the atmosphere for this three act production.

The story revolves around three convicts hired by a store owner, Henri, to help his business prosper. The comedy starts in earnest when they become involved in family affairs.

It seems Henri is a lax bookkeeper. His superior manager has a nephew, Paul, whom Marie Louise, Henri's daughter, is in love with. Marie Louise receives a letter from her friend saying that she and Paul are to be married which soon complicates the romantic interest in the store.

Paul and his uncle arrive for a visit to check Henri's accounts. My Three Angels, heeding the call of romance, arrange a rendezvous for the couple. Paul's uncle catches them and gives a fair warning that the affair is to be discontinued. Little heeding this warning, the three convicts continue their willful maneuvering of the situation.

Henri and Emilie's store is saved when Paul's uncle fails to awake the following morning. Paul's falseness is detected, and the three convicts arrange further for Marie Louise's happiness bringing Huson's "My Three Angels" to a rollicking climax.

This production is the second to be presented this year by the Manual Arts Players and is under the direction of John Kirby. The stage setting is designed and its construction directed by Norman Ziemann.

Cast for the play includes: Judy Gochring as Marie Louise, Jerry Howard as Henri, Donald O'Brien as Fritz, Fritz Ebert as Paul, Ellen Steinhoff as Mme. Parolle, Carol Smith as Emilie, Ed Birch as the Lieutenant, and the three convicts played by Doug Dörner, Gene Ender, and Dean Karraker, respectively.

Industrious students making this spring production possible are the following Manual Arts Players:

Stage Committee: Peter Jackson, chairman, Bette Zander, Sandra Day, Marilyn Randall, Barbara Bender, Carolee Kaecker, Dorothy Barters, Marilyn Webb, Rhea Van Vleet, Marvel Klecker, Betty Fraley, Marion Kindschy, and Mike Brennan.

Properties: Joan Braunworth, chairman, Marvel Klecker, Kathleen Ott.

Costumes: Joan Daniels, chairman, Janice Jenquin, Carol Jean Smith, Mary Tiekler, Betty Fraley, Marion Kindschy, Kay Kennedy.

Publicity: Marilyn Webb, chairman, Joan Daniels, Sandra Day, Carol Schilstra, Dorothy Bartels, Barbara Nuttleman, Caryl Teasdale, Carol Young, and Margaret Douglas.

Sound: Ruth Ziegler, and Marilyn Randall.

Lighting: Joe Jajtner, Fred Hanna, and Kathleen Ott.

With curtain time at 8:00 p.m., "My Three Angels" will open for a three night run, March 8, 9, and 10. Tickets are on sale in Harvey Hall or may be purchased at the door. Reserved seats may be had at no extra charge.

PARTLY CLOUDY WARMER TEMPS DUE

Although tonight is going to be cold again, the Weatherbird said we can look for warmer weather tomorrow, and generally fair skies through Sunday.

"This winter weather we had this week," said the bird, "was due to a cold front that started in Canada and worked its way south about Tuesday, causing the snow and low temperatures."

With Saturday's warmer air should come a few clouds, and possibly some snow flurries again by Sunday night.

Ten candidates for Stout Student association offices are pictured above. These students will be presented at assembly on Wednesday, March 14. Pictured above, left to right, with the offices for which they are running, are: front row, Joan Wonoski, vice president; Barb Pike, secretary; Jim Sands, vice president; Nat Wick, secretary; Fern Mathey, vice president; back row, Loren Johnson, treasurer; Harlan Giese, president; Eugene Battist, president; Jerald Schoenike, treasurer; and Reinhold Mehsner, president.

S.S.A. ELECTION TO BE THE BIG EVENT OF THE COMING WEEK

Candidates Present Speeches At March 14 Convocation; Voting To Be in Harvey

This year again brings forth a large number of candidates for Stout Student Association. Ten Stout students will present campaign speeches at a student assembly on Wednesday, March 14. Voting will take place on Thursday, March 15, in Harvey Hall. Campaigning will start Saturday, March 10. At that time all posters, pictures, and signs may be posted.

Three students, Gene Battist, Harlan Giese, and Reinhold Mehsner, are running for the office of president. Candidates for the office of vice president are: Fern Mathey, Jim Sands, and Joan Wonoski. Barb Pike and Nat Wick are running for secretary, and for treasurer Loren Johnson and Jerald Schoenike are running.

Eugene Battist, a junior from Waterloo, Wisconsin, is a member of the Delta Kappa fraternity, alumni secretary, S club, varsity football, baseball, and intramural sports. He is a veteran. Eugene feels that he is capable for office. "I have been a member of the student body of Stout state college for three years. In those three years I have become acquainted with many of the students, the freshmen as well as the seniors. In knowing the students of all classes, I have come to know their needs and wants."

From Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is Harlan Giese. He is treasurer of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, and treasurer of Lutheran Student association. He is also a veteran. Because of his various activities, Harlan feels he is qualified for the office of president. "I have worked very closely with the SSA on two occasions. One was as parade marshal for the homecoming parade this school year. The other was as chairman for the Friday night activities of winter carnival. I have also taken an active part in all the organizations to which I have ever belonged. Having been active in these organizations proves that I can apply myself to my duties and do a satisfactory job. I believe I am mature enough to handle any problem presented to me, if elected president, in a manner to be of benefit to the student body and a credit to the school as a whole."

Reinhold Mehsner from Milwaukee feels he is a capable candidate for president. "In this past year I have had the privilege to serve as vice president of SSA. I have learned much in regard to both methods of student government and needs. I feel that my past experience will give me some foundation on which I could successfully begin and carry out a term of presidency to the students' benefit." Reiny, as he is known, is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, Governing Board as a sophomore and junior, treasurer of Lynwood Hall, Tower, chairman of the social committee, L.S.A., and Inter-Religious council.

A sophomore from Medford, Wisconsin, Fern Mathey is running for vice president. Fern is a member of Governing Board, Symphonic Singers, Home Ec club, Pallas Athene, Stoutonia, and marching band. She was also very active in high school. "As you know, the SSA vice president is chairman of the social committee which is responsible for most of the social life on campus. For this reason, I feel that this office is very important to the student body. From my year of experience on the Governing Board, I have become acquainted with the desires and the needs of the Stout student body. This experience would be of great value for this office."

A second candidate for veep is Jim Sands, a sophomore from Menomonie. Jim belongs to the F.O.B. fraternity, S club, and attended Badger Boys' State while in high school. Jim feels he is qualified for the vice presidency. "I have held various offices which gave me experience for this office. I also know many students' views on student government which would give me a chance to represent the students in SSA."

Joan Wonoski is also seeking election for vice president. She is from Dousman, Wisconsin, and belongs to Sigma Sigma Sigma, YWCA, Gamma Delta, Home Ec club, and was a Stout

STUDENTS COMPLETE LIFE SAVING CLASS

Eighteen Stout students have passed the Senior Life Saving Course under the instruction of Earl Lehman at the college swimming pool. The classes ran from February 8 through 23, and were held over Wednesday and Thursday nights and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The following students have passed their tests and received certificates in Senior Life Saving. Bill Bachmeyer, Vernon Christensen, Mary Hartwig, Ralph Hermann, Joe Jajtner, Judy Johnson, John Jordan, Larry Nelson, Sheldon Satter, Betty Schomburg, Jerre Skarvan, Ed Stori, John and Tim Vaneck, Carol Hatch, David Anderson, Chuck Sorenson, and Jeanine Blank.

On Wednesday February 29, the first meeting of the Instructor's course "phase one" met. Under the capable instruction of Earl Lehman, these students must complete twelve hours of swimming instruction which will be completed Sunday March 4, then the student may go on to phase two. Phase two will be conducted by an area representative of the Red Cross and will run from March 5 through the 9.

This will complete extra curricular swimming courses for this year. These courses are sponsored by the Dunn County chapter of the Red Cross in conjunction with the Stout state college under the direction of Ray C. Johnson.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

We often become so absorbed in our daily classes and other activities that we see only these and forget the overall picture. We lose sight of our goal—a degree from Stout state college—in the commonplace, everyday occurrences of life. We may not realize that each of us can raise or lower the standard of that degree by our accomplishments and conduct now and after we graduate.

Stout's national rating among schools in fields of both home economics and industrial education is high. Among other things, this means that our job opportunities will be great for summer jobs and for full time work after graduation. It also means we have a standard to uphold.

Another reflection upon Stout's rating is that it has many foreign students; in fact it has more than any other Wisconsin state college. For a school of its size to be so well known, it must offer excellent opportunities. Foreign students want to make the most of their time in this country and wouldn't waste it in a school of poor quality.

Stout's enrollment has been increasing greatly in the last few years. The alumni are to be commended for this. Many students are here because an alumnus thought highly of the college and made this fact known to his classes.

We are attending a college with high standards and offering wide opportunities. We can be very proud of it for we have something great to live up to.

CLUB NEWS

Pallas Athene alumnae will receive the annual edition of the PA newsletter in a few days. The committee that edited the newsletter was headed by Betty Fraley. Other members on the committee were Joyce Fraedrich, Zoe Goetzinger, Shirley Lundeen, Ann Janda, Marion Kindschy, and Jean Schwertel.

All PA girls have been very busy this past week preparing campaign material for their candidate, Fern Mathey, who is running for SSA vice president. The skit committee headed by Ardis Carr is also busy earnestly working for next week's Stunt Night presentation.

Nancy Gabert was elected president of the Gamma Delta Synodical Conference Lutheran fraternity at its last meeting. The past president was Jerry Schoenike. Carol Bibby, newly elected vice president will take over her duties from Jermaine Folkman, past vice president.

Julie Knapp was elected secretary. Joan Wonoski is the newly elected treasurer. The past secretary and treasurer were Nancy Gabert and Helen Froehlich.

A vesper service was held, a cost supper was served, the election of officers highlighted the business meeting, and dartball was played.

"To Dance or Not" will be the subject for a group discussion at the next meeting on March 18.

Sigma Sigma Sigma has elected the following officers for the 1956-57 school year: President - Andre Jost, Vice President - Beverly Duerkop, Recording Secretary - Audrey Adams, Corresponding Secretary - Pat Seibert, Keeper of Grades - Barbara Austin.

Andre Jost as Beta Pi chapter's new president will be the delegate to the national convention in Estes Park, Colorado. Beverly Duerkop is the alternate. Joan Wonoski will also be a representative as the outstanding pledge of our chapter at the convention early this summer.

The calendar of events for this past week included the visitation of our National representative, a social gathering at Mrs. Vanek's, and the play on Thursday evening. All these events were a part of the National officers' schedule and were attended by the sorority.

Fellows and girls, get out your green wearing apparel for "The Wearing of the Green" on March 13. This mixer will commemorate St. Patrick's Day and will be sponsored by the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. Jerry Schmansky and Bill Erpenbach will be disc jockies. A selection of top records will be played. The mixer will be held on Tuesday evening from 9 to 10 in the Stout gym.

Don't forget the date, March 13, your green apparel if possible, and above all, the FREE dancing.

SIG TAU'S TO FURNISH ELECTION DAY TAXIS

On Thursday, March 15, voting for SSA candidates will take place to elect the officers that will represent you in student affairs for the next year. As in every election, the larger the turnout, the more valid the results. So don't forget to vote!

As a reminder to the students and to help them get to school a little earlier so they will have time to vote, Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity will run their annual ELECTION TAXI SERVICE on Thursday, March 15, from 7:15 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Cabs will be at all three of the women's dorms during these hours. Because of the construction work on the new dorm, cabs for Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall will be parked on Highway 12 in front of the Annex. The cabs for Eichelberger will be in the parking lot. The cabs will go from the dorms to the circles by Harvey Hall and the Campus Cafe. After 10:00 a.m. they will be in the circles to take passengers back to the dorms.

The Stout Rifle Club shot a postal match with Monmouth college, Monmouth, Illinois, recently. As Stout only shot four men the team had a total score of 1040. Monmouth's high four totaled 988. Bill McNaughton was high man for Stout with 279 out of 300. He had a 91 off hand. The rifle team's overall scores have improved considerably the past few weeks with the replacement of worn sights on three of the rifles.

Last Monday night the F.O.B. pledges (nine in number) put on their skit in the union before a large and cheering audience. The skit was performed in two different acts. The first part of the show was a minstrel show in which all the pledges participated in the singing. In the second part the pledges illustrated how an Ozark wedding is held.

DORM NEWS

The Lynwooders enjoyed the wonderful party given by the girls at the Annex. Everyone danced to the soft music and soft lights, which sort of made it a little romantic. The girls were quite worried for a while when the boys didn't show up until about 8:30 p.m. But as the old proverb goes, "It's better late than never." Many thanks go to all the girls from the Annex who made the social affair a success.

There are two track runners in the dorm who always like to run in the hallway. Well, they aren't what they used to be, because they were caught by Dr. Salyer, and he wasn't too pleased about it. So the two milers politely scrubbed the hallway walls the next day.

The counselors had it quite easy during the past week-end, because many of the boys went home for the week-end. The boys had quite a few visitors during the past weeks. Girls from the Hyperian sorority came to serenade, and girls from the Annex campaigned to get the boys over to the dorm for their party.

MILK BAR PLANNED BY CAMPUS FRATERNITY

The F.O.B. annual Milk Bar will again take place in the Harvey Memorial on March 14th from 3:30 to 5:30. A twist at this "tea" will include hosts instead of hostesses. Refreshments will include plain and chocolate milk and a variety of cookies. Committees are now hard at work planning for this occasion. Everyone is urged to attend.

Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Moltzau, B.S. 1936, is married to the former Orvetta Braker, B.S. 1936. In his article he described a successful method by which Parke, Davis and Co. reduced absenteeism among its 4,000 employees, in some departments as much as 50% of that prior to 1952. On the basis of evidence from the program, the author concludes that: "When given the opportunity, a group of production supervisors can develop a sound personnel policy and with the cooperation of a staff representative, carry it out to the satisfaction of both management and labor."

9. Joan Schwanemann, B.S. 1952, was married to Vern Pruett, an industrial engineer in Berkeley, California. is teaching home economics, social studies, and English in Portola Junior High, El Cerrito, California. Their address is 2227 A MrGee, Berkeley, California.

Miss Claire Wangen, who recently resigned as dean of the College of Nursing at Southwestern Louisiana institute was formerly school nurse at Stout state college. Miss Wangen organized the college of nursing at Southwestern Louisiana Institute and stayed to see her first class receive their B.S. degrees in June of 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Oettmeier, both 1950 graduates, are living in Big Rapids, Michigan. Mr. Oettmeier is head of the automechanics department at Ferris Institute, a state college in Michigan. They have one son, Tim, three and one-half years old.

Charles L. Thomas, B.S. 1951, M.S. 1955, and former instructor of industrial arts in Colorado Springs school system, has joined the faculty of Southwestern Louisiana Institute as assistant professor of industrial education. His address is 609 Taft, Apt 2, Lafayette, La.

Chief of Manual Arts Therapy in the Madison Veterans Administration Hospital is Robert J. Berg, B.S. 1952. He is married and has one son, Joseph, who was born last October 3. His address is Route 1, Middleton, Wisconsin.

Fred L. Curran, a former staff member, has retired from teaching. He built a house last summer in Rudd, Iowa.

LYNWOOD HALL HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Lynwood Hall had its annual banquet at the Marion Hotel, on March 3, 1956 at 6:30 p.m. Honored guests present were, President of the college, Dr. Verne Fryklund, Student Personnel Director, Dr. Ralph Iverson, and Mrs. Iverson; Dean of Men, Mr. Merle M. Price; and Lynwood Resident Head, Dr. Guy Salyer and Mrs. Salyer. Also present were the officers of the dorm, President Ken Dickie, Vice-president Jerry Stauffacher, Treasurer Elroy Wicklund, Secretary Keith Dame, and S.S.A. representative Tom Wright. About seventy-five of the boys and their guest attended the annual affair. Entertainment was furnished by the "Uncalled Four" quartet. The members of the quartet consisted of Don Gibbons, on the drums, Roland Lundin, clarinet, Bill Martin, saxophone, and Jay Brown, pianist. They played "In the Mood," "When the Saints Come Marching In," and a solo by the pianist, "Star Dust." The quartet had practiced a lot to put on such a successful performance.

The guest speaker for the evening was Dr. V. Fryklund. He spoke on Reminiscence here at Stout. He claimed that once Lynwood was a girl's dorm until Eichelberger came into being one of the school's properties. He also stated in his speech that the site where Harvey Hall now stands was once a play field for Stout.

For the first year in college and living at Lynwood, the boys realized how much, fun, work, and cooperation, makes such special occasions a success. much fun, work, and cooperation may Salyer, who unselfishly helped every boy throughout the past months here at Stout and Lynwood. This realization of the boys from near and far has made dorm life at Lynwood a family life.

Presenting a student grant-in-aid award to Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college, are (left) Jerry Loushin, chairman of the scholarship committee of Phi Omega Beta, and William Bachmeyer, president of the organization. Purpose of the grant is assistance to an outstanding athlete of distinct scholastic talent. Proceeds from the annual F.O.B. Stunt Night, to be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m. on Saturday evening, March 17, will help pay the cost of the grant.

GRANT-IN-AID TO BE GIVEN BY PHI OMEGA BETA

To be sponsored by Phi Omega Beta (FOB) fraternity of Stout state college will be an annual grant-in-aid for an outstanding athlete of scholastic ability.

At present, the award will be alternated each year between a football player and a basketball player. Proceeds from the organization's traditional "stunt night" to be held in the college auditorium this year on the evening of March 17, will help make possible this grant.

The award designed to cover the basic expenses of a qualified, deserving freshman student, will be made on the following basis:

1. The candidate will be selected by the Stout state college scholarship committee, with recommendations from the college Department of Athletics.

2. The candidate must be an outstanding athlete with sufficient scholastic ability to complete the requirements for graduation from Stout state college.

3. The grant-in-aid is to be alternated each year between the sports, football and basketball, respectively.

4. The first offering of the award will commence with the selection of a recipient for the first semester of the 1956-1957 college year.

President of the Phi Omega Beta fraternity is William Bachmeyer, with Jerry Loushin serving as chairman of the grant-in-aid committee. Fraternity advisors are Dr. Robert Rudiger and Dr. J. E. Ray.

MIXER SPONSORED FOR TRI SIG SSA CANDIDATE

There will be an all school free mixer Monday night, March 12 in the small gym from 9:00 to 10:00.

The dance is sponsored by the Tri Sigma sorority in honor of their candidate for S.S.A. vice president, Joan Wonoski.

S-CLUB STAGES BOXING AND WRESTLING SHOW

Five Boxers Coached By John Kotek; Dick Tepp Coaches Three "Frosh" Wrestlers

The second annual "S" Club boxing and wrestling show will be held on March 13. Because of the large attendance last year, this year's show will be staged in the high school gym.

The boys have been training above the union for the past six weeks. All the boys train every night for two hours and are really getting in shape for this year's show.

THREE BOXING MATCHES

There are five boxers working under coach John Kotek this year. Kotek stated that all his boys have been showing great improvement and have been working out strenuously each night. He said that this year there will be three matches.

Here are some personal facts on these fighters.

VERN WILLIS is one of the four first year men on this year's boxing squad. Vern hails from Galena, Illinois. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 189 pounds. Vern, who is a senior, will match his skills with Dick Leisen.

DICK LEISEN, Vern's opponent, is a sophomore from Plainview, Minnesota. He will weigh in at approximately 190 pounds. This is the 6 footer's first year also.

DICK BREHM another first year man is from near by Knapp, Wisconsin. "Cyclone" as the boys call him is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 178 pounds. Dick, who is a sophomore, will have the roughest opponent on the program when he faces John Kotek.

JOHN KOTEK who is the coach of the boxing squad comes from New Prague, Minnesota. John who is 6 feet tall and weight 172 pounds is the most experienced man on the squad. He was a member of a marine corps boxing team in 1954. He was runnerup in the A. A. U. boxing show in Florida. He won two regional boxing tournaments, one in Florida and one in Minnesota.

JERRY BAUMAN is the only returning boxer from last year's show. After winning last year's battle, he will be out swinging to keep his title. Jerry is a senior from Wausau, Wisconsin. He weighs 155 pounds and is 5 feet 9 inches tall.

DOUG GILBERTSON is a freshman from Clayton, Wisconsin. He is 5 feet

11 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. Doug has had a little boxing experience. His opponent will be Jerry Bauman.

4 WRESTLING MATCHES

There are three wrestlers working under Coach Dick Tepp. Dick said that he is very pleased with the improvement his boys have made over the past 6 weeks.

Tepp stated, that this year's wrestlers will be matched with boys from Stevens Point. These boys from Stevens Point were Dick's teammates in high school. Also on the program will be an Australian Lay match.

Here are some facts on this year's wrestling team.

DOUG McDONALD is one of the two first year men on the squad. Doug is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 190 pounds. He is a freshman from Black River Falls, Wisconsin.

ALBERT KAHALAKULU is the other first man on the squad. He hails from Wailuku, Maui, T.H. Albert is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 170 pounds.

DICK DYER is a freshman from Madison, Wisconsin. Dick weighs 180 pounds and is 5 feet 10½ inches tall. He has had some wrestling experience in high school. He was a member of Madison East High School wrestling team.

DICK TEPP who is the coach of this year's team hails from Stevens Point, Wisconsin. He is 6 feet 1½ inches tall and weighs 178 pounds. This is his fifth year of wrestling. Dick was a member of Stevens Point wrestling team while in high school. In his senior year he had a record of 11 wins and 1 loss. He won two sectional tournaments and was 3rd in the state tournament. On March 17th Dick will participate in the A. A. U. wrestling tournament in Milwaukee.

Make it a date to attend the show this coming Wednesday night at 8:00. Tickets may be bought from any member of the boxing or wrestling team or from any "S" Club member. The price is only 35 cents.

ANNUAL GREEN TEA TO BE HELD MARCH 14

A St. Patrick's Day theme will be carried out in the decorations of the Green Tea. The door hostesses will be wearing green aprons. The table decorations, and decorations around the room will carry out the theme in green and white. Dean Kirk, the officers of the Home Ec. club, and the housemothers will pour lime punch, which is also in keeping with the theme.

The tea will be given on March 14, in Harvey Memorial, 3:30 to 5:30, by the freshman girls of Home Ec. club. All students and faculty are cordially invited.

DR. JARVIS ELECTED VICE - PRESIDENT

Elected a vice-president of the National Association of Industrial Teacher Educators has been Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the division of industrial education at Stout state college. Dr. Jarvis' term will run for two years.

S.S.A. ELECTIONS...

cheerleader. She has been extremely active in school activities, 4-H, and in high school. "I feel that I am qualified to represent the student body. I have served as a member of a similar board at high school. I have also served on local and county youth governing boards. I enjoy working with people very much. I think that this factor, along with my past experience, would be a big asset were I elected. Given a job, I always try to do my best. Needless to say, I'd do the same were I chosen as a member of the governing body here at Stout."

A transfer from the University of Wisconsin, Barb Pike is running for the office of secretary. Barb is a member of YWCA, Home Ec club, and Hyperians. She was very active while in high school and at the University. "I feel that my strong interest in Stout and Stout students and the offices I have held in the past will help me to truly represent the student body on their governing board. I hope that there will be close co-operation between the student body and the Stout Student Association so that they together can attain their common goals."

Another candidate for secretary is Nat Wick, a junior from Pearl City, Illinois. Nat is a member of Home Ec club, WRA, Stoutonia, Tower, Student Welfare Committee, and Alpha Sigma Alpha. She was also very active while in high school. "I feel qualified to represent the student body on the governing board because I have a deep interest in the welfare of the students, and within reason, it is for their benefit on which I will base my decisions. I know many students at Stout. My duties are foremost in my mind, and I strive to complete each task to the very best of my ability."

Loren Johnson, a sophomore from Manitowoc, is running for the office of treasurer. He is a member of Stout Typographical Society, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Stoutonia, L.S.A., Intramural basketball, and bowling. "I have been a student here for two years, and I am familiar with the students' likes, dislikes, and ideas they want put before the student governing board."

Also running for treasurer is Jerald Schoenike, a junior from Clintonville, Wisconsin. He is treasurer of Sigma Tau Gamma, treasurer of the junior class, and president of Gamma Delta. Also very active in high school, Jerry belongs to several archery organizations. Jerry feels he is capable for the office of treasurer. "The past three years at Stout have given me opportunity to hold the office of treasurer twice with two major organizations. The experience that I obtained from these positions, I feel, makes me qualified to hold the position of S.S.A. treasurer for the year 1956-1957. With the combination of my experience and desire to serve the student body, I feel that I could successfully fulfill the duties of that office."

F.O.B.'S RACK PHI SIGS IN GRUDGE GAME

F.O.B.'s Return To Victory After Last Years Defeat

Maybe you recall those historic prayerful lips by the FOB's after the words "We shall return" uttered on the 1955 Grudge game. Old man time finally pushed the calendar around so that his little band of courageous bucketeers could redeem the year old defeat that toyed with their conscience.

Saturday was "D" day—a crowd of cheering fans weathered the blizzard and came to witness the assault, humiliation personified. Undertakers from as far as Winona, Minnesota journeyed to partake of the remains.

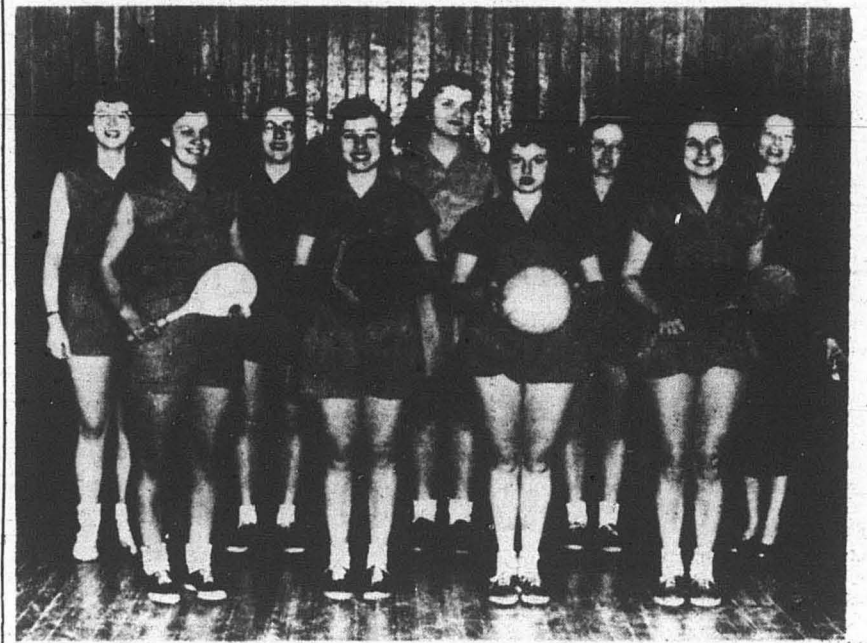

The FOB's warmed up, cool and confident as they poured in shot after shot—finally however it was time to go over to the gym.

Preliminaries over, the game began. The Phi Sigs nobly refused the 200 point handicap and insisted on no blindfolds. As the game progressed the brothers in black and white found little difficulty in pulling to a 21-14 lead at the quarter, and were never threatened. Half time found the reading 34-26.

Jim Sands found the range for 9 markers in a fast moving 3rd period and the victory was sweet, 65-50.

Olds had 14 to pace both teams. Sands lead the winners with 11. 14 FOB's hit in the dribble figures however (2 or more points.)

Pictured above are members of Stout's Women's Recreational Association, who tied for first place in a Sport Day held recently at La Crosse state college. The members of the group competed against colleges from Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa. Coeds who attended the meet were, left to right, Pat Soldner, Teaa Schroeder, Margaret Brown, Shirley Bournoville, Carolyn Grienke, Diane Bournoville, Muriel Erickson, and Miss Erdlitz, advisor.

EUGENE BATTIST IS SSA PRESIDENT

8 OF 10 STUDENTS VOTE IN STUDENT ELECTIONS

731 Students Cast Their Ballots Yesterday For Four New SSA Officers

Yesterday, 80% of the Stout student body took an active part in their SSA government and went to the poles to elect Eugene Battist, president; Jim Sand, vice-president; Nat Wick, secretary; and Jerry Schoenike, treasurer.

Jim Sand is a sophomore from Menomonie. He belongs to the F.O.B. fraternity and the S club, and participates in football, baseball, and intramural sports. In high school he was secretary and treasurer of M-club and president of the Red Cross. He also attended Badger Boys' State.

JIM SAND

In acquiring this position, Jim will have the responsibility of planning the activities as well as working with the other SSA officers.

Chosen as secretary was Nathalie Wick, a spirited junior girl from Pearl City, Illinois. In high school, Nat participated in FHA, Girls' Athletic Association, student council, school paper and yearbook. She received numerous scholastic awards and was DAR recipient. Here at Stout she has been active in Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, home economics club, WRA, Stoutonia staff, Tower staff, and student welfare committee. Offices Nat has held are: Tainter Hall president, home economics club vice-president, Tower associate editor, and Alpha Sigma Alpha membership director.

NAT WICK

This experience makes Nat qualified for the position. She will be working with the other officers to promote SSA government.

Jerry Schoenike, a junior from Clintonville, Wisconsin, is the new treasurer, Jerry, or "Shane" as he is known to friends, is treasurer of Sigma Tau Gamma and the junior class, president of Gamma Delta, and participated in arts and crafts and intramural sports. He belongs to Wisconsin and Clintonville Bow Hunters and the national archery association. In high school, Jerry was president of two high-school clubs and was a major letter winner. A qualified person for the position of treasurer, Jerry will take over his duties at the start of fourth quarter along with the other new SSA officers. He will also work with students and governing board members in promoting better government for Stout state college.

Congratulations to the new SSA officers.

GREEN TEA SPONSORED BY FRESHMEN

Again this year, the Green Tea, sponsored by the freshmen girls from the Home Economics club, was a success. Under the general chairmanship of Peggy Douglas, everything went smoothly.

Food and decorations were all in keeping with traditional St. Patrick's Day. Green punch, shamrock cookies, marshmallows with green toothpicks, and nuts were included in the menu. Guests were greeted by a shamrock poster outside the door. The theme was further carried out with shamrocks hanging in the doorway, a shamrock centerpiece, and green candles placed strategically around the room. Food and decorations were planned by Mary Tickler and Louise Grant.

Door hostesses, neatly attired in green aprons, greeted the many guests with Dean Kirk, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Goodell, Betty Fralcy, Nat Wick, Della Medin, and Pat Christianson doing the honors of pouring.

Other committee heads were: publicity, Donna Enders; and clean-up, Mary Ellen Markgren.

Partly Cloudy
Mild Temps Due

The weatherbird's face is still a little red after last week's blizzard, but he said this morning that it won't happen again.

"Slightly warmer temperatures with south winds are in sight for this afternoon," he said, "with more of the same tomorrow."

"We may have some snow flurries or rain showers on Sunday," he added, but it doesn't look like a blizzard."

So it looks like it's safe to risk the "olopy on the road for a trip back to Ma's cooking.

ARTISTS TO BE THE TOPIC OF CONVOCATION

Ralson Crawford, one of today's most important artists, will lecture on "The Artist in America" at the March 21 convocation. His subject deals with the artist as a pictorial commentator on his experiences in mid-century America, as a teacher and as a guardian of quality. Mr. Crawford is well qualified to discuss these points. His work vibrates with the times; he has had considerable teaching experience and is disciplined, serious and effective in his painting, his lithographs and his photographs.

Mr. Crawford's first training in art was in Los Angeles at what is now the Los Angeles County Art Institute. For three years he studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, then a year in Europe where he spent a great deal of time in the museums to further strengthen the foundations on which his art is built. To him, Rembrandt and El Greco stand at the top of Western artists, but in Spain he discovered Goya who is equally important to him.

During World War II, Mr. Crawford was in the Army Air Force. One assignment took him to the China-Burma-India Theatre which gave him a chance to visit Ajanta, Ellora and other sites related to India's great past. In 1946 he was an eye-witness to Test Able, the detonation of the atomic bomb at Bikini. His pictorial comments published in Fortune Magazine some months later revealed that he was deeply shaken by the glimpse of a destruction with the potential of ultimate doom.

Mr. Crawford's teaching experience includes universities, museums and academies, and lecture tours have taken him to 28 colleges in the U. S. In addition to representation in 35 public collections and in groups shows in this country and abroad, he has had 30 one-man shows in New York and other cities. His photographs have been given prominence in magazines and newspapers on both sides of the Atlantic.

SENIOR CLASS GIFT SUGGESTIONS NEEDED

More suggestions for the senior class gift are needed so that whatever is chosen will not only be the most practical but the most desired by the class. Any and all ideas may be given to one of the class officers before March 23. The possibilities of these suggestions will be carefully looked into by a student committee and a final vote will be taken at the next meeting.

A junior from Waterloo, Wisconsin, Eugene Battist was chosen to serve the Stout student body as president of the S.S.A. An active veteran on the campus, Hooker will work closely with students and faculty in promoting student government. He is a member of Delta Kappa fraternity.

SSA BOARD HEAD TO ASSUME NEW POST

NOTICE

Alice in Dairyland will be on campus from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. today. Barb Brown will be in the student personnel office at this time to talk to any women who are interested in entering the Alice in Dairyland contest in 1956. Stout women are urged to interview Alice in Dairyland.

PRES. FRYKLUND NAMED TO SELF-STUDY PROJECT

Named as a consultant to participate in the Tuskegee Institute self-study has been Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college. The self-study project of the famous Negro college is an important factor in that Institute's Diamond Jubilee.

Dr. Fryklund will be on the Tuskegee campus for almost a week at the end of March to observe and evaluate the School of Mechanical Industries there. He will also be present for Tuskegee's Ninth Annual Trades and Engineering conference. Goal of the self-study with which he will assist is "to aid Tuskegee in clarifying its objectives, strengthening its program content, and improving its operation."

Directing the self-study is Dr. Fred J. Kelly, well-known educator and former member of the U. S. Office of Education. Typical of the consultants with whom Dr. Fryklund will be a colleague is Dr. R. B. Stewart, vice-president in charge of business affairs at Purdue university.

Tuskegee was founded by Booker T. Washington in 1881. The faculty and staff are now seeking to evaluate their achievements of the past and make plans for continuing effective service in the future.

The original school, with an enrollment of 30 students, began in a shanty in Tuskegee, Alabama. Today the

Elected Yesterday, HOOKER Will Begin Duties Next Week As Quarter Begins

Eugene Battist, better known as "Hooker," was elected yesterday by the students as president of the Stout Student Association.

A junior from Waterloo, Wisconsin, Eugene has been active in campus activities and student affairs. He is an active member in the Delta Kappa fraternity and the S-Club. He has held the office of alumni secretary in the Delta Kappa fraternity for two years. Eugene also participates in varsity football and baseball and intramural sports.

In his sophomore year in high school, Hooker was class president. Also in high school he served as president of letterman's club in his senior year.

Uncle Sam claimed Eugene for two years of army life.

These qualifications will prove helpful to Eugene in the ensuing year. As president of the SSA, he will have ample opportunity to use his experiences in working with fellow students and faculty. As president of the governing board, Hooker will preside over all governing board meetings and will work for the good of the student body.

Eugene was sponsored by several campus groups.

STOUTONIA STAFF SETS DATE FOR FIELD TRIP

The Stoutonia Staff field trip is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, March 27. The group, which produces the Stoutonia, official weekly paper of the Stout state college, is interested in examining other newspapers and types of news collection and has chosen the Star-Tribune Press and Radio Station WCCO, both of Minneapolis.

The trip is an annual undertaking of the Stoutonia Staff and is directed by Lloyd Whydowski. All members are invited to attend this interesting and educational program.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

In the past few weeks this desk has received a number of letters suggesting changes in policy by the administration of the college, changes by the student governing board, and just plain changes, period.

Fine. Send them in! We encourage active participation in affairs that concern you as a student, and we're sure that the administration would welcome any constructive criticisms that you may have to offer.

But, there are two things to keep in mind when writing a letter to the editor of this school paper, or, for that matter, any newspaper.

(1) If it's worthwhile printing for public consumption then it's worthwhile signing your name to the letter. Any letter that is published without the writer's signature becomes, in the eyes of the reader, the thoughts and feelings of the news-paper itself. This is not always true!

(2) Make your criticisms constructive. Be prepared to back up any statement you make with facts (we may want to take issue with you on the subject in our editorial column).

Before you write the letter, sit down and think it through. Will a published letter do any good? Is the problem important enough to take up space in the news-paper? Do you have all the facts? Are you considering the other possible sides to the question? Could you get quicker and more satisfactory results by contacting the responsible party directly? Will your letter unjustly hurt some individual? Is the purpose of your letter mainly to bring attention to yourself?

CLUB NEWS

The members of the Dietetic club accompanied by Miss Meiller and Miss Harper will visit the Mayo Clinic Monday, March 19. They will be shown the clinic buildings, some of the phases of the dietetic internship program, and they will also meet the Public Nutritionist. This trip is just one of several which has been planned to show the girls what dietetics has to offer as a career. March 17 the girls will attend the district meeting of the Northern Wisconsin Dietetics Association members which will be held at Chippewa Falls.

The Tri Sigma sorority sponsored a dance for Joan Wonoski, their candidate for vice-president of S.S.A., last Monday night from 9 to 10 p.m.

At 9:30 the sorority presented their candidate and sang a campaign song. A good time was enjoyed by all.

"To Dance or Not," will be the title of the discussion at the Gamma Delta meeting Sunday evening at 5 p.m. A vesper service will be held at the church. A cost supper will be served by the committee and entertainment will be provided.

Members are asked to contribute some point in the discussion. "Dance will be the word for scripture roll call. Plans will be made for a regional convention to be held at La Crosse, April 13-15.

The circle of Alpha Sigma Alpha has again enlarged as Gamma Beta chapter was installed at Stevens Point recently. Beta Phi is happy and proud to have been a part of this big occasion. Seven Beta Phi's, Nat Wick, Vicki Kirk, Gloria McNeight, Aleen Shina-barger, Diane Darcy, Carol Becker, and Patty Sylvester were members of the installing team. National officers from Buffalo, New York; Indianapolis, Chicago, and St. Louis, as well as representatives from several college chapters were in Stevens Point to welcome the new chapter into the sisterhood of Alpha Sigma Alpha. A week-end of ceremonies, banquets, friendships and fun gave each and every A.S.A. "memories to remember."

"The Wearing of the Green," the mixer sponsored by the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity last Tuesday evening, March 13, was a huge success. Popular records for dancing were

The attending students enjoyed the free entertainment during the evening.

TRI SIGS HOLD OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL

Tri Sigma held its officers' candidate school on Saturday, March 10, for the new officers. It was conducted by Mrs. Guy Salter, the alumni advisor.

Sunday evening the sorority went serenading to introduce Joan Wonoski, a candidate for S.S.A. vice president, and to announce the mixer held in honor of Joan on March 12.

Final plans for campaigning and stunt night were made. The group went in a body to the play, "My Three Angels". New officers will be installed on March 17.

EAT A GOOD BREAKFAST DURING NUTRITION WEEK

Are you a breakfast skipper? If so, why not try eating a good protein rich breakfast each morning during nutrition week. Chances are that you will enjoy the energy you get from it and will make breakfast a daily habit long after nutrition week is past. Suggestion: Fruit, cereal or toast, an egg, and milk; or ½ grapefruit, poached egg on toast, milk, and coffee.

PHI SIGS PRESENT SKIT, SPONSOR FREE MIXER

Phi Sig skit night was presented on March 7. The night was begun with a free record dance at 8:00 p.m., and the skit itself began at 9:00. The skit was known as the Hob and Back Show, a take-off on a radio program. For talent there were many guest stars including a singing duet, a poet, and a professor (slightly inebriated, fictitious or otherwise). The announcers told jokes between the attractions, adding greatly to the humor of the skit.

After the skit, the dancing was resumed and lasted until 10:00. Congratulations to the fellows who planned and participated in the skit night.

FRAT SPONSORED MILK BAR FOR STUDENTS

The annual F.O.B. Milk Bar was in full swing on March 14 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The festivities took place in Harvey Memorial. The refreshments consisted of plain and chocolate milk and a huge selection of cookies. Every one was invited to attend, as many preparations had taken place in getting this attraction ready.

The Texas-born captain of an all-Texas company in North Africa told his men: "One of our jobs here is to promote friendliness. We've got to humor the natives. If they say that Africa is bigger than Texas, agree with them."

MRS. C. CERNER VISITS CAMPUS, TRI SIGMAS

The Tri Sigma sorority was honored March 7th and 8th by having one of their national officers, Mrs. C. A. Cerner, on campus with them. The purpose of her visit was to meet and confer with new officers and to renew acquaintance with old officers on the campus.

On her arrival Wednesday afternoon, she was entertained at the "Heidelberg Tea" in Harvey Memorial and after was accompanied to Jeatran's for dinner by the old and new officers of the sorority. The remainder of the evening was spent with the entire sorority for a business meeting and social hour at the home of Mrs. Vaneck.

Thursday was spent in individual conferences with the new officers. At noon Mrs. Cerner attended Tea Room with sorority members.

Thursday was spent in individual conferences with the new officers, attending a RooTm, and attending the M.A.P. production, "My Three Angels" with sorority members.

Mrs. Cerner left Menomonie Friday morning enroute to Minneapolis which was to be her next stop.

DIETETIC'S CLUB PUNCH HOUR WILL BE THE 28th

Join us all in enjoying the ABC's of good nutrition Wednesday afternoon, March 28, in the Harvey Memorial. A is for carrots, B is for whole wheat crackers, and C is for orange juice.

This is the second annual "punch hour" sponsored by the Dietetic Club. Come and enjoy such tasty snacks as peanut butter stuffed prunes and a few other wholesome surprises.

SAVE THAT OLD HAT

Could Doctor Salter recognize his old hats if he saw them?

A good guess at the answer to this question is "NO". At least not the ones that are among the models displayed in the Clothing Department showcase. Girls in the millinery classes have glamorized these masculine hats into feminine versions which make them unrecognizable.

A glance at the showcase will show that numerous old hats have been transformed into exciting new chap-eaux.

The clothing department is sending out a call for help. The millinery classes can use your old hats, scraps of material, and old or broken jewelry. There is a box for your donations beside the showcase which bears the following verse?

"When you clean your house this spring, Don't throw away a single thing, Save old hats and trinkets too; For if they are no good to you, We will welcome anything, That you would care to bring. Just drop it in this "treasure chest" And we'll thank you with much zest.

The Stout Snooper

The average American male stands five feet nine inches tall, weighs 158 pounds, prefers brunettes, baseball, beefsteak, and french fried potatoes, and thinks the ability to run a home smoothly and efficiently is the most important quality in a wife. Do you agree? It is so common around Stout to hear "the average male" or the "typical child", etc. Well, just what is the American average and are you the people on the Stout campus, typical of Americans?

To continue, the average American female is five feet four, weighs 132, can't stand an unshaven face, thinks husbands drink too much, prefers marriage to a career, but wants the word "obey" taken out of the wedding ceremony. I think that the "typical" Stout coed complies to the data.

Now we shall consider the weight problem. As you know, Americans are weight conscious and 34 million adults consider themselves too fat and would like to take off poundage; but only one in four has seriously tried to do anything about it. Women are much more eager to lose weight than men, so say the statistics. This year, in my snooping, I have noticed that about four formerly "chubby" girls have now streamlined their weight; two have lost at least 35 pounds!

Approximately half of the U.S. adults have trouble getting to sleep. Married persons experience less sleeplessness than single; the divorced and widowed have the most trouble. Main cause: nervous tension. Four in ten do nothing about it, just toss and turn. The next largest group takes sedatives and pills (including pink aspirins, huh?) How many of you would be in either of these categories concerning sleeplessness? And why? Just relax!

Girls looking for prospective husbands (so all or almost all Stout coeds please note: men under 30 like colored polish on women's fingernails; men over 30 don't. Men divide evenly (42 percent apiece) on whether a woman's looks or her brains are more important. If you thing brains are more important, consult last weeks Stoutonia for listing of the Dean's List or if you think beauty is first, then consult the 16 beauty contest candidates which Stout chose on February 28.

According to the 1954 statistics, gentlemen prefer brunettes to blondes. Six out of every 10 prefer brunettes, three in ten blondes, and the other ones like redheads. Blondes, incidentally, are outnumbered by other women in the population, five to one. I wonder, if the statistics included peroxidized blondes.

The best age for a girl to get married is 20 and for a man 25, so says the survey. Long engagements are better than short; engagements of three months or less lead to three times as many divorces as engagements of two years or more.

The notion that today's young people are "going to the dogs" finds little support among American parents. The weight of opinion is that these young people have more common sense than those of a generation ago.

Americans don't travel as much as you'd think. Fifteen million persons never in their lives have been more than 250 miles from home. One person in ten has never traveled on a train. Here again, Stout students would be considered real travelers.

The typical American goes to bed at ten o'clock on week nights, an hour later on Saturdays. He gets up at 6:30 a.m. on weekday mornings, eight o'clock on Sunday. Wow, here the Stouters are really below average!! At Stout the typical student goes to bed probably around 11:30 p.m. on week nights and ? on Saturdays.

To conclude today's snooping, here are the two favorite mottos of the American people. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" and "Live and let live!"

Are you "typical" or "average?" Well, form your own conclusions.

CANTERBURY CLUB MET WITH EAU CLAIRE

The Stout Canterbury club met with its Eau Claire teachers college counterpart at the Episcopalian Cathedral in Eau Claire, Sunday evening, the twenty sixth.

Evansong service was conducted by Dean Brandt of Eau Claire followed by a supper served by the local young peoples fellowship.

Following supper, Micheal Ochuba was asked to tell the group about life in his country and to answer questions about the beliefs and customs which they follow. He also explained the book collection project being conducted at Stout for the people of Nigeria.

Although Eau Claire members have already contributed a number of books, they have expressed interest in starting a campaign in their own school.

An evening of games and contests concluded the meeting, allowing members of the two groups to renew acquaintances made when Eau Claire visited Menomonie in December.

CONGO CLUB MEETS FOR SUPPER AND TALK

Congo Club met this week at the Harbour home, 303 12th Street. Supper was served at 5:30 followed by a talk by Roger Knight. Roger, a student at Eau Claire state college, told about his summer's experience with the Indians in the Dakotas.

Next meeting Sunday, March 18 will be held at the church at 5:30. Dr. Nitz will be the speaker on the subject, "Science and Religion."

DORM NEWS

Did the Annex have a dorm party? Did the Annex have a dorm party? And did everyone have a ball? Well, they sure did and it seems they would like another one. It has been known there is a time in the life of almost every freshman girl when a dorm party looms high on the horizon and soon there is all-round perplexities. But never fear when good fellowship is near for it has been proved beyond a doubt that they can be a lot of fun.

The theme for this gala affair was "Leap Year '56" and decorations were carried out in green and white. With the dream music of W.W.'s Hi Fi set the kids really had a ball dancing to a stack of very danceable records. The food department did a good job of dishing up the cake, ice cream, and pop and a good time was had by all.

Now that the dorm party is over, though, we still have the term paper ahead of us. It was great fun rushing through the library looking for the different articles and all, but there is still a lot of work to be done. Really though, when you get the girls at the right moment, like when their minds are off on another tangent, you can get them to admit it isn't too bad.

The brave "Eich" girls had a booth at the S-Carnival and it was a lot of fun. The theme of the deal was to throw powderpuffs of pancake batter at two bathing beauties. Although it was a lot of fun, it was reported they lost $.60 on the day's work.

By the way...who goes where on what nights? And why by taxi? Ask the girls at "Eich." Maybe they'll tell you and maybe they won't!

Also...who put saran wrap where and why? For that answer, consult the girls at the Hall. It's a dilly! !

ALL FOR A TERM PAPER

"Let's see, I have 105 note cards, a five page outline, now if I only knew what my topic is" and it's almost that bad.

Harried freshmen are now undertaking the annual English term paper to their dread and despair.

To find a topic was the first obstacle put in the course. It wasn't any old topic either. This topic had to be about a person with a quality-they're not too hard to find now-a-days—a change in the last five years. Walt Disney came into the picture—or an argumentative paper on the fine arts. Glassy-eyed freshmen are heard to mutter about the latter subject as to what there was to argue about; starry-eyed coeds wondered what fine arts were.

The topics chosen have as much variety as people and limited imagination would allow. Frank Lloyd Wright has come into his own despite his non-apparent love for Wisconsin with 15 students choosing him as a man with a contribution. Abe (Yankee) Lincoln and Confederate Lee have been found to have those sought after qualities. The feminine population wasn't overlooked either. All the way from dynamic Mrs. Roosevelt to Marian Anderson and Pearl Buck; students have found information to be used. Though one might expect the boys to capitalize on Henry Ford, which they did; one enterprising young man has taken the three types of kitchens in use today. He must be looking into the future; any girl want to help him?

Everyone has been given a folder containing complete detailed instructions on how to write a term paper. In fact every day another page of instructions is being added till some students are contemplating writing a term paper on "How To Write A Term Paper."

Who are they to pass up all that information; they won't even have to go to the library.

Note cards, bibliography cards, rough drafts, fine drafts, and finer drafts are still to be looked for in the future. Every plan is being revolved around, "After I get my term paper done, then we'll..."

Buck up—there's a rumor around that next year two or three term papers will be required, so this is really a snap. Is it??

SOME FOODS LOW IN CALORIES

I'm so full I can't even eat my dessert.

Would you be able to say that if you were on a low calorie diet? Such statements were made by the girls in Diet and Disease class after they had eaten a low calorie diet planned according to a relatively new pattern developed by the Nutrition Department at Michigan state college. The pattern is moderate in fat content allowing for one half of the total calories to be used for fat, one to one and ½ grams of protein are allowed for each kilogram of body weight, and the remainder of the calories are used for carbohydrate. Such a diet is satisfying and gives you that "full feeling" with fewer calories.

Eye and taste appeal are very important, and these menus which the girls ate were very colorful and full of flavor.

Breakfast consisted of ½ chilled grapefruit; 2 eggs fried or scrambled in 1 tsp. of butter; 1 slice of toast; 1 tsp. butter; 1 glass of whole milk; and coffee.

Lunch was made up of fat free bouillon, tomato stuffed with cottage cheese, lettuce wedges, broccoli, dill pickles; green beans, orange slices or ½ large apple, 1 glass whole milk, and coffee.

Dinner consisted of minute steak, broiled; spinach with lemon wedges*; cauliflower; celery sticks; sour pickles*; D-Zerta*; 1 glass whole milk; and coffee.

*Free Foods—no calories or not enough calories to count. D-Zerta is a trade name for a gelatin dessert sweetened with saccharine.

This daily diet is one of several which the girls plan and prepare during the semester for Diet and Disease class. The other diets which will be done are restricted sodium, diabetic, and bland. "Learning by doing" is very useful as the girls have found out. It makes it possible for the student to become familiar with the specific type of diet and it develops in the student an insight into the problems which individuals on modified diets face.

PERSONALITIES DEVELOPED IN ART CLASS

Several freshman girls have recently been seen rummaging through waste baskets and other refuse in the Bowman Hall shops. It was not unusual to hear someone exclaim, "This is just what I need!" "Doesn't this look just like a?" or some other equally ridiculous remark.

Any ordinary observer would have thought these students were slightly "off" but most Stout students know and understand that Miss Williams had once again assigned the personality problem.

By this assignment, each freshman tells of design studies in required to use form, line, color, and texture to depict her personality. This task calls for a considerable amount of careful thought and meditation, but nearly every student comes through with an appropriate personality that is completely different from that of any other student that "every" well-dressed.

Several of these personalities are accompanied by their explanations and now on display in the fundamentals of design laboratory, and anyone interested is welcome to come and browse around.

STATISTICS GIVEN ON CONFERENCE PLAYERS

The average basketball player in the state conference is 6 feet. Only 8 letter winners out of 66 in the conference last year were over 6 feet 6 inches and two reached only 5 feet 7 inches.

Rog Hanson at Eau Claire is the tallest and stands 6 feet 2 inches.

Football players are not all monsters either. Only 13 of 147 letter winners on the 10 conference teams weighed more than 200 pounds. The average griddle was 184 pounds, and the smallest, Jim Mason of La Crosse, weighed in at 139 pounds after Thanksgiving dinner.

Most football players come from high schools in cities of 10,000-50,000 while cities of 2,500 to 5,000 provide the fewest.

Basketball players hail equally from small, medium, and large high schools, the smallest number coming from cities with more than 50,000 population.

PHI SIG'S INITIATE FIVE PLEDGES

Five pledges were informally initiated into Phi Sigma Kappa last night. These five, just recently assuming the rank of "men," are CHRY Adair, Eddie Birch, Carl Brooks, Pat Spielman, and Len Wilde.

The pledges are all sorry to see "hell" week pass. Any doubts as to the truth of this statement will be removed by asking Eddie Birch, who was also in the play, presented last week, or Carl Brooks, who, "celebrated" his birthday last Saturday. They will all miss their early-morning breakfast details, their noon-hour skits, fishing in sewers, and all of the other enjoyable moments that go along with pledging.

The Phi Sigs wish to thank everyone who patronized them on their car-washing day last Saturday, March 3. The success of the venture may bring a similar event in the future.

HEIDELBERG TEA WELL ATTENDED BY ALL

The annual Old Heidelberg Tea sponsored by the Hypanian society was held recently in the Harvey Memorial. Members of the society wore their costumes of full cotton shirts, peasant blouses, and aprons all day to advertise the event. The atmosphere of a typical beer garden was provided by serving "beer" (root) and "ale" (ginger) at a bar and at tables covered with red and white checked tablecloths.

Recorded music, featuring Maria Lanza's Drinking Song from the "Student Prince," played as those who attended munched pretzels, potato chips, and popcorn with their beverages. The tea was well attended by students and faculty members, and the boys especially seemed to be more at ease than usual.

S S C STUDENTS ATTEND RECENT WORKSHOP

Province VII Workshop of the college section of the Home Economics clubs was attended recently by Ardrie Betty Foley, Marion Kindisch, and Jermaine Polkman. It was held at the Alerton Hotel in Chicago.

The ideas of home economics students from schools in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin were discussed. Miss Sokentianin spoke on "Home Economics Education in Indonesia" and Mary Dettler talked on "An Adopted Daughter in a Foreign Land." The girls enjoyed a demonstration on "Fun with Hints" given by Mrs. Martha McDonald. One afternoon was spent on touring various places in Chicago.

Miss Ann Noble served as advisor for the group.

WIFE HAS LAST SAY

It may seem strange to you but it did actually happen. Many many years ago there arose a great crisis in the town of Maudslayi. Everyone of us knows, at least within our hearts, that in everything the wife has the last say. But at that time the wives did not stop there only. The married male members of the town were plagued so much by the indiscriminate oppressions and bossiness of the wives that they called for a great meeting to find ways and means to lessen their sufferings in the hands of the ablest first Professor Ghani became the president of the meeting and he was fully qualified of it because there was nobody who had suffered like him for sixty years straight by his molesting wife.

The president in his sober and lofty voice inaugurated the meeting by tracing the history of how males had been caught and captured by the females and then how the women-race was becoming more and more powerful day by day and proved the fact that the husbands had become slaves so far as the wives were concerned and concluded his speech by urging all members to find effective ways to put a check to all these.

Now the meeting was in full swing and many powerful speakers were blustering against the wives when the gatekeeper very hurriedly entered there and declared that all the wives were coming in a procession to attack the meeting place. He also announced that they were armed with deadly weapons like broomsticks, forked spoons, scythes etc., and the party was led by Mrs. Ghani. Then what happened? Like the flock of sheep in front of a leopard, they all cleared off through the doors and windows, penetrating the walls and the roofs, and jumping over the surrounding boundary walls. In no time the meeting place was empty, all cleared. No, it was mistaken. It was quite empty. Professor Ghani did not leave his presidential chair. He did not move, nor did he say anything. The gatekeeper bowed again and again and requested him most solemnly to leave the place by saying: "Even great warlord Chengis Khan would be ashamed to see your courage, but this is not the proper time. Now the procession is almost near the gate, soon it will be too late to leave." But Professor Ghani neither moved nor said anything and he continued to stare in front of him. Then the gatekeeper went near him and tried to lift him in order to take him away. Professor Ghani was motionless, cold, dead.

STOUT RIM FIRERS SHOT BEST MATCH

This last week the Stout Rim Firers shot their best three position match of the season and climbed to the goal placed at the beginning of the year. The goal was a 1300 point match and this last week the team shot a 1304 point postal match against the University of Pittsburgh. The scores for the Stout team were: Ong, 279; McNaughton, 273; Voels, 298; Besudry, 258; and Litchner, 258. It is hoped that the team will be able to make some more in the National Intercollegiate Rifle Team Championship Sectional Match held at the University of Minnesota Saturday, March 17. This match will highlight the indoor smallbore shooting for the 1935-1936 year.

Starting the week before Easter the Rifle club will be shooting highpower rifles on the Eau Claire National Rifle Club 600 yard course at Eau Claire. During the last few weeks some members have been handicapping center fire ammunition for the outdoor shooting this spring.

N. C. ZIEMANN HEADS SPEECH CONFERENCE

Chosen as instructor of a six-state speech conference for instructors in the job training and safety program of the REA has been Norman C. Ziemann, chairman of the speech department of Stout state college.

The conference is being held in Dubuque, Ia., March 1-3. Participating is the Wisconsin Board of Vocational and Adult Education, of which C. L. Greiber is director.

Central core of the Dubuque gathering will be instruction in public speaking. To accomplish this Ziemann will give several short lectures in techniques of speaking, augmented with demonstrations and tape recordings.

Each job training and safety instructor from the six participating states will also have an opportunity to put the speech training to practical use in a brief talk before the group.

Last December, Dr. David Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout state college, cooperated with the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education to instruct REA personnel in techniques of audio-visual instruction.

WIVES IN PAKISTAN!

Once upon a time there was a king named Maula in the land now called Midnapore. One morning when his favorite minister tried to cut a joke he brushed him aside by saying that he was in no good mood. On inquiry it was found that the previous night the king had a good reason for the queen. The minister assured the king that this was not a matter worth taking notice of as every man was afraid of his wife and the way the queen treated him was a day-to-day affair in every house. The king did not believe him and he challenged him to prove that every man was afraid of his wife. The minister accepted the challenge and a bet was set.

The minister circulated by drummers and announced the king's order that all married male members of the town were required to assemble at the plain field near the foot of the hill on a fixed day. The day came and there was a great crowd. From a big platform the minister announced: "Our king wants to know the answer to a question. Those who are afraid of their wives move to the foot of the hill and those who are not move towards the plain ground."

A storm of dust was there. Have you not seen how the dry leaves and scrap papers are blown away in front of a hurricane? So, it was. Trampling

K. T. OLSEN HAS BOOK PUBLISHED

Author of a newly-published book, "Woodworking Projects and Planning Guide," is K. T. Olsen, associate professor of industrial education at Stout state college. The Bruce Publishing Co. of Milwaukee has recently made the volume available to schools.

Included in Professor Olsen's text are plans and directions for projects in 20 handicraft areas as well as a shop project score sheet, analysis chart, interest area, classification, and reference list. Several evaluation and job plan sheets also accompany the book.

The text is designed for use by a crafts teacher or teacher for core projects in which all members participate. It is also valuable to adults or young persons who wish ideas and directions for building handicraft articles. Not only is stress laid upon interesting projects, but also upon appreciation of design and craftsmanship by knowledge of factors which affect that design and craftsmanship.

DORM IS REPRESENTED AT WINTER ACTIVITIES

The Stout Ski club is very well represented from the Dorms. It seems the girls like to go out on the hills for all sorts of reasons. Some look at the scenery from the top of "Highway 12," some like to take for the woods, and some of them even ski. Then there is also the "Chalet Skier," but none of the dormmates would do that.

Seems all the girls liked the Winter Rendezvous and thought it was a good way to get all that healthy activity in. But guess the dorms didn't do too well in the activities they participated in. It was too bad that Lyndon beat us, but then brute force is bound to win over gallant charm.

and pushing each other the crowd ran towards the hill and within a short time the foot of the hill was covered with all the people and the field was empty, completely empty. The king could not believe his eyes. But the minister told the king that he was not fully satisfied with the results as he expected a tall, lanky fellow standing alone in the middle of the open field. He called the man and asked him, "Don't you dread your wife?" "Yes," was the reply. "Then why are you in the plain field instead of moving towards the hill?" "I do not understand all these things, Sir. While I was coming here my wife told me: 'Look, don't be in a place where there is crowd.' So..."

SUCCESS OF ALUMNI NEWS DEPENDS ON YOU

Dear Alumni,

By now the latest issue of the Stout Alumni Newsletter should be in your hands. We hope this will help you keep posted on the recent happening here on the campus and about your former classmates. Special thanks are hereby given to Lloyd Whydowski for supervision of the printing, to Tom Fleming for editing the copy, and to the many others who sent us the news items.

We want another issue of the newsletter ready for an early fall mailing. In order to make this possible we need your help! If you haven't already done so—sit down now and complete the information blank form that you received with the newsletter. The success of the next newsletter and the continued success of the news section in the Stoutonia depends on your willingness to send us the news.

Why not take a couple minutes of your time and do it now?

Your secretary,

JACK LONGSHORE

There is a fella by the name of Jack Who is as sharp as the point of a tack And is considerate and kind to all people

In spite of the way they act.

Jack has a blue Ford—without a running board

And drives it as smooth as the blade of a sword

Taking people to their destination Wherever they board.

Jack's last name is Longshore

And because of that name I could write more

But since I'm running out of paper

I'll just open the front door

And tell everyone how nice

It is to know one swell guy

BOWLING IS NEW W.R.A. SPORT; LEAGUES SET UP

Bowling is the new sport being played in the Women's Recreation Association during the month of March. Joan McLaughlin, sports manager, has set up two leagues to play every Monday and Tuesday evening. All members are asked to check the bulletin board in the gym for the bowling schedule.

An invigorating basketball season was just completed with Shirley Bournoville's energetic team claiming championship with an undefeated record. High scorers for the season were Diane Bournoville, Shirley Bournoville, Rita Pauls, and Barbara Bender.

SSC STUDENTS JOIN CAMPUS FRATERNITIES

Pledging has once again rolled in at Stout. The four fraternities on campus have selected their pledges and have formally initiated them. These pledges have gone through many varied and trying tasks during the week before becoming full pledged members of their respective fraternities.

Students at Stout and people of various other levels may recognize the weird looking men (?) of the different fraternities by the following means: The Sigma Tau Gamma pledges carry a blue and white shield with a golden sword and wear a blue and white helmet. The Delta Kappa's wear red hats and red sashes. The F.O.B.'s wear black hats and black bow ties. The Phi Sigs wear straw hats, red ties, and carry a wooden cane.

The new fraternity members are as follows:

Sigma Tau Gamma Pledges: Gerald Porter, Robert Anderson, Keith Dame, Ralph Stevens, and Alan Finnell.

Phi Sig Pledges: Carl Brooks, Ed Birch, Cliff Aderholdt, Len Wilde, Pat Spielman.

Delta Kappa Pledges: Jim Moliter, Dick Backus, Ivan Isaacson, Bill Jylha, and Bruce Eland.

F.O.B. Pledges: Dick Brehm, Dick Johnson, John Kotek, Bob Neimeste, Pete Jackson, Roger Brennan, Jerry Stauffacher, Ed Stori, and Bill Neuman.

STYLE SHOW PLANNED BY STUDENTS

"Memories are Made of This" will be the theme of the Home Economics club style show, which will be presented April 21. General chairman of the show is Connie Chellman.

The style show will feature Stout coeds modeling new spring cottons, tailored coats, wool dresses, formal attire, and dressy dresses. A special feature will be a showing of some hats from the millinery class.

At the present time, the script committee, under the head of Rhea Van Vleet is gathering material for the show. Working with Rhea are Helen Froehlich, Adeline Boche, Gloria Scholz, Mary Ellen Imse, Carmen Krings, Kay Ritzman, and Corrine Livingston.

PRES. FRYKLUND...

John Kotek, left, swings with a powerful left jab at Dick Brehm, right, his opponent in one of the boxing matches at the "S" club boxing and wrestling show Wednesday evening. Kotek, an ex-marine fighter from New Prague, Minn., landed the first and third rounds to defeat Brehm, a resident of Knapp.

"S" CLUB EVENT DRAWS LARGE CROWD; GILBERTSON, KOTEK, AND WILLS WIN MATCHES

Last Wednesday night a large crowd witnessed one of the best athletic events of the year. The event was the second annual "S" club boxing and wrestling show which was held at the high school gym. The crowd was cheering throughout the night as they witnessed three boxing matches and four wrestling matches plus two exhibition fights.

GILBERTSON, KOTEK, and WILLS WIN BOXING MATCHES

The well matched bouts produced two TKO's. Doug Gilbertson from Clayton, Wisconsin, scored a TKO over Dave Springer from Menomonie, Wisconsin, in the third round. Gilbertson blasted Springer to the floor once in the first round, landing rocking left hands to the head. The fighters exchanged hard blows in the second round and Gilbertson had his foe in trouble early in the third round when the fight was stopped.

The second bout of the evening matched John Kotek, ex-marine fighter from New Prague, Minnesota, and Dick Brehm from Knapp, Wisconsin. Experience payed off as Kotek TKO'd Brehm in the third round.

Kotek crowded Brehm through the first round and slammed hard rights to the head and body. Kotek continued to press the fight in the second round although Brehm landed the round.

Kotek came out strong in the third round and had his opponent in trouble until the fight was stopped.

Vern Wills from Helena, Illinois, decisiohed Dick Leisen from Plainview, Minnesota, in the last bout of the evening. The fight was well matched as each boy used right hands to the head and mid-section.

Four boys from Stevens Point, who wrestled for Stevens Point high school, were victorious over four boys from Stout. The first wrestling match of the night was between Jim Borchardt from Point and Albert Kahalakulu from Waikuku, Maui, T.H. Borchardt, who won the Wisconsin State high school wrestling championship in the 136 pound class, was too much for Kahalakulu as he pinned his man in the third round.

The second wrestling match of the evening was between two brothers, Gene and Dick Tepp who hail from Stevens Point. The bout was good all the way as Gene won the decision by the score of 2-0 as he made a take-down in the second round.

The third bout matched Dick Dyer from Madison and Roy Hickey from Point. The Point boy took the match in the third round as he controlled his man (worth 2 points) and made a take down (also worth 2 points). The fight ended 4 to 1.

The last regular match of the evening was between two heavyweights, Doug McDonald from Black River Falls, Wisconsin, and Ron Kiefer from Point. The bout was close all the way but Kiefer squeezed by with a 7-5 decision.

Also on the card was a one round exhibition boxing bout between LeRoy Sharkey, a teacher from Glen Wood City, Wisconsin, and Bob Melrose who teaches at Menomonie high school. There was no decision.

Last on the card for the evening was an Australian tag match. It matched Art Goglin and John Oakeson against Ed Zillman and Lyle Martens. There was no decision for this match.

DK'S DEFEATED BY ASA TEAM IN BASKETBALL

The girls of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority grabbed the lead and held it all the way to a stunning victory over the seasoned Delta Kappa quint in a hard fought basketball game at the Menomonie high school gym recently. A goodly crowd turned out to witness this unique contest; it was a hilarious battle from start to finish. The score wound up at 26 to 23; it was nip and tuck all the way. "Sure Shot" King led the winners with 5 points and she was closely followed by "Jingling Ginny" Ehlers who massed 3 points. Others breaking into the scoring column with 2 points apiece were "Double Dribble" Paciotti, "Babe" Wick, "Tape" Schilstra, and "Hold on" Harmston. Although not hitting the backboards (or nets either) the following girls aided the team greatly: Misses McKnight, Bocke, Brackett, Sommer, Scheevel, Strodthoff, Neis, Darcy, Kirk, Drummond, Becker, Rammer, Johnson, and Weltzin. "Padre" Stahlkopf controlled the court and the scoring for the losers with 6 points. Arty "The Blonde Wonder" Goglin netted 4 points; Hooker "The Beast From 20,000 Fathoms" Battist had 5 points. Hitting for 2 points apiece for the D.K.'s were "Gate Guarder" Oakeson, "Meany" Messmer, "Red on the Head" Alexander, "Nothing" Noltner, and "Bjb" Daehling. Playing valiantly all through the contest but failing to hit the buckets for the D.K.'s were: "Buckets" Larson, "One Two" Gill, "Big Ed" Zillman, "Tow Head" Bettisworth, "Yodeling" Jones, and "Mean Mike" Kaczmariski. The D.K.'s expected to have a fight on their hands, but land o'goshen they were not ready for the holocaust that followed the opening whistle. No sooner did "White One" Wingert, the referee, toss the ball into the air than the story of the game was poliparatarilly (stay away from those dictionaries you pace setters, I just made the word up) written. "Stubby" Woodliff, the other referee could tell you that he knew the outcome of the game when the girls drove down the court and plunked in the first basket. So would Teaa Schroeder, the girl referee. The D.K.'s tried a desperation drive in the closing minutes, but the Alpha Sigma Alpha cagers stove off the attack led by "Rock and Roll" Rammer. Those who witnessed the contest will tell you it was an interesting game and an example of good sportsmanship and fun. Any underclassman who missed the game need not despair as it will be an annual affair in the future. After the game tragedy struck Coit Jones as someone lit the feather on his Swiss hat and before anyone could say Alexander Malenkonalitywitz it burned to a crisp. Anyway if anyone has a slightly used white turkey feather approximately 6" long please drop it in Coit's mail box. Bless you! Thanks for your time.

BASEBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN MONDAY

Students are conditioning for Stout state college's baseball team. Practice will begin Monday, March 19, as was announced by Coach Jack Wink.

The pitchers and catchers will report on the 19th, and all other candidates are to report on March 26. On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, practice will be held in the lower gym; on Tuesdays and Thursdays, work will be held in the upper gym. During the first week the practice hours will be from 3 to 5 p.m., and after that from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

SCHEDULE IS RELEASED FOR INTRAMURAL BALL

The schedule of games in the intramural volleyball league has been released by Jack Wink, director of campus intramurals. The schedule runs from March 13 through March 27.

There are seven teams entered this year. They are:

F.O.B., Delta Kappa, Cotton, Phi Omega Beta, Grads, Flabs, and the Derbys.

The schedule is as follows:

Monday March 19

5-7 N

1-4 C

2-3 S

Tuesday, March 20

6-4 N

7-3 C

1-2 S

Thursday, March 22

4-7 C

5-6 S

N stands for North Court

C stands for Center Court

S stands for South Court

To read this schedule, just refer to the team number and then check the schedule for that particular team's number.

The rules of the volleyball league are few indeed, but demand, respect, and heed the rules:

1. Six men on a side.

2. Game is fifteen points-must win by two points.

3. Only the team serving can score.

4. Volley (after serve) may consist of three hits, no two hits in succession by the same man.

5. No reaching (any portion) across net. Lost point or serve.

6. Teams not having six men on court by playing time will forfeit match (3 games).

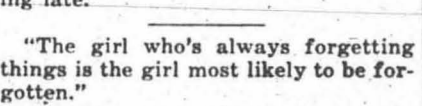

7. All games will be played in upper gym.

8. Championship will be determined by number of matches won. Matches to consist of three games. Winner of two out of three games is winner of the match.

9. In case of tie, in matches won, championship will be decided by the number of games won.

MARY WATERSTREET TO APPEAR IN "FIRST LADIES OF THE LAND" AT CONVOCATION MARCH 28

Mary Waterstreet, actress and columnist, will appear in her one-woman show, "First Ladies of the Land," March 28 at 10:00 a.m. Here she writes briefly of some of the women she impersonates, wearing authentic gowns. Do not underestimate the power of the little woman in the White House. In early administrations she may have been seen and heard less but the influence was there.

Usually the First Lady is taken for granted. She should not be. Without her the President might not have arrived. She may appear naive, feminine and retiring, and all these she may be; nevertheless, she has her own way of inspiring, prodding, helping in the interest of having her man achieve first place.

Martha Washington was a home person who read few books. It was she who helped set up social customs still maintained in the Executive mansion. She would have none of being seated on thrones as copied from European court life, but she sent to Paris for her best gowns. Martha and succeeding First Ladies until the Polk administration served wine to all guests.

Eleanor Roosevelt, who had to force herself to face the public, suffering from self-consciousness in the attempt, has done more than any other First Lady to make people conscious of the White House.

Mrs. Truman's place has not been written. She worked in her husband's senatorial office and kept house in a three-room apartment before being catapulted into the White House.

Mamie Eisenhower is the First Lady who has lived out of a suitcase all of her married life.

No one need envy a First Lady. The onslaughts of criticism, and gossip that cannot be answered, is mental cruelty. Endless functions are taxing. There has not been a First Lady who has not seemed to welcome exit from the Executive mansion. According to historians, she leaves kinder, wiser, and more tolerant of all human beings.

RALSON CRAWFORD CONVOCATION SPEAKER

Ralson Crawford presented a lecture on "The Artist in America" at the Wednesday convocation. He gave a verbal picture of the artist in mid-century America.

Crawford had many excellent ideas which pertained to painting, lithographs, and photographs. He discussed Rembrandt, El Greco, and many other leading artists. He elaborated on Goya, who he is much interested in.

JUDGES SELECT CAMPUS COVER GIRL FOR STOUT

Miss Carol Schilstra, a senior from Sheboygan, has been selected by a local panel of judges to represent Stout state college in the "Campus Cover Girl" contest.

The contest is being conducted by the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune. Miss Schilstra, along with about 38 other

CAROL SCHILSTRA

Upper Midwest college coeds, will be judged by the reader of the paper on facial beauty only.

A colorphoto of the winner will be published on the cover of the Picture Magazine and the same issue there will appear a picture story of the winner.

NEW L.S. COMPLETED FOR MILLINERY COURSE

Millinery, one of the newest electives, is being taught in a new laboratory on second floor. Mrs. Vanek and Miss Van Ness have worked hard to make this dream come true.

Items of interest noticed in the room, include trapezoidal tables, a beautiful two step stage with gray carpeting, and audio-visual curtain used as drapes. The tables can be made into many clever arrangements; the stage is used for modeling in clothing selection classes; and the drapes, which have a rubber backing, are in a medium shade of green to harmonize with the light green colored walls. The room is equipped with four spotlights, two of which are portable.

HOME EC CLUB TO HOLD MEET MONDAY

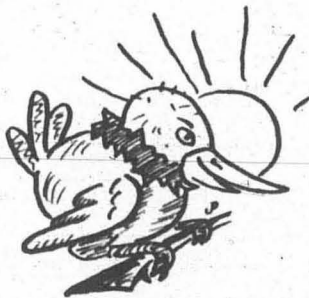

The Home Economics club will hold its regular meeting March 26, at 8:00, in the auditorium.

Election of officers for the coming 1956-57 school year is the most important item on the agenda. Those girls selected by the nominating committee to run for the various offices are as follows:

President-elect-Rhea Van Vleet and Betty Havlik; Vice President-Louise Grant and Gloria McNeight; Secretary-Flora Spinti and Mary Lou Miller; Treasurer-Helen Froehlich and Kathy Van Doorn. The nominating committee was chosen by the Home Economics club council. One member from each class is represented. Those who served on the committee to select the candidates for the offices were Betty Fraley, chairman; Mary Buol, Flora Spinti, and Louise Grant. Further nominations, if desired, may be made at the meeting.

Reports will be given on the Province meeting held in Chicago in February.

The dish cloths have arrived and will be available at the meeting. They will be sold at 2 for 35¢ or 6 for $1.00.

WARM TEMPS DUE TODAY

With spring officially here, the weatherbird gave me his unofficial forecast for Chinook breezes to take the snow away and temperatures climbing to the 40-50 degree mark by tomorrow.

He said the clouds would stay with us until Saturday, but he looks for clear skies on Sunday.

"Some of my relatives are arriving tonight," he added, "and I promised to have their homes in shape for spring, so I gotta run. See you around."

STOUT M.A.P. PRESENTS FINAL PLAY FOR 1955-56

Final tabulations of the attendance at the Stout Manual Arts Players' production have been made, proving that it was supported by near record numbers. MY THREE ANGELS, the group's final presentation this year, was attended by several outside organized and single school groups. Among them were Boyceville high, under the direction of Miss G. Fermann, and Menomonie high, under the direction of Mr. Wiseman.

Exhibiting the potentialities of bent wood lamination in furniture construction is Curtis Phillips, sophomore in industrial education at Stout state college. Observing is Dr. Herbert Anderson, chairman of the college woodworking department. At the right of the photo is a gluing form in which thin wood strips, which have first been adhered, are bent into desired shapes.

W.R.A. TO BE SPONSOR OF GYM JAM SATURDAY

Sports-minded Stout students will be given an opportunity to participate in their favorite activity for a mere fifteen cents on Friday, March 24 from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. The event is the annual Gym Jam sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association. Gloria McNeight, chairman of arrangements, has scheduled bowling, swimming, volleyball, ping pong, pool, shuffleboard, and dancing as a part of the program.

NEW MEMBERS ARE INITIATED INTO S.T.S.

Four new members were initiated into Stout Typographical Society Wednesday evening following a grueling three hours of mental and physical testing.

Bill Bachmeyer, Bill McGovern, Richard Popp, and Richard Vogtsberger, proved themselves to be qualified for membership in the professional printing society through completion of both written and oral examinations.

Members admitted to the organization are chosen on the basis of their interest in the printing field, progress as a student of printing, and ability to get along with fellow students in the field.

Membership enables the student to increase his opportunities for practical work in printing and to gain additional knowledge in his field through tours, lectures, and other functions of the fraternity.

Jim Dailey and Charles Weber were advanced to the rank of Journeyman printer preceeding the initiation of new members. Advancement in S.T.S. is obtained through research and production in some phase of printing followed by a written and oral report to the advancement board of master printers and officers of the organization.

Coffee and doughnuts topped off the evening as the new members were welcomed into the fraternity.

DIETETIC CLUB PUNCH HOUR TO BE MARCH 28

The Dietetic club of Stout state college is planning a "Punch Hour" to be held Wednesday, March 28 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Harvey Memorial.

The main purposes of the Punch Hour are to further good nutritional practices among students.

The menu will be: Fruit punch, cheese with assorted cracker, carrot sticks, cottage cheese filled prunes and peanut butter filled prunes.

The co-chairmen of the Dietetic club activity are Janice Eddy and Dorothy Disrud. All of the senior Dietetic majors are in charge of the food, and the decorations committee is headed by Marlene Krause.

Dr. Anderson Directs Cabinet Making II Class In Project

Practical application of bent laminations in wood, once thought a process beyond the scope of school industrial arts, is being successfully carried on as a research project of the Cabinet Making II class of Stout state college. Dr. Herbert Anderson, chairman of the woodworking department at Stout, is in charge of the research.

For a number of years industry has made great strides in the versatility of bent laminations for providing pleasing lines in contemporary furniture and to achieve strength not possible with solid wood. However, large and intricate machines were required, whose cost and bulk were not adaptable to school shops.

In working on techniques of bent lamination in the graduate school of the University of Minnesota, Ernest Nelson, supervisor of industrial arts in the public schools of Superior, developed a technique which made bent laminating practical for school projects. Nelson recently demonstrated his findings at a Stout Industrial Arts workshop.

For the bent lamination process in wood, thin wood sections are glued between curved forms. Material processed in this manner not only retains the shape into which it was formed, but also gains in strength.

In the research endeavors of Stout state college, class members first studied related technical information relevant to glues most adaptable for lamination, appropriate woods, bending pressure, elements regarding heat, and problems of drying.

Since then Dr. Anderson and his advanced woodworking students have pursued their research to the point that they have successfully constructed a chair and water skis through the bent lamination technique. Students designing forms for these projects and constructing various parts include Marlon Scharf, Gene Beck, Gerald Wick, Thomas Kukar, Clifford Aderholdt, Curtis Phillips, and James Schagenhaft.

NOTICE

Reserve Books may be taken for the Easter vacation at 7:45 a.m., Friday, March 30.

They will be due at 9:00 a.m., Monday, April 9.

PALLAS ATHENE WILL SPONSOR EASTER SALE

Hand-made copper enamel earrings, pins, tie craps and cuff links in many lovely spring colors and in a varied array of designs will be sold at the annual Pallas Athene Easter Sale on March 27 and 28 in Harvey Hall. Cake, cookies, and candy will also be sold.

Another feature of the PA sale is the drawing for the big Easter basket. Everyone is encouraged to get his name in the hat by purchasing a stick of gum from a PA member. Andre Jost was the lucky recipient of the huge basket of goodies last year. You may be the winner this year!

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

May I congratulate and thank the student body in the name of one college student for its outstanding cooperation last Wednesday.

During the 10:00 o'clock convocation we asked for contributions to aid a needy student in the hospital. The students answered the request with a sum of over $90.00 without even knowing who the student is. They contributed because of need not name. How's that for a solid campus!

Stirred by this situation, suggestions have been coming forth for the establishment of a fund for the purpose of aiding unfortunate students. We contribute annually to national relief agencies; why shouldn't we be in a position to aid our own people who are just as needy?

Have any suggestions? We would surely appreciate them.

CLUB NEWS

Forty-four members of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity enjoyed their annual spring initiation banquet last Thursday evening. The banquet, held at Jeantran's supper club, foreclosed the spring pledging which brought about the addition of five new members to the fraternity. The five new members are: Bob Anderson, Menomonie, Michigan; Al Finnell, Pontiac, Illinois; Jerry Porter, Glenview, Illinois; Keith Deme, Hopkins, Minnesota; and Ralph Stevens, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

After the dinner, faculty advisors, Dean Jarvis, Dr. Swanson, Mr. Anderson, gave a few brief comments about Sig Tau. The big event of the evening finally arrived, the pledges presented a skit entitled, "20 Questions." If there are five new members of Sig Tau missing, it's probably because Herb "No wait" Riebs, Jim "Active" Kogler, and Bill "Errorless" Erpenbach had something to do with their absence.

The regular supper meeting of Wesley Fellowship will be at 5:00, Sunday March 25. Election of officers for the coming year will be held. Reverend Henry will speak on "How the Methodist Church is Governed." Everyone is encouraged to attend.

New members of Pallas Athene presented a skit and their pledge songs at the regular meeting held last Thursday at 315 Sixth Street. A pajama style show was also given by several of the girls who became members last fall.

April 13-15 is the date for the Gamma Delta Spring Workshop to be held at LaCrosse. Ten members have made tentative plans to attend. The theme of the area workshop will be "What shall I do with my life?"

An all state convention for Gamma Deltas will be held at Eau Claire on April 27-29. Plans for attending will be made at the next meeting on April 15th.

A cost supper will be served at the next meeting by the members from Tainter Annex. Carol Bibby is chairman of the committee. The word for scripture text roll call is "showers".

The meeting was followed by a discussion by all the members entitled "To Dance or Not."

Sigma Sigma Sigma held its regular meeting in Room 11 of the library on Thursday evening. It included

DIETETIC CLUB TOURS ROCHESTER HOSPITALS

A tired group of girls and instructors returned to the campus Monday evening after an interesting trip to Rochester, Minnesota. The members of the Dietetic club, Miss Harper, Miss Killian, Miss Moller, Lois Heike, and Betty Fraley enjoyed a lecture on nutrition, and a complete tour of St. Mary's Hospital which included the food department. The tour was scheduled so that the group had an opportunity to see trays being set up for the patients. After lunch and shopping, the group went to the Public Health Center where Miss Florence Hurst demonstrated some of the phases of work which a public Health Nutritionist is expected to do.

The group then went to the Kahlor Hotel where they saw the kitchen, some of the dining rooms and special attractions of the Hotel.

This was followed by a tour of the Mayo Clinic Buildings.

skit practice for "Toyland Enchantment" and a display by a representative of Balfour Jeweler, the sorority's official jeweler.

The calendar of coming events was discussed and includes: Founders' Day and Banquet as well as the initiation of the pledges.

Last Sunday night the Newman Club had a barbeque supper in honor of St. Patrick's Day. The menu included barbeques, green jello salad, potato chips, milk, and cup cakes decorated with green sugar.

Father Hollern will give the last lecture before Easter vacation next Sunday night at 7:00 p.m. All Newman members are urged to be present.

Five men were formally initiated into Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity last night, March 22, following a short meeting in the River Room in Durand. The new members are Cliff Aderholt, Ed Birch, Carl Brooks, Pat Spielman, and Len Wilde. The initiation banquet included chicken family style, and steak.

At a meeting held on March 15 the Phi Sigs discussed such items as dinner dance favors, future informal initiations, and helping the advisors at their homes. Doug Dornier and Gene Ender were given a hand for their part in the last school play. The Phi Sigs decided to help the local Red and Gun club in the construction of their new building because the club has been very generous in the past by letting the Phi Sigs use their present building periodically.

The Stout Snooper

The bulletin boards around school attracted my attention as I snooped this week. Now most of them you probably read and reread several times a day, but how many of you (excluding the seniors) even study the large bulletin board located in the corridor between the Registrar's Office and the Student Personnel Office?

First of all and of most interest, there is a listing of the job opportunities for both home economics and industrial arts majors graduating this spring. The positions are located in towns all over Wisconsin and in several other states too.

In the home economics division, there was a total of 84 posted (when I looked). In addition to Wisconsin positions, there were places in Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, and Ohio, looking for home economics teachers or economists. Yes, an abundance of opportunities are available to the seniors! (One salary was listed as $4132-$6684! Wow!)

Six states in addition to Wisconsin had listed the 82 positions in the industrial arts division. They are Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, and Virginia. Again these positions are not all high school teaching openings; two colleges were listed as well as openings in industry.

In my snooping I have taken notice of the seniors' concern over positions; some are so excited, others are feeling blue, some impatient, and some are lucky enough to have classes interrupted bringing news about their job applications. Good luck to all.

On this bulletin board there is also much other information about various places of study. One colorful folder says, "Why not Study in Mexico?" It is advertising Mexico City College, the American college just south of the border. Their summer session is from June 12 to August 24. (Hint—) Another bulletin tells about the Foreign Study Grants and another about Lyle Fellowship Units of 1966. They are located in California, Colorado, Denmark, Germany, Jamaica, Japan, Philippines, and then a tour to the Soviet Union.

A cordial invitation is given by the University of Stockholm in Sweden

GAMMA DELTA TO HOLD MEETING APRIL 15

The Stout chapter of Gamma Delta, national Latharia Fraternity, will meet on April 15th at 5 p.m. Plans will be made for the state convention to be held at Eau Claire on April 27-29.

"Showers" will be the word for the scripture text roll call.

Inviting all interested students to attend their summer session. Another pamphlet advocates attendance at the Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies at the University of Chicago; (Hm-m-m, perhaps some of you should attend?)

Summer jobs are gaining interest among the students as the school year approaches its ending. (And I think some girls are attempting to get jobs near their "friends," aren't you?) The Knudson House "Norge," located in Ephraim, Wisconsin is advertising for summer workers. A Camp Timber Trail is looking for camp counselors! Then it is now possible for you to order a Summer Employment Directory which lists job opportunities all over the United States.

Back to the school year. For good study music, tune in to the Wisconsin state broadcasting service, WHA-FM and listen to the "Music of the Masters." A program of compositions to be played in addition to other scheduled programs is on this bulletin board.

Then too, there is a list of all residents in the Stout housing projects, Fair Oaks and Stout Courts. The total of families is 86. Maps of each area are also posted.

Probably by today additional bulletins have been added to the board's population. Why don't you look and see?

"Does she have her own way?"
"Does she? Why she writes her diary a week ahead of time."

Members in the Detroit Metropolitan Stout Alumni association presented the above tray containing 120 signatures to the alumni office. It will be on display for students and visiting alumni to see.

DETROIT ALUMNI SEND SERVING TRAY TO STOUT

Members Autograph Serving Tray To Place in Alumni Office As Party Memento

Recently received by the Alumni office of Stout state college has been a beautiful serving tray, gift of the Detroit Metropolitan Stout Alumni association. On the tray are the signatures of 120 alumni living in the Detroit area.

Basis of the project developed at a January meeting of the Metropolitan group, composed of members from Detroit, Royal Oak, Pontiac, Franklin Village, Farmington, Birmingham, Huntington Woods, Dearborn, Grosse Pointe, Ferndale, and other suburbs. To this gathering the National Alumni office had sent, through Dr. Robert Rudiger, national secretary, a quiz on Stout, plus slides and narration describing the college and Menomonee as they now are.

At the close of the meeting, Ira Madden, class of 1928, presented a serving tray to be signed by the 91 persons there as a memento of a most successful party. "I've never seen a group so eager to autograph anything," says Mr. Madden after noting that many absentee alumni from the area came to his home for days after the gathering to add their signatures.

In the center of the tray, over which have been added several coats of hand rubbed varnish, is a drawing of the Stout clock tower. Accompanying many of the signatures are graduation dates, including representatives from the classes of 1910-12-14-17 1920-21-22-23-24, 25-26-27-28-29, 1930-31 32-35-36, 38-39, 1940-41-43-46, 48-49, and 1951.

Use of the tray at Stout state college has been described by Dr. Rudiger in a letter to Ira Madden:

"Your beautiful tray arrived and all of us here want to congratulate and thank you and all members of the Metropolitan Association for a grand job. Not only is the tray an excellent showpiece for the Alumni Office on campus, but it has proved a splendid device to help knit together Stout alumni in the Detroit area.

"Evidence of this fact is shown by the excellent response which you received when you asked our alumni there to add personal signatures to the tray.

"In the office here visiting alumni from all classes will have an opportunity to look for the names of former classmates who signed the tray. Next the visitors will perhaps ask for some person's address and eventually a letter will be written and a friendship renewed."

DR. NITZ IS AUTHOR OF CHEMISTRY BOOK

Dr. Nitz, head of the chemistry department here at Stout state college, is the author of a new book entitled Introductory Chemistry. This book has been in the process for three years and will be published within a month by the D. Van Nostrand Company Inc., Princeton, N.J. A review on this book was recently published in the March, 1956 Journal of Chemical Education. Features of unusual interest in Introductory Chemistry will include the following:

1. Illustrations which include photographs; some in full color and many line drawings.
 2. A discussion of common hazardous materials.
 3. An introductory discussion of major chemical industries.
 4. End of chapter summaries including principles, laws, definitions, and other solvent material.
 5. An appendix containing slide rule mathematics of chemistry, useful tables, and bibliographies.
- Introductory Chemistry* will contain over 500 pages when published. It is intended for a terminal course in college chemistry, and is adapted for students in home economics, industrial arts, liberal arts, nursing, and other such fields.

FIVE DELTA KAPPAS INITIATED INTO FRAT

Delta Kappa fraternity initiated five new members into the fraternity on Thursday night, March 8, at the Hide-away. After a generous dinner of chicken and steak, appropriate initiation ceremonies took place. The new members are Bruce Elund, Marinette, Wisconsin; William Jyha, Virginia, Minnesota; Ivan Isaacson, Ellison Bay, Wisconsin; Richard Backus, Marshfield, Wisconsin; and Jita Molter, Elk Mound, Wisconsin. The fraternity's two advisors, Dr. E.R. Otting and Dr. D.L. Agnew attended the ceremonies and dinner. Delta Kappa fraternity will soon have Richard Roberts and John Smith as delegates to the Milwaukee convention. The date has not been positively set yet, but it will be either the 20th or 27th of April.

It was the little boy's first visit to church and when the choir entered, all in white, he listened to his father, "Look quick, Daddy! They're all going to get a haircut!"

ANNUAL FIELD TRIP PLANNED BY STOUTONIA

Once again the Stoutonia Staff will go on their annual field trip to Minneapolis. This group produces the Stoutonia, the official weekly newspaper of Stout state college.

The staff members will leave Menomonee at 7:15 Tuesday morning, March 27, on a special chartered bus for Minneapolis. There they will go through the Star-Tribune Press and observe the assembling of the newspaper. Then they will tour the WCCO Radio Station and see the collecting and broadcasting of the news. The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to shopping. People participating will be required to pay $2.00 which will be returned upon boarding the bus.

This tour is under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Whydetski, advisor of the Stoutonia staff. All members are invited to be on board the bus Tuesday morning at 7:15 for this interesting and educational field trip.

DORM NEWS

The last of the term papers go in on Monday! It seems odd that all our hours of work and trial are over. I hear some of the freshmen are writing on the stars! Do you think they have taken the proper amount of time to study them? After all that is a vital subject and one most profitable to most college co-eds. (Especially when they do their studying with someone of the opposite gender!)

Well, F.O.B. Stunt Night is over but the memories linger on and that surely goes for the girls of the Taintor Hall. They did a very nice job on their presentation and it was fitting to the occasion. I wonder where they "dug-up" some of those crazy clothes! Bet it wasn't easy!

Here all the dorms have been having their share of the parties. Guess it's been birthday time for quite a few girls. It's always better when there is a cake and all the trimmings and some of the kids always manage to find a home-away-from-home atmosphere. Happy Birthday to all of you!

Say what was all that noise the other night. Guess some of the girls went a little overboard after the boxing and wrestling matches. Some of the girls are good enough to be billed as pros! Yes, we build them strong at Stout!

I hear the Hall has been having lanky ceilings again! I hate to say it but it is sort of a good idea that the place is going the way of all tired and weary dormitories! It deserves a long and undisturbed rest! Amen.

Say, talk about prayer, which we weren't but are now, I hear some of the girls are really praying hard for

PROTEIN BREAKFAST IS TOPIC OF THE WEEK

Do you eat a high protein breakfast? That is a question which you should ask yourself especially now as Nutrition week is passing Monday. A breakfast high in protein will insure you against a tired feeling in the middle of the morning. How can you get a high protein breakfast? Just include at least two or possibly three of the following units in your breakfast each morning: 1 oz. of meat, 1 egg, cereal with milk, 1 8 oz. glass of milk, 5 slices of bread, custard, 1 oz. cheese, or two tablespoons of peanut butter. You may say "custard or cheese for breakfast?" Some people can not eat eggs for breakfast, so they can substitute these unconventional items to add protein to their breakfast. Get into the good breakfast habit during nutrition week and try to keep it during the rest of your life.

certain favors from up above. Among the most asked for were, dates for the Prom, new clothes, and some STOUT-horned cat. Come on boys give the girls a treat! Not even he hermits all the time!

Here is something else that you will hear repeated only in the confines of the dorm. Those phys. cats are interesting! Of course you could never get a girl to admit it in public but it really is fun finding all the bulging biceps and "stuff." Now when we sprain an ankle or break a bone we will know what happened besides the fact that it hurts. Sometimes it pays to go to college.

The girls' dorms wish to congratulate the Lynwood Hall boys for the splendid job they did on their skit. It really was great the way they could portray so accurately some of the activities and people of the campus!

Pizza seems to be a popular word around the dorms lately especially to those who ski. But even to those left at home it tastes good when warmed up in a pop corn popper! Too bad the ski season will soon be over and Cumberland is so far away. But then maybe they can find some new place to make a home. Where there is a will, there is a way and for pizza lovers there is always a will!

INTERNATIONAL WEEK END TO BE APRIL 20-22

Macalester College has invited students from Stout to participate in an International Weekend which they are sponsoring during April 20 to 22.

The purpose of this project is to foster better relationships with people of different nationalities and to promote the idea of one world, by exchanging and understanding the various cultural backgrounds of the nations of the world.

The weekend will consist of convocations, area forums where geographical and ideological factors will be taken into consideration, and addresses by those who are acknowledged experts in this field of endeavor. It is hoped that Congressman Walter H. Judd will be the principle speaker. Other highlights of the weekend will be a Costume Ball, Variety Show and Banquet.

A fee of $2.50 will be charged. This will cover room, which will be furnished by families who live in the vicinity of the campus, board, and all activities planned.

If interested consult Dr. Iverson as soon as possible.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING HELD IN S.S.C. ALLEYS

Intramural bowling is held in the Stout alleys on various evenings beginning at 7:00. Groups which are represented include Phi Sigs (two teams),

Delta Kappa, "Studs," F.O.B., House of Waterbury, and the Grad club. The schedule of games for this week is as follows: Wednesday, Grad club plays "Studs"; Thursday, Phi Sigs play Delta Kappa. The next game will be March 28, when Phi Sig II team will bowl against the "Studs."

Here are some of the rules of the games. Games cost 20 cents a line. Three games are played a night. There must be a total of four points per night. Any team which forfeits two nights is automatically out.

CLUB NEWS

L.S.A. members heard a meaningful address on the personal qualities of John the Baptist by Dr. Rogness of Luther Theological Seminary at their March 18th meeting. A slate of nominees for next year's officers was drawn up and will be opened for floor nominations at the March 25th election. All L.S.A.ers are urged to attend this election meeting and help in selecting competent officers for the coming year.

The Arts and Crafts club held its yearly election at its March 5 business meeting. The following were elected to office: Anton Kotyza, president; Roger Wood, vice-president; Bob Koeslin, secretary; Eugene Bocek, treasurer; Charles Bruemmer, historian; and Don Pritchard, reporter. Jim Rawson, Chuck Bruemmer, and Tony Kotyza have started work on bringing the point system for awarding the Arts and Crafts keys up to date.

SKI CLUB FINISH YEAR: PRESENT AWARDS SOON

The Stout Ski club has been finishing up a busy season with trips to Talmark and Deepwood. They are also planning a "Schuss-Boomer's Holiday" to Talmark in the near future. Other activities to finish off the season will be a steak fry at Deepwood in the spring, and presentation of awards to the boy and girl skiers who have shown the most effort and interest in skiing for the past season. Herb Riebe, the president, will make the awards, which consist of a sterling silver pin for the girl and a sterling silver tie clasp for the boy.

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL ROSTERS REQUIRED

Managers of intramural softball teams are requested to have their roster of players into the athletic office by twelve noon, on Wednesday, March 28, 1956. A minimum of twelve players to each roster is required. Rules will be posted in the paper and on the athletic bulletin board at a later date.

EASTER'S ARRIVAL

HERE COMES PETER COTTON-TAIL STOMPING DOWN THE OLD STOUT TRAIL BRINGING NEWS THAT VACATION'S ON ITS WAY

Stores are being filled up with jelly beans and chocolate eggs. The church choir is putting the final touches on its Easter cantata. Lady's millinery shows the remains of their picked over Spring hat selection, while grade school children talk of all the Easter eggs the bunny will bring.

The Stout student also is looking forward to the holidays. Days are being marked off the calendar with big black X's. Plans are being formed as to when and how to get home. Girls put the last touches on the Easter outfits they have made and boys make big plans for the week where there will be no hours and no homework.

Car rides are sought after like tinsel on Christmas eve. Buses and trains are being phoned and students ask "what time does he leave and how much will it cost and how soon will I be home?" Some men of the highway are going to thumb-hike their way home. However, no matter what mode is used the main idea is to get home fast!

These comments give a sure indication that Easter vacation is not only looked forward to, but being sought after. Three months is a long time without a break in routine and many students are getting those "Homework Blues."

Only days, hours, minutes, and Stout's rooms and corridors will be silent except for an occasional slap of a shade or swish of a door. That is it will be empty for a week and the only person that will be sorry to see this will be—not you or I that's certain!!

MISS MEILLER GUEST SPEAKER AT W.D.A. MEET

Miss Ella Jane Meiller, the guest speaker at the Northern District Meeting of the Wisconsin Dietetic Association was accompanied to Chippewa Falls by the members of the Diet and Disease Class. A business meeting was held; Miss Meiller spoke. Then the group went on a tour through the new kitchen of St. Joseph's Hospital. The group also toured the new food service building at the Northern Colony. The building is equipped to prepare food for two thousand people per meal. All of the equipment is new and it was an opportunity for the girls to see large equipment in use. In addition to seeing what a dietitian does, the girls met representatives from different fields of dietetics, such as Directors of school food service, college nutrition instructors, hospital dietitians, public health nutritionists, and dietitians of a large institution which is practically independent.

Phil: "Why don't you like girls?"

Abe: "They're too biased."

Phil: "Biased?"

Abe: "Yeah, Bias this and bias that until I'm busted."

CREWCUTS WILL BE WELCOMED ON STOUT CAMPUS FOR BARBERSHOP HARMONY AFTER VACATION

Many students can't believe it's true that Blue Barron and the Crew Cuts are coming to Stout state college on April 12. And, the Crew Cuts are the real guys that do record Mercury records. Yes, they are really coming here and their arrival is being anticipated by many.

Blue started his musical career while attending Ohio university, where he played with various college outfits. Sensitive to the value of polish and showmanship, Blue rebelled against the excessive blaring of most bands. Putting this musical insight into immediate effect, Barron stylized his music on mellow lines. Achieving instant popularity, he was in constant demand by 11 neighboring campuses.

Upon graduation, Blue deviated from the usual procedure of most potential bandleaders. Familiarized with booking of bands in college, Barron opened his own business in Cleveland. However, as a lover of dance music, he felt there was too much emphasis placed on raucous swing tempos and not enough on smoothness. Blue, some of the bands he was booking ally got the urge to demonstrate to "how it should be done." The desire to get back into the band business first had become too much for him and he organized his own orchestra.

Blue hand-picked his band personnel with meticulous care and ended up with a band composed of top flight musicians, each starting in his chosen instrumental field. Working with knowledge and untiring energy, Barron collected a varied and brilliant musical library, building it around his theory of combining swing with sweetness, smoothness, and showmanship. It was while broadcasting from a Cleveland night club soon afterwards that he was heard by the alert Maria Kramer, owner of the Edison and Lincoln Hotels in New York. She literally "burned up the wires" with her quick request that Blue Barron and his band come into the Green Room of the Hotel Edison. Blue and the boys were camping on the hotel doorstep in record time and their spectacular rise to fame had begun.

Since that time, Blue has starred leading supper clubs and hotels throughout the nation. Radio, too, has demanded its share of Barron. His music has graced many broadcasts, among them the Coca Cola Spotlight Show and the War Manpower Commissions' Sunday Serenade.

What does it take for four young men, barely old enough to vote, to become record "names" after only two years of professional singing experience and equally scant number of records. The Crew Cuts, whose mannered quartetting on a quasi-rhythm tune called SH-BOOM already had sold over a million copies in a few weeks, weren't offering any formulas as they sat around back stage at the Chicago Theater recently.

"Everything happened last January," said Johnnie Perkins, the group's second tenor and official spokesman. "It all came about from one TV show in Cleveland. We drove 600 miles-18 hours in a 39 Chev-to this show that was going to net us $25 apiece after everything was paid for, but we figured it was a chance to be seen by the right people."

The foursome's figuring was, as it turned out, eminently accurate. From that lone television shot came a con-

HOME EC CLUB STYLE SHOW TO BE APRIL 21

"Memories Are Made of This", was the theme selected for this year's Home Economics Club Style Show to be held in April at 8:30 in the Stout Auditorium.

Costumes to be modeled by various Stout students, will include sportswear, formal attire, suits and coats, cottons and special showings of some of the hats from the millinery class.

General chairmen are Connie Chellman, Marian Kindschy, and Kay Kennedy. Other chairmen selected were Barb Sommerhalder, costumes; Jan Pavak, make up; Barb Bender and Gloria McNeight, publicity; Rhea Van Vleet, script; Judy Day, programs; and Barb Williams, staging and lighting.

This year's style show promises to be one of interest and variety.

MARLENE KRAUSE WILL GIVE DEMONSTRATION

Marlene Krause, a junior at Stout, will present her food demonstration entitled, "Let's Travel via Italy." She will base her demonstration on traveling and visiting restaurants in Italy. In addition to preparing various dishes and demonstrating the characteristics of true Italian cookery, Marlene will include an added surprise.

Leadership Training Session for All Campus Leaders to Show How to be a Good Officer

Officers and advisers of all campus organizations will meet for a leadership training session at 7:30 Tuesday evening, April 17, in room 411 of Harvey Hall.

Object of this first session, sponsored jointly by students and faculty, is to help each campus officer to understand the procedures of his particular office. Special guides and materials will be given to those attending. Separate sectional meetings will be held for each of the four main offices.

Presidents will review the proper parliamentary procedure for conducting a good meeting. Mr. Norman Ziemann is sectional chairman. He is assisted by Gordon Maves, past S.S.A. prexy, and Eugene Battist, current S.S.A. prexy.

Vice Presidents will study and discuss campus social policies. Dean Antrim and Dean Price are sectional co-chairmen. They are assisted by Reinhold Meihnsner, and James Sand, past

SORORITIES TO SPONSOR SOCK HOP, APRIL 14

On Saturday, April 14, 1956, the Panhellenic Council will sponsor a Sock Hop. The dance will be held in the small gym, and dancing will continue from 8:30 to 11:30.

These committees for the dance are now in operation: General arrangements are being made by the Pallas Athene sorority; the Tri Sigma sorority is planning the decorations; the Hyperians are taking care of the publicity; and the tickets and shoe check are being handled by the Alpha Sigma Alphas.

Admission for this occasion will be seventeen cents per foot, so put on some socks, take off those shoes, and get ready for the big Sock Hop on Saturday, April 14.

RIBERIO WINS LYNWOOD PING-PONG TOURNAMENT

The ping pong tournament at Lynwood Hall came to an end March 18 as George Riberio beat Bruce Pence four games out of seven in the finals. In the semi-finals, Bruce Pence battled it out with Bill Romoser and won. Riberio won over Bill Martin three games out of five. This left Pence and Riberio to play the final game. Pence won three games, but Riberio got the one extra game giving him the honor of being Lynwood's champion pingpong player. Congratulations George!

Famous Question and Answer, "Where Did You Get That Hat?"; "Why, I Made It."

"Where did you get that hat?" These words from a popular song of the Gay Nineties have a special significance this year to many coeds of Stout state college.

Why? Because Stout's pretty girls are appearing on campus these days in eye-catching new hats, products of Stout's recently-opened class in millinery.

Inexpensive materials leading to excellent products are stressed in this class. Mrs. Alyce Vanek, class instructor, feels that the goal of the course is encouraging coeds to originate attractive millinery from inexpensive, easy-to-obtain materials.

Visitors to the newly-decorated millinery laboratory are sometimes startled to see a girl carefully fitting a cooking pan to her head. No, she isn't clowning. She's gathering materials for her first project.

How come? Well, the pan is used as a hat form. And to provide sturdy, unusual "forms" as the basis for felt hats, what could be more versatile and available than kitchen pans? Other inexpensive hat forms are sieves, saucers, and even flower pots.

After obtaining such a form, a girl next looks for felt material. However, it isn't necessary that she buy expensive felt pieces or rob some billiard table. Old hats, preferably those discarded by "Dad," are simply wonderful. These cast-offs are then washed, dyed, blocked, and styled into stylish millinery creations.

Following the felt hat project, class members undertake to design hats by covering hat frames with fabrics, try their hand at styling straw frames, and even improvise with new felt.

Perhaps the class sounds like play. It certainly is not, Mrs. Vanek emphasizes, for while coeds are fashioning their varied creations, they are learning different professional work methods, as well as versatility in types and modes of hats.

CAROL SCHILSTRA TO BE FEATURED IN PAPER

A photo of Miss Carol Schilstra, Stout senior from Sheboygan, Wisconsin, will appear in the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune's PICTURE magazine, April 8, 1956.

The photo will appear under the heading "Pick Your Favorite Campus Cover Girl." An official ballot will also be published and will appear with the photos of the queen candidates from 33 Upper Midwest colleges. A color-photo of the winner will be published later.

This will be the second time PICTURE magazine has run a campus cover girl contest to pick a queen of all Upper Midwest colleges.

PICTURE magazine is especially edited and designed for Upper Midwest readers and appears each week with the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune.

The weatherbird wouldn't commit himself on the Easter weather Wednesday, when I saw him last.

He wasn't too happy about the snow fall we had, but despite his muttered epithets concerning old man Nature, I could tell he didn't think the snow would stay too long.

So, without even the weatherbird's official stamp, we will forecast sunny weather and thawing snow for Easter and see what happens.

Have a nice week back home.

Have you recently tried to find a place to study in the library that was quiet? The library has become increasingly noisier as the school year has progressed.

It is now almost impossible at times to study in the main room of the library.

The library committee met recently to discuss improving procedures for students using the library, and to discuss the problem of noise.

Several solutions were suggested. Students when working math, science, or other class problems together are urged to use a room in the basement of the library. A key to any of the rooms may be obtained from the librarian.

Individual carrels in the stacks on the first and second floors of the library may be used while studying.

Try to show courtesy to your fellow students by helping keep the quiet in the library.

CLUB NEWS

To set the stage for the fun and success of Stunt Night, members of Alpha Sigma Alpha enjoyed a "Bar-B-Que Party" at the home of Helen King, March 17. All of the seniors returned from off-campus to watch ASA take third prize with its skit Midnight in Toyland. From now until June, Alpha Sigma Alpha has a busy schedule with the spring trip, initiation, installation, honor day, senior luncheon, and the dinner dance coming up.

Two national Gamma Delta officers were on campus March 22. These Ames, Iowa, students were Jerry Paulsen and Dick Pratt.

They spent several hours with the officers of the Stout chapter, Gamma Pi; Nancy Gabert, Jerry Schoenike, and Julie Knapp. Plans were made for district and area conventions and workshops to be held this spring throughout the Lakes Region District.

Methods for chapter improvement were discussed. Tentative plans were made to hold point meetings with the River Falls Chapter.

The officers discussed possible plans for attending an officers' conference to be held at Evanston, Illinois on April 7. The Stout chapter of this Synodical Conference organization hopes to have several representatives.

At the last meeting, the Sig Taus held the annual election of officers. The results of the election are as follows: Larry Loveland, president; Jerry Howard, Vice President; Paul Paulson, Recording Secretary; Roger Kerstner, Corresponding Secretary; Darrel Ebert, Treasurer; Gary Penn, Historian; Marshal Wake, Chaplin; Robert Dahlke, Sergeant of Arms; and Allan Finnell, Reporter.

The members of Sig Tau wish to congratulate the past officers for the wonderful job they did last year.

The Sig Taus were honored at their last meeting by the presence of a former brother, Cpl. Richard J. Dignan, who is now working for Uncle Sam in Alaska.

The Stout Snooper

Yes, spring vacation begins this morning as soon as you have attended your regular classes! As I snooped around during the past week and especially today, all I saw was a badly infected case of Stoutspringitis! The symptoms: a high fever, lots of pep, acts on the spur of the moment, and a need for new clothes.

The cause: why, of course, it's the spring vacation beginning today, yes, today! And then too, spring is only 11 days old! The remedy: lots of ice cream cones, walks in quiet nights, popsicles, a vacation, a new boy or girl friend, no studying, and possibly sun bathing.

But as in other years, I imagine the cure will still not dissolve all the symptoms; in fact it'll probably take until July or even November for the majority of you, the Stout student body, to recover from your case of spring fever. And in still others such as..... it is a chronic disease!

During vacation (a possible cure of springitis) Easter, the principal feast of the ecclesiastical year, is observed. It is celebrated on the Sunday after the first full moon following the spring equinox, or in a simpler phrase for you stricken with spring fever, sometime between March 22 and April 25.

The name of this celebration, Easter, comes from a Teutonic goddess named Eostre, whose festival was celebrated in the spring time when she opened the portals of Valhalla to receive Baldr, the White God. From this White God originates the sign of purity for Easter. This festival of Eostre was in honor of the renewal of life in the spring and so it was easy to connect it with the celebration of the rebirth of Jesus Christ.

The lion is one of the symbols of Easter. An old theory is that a lioness gave birth to dead lions and after the time of three days, the lion brought the young to life! The mythical Egyptian bird, the Phoenix, is also a symbol. The Egyptians said that he died and rose again to live forever.

The more common symbols I'll refer to in my snooping report are the egg and the rabbit. There are two theories offered about the egg, one, because it holds the seed of life and the other, because it was originally associated with the Lenten season, during which no eggs were eaten and Easter Sunday marked a joyful time since eggs were once again served.

The custom of coloring eggs for Easter is an old tradition first done when eggs were served for the first time since the beginning of Lent. Then they were dyed red for joyfulness or to signify Christ's blood shed on Calvary.

"Here comes Peter Cottontail, hopping down the bunny trail." Even though you are "adults," I still heard some of you humming this catchy tune. Again I got curious and so I snooped and discovered that the origin of the Easter Bunny is connected with the fact that the rabbit is the symbol of fertility.

Within the past fifty years Protestant churches also started the tradition of holding elaborate services with special music on this joyful day of Easter. More recently sunrise services, held in commemoration of the resurrection at sunrise, have also become popular. It was an old belief that the sun dances and perhaps that is why the custom of holding these services on a higher level of the outside originated.

Yes, today marks the beginning of spring vacation, a time of joy for all students and faculty; yet it is also the day set aside for the commemoration of Christ's crucifixion on the cross, Good Friday. Today is the day that leads to the climax of Lenten season, Easter!

Most of you will be traveling today and so you will be unable to attend special Good Friday services in your church. But tune in your car radios and listen to a church service while you are going home; it will be worthwhile! And remember to be sure and attend church, the church of "your" choice on Easter Sunday. This act is only one "little way" that you can thank Christ for dying for you.

So remember even if you are on your way to HOME, I'll be snooping! Happy Easter everyone.

FORMER STUDENT CITED FOR SUPERIOR WORK

Mr. Raymond L. Pittman, with the Training Analysis and Development Division of MTW, was awarded the coveted "Outstanding Performance Rating" by the Chanute base commander, for having a high effectiveness report in a one-year period.

Along with the rating went a $300 check to Mr. Pittman that Brig. Gen. Augustus M. Minton, base commander presented to his office.

The award is presented annually to deserving civilian employees with the Air Force by the Civilian Personnel Office, under base jurisdiction.

The recommendations for the award was submitted by Capt. Albert B. Marx, TA and D Director. It was approved by the MTW commander and subsequently presented to the TA and D specialist. The recommendation was based on Pittman's effectiveness report for the period May 1954 to May 1955.

Ray attended Stout in 1938 to 1941, and in 1947 to 1949, B.S. 1948, M.S. 1949.

His wife is the former Phyllis Neser, B.S. 1942.

Ray was active in football and baseball. He also was a member of FOB fraternity and Epsilon Pi Tau, scholastic fraternity.

EASTER THOUGHT

A cross stands stark against the purple sky, a cross now empty. There had been a figure—the body of a man upon it—but that was gone now. The man whose body had been nailed to that cross, had seemed to be just an ordinary man—not a man to excite crowds or raise cries of wrath and hate, not a man to be pushed from ruler to ruler of the surrounding cities. He seemed not to mind, though; in fact, He seemed rather sorry for those people who shouted at Him.

The cross stands stark against the purple sky; upon it are stains of this man's blood. The stains seemed to blend into the wood as if they were a part of the grain, as if they were a part of nature's aging.

They took Him away. Some friends, they say, took Him to a tomb belonging to a rich man. A few people cried when He was taken from the cross, but the masses were quiet. It was the kind of quiet that you feel in the air when an impending storm is about to strike. Then suddenly there was a clap of thunder and the earth shook. The people huddled together as if the nearness afforded protection. The grey day turned black, as black as the hate that had brought this man's death. Then it became quiet again, and the people went home. But those people found it hard to forget the scene on the hill, the cross, and those great kind eyes looking with such compassion on those below.

He was dead! They had crucified Him. Two other men had been crucified beside Him on the hill, but somehow they seemed unimportant.

It was just another day; but yet it will never be forgotten. It couldn't be forgotten. Would He want us to remember His death? That crucifixion so filled with accusations and disgrace? It would hardly seem possible, and yet Night is setting just as if nothing had occurred this day. Is it just another day's end?

tract with Fred Strauss, now the boys' personal manager.

Strauss and the Crew-Cuts sat around that night at a coffee session and evolved concrete plans for the quartet's then-floundering career as well as the new name under which the singers soon were to enter the disc best-selling charts.

"We were calling ourselves the Canaraires up to then," 22 year-old Johnnie went on, "but we were looking for a new name. We hit on the Crew-Cuts."

The quartet—whose other members are Pat Barrett, 21, high tenor; Ray Perkins, 21, bass; and Rudi Maugeri, 23, baritone—learned their trade singing church music at the Cathedral Choir school, a general education and music school corresponding somewhat to a junior high school in the U.S.

After completing the last two years of high school, the boys worked for a year and then formed their quartet as Synchronized Swimmers practice for swim clinic. On March 31, several Stout students will represent the local group at the clinic to be held in Milwaukee at the Jewish Community Center. A few of the members will participate in the evening show.

IN APPRECIATION

During my recent illness I was confined to a hospital in Eau Claire. At the March 21 convocation, you—the students and faculty of the college—gave $93.30 to help me defray my expenses.

This contribution has meant very much to me. I truly needed it for medical care. Also, it showed a tremendous generosity among Stout students and faculty to give their money to me, even though they didn't know me personally.

I wish to express publicly my gratitude for your kindness. The Stout Student Association did a wonderful job organizing the campaign in my behalf. And your generosity helped me through a most difficult time.

WRA GYM JAM HELD SATURDAY IN UNION

The Spring gym jam sponsored by the W.R.A. was held Saturday night from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. in the union building.

One-hundred and thirty-one students paid their $1.50 admission charge to participate in the various activities. These activities included: bowling, ping-pong, pool, swimming, dancing, volleyball, and shuffle board.

an after hours diversion from their day jobs.

What is it about the Crew-Cuts singing that brought all this about?

According to Rudi, who makes all their arrangements, "We are putting barbershop harmony into the popular field. We use very simple arrangements that are, we feel, becoming very commercial. We don't use any modern harmonies like the Four Freshmen or the Modernaires. We're more like the Mills Brothers, in that we use simple harmony; it's just that simple harmony is more commercial."

Now the Crew-Cuts are dreaming of all the good things that happen to vocalists on this earth. They are booked through 1957.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA HELD OPEN MEETING TO EXPLAIN THE MAIN PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATION

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, held an open meeting recently, in the chapter's meeting room in the student union. The main purpose of the meeting was to introduce Alpha Phi Omega, its purpose, program of service, and activities to prospective members. Master of ceremonies for the event was Norm Valiska, the chapter's Vice-president and Pledge-master.

After a brief introduction to the program planned for the evening, President Jim Jonen turned the meeting over to the Vice-President who defined Alpha Phi Omega to the group. Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity, composed of college and university men who are or have been previously affiliated with the Scouting movement and who have joined together to render service to their fellow men.

Pensit Potijinda, Service Projects Chairman, then explained to the group the service rendered by the fraternity. Alpha Phi Omega renders service in four major fields: service to the student body and faculty, service to youth and community, service to the members of the fraternity, and service to the nation as participating citizens. Fraternity members have provided ushering services, sponsored the annual "Tour of the Town" conducted at the beginning of the school year, laminated cards for students and faculty, and conducted first-aid check-ups of all the shops on campus. A most recent service project was the construction of an archway to the Stout Court for the Winter Carnival festivities. In the second major field of service, service to youth and community, a recently conducted service was the judging of the contests staged at the Klondike Derby. A future project will be a Kite-Flying Contest to be sponsored for the benefit of the local scouts. Several members also act as scout leaders and assistants in the scout troops and patrols in the Menomonee area.

Ray D. Johnson, who is the Membership Committee Chairman, spoke to the group on the opportunities to develop leadership abilities. The chapter has eight offices and four committees which offer unlimited leadership advantages. All members work on these committees so that each individual member receives some personal satisfaction in rendering service to others.

Fellowship was the topic Fran Rauscher, Fellowship Chairman, presented to the group. Opportunities for fellowship are provided not only by social functions, but by working together in carrying out the many chapter service projects.

"The history of the national service fraternity was told by Vice-President Valiska. Alpha Phi Omega was founded in 1925 at Lafayette college, Easton, Pennsylvania. Since its founding, Alpha Phi Omega has spread rapidly and now has over 283 chapters and over 49,000 total members since its conception.

Carl Putman, the chapter's Recording Secretary, informed the group of the history of the local chapter. The Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega will be seven years old on May 15 of this year. Originally started as a "Rover Crew" in 1948, the organization was formally accepted by the national office in May of 1949 and given the chapter name of Eta Kappa. Since that time, Stout's Eta Kappa chapter has grown to become one of the most respected organizations on campus.

F.O.B.'S HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS

On Thursday, March 22, the F.O.B. fraternity held its annual election of officers. Basil Holder was elected president of the fraternity for the coming year. Ex-president, Bill Bachmeyer, administered the oath of office to Basil with a "bang".

Other officers have been filled as follows: Vice Pres., Roy VanDreser; Sec., William McGovern; Treas., Frank Burdick; Sgt. at Arms, James Jeatran, Historian, Steve Butz; and Reporter, Brandon Smith. It is our belief that these men will serve the student body and the F.O.B. fraternity to the best of their abilities.

William McGovern and Peter Jackson were elected co-chairmen of the 1957 Stunt Night. The F.O.B. fraternity wishes to thank all those who helped to make Stunt Night a big success this year. Special recognition goes to all the fraternities, sororities, and dorms for devoting their time and effort in making their skits. They did a wonderful job. The judges and townspeople deserve equal credit for helping us make Stunt Night possible. Also the students and faculty must be commended on their splendid turnout. The F.O.B. fraternity is planning a bigger and better Stunt Night next year. Let us all plan on attending!

NUTRITION WEEK PUNCH HOUR IS SPONSORED

The Dietetics club honored Nutrition Week this week in two ways. They made posters advertising good breakfasts, milk or orange juice instead of coffee and in general attempted to establish the importance of good diets. Dorothy Disrud was chairman of the poster committee.

The other project honoring Nutrition Week was the Punch Hour, which was held Wednesday, March 28, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the Harvey Lounge. Guests were welcomed by two gigantic orange carrots, one on each side of the door. Posters picturing good food were arranged inside the room. The general theme of healthful meals was further carried out in the menu.

The chapter's treasurer, Curt Lindem, concluded the speeches with a financial talk, explaining the national fees and chapter dues. The national fees are used in the national budget to pay the expenses of the undergraduate membership of each member in the fraternity. No annual dues for active members are charged and printed materials, such as pamphlets, publications, program helps, applications, and order forms, are provided without extra charge. Chapter dues are used for the benefits they bring to the members such as social functions, entrance fees for school contests, cost of fraternity pins, etc.

Following a final statement by the President, refreshments were served to conclude a very successful evening for both the active members and the prospective pledges in attendance.

DORM NEWS

Did you note anything different about the girls' dormitories lately? Well, there are several vast changes that have taken place the last few days. It will soon be Easter and with anticipation of this event the girls busily talk of their new bonnets made in millinery class. Some of the girls have hats that show much creation! Just ask the boys of our campus—they will tell you!

Another welcome change is the vacation. All of the girls are looking forward to it and have been planning every moment when they will be home with time of their own (night and day) Some of the girls want to cook, others sew, and others just want to do nothing, which sounds like a mighty good idea.

Several more birthdays have been celebrated in the dorm and among them was the Annex house mother's, Mrs. Adams. The girls threw a surprise party for her with a cake and all. Everyone enjoyed the event that ended with songs in the Easter vein.

Last Sunday was a mighty good time to take pictures. The girls from Eich used the time well by photographing legs! And lets see, which dorm was it that the girls were out on the roof taking pictures? Hear they got some pretty good shots, too!

The Hall had a T.V. set in for the Oscar awards. Pretty tricky girls, I bet you really enjoyed the program. Just think, will they have a T.V. set in the new dorm? It will be nice when "Hooker" fixes it so the boys can watch it too!

It was also a nice week-end for hiking and some of the girls went out for some vigorous walks. Products of the girls' adventures were muddy feet, tired muscles, and pussy-willows. The last of the three was the most appreciated!

It may seem impossible but there is no Body Building being held this quarter. Some of the other courses sound interesting though: golf, archery, tennis, and swimming is enough to keep the girls busy.

RIFLE CLUB GOES TO NATIONAL MEET

On the weekend of the 17th of March, the Stout Rifle Club shot in the National Intercollegiate Rifle Championship Matches at the University of Minnesota. College teams from five states were at the match for the one day shoot. The Stout team was the only team shooting that was not a varsity team. At the end of the day's shooting Stout placed eighth in an 8 team field. So ends another year of small bore shooting with a team record of four wins and seven defeats.

During this same weekend John Ong went to a Sectional Pistol Match and won two first place medals and one second place medal in his class.

PA'S SPONSOR EASTER BASKET; SELL JEWELRY

Marjorie Newman, a senior, was the proud recipient of the large Easter basket sponsored by the Pallas Athene sorority at their annual Easter Sale. The girls worked hard making copper-enameled jewelry and sweets which they sold on March 27 and 28 in Harvey Hall. The sale was very well accepted by the Stout students and the annual sale will again be presented next year.

FINANCING WAS THEME FOR ANNUAL AUDIO VISUAL MEETING, HELD AT STOUT STATE COLLEGE.

Menomonie school administrators, supervising teachers, vocational instructors, and classroom teachers from Minnesota and Wisconsin met on the campus of Stout state college all day Tuesday, April 10, for Stout's fourth annual audio-visual conference.

This year's meeting was based upon "Financing of Audio-Visual Programs." Stout sponsored the meeting in cooperation with the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, an affiliate of the National Education Association, and also the Wisconsin State Department of Public Instruction.

With Dr. Herbert Anderson, head of the college woodworking department presiding at a general session, participants were welcomed by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout state college.

Keynote address of the opening session was given by Professor L. C. Larson, president of NEA's department of audio-visual instruction, and director of the audio-visual center at Indiana university.

Four sectional meetings were scheduled. Beatrice Burgdorff, supervising teacher of the Waukesha county schools, led the discussion on "Financing the County Audio-Visual Program." Recorder was Dr. Robert Swanson, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout.

"Organizing and Financing the Cooperative Film Library" was the topic of a panel composed of the following persons: Robert Kruger, chairman director of audio-visual education, River Falls state college; J. C. Krümm Encyclopedia Britannica Films; and Earl Ellis, Coronet Films. Edsel A. Vergin, audio-visual coordinator of the Ellsworth public schools, served as recorder.

Following Luncheon, a section was devoted to "Financing the Rural School Audio-Visual Program." Leading the discussion were Robert Fowler, superintendent of Winnebago county schools, Recorder for the sectional was Louis Slock, audio-visual director of Eau Claire state college.

With T. A. Johnson, supervisor of visual education in the St. Paul, Minnesota, public schools as leader, another group dealt with "Financing the Small City Audio-Visual Program." Johnson is also president of the Minnesota Department of Audio-Visual Instruction. William Terrill, principal of Menomonie High School was recorder.

Dr. David P. Barnard, director of Stout's audio-visual center, presided at the closing session. Following reports of the recorders, James Solberg, president of the Menomonie Board of Education and Chamber of Commerce, explained, "As I See It." Professor Larson concluded the session with a conference summary.

CAMPUS PLANS FOR NEW UNION AND DORMITORY

An addition to Stout's new residence hall for women, that addition making provision for 200 more girls and bringing total capacity to 334, one of the largest of such residence halls among state colleges!

A student union costing about $400,000 and making more adequate provision for the leisure-time activities of Stout's expanding enrollment!

Yes, these are two pleasant items in prospect for Stout state college. Plans for the addition to the residence hall are now being drawn. Work will begin as soon as the many necessary preliminaries have been completed.

Announcements of the new student union came recently from Eugene McPhee, director of Wisconsin State Colleges. In his report, McPhee pointed out that such buildings will be constructed on the campuses of eight state colleges.

Milwaukee already dedicated a new union a month ago. One proposed union building will serve both Platteville state college and the Wisconsin Institute of Technology in Platteville.

RICHARD CORSON WILL PRESENT "PLATFORM PORTRAITS" AT WEDNESDAY'S CONVOCATION

Richard Corson, young New York actor-entertainer, who brings his unusual program of "Platform Portraits" to Stout state college on April 18, at 10:00 a.m. is one of the few men to have made a success at the difficult art of the monodrama. In a field crowded with feminine exponents, he is outstanding as a one-man theatre.

Mr. Corson has won acclaim from critics and audiences alike for his exceptional dramatic skill, his impeccable diction, and his perceptive interpretations. As one critic has expressed it, "Mr. Corson's performance, as well as the quality of his writing, is impressive from the standpoint of attention to significant detail and an insight into the comic."

Mr. Corson's talents are broad and varied. One of the most versatile men in the theatre, he is actor, director, costume designer, and writer of his own dramatic material. Add to these a broad educational background and his programs have a depth and authority seldom encountered in dramatic artists.

He is recognized as one of the foremost authorities in the country on theatrical makeup. His book "Stage Makeup" has for a number of years been used as the definitive text on that subject in about 90% of the colleges and universities offering courses in theatrical makeup. He has probably written more about makeup than anyone else in the country. For several years he was makeup editor of Players

TREISE BOWS OUT AS STS PRESIDENT TO ALLEN

With one finger on the "Kelly," a lap full of English, Physics, and math, a fist full of Tower business, and a child under each arm, Bob Treise still managed to keep his eagle eye on his "boy printers" as he put them through their paces carrying out their S.T.S. productions.

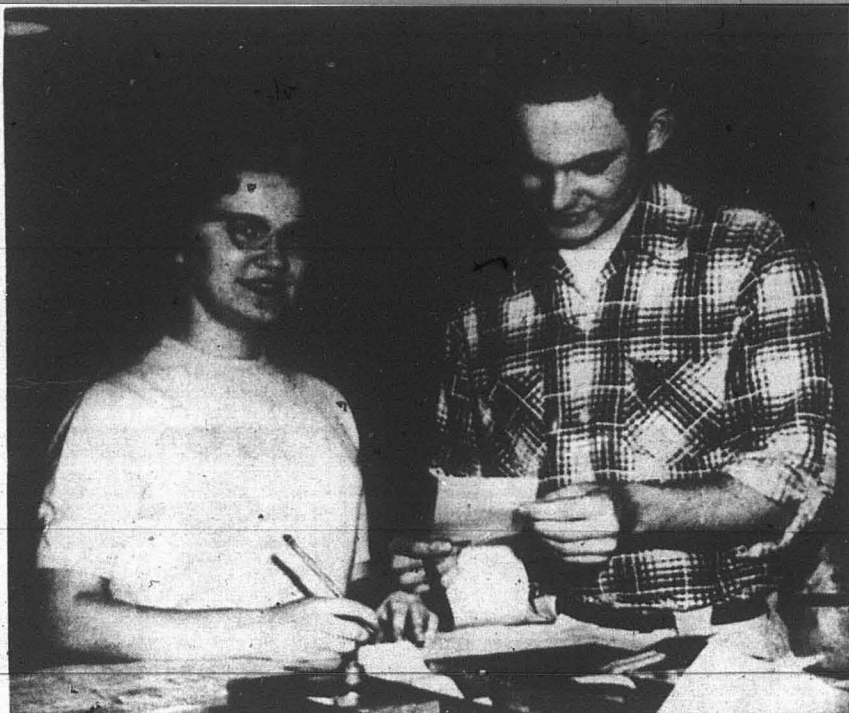

Bob has been Stout Typographical Society president for the past year and is now bowing out after what his successor, Bill Allen, terms "A job well done." Bill was elected president for the 1956-57 school year in elections held at the last meeting.

Other officers elected were: Anton Kotyza, vice president; Leonard Clark, secretary; Loren Johnson, estimator, and Jerry Schemansky, Sgt. at Arms.

In addition to being president of S.T.S., Bob is considered "Old Man Printer" around the shop and is constantly called on by members of the organization for approval or technical help in their printing work. Bob has worked five years in the printing industry and was foreman of his section until he left industry to enter service.

The new head of S. T. S. is mild mannered until one of two things happens: He gets close to a pair of drum

STOUTONIA EDITOR AND ASSOCIATE TAKE OVER

Jermaine Folkman Assumes Editorship; Bill Erpenbach Chosen Associate Editor

Jermaine Folkman, former associate editor of the Stoutonia, has been chosen to serve as editor of the Stoutonia for the coming year.

Experience has qualified Jermaine for her new position. She served as editor of her Bonduel high school paper. At Stout, she participated on the staff in the reporting department and also did alumni reporting. In January Jermaine assumed the duties of associate editor, and will now take over the editorship.

Chosen as associate editor of the Stoutonia is Bill Erpenbach, a sophomore from Clarendon Hills, Ill. Bill has served as sports reporter, copy reader, and proof reader. He will assist Jermaine in publishing the paper.

Jean Schwertel, a junior from Arcadia, Wisconsin, is the retiring editor.

NOTICE

Remember to get your Mother and Daughter Banquet tickets this week. The banquet will be sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. The price per ticket is $1.60. The banquet will be held at Peace Lutheran Church on April 21 at 5:30 p.m. Each girl is encouraged to bring her mother or a friend.

STS PLANS FIELD TRIP TO TWIN CITIES PLACES

Members of the Stout Typographical Society have been long planning their annual field trip to Minneapolis and St. Paul on which they will visit many printing establishments and several high schools. The trip will be from April 24th thru the 26th. This trip has been planned to give the members a better insight into the printing industry.

Some of the places the group will visit on the 24th are: Perfection Type Inc., The Diessel Co., where they will see a phototypesetting machine, Consolidated Printing Ink Co., and Brown and Bigelow Agency Inc., a gravure plant. This will wind up the first day of touring.

On the second day they will visit Samuel Bingham and Sons and see how rollers for a press are made. Next they will go to A. J. Dahl Display Co., bookbinders, Edison Junior high school in Minneapolis, and Process Displays, a silk screen plant.

On Thursday, April 26th, the group will visit Jefferson junior high school, Tension Envelope Corp., Marshall high school, and Bureau of Engraving. This will complete the formal tour, and, after a slight repast, the "tramp" printers will wend their weary way across Highway 12 all the way back to Menomonie.

COLLEGE FACULTIES CONFERENCE APRIL 27

The biennial conference of the Association of Wisconsin State College Faculties will be held at Wisconsin State College at Eau Claire on Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28, James J. McLaughlin of Wisconsin state college at River Falls has announced.

Faculty members from ten Wisconsin state colleges will attend. Two general sessions and 19 sectional meetings are scheduled on Friday. The delegate assembly will meet on Saturday morning.

In the Friday morning general meeting, W. D. McIntyre, president of the State College Board of Regents, will moderate a panel discussion on "Futures in Higher Education in Wisconsin." Panel members will be William W. Clark, chairman, Senate Committee on Education and Public Welfare; George Watson, state superintendent

UNION RECEIVES MURALS FROM STOUT CLUB

Basketball, metals shop, the campus, Homecoming parade, football, and a woodworking shop scene in the form of photographic murals have been an added attraction to the Union since early January.

Interest in such murals among faculty and students in past years came to a climax when these pictures were placed on the south wall. These pictures were taken and developed thru the Stout Photographical Service. The murals range in length from two to four feet and all are 34 inches high.

The woodworking scene shows nine men working on their projects in the shop. While in the metals shop, only one student is seen intently bending over his work.

The basketball action shot is of an early game in the '55-'56 season. Stout's center is attempting to pass to another member of the team while a Winona Warrior is guarding. A ref is watching the play close by. In the other picture, a Bluedevil is reaching high to receive a pass as part of the Homecoming game last year.

The scene of the Stout campus is taken from below the library looking up at all five buildings. The picture was snapped in the fall and shows many students scurrying to classes.

In addition to these six murals, two more, a picture of the nursery school and one of the crafts room, will be put up in the near future. Yes, these scenes are an added attraction to the ever popular Union!

Magazine and has contributed numerous articles on many aspects of the theatre to Theatre Arts, Dramatics Magazine, Quarterly Journal of Speech and other publications.

Richard Corson was born in northern Illinois. Departing from the family tradition of teaching, he majored in theatre at DePauw University, where he also earned a Phi Beta Kappa key. He wrote his first melodrama while still an undergraduate.

After he received his Master's degree at Louisiana State University, he remained on to teach courses in stage makeup. Subsequently, he became Technical Director of Theatre at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, where, in addition to teaching theatre courses, he designed sets and costumes, directed, and acted in the dramatic productions.

Following brief stints at Vassar College as Technical Director of the Experimental Theatre and at the University of Minnesota as Guest Lecturer and Instructor in Theatre Arts, Mr. Corson decided to bring his many-faceted talent to the American platform. The theatre has been his lifetime hobby as well as his vocation.

In addition to his standard work, "Stage Makeup," he is the author of "Color for the Stage," a book-length technical treatise serialized in Players Magazine. Several of his plays have been published by Samuel French and other publishing houses.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO ORGANIZE ON CAMPUS

Edwin Larkin, chairman of the Eau Claire County Democrats, will address an organizational meeting of the Stout Young Democrats Wednesday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m., in the audio-visual room of the Stout library.

Larkin, an Eau Claire attorney, was elected as a Kefauver delegate to the 1956 national convention. Recently he was named to the state Democratic platform committee. He was the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in 1954.

Larkin will discuss the meaning of the Democratic Party today and its significance to college students. He will list what he believes will be the major issues in the 1956 campaign on national, state, and local levels.

Other Eau Claire County Democrats who will attend the Stout meeting are

Keep Your Boots Off The Roots!

Do any old-timers on campus remember that slogan of a few years ago? Well, it had a definite purpose and served that purpose very adequately. At that time Stout had just closed streets intersecting the campus. However students taking short cuts between buildings started "paths" that would soon have ruined the very little greensward which the college had available. Through editorials, news briefs, announcements and signs the cooperation of students and faculty was quickly enlisted and the worn spots disappeared. With spring finally arriving this year, a few reminders on sidewalk courtesy again seem to be in order. Cutting across corners breaks off new grass roots and leaves muddy areas which will disfigure the campus for the rest of the year. Short cuts on the fresh spring grass will mean ugly, sun-bleached paths this summer.

Perhaps the campus area in greatest danger of disfigurement lies between the old gym and the library building. Here a "short cut" has already begun which, if continued, will leave a jagged brown strip across the lawn. In spite of watering and re-seeding, such a strip remains an eyesore all summer. So, everyone at Stout is asked to cooperate in "Keeping Our Campus Green." Avoidance of cutting corners on the sidewalks, of wearing new paths between buildings or walks, or of taking short cuts will mean a neater, fresher campus for Stout state college, now and all summer long.

CLUB NEWS

The Gamma Delta Synodical Conference Lutheran Fraternity will hold its April meeting on April 15. The meeting will begin with a vesper service in the church at 5 p.m. "Shower" is the word to be used in the scripture text roll call.

The installation of new officers was the first business conducted by the Sig Taus in their last meeting. Warren Barberg, a graduate of Stout in 1951 and who is now vice deputy of the Grand Council of Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity, brought us news of a future project of the fraternity on which he has been working. Plans for attending the interchapter meeting at Whitewater on April 21-22 were made. Stout will be well represented as there are seventeen members planning to attend.

Dave Samdahl, a former Stout student and member of Sig Tau, attended our last meeting. Dave is now attending Eau Claire State College.

If you see a shiny object as bright as the sun in the next few days, don't get excited or alarmed; it will just be the second place medal John Posewitz won in the model airplane contest sponsored by the local hardware store. Congratulations John! ! !

The L.S.A. is sponsoring an outdoor hike this coming Sunday, April 15. The members will meet at Peace Lutheran Church at 3:00 p.m. and from there hike to their destination. In case of bad weather, the group will still meet at the same place and time and an afternoon of recreation will be presented. Let's have a large turn out and have an enjoyable afternoon.

Sunday, April 22, the L.S.A. will present the St. Paul Tamburitizens. The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the Stout Auditorium.

Tickets may be purchased from Lee's Drug Store, the First National Bank, or any L.S.A. member. The LSA will be selling tickets in Harvey Hall from April 16th through the 20th. Adult tickets are one dollar, and student tickets are fifty cents.

The Tamburitizens will present several colorful folk dances along with Yugoslav music. During the intermission, a motion picture will be presented showing the Dalmatia coast of Yugoslavia.

The proceeds will go to the L.S.A., the Lutheran church of Yugoslavia, and the St. Paul Tamburitizens. Everyone is welcome to attend.

NINE MEN ELECTED INTO EPSILON PI TAU

Nine men successfully completed the oral examination March 20, 1956, for acceptance into Epsilon Pi Tau, reports Maurice Gupitil, president of Theta Chapter at Stout.

Formal initiation will take place shortly following Easter vacation.

Candidates who have satisfied all the requirements for membership in the honorary scholastic fraternity are: Edward Griffith, William Jylha, Donald Maurer, Curtis Phillips, Carl Putman, James Sand, James Schlagenhof, Roger Wege, and Jerome Wolf.

Men selected for membership must have earned a total scholastic average of "B" or better, as well as having met certain other social and professional requirements.

HOME EC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT MEETING

On March 26 at 8:00, the Home Ec. club held their regular monthly meeting in the auditorium. Election of officers for the coming year was the main business of the meeting. The candidates were introduced and of the election are as follows: preside, speeches by the candidates for the presidency were given. The results were: Rhea Van Vleet, vice president, Gloria McNeight; secretary, Mary Lou Miller; and treasurer, Helen Froehlich.

After the election, reports were given on the style show and on the dish cloth sale. The dish cloths were sold before the meeting, and the sale was a big success. Talks on Province were given by Marion Kindschey, Betty Fraley, and Jermaine Folkman, who attended Province this year.

The next big project of Home Ec Club is the Style Show which will be held after the Mother-Daughter Banquet, April 21. All committees are busy on preparations now.

A woman contestant was telling the emcee about a neighbor who had triplets and two months later had twins "That's impossible," said the emcee. "It's true," persisted the woman. "One of the triplets got lost."

STOUTONIA STAFF HAS INTERESTING TRIP

Did it ever take you almost five hours to get from Minneapolis to Menomonie? We, of the Stoutonia Staff, were literally stranded on highways in a blinding snowstorm while returning from our field trip on Tuesday, March 12, and spent almost five hours on the road. This was only one of the highspots of the day.

While in Minneapolis, we toured the Minneapolis Star and Tribune building. The paper has a 6,000,000 Sunday circulation. First we were shown a colored motion picture in the Upper Midwest Room which was filmed by them and narrated by Cedric Adams. This film gave an overview of the organizing of a paper, from the collecting of news to the delivery. The Star and Tribune prizes itself on the fact that it has more newspaper boys than any other newspaper in the United States.

Two groups were taken on a tour through the plant. We saw how the newspaper was put through the press. The Star Tribune publishes four editions of the evening paper. They print comic strips all week long. We saw the other sections of the building, with the editors' desks, the linotype machines and the transmitted pictures with the news stories right to the preparations for delivery.

The remainder of the day was spent in shopping and the remainder of the evening was spent in trying to reach Menomonie.

The world's most disappointed people are those who get what they deserve.

STOUT CAMPUS IS INVADDED BY SPRING FEVER

Spring vacation managed to arrive in the nick of time again this year.

The big rush has to do with spring fever, that elusive quality that dogs a student's footsteps through the month of February, lags behind during the Lion's roar of early March, and finally sinks its fangs into solid flesh around the end of the third quarter.

Shakespeare must have had a touch of the fever when he wrote, "The multiplying villainies of nature do swarm upon him.... So from that spring whence comfort seem'd to come discomfort swells." (Macbeth)

Among the 'villainies' of nature that show up around this time of year are: the first two inches of tulip, braving mud and snow to seek the sunshine; the first phone call to the paper, saying, "I saw a robin this morning...."; the first black jacketed motorcycle bug to brave the speedways; the first

Here's to the four hinges of friendship—
Swearing, Lying, Stealing and Drinking.
When you swear, swear by your country;
When you lie, lie for a pretty woman;
When you steal, steal away from bad company;
And when you drink, drink with me.

first fight over political preferences; the first morning that you really enjoy watching the sun rise to cast its glow on main street; and the first boy on your street to lace up a new pair of tennis shoes.

After thinking it over for a week or so, please send their woolens to the cleaners, buy a can of moth spray, find a light jacket to wear, dig out the seed catalogues, check the summer employment roster, write a letter to the girl back home, pick up a supply of road maps at the service station, and wonder how that third quarter shop class is going to treat them.

This is that crucial moment when reason goes down the drain, when the discomfort of the fever swells and the all knowing officials grant us a reprieve in the form of Spring Vacation.

We all agree that regardless of the diagnosis, the treatment is effective."

STUDENT CHOIR WILL PRESENT CONCERT HERE

The University of Wisconsin Lutheran Student choir will give a concert at Our Savior's Lutheran church, Saturday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The Lutheran Student choir arose out of the local churches' concern to bring a larger ministry to University students through the Wisconsin Lutheran Student Foundation.

This fine choir was begun in 1946, under the leadership of the Reverend Henry Hetland, campus pastor. For the last three years this trophy-winning choir has been under the direction of Mr. Robert E. Lee, part-time staff member at the Wisconsin Lutheran Student Foundation and instructor of instrumental music at Central Junior high school, Madison.

The Lutheran Student choir has the distinction of placing first in its division in the all-university Tournament of Song for the past three years. In addition to singing concerts in the churches of southern Wisconsin, it has appeared before the conventions of the various church bodies of the National Lutheran Council. This is their first tour to the Northwest.

The Reverend Glen W. Bragstad, camps pastor at the University of Wisconsin, who is managing the choir's appearance here, came to the University after serving as a Naval Chaplain, teaching in a religion department of St. Olaf College and serving parishes on the west coast.

He, together with his fellow staff members, is responsible for bringing the ministry to more than 2,000 Lutheran students now attending the University of Wisconsin.

EICHELBERGER GIRLS HAVE REUNION DINNER

Eichelberger girls of 1954-55 held a reunion dinner at Jeatrans Wednesday evening, March 28.

Twenty three out of twenty nine occupants of the dorm at the end of the freshman year are still attending Stout and were present for the dinner. Mrs. Sims, housemother of Eichelberger last year and now head of the dormitories, was guest of honor.

It was decided to make the reunion an annual affair. Bev. Duerkop is general chairman of "Ike" hall alumni affairs and Teas. Schroeder is secretary.

Teacher: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Student: "No wonder I flunked the test!"

SIX-WEEK SEMINAR IS ON TEACHER TRAINING

Now on the campus of Stout state college are 20 trade school teachers and supervisors of the Philippines who will take a six-week "Seminar on Teacher Training" under the auspices of the college. An additional participant is from India.

During their stay until May 18 the visiting educators will have a chance to observe an American college in action and see how industrial education at the college level is taught in the United States.

Each visitor will take six special courses during his stay. These include Philosophy of Vocational Education, taught by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout; Trade Analysis, by Dean John A. Jarvis; Techniques of Group Leadership, by Norman C. Ziemann; Curriculum Procedures, by Dr. Robert Rüdiger; Audio-Visual Education, by Dr. David Barnard; and Methods of Teaching Industrial Arts, by Dwight D. Chinnock.

MISS WATERSTREET PERFORMS AT CONVO

The remarkable performance, written and acted by Miss Waterstreet, was historical, picturesque, and entertaining. Her program was presented at the Wednesday convocation. All the drama, humor, and pathos of the presidential administrations down through the years was portrayed in the intimate moments Miss Waterstreet had with the presidents' wives.

On stage she portrayed Martha Washington, Mary Todd Lincoln, Dolly Madison, Mamie Eisenhower, and Eleanor Roosevelt. Her imitation of Dolly Madison was the most amusing.

Her costumes of stain, taffetas, velvets, and lace were a veritable museum as they are exact reproductions of the gown worn by the first ladies which are now on exhibit in the United States National Museum in Washington, D.C.

The last convocation of the year will be held April 18.

Other important business discussed at the election meeting Wednesday night included further reports on the progress of the S. T. S. Field Trip committee. Chairman P. Raymond Burkhalter distributed copies of the tentative itinerary and members signed for special reports on each phase of the tour. A booklet, including pictures of many aspects of the tour, will be printed by the members as a reference and souvenir of the trip.

Mr. Cornwell, advisor for the organization, invited the members to his home for the next meeting, which will be held on April 18th.

DORM NEWS

Well, spring is in the air and the girls have once more returned to the dorms to start the spring festivities. Now are the days of spring-fever mixed in of course, with a few tests in Phys., Foods, Psych. and you name it, they'll give it! Wonder if the teachers ever get a case of the proverbial disease of spring.

Did anyone see a car (or ten or twenty) filled to the brim with the junk that college froshies haul back each time they embark from home. I hear one girl lost a bag of apples somewhere between Wausau and Eau Claire! Poor apples! But by now that the girls have hauled all assorted paraphernalia to their room it should only take a week or so to find a proper place for it all. I hear several of the girls are taking golfing in Phy. Ed. and that meant a lot more room used up in the cars. Poor drivers! But I guess we should have some pity on the girls too, for they were the ones who had to decide what to take to cause all the confusion.

Tennis is also a popular Phy. Ed. selection and the girls are getting all ready for the enjoyable hours spent out in the sun and fresh air. I bet the girls will be nice and brown by the time the season is through.

Easter is past and still I feel we should give credit to the dorms for the fine work they did in constructing snow carvings in commemoration of the season and weather. It was nice to see the girls out there on that lovely spring day making snow bunnies, chickies, and lambs.

With all the noise around the dorms last night you would think the girls had been gone for nearly a century. Everyone was surely glad to see each other and they had a lot to talk over. The biggest topic was, of course, boys, but running a close second was hair-do's and third, clothes. I wonder if things are so exciting in the boy's dorms. Boys have to talk sometime, don't they?

Landlady: If you don't stop playing that saxophone I'll go crazy.

STOUT SYMPHONIC SINGERS WILL PRESENT THEIR FINAL CONCERT FROM BEST TOUR NUMBERS

Beginning a 1200 mile concert tour on Saturday, April 21, will be 108 members of the nationally-known Symphonic Singers of Stout state college. The group will present fourteen formal concerts during the eight day tour.

In addition to concert appearances, the Symphonic group will appear both on radio and television in the Milwaukee area. Cities at which they will appear include Wausau, Schofield, Pulaski, Sheboygan, Seymour, Port Washington, Watertown, St. Charles, and Crystal Lake.

In Milwaukee, the local alumni chapter of Stout state college will sponsor the appearance of the Symphonic Singers at Milwaukee state college. Upon their return to Menomonie, the musical group will present an annual spring concert in Stout auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 2.

The Symphonics group is an unusual musical organization in that it combines choir and band as a musical unit. Last year the Symphonics were chosen to appear in Miami before the national convention of Federated Music clubs.

The Stout Symphonic Singers will present their final concert this year next Wednesday evening. Just back from their spring tour the group, under the direction of Victor H. Hardt, will present many of their most successful program numbers. The program listing includes many folk, modern, and novelty numbers, as well as several standards and is designed to please all types of audiences.

This concert marks the final appearance of a great many talented musicians who have spent their four years with the Stout Symphonic Singers. Especially missed in the band by Stout's audiences will be Daniel Wilgus, of Pulaski, and his saxophone, and Edward Cleary, of Beloit, with his cCoronet. Both these members are featured in the final program listing. Curtain time is 8:00 and the date is Wednesday, May 2. A tentative listing of numbers to be presented follows:

Choir: Brother James' Air, Jacobs; Let My People Go, arr. Scott; Summer Carol, Handel; Stomp Your Foot, Copland; and Folk Song Suite, selected. Solo and ensemble: Excerpt from "Rhapsody in Blue," Gershwin, Carol Roycroft, trombone soloist; Waltzing in the Clouds, arr. Frey, Girls vocal ensemble; and Bumble Boogie, arr. Fina, Dorothy-Belisle, piano soloist.

Band: March, selected, Buglers' Holiday, Anderson; Jazz Rhumba, Palange; and Voodoo, Walters. Combined Choir and Band: All Creatures of Our God and King, Robertson; Prelude of the Bells, Rachmaninoff; Hardt; In a Persian Market, Ketelby-Hardt; Selections from "Desert Song," Romberg-Schoenfeld; My Bonnie Lassie, Arr. Hardt; Serenata, Anderson-Hardt; Cranberry Corners, John Klein; Londonerry Air, arr. Hardt-Walters; Battle Hymn of the Republic, arr. Ringwald; and Malaguena, Lecuona.

ISRAELI PIANIST PLANS CONCERT FOR CAMPUS

Another page in musical history was written May 16, 1953, when David Bar-Illan, the distinguished Israeli pianist who will perform here April 25 at 8 p.m. in the Stout State College auditorium, participated in the first concert ever to be presented in the ancient city of Nazareth. This is a return engagement for the handsome young musician at our college.

Bar-Illan was the soloist on this historic occasion, playing Beethoven's Fourth Piano Concerto with the Haifa Philharmonic.

"Political history also was made on that spring day, 15,000 representative of all the religious sects to be found in the Holy City gathered together peacefully in one place," Bar-Illan said.

"It is incredible," he went on, "that Nazareth had never had a concert before. Really strange, because the Israeli people have an intense love for music. Concerts have lasted all night in my country."

"However, it was even more incredible to see Christian, Jew, Arab, Hindu, et cetera, et cetera there isn't a religion in the world that doesn't have its followers in Nazareth sit together in peace and harmony."

Bar-Illan, who really started at an early age to display his phenomenal talent, played his first concert, at the age of six, on the maiden voyage of the first Israeli boat to sail from Haifa, his birthplace to Trieste.

The young pianist added another "first" to his list during the coronation of Elizabeth 2. He won the medal awarded annually by Dame Harriet Cohen, Pianist to the Queen, on behalf of the British Music League to the Year's outstanding young pianist, and, in so doing, was the first non-Commonwealth citizen ever to receive this valued award.

Appearing on one of America's oldest concert series during the summer of 1954, Bar-Illan, for the first time in the series' 80 year history received a standing ovation at the end of his recital.

One of the most exceptional virtuosos of today, Bar-Illan has been accorded wide critical acclaim. Following his recent mid-western tour, a Fargo N. D. critic stated: "Again and again one remembered the 19th century phrase, 'the pearly touch.' It stands for superlatively clean articulation of every note and every interwoven live of the musical fabric. He brought amazing delicacy to both Bach and Beethoven... and impelling and convincing reading."

LIBRARY WORKSHOP TO BE HELD HERE

Representing Stout State College at a recent meeting of presidents of chapters of the Wisconsin Education Association were Margaret Harper, vice-president of the Stout WEA chapter, and George Soderberg, treasurer of the group. The meeting was held in Eau Claire.

Designed to aid educators from this area in professional activities, the meeting offered assistance in program planning and public relations. Also discussed were retirement-social security and problems of particular interest to individual chapters.

Planning for the meeting was directed by Fred Switzenberg, Barron, a member of the WEA locals committee. Also taking part were Robert Munger and Amil Zellman, WEA staff members from Madison.

MASS CROWD ATTENDS CONCERT AND DANCE GIVEN BY BLUE BARRON AND THE "CREW CUTS"

The greatly anticipated event, the appearance of Blue Barron and the Crew Cuts, made lyceum history at Stout. Over a thousand people attended the two hour program in the auditorium Thursday night. The group at the dance in the high school gym appeared to be even larger.

After the students talked about the event all week, Thursday afternoon the excitement began to spread among students and faculty alike. Girls talked about the Crew Cuts and the boys talked about their dates for the dance. Many obtained guest slips for their friends. About 5 o'clock word was received that the Crew Cuts were in Menominee, Michigan, and rumors spread like wild fire that they wouldn't appear in the evening.

However Blue and his boys called and said they were in town but didn't know where the college was. After being assured that they could easily find

LIBRARY PLANS WORKSHOP FOR LIBRARIANS

The second annual spring workshop of the College and University Librarians' section of the Wisconsin Library Association will be held on the campus of Stout state college here all day Saturday, April 28. Director of library at Stout is Miss Phyllis Bentley.

Following a coffee hour provided by the staff of the Stout library, workshop participants will discuss "Financing Library Services." Moderator of the session will be Nelis S. Kampenga, librarian at Stevens Point state college. Another session on library finances will be held after a luncheon at Trinity Methodist church.

Participating in the workshop will be about 50 librarians from Wisconsin's private colleges, state colleges, and university. The Stout conference follows closely the meetin of the Wisconsin State College Faculties in Eau Claire, and event which is bringing together most of the personnel of the Wisconsin state colleges.

Stout Blue said he'd start the program at 8:00 and continue until the "Sh-Boom" boys arrived.

By 7:00 Thursday night the auditorium began to fill rapidly with eager students. Admission was with an SSA card and some students had difficulty getting in for various reasons. Guests remained in the hall until 10 to 8 and when the time came they quickly piled into the already packed auditorium. Chairs were set up in the aisles and people also stood along the sides and in the back of the auditorium. The place buzzed with excitement and even the organ music seemed to arouse the crowd and keep them in a mood of anticipation.

As the lights went down Blue started his boys and as the curtain was drawn music reached the ears of all. Looking around at the people one could see everyone was completely absorbed in the music. They literally "drank it in."

Blue brought singers Wendy Moore and Jerry Holmes with him. They soon got into the swing of the program and the Stout crowd clapped and cheered them on. They sang mostly popular numbers, which of course, delighted the listeners.

After intermission the Crew Cuts appeared and immediately won over their audience. As they went on stage they received a burst of applause which consisted of whistlers, cheers, and claps. Everyone seemed to give them a personal welcome and say they were glad the Crew Cuts were here. Following their first number the audience rewarded the boys with, as one of the m jokingly said, "applause they

BUSINESS ITEMS ACTED ON BY STUDENT BOARD

The Student Governing Board met Tuesday, April 17, 1956, and took action on the following:

1. Class elections of nominees must take place before Friday, April 20. Each class will nominate eight students to the Governing Board. Members of the Governing Board will then vote for four from each class. An all-school election will decide the representatives for next fall.

2. A request for some type of school jewelry, either a ring, pin, or both, will be looked into by Jiggs Kuboyama, Reiny Mehsner, and Ray Pearson. A survey of popular feeling was to be taken at class meetings.

3. A committee consisting of all class presidents will draw up a slate of activities and obligations for incoming residents.

4. The Governing Board Banquet will be held on May 1. The chairman is Jim Sand.

JUNIOR PROM THEME TO BE "SEA MIST"

"Sea Mist" will be the theme for this year's Junior Prom that will be held May 5. This theme was submitted by Jean Baumgartner, who will receive two tickets for the prom.

Plans are well under way for this special event. According to Joseph Koch, Junior class president, "The Junior class has already been complimented on its organization and progress."

Chairmen selected were decorations, Harlan Giese and Aileen Shinabarger; social, Barb Austin; publicity, Marilee Cate; punch, Rita Pauls; program, Reiny Mehsner; tickets, Pat Siebert; and clean-up, Jiggs Kuboyama. Although these classmen were named specifically, it is hoped by Joe Koch that all the Juniors will assume their duty of supporting and promoting this function, to make this year's prom the best.

A special feature of this year's prom will be the Grand March. The exact idea of the march is being kept secret.

Music will be furnished by the popular Bob Leighton and his orchestra. This band proved to be a big success at Homecoming. Dancing will be from 8:30 - 12:30 in the aquatic-trimmed high school gym. Tickets will sell for $2.00 a couple.

GLEN CUNNINGHAM TO SPEAK AT LAST CONVO

Stout students will be some of the thousands of Wisconsin young people in 41 high schools and colleges who will have an opportunity to hear former Olympic runner Glen Cunningham discuss "Clean Living and the Race of Life" during his 15 day visit in the State beginning April 15th. He will speak at the last convocation, April 25th at 10:00.

Glenn Cunningham entered the University of Kansas in 1930, and competed in inter-collegiate competition for the first time in 1931-32. That year he established a new conference record by running the half mile in 1:53.3, the mile in 4:14.3. At the National Collegiate Meet he set a new mile record of 4:11.1, the fastest mile ever run to that time in the U. S. In 1933 he received the Sullivan Award as the outstanding amateur athlete.

He was Captain of the American Track Team touring Europe and the Orient in 1933, and in 1936 was selected by his fellow athletes as the most popular member of the Olympic Team from the U. S. The University of Kansas selected him honor man of the class of 1934 as outstanding in scholarship, in student activities, and in service to the school. He holds a B. S. Degree from this University; and M. A. degree from the University of Iowa and earned his Ph. D. at New York University.

Dr. Cunningham has a national reputation in the field of physical education. He served in the Navy in World War 2 as a Physical Training Officer in San Diego and at the Great Lakes Naval Training Base. The father of six children, he now operates an 840 acre ranch at Cedar Point, Kansas, where he raises pure-bred Arabian horses and Shetland ponies. The ranch has become a favorite holiday spot for dozens of children from all parts of the state.

SHOW THEME IS "MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS"

For centuries men have wanted the "last word" on women's clothes. And on April 21 at Stout state college here it looks as if they're going to have it.

Yes, at style show which the college Home Economics club sponsors on April 21, men selected from the student body will have the unheard-of opportunity to act as commentators on this season's prettiest spring fashions.

Reinhold Mehsner, Milwaukee; Ralph Niffneggar, Woodford; and Jim Sand, Menomonie, all male fashion-plates on the Stout campus, have been given the rare privilege of commenting on the styles of the coeds at Stout.

However, the girls are still planning on having the last word. They have selected Carol Schilstra, of Sheboygan, to carry on a rebuttal when the boys begin "commenting" on women's fashions.

The entire college year will be reviewed in the style show, entitled "Memories Are Made of This." Depicted will be such campus highlights as homecoming, Christmas formal dances, prom time, and graduation.

This spring style show is an annual affair here. Sponsored by the Home Economics Club, all writing, directing, staging, and modeling are done by coed members of that group.

Because all girls at Stout state college major in some phase of home economics, the fashions which they display—from sportswear to formal attire—will have been constructed in college classes.

So this year when Stout's pretty coeds display their frothiest college creations, men will be allowed to express their "uncensored" opinions. But when it comes to style, attractiveness, and economy, the feminine sponsors of the style show are pretty sure that the male commentators won't have much to complain about.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET SATURDAY

The annual Spring YWCA Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held Saturday, April 21, at 5 p.m. at the Peace Lutheran Church. Tickets are still on sale in Harvey Hall at $1.60 each.

Arrangements are being made to have Harvey Hall and the Library open during Saturday afternoon in order that the mothers may see these buildings. The daughters may show their mothers around at this time.

A short program has been planned to enable the girls and their mothers to attend the Home Economics Club Style Show at 8:30 in the college auditorium.

Don't forget girls, if your mother can't come, you are welcome to ask your house mother or to come with your room mate.

NOTICE

Reserve library books may be taken out at 4:50 p.m., Thursday, April 26, and will be due at 9:00 a.m. Monday, April 30.

"PLATFORM PORTRAITS" BY RICHARD CORSON

"Platform Portraits" was given by Richard Corson Wednesday morning. Students and faculty were provided with an adventure in make-believe by the outstanding performer.

Proposal to Cynthia, the first monolog, was about a young man who was a conceited lover proposing to a girl. This was followed by a sketch, An Unnecessary Lecture by Unimportant People. From it Corson portrayed Professor Matthew Thurtel who gave a demonstration on Electricity and You. This was very amusing as it made the listeners chuckle throughout the sketch.

Another portrait, Washington Square also delighted the audience. It contained characters such as a New England farmer, a Midwestern Insurance salesman, an actor walking his dog, an inquisitive Texan, a young man from Park Avenue, and a bowery bum.

Mr Corson's program was wonderful and it was enthusiastically received by both the students and the faculty.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Yes, most of us know that Stout state college operates a "Lost and Found Department" located in the President's Office in Harvey Hall. It is open to all students every weekday between 7:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

But too few of us take advantage of this department or realize that Lost and Found works two ways. The "losing" activity on the Stout campus, however, evidently needs little explanation. Our unclaimed textbooks, notebooks, gloves and other personal belongings are scattered throughout classrooms and buildings. Even when articles are turned in at the President's Office, we display an almost unbelievable indifference as to their whereabouts.

A recent check of articles in Lost and Found shows that no one cared enough to seek such seemingly-vital items as three pairs of eyeglasses, notebooks from several courses, a pair of red shoes, and a number of valuable pens and pencils. In addition, there exists an abundance of unclaimed books, scarves, gloves and other personal possessions.

Fewer of us seem aware that "finding" is an equally important responsibility in the operation of a successful Lost and Found. When we discover a textbook, billfold, eyeglasses or other personal article which has been obviously mislaid, we should accept the responsibility of bringing that article immediately to the President's office.

Taking the proper action—and taking it immediately—eliminates the possibility of serious trouble. It is certainly unwise to pick up and begin using another's personal possessions, even if the user's intentions are honorable. Such unauthorized use also prevents the loser from claiming his rightful possessions when he needs them.

Yes, Stout state college has a Lost and Found service, operating daily and free-of-charge for the convenience of every student. But if that service is to function, we who lose things must have sufficient initiative to claim articles which have cost our parents or us hard-earned money. And when we find some article anywhere on campus, we should neither toss it into an even darker corner or appropriate another's property for our unauthorized use.

CLUB NEWS

Phi Upsilon Omicron sponsored a Spring Tea on Wednesday, April 18, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Harvey Memorial.

General chairman was Dorothy Belisle. Her committee consisted of: Ardis Carr-Decorations, Helen Fraehlich-Food, and Alice Yamamoto-Publicity.

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority held its annual trip Saturday, April 14. Leaving Menomonie early in the morning, the girls spent the morning shopping in Minneapolis. Noon time found the ASA's and their advisors, Miss Killian and Miss Mitby, dining amid atmosphere and glamour at Charlie's Cafe Exceptionale. To climax a day of fun and fellowship, the group attended the twentieth anniversary performance of the Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies at the Minneapolis Arena.

Tuesday evening Alpha Sigma Alpha held formal initiation for four new members, Carol Buck, Barbara Hartig, Toni Schmidt, and Ethel Scholler, in Harvey Memorial. After the ceremony everyone enjoyed a formal banquet at Jeatran's Supper Club, and serenading the dorms.

Tri Sigma held formal initiation Sunday in Harvey Memorial for its four pledges of the second semester. The new members are Jean Baumgartner, Mary Ann Cerny, Marvene Nelson, and Joan Wonoski, who served a lovely luncheon following initiation ceremonies.

Today the members of a sorority are observing Founders Day. Tri Sigma was founded on April 20, 1898, in Farmville, Virginia. Its colors are royal purple and white and the traditional flower is the purple violet.

Election of officers for the coming year was the order of business at the Pallas Athene meeting last Thursday night. Officers elected are as follows: Kay Kennedy, president; Pat Christianson, vice-president; Alice Yamamoto, secretary; Ann Kofoed, treasurer; Betty Havlik, alumni secretary; Zoe Goetzinger, historian; and Sue Harycki, sunshine fund.

Pallas Athene girls will entertain mothers and guests at a coffee hour at 915 6th Street. The get-together will be held on the afternoon of April 21 before the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

"Shower" will be the word for Scripture text roll call at the next Gamma Delta meeting Sunday night at 5 p.m. The meeting will begin with a vesper service. A low cost supper will be served. Discussion topics used at the La Crosse regional convention will be related to the group by chapter delegates who attended.

Plans will be made for members to attend the all state Gamma Delta convention to be held at Eau Claire on April 27-29.

September membership plans will also be made.

The Stout Snooper

Hi! During my 16 months of snooping at Stout, I discovered that everyone likes to receive mail. (Even advertisements or the actual McCoy of "everyday cards" or magazines prove all right once in a while when the mail supply is short.)

The girls who are "going steady" with fellows back home or in the service or the fellows who "left a girl behind" are especially anxious to see the flat-footed man in blue carry his mail bag up the sidewalk or to see a few pink or white envelopes lying on the stairways to their rooms. Why, some girls even run home between afternoon classes to see if they have received their special mail. If they did they come back with shining faces, and if they didn't, "That's the last of him." But then the next day a letter arrives, and that night a reply is written, and . . .

Perhaps I got too snoopy about what was in those "special" letters, but finally my curious nature got the best of me and I screwed up my telescope eyes, and the following is what my eyes read:

At the moment you're no doubt astonished at the promptness of my reply dismayed by a character with the amazingly lackadaisical reputation (bordering on gross negligence) of yours truly, but let's face it, ol' me is desperate for mail and the only feasible means by which I can hope to attain the desired end is to write. Hence, I proceed.

Another possible explanation stems from the fact that I rather enjoy writing letters. I'm tired of having essays stamped with "disapproved," and feeble attempts at poetry termed examples of babbling idiocy, so I take my literary bent out on innocent and unsuspecting associates, among whom I include you. One Dr. Gottschalck (i.e. English prof, drinking buddy, and self appointed critic in the old days at Minnie Creek), once peered from behind his Scotch and water and remarked, "... rhetorically speaking, you can best be described as having a diarrhea of words and simultaneous constipation of thought." This quote pretty well puts the exact bolt with the proper nut, but I'll hope you'll bear with me despite forewarning and subsequent knowledge of what is to come.

The trip to the Alps was great. Four of us took a week's leave and really had ourselves a ball! I nearly killed myself on skis, but never have I had a week packed with as much sheer enjoyment. I plan on a trip to Denmark and the Netherlands in June, the British Isles in August, and Wisconsin in September at which time I will become a civilian again.

Our work is an education in itself. G-2 is army language for the intelligence field. Our jobs require a security clearance, and Mom writes that about half the people in Minnie Creek think I'm in the "jug" because the FBI has been conducting a check on me!

The city is an ideal place to be stationed. It is probably best known for its association with "The Student Prince" which Romberg wrote in the "Rotten Oxen" (Red Ox), a local beer joint where the university students hang out. You ought to come over this summer,; we'd have a ball.

So long for now. See you in 7 months, 23 days, 6 hours, and 10 minutes.

And this has been a review of a special letter. (Of course I did omit the "Tender" parts of this "special" letter.)

deserved." Flashbulbs flashed, whistles whistled, and hands were clapped furiously. The crowd "dug" the Crew Cuts. Hep boys, hep! Man, they were really cool! And so the entire remainder of the program went. The boys held the audience rapt attention with their singing and antics.

After the Crew Cuts thought they had sung their last number they received such spontaneous applause that they gave encore after encore. The crowd didn't want to let them go and they let the boys know it too. Finally they were released and Blue concluded the program.

The auditorium emptied rapidly as the audience quickly went to the high school gym for the dance portion of the program. The speed with which they left the auditorium was the extreme opposite of the rate the students leave it to go to their classes after the Wednesday convocations. All seemed to be drawn by a magnet and that they were. They were to dance to the music of Blue Barron!

It didn't take long for the second part of the program to get under way. Couples stood on the floor eagerly waiting for the music to begin. When

MILWAUKEE ALUMNI TO HOLD GET-TOGETHER

The Milwaukee Area Stout Alumni Chapter has made plans for a get-together of all Stout Alumni during the American Industrial Arts Association (AIAA) convention in Milwaukee. The gathering will be held at the Lutheran Center, 1113 W. State St., on Wednesday, April 25 from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. Plan now to join your former classmates at this reunion.

it did, the floor became packed with smiling dancers who seemed to really be in a dancing mood. After a short intermission the small stage at one end of the gym was surrounded by people. Others sat on the bleachers with their eyes glued to the stage. It reminded one of small children waiting for Santa on Christmas Eve.

All of a sudden applause shook the gym and it was quite apparent that the Crew Cuts were on stage. Blue asked the crowd to be seated and those standing sat down immediately. They were sure going to be sure nothing was going to interrupt them once they had the Crew Cuts again.

And so the great event drew to a close and became history at Stout State College. The dancers left the gym feeling happy that they had attended such an eventful and delightful occasion. It was heard, "Its all over and now all we can do is talk about it." The students will do just that. Blue Barron and the Crew Cuts will long remain a fond memory of those who attended the lyceum Thursday night. Reporter Mary Ellen Rich

MR. ZIEMANN SERVES AS CONTEST JUDGE

Serving as a judge at the Wisconsin State Speech contest in Madison last week-end was Norman C. Ziemann, chairman of the speech department of Stout state college. The contest was conducted by the Wisconsin High School Forensic association.

Participating in the all-day session were forensic winners from district and sectional competition throughout Wisconsin. Participants received A, B, and C ratings, together with appropriate medals.

Among the events which Ziemann judged were included competition in original and non-original oratory, humorous and non-humorous declamation, extemporaneous reading, extemporaneous speaking, four-minute speeches on contemporary problems and interpretive reading.

JEROME ABBOTT PASSES AWAY OVER WEEKEND

Jerome Abbott, who died last week end, was a graduate student here at Stout. He received his Bachelor of Science degree last year.

Jerome was an active member of Epsilon Pi Tau. He lived on a farm near Menomonie, and is survived by his parents and a younger brother.

SIG TAU'S ORGANIZE COMMITTEES

Larry Loveland, president of Sigma Tau, conducted an 'expeditious' meeting last Thursday so that no one would miss the "Crew Cuts."

Committees for the year were organized and are as follows: activities, Richard Vogtsberger, chairman, Herb Brodt; alumni, Marshal Wake, chairman; education and culture, Reiny Meihnsner, chairman, LaVerne Christianson, Dave Gresch, Paul Paulson; pledging, Jerry James Kogler, chairman, Jerry Schemansky, the "boy" printer; newsletters, Bob Dahlke, chairman, Bill Anderson, Larry Loveland; scholarship, Chuck Bruemmer, chairman, Tom Miller; social, Jiggs Kuboyama, chairman, Ralph Stevens, Jerry Porter, Jim Jonen; finance, Darrel Ebert, chairman, Herb Reibe, Joe Jajtner; decorations, Hank Moerschel, chairman, Jerry Schoenike, Bill Erpenbach, Bob Anderson, Dick Rokus, and Ernest Oyama; candy apples and popcorn, Gary Penn, chairman, Joe Jajtner, Roger Kerstner, Bob Thomas, and Jerry Howard.

The Sig Tau's have had a hard time getting started with their softball team. They lost their first game to the Delta Kappa's and their Saturday and Sunday's practices were rained out.

Last Thursday the jeweler for Sig Tau was at Stout and the news from the grapevine is that several fraternity pins were bought. I wonder if the buyers bought the pins to wear? ? ?

YUGOSLAVIAN DANCE GROUP HERE SUNDAY

Rhythmic music, gay Yugoslav costumes, and spirited dances will highlight the April 22 performance of the St. Paul Tamburitens in the Stout auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

The Tamburitens are a group of Americans of Yugoslav descent who are members of the International Fellowship, an organization promoting exchange of folk backgrounds for all the nationalities that are welded into our United States.

The creative artistic talents of the people are easily perceptible in their dances, the famous "kolos" or reel, which are often accompanied on some ancient instrument such as sopele, gayada (kind of bag-pipe), frula (pipe), gule (the precursor of modern violin), etc.

The Tamburitens will present some of the national dances, dresses, and songs of Yugoslavia that can be heard and seen at various occasions, such as weddings, an opening of the fishing season, religious ceremonies, or simply a market-day.

Here is an opportunity for all of us to learn more about one of the troubled nations of Europe and still be entertained by zestful dances of their people. Admission is fifty cents for students and one dollar for adults. Tickets may be purchased from Lee's Drug Store, the First National Bank, or any L.S.A. member.

BOOKKEEPING PROCEDURES PRESENTED

Twenty-four treasurers of Stout organizations attended the meeting conducted by Mr. Schoepp in room 425 Harvey Hall last Tuesday night.

General bookkeeping procedure was explained, and a plan for a change in the present financial set-up was discussed. Under the new plan, each organization subsidized by the Student Activity fee must submit a budget to the Student Governing Board at the beginning of each school year. Money will be allocated on a basis of the needs of the organization, rather than so much per capita as it is now.

The general feeling of the group seemed to be that the session was helpful and should be continued.

RIFLE CLUB PURSUES VARIED ACTIVITIES

On Saturday the members of the Rifle Club went over to the Eau Claire National Rifle Club outdoor range to sight in the club's high power rifles and also to help the Eau Claire club spring house-clean. The club sighted in the six M-1, .30 caliber rifles in the afternoon.

On Sunday, May 6, the Stout Rifle Club will be guest of the Minnesota National Guard at a high power rifle match at Camp Ripley, Minnesota. During the day's firing the club will participate in five matches which will range from firing at 200 yards to 600 yards. This will be the only high power match the club will go to before the end of the regular school term.

It is hoped that the weather will be calm and clear for the match so that everyone will be a "blacksplatter."

CLUB NEWS

Wesley Student Fellowship has elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Larry Nelson; Vice-president, Don Gibbons; Secretary, Bobette Mulock; Treasurer, Louise Grant; State Representative, Betty Fraley; Worship Chairman, Georgia Christner; Missions, Marian Kindschy; Membership, Bruce King; Recreation, Sarah Ness; Food, Janet Schirmang; and Publicity, Beverly Madsen.

The State Methodist Student Movement (MSM) conference was held on April 13 - 15, 1956, at River Falls. The following Stout students attended: Larry Nelson, Ann Kofoed, Don Gibbons, Betty Fraley, Bobette Mulock, Louise Grant, Bruce King, Bruce Pence, Sarah Ness, Janet Schirmang, and Beverly Madsen. Advisors, Mrs. Ralph Allen and Reverend Henry, also attended the meeting. Betty Fraley, Wesley's state representative, was elected secretary of the state MSM Council. At the meeting, Stout's delegation met with delegates from Eau Claire and Northland College to plan activities for a Retreat to be held on May 11 - 13 at Whispering Pines Camp, Frederic, Wisconsin. W.R.A. TEA WAS HELD LAST WEDNESDAY

"April Showers" was the theme of the annual W.R.A. tea held Wednesday April 11, 1956 in the Harvey Memorial Lounge. Guests entered into a pink and green atmosphere of umbrellas, flowers and candles to help carry out the spring scene.

Muriel Erickson was the general chairman of this tea. Other committee chairmen were: Decorating, Rita Pauls; Food, Pat Christiansen and Helen Froehlich; Music, Carmen Krings; Publicity, Teaa Schroeder; and Work, Lois Olson.

three college groups are invited to the Retreat.

Wesley Student Fellowship will meet at 5:30 on Sunday, April 22, at Waukanda Park for a picnic and out-of-doors worship service. Everyone is invited to come and bring a friend.

The Arts and Crafts club has selected May 14 as the date for its spring charge of getting the equipment for picnic. Bill Anderson was placed in the baseball game. Any students that have made pen holders but that do not have pens for them are urged to contact any Arts and Crafts club member. The club has ordered 24 pens and they will be distributed on a first come first serve basis.

The annual "Soc Hop" sponsored by Panhellenic was held Saturday evening, March 14, in the small gym.

George King, his orchestra, and his vocalist provided the musical atmosphere for the "soc" dancers.

Those attending the dance commented that it was the best "Soc" hop they had hopped to yet.

Said the scientist to the druggist: "Give me some prepared acetylsalicylic acid."

Do you mean aspirin?" asked the druggist.

"That's right. I can never remember that name."

John: How did you make out in the exams?

Bill: Just like Napoleon. I went down in history.

TEAA SCHROEDER IS NEW W.R.A. PRESIDENT

Election of new officers was the major function of the Women's Recreation Association at their recent meeting. Succeeding retiring president, Shirley Bournoville, is Teaa Schroeder, energetic coed from Manitowoc. Other officers include Carolyn Greinke, vice president; Muriel Erickson, secretary; Diane Bournoville, treasurer; Carmen Krings, reporter; Beverly Spry, historian; Mary Ann Spangler, college pets chairman; and Ardelle Dregne, social chairman.

WRA is awarding a $25 scholarship this year to an outstanding freshman member for her participation in WRA activities and display of good sportsmanship through the past school year. A number of girls will be receiving WRA emblems and letters this spring on awards day having completed a very active sports schedule.

Badminton is the final sport to be included in the WRA calendar of activities. Sports manager, Diane Bournoville, has set up eight teams to play every Monday and Tuesday evening, starting April 23.

STOUT TO PLAY FIRST BASEBALL GAME

The Stout baseball team will travel to Stevens Point on Saturday, April 21, for a doubleheader against the Stevens Point state college baseball team. This will be a non-conference game with two seven inning games played each year at reversed sites.

Next year the state colleges will have their own league with a North-South division and playoffs for the championship.

Returning lettermen for Stout are: Bauman, p; Romoser, 3b; Cheke, ss; Bachmeyer, 1b; Wills, cf; and Ponschok, rf. The starting pitchers will be Baumann and Nelson with Peterson and Gelbertson for relief.

The Blue Devils should have a good team this year with these returning lettermen, if the pitching staff holds up.

"MAGICAL MILK" IS DEMONSTRATION TITLE

Do you regularly use one of the most flexible food items available? Nonfat dry milk can be used in a variety of ways. Flora Spinti will demonstrate various uses of dry milk solids in room 301 Harvey Hall today, April 20, at four o'clock. Her hour-long demonstration is entitled "Magical Milk" and the public is invited to attend.

OFFSTAGE WITH "CREW CUTS" IS WORK AND FUN

Have you ever wondered what went on behind the closed stage curtain? Upon request of the Stoutonia, I will take you there by presenting these questions to Carl Spinti and Joe Jajner.

Question: What is it like to be backstage and working with professional entertainers like the Crew Cuts?

Answer: It's a lot of hard, fast work, and fun, although it's not like working on a M.A.P. play. Blue Barron and the Crew Cuts were one of the easiest groups to work with, even though it was a last minute set up. More times than not the entertainers are more comical backstage than when on the stage.

Question: Is there a reason for them being more comical?

Answer: I think, they aren't worried about what they say as to lines, and in that way let down their hair.

Question: How does a program like this differ from a M.A.P. play?

Answer: For a play there are rehearsals several weeks in advance, and we can get all the lights up and operating at our leisure. We also have a couple rehearsals with the lights and cues, which is a great help. But for a lyceum or convocation the entertainers may not arrive more than an hour in advance, and we have to set up lights, put cinebox (colored filters) on some lights, and learn cues in an hour, which is hard and fast work. Because of this if the actors want special effects we may be setting up the effect while we are running the program, which can be confusing. We did this for the Crew Cuts.

Question: Then there isn't much time to talk to the performers?

Answer: Right, some of the girls may have envied us for being able to talk to the Crew Cuts, but we didn't have time and when we did it was to get cues not autographs.

SSC FACULTY MEMBERS TAKE ACTIVE ROLE IN COLLEGE FACULTY CONFERENCE IN EAU CLAIRE

A number of faculty members of Stout state college had active roles in the recent biennial conference of the Association of Wisconsin State College Faculties. The conference was held in Eau Claire April 27 and 28.

Present executive committee member of the association and also designated to hold that office until 1958 is Dr. Guy Salyer, associate professor of psychology and education at Stout. He is also president of the local AWSCF chapter, which has as its other officers Dr. Dwight Agnew, vice-president; Miss Ella Jane Meiller, secretary; and Dr. Otto Nitz, treasurer.

Miss Meiller and Miss Wauneta Hain, the latter of the Stout department of English, joined with Dr. Salyer in representing the Stout chapter in the delegate assembly of the Eau Claire meeting.

Stout faculty members who are members of AWSCF standing committees include Dr. David Barnard, salary and leaves of absence; Dr. Erich Oetting, legislation and public relations; Philip Ruehl, tenure, academic freedom and working conditions; and Ann Noble, improvement of teacher education.

Two members of the English department of Stout state college appeared on the convention program. Miss Gertrude L. Callahan, chairman, was a member of a panel dealing with "What is Being Done in the Freshman Courses about Teaching Reading Techniques and What Should be Done?"

Dr. Thomas Fleming, director of public relations at Stout, and a member of the English department, was one of three persons discussing with public relations directors of other state colleges, "Getting News to Weekly Newspapers."

Two events highlighted the gathering. One was a panel discussion dealing with "The Future of Higher Education in Wisconsin." Participants included W. D. McIntyre, president of State College Regents; Charles D. Gelatt, president of Wisconsin's coordinating committee on higher education.

William W. Clark, chairman of the State Senate committee on education and public welfare; G. E. Watson, state superintendent of public instruction; and E. H. Kleinpell, president of River Falls state college.

Banquet speaker for the convention was Dr. Sidney Hook, head of the department of philosophy of New York university. Dr. Hook, noted educator and author, discussed "Education and Creative Intelligence."

DR. BARNARD PRESIDES AT AUDIO-VIS MEETING

Presiding over a number of events at the recent spring conference of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction was Dr. David P. Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout state college. Dr. Barnard is president of the Wisconsin department.

The spring conference was held in Green Bay. Cooperating in the event were the Green Bay public schools. Over 400 audio-visual directors, coordinators, school administrators, classroom teachers and a variety of specialists in certain phases of the field attended.

Dr. Barnard presided and took part in a conference forum devoted to the topic, "Building for Better Teaching." He also presided at the ADAVI board meeting, a conference business meeting and other events.

Among leading resource persons participating in the conference were Walter A. Wittich, director of the University of Wisconsin bureau of audio-visual instruction; Harvey R. Frye, supervisor of the graphic arts department of Indiana university; and Floyd E. Brooker, executive secretary of the department of audio visual instruction of the National Education Association.

FINAL CONCERT OF SYMPHONIC SINGERS MAY 2

Residents of the Menomonie area had the opportunity on Wednesday evening, May 2, at 8 p.m., to hear the Stout Symphonic Singers in their final concert of the season. The musical program, presented in the college auditorium, was that given by the Symphonic Singers on their concert tour through Wisconsin and Illinois.

A wide variety of music was offered, ranging from Handel to boogie woogie, and from solos to the combined production of 110 singers and instrumentalists.

Included in the 90 minute concert were such well-known favorites as "Let My People Go," "In a Persian Market," "Londonderry Air," "Serenata," "Prelude of the Bells," and "Rhapsody in Blue." Highlighting the evening were selected favorites from the "Desert Song" by Sigmund Romberg.

LeRoy Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday" was featured by the band, and several solo and ensemble numbers were also presented. Featured for the final time on the Stout stage was Dorothy Belisle, Menomonie pianist. Miss Belisle appeared in several solo selections.

Here are your class candidates for the SSA Governing Board. They are (left to right) 1st row; Barbara Williams, Barbara Habstritt, Aileen Shinabarger, Joan Wonoski, Marilyn Webb, and Bob Brown. 2nd row; Fern Mathey, Bill Erpenbach, Doug Dorner, Harland Giese, Bill Kind-schy, and Ray Pearson. Let's all come out and elect our student government representatives on Tuesday.

PROM FEATURES SEA MIST AND BOB LEIGHTON

"Sea Mist" will encircle King Joe Koch and Queen Bonnie Koch as they reign at the 1956 junior class prom, Saturday night, May 5. The court of honor will include the junior class officers and their dates, vice-president, Andree Jost; secretary, Del Medin; and treasurer, Jerry Schoenike.

Bob Leighton and his 11 piece orchestra will furnish music from 8:30 to 12:30 p.m. "Ebb Tide," the prom theme song will be complimented by Bob Leighton during the evening. Tickets are being sold during the week in Harvey Hall at $2.00 per couple.

All juniors will be decorating the gymnasium on Friday and Saturday to coincide with the theme, "Sea Mist". At present the decorations are well under way.

The following junior class members are acting as committee chairmen: decoration committee, Harlan Giese, assistant chairman, Aileen Shinabarger; program committee, Reiny Meisner; social committee, Barb Austin; ticket committee, Pat Seibert; cleanup committee, Jiggs Kuboyama; publicity committee, Marilee Cate; punch committee, Rita Pauls.

A very unusual and different coronation ceremony will be featured which is under the direction of Jiggs Kuboyama. Members of the coronation ceremony include: Andree Jost, class vice president and Jack Bilés; Del Medin, class secretary, and Bill Mc Kinnon; Jerry Schoenike, class treasurer, and Julie Knapp; Ken Wittig and Loretta Steffen, Harlan Giese and Barbara Hartig, and Reiny Meisner and Rita Jackson.

S.S.A. HOLDS BANQUET AND SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Stout Student Association Governing Board was called Tuesday night to discuss the candidates for Governing Board elections and the annual S.S.A. banquet. The banquet was held at Jeatran's supper club, at 6:00 p.m. on May 1. Following the dinner the regular Governing Board meeting was then held. Each class turned in their list of names for prospective Governing Board representatives, and out of that list four names from each class were chosen, those people to be voted upon by the entire student body. The meeting was then adjourned.

CONVENTION ATTENDED BY STOUT PERSONNEL

Taking active part in the recent annual convention of the American Industrial Arts Association were a number of persons from Stout State College. The convention was held in Milwaukee April 24-27.

Chairman of the association's National Committee on Accreditation of Industrial Arts Teacher Education Programs is Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout. That committee, in turn, is part of the American Council on Industrial Arts Teacher Education and was established at the request of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education, described to the convention, "Teaching Effective Evaluation Techniques in Methods Courses." "Contributions of the Psychology of Learning to the Teaching of Industrial Arts" was the topic of an address by Dr. Robert Swanson, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout. Edward Treise, a Stout graduate who is now an instructor at the Fort Atkinson School of Vocational and Adult Education, and Henry Moerschel, Stout undergraduate, demonstrated to the convention the plastics forming press invented by Dr. Swanson.

Also participating in convention activities were other members of the Stout industrial arts faculty. They include Ray A. Wigen, director of graduate studies, Dr. G. S. Wall, also of the graduate section; Dr. Herbert Anderson, chairman of the woodworking department.

Dr. Theodore Wiehe, assistant professor in the fields of machine shop, foundry and pattern making; and Ray Cornwell, instructor in Stout's department of graphic arts.

The Milwaukee chapter of the National Stout Alumni Association sponsored a get together for all Stout alumni and faculty members in attendance at the convention.

MOTHERS ENJOY VISIT AT NURSERY SCHOOL

Mothers, daughters, and guest crowded the basement of Peace Lutheran church as the YWCA Mother-Daughter Banquet got underway again this year. Now considered to be an annual affair, approximately 270 people attended.

Although the Style Show was scheduled for after the banquet, it was indeed a style show in itself to watch the well-dressed mothers and daughters coming to the banquet.

The theme of the banquet was "Apple Blossom Time," and this was appropriately carried out since the tables were all decorated with hand-made apple blossoms and pussy willows. Proud daughters escorted their mothers to their places and the program was opened with a prayer by Miss Harper, adviser of the YWCA. Joan Wonoski led the group in singing, followed by a welcome, on the part of all the daughters, given by Ruth Thomas, vice-president of the organization. Barb Austin, the present president, and her mother gave short speeches, one representing the daughters present, and the other the mothers at the banquet, respectively.

Main speaker for the evening was Dean Antrim, who offered an inspiring topic entitled, "Christianity and the College Woman."

This closed the program for the evening followed by a meal of tomato juice cocktail, swiss steak, mashed potatoes, gravy, tossed salad, peas, rolls, ice cream, chocolate chip cookies and coffee.

SHOP AND SAVE SAY NUTRITION STUDENTS

"Shop and Save!" is a familiar advertising slogan to any woman. But to make those related goals a reality, the home economics division of Stout state college offers a course, "Nutrition and Dietetics," to students majoring in either education or dietetics. The course seeks to teach women to shop wisely and stretch their food dollars.

The Nutrition and Dietetics course deals with personal dietary needs and problems encountered in planning purchasing and preparing foods. The class learns that, surprisingly enough, emotions are a factor in how the family food dollar is spent. For example, evidence indicates that homemakers tend to select and prepare the foods they liked as children. By doing this they recall their childhood and the security it offered. Wise expenditure of the food budget is also stressed throughout the course.

An interesting project of last semester's class was studying food habits of third graders, with students of Menomonie's Coddington and Central grade schools participating. In addition, the food habits of senior girls at Stout State were compared to food habits of sophomore girls there. A summary of the survey indicated insufficient awareness by students of nu-

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The world has no place for a "pace setter!" Yes, such is the case. Let someone work a little faster or better than the rest of the group, and the derogatory term "pace setter" is given to him along with the sidelong looks and surliness of his lesser acquaintances. He is someone to be feared and to be changed.

But what is life without a "pace setter"? There would be no one to discover new bits of knowledge and bring about new inventions, no brilliant minds to lead in adding facts to the meager amount the world has, no one to insure progress instead of retrogression. The world would be at a standstill.

Where would we Americans be now if friends of Columbus had succeeded in convincing him that the world was flat? How would we get along if the Wright brothers hadn't evolved a new means of locomotion at Kitty Hawk? What of advancements in education had stopped with only the most elementary schools in existence? We need "pace setters" — people with initiative who will go ahead after the group sits back, pleased with everything it has been told.

Perhaps the reason pace setters are unwelcome is because they draw attention to our own lack of ambition, our own laziness. If we're in the wrong, we like to feel that a lot of others are there with us and we like no reminders of where we are. We don't want to be disturbed in our nonchalance and our peace of mind. We're quite happy to be an average person or average student — as long as there is no one who is up there ahead of us.

"Pace setters" may make us uncomfortable. We may not want to praise them for their benefits to society but let's not stab them in the back. It would be only a matter of time before the sword would be in our own backs.

CLUB NEWS

The Manual Arts Players have been very busy lately. On April 20, twenty seven members, advisors and guests journeyed to the cities where they saw "The Bad Seed." The play was wonderful and everyone had a good time.

On Monday, April 23, officers for the coming year were elected. They are: president, Skip Lemke; vice president, Mike Brennan; secretary, Audrey Adams; treasurer, Betty Fraley; historian, Zita Peplinski; wardrobe mistress, Dorothy Disrud; equipment man, Pete Jackson.

On Monday night, April 30, the members of M.A.P. set to putting the stage in good order. Our last big events of the year are over and we want to have the stage in top shape for next year.

The April 22 meeting of the Gamma Delta National Lutheran Fraternity was highlighted with the making of plans for an informal social gathering Sunday, May 13, at Riverside Park. The Gamma Delta chapters from Eau Claire and River Falls will be invited to attend. A picnic and entertainment will be included in the program. Baseball will also be played. The picnic will begin at noon.

Members of the food committee for the picnic include: Joan Wonoski, Helen Froelich, and Nancy Gabert. In case of bad weather the informal social will be held in the school basement.

Convention at Eau Claire to be held April 27-29 were also made.

The next meeting will be held on May 6. It will be a work meeting. Lunch will be served by Jane Schneck, Donna Enders, and Myrna Shearer. The word to be included in the roll call will be "flower."

The all-day interchapter meeting at Whitewater made an exciting weekend for some of the members of Sigma Tau Gamma. Those who attended the meeting were as follows: Warren Barber, a graduate of Stout and who is now a vice-deputy of Sigma Tau Gamma; Herb Meisner, also a graduate of Stout and who is now Province Governor; Larry Loveland, president of the local chapter; Jerry Howard, vice-president of the local chapter; Larry Smith; Marshal Wake; and Jerry Porter.

The Sig Taus are looking forward to the pre-prom dinner which will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Stage Coach Inn. The Sig Taus will be honored at the dinner by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Belisle, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rich, and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kirby. Dr. Swanson will be the speaker at the dinner.

At the annual convention of the American Industrial Arts Association, which was held in Milwaukee April 24-27, Dean Jarvis, an advisor of the Sig Taus, described to the convention, "Teaching Effective Evaluation Techniques in Methods Courses."

Dr. Swanson, also an adviser, addressed the convention, "Contributions of Psychology of Learning to the Teaching of Industrial Arts."

Hank Moerschel demonstrated Dr. Swanson's plastic forming press at the convention also.

The Stout Snooper

More students in the entire school population of about 1,000 have sur-names beginning with the letter "S" than any other letter. In fact 116 names such as Sagstetter, Shirmang, Schlagenhaft, Satter, Shearer, St. Jacques, Swaengsugdi, Spry, and Stepp are included. Next comes "B" with 105 students claiming this initial. Backhaus, Bettisworth, Blythe (any relation to the movie star?), Boigenzahn, Brechja, Budde, and Buchaklian are found in this category.

MacLaughlin, Matschnig, Matl, Moroni, and Motyka are included in the "M's" numbering 77, while "K" follows closely with 74, among which are: Kaczmariski, Kahm, Kasper, Karracker (or "character"), Kaul, Kelnhofer, Kjell, Komperud, Kotek, and Kowalczyk.

The only letter not to be represented in the 1955-56 student directory is Q. Yes, even "U" has two, Uhl and Urbanz, and both "I" and "Y" have five from Yoshida to Young and Iida to Issacson.

I, the Snooper, was surprised to count "Z" as having 11 representatives on campus. Some are Zenisek, Zietlow, and Zoberiski.

Other members of the alphabet ranked as follows: W, 69; H, 66; P, 62; G, 59; R, 46; L, 44; D, 42; J, 40; C, 37; N, 33; T, 33; O, 29; F, 25; E, 24; and V, 15.

20 Johnsons but only one Jones are enrolled at Stout while there are 11 Smiths, nine Andersons (one Andersen), 10 Nelsons, six Petersons, five

ALPHA'S HONOR MISS MITBY; HOLD ELECTIONS

Alpha Sigma Alpha gathered for a dessert and coffee hour recently to welcome back the seniors, elect officers, and to honor Miss Mitby who will not be returning next year. After short speeches by Miss Killian and president, Ginny Ehlers, Miss Mitby was presented with a gift from the sorority. Elected to lead Alpha Sigma Alpha for next year were: president, Judy Goehring; vice president, Carol Becker; secretary, Rita Jackson; treasurer elect, Eleanor Weltzin; chaplain, Diane Darcy; membership director, Adaline Boche; and song leader, Jo Scheevel. Installation services for these officers were held Monday evening in Harvey Memorial.

Browns, and three Christensens, Pauls and Vogtsbergers.

Then, too, there is also the long and short of it with Christopherson leading the way with a total of 14 letters! Kay, Gee, Eke, Day, Lee, Oas, May, Ong, Ray, Ott, Suk, and Uhl have just three letters. Gee, how easy these last 12 names are to spell compared to other long names such as Faxchingbauer, Bettisworth, Mittelstaedt, Bournoville, Dunkelberger, Pickelmeyer, Schlagenhaft, Tiefenthaler, Sommerhalder, Trzebiatowski, and Vaitkevicius!

Names such as Alexander (the great?), Austin, (a car), a ding-dong Bell, and Grant's tomb appear. Nature claims her share including West, Birch, Brooks, and Buck. Harry, Frank and Howard are listed as last names.

Cain and Parish, King and Butler, Face and Wake, Deal and Moll, and also Shaft and Knox. Still others are Tubbs and Case.

Yes, the directory does provide an interesting source of a mixture of all kinds of names from Darling to Pelouquin, Theis to Grzybowski, and Fritz to Wuethrich. Have you ever snooped in it?

WAC OFFICERS WILL VISIT CAMPUS MAY 7

Visiting the division of home economics at Stout state college on Monday, May 7, to discuss opportunities of qualified college graduates as commissioned officers in the Women's Army Corps, will be Major Charlotte I. Woodworth, of WAC Officer Procurement Branch.

Major Woodworth will confer with Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics at Stout, and then will be available for conferences with women students who have interest in an army career.

Hours for the conference and other relevant information regarding Major Woodworth's visit will soon be placed on Dean Kirk's bulletin board. Girls can then sign for conferences with the visitor.

DEMONSTRATIONS WILL BE GIVEN IN HARVEY

You have read about the new synthetic sweeteners, but do you really know what they are and how to use them? These new products will be presented with their possibilities and limitations in a public demonstration Friday, May 4, at 4:00 p.m. in Room 301 of Harvey Hall by Aleen Shindbarger.

Miss Barbara Sommerhalder is giving a public demonstration on deep fat frying, in which she will show how appetizers, vegetables, meats, seafoods, fritters, croquettes, and doughnuts can be fried at their finest.

Her demonstration "Fried Foods at Their Finest" will be given on Monday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 301 in Harvey Hall.

"Coffee Break" will be the topic of Connie Chellman's public demonstration to be given on Friday, May 11, at 10:00 a.m. in Room 301 in Harvey Hall.

DORM NEWS

Gee, it was fun having our Moms up for the Mother-Daughter Banquet and the Style Show. Those ladies surely could prepare the meal and they served it with great skill, too. But the girls at the Annex did a little planning of their own for the week-end as they had a tea for their Moms and Dads before the banquet. At this tea the girls served lime punch and cookies and carried their decorations out in the green and yellow color scheme. It went over very well with approximately sixty in attendance.

Those Mothers can keep up a pretty active pace, for as one girl commented as she waved bye to her Mom, "Boy, can she wear a person out!" Guess the Moms never thought of it that way. But maybe the daughters helped by having such a full schedule that the Moms just had to keep up.

WORKSHOP ON MAY 8 FOR SOCIAL CHAIRMEN

Social activities at Stout state college will be discussed at a workshop for all social chairmen and vice presidents at a meeting Tuesday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in room 205 of Harvey Hall.

All vice presidents and social chairmen for the various campus organizations will be notified, as well as the advisors of the organizations. There will also be an open invitation extended to any student who is interested in promoting further social activities on the campus.

The topics of discussion for the evening will be:

1. Dances
a. whether it would be best to have a few name bands, or several dances with smaller bands.
- b. whether it would be advisable to have square dancing on campus.
2. Suggestions for drawing up a schedule for choosing dinner-dance dates.
3. New activities and opportunities for learning social competence in:
a. interpretation of modern art.
b. learning to dance, especially as a freshman course.
c. talking about literature and its appreciation.

DIETETICS ...

tritionally adequate foods.

Upon realizing that selection of nutritionally adequate food presented a real problem, the Nutrition and Dietetics class then set about to establish those food items which could be included in a low cost dietary. United States Department of Agriculture standards were used as a basis. Several low cost food items were listed and as a class activity a week's market order was planned for a family of five.

A specific menu prepared, served, and eaten by class members was as follows:

Breakfast: Grapefruit juice, Oatmeal - Milk*, Orange Biscuits - Butter, Cocoa*.

Dinner: Hamburger Pattie w/onion Slices, Baked Potato, Green String Beans, Oatmeal Muffins - Butter, Milk*, Cocoa*.

Supper: Bean Soup, Carrot Apple and Raisin Salad - Orange Juice Dressing, Hard Cooked Egg Slices, Muffins - Butter, Milk*.

* All milk used was re-constituted dry milk solids.

Nutrition and Dietetics at Stout state college is an elective course for education majors. Miss Ella Jane Meiler, head of Stout's department of food and nutrition, teaches this class during the fall semester of each college year.

Principles which students learn in this course have a wide variety of application. They can be used in present or future homemaking situations, as intricate part of a Stout graduate's professional career, and to aid her in advising others in solving their dietary problems.

RITA PAULS IS MISS NEWMANITE OF CONVENTION

Chosen as "Miss Newmanite" of a five state Newman club province convention held from April 13-15 was Rita Pauls, a junior coed at Stout state college.

The convention was held on the University of North Dakota campus at Grand Forks, North Dakota. Over four hundred college and universities were represented at the convention.

Each group present submitted the name of a student who had done outstanding work for their Newman club, and who displayed outstanding characteristics of Catholic character on a secular campus.

Miss Pauls was chosen as one of five finalists on Saturday. At the banquet that evening, the winner of the "Miss Newmanite" contest was announced. Rita was the proud recipient.

When asked to give a short address of acceptance, Rita replied: "For once in my life I am speechless... and forever indebted to the Stout Newman club for enabling me to receive such an honor."

STOUT DROPS DOUBLEHEADER ON SATURDAY

Stout baseball team bowed twice to St. Cloud on Saturday afternoon. They lost the first game 7 to 5. St. Cloud trailing 5 to 0 came through in the 6th inning with seven runs to defeat Stout 7 to 5. Five hits, 2 walks, a hit batsman, and an error accounted for the seven runs. Stout scored a run in the first, two in the third, and two in the 5th inning. Nelson pitched the first game for Stout and went six innings when he was relieved by Petersen who went on to finish the game.

St. Cloud took the second encounter 3 to 2. The score was tied in the first inning then St. Cloud went on to score 2 runs in the 3rd. John Blythe scored the other run for Stout on pitcher Jerry Bauman's double. Stout was unable to score after this.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA'S NEW BOWLING CHAMPS

Victorious in over-powering seven other skillful bowling teams were Rita Paul's cagey Tri Sigma pace setters. The champs are Pat Siebert, Teaa Schroeder, Shirley Bournoville, and Rita Pauls, captain. This group finished the season with a 103 team score average. Barb Habstrit and her energetic teammates followed closely behind with a 102 team score average.

CLUB NEWS

The Tri Sigma sorority held a ceremonial meeting Thursday, April 19, with the new members in attendance for the first time.

A committee consisting of Pat Browe, Ruth Winters, and Pat Webster was appointed to help plan the annual ASA, and Tri-Sigma picnic.

Discussion was held on a forthcoming bake sale, Senior Send off, and our Founder's Day banquet to be held at Jeatran's on May 3.

The annual Home Economics club senior breakfast will be held Saturday, May 19, at 9:00 a.m. at Peace Lutheran church. Tickets are $1.00 and will be sold in Harvey Hall from May 14 through May 18.

Girls of all classes are invited to the senior breakfast. You need not be a Home Ec. club member to attend. This is your last chance to honor the seniors, so everyone come.

Wesley group is planning a retreat on May 11, 12, and 13, to plan for next year's program and for a social and recreational weekend. Eau Claire and Stout will be attending this retreat.

Two very interesting speakers, who will talk about program planning and personal enrichment, have been scheduled. It looks like a wonderful weekend of fun. Why not sign up for it right away?

"Memories Are Made of This" was the theme of the Home Economics Club Style Show held Saturday, April 21. From Scottish kilts to a queen's formal were among the clothes shown. The girls modeled sportswear, school clothes, lounging ensembles, party dresses, and formal attire.

Preceding the style show, the girls from Tainter Annex presented a skit entitled "Chattanooga Choo-Choo."

DEVILS DEFEAT BLUGOLDS BY TWO RUNS, 8-6

On Tuesday afternoon, April 24, the Stout Blue Devils defeated the Eau Claire Blugolds by the score of 8-6. The Blue Devils were in command from the first inning on as they scored six runs in the opening inning. Top batters for the Blue Devils were Blythe and Pagel with three hits apiece. Jerry Bowman pitched a beautiful game as he allowed the Blugolds only 7 hits.

The Stout Ski Club members are in for a big treat on May 12, for that is the day of the annual Ski Club picnic to be held at Deepwood. This last official function of the members is something that is looked forward to by all the active members.

On the menu are steaks which would satisfy any hungry skier who has been on the hills all day. The picnic will start at two and run on thru the evening.

The Wednesday night mixer April 18 was sponsored by the Newman club and was enjoyed by many Stout students.

The college orchestra "The Blue Notes", supplied the music for the evening. Chaperons for this event were Mr. and Mrs. Schoepf and Miss Williams.

All members of Synchronized Swimmings are required to attend the May 8, meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the balcony of the pool. Election of officers and plans for next year will be made. A spring picnic will also be decided upon.

APPOINTMENTS RECEIVED FOR INTERNSHIPS

Appointment of Stout State graduates to dietetic internships has been announced here by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the home economics division of the college.

Appointments are made nationally by the American Dietetic Association, the organization which accredits all hospitals offering approved dietetic internships. Traditionally on "Dietetic Internship Appointment Day" the ADA announces simultaneously dietetic internships for seniors in colleges and universities which meet the association's standards for undergraduate preparation.

At Stout state college, one of these approved colleges, graduating dietetics majors received and accepted the following internships: Janice Eddy, Alma Center, Veterans Administration Hospital, Hines, Ill.; Jane Motyka, Cable, Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo; Mary Paciotti, Beaver Dam, Milwaukee County Hospital.

Barbara Post, Milwaukee, Milwaukee County Hospital; Barbara Rushing, Peachland, N.C.; United States Army, Fort Sam Houston; Ann Shemick, Eau Claire, Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, O.; and Myra Evans, Delevan, University of Minnesota hospitals, Minneapolis.

REGISTER FOR VOTING IN THE NEXT ELECTION

Eligibility to vote in the November elections is based on the following requirements, to which all prospective voters must comply. The voter must be 21 years of age, and a citizen of the United States.

Students who meet these two requirements must, first of all, be a registered voter. A person must register in his home town, or the town in which he has established residency. Residency is determined in these two ways:

1. If you are a student receiving financial aid from your parents, and call your parents home town, you register in that city.
2. If you are a student receiving no financial aid from your parents, and call Menomonie your home town, having established residency here, then you register in Menomonie. This applies particularly to married students who have broken ties with their hometown.

After registering at your home town, the registrant must ask for an absentee ballot, which will be mailed to him before elections. Then, after filling out the ballot, it is again sent to his hometown where the person is registered. Out of state students will also vote by absentee ballots, following the regulations of their states. These regulations will be explained at the time of registration.

A prospective voter registers in the city hall of his town. If that person has registered for the primary elections; no further re-registration is required. Before registering, the person must have spent at least 1 (one) year in the state where he is registering, 10 (ten) days in the county, and at least 10 (ten) days in the precinct wherein he is registering.

Students who are self-supporting, and have no hometown to call their own, married or single, may establish residency in Menomonie, and register and vote here.

Some states require that a voter register within 30 days of the elections.

SERVICE GROUP INITIATES NEW PLEDGE CLASS

The Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, performed formal installation ceremonies for thirteen new members Tuesday, April 24; the meeting was held on the third floor of the Stout Union. The dedication of the class was in accordance with the national fraternity's suggestion to present the new members to a person who has been active in the promotion and services of Alpha Phi Omega and is affiliated with the chapter.

After the ceremonies, the chapter enjoyed a supper meal at Jeatran's Supper Club. In a short business meeting which followed, plans were made for laminating cards, the Cub Scout kite flying derby, and spring picnic.

SIGN UP FOR CAMPUS SISTER PROGRAM NOW

Remember how glad you were to have a "big sister" to help you plan for your first days at Stout? She made you feel welcome, and soon you began to feel as though you were really part of the student body. Maybe she was able to explain some of the different organizations and answered other questions which you had about college life.

Again next year, the YWCA is sponsoring the big-little sister program on campus. We need your cooperation in making this program a success. If you would like to have a freshman girl for a "little sister" next year, sign up on the poster on the bulletin board in Harvey Hall. During the summer you will receive your "little sister's" name and address so that you will have a chance to correspond with her. Let's all help next year's freshmen get off to a good start on their college life.

FACULTY WOMEN TAKE PART IN AHEA MEETING

Participating in the eleventh annual spring meeting of the Wisconsin Home Economics association, held recently at Lake Delton, were eight faculty members of the division of home economics at Stout state college.

Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division, represented Stout in the council assembly of the gathering. Miss Hazel Van Ness also took part in council deliberations and participated as a member of the executive council of the association.

Other faculty women who were active in the varied activities of the spring gathering included Clara Carrison, Eleanor Cox, Lillian Jeter, Ellen Nelson, Ann Noble and Alyce Vanek.

DR. FRYKLUND WRITES TEXT FOR TEACHERS

Author of a new textbook, "Analysis Technique for Instructors", is Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout State College. The text, designed for industrial education teachers and those in training to become teachers, has been issued by the Bruce Publishing Co., Milwaukee.

The analysis explained in the new book is a procedure by which the elements of an occupation, or any part of an occupation or activity, are identified and listed for instructional purposes.

Dr. Fryklund also did much work on various aspects of analysis when he was a member of the faculties of the University of Minnesota and of Wayne State University. His earlier text, "Trade and Job Analysis," was translated in 1950 for use in the vocational schools of Japan.

Included in the content of the newly-published "Analysis Technique for Instructors" are units dealing with essential phases of analysis itself, a discussion of applications of analysis, evaluation of modern industrial workers, and suggestions relevant to teaching and learning and to course development.

NOTICE

On May 17, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. recruiters for the Naval Aviation Cadets will be in the main hall at Harvey.

SUGGESTION BOX FOR NEW UNION IS PLACED IN HARVEY AND UNION; COMMENTS ARE WELCOME

Have you any suggestions for the new Union? Stout State Union plans will be drawn up in the near future, and it is the aim of the Union committee to have that Union contain as many facilities that could be used by Stout students in the future.

A suggestion box is being placed in both Harvey Hall and the Union, to gather any suggestions that students may have for the new Union.

So far the committee has planned a rough outline of the facilities they would like to have in the new building. They include:

1. Lounges for both faculty and students, one of which will be large enough to convert into a dance floor for student dances.
2. Recreation facilities, including bowling (4 lanes), ping pong (4 tables), billiards (4 tables), and tables for card games.

HOME EC CLUB PLANS SENIOR BREAKFAST

An annual event which is coming up soon is the Home Economics Club Senior Breakfast. It will be held Saturday, May 19, at 9:00 A.M. at Peace Lutheran Church. Tickets are $1.00 and will be on sale in Harvey Hall from May 14 through May 18.

The various committees have been working on the breakfast for the past two months. The general chairman is Barbara Hartig. Working with her are Beverly Duerkop, program chairman; Jan Jenquin, tickets chairman; Mary Ann Spangler, decorations chairman; and Billie Jo Braker, general arrangements.

Featured on the program will be Dean Kirk and President Fryklund giving the greetings. Doris Hutchinson, Betty Fraley, and Rhea Van Fleet will also give short talks honoring the seniors. Also on the program will be AHEA initiation, musical solos, and group singing.

The Senior Breakfast is a tradition of the Home Ec. Club. All senior Home Ec. Club members are given free tickets for the occasion. There has been some misunderstanding in the past as to who is invited. The Senior Breakfast is not only for seniors. Students of all classes are invited and you need not be a Home Ec. Club member to attend.

If we do not get good attendance this year, this excellent tradition may not continue in the future years. Remember, you can buy tickets in Harvey Hall from May 14 through May 18. This is your last chance to honor the seniors, so everyone be at Peace Lutheran Church, May 19 at 9:00 A.M.

Bonnie Koch is shown above as she is being crowned queen of "Sea Mist." Her husband, Joe, is seen doing the honors. Joe, who is junior class president, and Bonnie reigned over the 1956 junior prom Saturday evening.

VARIETY OF SUMMER POSITIONS AVAILABLE

The Wisconsin State Employment Service has furnished the office of the Dean of Men with application blanks for jobs at Rhinelander. These summer positions include jobs as waitresses, laundresses, cabin girls, chefs, yardmen, waiters, busboys, bartenders, dish washers, kitchen helpers, and cooks. Students interested in applying for these positions should secure application blanks from the Dean of Men as soon as possible.

ATHLETES WILL BE HONORED ON WEDNESDAY

Athletic Awards Day will be Wednesday, May 16 at 10:00. During this time awards will be given to deserving athletes.

Those girls who have met certain requirements of the W.R.A. will receive an emblem, a letter, or a pin.

The mens intramural awards will be given out by Coach Wink.

Varsity and freshmen awards will be given to the football and basketball numegals. Letters, sweaters and letters, and jackets and letters will be presented by coaches Wink and Johnson to those having earned them.

At this time trophies for the most valuable player and honorary captain will be presented to two deserving athletes in football and two in basketball.

S Club president, Fred Ponschok, will present the senior awards to the senior lettermen.

Let's all show up in convo to give these guys and gals a big hand for their achievements.

GOVERNING BOARD MEMBERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Stout Student Governing Board elections were held Tuesday, May 8. The results are as follows:

Representing next year's Senior class will be Ray Pearson, from Chicago, Illinois, and Harlan Giese, from Milwaukee.

Junior class representatives are Fern Mathey from Medford and Doug Dornier from Rhinelander.

The Sophomore class will be represented by Bovald Brown from Independence, and Barbara Williams from Kewanee, Illinois.

These six people, along with the four Stout Student Association officers represent the student votes on the Governing Board. Only with the help and cooperation of all the students of the school can these people make the governing power of this school a real success.

BONNIE KOCH WAS QUEEN OF "SEA MIST"

Queen Bonnie Koch was crowned Queen for the 1956 Junior Class Prom Saturday night, May 5. King Joe Koch, president of the junior class, crowned the Queen. Music was offered by Bob Leighton and his 11 piece orchestra from 8:30 to 12:30.

"Sea Mist", the theme carried out in the decorations, encircled the crowd of couples as they entered the high school gymnasium. The theme song, "Ebb Tide", put the group into a dancing mood.

Jiggs Kuboyama directed a different and unusual type of coronation ceremony presented by the court of honor. The court included: Andree Jost, class vice president, and Jack Biles; Del Medin, class secretary, and Bill McKinnon, Jerry Schoenike, class treasurer, and Julie Knapp; Ken Wittig and Loretta Steffen, Harlan Giese and Barbara Hartig, and Reiny Meishner and Rita Jackson.

DR. BARNARD IS NEW PRESIDENT OF WDAVI

Reelected president of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction has been Dr. David P. Barnard, director of the audio-visual center at Stout state college. Barnard recently completed his first term as WDAVI president by presiding over the spring conference of the group, attended by 400 audio-visual directors, coordinators, school administrators, classroom teachers and other specialists in the audio-visual field.

Officers who will serve with Dr. Barnard during the coming year include D. K. Merren, a Stout alumnus and assistant director of audio-visual education for the Milwaukee public schools, vice-president; Aaron Mickelson, university bureau of concerts and lectures, treasurer; and Miss Naomi Gauger, audio-visual director of the Fox Point public schools, secretary.

Executive secretary of the group is Dr. Frederick White. He will continue to serve in that capacity.

BANQUET IS ENJOYED BY STOUTONIA STAFF

The Stoutonia staff gathered at the Marion Hotel, on Tuesday evening, May 8, to enjoy a banquet which climaxed their activities for the year. The delicious dinner was served by candlelight.

A short program was held. Jermaine Folkman the present editor, introduced some of the past editors, including Gordon Maves and Jeanne Schwertel, and the future editor and present associate editor, Bill Erpenbach.

Mr. Whydatski, the Stoutonia advisor, gave a short speech, and especially honored the seniors active on the staff.

Fair Skies
Warmer Temps

The weatherbird, pretty much the worse for wear after a long chilly winter, today predicted fair weather for the weekend, with temperatures climbing into the upper seventies.

"It should be fine for fishing," he said, "but I'm going to be busy sewing seeds in my garden."

"This is the time to do it," he added, "and I wouldn't be surprised if we had a few rain showers about Sunday evening to set the seeds down good."

So, there you are. Grab your hoe, shovel and rake and get that lawn seeded and that garden planted. It's later than you think.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Monday, April 23, we at Stout state college were honored by the presence of one of the world's most honored young pianists—an outstanding virtuoso of the keyboard, David Bar-Illan. Completely charming the entire audience, Mr. Bar-Illan played an hour and a half program, including three encores.

But who was there to hear this exquisite performance? Hardly anyone. Main floor of the auditorium held hardly more than 100 people, while in the balcony there were only a scattered few. Not even one-tenth of the student body was present to hear this outstanding young pianist. And yet, David Bar-Illan gave his utmost; David Bar-Illan played to this small audience with a passion and pity that seared the hearts of the few listeners. David Bar-Illan gave this small audience a concert that will never be forgotten.

Compare this reception to the reception given four contemporary singers a week ago. There is no comparison. And yet, David Bar-Illan played music that has been honored by millions of people throughout the world, while the other men sang songs that die in a day. It is time Stout students develop a sense of value. It is time we put aside the songs of the month and taste the music that has thrilled the multitudes. We cannot grow when we stand still; we must move, eagerly searching that which is good and great. And while we move, while we grow, we will ever remember the golden memories of the past. While we move from one sphere to another, we who were privileged to hear one of the greatest pianists of all time, will always remember the glorious evening when we heard David Bar-Illan.

One hundred or so of the students most interested in music were on tour. But where were the rest?

CLUB NEWS

Gamma Pi, the Stout chapter of Gamma Delta, will act as host to the Eau Claire and River Falls chapters of Gamma Delta at a picnic to be held May 13. This will be an "Informal Social Sunday" held at Riverside Park. About 60 people are expected. Mixed baseball will furnish the afternoon's entertainment.

Food will be served at noon. A weiner roast is planned. In case of rain all activities will continue in Saint Paul's basement.

The Tri Sigma sorority held its Founder's Day banquet at Jeatran's Thursday, May 3. All the girls were attired in formals for the occasion. Pictures of the group were taken before the girls went serenading at the four dormitories.

The sorority sponsored a bake sale at the Farmer's Store on Saturday, May 5.

The committees for the dinner dance are busily planning for the May 19 gala event to be held at the Country Club.

The Sig Taus spent an evening last week at the campus of River Falls. Information was given to the River Falls students on the benefits, duties, obligations, and problems involved in starting a fraternity. The evening ended up with a dance, and then one of the greatest phenomenon of the century took place - amorous Herb Riebe displayed his skill at dancing, which up to this time was unknown to his fraternity brothers.

The pre-prom dinner at the Stage Coach Inn proved to be an evening which will long be remembered not only because of the wonderful meal which satisfied the appetite (and that includes Joe Jajtner, and Carl Spinti), but also because some of the alumni of Sig Tau could be present to enjoy it.

New officers of the Dietetic Club assumed their duties at a recent meeting. They include Pat Seibert, president; Rita Pauls, vice president; Barb Hartig, secretary; Neva Halphide, treasurer; and Ann Janda, Stoutonia reporter. Advisors are Miss Killian and Miss Meiller.

Members and advisors of Dietetic club honored the senior members at a banquet held Sunday at Lowell Inn, Stillwater Minn.

May 20 will be the date of the next meeting of Gamma Delta as decided at the May 6 meeting. Plans were made for the "Informal Social Sunday" to be held on May 13. Committees for the picnic reported. A vesper service was held and a cost supper was served. The word for the next roll call will be "end".

DORM NEWS

The boys were pretty much disappointed with the weather on Prom nite. Some of them were worried about their girl's formal and some of them didn't know whether their girl would be here on time or not. But it all worked out pretty good and everyone enjoyed it.

Lynwood has been playing a very good game of softball. They have won four and lost one game, which puts them in the second berth. The six outstanding players of the team are: Jack Thesis, Elroy Wicklund, Bob Anderson, Hardy Iida, George Ruberio and Alvin Stites. These men have brought the team to victory.

All of the members of the freehand drawing course for this last quarter are sweating it out, because there isn't very much time left to draw a term sketch. Some of the guys are trying to draw "Dears", but it just seems that it doesn't turn out the way it should be.

Since there are only three more weeks of school, the boys are starting to pack their belongings in boxes and storing them away. It was a pretty busy place around the dorm this part of the season. And, since spring is here at last, everyone is enjoying it.

The "Terror of Hi-Way 12" has his motorcycle back at the dorm. He has been giving everyone a ride. So girls, if you want a ride, why don't you drop over at the dorm some afternoon. He might charge you, but it won't be much Installation of officers was the main order of business at the Pallas Athene meeting held last Thursday evening. New officers installed were: Kay Kennedy, Pat Christianson, Alice Yamamoto, Ann Kofoed, Betty Havlik, Zoe Goetzing, Jean Schwertel, and Sue Harycki. Reports on dinner dance, senior banquet, senior picnic, and other spring events were presented and discussion followed.

CLOTHING DRIVE IS SPONSORED BY YWCA

Y.W.C.A. is sponsoring a Church World Service Organization clothing drive. Any clean, wearable clothing you might like to donate will be sent to needy families in Greece. Boxes in all of the dorms will be picked up May 29. If you'd like to donate something, contact either Joan Wonoski or Jermaine Folkman.

Eleven couples attended a post prom party Saturday night at the home of C. L. Rich. Music and food were the highlights of the evening. Couples attending were Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Premo, Jerry Sommer and Donna Nerhof, Dave Pedro and Jo Daniels, Reiny Mehsner and Rita Jackson, George Stolp and Mary Adams, Bob Thomas and Kathy Hellman, Jerry Sill and Karen Jarlsberg, Hank Moerschel and Marilee Cate, and Jo Merchial and three friends from the University of Wisconsin. Larry Loveland and Mary Ellen Rich were host and hostess for the evening.

L.S.A. will have their Senior Banquet, Sunday, May 13, at Peace Lutheran church at 4:30 p.m. A discussion on marriage will be led by Rev. Worth. Everyone is urged to attend to honor the graduating seniors.

CAMPUS CAFE

Whoops! Honest, Mom, I didn't mean to spill my cereal. Rushing through breakfast brings a catastrophe, and Mom rushes to the rescue with cloth and elbow grease. Patience, Mom, and he'll grow up to eat with kings and queens.

Betty and Martin Braaten with their two small children, Mark and Ricky, start the morning with a family breakfast.

Four-year-old Mark helps Mommy with the dishes, while baby brother gets ready for a nap.

Nap-time kiss for two-year-old Ricky.

MOTHER, THANK YOU FOR LOVE AND DEVOTION

We see her at meal time, at naptime, helping the children play, and cleaning up after they have finally gone to sleep. Yes, this is typical of motherhood. It is the constant guiding and loving that is the duty and privilege of a woman. It is the love that is so evident in everything she does, from feeding the infant to listening to her children's prayers.

It is no wonder that we have set aside a special day for our mothers. One person has loved us unselfishly and unstintingly. One person has sacrificed her desires so we may have ours. How many times has your mother given up buying a new dress that you may have one? How many times can you remember your mother saying she wasn't hungry so you could have that extra piece of pie.

And when it comes to loving, who can do so better than a mother? She sat up watching you while you suffered through the measles and the chickenpox. She prepared special meals for you when you didn't like what was on the table. She gave up her weekend to accompany you on that Boy Scout overnight trip, that you were looking forward to so very much. Yes, this is the love a mother gives.

But when it comes to rewards, no other person can claim so many. The time you got your first A on a report card; the time you were chosen president of your high school class; the time you impulsively kissed her on the cheek because you realized how much you loved her. These are the rewards of motherhood. These are the intangibles that make the memories, the memories of you that nothing can ever take away. No mother can remember what she got for a Christmas present as much as she'll remember the time you said, "And God, please bless mommy and daddy."

Today we pause and reflect on your goodness, mother. Today, as no other time, we remember, and say, "Thank you, mother. Thank you."

Story time is glory time for Ricky Braaten.

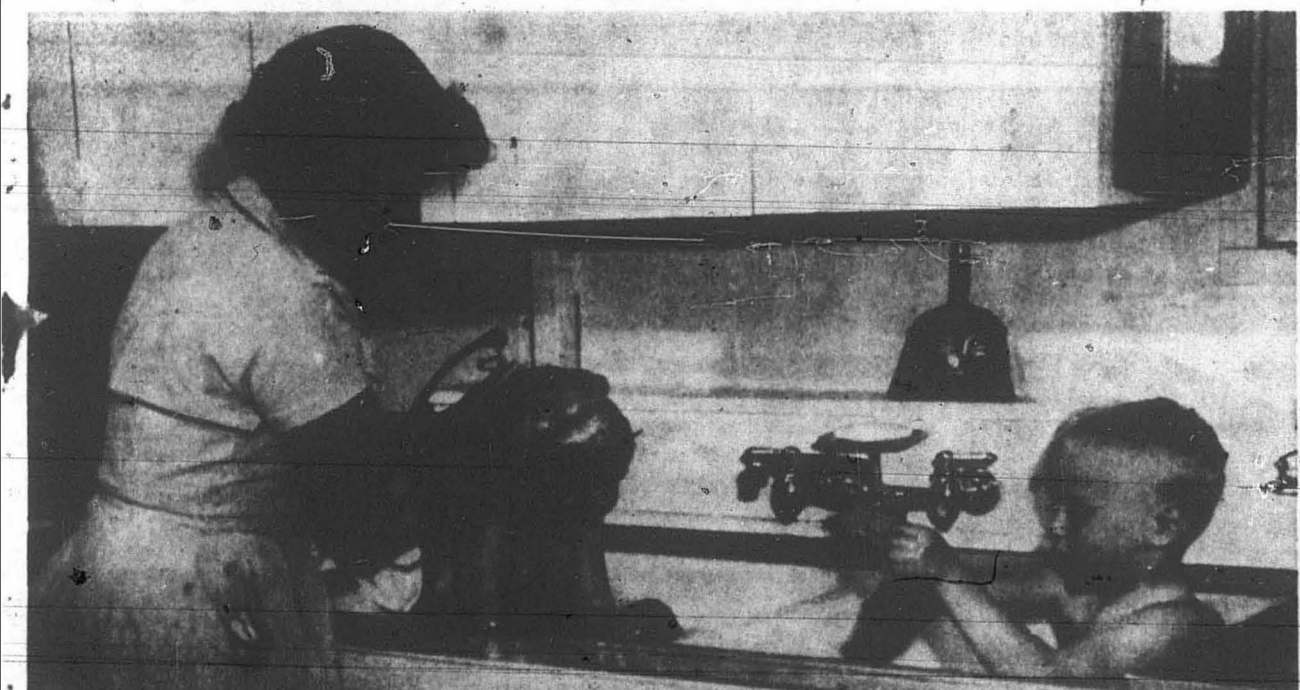

Helping Mommy get dressed — children's style. Watch out for that perfume bottle!

"Oh, look, Mom—that one's pink!" Blowing bubbles—with Mommy's help. What could be more fun? And the look of fascination proves it.

Time to clean the house — but what have we here? Mark's toy town just can't be moved and Ricky wants to feel the air in the vacuum cleaner. Oh, well, tomorrow's another day.

Bathtime, with Mark in the big sink and Ricky in the shallow one. My, but this is fun!

Wash day with Ricky and Mark in twin snowsuits. Once again Mamma's little helpers are hard at work.

"Hey, Kelvin, look at my balloon," cries four-year-old Robert Erickson, Jr., son of Ramona and Robert Erickson. Little Kelvin, who is seven months old, looks longingly for a balloon of his own!

Little Mark Hashimoto proudly displays his new kimono as his mother, Myrtle, watches. The Hashimotos are representative of Stout's Hawaiian families.

"Now listen to what Mommy has to say," says Lois Matschnig to her one and one-half-year-old daughter, Louise. They are the wife and child of Richard Matschnig.

WIVES AND FAMILIES OF STUDENTS ARE HONORED

Sunday is a special day for mothers all over the world, and especially today we honor the wives and families of Stout students. Pictured here are some of the family groups on our campus.

The family of Martin Braaten and his wife Betty is featured on the opposite page, and is typical of Stout families. The Braatens met at St. Olaf college in Northfield, Minnesota, where Martin graduated in 1951.

Tim and Debby Johnson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Johnson, were both born in Mississippi. Their father, who attends Stout, is now in his fourth year.

The largest of the Stout families pictured is that of Charles and Zola Somers. Their four offspring, who range in age from 8 months to 5 years, are certainly indicative of the trend for more and more family men to continue their education.

Robert and June Treise, residents of Stout Court, are pictured with their children, Donald, Donna, and Glen. Bob, a junior, is an example of a full-time student doubling as a father and an active worker in extracurricular activities.

Ramona Erickson, with her two sons Bobby and Kelvin, is seen in their home in a city housing unit. The two lads have a right to be proud of their father, as he too is an active person on campus, devoting much time this year to his job as president of Epsilon Pi Tau.

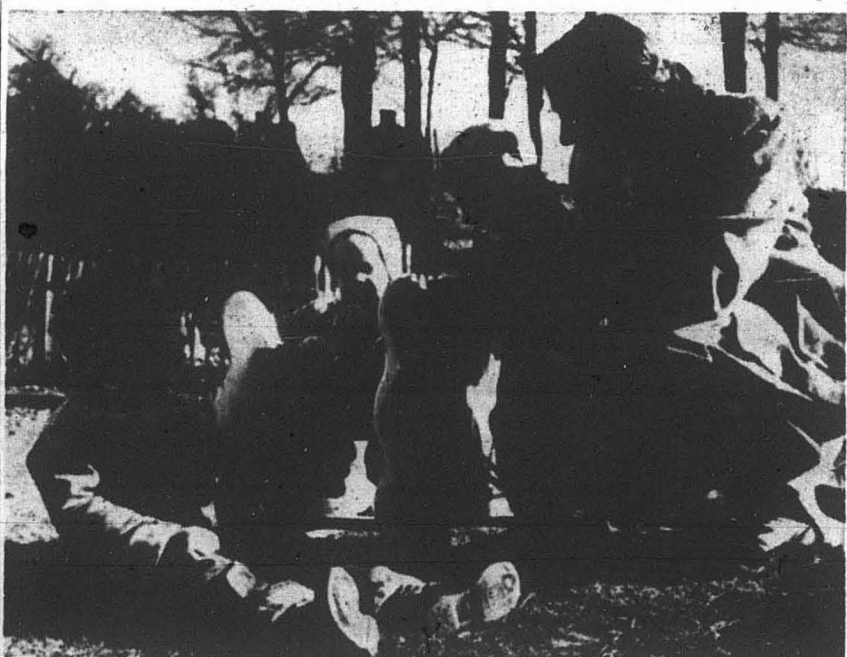

Mrs. Richard Hashimoto, nee Myrtle Tamura, attended Stout until her marriage nearly two years ago. "Mike", as she is called by her friends, hails from the Hawaiian Islands, as does her husband, Richard. Their baby boy, Mark, is being brought up in the best Hawaiian tradition, as can be seen by the kimono outfit.

Living in another Stout housing unit, Fair Oaks, are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Matschnig. Both Dick and Lois are awfully proud of their small daughter, Laurie, who is 22 months old.

The three daughters of Helen and Morrie Guptill are dressed in pajamas—although they're not going to bed. The two oldest children, Mary Francis and Caroline, are dressed in the outfits they will wear for the East school operetta, in which both participated.

"Look at the pretty May baskets, Mom," says nine-year-old Mary Francis Guptill, daughter of Helen and Maurice Guptill. The other children are their daughters, Caroline, six, and Betsy, four.

Glen Treise, ten months old, tries out the family's new toy. Watching Glen are his brother, Donald, three; his sister, Donna, two; and his mother, June (Mrs. Robert) Treise.

"I'll buff and I'll puff and I'll blow the house down," reads Zola (Mrs. Chuck) Somers to her four children, Charles Frederick, five; Byron Lee, four; Caroline Zola, two; and Karen Annette, eight months.

Science in the making—Tim and Deborah Johnson watch the plants under the watchful eye of their mother, Mrs. Raymond D. Johnson.

DEMONSTRATIONS WILL BE GIVEN IN HARVEY

Does the thought of cooking with a pressure pan frighten you? Come and learn the proper handling, uses, and some of the food that can be prepared. See how you can save time, money, and energy by cooking with pressure. Monday, May 14, at 7:30, Room 301 of Harvey Hall, pressure cookery will be demonstrated by Jan Jenquin.

Banana Bazaar is the theme of the food demonstration to be given by Carol Hahn, Friday evening, May 11, at 7:30 in Room 301 of Harvey Hall.

Carol will prepare bananas in new and exciting ways, ranging from a vegetable to a beverage — or as she puts it, from soup to nuts.

Everyone is invited to see these delicious banana dishes prepared and remember, you may sample the results.

ASA'S VOLUNTEER FOR WORK ON TELETHON

Volunteering their time to the Cerebral Palsy Telethon on WEAU-TV, Eau Claire, this past weekend, members of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority were joined by freshmen Judy Wys and Beverly Retzlaff.

The girls worked for 3½ hours as telephone operators taking pledges from persons as far away as Honolulu, Hawaii, who wished to make donations toward the fund.

Entertainment on the 20 hour program was provided by New York and Hollywood talent on a volunteer basis.

A.S.A. members who worked Sunday were: Carol Buck, Jo Sommer, Tony Schmitz, Pat Drummond, Helen King, Helen Miller, Mary Brackett, and Jo Scheevel.

ORVILLE NELSON IS RECIPIENT OF SPECIAL GRANT

One of 77 college young people chosen from throughout the United States as Danforth Graduate Fellows has been Orville Nelson, industrial education senior at Stout state college and a resident of Stanchfield, Minnesota.

The grant, presented to Nelson by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, will permit Nelson to complete his doctorate degree. He will enroll in the graduate school of the University of Minnesota with all fees and expenses, over and above what he earns through his summer work, paid by Danforth.

Nelson will receive his bachelor of science in industrial education from Stout this June. While attending the college he has constantly achieved the dean's scholastic honors list, was secretary-treasurer of the college chapter of the national honorary organization in industrial education, was active in the Lutheran Student association, and won letters in football.

Aim of the Danforth grant is achievement of "larger integration between religion and education." Nelson was here chosen because he met the foundation's standards of academic ability and evidence of a searching mind, personality contributing to constructive effort in the classroom and sound character.

In addition to reporting on the progress which he is making toward his doctorate, Nelson will also attend annual Fellow Conferences on Christian Teaching, sponsored by the Danforth Foundation.

Earlier this year a Danforth Foundation Teaching fellowship was won by Raymond Cornwell, a teacher in the graphic arts department of Stout state college.

They dragged the student down to the jail and took him before the Sergeant.

"What am I here for?" he asked. "For drinking," the officer sternly announced.

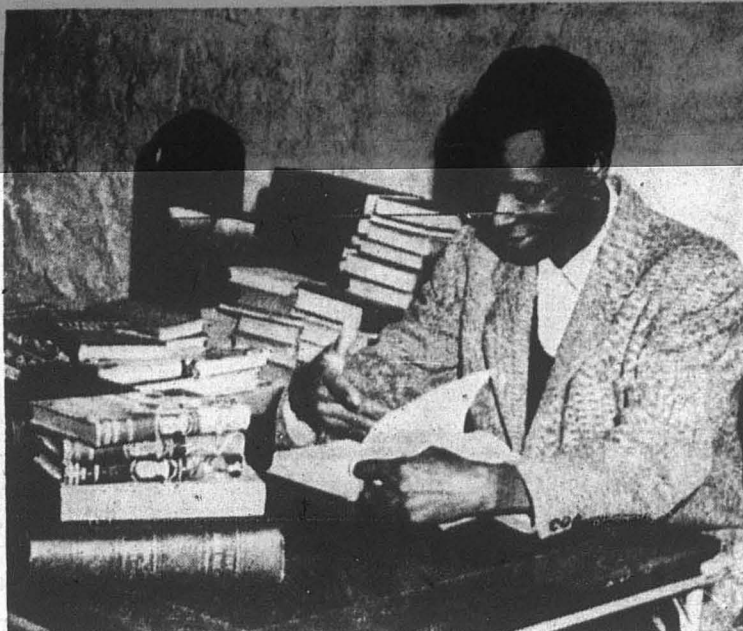

"Good, when do we start?"

Checking books contributed by Menomonee residents and students for establishment of a library in Oba, Nigeria, is Michael Ochuba, Stout state college student. Mike will take the volumes back to his homeland and establish the first free library his village has ever had.

"BOOKS FOR MIKE" GIVEN WITH GENEROSITY BY AREA GROUPS

MENOMONIE—"With these tools, perhaps my people can build a better way of life."

This modest hope of Michael Ochuba, Nigerian student attending Stout State College, has become the inspiration for a thousand Stout students and many townspeople of Menomonee to gather a complete library for his Nigerian village of Oba. College, church, and community organizations of the area are also hard at work to provide "Books for Mike."

From personal collections, private libraries, student bookshelves, and even attics and packing cases, books of all types, if in usable condition, are being assembled and catalogued on the Stout campus to become the basis of the free library for Nigeria.

The people of Nigeria have no free lending or reference libraries, something taken for granted in America. English is taught in many Nigerian schools, but the young people have little material on which to develop their reading skills. With the ever-increasing number of children in Nigerian schools, educators of that tiny nation face a serious problem. Mike Ochuba explains that the problem is made even more acute by the "lack of trained teachers, technical men, and publishing facilities."

Oba, Michael's "hometown," is a typical Nigerian community of 13,000 population spread out over an area of 25 miles. The "city" actually appears more like a typical American rural area. The main occupation of Oba's residents is "subsistence" agriculture — that is, crops raised exclusively for home consumption. Oba has none of the conveniences that to Americans are necessities.

One elementary school and one high school serve the educational needs of the community. Michael describes the children of Oba as having "eager minds — eager to learn and read about other countries, especially America." Yet, there is no library in Oba. The "Books for Mike" campaign is appealing to everyone in the area who has a book of any kind to donate.

Michael expresses his thanks to all who are collecting books for his people: "Soon we shall have our very own library, even though small, in which our people will find inspiration, enjoyment, and learning. Surely, our American friends are helping us to learn and enjoy a better way of life."

PHI SIG DINNER DANCE TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Tomorrow night, May 12, is a big date for all of the members of Phi Sigma Epsilon and their dates, for that is the evening of the spring formal, to be held at the Hotel Marion. All of the members are looking forward to a swell time.

Last week-end found many Phi Sigs at the regional convocation of Phi Sigma Epsilon, held in Eau Claire this year. Chapters from the state colleges in Wisconsin and Illinois were represented. The members of Omega chapter are especially proud to announce that Willis Capps, Stout alumnus, has been nominated as a candidate for the office of regional vice-president of the national fraternity. The voting will take place this summer at the national convocation, to be held in Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri. Many Phi Sigs are looking forward to attending this affair, which is held every two years.

Last weekend also found many Phi Sigs together at Jeatran's for a pre-prom dinner. After the prom many of the members and their dates went to the Eau Claire Country Club, where they were the guests of Phi Beta chapter.

1956 TOWERS WILL ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

While the Tower business manager is completing the juggling of his books, the other members of the Tower staff are relaxing in anticipation of the awaited day when the completed 1956 Tower will arrive. According to Dr. David P. Barnard, Tower adviser, the yearbook should arrive from the binders some time next week. The date and time of distribution will be posted on the bulletin boards.

SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMERS HOLD ELECTION

On Tuesday evening the regular bi-monthly business meeting of the Synchronized Swimmers was held in the pool area for the purpose of electing officers for the next year. New officers are: Jean Baumgartner, president; Marilyn Randall, vice-president; Eileen Case, secretary; Gary Tarbox, treasurer; Marlowe Zoberski, historian; and Jan Jenquin, reporter and publicity. Members decided to have a picnic Wednesday, May 16, at Wakan-da park. Time is 6:30 p.m., and transportation will be provided from the circle. Members are asked to sign up. Payment of picnic cost will be done at the park. See you, Swimmers!

WRA ACTIVITIES DRAW TO AN END FOR 1955-56

The Women's Recreation Association's calendar was climaxed recently with the awarding of the 1956 badminton championship to Teaa Schroeder and Carolyn Grienke. Closely following them in the race for top honors were Sylvia Felland and Ardelle Dregne.

WRA's last project of this school year is the drawing up of a handbook to be handed out to new members next fall. Rita Pauls is serving as chairman of this committee.

STOUT LOSES CLOSE GAME TO MANKATO 6-7

The Stout baseball team lost two games Saturday afternoon in a steady drizzle. Nelson pitched the first game, giving up ten hits and two walks. Stout had six runs, nine hits, and five errors. The final score was Stout 6, Mankato 7.

In the second game Stout used three pitchers. Peterson started and went three and one-third innings; Doug Gilbertson relieved and he was relieved in the same inning by Bill Bachmeyer. Mankato scored 12 runs on only 9 hits to win the nightcap handily by a score of 12-3. Stout could get only three runs on six hits.

A boy and girl were out driving. They came to a quiet spot on the country lane and the car stopped running.

"Out of gas," said the boy. The girl carefully opened her purse and pulled out a bottle. "Wow!" exclaimed the boy. "You've got a whole pint—what kind is it?" "Gasoline," replied the girl.

S.S.A. SETS RULES FOR ORGANIZATION SALES

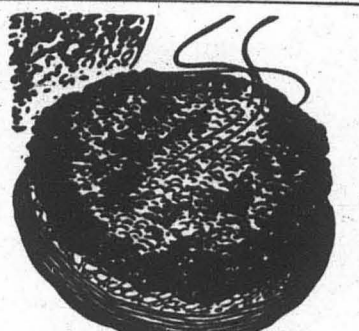

Rules for the selling of various articles in the Stout corridors have been set up by the Stout Governing Board. The Stout Student Association has purchased two new tables to be used for organizations who have articles to sell. The rules are as follows:

1. There is a limit of 2 (two) organizations selling in the corridor at one time. Organizations are to sign up in the S.S.A. office.
2. If more than 2 organizations wish to sell at the same time, a schedule of hours for selling will be drawn up.
3. Sales booths are to be located in the alcove across from the Harvey Memorial to relieve congestion.

Any organization planning to have a sale, is requested to sign in the calendar book in the S.S.A. office; the first two organizations signed for the week will be able to sell their articles in the halls.

ATTENTION

4-H club members will meet for election of officers on Tuesday, May 15, 1956 at 5:00 p.m. in the auditorium.

BLOOD NEEDED FOR HEART SURGERY

Ten pints of whole blood, group O, Rh negative, are needed by Leo S. Grimes, Jr., son of a former Stout student, for heart surgery.

The surgery will be performed on June 14, 1956, at the University of Minnesota Hospital in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Any Stout student or alumni who has this blood type is urged to contribute a pint of blood for the operation. Also, anyone who does not know his blood type, but wishes to contribute, can have his blood tested by the University Hospital.

Interested persons are to report to the University of Minnesota Hospital on the evening of June 13. The telephone number of the University Hospital is FD 9-7311.

MRS. SMITH ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mrs. Benita G. Smith, Director of Stout's nursery school, recently attended the conference of the Midwest Association of Nursery Education at Cincinnati, Ohio, April 25-28, where approximately 400 people directly concerned with the care and guidance of the preschool child from seven midwest states, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio, met to discuss and share the needs, goals, and experiences in relation to nursery school education.

Opportunity was provided to hear leaders in the field, to attend seminars related to special-interest groups, to visit nursery schools while in operation in Cincinnati, and to visit informally.

Mrs. Smith attended the seminars for college laboratory schools, meaning nursery schools which serve a dual purpose, a learning experience for college students as well as preschool children.

She was very impressed by her visit to the children's hospital where one of the first floor was set up to look like a nursery school. Children were brought here upon the recommendation of the doctors for varying lengths of time and for different needs. Some were brought in wheelchairs, others on reclining wheelchairs, others were able to move about freely. The number in the room at any one time was limited. It provided an atmosphere that suggested work and play, health and happiness. A playground was also provided just outside. No one of the nursery school teachers ever supervised more than four children at a time. Some children, upon their first visit to the center, were brought in when no one else was there but themselves and the teacher. The doctors recognize the importance of mental and emotional health for recuperation from an illness.

Dr. Richard Wolf, Head of the Department of Pediatric Psychiatry of the Cincinnati Children's Hospital, was the speaker at the first general meeting.

One of the highlights of the conference was a boat trip on the Ohio River from 5-9 p.m. with dinner on the boat. Here members had a chance to visit in formally while viewing the hills of Ohio on one side and hills of Kentucky on the other. The lights and sunset made a beautiful sight on the water.

Clear Skies,
Slightly Warmer

"No sweat this weekend," said the weatherbird this morning, as he rattled off his usual forecast.

"There's a cool front on the way from Canada," he added, "which will chase the clouds away, let the sun shine, and keep the evenings on the cool side."

"Oh yes," he said, "an afterthought, 'that garden I put in last Saturday looks mighty fine. That rain we had did the trick.'"

GAMES - PRIZES - FUN AT SCHOOL PICNIC

The all-school picnic will be held on Wednesday, May 23, at Waukanda Park. Special events have been planned for the day, under the direction of Jerry Howard. The events in which students will participate, are:

1. Sack race - one race for the boys and one for the girls.
2. Three legged race - for couples only, consisting of a boy and a girl.
3. Wheel barrow race - for couples only, consisting of a boy and a girl.
4. Shoe race - one race for the boys and one for the girls.
5. Blindfold race - for couples only.
6. Egg throwing contest - for couples only.
7. Pie eating contest - for boys only.
8. Nail driving contest - for girls only.

Prizes will be awarded to the winner or winners of each event. Four events will be for couples, and four will be on the individual basis.

HONORS DAY WEDNESDAY AT CONVO

This year's Honors Day and Senior Recognition Convocation will be on May 23.

Various social and professional organizations on campus will give honor to those students who are high in leadership, character, and scholastic achievement.

At this time, Bob Tennessee, Senior Class President will present the Senior Class's gift to the school. The traditional passing of the torch of learning will take place between Bob and Joseph Koch, Junior Class President.

Another purpose of this day is to pass the responsibility of the seniors to this year's juniors.

Dorothy Bellise will play the professional and recreational and also a piano solo by Rachmaninoff.

TOWER TO BE GIVEN OUT FIRST OF WEEK

Although the arrival of the 1956 Tower has been delayed, Dr. Barnard has announced that the yearbooks are on the way from the binders and will be ready for distribution the first of the week. The yearbooks will be posted on the bulletin board.

The students pay each year, in their fees, $4.00 for the yearbook. There will be no additional charge for the yearbook to those students who have paid tuition for the past two semesters. Re-entering and second semester students must pay $2.00 to the Business office before they are entitled to a book.

JOHN CALLAHAN, NATIONALLY KNOWN STATE EDUCATOR, PASSES AWAY IN HIS HOME

John Callahan, emeritus superintendent of public instruction for Wisconsin, passed away Thursday morning, May 10, at his Madison home, 402 S. Owen Drive. Mr. Callahan served as superintendent of public instruction from 1921-1949, a tenure which was longer than that of any other similar administrator in the nation.

Born in Westchester county, New York, John Callahan at the age of three was brought to Wisconsin when his family moved to the Mid-West. He began his professional career in the rural schools of Pierce county.

Mr. Callahan then became supervising principal of schools at Glenwood City. He later served as superintendent at New Richmond and Monona. Before being elected to the state superintendency, he was director of vocational education in Wisconsin.

During his long career in education, John Callahan introduced many progressive measures into Wisconsin. He is perhaps best remembered for his efforts to consolidate the overabundance of school districts then existing in the state.

Mr. Callahan also sponsored the Equalization Bill of 1929, often called the "Callahan Bill." He, together with B. E. Nelson, emeritus president of Stout state college, was one of the home economics and industrial arts into city school systems of the state.

John Callahan was one of the first residents of the Northeastern Wis-

STUDENTS DESIGN AND DRAPE OWN COSTUMES

You have probably noticed the various displays in the case belonging to the clothing laboratories on second floor of Harvey Hall. Recently a striking dress designed and constructed by Cay Yents was featured. The dress was a striped cotton of black, yellow, and white. The dress had a high waist and square neck. It was sleeveless with a zipper closure in the back. The tucked bodice was released into an unpressed pleated skirt.

Interest was centered on a yellow bow on the center bodice. This dress and many others have recently been completed as the first major project of the Applied Dress Design class, an elective for juniors and seniors. In the class the girls first construct a replica of their figures and, using muslin, drape the figure according to various fashion styles. In this way they gain experience and test their figures for the best possible style for them. From a basic pattern they cut and sew the project they have chosen. At the present time, a second project consisting of more difficult material is being planned.

Bill Allen is shown above as he presents a check for $70 to Joel Russell in behalf of the "Book for Mike" finance drive. The money will be used for shipping expenses.

THAT PILE OF BRICKS THE COLLEGE TOWER

Every student on campus is acquainted with the Stout Tower. It appears on stationary, banners, and books. It is the symbol of our college. The tower was built the same time as Bowman Hall in 1897. It is 140 feet high. A bell is in the tower which weighs 70,000 pounds.

The motive power of the clock is 15 pounds compressed air and 110 volts of electricity. It moves by a series of relays of compressed air and electricity. The master clock is located in Dean Jarvis's office. There are two compressed air tanks in Bowman Hall basement and the other storage or balance tank is in the tower room in 3rd floor of Bowman Hall.

The tower lights are set according to the sun set hours. This is checked once a week. The lights switch on automatically. The lights go out automatically controlled by the clock.

UPHOLSTERY DISPLAY

The upholstery class will have projects on display in Room 102 in the Trades Building on May 25th from 3:00 to 5:00.

FINAL MEETING OF GOVERNING BOARD IS HELD

Tuesday, May 15, marked the date of the last Governing Board meeting of the 1955-56 school year, and with it came the final plans of this year and the start of plans for the coming school year. The topics discussed were as follows:

1. The committee investigating the possibilities of purchasing Stout state college rings showed the board their selections, both in men's and women's rings, that were priced under $15.00. The rings will not be available through the school this year.
2. Beginning in September, a new budget plan for all organizations receiving S.S.A. funds will go into effect. Under this new system the Board will review all expenditures and allocate needed funds for the coming year.
3. Eight band uniforms will be bought for the Symphonic Band, the money coming from the S.S.A. reserve fund. The total amount of money spent for these uniforms will amount to $448.00. Another grant of $500.00, from the Stout Foundation, will be which will be installed in the Stout tower next fall, replacing the cracked bell that has been standing there so long. The second semester unallocated dollar (from the student fees paid during registration time) will be set into a special fund to buy furniture for the new Union building.
4. A new group of men, to be known as the "Metal's Guild" will become an acknowledged organization on campus. Their groups constitution was presented and approved at the meeting.
5. The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity was granted a franchise to sell ball point pens during the fall and winter registration weeks.
6. A social fraternity, the Chi Lambda, was also acknowledged during the Board meeting of Tuesday.
7. School calendar dates will be set up under a new rotation system, that system to go into effect immediately for all sorority and fraternity functions during the 1956-57 school year.

S. T. S. AMONG CONTRIBUTORS TO BOOK DRIVE

Bill Allen, president of the Stout Typographical Society, sparked the "Books for Nigeria" finance drive last week by presenting a check for $10 to members of the Timberbury Club finance committee from the printing society.

The S.T.S. became interested in the books for Nigeria campaign and offered to help pay shipping costs even under way.

The book drive has gone over its estimated goal, collecting close to 1,000 books which when crated will weigh between 800 and 1000 pounds. The cost for shipping the 1000 pounds to Nigeria comes to approximately $85.

Members of the S.T.S. expressed a feeling that their own contribution would help encourage other organizations on the campus to contribute to the drive.

Any individual or organization wishing to contribute may contact Michael Ochuba or Mike Manogian, president of the Canterbury Club.

SUGGESTIONS WANTED FOR NEW UNION

Have you any suggestions for the new Union? Stout state Union plans will be drawn up in the near future, and it is the aim of the Union committee to have that Union contain as many, or all the facilities that could be used by Stout students in the future.

A suggestion box is being placed in both Harvey Hall and the Union, to gather any suggestions that students may have for the new Union.

HOME EC CLUB WILL HONOR THE SENIORS

The Senior Breakfast sponsored by the Home Economics Club in honor of the graduating class members, will be held at 9:00 a. m., Saturday, May 19, at the Peace Lutheran Church. Tickets, priced at $1.00, will be sold today for these last time.

Committees for the events are headed by Billie Jo Braker, as general arrangements chairman, and the girls serving under her are Jan Jenuin as the ticket committee, Mary Ann Spangler on the decoration committee, and Beverly Duerkop who is in charge of the program.

Speakers for the breakfast include President Fryklund, Dean Kirk, Doris Hutchison, Betty Frakes, and Bess Van Vleet. Following this, there will be time for singing and other entertainment which has been planned for the senior girls.

SENIOR CLASS PICNIC WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

There will be an exclusive Senior Class Picnic on Sunday, May 20, at Waukanda Park and all members of the class of '56 are cordially invited to attend. There will be loads of FREE food, beverages, and entertainment for all, and all gets under way at 1:00 o'clock. Don't miss this last farewell gathering; we're spending your money! Incidentally if you need a ride meet at the circle at 1:00 o'clock for FREE transportation. The carload and courteous drivers who have volunteered their time are Leo Janis, Homer Frase, James Warnecke, and Bob Noltner. See you Sunday.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

I am free of all prejudice.

I live in America, the land of the free. We have Negroes in this country, mongrels, Jews. We are a land for the persecuted, the minorities. All men are welcome here. Everyone is equal. We are free of prejudice.

Yet, we have segregation. We hear of certain races being required to take the back seats in buses and to live in certain districts in the cities. We here that we shouldn't play with so-and-so because he goes to a different church than we do or to no church at all. Someone else is an unscrupulous politician because he belongs to a different party. There are prejudices all around us.

Yes, with all our talk about prejudice, we can't escape it. Society has had a mighty effect on us by this time. We believe in certain things and we aren't necessarily wrong in doing so. However, we must realize that prejudices are present and learn to recognize them in ourselves. Education in the way other peoples live might be helpful. We have a variety of people here on campus. We can start here to build for peace in our shattered world and for a peaceful tomorrow.

CLUB NEWS

Stout's newly organized 4-H club met Tuesday, May 15 in the auditorium.

The meeting was opened by Dorothy Ann Neis, temporary chairman. The 4-H pledge, led by Bill Brehm, was said. The secretary's report was read and roll call was taken.

Reports from the program and membership committees were given by the chairmen.

Officers were elected for next year. They are as follows:

President: Bill Brehm
Vice President: Kay Hawkins
Secretary-Treasurer: Sarah Ness

The meeting was closed with a 4-H song.

May 20 will be the date of the next Gamma Delta meeting to be held at the home of Jane Schneck, 112 2nd N. W. The meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m. The word for roll call will be "end."

Plans will be worked on at this meeting for fall membership.

The "Informal Social Sunday" proved to be a success even with rain. Members from Eau Claire and River Falls attended. All plans for the event were moved indoors.

Miss Ruth Thomas from Kenosha, Wisconsin, is Tri Sigma's summer pledge. She is a sophomore and a transfer student from the University Extension school at Kenosha.

The undergraduate members of the sorority presented the annual Senior Send-off for the graduating members as a banquet at Jeatran's, Wednesday evening, May 9. Recognition was given to the outstanding senior members. All of the graduates were presented with a gift from Tri Sigma.

We have received our sorority sweatshirts. They are navy blue and have white insignias of our sorority on them.

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority will this year present a scissors set to an outstanding junior girl at the Honors Day convocation. This set includes a pinking shears, cutting shears, and two pair of scissors, in a leather case.

Recipient of the set which the sorority will make an annual award is to be a junior girl, with an education major and not a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha. She must have at least a 1.3 cumulative grade point and show outstanding ability in clothing. Faculty members of the college clothing department are consulted to determine this qualification. Personality and over-all accomplishment are also considered.

This year's winner will receive the scissors set with her name engraved in each piece next Wednesday at convocation.

Riverside Park was the scene of the annual Pallas Athene senior picnic last night. Entertainment was provided by the seniors.

This evening members of the sorority and their dates will attend the annual dinner dance at the Country Club. Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ziemann and Miss Anne Marshall. George Soderberg and his royal Blackhawks will provide the dance music. Decorations will carry out this year's theme, "Carrousel."

Monday evening, the USF-Congo club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Nitz for supper and retreat to plan the activities for next year. Much of the May 6 meeting was devoted to the choosing of study material to be used next year.

The new officers of the USF are—
President: Joan Manes
Vice president: Alice Yamamoto
Secretary: Jane Olia
Treasurer: Marilyn Webb
Reporter: Helen Russell
Historian: Jeanne Crichton
Worship chairman: Marilyn Webb

The new vice-president of the Synchronized Swimmers is Duane Bengs, not Marilyn Randall, as reported in last week's issue of the paper.

Said one student to the other: "If it's heads, we go to bed. If it's tails, we stay up. If it stands on edge, we study."

And when the Prof asked Joe College: "You missed my class yesterday didn't you?" Joe answered, "No, sir, not a bit!"

Journalism, as now conducted, has been taught at Stout since 1947-48. It is a course developed from a textbook recitation in its first year to the present practical arrangement. There is an actual working arrangement with the Dunn Co. News.

And as I snooped over the years, I noticed that classes varied in size from 5-6 to last semester's 33, a record enrollment.

Instead of practice from texts, each student must write five news stories which are all printed in the Dunn Co. News. In addition, I noted that the student must cover a speech, sports story, feature, editorial and a publicity story.

To "get the stories" the students interview Menomonie residents, businessmen, and others. This last semester typical stories included the coverage of the city council, Toastmasters, features on the Dairy Queen, and the oldest resident.

Some of the reporters I noticed were lucky enough to get tickets to cover banquet speeches with the compliments of the News and two members of the journalism class were especially lucky for they joined the Dunn Co. Board of Supervisors in its annual inspection of the Dunn Co. Hospital Farm.

The members of this class also attended a city council meeting to see small city government in action.

Every week there was a scurry to get assignments, some trading around to get the features each one wanted on the day before news deadline. Stout reporters were seen hurrying here or typing up the articles. But I thought they all seemed to have fun participating in real newspaper work.

Feature writing has 25 students enrolled this semester. The first set of 2 articles have been checked in and of these there were 39 publications. Four went to professional Industrial Arts or Home Economics magazines. These articles were "Safety and Maintenance in Home Ec. Labs," "Making an Aluminum Salt and Pepper Set," and "Plastic Letter Holder."

Others were published in papers, Milwaukee Sentinel, Milwaukee Journal, Eau Claire Leader Telegram, St. Paul Pioneer Press, and the Dunn County News.

A feature on "Happy Island" situated near Carryville, in Dunn Co., was sold for $41. This island had once been a boom town in the lumber days complete with saw mill, railroad, and hotel. Now after eight farmers moved off because of the annual spring floods, the only signs of civilization are the remains of one wrecked house and other molding basements.

Other features published include one on Menomonie's Yugoslavian Lutheran intern, one on Mike Ochuba, and another on Aggie's school spirit, Win or Lose.

Each student is required to write an article in his or her professional field and one other. The classes have had good luck throughout the years averaging about $250 in payments each semester.

While snooping this semester I noticed that last minute typing and writing was also prevalent in this course.

And then, well what student's don't do projects the last minute. And everything is due right now, so get it done, kids; only one week left to go!

From the Walla Walla Collegian:

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Estell H. Curry, B.S. 1931, was promoted to the position of divisional supervisor of industrial arts for the City of Detroit on March 28, 1956. Mr. Curry has been with the Detroit Public Schools for twenty-six years. During that period, he has taught elementary woodworking, household mechanics, general woodworking, drawing, and general metal. For the past six years, he has been head of the practical arts department of the Jefferson son Junior High School. When Dr. Verne C. Fryklund was chairman of the vocational department at Wayne university, he asked Mr. Curry to join the cooperative faculty. In that capacity Mr. Curry has taught various shop and methods classes and served as supervising teacher. In the spring of 1950, the Michigan Industrial Education Society honored Mr. Curry for his work as an industrial arts teacher by selecting him as Michigan's master teacher of the year.

Mr. Curry came to Stout state college from Marshall, Minnesota, and he is one of several men that attended Stout from that city. Since graduation from Stout, Mr. Curry received his master of arts degree from Wayne university, and he has also completed an additional year of graduate work on the post-masters level at the University of Missouri under the direction of Dr. H. H. London.

Mr. Curry is the co-author with Dr. G. Harold Silvius of the methods book Teaching Successfully the Industrial Arts and Vocational Subjects, which was published by McKnight and McKnight Publishing Company, Bloomington, Illinois, 1953. This book, which is in its third printing, is being used as a textbook by over eighty universities and colleges. It has also received international acclaim as a handbook for teachers. A second book, Teaching Multiple Activities in Industrial Education, of which Mr. Curry is also co-author will be available for college students and teachers this summer.

To increase his breadth of training, Mr. Curry has worked at the following jobs during the summer: carpenter, painter, shipping clerk, experimental worker, foreman, office manager, building contractor, and assistant director of a summer camp.

Mr. Curry is a charter member and past president of the Mu Sigma Pi fraternity, a graduate professional fraternity at Wayne university. He is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa fraternity, Detroit Teachers Association, Michigan Education Association, National Education Association, Michigan Industrial Education Association, American Industrial Arts Association, American Vocational Association, and the Detroit Schoolmens club. For three years he was a member of the American Speakers club. During that time, he served as treasurer, first vice president, president, and teacher of one of the local chapters. Mr. Curry is a member of the Lutheran church and in his local congregation he has been a member of the church council, financial secretary, treasurer, and chairman.

Milwaukee Alumni Association News
Milwaukee Area Stout alumni had their first meeting, since reorganization, on April 13 at the Lutheran Center. About 60 members were present to formulate final plans for the SSS concert and discuss ideas for a spring picnic.

A telephone squad was organized to handle publicity and reminders for all future activities of the group. Mr. Henry Tall was unanimously selected as the chairman for the spring picnic meeting.

Plans for the fall meeting and teachers' convention were also discussed. The members that were present at this meeting took a very active part in the discussion and it was agreed that this meeting was a huge success.

After the business meeting, colored slides on recent improvements at Stout were shown by Dean Cornwell and narrated by Mrs. Betty Tibbetts. The slides were very well received by the group and everyone certainly was reminiscing the "good ol' days".

We are still urging all other alumni in the Milwaukee area to take an active part in this group. Watch for the notices for the next meeting

Placing a stuffed grouse in its natural habitat is Bob Dahlke, Stout state college sophomore, who finds taxidermy an excellent means of relaxation from his industrial education curriculum. Bob became interested in the hobby from watching his father, a professional taxidermist, at work.

BOB DAHLKE COMBINES COLLEGE AND HOBBY, ART OF TAXIDERMY, FOR LEISURE TIME ENJOYMENT

When the average college student is weary of stuffing himself with facts, he lies down to rest. But not Bob Dahlke, industrial arts student at Stout state college. He just goes out and stuffs someone else!

The "someone else" in each case is a wild animal, for Dahlke is combining his college work with the "art" of taxidermy.

Bob, whose home is in New Lisbon, stuffs animals primarily for relaxation and enjoyment, spending about six hours a week on taxidermy work. Of course this time includes more than merely stuffing the animals because he arranges each specimen in a suitable—if artificial—habitat. Dahlke doesn't sell his specimens, but he does give them away as gifts.

Some of Bob's prize trophies include mounted fish, rabbits, ducks, muskrats, pheasants, mink, quail, pigeons, deer heads, and foxes. According to Dahlke, "Completing a trophy gives me as much satisfaction as actually hunting the animal."

The time consumed in stuffing varies according to the size of the specimen and the way in which it is displayed, Dahlke reveals. A pheasant, for instance, takes a good day to stuff. However, the taxidermist need not finish an animal in one day. Specimens kept wet and cool can be stuffed to suit the artist's convenience. Specimens can also be frozen until the proper moment.

Five major steps are required to complete a stuffed trophy: skinning, making a form shaped with excelsior, inserting wires in place of certain bones, sewing up incisions, and displaying the completed trophy in its natural habitat.

Bob Dahlke's handicraft would be welcome in any den, cabin, or home. His gun rack is made from the hoofs and horns of a deer and attached to a wood base. Book ends adorned with actual green mallard heads are his latest endeavor.

A lamp with two stuffed quail at the base is another Dahlke creation. He has also made ash trays with a squirrel as the central figure.

Bob believes that more sportsmen would stuff their wild animals if they had the time. His work is proof that many interesting and decorative, yet inexpensive, trophies are possible through taxidermy.

Dahlke first became interested in stuffing animals from watching his father, Carl Dahlke. Dahlke, Sr., a professional taxidermist, is the proprietor of a sporting goods and shoe repair store in New Lisbon. Bob decided to take up his father's hobby by enrolling in a night class in taxidermy at the Juneau County Vocational School at New Lisbon.

Besides being interested in taxidermy, Bob's other hobbies include skiing, leather work, hunting, and fishing. During the summer he works for Walker's Stainless Equipment company. When college begins he works at the A and P Supermarket at Menomonie. His extra curricular activities include intramural sports, as well as membership in the Stout Symphonic Singers and in Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

While attending Stout state college, where he majors in industrial education, Bob has put several of his courses to use in improving his taxidermy work. For his course in "Activity Analysis," Bob made an analysis of taxidermy which lists all the necessary operations in stuffing various specimens. In "Design in Woodworking," he has designed a table which he believes will greatly aid the taxidermist in his work.

Boss to Secretary: I've got to call up my wife. Send my daughter a telegram to get off the phone.

Disconsolate teen-ager to mother: I've used up three kiss-proof lipsticks and I still don't know if it works.

FEWER CONVOCATIONS, BUT BETTER QUALITY

The Assembly lyceum committee has initiated a new set-up in the scheduling of the convocations and lyceums. The plan was put into effect this year when the committee selected about four evening programs which there will be fewer convocations and the programs for the next school year will be presented in the Stout auditorium.

"The aim of the new arrangement," stated Mr. Rich, chairman of the group "is to bring fewer programs of better quality to the students. By limiting the number of selections the committee has been able to choose better numbers which they thought would be of greater value to the Stout audience."

FIVE DIETETIC MAJORS ATTEND NATIONAL MEET

"The Greatest Show on Earth" was attended by five dietetic majors and their advisor, Miss Mary Killian, on Navy Pier in Chicago last week. The girls, all graduating seniors, were Judy Day, Janice Eddy, Jane Motyka, Barbara Rushing, and Ann Shemick.

This greatest show on earth was the National Restaurant Convention composed of six miles of exhibits consisting of modern trends in food products and the latest in equipment. Lectures, demonstrations, and movies on factors in commercial feeding gave the girls an opportunity to see in practice some of the things they had learned.

Other highlights of the trip included a complementary luncheon, style show, and tour of the food service of the nationally known Marshall Fields.

The three day Chicago field trip was climaxed by dinner at famed historical Henri's and seeing Grace Kelly's movie "The Swan."

STOUT PLAYED AT LA CROSSE LAST WEEK END

In a double header last Saturday, Stout won the first game in 10 innings by 5 to 4. They lost the second one 9 to 0. This marks the second time that Stout has been shut out this year.

Baumann pitched the first game for Stout and allowed 5 hits and 4 walks. Stout collected 10 hits off La Crosse pitching with Ponschok getting 3 and Sand getting 2 for Stout.

Nelson started the second game with Peterson coming on in the 7th. La Crosse collected six hits to Stout's one, while the Bluedevils made 12 errors. Erpenbach had the only hit for Stout. The game was quite a loosely played affair that lacked the tension of the first game.

RIFLE CLUB ATTENDS MATCH IN MINNESOTA

On Sunday, May 6, the members of the Rifle club participated in the first annual Minnesota military big-bore rifle match at Camp Ripley, Minnesota. 87 competitors from four states took part in the day's firing of the national match course. Firing started at 8:00 a. m. with favorable shooting conditions existing through out the day till the last shot was fired at 4:30 p. m. Taking part in the day's shooting were: Dr. Emmet O. Swanson of Minneapolis, who is past president of the N.R.A. and now captain of the 1956 Olympic shooting squad and George Bjornstad of Chicago, who won and set a United States record for national match course of fire in 1955.

STOUT SKI CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL STEAK FRY

The Stout Ski Club held their annual steak fry at Deepwood Ski Area last Saturday, May 12. The group met for activities before the meal and slides were shown by Herb Riebe and Carl Spinti of the previous years activities. Among the highlights of the evening was the presentation of awards for interest and initiative to a boy and girl skier of the Stout Ski club. Jerry Porter and Mary Tickler were the recipients of these awards.

STOUT PLANS RETURN GAME AT EAU CLAIRE

Friday afternoon the Stout baseball team will travel to Eau Claire to play a return baseball game with the Bluegolds. In their first meeting, the Bluedevils defeated Eau Claire by the score of 8-6. Jerry Bauman, who allowed only 7 hits in the first contest will probably get the starting assignment. Coach Wink will probably go along with his regular starting line-up. At the present time Stout has a record of 4 wins and 7 losses.

WINNER OF SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT D. K.'S

The Delta Kappa softball team won this years intramural softball championship by winning 8 straight games. This was the first year that the F.O.B.'s softball team lost the championship since 1952. With effective pitching by Eugene Battist and strong hitting by Bob Noltner and Battist, the D.K.'s defeated the F.O.B.'s with a score of 5-3.

DORM NEWS

The Annex is having a little farewell party one of these days. To bad though, for this one is only for the girls. They surely had fun at the last one. But who can tell, there is always next year.

Eich had a picnic on the 14th and the girls had a wonderful time. They all hiked out to Wakanda and by the time the festivities were over they were glad Mrs. Goodell had a car to transport them back to the dorm.

The Hall is also planning a picnic in the near future. Seems this is picnic weather but any weather is good for a get together of the dorm-mates and roomies.

Mrs. Simms felt right at home with her roses presented by her dorm daughters. They presented them to her on Mothers Day for all patience and assistance they received from her during the year.

Mrs. Adams received a courasge from the Annex girls and Mrs. Goddell was presented with a plant. All goes to show that the girls are proud and pleased with their house mothers.

PHI SIGS HOLD SPRING FORMAL MAY 12

Forty-eight couples were present at the Phi Sigs spring formal, held at the Marion hotel last Saturday, May 12. The Phi Sigs, alumni, and their dates danced to the music of George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks.

Phi Sig alumnus George Soderberg and his wife, advisor E. W. Siefert and his wife, and many other Phi Sig alumni enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner. President Frank Marose paid tribute to the graduating seniors who have done such a splendid job for the fraternity in the past few years. Marose then introduced Phi Sig national executive officer Francis Bremmer, who directed his speech primarily to the newer members. During the dancing, which was held from 8:30 to 11:30, the Phi Sigs serenaded some of the members and their recently pinned sweethearts. Those serenaded were Bill Broadwell and Julie Muenich, Carl Brooks and Audrey Reinecke, Dennis Challen and Karen Lee, Romaine Endreson and Joyce Waller, and Skip Lemke and Caryl Teasdale. The floor was then given to Larry Bruno, who presented another special "distinguished guest" to the group. After the dance many of those attending enjoyed a picnic in Cedar Falls.

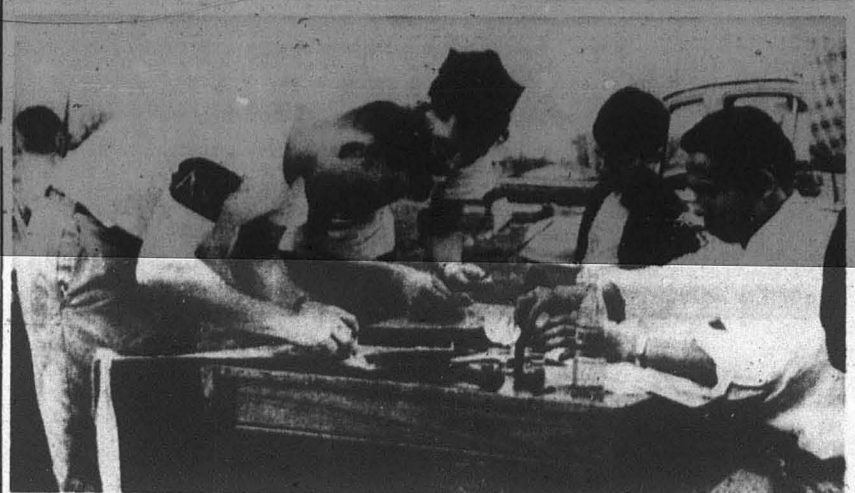

Final plans for the event were drawn up at the regular meeting of PhiSigma Epsilon held last Thursday, May 10, in the club room. At this time Frank Marose and Doug Pagel were chosen as official delegates to the national convocation of Phi Sigma Epsilon, to be held this summer. After the meeting, the Phi Sigs serenaded Stan Suk and Mary Rezek.

SIG TAU'S SERENADE, FRED HODGES VISITS

The Sig Tau's were honored last Thursday night by the opportunity to serenade. The serenade was in honor of Helen Krieger who was pinned by Dick Rokus. Congratulations Dick and Helen.

The social committee has been extremely busy and has planned an exciting weekend. Saturday night there will be a date party which will consist of going to a show and a dance afterwards. This party should prove to be interesting!! On Sunday a picnic starting at 1:30 p. m. has been planned with Deep Wood as the rendezvous.

Fred Hodges enlightened the Sig Tau's by his presence here last week. Did you know that the Sig Tau's have four past president's on the campus. This doesn't mean that they haven't obtained passing grades and are still here, but that they are here achieving Master's degrees. They are as follows: Dave Bieniaz, president in 52-53; Larry Smith, 53-54; Jerry Sommers, 54-55; and Bill Anderson 55-56.

Pictured above are APO members, Gary Penn, Jim Jonen, a cub scout, and Pensit Potijinda, as they work on the kite-flying contest.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA SPONSORS "KITE FLYING CONTEST" — FOR CUB SCOUTS OF MENOMONIE

On Saturday afternoon, May 12, 1956, Stout state college's Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, sponsored their fourth annual "Kite Flying Contest" for Cub Scouts of Menomonie, Wisconsin.

This yearly event, staged at the local fairgrounds, is but one of the many projects carried out by this Wisconsin chapter in providing service to the youth and community. More than a dozen Alpha Phi Omega members participated in making the contest a huge success for the forty cub scouts and their parents who attended the event.

Prizes were awarded first and second place winners in two judging categories. For the most decorative kite, based on originality and uniqueness, a Boy Scout hatchet was awarded to the first place winner. Second prize in this category was a Boy Scout handbook.

Similar awards were given the first and second place winners in the highest flying kite category. Refreshments consisting of soft drinks, were served to the Cub Scouts and their parents after the presentation of the awards.

Pictured above is Dick Johnson as he works on the boat he personally designed, constructed, and launched. Dick did the 12½ foot model in his spare time, beginning the project last semester and successfully completing it recently.

Over the cool, clear water of Lake Tainter comes a crystal clear call, "Give her the gas!" Instantly, an outboard boat with a powerful "d"ing motor roars to full speed ahead a slack rope snaps through the water shooting out a spray as it becomes taut, and water skier Dick Johnson is water borne with a quick, dexterous flips of his wrist.

Thrilling as it is, the thrill in this skier's heart is not just derived from being back on skis after a long winter. It comes rather from a deep pride and satisfaction as he feels the strength and speed of the 12½ foot outboard runabout boat on the other end of his tow rope which he personally designed, constructed, and launched.

Dick Johnson, a sophomore from Virginia, Minnesota, has quietly dreamed for several months about building a boat on his own to supplement his hobby of water skiing. Last winter, after several weeks of intensive planning and alteration of boat builders plans from a copy of Mechanics Illustrated, Johnson was ready to utilize every minute of free time during the five days vacation between semesters.

With snow drifting outside, he began construction in the underground storeroom tunnel area that connects the Trades Building to the main Boiler Rooms. Size, and length of time needed to complete the boat made it necessary to select this obscure place.

Overall, Dick figures assembly of the 12½ foot outboard runabout took about forty hours besides planning time and he says its costs ran around sixty five dollars for materials. The boat has a half deck of mahogany plywood and this wood has been used for decking. Two upholstered seats covered with a water resistant black plastic covering trimmed in white give the boat a smooth riding quality even in choppy water. A remote control steering unit located in the front seat operates five rudder fins to insure positive maneuverability. Located there also are the gear and speed controls for the big Mercury Mark 20, twenty horse outboard motor which Dick bought to power the boat. This motor has a special prop designed to give greater power for water-skiing.

Johnson received encouragement on the job from several sources. Mr. K. T. Olsen, head of the Carpentry Department, advanced this learning project by allowing Dick to use several carpentry tools and also made available to him some of the necessary wood supplies. Permission from Dr. Anderson to use the power wood working tools helped Dick to cut out the frame and decking in just one day's time.

1916 EXERCISES DEDICATE NEW AUDITORIUM

Nearly 40 years ago, on Thursday, June 1, 1916, the auditorium of Stout state college was dedicated at commencement exercises for the 233 members of the class of 1916.

And the first person to receive his diploma—because he was the tallest of the graduates—was Verne C. Fryklund, then a graduate in Stout's course in "Manual Training," now president of Stout state college.

Dedication of the auditorium was a big event in the lives of Menomone residents of that day. The previous Tuesday the public had "inspected" the new facilities at a "performance" of 100 voices in a choral concert.

But the dedication itself was reserved for June 1, when a capacity crowd saw Dr. Fryklund and his class receive their diplomas. Prior to commencement, the "Dunn County News" had praised the safety of the auditorium, stressing its brick wall construction and the many exits which had been provided.

All scenery was in place for the commencement exercises, the "News" pointed out, installed by Sossmon and Landis, a firm which had, 26 years earlier, fitted out the stage of the Mabel Tainter Memorial theatre.

Graduating in the 1916 class were 126 women in "domestic science," 51 men in "manual training," 5 men from the plumbing trade school, 38 August graduates in domestic science, and 13 August graduates in manual training, certainly a good-sized college graduation group.

The commencement exercises themselves were impressive. The Rev. Arthur Dinsdale pronounced the invocation. Then, with interspersed selections by the college string orchestra, a program of demonstrations and illustrated lectures by students of the college provided the basis of the program.

O. I. Dhein and D. D. McIntosh first demonstrated "Welding and Cutting by the Oxy-Acetylene Process." Miss Ethel Feldkirchner followed with her illustrated lecture on "The Feeding of the Family." Miss Beatrice Bruce concluded the student presentations with an illustrated talk on "Costume Design."

President Harvey closed the exercises with a message to the seniors. He warned them that no matter how good the training they had received at Stout, it was the personal responsibility of each senior to make a worthwhile and honest use of that training.

So, the "new" auditorium of Stout state college was used for its first college function on June 1, 1916. And Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, the man who will award degrees to the 1956 graduating class of Stout state college, received diploma upon which he was to base his educational career.

PAUL POPENOE MAJOR SPEAKER FOR WORKSHOP

Dr. Paul Popenoe, founder and director of the American Institute of Family Relations, and Roy E. Dickerson, executive secretary of the Cincinnati Social Hygiene Society, will offer a special one-week workshop on "Family Relationship and Mental Health" at Stout state college June 18 to June 23.

Arranging the workshop has been Stout's division of home economics, under the direction of Dr. Alice J. Kirk. Cooperating with the college in sponsoring the event is the Wisconsin Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

Attending will be over 250 teachers of college, high school, elementary and grades and vocational schools; guidance personnel; social workers; clergymen; PTA officials; home demonstration agents; advanced students; and parents. These participants will come to Stout from throughout the state.

Because of unprecedented interest in this special educational offering, no further enrollments are being taken. In fact, it has not been possible to accept the last 100 persons desiring admission.

Dr. Popenoe has gained a wide audience for his books and magazine articles, especially a series currently running in the "Ladies Home Journal." He has served as editor of the "Journal of Heredity" and as lecturer at many colleges and universities.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TO BE HELD SATURDAY MORNING; DR. FORREST CONNOR WILL SPEAK

With Dr. Forrest Connor, superintendent of St. Paul schools as principal speaker, Stout state college will hold its commencement exercises in the new Menomone gym at 10:30 on Saturday morning, May 26.

Offering the invocation for the exercises is to be the Rev. Archie R.

DR. FORREST CONNOR

Henry, minister of Menomone's Trinity Methodist church. The concert band of the college will play.

Prior to commencement, Stout students will be honored at a recognition convocation and athletes received their emblems at athletic awards day.

On the lighter side, an all-college picnic and commencement dance are also planned. Relatives of graduates will arrive on campus the day before commencement to enjoy tours of the college grounds and facilities. The college administration and faculty will honor the graduates and their visitors at a reception that evening.

Receiving degrees from Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, will be 143 graduates. Of this group 118 will be awarded the bachelor of science degree and the remainder the master of science.

The weatherbird overlooked spring this year, it seems, as today's forecast was for warm summer weather, all weekend.

"The mercury will climb up into the upper seventies and eighties," said the bird, "with little chance of precipitation until Sunday afternoon."

So, with that cheery word on the weather till next fall, Cheers.

Mr. Wiebe, right, machine shop instructor, congratulates James Rowsam, winner of the safety device award. The electric drill, which was awarded to him at the Honor Day Convocation, was given by the Metals Guild, a newly organized group on campus. This award will continue to be given each year.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Editor:

It might be immature to blame our students of not going to a musical program. Before we condemn our students shall we find out why they don't go? A person does not like reading because he either lacks the enjoyment of reading or he has no time. The former is most likely to be the reason. Likewise it means most of us have time to listen but if one does not understand or at least pretend to, there would be no appreciation and no one would listen. From this assumption shall we blame our students of neglect? Most of us were not born to understand classical music unless we learn. Shall we make up and learn to appreciate music, literature etc., or do something about it.

CLUB NEWS

Springtime is picnic and party time, and for Alpha Sigma Alpha this has certainly been true. At the Alpha Sig - Tri Sig picnic everyone ate hotdogs at Riverside Park before playing the annual softball grudge game which ended with the Alpha's keeping the championship for another year. Monday members of ASA joined the FOB's for their spring picnic.

As a farewell to senior members the underclassmen honored them at a "College Hum". After dessert songs written especially for each senior were sung as she received a sterling bon-bon spoon with ASA engraved on the back.

Tomorrow night Alpha Sigs and their dates will dine and dance amid "A luet de Paris" at the Country Club. Guest will include Mr. and Mrs. Rudiger, Mr. and Mrs. Dale, Miss Mitby, and Carleton Mills.

Last Thursday night Jeatran's Supper Club was the setting for the Hyperian sorority "Senior Farewell." Mrs. Farmer and "Nutmeg" were our speakers for the evening. The title of their subject was "Know Thyself." Each senior was recognized with a gift from the sorority. The graduating seniors are Mary Buol, Janice Eddy, Beth Van Gordan, Dickie-Nelson, Barb Ness, Ruth Vance, Darlene Pyatt, Viola Wicken, Joan Stegman, Judy Day, Marjorie Newman, Sally Nash, and Edythe Schmidt.

On Saturday, May 19, the Hyperian sorority boarded a bus to the Twin Cities. Each sorority member had a choice of attending either the opera "Rigolotto" or the stage play "Tea House of the August Moon."

Last evening senior Pallas Athene members were honored at a senior-fare well banquet at Jeatran's. A sterling silver pickle fork with Pallas Athene engraved on the handle was given each graduate as a remembrance of college days.

After the dinner, the dormitories were serenaded.

The annual Tri Sigma Dinner Dance was held on Saturday evening at the Country Club. It can be termed as a complete success, when you hear everyone say, "I had a wonderful time!" Dancing to the music of George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws under a heaven of silver stars created the picture as 35 couples danced to the theme song, "Deep Purple." The beautiful weather helped compliment the glorious evening!

The two national sororities on campus, Alpha Sigma and Tri Sigma, had their annual picnic at Riverside Park last Thursday evening. After refreshment had been served, teams for softball and football took to the field. In the sports field the ASA defeated Tri Sigma by a narrow margin of 5-4. However, Tri Sigma took revenge by scoring a 12-6 victory over ASA in football.

Each year Dietetic Club presents a medial dictionary to an outstanding senior member, who is chosen on the basis of personal qualifications and professional attitude, rated on a point system by members of the club. Ann Schemick was awarded the dictionary at honors day convocation Wednesday.

Advisers, alumni members, and under class members of Phi Upsilon Omicron honored the seniors at the Senior Farewell banquet held Monday evening at the Country club. Mike Ochuba, whose topic was Nigeria, was speaker for the occasion.

Graduating senior members include Lillian Smith, Doris Wandrey, Helen Harry, Doris Hutchinson, Shirley Lundeen, Marjorie Newman, Barbara Ray, Judy Ann Day, Dorothy Neis, Mary Buol, Joyce Fraedrich, Ardis Carr, Dorothy Belisle, Marie Strothoff, Irene Nivinski, Viola Wicken, and ane Gargulak.

Jane Schneck entertained Gamma Delta at her home at its last meeting Sunday evening. A delicious supper was served and entertainment was provided.

Plans were made for the initial meeting to be held during the first week of school next fall. Correspondence plans with new members during the summer were completed.

The newest fraternal organization on the Stout campus brought together twenty-three members under the provisions of the Student Welfare Committee and the S.S.A. The first official meeting was held on May 3, 1956. The constitution was read by the temporary chairman and approved unanimously. Elections were held and the following were elected: Bill Romoser, president; Dick Cheke, vice-president; Don Gibbons, treasurer; Andy Kurey, secretary; and Conrad Mlynarek, historian.

The objectives of the Chi Lambda fraternity are social, educational, and fraternal.

The first dinner meeting was held on Thursday, May 24, at the Harbor Inn. C. L. Rich was the honorary guest.

A good time was enjoyed by 125 students who attended the Senior Breakfast sponsored by the Home Economics club Saturday morning.

Speakers for this event were President Fryklund, Dean Kirk, Rhea Van Vleet, Betty Fraley, and Doris Hutchinson.

"Through the Years," sung by the girls' quartette, and a saxophone solo by Mary Parkel concluded the morning's breakfast.

The Stout Soonper

Well, here it is the 25th of May and "the end" has come for some of you and for the rest, it is in sight. Yes, no more school for the next three months, no more parties, cramming for exams, school mixers, taking notes in classes, basketball games, visiting in the union, field trips to the "cities," looking for notes in mailboxes, etc. Yes, it is the end of the 1955-56 school year.

For some I've noticed it's the time for a big celebration, but most feel just a little sad. Why? well one reason is next fall, the Stout state college will be minus about 140 friendly young adults, the 1956 seniors.

Tomorrow is your graduation! As the time draws nearer to May 26, my snooping shows more and more seniors seeming happy probably singing at the top of their lungs, "One more day til we get out----". Yet beneath your grins of relief and joy signifying that you are glad to have finally reached your goal of the top rung of the ladder, you seem somewhat sad for never again will you be a part of a college and a part of so many friends of your own age. (Oh, sure, some of you will come back to grad school or just visiting, but during my years of snooping, I've noticed that school never seems quite the same after you graduate.)

But the "end" tomorrow morning is really a door opening the beginning of a new life. In the world of opportunities, you will have chances to make or break success in whatever profession you choose, whether it's teaching, carpentry, homemaking, designing, machine repairing, nutrition expert, or printing the hometown paper.

The world is full of all sorts of people just as you found in college, only it's life on a much larger scale and there will be no one to guide you by setting deadline dates or giving exams. Yes, your beginning in the world is what you and you alone make it. Good luck from me, The Stout Snooper.

To the other 850 of you, I wish a pleasant summer and come back next fall.

P.S. For the past two school years I have attempted to snoop into some of the inside affairs, feelings, and material things around Stout. It's been fun for me, Joann Marquart.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR GRANTS AND SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE TO QUALIFIED STUDENTS HERE

The scholarship program for this spring of 1956 is bigger and better than ever. A few new scholarships have been organized by businessmen in Menomonie, a fraternity on campus, and the Wisconsin statutes.

The Legislative Scholarships are automatically granted to one student in a Wisconsin high school with the highest scholarship in a school of 250 enrollment or less, to the first and second in scholarship in any Wisconsin high school with enrollment of 500 or less, and to those who ranked first, second, and third in scholarship in any Wisconsin high school enrolling 750 students or more. Seven legislative scholarships have been given this spring worth $50.00 each in the form of fee exemption during the freshman year each semester.

Other Legislative Scholarships available, also worth $50.00 per semester during the freshman year, are given to the student with good scholastic promise, financial need, and leadership ability. Eighteen have been granted.

Many Menomonie business men are providing scholarships worth $100.00 to freshmen who are recommended by the scholarship committee.

Two Mary J. Eichelberger scholarships this spring. This scholarship is based on financial need, and are of indeterminate amounts.

Stout has one student in attendance with an American Federation of Labor Scholarship. It is a scholarship granted for one year to be spent at Stout working as an apprentice and taking special courses to complete the program.

Several other scholarships being offered at Stout are the Alumni Scholarship, the George Wilson LaPointe,

Jr. Memorial Scholarship preferably given to a male student in Industrial Education, The Dunn County Home Demonstration Council Scholarship awarding $100.00 to an outstanding Dunn County girl who plans to study Home Economics at Stout, and the John Harris McBride Scholarship based on financial need, and awarded to an Industrial Education major.

Two scholarship programs granted to worthy students are given by several fraternities and sororities on campus: Alpha Psi Omega, Epsilon Pi Tau, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Pallas Athene. The other program is a new scholarship being offered for the first time beginning in the 1956-57 school term, this is the Phi Omega Beta Scholarship awarded to a freshman athlete with scholastic qualifications.

Another scholarship which is new to Stout's campus is the Second annual NAM Scholarship program, open to sophomore students in 1955-56 who are majoring in science, engineering, mathematics or business administration. The scholarship is given each year in honor of the returning president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and is one of recognition to the teaching field. Each of the six scholarships is worth a total of $1,000.00, $500.00 for the junior year and a similar amount for the senior year. The awards will be presented at the NAM's annual meeting in New York City in December.

All students who are interested in competing for any of these scholarships are asked to inquire about them at the Student Personnel Office in Harvey Hall.

ASSISTANTSHIP TO TWO GRADS IS AWARDED

Awarded to two outstanding women graduates of the division of home economics of Stout state college here have been graduate assistantships on the staff of Pennsylvania state university.

The coeds are Judy Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Day, Ashland, and Miss Shirley Lundeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Lundeen, Virginia, Minnesota.

Miss Day has been chosen for a graduate assistantship which is based upon research in nutrition. Miss Lundeen's award will permit her to do graduate teaching in the field of clothing and textiles. Both young women will also work toward the master's degree.

Candidates from whom graduate assistants are chosen are limited to persons enrolled in outstanding undergraduate programs in home economics. In addition, both young ladies were very active in extra-curricular activities on the Stout campus, including membership in Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary organization in home economics.

According to Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division in which Miss Day and Miss Lundeen received their training, the awards represent a distinct honor, both to the young women whose scholastic achievements brought them recognition and to the home economics division of Stout as a tribute to the calibre of education offered by the division.

Perhaps the only existent "Doctor's Degree in Absentmindedness" is presented to C. L. Rich, for 25 years a teacher of physics and mathematics at Stout state college, by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college. Men of the faculty met together for the formal presentation of the degree. At the right is Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of Stout's division of industrial education

PROFESSOR RICH RECEIVES DEGREE AS HE IS ABOUT TO BEGIN THIRD CAREER AS SALESMAN

The average man regards one career—or two at the most—as enough for any lifetime.

But not Corydon L. Rich, teacher of physics and mathematics for 25 years at Stout state college. He is leaving teaching for a third career—this time in life insurance.

Rich regards his "first career" as 13 years dedicated to the butter industry in eastern Wisconsin. He evidenced a definite knack for this kind of work, directing the production of 800,000 lbs. of butter per year at his peak and outselling all competition in the Oshkosh area.

As his second—and present—career, Rich has been teaching at Stout since 1931. In 1943, he was granted a leave of absence to teach physics in the A.S.T.P. program of the University of Wyoming. He took a second leave of absence in 1945 for further graduate study at the University of Minnesota.

At that time he asked Burton E. Nelson, then president of Stout, what courses he should take and Nelson replied, "Take anything that will help you as a teacher." "So," Rich adds with a twinkle, "What could be more useful than more courses in physics."

One highlight of Professor Rich's career at Stout was his award of a "Doctor's Degree in Absentmindedness" by the college faculty during a recent party in his honor. "I guess absentmindedness is the occupational hazard of teaching," Rich admits, "I certainly qualify."

But in looking back on a quarter of a century of teaching at Stout, "C. L." also has his serious recollections. "I've enjoyed the wonderful relationship between faculty and students at the college," he is quick to point out, "for everyone has been exceedingly kind and courteous. And I am really convinced that Stout gives the most practical education I have seen anywhere."

To train himself as a teacher, C. L. Rich first attended the University of Wisconsin for two years. The third year he spent with the United States Geological Survey. After one year in the U.S.G.S. he made his mark in the butter industry.

Following his 13 year stint in butter production, he returned to the university to conclude his teaching preparation. While at the university, bad luck struck in the form of the flu epidemic of 1918. However, Mr. Rich overcame this setback and completed his education.

Today C. L. Rich possesses three degrees: a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Paradox: two doctors
Bigamist: a heavy fog in Italy.

He: "How about some old-fashioned loving?"
She: "Just a minute, I'll call grandmother."

DORM NEWS

Well, is it or isn't it spring? There is a lot of controversy on that subject by the girls at the dorm. One day you roast and the next day you freeze. Did you see the new growth of lovelies enjoying the Spring weather last Saturday? They surely were having fun and so were the boys driving by. It seems the song was changed—"Standing on the corner watching all the boys go by!" and they certainly did go by for it is Spring! Yes, we must admit, Spring has come to Menomonie!

There are mixed emotions about the end of this year. Some of the girls are anxious to get out for they have summer jobs or other commitments to attend to but some are anxious to lag behind. It has been a wonderful year full of parties, dances, gangs of friends and studies but soon it will be over and we will have to spend the summer dreaming of next year. There are those who will not choose to come back at all, and we know that those we will miss very much. The dorm roll will read differently next year and when we have a reunion, there will be those that will not attend.

Some of the girls will again return to the dorm and I know they will like it. Just think, maybe Hooker will let them use the new co-ed sitting room in the new dorm. Come on Hooker, you can't let the girls down!

Won't it be nice when the new dorm is complete and the parking lot is established! No more mud and dirt, no more stuck cars, and no more noise from the building. I am looking forward that day but I bet next year's froshies are even more excited. Won't it be nice when they get the boys' dorm across the street?

David:—"Why did the little shoe run away from home?"

Glenn: "I don't know."

David: "His father was a loafer and his mother was a sneaker."

STOUT COLLEGE BULLETIN FOR 1956-58 IS DONE COMPLETELY BY STUDENTS IN PRINTING

Another educational experience nears successful completion as the Stout state college Bulletin for 1956-58 moves from the bindery room to the President's office for distribution.

As stated in the front of the bulletin, the 13,500 copies were "printed by students on the presses of the Stout College Press at Menomonie, Wisconsin."

Although the students engaged in producing the book were paid a wage, they have also gained valuable experience in production printing similar to that of printing industry in that they met deadlines, quality standards, and expense budgets.

Mr. Whydowski, head of the printing department, directed all phases of the production and was the liaison between the print shop and the Catalog and Publications Committee, who have prepared the copy.

Dr. Marshall and Dr. Adams wrote, edited and proof read the 40,000 words that went into the bulletin.

The bulletin began as an idea in the form of a "dummy" which is a rough estimate of the number of pages that are going to be needed and the approximate location of each unit to be included. The number of pages needed was determined by examining previous editions of the bulletin and by copy-fitting, that is, having a given amount of material, estimating how many pages of a specified size are needed to hold all the copy, set in a certain size of type.

"During the 'dummy' stage, the type face was selected for both the body type and the heads. Mr. Whydowski assigned a photographer to make the pictures for the divisions pages and design classes began drawing up a number of sharp looking cover designs.

The best design was selected and John Posewitz was soon working on the finished drawing.

As the approved copy left the copy readers and received and okay, it went where Ann Janda, with some help into the machine composition room from Judy Day, Dick Popp, and Ed Prah, set it on the Intertype machines.

Between the four of them, 131,000 Ems of type were set for the current issue. This may mean little to the non-printer, but it means that a key on the keyboard of the Intertype machine was struck approximately 300,000 times.

In terms of lead, the 131,000 Ems equals 3,934 slugs that measure 25 picas long which is about 4 1/8".

The galley of set type matter were then "proofed" and sent to the proof readers for correction. The corrected galleys were then sent to the composition room where Bob Treise made up the forms, added heads, leading the lines, and doing all sort of weird tricks of Typography.

The completed forms were then imposed and locked in the chases, Jerry Schemanky handling the chases for the new Miehle Verticle and Bob Treise the chases for the Kelly press.

By working in close cooperation, Bob and Jerry have been able to set up their presses so that a sheet printed on one side, in one press can be "backed up" or printed on the reverse side in the other press and still maintain register although the two presses are very dissimilar in their operations.

The distance from the composing room to the two presses is just a matter of about 25 to 30 feet. But in walking that distance for each change of the presses, Bob and Jerry have carried a total of 2,584 pounds of lead. Not counted in the weight is the heavy round trip with the chase which means a load of almost 100 pounds.

8,640 pounds of paper were fed through the presses in producing the new bulletin. The paper, Ibsen Book, was chosen for its printability and for its weight. A book that is so often mailed, as is the bulletin, must be light weight or the postage would be prohibitive.

The cover added considerable weight to the book as the cover stock alone weighed 455 pounds. Durability was an important factor in the selection of cover stock.

110 pounds of ink ran through the inking fountains as the two presses made a total of 559,000 press impressions.

As the presses complete each run, the sheets moved to the folding machine which, in the process of folding the sheets into 8 page signatures, made 280,000 separate machine folds. In addition, over 14,000 folds made by hand.

Hand gathering of the signatures involved most individuals in the print shop, including anyone who may have stuck their head in when the shop was really pressing for a deadline.

The gathered bulletins were then stitched, using up a total of 6,416 feet of wire in 56,000 stitches. 5 gallons of glue were used to adhere the backs of the books to the covers.

Just over a 1,000 copies of the current bulletin have actually been delivered and the remaining 12,500 are awaiting final binding which should be completed by the end of the summer. Plans and ideas are already formulated for the next bulletin which will be published in 1958.

ONLY A LEAF

I saw the first bud on the tree turn into a leaf.

Right out of that wood that makes up the trunk.

If money had come out of that trunk, people would really have taken notice of it.

But it was only a leaf - it happens very spring.

There's really nothing miraculous about it.

It's all scientifically explained in the biology textbooks.

Guess they've known how it happens for years and years.

But somehow it makes me feel better than all the money in the world.

I wonder why.

NURSERY SCHOOL IS ATTENDED BY MOTHERS

You have often seen the mothers taking the children to nursery school.

A short time ago, the mothers met with the class on "Guidance Principles and Practices with Preschool Children" taught by Mrs. Benita G. Smith. The mothers present were Mrs. Herbert Ebsen, Mrs. Warren Bowlus, Mrs. Norman Chudacoff, Mrs. Edwin Dyas, Mrs. Lynos Hendrickson, Mrs. Wallace Johnson, Mrs. Lyle Peterson, Mrs. Charles Sanna, Mrs. Robert Swanson, and Mrs. William Talen.

Radio talks were given by five of the class members—Carol Schilstra on, "How to tell stories to children"; Dorothy Belisle on, "How to introduce music experiences to young children"; Barbara Ray on, "How to introduce science experiences to young children"; Sarah Nash talked on, "Temper tantrums, anger outbursts and jealousy—their prevention, cause, and cure"; and Marian Jankila on, "How to help the timid, shy, withdrawing child".

Ten of the students from the class acted as individual hostesses to the mothers during the class period, and later, they took the mothers to the Phi U tea, where they introduced them to other students in the class.

This is the first time such a program was held. It gave the mothers a chance to find out something about the background of training of the students who work with their children in the nursery school. Each student in the class prepares a radio talk on some phase of child care and guidance. It gave the students a chance to meet the mothers and to test their talks, which are written from the point of parents.

All the mothers said it was a pleasure with some of them commenting they only wished the fathers could have been there too. Perhaps a similar program can be planned for an evening meeting sometime in the future, when both parents can come.

ORGANIZATION?

I've got my first exam tomorrow morning. I'm really going to be prepared too. Let's see, I have a free hour at 3:00, that's when I'll start studying.

"Hey, do you want to play tennis with me at 3:00. It's a beautiful day out."

"I've got an exam to study for."

"Ah, come on."

"Well . . . O. K. I can study tonight."

Here it's 7:00 and I don't have a thing started. I'll just sit down at the desk. Here's my book and here's to study.

"Telephone . . ."

"Show, tonight? I don't know! You know I have exams tomorrow. Oh, the last night that it's on. Well . . . I can always study when I get home, it will only last 'til about 9:30, won't it. O.K. What time? 7:30, see you."

"10:30 my gosh and I haven't studied. Heck, I'm so tired to do it tonight. Guess, I shouldn't have stood on the porch so long. Well, I'll just set the alarm for 5:00. That will give me plenty of time. Gee, am I tired."

Hey, it's 7:30 and that dumb alarm didn't go off. Now just on account of that, I'll flunk my exam. Boy, you can't trust these factory made clocks anymore. I have an excuse anyway, how could I help it that the thing didn't go off. It's not my fault. I had my time all organized to study.

Really?

A floor director at one of the girl's dormitories had as a visitor recently her eight year old sister. The little girl sat with her older sister at the director's desk while she was working. A senior boy came in to buzz for his late. While he was waiting for her to come down, he conversed with the director and her young sister.

Finally he began playfully drawing pictures on the sign-out book, a habit he usually indulged in while waiting. The little girl watched him for a while then asked the dignified senior, "What are you going to be when you grow up?"

The modern idea of "roughing it" is driving with a standard shift.

HOME EC REPORT

by Ima Moran

Name: Ima Moran

Age: 18

Course: Sewing

Project: Making a skirt

Experience: None

1st Day: Started project with great vigor. Spent ten whole minutes trying to thread needle, because was unable to decide which end of needle thread was supposed to enter. Bit off thread three times. Chipped front tooth. Swallowed last piece of thread bitten off, and had to be excused from class for drink of water. Returned to class greatly refreshed, and found that I had been threading straight pin instead of needle, which was reason it had not worked.

2nd Day: Successfully threaded needle.

3rd Day: Removed pattern from envelope. Found that I had been cheated at store, as pattern had little holes in it. Mended little tiny holes with Scotch tape.

4th Day: Pinned pattern to cloth. Cloth is a plaid. After cutting, found that plaid on front of skirt goes up and down, and plaid on back of skirt goes sideways.

5th Day: Basted skirt today. Sewed all period before discovering that I had forgotten to knot thread.

6th Day: Played safe. Knotted thread at both ends to be sure it held. Chipped other front tooth.

7th Day: Cut out pocket. Was so careful to match plaids, that I had to cut it from the middle of a five-foot square piece of material. Showed resulting pile of scraps to Home Economics teacher, who advised me to purchase more material. Am furious with man at store who sold me original material with assurance that it would be enough.

8th Day: Discovered to my dismay that I had not been sewing front-of-skirt to back-of-skirt after all, but had been sewing it to other end of front-of-skirt all the time. Home Economics teacher came over and watched me for a long time without saying a word. Then she went out and got a drink of water.

9th Day: Am ready for sewing machine.

10th Day: Sewed on sewing machine. Had difficult time. Discovered that machine had no needle. Tried to insert needle and something broke.

11th Day: Tried second machine with better results. Front-of-skirt is now sewed to back of skirt. Tried on skirt, and it does not fit, but I shall not let a little thing like that worry me.

12th Day: Sewed on pocket and zipper.

13th Day: Removed pocket and zipper, as they were sewed inside of skirt. Hemmed skirt. Took remaining pieces of material and made little frills all over the skirt, as to waste nothing. I shall make some man a thrifty wife.

13th Day: Project inspection! Home Economics teacher inspected skirt. Then left room and stayed away until the end of class.

PHILIPPINE TEACHERS COMPLETE SEMINAR

Recently completing a "Seminar on Teacher Training" on the campus of Stout state college have been 20 trade school teachers and supervisors from the educational program of the Philippine Islands. An additional person is a member of the educational organization of India.

During their six-week participation in the seminar, offered under the auspices of Stout, each man had a chance to observe an American college in action and learn how industrial education at the college level is carried on in the United States.

Courses in which the visiting educators participated were Philosophy of Vocational Education, taught by President Verne C. Fryklund; Trade Analysis, Dean John A. Jarvis; Audio-Visual Education, Dr. David Barnard; Methods of Teaching Industrial Arts, Dwight D. Chinnock; Curriculum Procedures, Dr. Robert Rudiger; and Techniques of Group Leadership, Norman C. Ziemann.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

All Stout alumni in the Madison area (within a 50 to 75 mile radius) are urged to attend the reunion at Hoyt Park, Madison, on May 27, from 3:00 to 6:30 p.m. Each person or family is to provide their own food and refreshments. Meet at Park shelter.

Nominations for officers of the new Madison area Stout alumni chapter will be made at this time.

Plan now to attend!

Howard J. Schwabke, B.S. 1946, M.S. 1947, drawing and descriptive geometry teacher at the U. of Wisconsin has recently been promoted from the rank of instructor to assistant professor.

Newton Van Dalsem, class of 1908, died April 11, 1956, of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile last January 5. He taught in a fore becoming State Director of Vocational Education for Colorado. During the past twenty-eight years he has lived in Los Angeles where he taught in the public schools until his retirement seven years ago.

Charles Paul Knopps, B.S. 1947, of 2554 S. 71st St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been appointed investigator for the United States Civil Service Commission and is now receiving intensive training in the Commission's central office in Washington, D.C. He received his appointment after passing the new Federal Service Entrance Examination, given by the Commission to more than 22,000 college seniors and college graduates interested in making Federal service a career. After completing the training Charles will be assigned to a duty station outside of Washington.

James L. Brown, B. S. 1953, of Davenport, Iowa was graduated and commissioned Ensign, USNR during ceremonies held at the Navy's Officer Candidate School on the Naval Station at Newport, Rhode Island. Jim has successfully completed an eighteen-week course in Naval Science subjects which include seamanship, navigation, operations and tactics, weapons, engineering, and military justice.

Irving V. Behm, B.S. 1943, resides with his wife and two children at 209 Brooke Dr., Hampton, Va. He is a dentist doing general practice.

In spite of the frightful rainy weather in Milwaukee on the night of April 28, the Stout Symphonic Singers were very warmly received by the Milwaukee alumni and friends.

A good sized group of 275-300 people were present to prove that they weren't afraid to get their feet wet. The people that really deserve a great deal of credit are the ones that drove from 100 - 150 miles out of Milwaukee to attend the concert.

Everyone from the Milwaukee area wishes to congratulate and thank Mr. Hardt and the Symphonics for the delightful performance. We especially enjoyed the variety in the well chosen selections and the outstanding individual student performances. We sincerely hope the Symphonics will again include Milwaukee in their annual concert tour.

Lewis E. Lausted, Eng. Det. A 7961AU, A. P. O. 58, New York, N.Y. is now on temporary duty from Orleans, France to Kaiserlautern and Munich, Germany as a member of the "German Army Training and Assisting Group." His phase of instructing is on the maintenance of the US Engineer equipment that the United States is giving to the Germans in support of the "German Army Assistance Plan."

1956 SUMMER SESSION PLANS NOW COMPLETED

The fifty-first summer session will extend from June 25th to August 3, 1956.

Preceding the regular summer session a one week workshop on Family Relationships and Mental Health will be held for anyone interested in attending. The workshop will be under the guidance of Dr. Paul Popenoe and Mr. Roy E. Dickerson.

A work conference will also be held from June 18 to the 22. The conference will be sponsored by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education. Those attending will include Wisconsin Vocational Trade and Industrial Teachers.

August 6-17 are the dates set for Driver Education, basic and advanced courses, open to qualified teachers to capacity of classes.

The state tennis champs and the state tennis champion all bail from Stout. Tom Miller is the state champion after winning the singles match at La Crosse. The fellows pictured above are the ones who played on the championship team. They are, from left to right, 1st row: Tom Miller, Hank Moerschel, and Jim Olds, student coach, 2nd row: Tom Tsugi, Dick Johnson, organized group on campus. This award will continue to be given each year.

TENNIS TEAM CAPTURES STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Last Saturday afternoon at LaCrosse, the Stout tennis team took first place in the state tennis tournament. They also took the bi-state title, the previous week in a meet held at St. Cloud.

The teams Stout played and beat were Stevens Point, Eau Claire, and Winona; they lost to St. Cloud.

The players on the team are Jim Olds, student coach; Tom Miller, Hank Moerschel, Tom Tsugi, Vern Christensen, Conrad Mlynerek, and Dick Johnson.

In the state tournament Tom Miller won the singles championship. He also won the bi-state title. Stout's doubles team won their matches at the bi-state.

It is indeed an honor to have champions on the campus and the school is proud of such a team. Congratulations on a swell season fellows.

BLUEDEVILS TROUNCE FALCONS TWICE

Stout continued its winning ways by trouncing River Falls twice last Monday. The scores were 9 to 6 and 9 to 4. These triumphs gave the Blue-devils five wins in their last six games and a seven win seven lost record for the season.

Ron Nelson picked up his second win of the season in the first game although six errors were committed behind him. He also hit a home run in the second inning as he lead Stout's offensive attack with three nits in three times at bat. Blythe and Ponschok each had two hits apiece.

In the second game Jerry Baumann climaxed a brilliant season as he pitched an eight hitter to pick up his fifth win of the season. It marked the last game for Jerry in a Stout uniform and he really proved worthy of everyone's congratulations. Also seeing action for the last time were Vern Wills and Bill Romoser.

Stout wound up their season in a grand manner this year and with even higher aspirations for next year. The Bluedevil's lost four games by one run this year and mostly because of

GOLF TEAM IS 2ND IN STATE MEET ACTION

The Stout state college golf team closed one of its most successful seasons in many years, as they took second place in the state tournament at La Crosse on May 19. They also tied for second place with Winona in the bi-state meet at St. Cloud the previous week. Stout players placed as follows:

Don Pointkowski	162
Ralph Hetzel	167
Ed Stori	170
Bob Eggleston	177
Leroy Zwick	190

The golf team was coached by Ralph Hetzel this year. The team is to be congratulated on the fine job they did and the way they conducted their season.

costly errors. Next year there will be 13 returning veterans, 9 of whom are lettermen. Stout's bi-state conference record was 5 and 5, while their record against Wisconsin teams was six wins and two losses, the best in the area!

S.S.C. FACULTY MEMBER HAS BOOK PUBLISHED

Now completed by the publisher and available to educational institutions throughout the nation is the new textbook, "Introductory Chemistry," written by Dr. Otto W. Nitz, chairman of the chemistry department of Stout state college.

The new volume is published by D. Van Nostrand Company, Inc. Princeton, N. J., and is over 500 pages in length. Dr. Nitz was three years in completing the book.

Among the interesting qualities of "Introductory Chemistry" are such elements as use of many full-color photos and line drawings, discussion of the major chemical industries, and information relevant to common but hazardous materials.

Dr. Nitz intends his text for a terminal course in college chemistry. It is especially adapted for students in home economics, industrial arts, liberal education, nursing, and similar fields.

Caught in action as he slides safely into third base after tripling is Bill Romoser, Stout's third baseman. The Bluedevils were playing at Eau Claire when Bill tripled and later scored with Stout's first run of the game. when they went on to win for their fifth of the season.

BLUEDEVILS TRIUMPH 7 TO 4 IN 14 INNINGS

In a 14 inning contest last Friday, the Stout Bluedevils bested the Eau Claire Bluegolds by the score of 7 to 4.

Eau Claire scored all their runs in the first four innings while Stout eked away at their lead and finally tying the game in the seventh inning on Will's hit to score Baumann. Wills had 4 hits in 6 attempts to lead the Bluedevils attack.

Stout came to life after the lead-off batter had struck out to start the 14th inning. The next three batters got on safely and each one crossed the plate for the Bluedevils before the inning was over.

Jerry Baumann went all the way in picking up his fourth win against two defeats. He beat former Northern League pitchers Du Brave and Jorden of Eau Claire.
